Greetings from the President

We are glad that you have come to join with us for an exciting football game. Wittenberg partisans are looking for a victory.

For football success, we rely upon eager, keen-minded competitors and excellent coaches. Our teams are satisfied only with the best — they aim to win. This is the spirit of all Wittenberg students. They pursue success in every worthy endeavor.

As you watch this game, you will see only one part of the exhilarating and ever-changing, yet integrated and purposeful life of Wittenberg. Visit other parts of the campus and observe the newest developments of a university which is growing rapidly and expanding the benefits which it brings to this community and to the nation.

Cordially yours,

John N. Stauffer

Current Development Advances at Wittenberg

Recitation Hall, campus landmark, is sandblasted to restore original appearance.

Krieg Hall, new music building, is on the south side of Ward St., between Woodlawn and Fountain. To be completed in June, 1966, the air conditioned building

Two new parking lots are being constructed. One for 36 cars is on the corner of Cecil and Plum St., the other, with an 85-car capacity, is on the north side of Ward St., across from Krieg Hall, Wittenberg's new music school building.

Blair Hall Little Theatre is being modernized with permanent theatre seats built on a rising floor. A foyer is being added on the east side of Blair Hall.

will provide classrooms, studios, rehearsal rooms, practice rooms, library and office space on its four floors. Ground was broken on Alumni Day, June 5.

The Field House is undergoing a major change. The basketball court, previously under-size and running east-west, has been rotated 90 degrees and enlarged to official dimensions. New folding bleachers will accomodate crowds up to 2,500.

Seventeen dormitory rooms, for 34 women, have been added in Woodlawn Hall. The rooms, located in the former dining hall area, increase the capacity of the dormitory to 119 women.

Construction of an 11-story men's dormitory, to be completed in 1966, was begun this fall. Housing 220 men and with dining space for 400, the brick structure is located on the west side of Woodlawn Ave., south of Cecil St. and east of North Hall, the men's dormitory completed in 1963. North Hall houses 225 men.

"THE BEST FOR LESS"

Bill Edwards: Head Coach

What to do for an encore becomes more of a challenge every season for Coach Bill Edwards, but the enthusiastic gridiron mentor of the Tigers continues to receive additional honors each year to add to his distinguished coaching record.

For years Edwards has been recognized as one of the top college coaches in the nation. Only three collegiate coaches (with 100 or more victories) have compiled a better winning percentage than his .752 mark over a 20-year period that produced a record of 140-38-8.

In 1963 he became the first coach to be named NCAA College Division Coach of the Year for two successive years. His 1964 team was ranked number one in the Associated Press poll and the 1962 and 1964 teams were voted the nation's outstanding small college team by the Washington Touchdown Club.

This season Edwards will be trying to extend the nation's longest collegiate undefeated streak that reached 29 in 1964 and to coach the Tigers to a 5th straight Ohio Conference championship, a feat that has never been accomplished in the 61-year-old conference. Going in to the 1965 season, his Tigers had gone undefeated in 31 OC games in a row.

Since assuming command of Wittenberg's grid fortunes in 1955, Edwards has instituted a program that has established Tiger teams as regular contenders for the conference championship. Wittenberg has had 10 consecutive winning seasons under Edwards. The Tigers won a share of the league title in 1957 and reigned alone in 1958, 1961, 1962, 1963, and 1964. His 10-year record at Wittenberg is 70-13-4.

Edwards has developed several All-Americans, including Chicago Bears' ace Bill Wade, quarterback from Vanderbilt; Phil Ragazzo, Little All-American tackle from Western Reserve; Don Hunt, 1962 Little All-American guard from Wittenberg; Bob Cherry, 1963 Little All-American end from Wittenberg, and Chuck Green, 1964 Little All-American quarterback who broke 14 conference records over a four-year period.

Edwards began his coaching career at Springfield High School in 1931, moved to Fostoria High School a year later, and joined the staff of Western Reserve University as assistant football coach in 1933. In the six years that followed his appointment as head coach in 1935, Edwards guided Western Reserve to 49 victories, against 2 losses and 6 ties.

William "Bill" Edwards

As head coach of the Detroit Lions in 1941-42, Edwards moved the club from the cellar to third place in the National Football League standings before resigning to enter the Navy as a lieutenant commander. His experience also includes stints as tackle coach of the Cleveland Browns (1947-48), athletic director and head coach at Vanderbilt University (1949-1952), and assistant coach at the University of North Carolina (1953-1954). While at Vanderbilt he was named "Coach of the Week" in national polls six times as a result of upset victories turned in by his teams.

Edwards, who scorned helmets as a player, came out of the Ohio hotbed of football, Massillon. He played one year at Ohio State and then transferred to Wittenberg. He was twice voted Wittenberg's captain, won All-Ohio honors and an honorable mention berth on Walter Eckersall's 1930 All-America squad. He was named to a first-team tackle berth on the all-time, all-Massillon football team.

The 60-year-old coach received his bachelor of science degree from Wittenberg in 1931 and holds a master's degree from Columbia University.

WITTENBERG COACHES

Dave Maurer helps coach the Tigers by phone. During games he surveys the action from the press box and suggests defensive adjustments and offensive plays. On the practice field, Maurer is also responsible for organizing Wittenberg's offensive attack and works almost exclusively with the backfield. Maurer was named All-Ohio Conference quarterback in 1951 and 1952 while playing at Denison where he earned honorable mention on the 1951 Little All-American squad. He is also head swimming coach for the Tigers. In the last two years his swimmers have won the conference relays.

Dr. Howard "Red" Maurer, chairman of Wittenberg's health and physical education department, also doubles as the most successful baseball coach in the Ohio Conference where he has guided the Tigers to the league crown 5 times during the past 11 years. His career record of 136 wins and 64 losses ranks with the best in collegiate baseball. His teams have represented the conference in the NCAA small college tournaments and have captured the title twice. Dr. Maurer is also one of the few men in the country to hold a Doctor of Philosophy degree in health and physical education.

Eldon Miller coaches basketball. In his three years at the helm, the Tigers have been ranked among the top 10 small college teams in the country and have won or shared in the conference championship decided by regular season records each year. His overall record is 61-12. Miller stresses defense and the Tigers have led the nation in this department two of the past three years. Only five seasons ago, Miller was elected Most Valuable Player on Wittenberg's 1961 national championship squad. He also directs the Tiger cross country program.

Gary Tranquill, the youngest member of the coaching staff from point of experience, assists Coach Bill Edwards during the football season and has been assigned the job of rebuilding the track program at Wittenberg. His first effort in 1965 produced an 11-6 record for the Tigers most successful track season in more than a decade. Tranquill was a Williamson Rating System All-American as a Wittenberg quarterback in 1960. He will also coordinate the University's intramural program.

An American Characteristic

by FRED RUSSELL

The Nashville Banner

One of college football's best friends is FRED RUSSELL, sports editor of the Nashville Banner. His "Sidelines" column is well written and widely read.

COLLEGE football has been described as "the element of American life most characteristic of our nationality." Another season reinforces the validity of this distinction.

The game appeals to the emotions like no other form of athletic competition. Spectators at college games, setting new overall attendance records every year, revel in exercising the deep-rooted passions of joy, courage, sympathy, sorrow, rivalry, risk, sense of fairness and loyalty.

College football crowds aren't there just to admire the skill of some passer or the cleverness of a runner or the accuracy of a place-kicker or punter. They are there wanting to see their team win.

Thrilling touchdown plays are fine, like getting the end piece of the cake with the thick icing. But the overwhelming majority of college game-goers would rather see their team win, even if it's 2-0 in a dogged defensive struggle, than to witness a dozen exciting scoring plays during a game which their team loses.

Can you think of a more hollow attraction than an exhibition contest between two college football squads?

The feel of the crowd is a standard fixture at college games. From September through November there are just ten such occasions, full of color and flavor, for the release of our competitive impulses. And so often in college football the anticipation is exceeded by the realization.

Most of the college players on the field are whamming and slamming for the sheer joy of proving themselves to themselves. Ernest Thompson Seton once said: "Manhood is the first law of education." Of course football is just one of many opportunities available in the quest for manhood, but the competitive flame in the clash of spirited, cohesive forces is the rouser that attracts throngs to America's college stadiums.

Imperfection itself, among young athletes of 18 to 22, is part of college football's crowd appeal. Nothing in sports can be duller than perfection. The human experience of errors in action provides one of the world's liveliest shows. Somehow, the happiness reaped by players in the arena who withstand and overcome these mistakes often spills over into the crowd.

Many spectators are embraced by the camaraderie of college football. It can be felt by anybody. It was responsible for the following bit of nonsense:

A jovial fellow sitting 'way up in Row 65 got to his feet time and again and yelled, "Hey! Gus! Look here, Gus!"

Whereupon, down in Row 20 a man would rise, look up and wave. This friendly exchange went on interminably, until finally the man down in Row 20 shouted back to the greeter and advised him to stay in his seat and look at the game. "And besides," he finished, "my name's not Gus."

In the college football atmosphere are preserved some of the delights that go with life. "We have plenty of grim things facing us," said President Harlan Hatcher of University of Michigan. "We need the relief we find in sports. It's not only necessary to survive, but to live with some positive sense of joy and fulfillment."

Wittenberg 1965 Football Preview

Rod Miller

National attention will again be focused on Wittenberg's football team this fall although the Tigers appear to be facing a rebuilding year after losing 13 starters from the 1964 team which was named "The Outstanding Small College Team of the Year" by the Washington Touchdown Club.

But football games are never lost until the final gun and the Tigers are used to winning. In the past four years, Wittenberg has compiled a 29-game undefeated streak while winning four Ohio Conference championships. The Tigers have not lost in the conference since Muskingum turned the trick, 36-0. That was 32 games ago in 1960.

But win streaks are past history. Little All-American Chuck Green's 14 conference marks are now just figures in the record book. There will be no Green throwing for Wittenberg this fall.

Instead the Tigers will be counting on an exciting rushing combination and a stingy defense to carve out victories.

"Mr. Inside" will be fullback Octavian Pechar, 200-lb. junior from Glassport, Pa. Pechar led the team in ground gaining last year with 463 yards and a 5.5 rushing average. "Mr. Outside" will be Bob Harvey, 175-lb. junior half-back from Newton Falls, who also carried a 5.5 average until he was sidelined with a broken hand in the fourth game last season.

Other Wittenberg players to watch are end Rod Miller, who led the conference in yards gained receiving with 637; Co-Captain Fred Musone, offensive tackle; Co-Captain Bob Munz, defensive end; and defensive safety, and Tim Rummins, who was named on the all-conference second team for his tackling ability.

With only five seniors on the squad and with several lettermen already sidelined with injuries, this may be the year for the opponents to catch up with the Tigers. Only time and eight thrilling games will tell.

Cross Country

Although cross country has only been a varsity sport for two years at Wittenberg, Coach Eldon Miller expects his runners to produce a winning season in 1965.

During the baptismal season in 1964, the harriers won only one meet in six tries but finished sixth in the conference meet. Returning in 1965 will be every runner from last year's 10-man team, including the three runners who earned letters in 1964.

Three reasons why the Tiger harriers will be an interesting team to watch are Alex (Sandy) Turner, Sylvania, O., who holds the Wittenberg record for the mile, two-mile and three-mile run, Mufaro Hove from Southern Rhodesia and Ralph Johns, Brecksville, O.

OTTERBEIN COLLEGE

Since opening its doors to the first class of eight students on Sept. 1, 1847, Otterbein College has been remembered for its historic tradition while making continual advancements in the educational environment.

Otterbein was the first college in the United States to begin as a co-educational institution and the first to employ women on its faculty.

Associated with the Evangelical United Brethren Church, the first American-born denomination, the college takes its name from Philip William Otterbein. A young missionary from Germany, the Rev. Mr. Otterbein arrived in Pennsylvania in 1752 and remained to become the founding bishop of the United Brethren Church which merged with the Evangelical Church in 1946.

The influence of religious idealism has continued at Otterbein while the college has kept pace with the times, providing better facilities and requiring higher standards of educational excellence.

Though the college retains many of its original traditions, it has grown in material resources and in the scope of its educational objectives. The distinctively modern Campus Center dedicated last fall is the new unifying force for Otterbein. The building is the center of the campus, not only geographically but in terms of the people who use it—students, teachers, administrators, alumni, trustees, townspeople, visitors. It is also rapidly becoming the focal point for the community of Westerville.

The tradition of Otterbein can also be found on the gridiron where the Cardinals have been playing football for 75-consecutive years. Tonight's game marks the 35th meeting between Wittenberg and Otterbein. Wittenberg has won 22 and lost 9. Three games ended in ties. The last time Otterbein defeated the Tigers was in 1914 by a 7-6 score. Under Coach Robert "Moe" Agler, former Los Angeles Rams professional, Otterbein has developed into one of the more successful Ohio Conference teams in recent years. Agler has compiled a 53-31-4 mark in 10 seasons and his teams have won 39 of 54 games during the last six years.

Robert "Moe" Agler

In 1965 the Cardinals will be seeking their seventh consecutive winning season. Sophomore Dave Hoerneman is being counted on to fill the vacant quarterback position and to direct the Cardinals' highly intricate pro-type offense. Tom Shoaf should be a standout in the line.

Football Rules Change

by ABB CURTIS

Supervisor of Southwest Conference Officials

VIRTUALLY UNLIMITED substitution will appear in NCAA football games during the 1965 season. Explaining the new substitution rule is Abb Curtis, a member-at-large of the NCAA Football Rules Committee and Supervisor of Southwest Conference Officials.

COLLEGE football fans — and there will be more than twenty million again this year — will be pleased that their favorite pastime has been stripped of the confusion which was brought on by the substitution rule that prevailed in 1964. So will officials, coaches and players, for that matter.

If you do, or did, a doubletake at your first college game this fall, it will be a normal sensation.

That game you are watching will look much like something you've seen in the past, chiefly because of the new substitution rule. You will not, however, experience a this-is-where-I-came-in reaction, because the sight of the new game—or perhaps a return-of-the-old—will keep you entranced.

College football in 1965 will be much like it was in the early '50's. That was the day of two-platoon football and the latest revisions in the substitution rule will give you a reasonable and, we think, popular facsimile of the old attraction.

The latest change represents the final of a series of compromises toward liberalization that began shortly after the return to double-duty football in 1953. The Football Rules Committee believes it finally has stabilized the substitution rule by arriving at an acceptable balance between those who desire extreme specialization and those who feel every player should go both ways.

However, the only time that a player must go both ways (offensively and defensively) is on downs when the ball changes hands. In this situation there is a metamorphosis on both offense and defense, for the blockers suddenly turn into tacklers and the defenders become blockers.

Basically, the new substitution rule differs from the previous two-platoon regulation by its regulation of when full-team changes may be made. Today's free substitution hinges on change of possession rather than on time-outs.

Rule 3, Section 5, Article 1 has been revised to permit unlimited substitution (1) between periods, (2) after a score or Try (for extra point), (3) when Team B is awarded a first down or, (4) when after a kick Team A is awarded a first down. Under the above circumstances the clock will be stopped when the ball is declared dead to permit free substitution. Each team also is allowed to make two wild card substitutions at any time during the game while the clock is stopped or running.

It should be remembered that a called time out does not necessarily give a team the privilege of substituting more than two players. The clock may be stopped for substitutions only on the conditions where multiple substitution is permitted (between periods, after a score or Try, when Team B is awarded a first down and when Team A is awarded a first down after a kick.) The clock starts on ready-for-play after these substitutions.

Changes pertained to substitutions made during excessive time-outs, stopping the clock and starting the clock also were made. Other rule changes for 1965 are far less significant. Revisions have been made to permit the use of a two-inch tee, to prohibit the use of helmet or head maliciously on any part of opponent's body, and in the phrasing of the free-kick-out-of-bounds rule as it pertains to touching by the receiving team.

The NCAA Football Rules Committee believes its newly-adopted substitution rule follows in logical progression toward the consistent improvement of the collegiate game, the popularity and public acceptance of which was evidenced again this past fall by a new record attendance for the 11th straight year—23,354,477 people attended collegiate games. The five per cent increase in attendance over the previous season was the greatest single increase ever.

The new rule—a refinement of the 1964 rule—eliminates the only objectionable effect of that rule—the delay of the game penalty to substitute a defensive unit on fourth down—and has the following additional benefits:

1. Offers a maximum development of the player's individual skills.
2. Encourages future stability in the playing rules.
3. Makes rules administration more efficient and easier for both coaches and officials.
4. Brings collegiate football, high school, and junior college football more into uniformity in practice, while preserving the identification of the college game.

It is evident that the collegiate rules are being stabilized because there needed to be fewer rules changes this year than for many years. It is evident for this reason as well as for many others that collegiate football, the original game, is in a vigorous, healthy state.

We are Proud to be a Part of Wittenberg's Progress

Krieg Hall, Wittenberg Music Building Under Construction

At Lee Howley's request

Bill Edwards

sends this

"touching message"

Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends:

Every year I go to a little extra trouble to obtain an automobile license plate bearing numbers followed by the letters VV. I tell our players that those letters stand for "double victory." During this school year the first V will continue to stand for clear, decisive athletic victories, and the second V will stand for another kind of victory—a whopping increase in the membership of Wittenberg's Century Club. (Alumni, Parents and Friends who give Wittenberg $100 or more each year).

In the past years when I have read the names of members, I have thought of dozens of friends who should be expressing their gratitude for what Wittenberg has done for them and their approval of what Wittenberg is doing for the current generation of students. That's why I accepted Lee Howley's (Chairman of 1965-'66 Alumni Fund) invitation to lend a hand.

The American Alumni Council rates schools on the support given by their alumni. Last year in Wittenberg's classification, sixteen schools had higher ratings than ours. The idea of Wittenberg standing 16th in any conference will haunt me until we get on top.

Write to our Alumni Office and tell Perk Robins that you will join the Century Club. If you want to make it painless, send a check for $8.34 every month or $25.00 every quarter. I'll be watching for your acceptance.

Sincerely,

Bill Edwards

Bill Edwards.

P.S. If you send $1,000 I'll call you an All-American.
