Directors

CHARLES W. DODRILL, Director of Theatre and Special Events at Otterbein College since 1958, holds an A.B. degree from Glenville State, an M.A. from Kansas University and a Ph.D. from Ohio State. He is responsible for many innovations in the Otterbein theatre program, including the "guest star" program, New York Theatre Tours, and the Summer Theatre program. Dr. Dodrill is also responsible for the Otterbein Artist Series. He is currently serving as President of the Ohio Speech Association.

FRED J. THAYER, Designer-Technical Director at Otterbein since 1960, is a graduate of Bowling Green University with an M.A. in Theatre. He has completed residency requirements for the Ph.D. at Ohio State. Mr. Thayer has designed for the University of Toledo, Toledo Children's Theatre, Bowling Green and the Huron Playhouse. Among the more than 55 productions which he has designed and technical directed (about 40 at Otterbein) A Man For All Seasons is his recent favorite.

HAROLD M. EISENSTEIN, Cultural Arts Director at the Columbus Jewish Center (where he has produced over 50 shows), joins the Otterbein Summer Theatre for a second season after having directed Antigone last summer. Educated at Wright Jr. College and Northwestern University, he has taught and served as drama director for the Institute Players of Chicago. Harold spent eight years in New York working professionally in TV, radio and theatre. He will direct Major Barbara.

JOHN CHASE SOLIDAY, currently working on his Ph.D. at the University of Minnesota, graduated from Otterbein in 1962 and received his M.A. from Bowling Green. For four years John was Assistant Director of Theatre at the College of Wooster. He has directed, acted and choreographed for the Huron Playhouse, the Trotwood Circle Theatre, the Lakeshore Playhouse, and the Minnesota Union Theatre. John will direct A Thurber Carnival and act in the other productions.

MRS. PETIE DODRILL, Costume Designer and Children's Theatre Director at Otterbein, continues in that capacity for the summer and will direct The Absence of a Cello. A graduate of Penn State with an M.A. in theatre from Ohio University, Petie has worked as actress, teacher, designer and director. ## Director's Corner

Cartoons capture the foibles of the human condition with the simplest use of artistic and literary lines. They arouse laughter while forcing deeper perceptions. Thurber considered himself foremost a cartoonist; the world knows him best for his cartoonesque prose.

James Thurber was, in his own words, "born on a night of world portent and high wind in the year 1894, at 147 Parsons Ave., Columbus, Ohio." He was educated at Ohio State University and drew upon his life in Columbus for some of his best-known pieces, among them The Night the Bed Fell. During the early 1920's he reported for the Columbus Dispatch. He joined the staff of the New Yorker magazine in 1926, continuing to contribute until his death in 1961.

At age 65, after a formidable output of some twenty books, one hit play (The Male Animal, with Elliot Nugent), and a zoo full of cartooned characters, Thurber returned to the theatre with A Thurber Carnival. The revue premiered at the Hartman Theatre in Columbus, Ohio, on January 7, 1960. Burgess Meredith directed the production starring Tom Ewell, Peggy Cass and Paul Ford. Thurber joined the cast for 88 Broadway performances and accompanied the show on its national tour.

"Humor is emotional chaos remembered in tranquility," he wrote. "Everytime is a time for humor. I write humor the way a surgeon operates, because...I have the hope it may do some good." "Our comedy should deal, in its own immemorial manner, with the American scene and the American people, without fear of favor, without guilt or groveling. Laughter could bring many things out into the open...."

Tonight's production departs from the spectacular scenic effects of the Broadway version. The simplest lines of the cartoon have served as inspiration. The black and white lines of the costumes are touched with suggestive colors and children's blocks build an adult world. Incidentally, Thurber spent the last 25 years of his life in almost total blindness. His cartoons were sketched with black grease crayon on yellow sheets over a bright light. His prose was written in large letters on a blackboard then copied by a secretary.

For the company, this has been a rediscovery of Thurber. The approach has been improvisational, like opening a book and being so delighted that you must share it with a friend. We look forward to having you as friends tonight.
