PREXIES ATTEND Y. M. CONFERENCE

Fifty Y. M. C. A. Presidents of Ohio Colleges Gain Much Information at Training Conference Here.

ALL MEN ARE ENTHUSED

Sessions Begin Friday Afternoon and Close With Sunday Morning Round Table Discussion.

Fifty Ohio college Y. M. C. A. Presidents or their representatives attended the local Association half last Friday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock for the Annual Training Conference. The meeting was in charge of Mr. J. L. Bjelke of Columbus, the Student State Secretary of Ohio. After a brief song service led by Mr. Meyer of Ohio Wesleyan, Mr. Bjelke, by way of introduction, asked each man present to stand and give briefly his own name and the name of the college represented by him.

Lichty Advises Co-operation.

The address of the afternoon was given by Mr. A. H. Lichty of Columbus, the General State Secretary of Ohio, on the subject, "The Traveling Secretary." He approached the subject from two standpoints, that of the local association and the secretary himself. In his address from time to time he called for suggestions from the delegates. Among other things, the local association may rightfully expect the traveling secretary to bring plans and methods from other colleges; tell how to create and deepen interest; put the association in touch with sources of information and capable speakers; coach on committee work; and in general furnish the frank criticism of an interested and unprejudiced outsider. On the other hand, the traveling secretaries expect (Continued on page five.)

Alumnus is Speaker of House of Representatives in Indiana.

J. E. Esschbach, '96, of Warsaw, Indiana, is one of Otterbein's many Alumns, who is making good. While in Otterbein Mr. Esschbach was editor of the Aegis and was prominent in student activities. After graduation he studied law and was admitted to the bar. As a successful lawyer he has been known throughout his state. Elected to the Indiana State legislature in 1907 he served six consecutive years so excellently that he was Republican State Speaker in 1913-14. In 1913 he was one of the three Republicans elected. In the 1914-16 campaign he was the chairman of the Republican State Speakers Bureau. The high esteem in which he is held by his party was shown by the recent canvassing of the Legislature, when he was elected speaker of the House or Representatives.

CLASS BANQUETS NEAR

Sophomore and Freshmen Committees Hope to Eclipse all Former Social Functions in April.

Plans are now being worked out for the annual class banquets. The toastmasters have been chosen and the various committees are already at work planning for the two most important social functions of the year.

Monday evening, April 16, is the first festivity. J. F. Blue has been elected toast-master for this occasion. Florence Loar, Jessie Weir and Herbert Meyers are arranging the program and are responsible for no small amount of uneasiness in the freshman ranks. On the decoration committee are Gladys Howard, Fred Grey, William Snorl, James Henderson and Josephine Poor. Those who are in charge of the program are Lyman Hert, Charles Fox, Gladys Swigart and Grace Barr.

The second year class will banquet the seniors on the evening of April 18, Raymey Huber with his abundant supply of wit and humor will act as toastmaster. Those who will be responsible for the decorations are Lyle Michael, Marie Siddall, Rilmood Schear, and Audrey Nelson.

An important part in making the evening an enjoyable one is in the charge of the program committee composed of Helen Sower, Gladys Lake and Vance Cribbs. The events are being planned by Walter Schutt, Merle Black, Vitholm and Arm DeW.

Those are doghopes the two most important social functions of the year. Again there comes the old question of inducing a few of the fellows to get dates. The class president says that these are get several fellows who do not have dates and are rather indifferent about going as the strenuous who urge that everybody get busy as there are occasions which no one can afford to miss.

ATHLETES ARE INITIATED

Four Men Fuss Girls, Patrol Beats and Serenade Town to Enter Varsity "O".

Four athletes took an initiation which will not be soon forgotten by Westerville people or Otterbein students, fast Thursday, when the latter men went thru the necessary steps of members of the Varsity "O" association.

Those who caused the days fun were W. C. Miller of Hartford, W. H., who made his letter in track, football and basketball; T. B. Brown of Madison, Pa., a jitter man in basketball; William Evans of Arizona and Josephine Poor, who played guard on Iddings' 1916 eleven, and C. L. Fox of Anderson, Ind., the year's basketball find.

At seven o'clock the initiations began when the girls were escorted to the hall. Miller was dressed as a boy with nice white stockings, a bow tie and bloomer pants. Brown had on a dress coat with a plug hat, which made quite a contrast with overalls. Evans was a farmer of the real type, carried a rake and a jug full of water which was to be given to Varsity "O" men. Fox was the belle of the day in his plain one-piece dress. Whenever they met a varsity man they did honor to him by lifting their lids.

Promptly at one o'clock the fellows were given beats to patrol and at two o'clock the real program of the preliminaries was in order. The crew serenaded the town, singing up and down the streets any song in any tune. "If any noise would ever be made in town like that other than during initiation time there would be massacre committed," said a bystander.

"Deluding unto others what you would not want endured unto you" was what went on in the basement of the gymnasium when the Varsity "O" men put the candidates thru the finals. Whatever happened there is secret only.

STUDENTS ELECT GOOD COMMITTEE

Wednesday's Election Places Booth, Ream, Turner, Edna Miller and Ethel Meyers on Committee.

NEW PLANS PRESENTED

Faculty Discusses Resolutions at Four O'clock Meeting Today—Decision Still Unknown.

Although they have been organized only since Wednesday the committee composed of C. L. Booth, G. O. Ream, E. R. Turner, Edna Miller and Ethel Meyers are working hard for a re-adjustment of rules in regard to class absences. The committees of the students and faculty met and have elected Professor L. A. Weinland president, and C. L. Booth secretary. They will present to the faculty for their consideration this evening the following:

The storm of protest that greeted the present ruling is, we think, sufficient evidence of its injustice. The principal objections to the new ruling are:

It holds a club, so to speak, over the head of all departments.

It takes away the light of judgment of a student thus reducing him to the plans of a pupil in the grades.

The matter of fractional hours is absurd. No provision has been made for making up fractional hours and to take off a whole hour for a small fraction is not fair.

The present ruling has been interpreted in as many ways as there are professors and is therefore not general.

Three chapel cuts are not enough. The old system allowing five projects very satisfactory.

Glen O. Ream Chosen to Lead Y. M. C. A. Forces for Next Year.

At the regular meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association held last Thursday night, Glen O. Ream of Rising Sun was elected President of the Association to succeed E. R. Turner. Mr. Ream has been active in Y. M. C. A. work ever since his entrance at Otterbein and has shown an ability to lead. As chairman of the Deputation this year he has shown an earnestness and a power to do things. Under his direction a high school gymnasium class was organized which will bring the young boys into a closer companionship with the college men.

The By-laws provided for the Y. M. C. A. positions were: Charles W. Vernon, Vice President; R. L. Roosevelt, Secretary; Claire Siddall, Treasurer, and W. L. Comfort, Corresponding Secretary. This list will probably be chosen this week.

Varsity Men Play Hard

Four Seniors End Career, Leaving Two Letter Men as A Nucleus for Next Year

Otterbein's men who fought on the 1917-18 quintet did their best. No one can give the players proper credit for their work as each man did his utmost to make Otterbein respected among intercollegiate basketball circles. When a man does his best it is hard to pay him the tribute due and we cannot help but feel pleased.

George A. Sechrist captained the quintet and as a leader commanded the respect of his men. Playing the last three seasons at forward, "Sech" has been a high scorer and was feared greatly by all opponents. He can ring the basket from all angles and plays a whirlwind floor game. At all times he was in the thick of the fight. Otterbein loses a valuable man by his graduation.

It will be a difficult task to find a guard to fill Turner's shoes next year. For the past two seasons he has played as though his life depended on it. A good pass is the jump off and "Red" has set a mark which will be hard to maintain, but those interested in this important branch of Otterbein activity believe that "Red" Miller is equal to the task. Alice has the right conception of her office. She is an earnest Christian, an earnest worker, a good leader and commands the respect of all who know her. Her many friends wish her success as she strives to fulfill the manifold duties of her office.

Camp Fire Get-together Puts New Life in Otterbein's "O" Men

Eighteen Varsity "O" men enjoyed a camp fire feed and a general get-together last Friday night and Saturday morning at the old tile mill. "Bill" Counsellor and a few of his companions were the builders of a fire that almost caused a fire alarm. At ten o'clock all the men had gathered at a well picked place around the canteen wagon, in which weiners, pressed ham, buns, peanuts, pickles and apples were assembled in great abundance. Coffee, havana prides and life's elixir made up the remainder of the evening's lunch. After the canteen was safely stowed away Doctor Vanbuskirk opened the story program by relating the incident of President Wilson's peace conference. "Knockout" Thrush and "One Hundred" Peden then fielded four rounds with no decision. Higlémire, the Michigan giant, then threw the West Virginia wild cat. "Red" Miller, for two falls. Two black eyes were the outcome of two haymakers delivered by Neally's right hook and Curt Young's left jab. Higlémire gained a fall from Evans after some hard work, while "Buck" Haller mastered Fox in two matches. Songs were then in order, after which the home journey began. The get-together of the men proved to knit the athletes into a fraternal body and should do much toward better athletics.

PRESIDENT GIVES REPORT
Under the Leadership of Edna Miller
the Year's Y. W. Report Shows Excellent Results.

One more year has come and gone,
and another milestone is reached where we may pause and take stock of our assets and liabilities. It is time to get away from the true standard of the ideal that the actual may not depart too far from it. The year's records for the Y. W. C. A.
give to the thoughtful an ample ground for reflection, for the spiritual emergence of Otterbein is registered no less than mere figures and statistics. It has been a year full of earnest planning, consistent endeavor and constant reference to the Higher Power who alone can really judge the results attained.

The girls on the Cabinet have worked in a spirit of friendly co-operation that has made it all a delight in place of a duty. The meetings have been wonderful and interesting, with various speakers such as Miss Litzel, Miss Kesley, Professor Martin, Mrs.
Mary Funk, Mrs. McCluskey, Mr.
R. F. Mayne and Mrs. Photoehelm.
Three joint sessions were held with the Y. M. C. A., of which one was the Christmas musical service. The membership committee wrote letters to prospective students, met them and made them acquainted with college life. The membership campaign ranged in most of the co-ed girls and several already here who had never joined the association. The finances have been greatly aided by the insur-ce of the Y. M. C. A. as a part of the plan for systematic giving. The missionary and Bible Classes have proved very helpful and interesting. The social work, service this year brought sunshine to many invalid and poor people, especially at Easter and Christmas time. The social spirit permeated the whole association, and was predominant in the receptions at the opening of school, the informal parties, and the large Christmas party whose proceeds swelled the Prison Relief Fund. Many of the girls found regular or temporary employment through the Y. W. C. A., especially at the Anti-Saloon League.
Several special features were tried this year, and among the most suc-scessful was the Summer School Y. W.
C. A. which proved a real blessing to the summer students. The May Morning Breakfast and the summer conference rally on the campus resulted in a four-fold delegation to Eagles Mere. A special effort has been made to have accurate and comprehensive records and reports of all the work accomplished. Miss Mc-Fadden was elected as advisory member of the Y. W. C. A. and her interest and help will be greatly appreciated.

By no means has this year brought the triumphs we had hoped; few of the plans have been fully realized. The attendance and deep co-operative interest of the girls is far beyond what we had expected. But the work has been amply worth while, for it has brought sympathy and friendliness out of mere acquaintances and brought truer intercourse with Jesus Christ possible because it is so necessary.

The cabinet closes the year with huility and pride, saying with Paul,
"I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith."

FRESH WIN CHAMPIONSHIP
Superior Team Work is Big Factor in Trimming of Juniors by Yearling Champions.

The boys of the class, championship game was won Saturday night by the Freshmen, over the Sophomores 33-16.
Everyone expected a close game and some predicted a victory for the upperclassmen but the fact that this year's team upset all the records of Otterbein in basketball is not surprising. The Freshmen had the advantage in weight and height, and were not in the contest for the championship. The Freshmen

Dr. E. A. Jones Addresses Girls
at Y. W. C. A. Inaugural Tuesday.

Involving in time in Y. W. C. A. it seems wise that each year at this time we should stop and consider the work of the past year, in other words and take an invoice of it. Edna Miller gave an interesting account of the result of the ignoble taken of the association
as a whole.

Dr. E. A. Jones spoke to the girls basing his words on the Miracle of the Feeding of the Five Thousand.
He emphasized Christ's command to his disciples, "Give we them to eat."

There were only five loaves and two fish when they were given to Christ and He said, they fed the multitude—the lesson for each of us is that while the thing we have in our hand may be small we shall use it as we should and watch the surprising results. Religion is the only commoditv that increases as it is shared.

Dr. Jones had emphasized the little words have turned many a mighty man to great service. He closed by installing the new cabinet and urged them to get the right perspective and keep their gaze ever on Christ.

The cabinet for this coming year predicts that the club has been given to them in a good condition and asks the great co-operation of every girl in Otterbein that this year's work be an inspiration and a benefit to each one.

from the local association cooperation; prompt replies to correspondence; careful preparation for his visit and arrangements for conference with cabinet members and others; and, readily available financial support. In conclusion Mr. Lighty spoke of some factors in conserving results such as reports on progress made, patience in the work and prayer.

Evening Session Helpful.
The evening session was given over to an address by Robert E. Lewis of Cleveland on "What the New World Expects of the College-Trained Man." Mr. Lewis told of the surprising progress in the Orient industrially, educationally, socially, and in government affairs. "This is a new world. In fifteen years all has been changed." The speaker went on to tell of the opportunities in the prison camp of Europe citing as an example the work of Mr. Larry of Wooster in Siberia. "The people there help the men in numerous ways by organizing classes to take the place of the work done in schools, by practicing surgery and dentistry, by holding religious meetings, and by giving attention to the men's social wants." In conclusion Mr. Lewis said, "To the college man this world is not half eastern and half western. Asiatic, African, European of America, but it is the home of the world-citizen. This man must set his heart on things not earthly. He must find his place in the leadership of this new world but the man who is willing to do anything." He said, "Where and how we give up whatever we hold most dear is the mark of the man who will take his place at the front." Walker and Porter Speak.

Sunday morning was truly a feast of good things in the form of two addresses given by Dr. R. E. Walker, the Professor of English Bible at Wabash, and David E. Porter of New York, the International Student Secretary. The talk by Dr. Walker was one of the most pleasing as well as the most instructive in the entire conference, being a discussion of the "Qualifications of a Christian Worker." The addresses were given due attention in an address given at the nine o'clock session Sunday by F. F. Turner of New York, the General Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement. Mr. Turner emphasized the importance of the other hand the utter worthlessness of such methods with no objective in view. It is absolutely necessary that we be informed of conditions if we expect to be of any aid in the cause.

Round Table Ends Conference.
A round table discussion of Service in charge of Mr. Biddle on Sunday afternoon closed one of the best conferences held in Ohio. In connection with this, M. R. Jesus of Miami and Dingar of Heidelberg gave interesting accounts of their work in social service with Richard H. Edwards in New York City.

During the convention week were made for the coming year in the form of conferences and rallies so that this year promises much in the activities of the Association.

1. It is the object of the committee that the matter of class absences be placed entirely in the hands of the professors—ip charge. This is the ideal way for,

The professor is the one man who is responsible for class absences.

No one is in a better position to judge a student and the individual cases which are bound to arise.

As all professors, to a greater or less degree, interpret the rules in their own way, all rulings tend to this system.

2. Allow one cut per recitation hour in each individual class.

A class holding 4 recitations per week would allow 4 absences.

A class holding 3 recitations per week would allow 3 absences.

A class holding 2 recitations per week would allow 2 absences.

Taking the first example, a class reciting four times per week would allow four unexcused absences.

The fifth cut would take off one hour's credit, the tenth, two, and fifteenth, thirty.

Three cuts would not require an excuse nor allow the taking off of any credit but would have the normal effect upon lowering the grade.

This method gives the student the very desirable margin and does away with the fractional hours.

3. Allow five unexcused chapel cuts.

The sixth would result in the removing of the student from college.

At least one-third of the students who point out that cutting is a higher sin than cheating present to their view a point which is not absolutely right in every particular, so do not feel that in reducing our price to you, that we will in any degree lessen the super-quality of our work.

Kindly remember that this 25% Discount applies only to students in regular attendance at Otterbein University.

VARiTY WINS FOUR

Varsity Basketballers Meet Strongest Team in Ohio and Show Real Fight at All Times.

Otterbein basketball tossers for the year 1915-16 have heard the whistle for the last time. Winning four out of the eleven hard games the varsity did well considering the material and the poor practice. When mentioning this last cause the gymnasium is the bone of contention. In past years the basketballers always practiced under the same conditions, but those who played will back up in saying that Otterbein is always much handicapped when away from home playing on a large floor. Coach Iddings said: "An Otterbein team must be one-third better than its opponents if a victory is to be won on a floor with "out of bounds".

Practice began early in November with but two letter men in school. The season's outlook was not very bright, but by hard work on the part of the players under an efficient coach a team was developed which went through the season in fine style. With Ohio State, Wesleyan, Kenyon, Heidelberg and Capital on the schedule the men did not hope to win all the games. The desire was to make their opponents fight and such they did.

Defensively the team was strong at allowing their opponents to run up high scores. Ohio State succeeded in rolling up a 52 total, which was far above any other team's score. In offensive play the team was a little weak due to a lack of teamwork which was inevitable from the fact that the quintet was made up of new material.

In the first three games of the season, Ohio State, Wesleyan and Heidelberg succeeded in taking victories. The contests with the latter teams were fought nip and tuck as the scores indicate. Cincinnati came to Westerville for the fourth game and were beaten in the last minutes of play by a good margin. Capital was the next opponent and again Otterbein won in the last act of the battle with a display of teamwork. The next three games were lost to Capitol, Kenyon and Heidelberg on the opponents' courts. Coming to Westerville the Antioch quintet boasted of beating Wittenberg and other strong teams, but were soon humbled by Otterbein. Wooster then defeated the varsity at Wooster. The curtain went down on the season, when Kenyon turned Otterbein men to a 34 to 20 score.

Summary of season:

Dr. H. W. Laidler, representing the Intercollegiate Socialist movement, occupies the chapel period Thursday morning giving a brief lecture in behalf of this movement. He says that socialism has been greatly misrepresented and misunderstood. Before the war in Europe the Socialists had organized to some extent and were waging a war against war and holding great mass meetings, but were in such a minority as not to be able to accomplish anything. Mr. Laidler claims that a recognition of socialist principles there, would have prevented the present war. He says that socialism does not require equal compensation nor does it require public ownership of all industries nor does it abolish private property, but compensates every man according to his worth and would mean public ownership of only those industries whose products are necessary to life or very important. It is but the natural evolution of a civilization in which the people will control instead of a few and is attracting the best intellects of the world today. He requests college men and women to study the question, fight it if they think it wrong and give it their support if they think it worthy.

COCHRAN NOTES

Mary Alice Myers came back Tuesday, and everyone is mighty glad she's back. Her operation was successful and we hope she will soon be in perfect health.

Table changing day! Always an interesting one.

We wonder if Grace A. has the license.

Eleven girls enjoyed a theater party at Keith's, Wednesday night. The trip was reported to be partially successful.

Gladys Howard spent the week-end in Columbus.

Mrs. Noble and her daughter Louise took dinner at the Hall on Thursday. Gooseberry pie was the novelty of the meal.

Helen Vance spent the week-end at her home in Reynoldsburg.

Grace Moong and Neil Johnson and Ganelle McMahon went to the homes the latter part of the week.

Do we really board beggars?

Agnes Wright did not go home this week. Strange! There must have been some induction.

Verda Miles was a guest of Edna Farley Sunday evening for supper.

Mrs. James Farley of Pitearn, Pa., is visiting Edna for a few days.

Mr. E. E. Phillips and Mr. J. S. Harr were guests for dinner Sunday.

We had a most unusual caller Friday night, or rather early Saturday morning. Others also deem it necessary to donate a cow. We agree that we were relieved of this one easier than the other.

Yes! this way to the Men's Dormitory! It must have been a mistake, for even the door was locked, and a woman came to the door!

Fox Leads in Scoring.

Freshman Fox is the high scorer of the 1916-1917 season ringing 45 field goals making 35 free throws good. Captain Sechrist is second in point getting, registering 44 baskets and 3 fouls. Each one of these men scored more than the rest of the team put together.
