THE OTTERBEIN COLLEGE

Study Program in

SIERRA LEONE

December 29, 1970 — March 17, 1971

Escorted by

DR. CHESTER L. ADDINGTON

ROYAL DUTCH AIRLINES

The foreign study program will provide through direct experience an opportunity to expand the teacher candidate's concept of education, social values, and inter-cultural relationships.

Sierra Leone, West Africa, was chosen for this project because of the close ties many of the leaders of the country have with Otterbein College and the opportunity it affords students to analyze the role of education in economic, political, and social change in a developing nation.

Otterbein College will grant three courses of academic credit for the Sierra Leone project. During the autumn term preceding the field study, the participating students will study the culture, government, and educational system of Sierra Leone. While in Sierra Leone, the students will work with the Sierra Leone teachers on a teacher aide basis, attend some classes at Njala University College, and prepare a research project on a topic related to education, social values, or the culture of Sierra Leone. On return to the Otterbein College campus, spring term, the students will summarize and evaluate their experiences and relate them to teaching situations they may experience.
