GIANT STAG MEETING TO BE STAGED TONIGHT

ALL MEN INVITED

Program Around Fire and Eats are
In Charge of Y. M. C. A.
Over By 9:00.

Tonight in the gravel pit, by the athletic field, the first wild stag get-together meeting of this year and the past few years, will be held at 7:30. Every man in the college, whether faculty member or student, is invited. Eats, program and all that goes with it will be in the hands of the Y. M. C. A.

Advance information from the Y headquarters, indicates that an attempt will be made to get every man in the college out to this meeting. Those in charge give out the assurance that there will be a program that will make every man glad that he was there. There will be a fire, around which the stag, which is unique, in that all men regardless of connections are invited, will be staged.

There will be no regular Y meeting tonight. All Y men are joining in on the get-together. All men are asked to plan their study hours so that they will be able to attend this meeting, which will be over about 9 o'clock.

SCHOOL SPIRIT RUNS HIGH AT FIRST RALLY

Play "Gathering of Nuts" Makes Big Hit. Band Makes First Public Appearance.

If noise and number in attendance can be used as indications, the Pep Rally held Thursday evening at 7:45 in the regular college chapel accomplished its two-fold purpose of arousing interest in the coming football season and showing the team that the entire college stands back of them. A rally of this kind is held before the opening game each season, and the interest shown had much to do in strengthening the team when the Bowling Green eleven appeared here Saturday.

While the students gathered in the auditorium, the college band, under the direction of Curt Poulton, '30, gave as a prelude, an entirely original selection which made up in volume for what it lacked in harmony. Cheers and singing of college songs under the direction of Lawrence Marsh and John Hudock were alternated with other numbers by the band.

IS CAPTAIN OF TAN GRID AGGREGATION

JOHN L. CRAWFORD

John L. Crawford familiarly known to his team mates as "Jew" is this year playing his third year as a varsity gridder for Otterbein. Last year he played the position of quarter back, but this year has been shifted back to his old position of center, which he held down very effectively during his Sophomore year. "Jew" is a real fighter and makes an admirable captain.

FACULTY PASSES RULE REGARDING CLUB ROOMS

At the recent faculty meeting a motion was made and passed without a dissenting vote that, beginning with September 1928, students must live only in homes legally owned or leased by persons who have come to Westerville for the purpose of establishing a home here, and that these persons must live in the house where students room.

This action was intended to apply primarily to men planning to room in social group club rooms.

Chapel Choir Not Yet Selected

The selection of singers for the morning chapel choir has not as yet been announced and no mention of the selection can be made in this issue of the Tan and Cardinal but will probably be made next week. Prof. Spessard is in charge of the choice of members.

CHOIR MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE SUNDAY

Frances Harris Becomes Organist
For Ensuing Year. Places
Still Open.

The U. B. church choir formally opened its season Sunday morning with an ensemble of sixty voices, half of which are new to the organization. Professor Spessard, director of the choir, expressed the opinion that the coming season would be the best in its history, owing to the talent and enthusiasm displayed.

After the resignation of Miss Vance, now Mrs. Eckleberry, as organist, the choir was fortunate enough to secure the services of Miss Frances Harris, a graduate of the class of '26, who has recently been added to the faculty of the School of Music.

ENROLLMENT IN MUSIC AND ART INCREASING

Enrollment in the Music and Art departments at the present time is about as large as last year. However new students enroll almost every week so that the final number will probably exceed that of last year. LEITMAN STARS

Crawford and Miller Show Up Best In Initial Game of Season.

A fighting Tan and Cardinal eleven with a starting lineup composed of seven sophomores and four lettermen battled the capable Bowling Green grid men to a 0-0 tie before a very large crowd on the local field Saturday afternoon. The invaders presented a very formidable team, led by the 236 pound guard, Knecht.

In the backfield they had four stars, the most capable of which was Leitman the fullback. He made a national reputation for himself in high school at Portsmouth, Va. Among other things Saturday Leitman gained 24 yards through the line on two straight plays in the second quarter and in the third quarter he carried the ball from the 50 yard line to Otterbein's eight yard line on seven straight plunges. He was aided here by a 15 yard penalty on Otterbein. Carroll also proved to be a good plunger. Lowell, their other halfback was a vicious tackler and their (Continued On Page Two).

BAND MAKES DEBUT AT GAME SATURDAY

A band of twenty pieces made its debut at the pep rally last week. Although in an embryo state the organization has displayed considerable enthusiasm. Under the direction of Curt Poulton the outfit has had some good workouts.

The Tan and Cardinal capes and "Freddie" Miller strutting his stuff at the band's head was a great feature at the game Saturday. Realizing the pep that a band puts into a team, a movement has started to take the band to Miami this week.

PHOTOGRAPHIC DISPLAY HELD WEDNESDAY NIGHT

SENIORS SELECT COMPANY

Baker Art Gallery, Montrose Studio,
Vachrach and Home Portrait
Studio To Compete.

A display arranged expressly for the Seniors, by four of the most prominent of the photographers of Columbus, will be put on in the Association Building tomorrow night between the hours of 7 and 9. All seniors are requested to go to the building during that time and select the company they would like to have do the work. A vote will be taken Thursday morning.

The officers of the Senior class felt that several of the class might want to have photographs made to keep, so that therefore the art involved must be very carefully done, hence the competitive exhibits. All members of the class must have their pictures made at the same gallery, however, in order that the special price made to graduating classes may be secured.

The companies arranging exhibits are: Baker Art Gallery; Montrose Studio; Vachrach Inc. and Home Portrait Shop.

quarterback Lankenau proved to be a good passer. Captain Knecht, their ponderous guard roamed over the gridiron with great damage to Otterbein's plays.

For Otterbein Captain Crawford appeared to be the most alert as he was right in the midst of every play. Jess Miller, who substituted for Hankinson at halfback, played stellar football as carried the ball with great skill and made several excellent tackles on defense.

Otterbein had two opportunities to sew up the game. A minute after the second quarter began Leitman started an end run from Bowling Green's forty yard line. Bunce tackled him so viciously that Leitman dropped the ball. Crawford scooped it from the ground and started for a touchdown. His speed took him away from every man but tackle Helvoigt who cut cross-lots and stopped him after he had gained 25 yards. Again in the fourth quarter Otterbein had a chance. They had twenty-seven yards to go when Jones went in to try to catch a pass. On the play Pinney threw a nice pass and Jones was about to catch it on the 12 yard line when the Bowling Green men become excited and tackled Jones before the ball got near him. The penalty brought the ball to the 12 yard line. Pinney tried a place kick which failed and that ended Otterbein's threat for the day.

McGill played left end during the second half and showed good form. Twice he threw the terrible Leitman for a loss. Pinney's kicking was very good throughout the contest. Lee played a bang-up game at quarterback. Fowler contributed two great defensive plays in the first quarter. Hankinson playing with a badly cut leg did some fine open field running. Reck

Y. W. HOLDS IMPRESSIVE FRIENDSHIP MEETING

Friendship was the topic at an impressive meeting of the Y. W. C. A. led by Gladys Dickey and Frances George. The theme of the devotions was the quotation: "Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts." Talks were given by Frances George, Alice Schear, Mary McKenzie, Rachel Brant, and Elizabeth Lee. The meeting closed after all the women present had joined hands in a "friendship circle."

EIGHT SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES ARE ORGANIZED

The Young People's department of the U. B. Sunday School has gotten well under way and a fine attendance has been registered for the past two Sundays.

The department is organized with four men's classes and three for women. FROSH EFFICIENCY TESTS FAIL TO SHOW OUTSTANDING SKILL

TWO RECORDS BETTER THAN THOSE LAST YEAR

CHANCE TO TRY AGAIN

Yantis, Conklin, Burke Win 100 Yard Dash, Base Ball Throw, Broad Jump Respectively.

The freshmen men failed to exhibit any spectacular feats in the recent tests. One man stood out in each event and the rest were far behind.

Theodore Yantis won the 100 yard dash in 11.1 seconds which bettered Weinland's time of last year by .7 seconds as his time.

The baseball throw was way below par. Dean Conklin was the best bet with 264 feet as his distance. David Burke was second with 263 feet and Wallace Cherry third with 260 feet. Last year Cline took this event with a heave of 297 feet.

David Burke won the broad jump when he leaped 18 feet, 3 inches, bettering last year's mark by one inch.

The freshmen will have another chance to better these marks and they should be considerably better.

WITTENBERG MAN IS COACHING FRESHMEN

Otterbein College is fortunate in obtaining John T. Tompkins, of Pleasant City, Ohio, to coach the Freshmen football aspirants. Tompkins has had considerable experience and comes highly recommended. He earned nine letters in three sports at Wittenberg College and received his A. B. Degree there in 1924.

Since his graduation he spent two years at Caldwell High School coaching athletic teams and teaching history. One year was spent at Palmetto, Fla., coaching teams at the Palmetto High School.

While at Wittenberg, Tompkins was named All-State Tackle and was highly recommended by E. R. Godfrey, coach at Wittenberg College. Tompkins has been assisting Coach Alfred B. Sears in getting the linemen in shape, giving them pointers in offensive and defensive work.

COMING OPPONENTS INDICATE TROUBLE

Miami University won their first game against Hanover College by the score of 80 to 0. They have a squad of 40 consisting of 13 lettermen. They can start a seasoned team against Otterbein next Saturday with two letter men for subs. Coleman who did freshman work at O. S. U. is eligible there this year. The following is a list of some of their lettermen; Sharkey, FB.; Wohlwender, QB.; Larrick, HB.; Richardson, LE.; McCall, LT.; Thatcher, C. and McPhillips, RG.

Reports from Capital University which plays here Nov. 5, indicate that prospects are bright there. They have the noted Jerry Katherman again for their coach which indicates a fighting team. Their line will probably be light with guards that weigh only 155 pounds. Harold Seebold in their backfield is said to be a remarkable kicker.

Over at Heidelberg they are thinking great thoughts about winning athletic contests. Coach Edler who skippered Otterbein's basketball team for the last three years is over there to help with problems arising from the pigskin. Reports indicate that they have plenty of good material and that they are sharpening jabs for Otterbein and Muskingum.

TAN GRIDDERS TO PLAY MIAMI THIS SATURDAY

HAS EXPERIENCED TEAM

M. A. Ditmer, a Former Otterbein Coach Will Help Train The Opposition.

A star backfield will be a feature of the Miami University "Big Reds" when the Tan and Cardinal eleven plays there next Saturday. Fullback Sharkey with his terrific line pounding and Quarterback Wohlwender with his noted generalship and broken field running ability will be the outstanding men in Miami's backfield.

Miami will also have a very big and capable line as in the past. They will also have the very considerable advantage.

Stadium Static

During the half the Freshmen staged a pep rally of their own. Cheerleaders Marsh and Hudock inspired them to the loftiest heights of noisedom. They used an original stunt which consisted of shadow boxing while leading the cheers. After the rally the boys raced the length of the field to throw their caps over the goal. "Red" Yantis won the barbed wire suspenders in this event.

The band was there. Fred Miller, who knows all about drum-majoring, led the musical company with much effect.

The weather was a bit warm for football but no heat prostrations were reported to any of the reporters or to Police Chief Tedrow.

Neither team has had as much as two weeks' practice and they apparently are not very well toughened yet. A great many took time out for injuries. Among the Tan and Cardinal players somewhat injured were: Benford, Lee and Pinney.

Ex-Coach Ditmer who is now on the Miami University coaching staff sat in a box seat up in Anderson stadium and jotted down his thoughts in a notebook. These thoughts will be of use to Miami in Saturday's game.

HOW DO YOU RUSH?

The rush is on. Freshmen are trying to find out this about that club and that about the other club. Upper classmen are trying to keep Freshmen
"in the dark" about this or that phase of club life, and they are emphasizing this or that side of club life. The Freshman has few friends, just now.

Freshmen, you would do well to bear in mind that there is plenty of time to join a social group. If you the having some difficulty making up your mind about the club you want to join, don't join any. Better to stay out and wait until you are sure of the group into which you will best fit, before going in at all.

In past years there has been a tendency for social groups to present an unnatural front to the Freshman, and then as the rushing season closes all former pretences and practices have been forgotten. Freshmen are not so green as they look. They will respect the group that puts its rushing on a he-manly basis more than the one that tries to affect sensationalism and that man-about-town air.

Anything that smacks of unnaturness is bound to fall, and a club that tries to impress its Freshmen with the financial or political power it may wield on the campus, rather than to emphasize the type of men and their personalities, in the group is bound for failure in the long run.

Let's make our rushing plans conform to the principle of good fellowship.

Now that the new coach has shown his wares on the field how do you like him? All the comment we have heard about him has been very favorable.
He seems to have the confidence and co-operation of all the players. The whole squad wants to work. His system is simple but effective. He's got the stuff, let's back him.

Prof. McCloy had just remarked beins fervent young scientists replied:

was the annual "Freshman Stunt".
Paul Hughes, the temporary president of the freshman class, had a cast for a play selected at random from the audience, and when these people had taken places on the platform, he announced—as if it were an afterthought—that the title of the play was
"The Gathering of the Nuts". This cast included such persons as Doanld Clippinger, Helen Clemens, '30, and "Jew" Crawford, '28.

Mr. Tompkins, the freshman coach was introduced to the audience, and made an appeal, brief but to the point, for more freshmen to report for practice. Following this, the team was introduced, and as they stood up, the volume of the cheers left no doubt as to the loyalty of their fellow-students.
The team's composure stood the test of this ordeal until Marsh started the song, "Pretty as a Picture". Captain "Jew" Crawford was called upon for a speech, but asked that the honor be deferred until after the game, Saturday.

The concluding event of the evening was the traditional bonfire at the gravel pit. Freshmen men had collected the material during the afternoon, and fastened to the highest peak the "dummy" prepared by a committee of freshmen girls. The fire was not as large as that of preceeding years, but the same spirit was back of it.

FROSH-SOPH DEBATE COMES IN OCTOBER

Professor Smith of the Public Speaking Department is planning a very interesting program for the Freshmen and Sophomore Debate teams this season, the details of which will be announced later.

The date for the tryouts for the two teams will be set for sometime in October. Those students who wish to try out must prepare a four minute talk on this year's varsity debate question which is, "Resolved: That the Convention System of Nominations Should Be Substituted for the Direct Primary, Constitutionality Conceded." Prof. Smith says that varsity question will be used for the Frosh-Soph Tilt.

Freshmen Add to Luster of Already Verdant and Mystifying Campus

The ever-verant Campus, the happy hunting ground of would-be Romeos and Don Juans and a veritable Pandora's box to the various nymphs and graces seeking inspiration from the Seat of All Learning, has taken unto itself a deeper hue in the quite apparent greenness of the heroes and heroines of Central High School, Class of '27, Rah, Rah, Rah, who are now merely one of the Class of '31.

"The mark of the Freshman" is upon you (not only in the wearing of the tan and cardinal) so do not seek to evade it or you would call upon yourself the wrath of the Campus Deities or Upperclassmen.

Fain would you seek to evade the unwritten laws of the Campus but rather would you stand by gallantly, holding open a door or gracefully yielding a coveted place in line for lo, your reign, in the Dynasty of Class of '31, shall come; when no longer you will serve but you will be served. Yes, and the nectar and ambrosia will be sweet to those who have served willingly and gladly on the Campus of Otterbein.

Observe if you will the wise young Sophomore, weighed down by the burden of his newly acquired importance, (yet smarting from his experience on the serving staff of last year); the gay young Junior, impervious to all except that life is good and all is lovely; and the, bow down to the dignified, awe-inspiring Senior, conscious only of his attainments and position (and suffering from no inferiority complex), and you shall take heart and push on, encouraged by those have achieved and are now the products or by-products of our great institution.

Take heed, therefore, to these, the four ages of the collegian.

And, speaking in sign language, another sure indication is found in the mad rush for 7:30's as shown by those in the incubation period. No leisurely saunter across the beautiful greensward for our wearers of the cap and ribbon, but rather a mad flight by way of the cold, cruel cement is theirs as they would meet the first test of their day. Yea, many are the track stars developed during these trying days.

All hail! we say, All hail! to the Cass of '31, Hope of Tomorrow, and in the words of the immortal Harold Lloyd—"we regret that we have but one year to be a freshman."

STUDENT ASSISTANTS MAKE CONTRIBUTIONS

George Moore, biology assistant, has added to the biology department of the college a very valuable life history of the European corn borer. This gift is opportune, for the problem of the corn borer has been an important one before scientists for many years.

Lawrence Hicks, biology assistant, has also added to the department various kinds of bird's eggs and nests. His most important contribution is a prairie warbler's nest, which is the first one of its kind ever to have been collected in the State of Ohio.

Thanks is due Mr. F. H. Wilsey of New York who sends in two clippings from the New York Sun of Sept. 13, 1927, which concern Otterbein.

One is a resume of the discussion whether "Darling Nellie Gray" was written in Westerville or Rushville, Ohio, both cities laying claim to that honor.

The other clipping concerns Charles A. Doring, 600 W. 146th St., whose wife was Marie Shank, class of 1886, both life long friends of Otterbein. He had been a favorite music teacher to many sons and daughters of New York's oldest families.

Mr. Doring celebrated his 98th birthday on the 13th. "Letters and telegrams began arriving early and his rooms were filled and packed with dahlias and roses sent him by old students and friends."

"Mr. Doring sat at his piano and despite his years and almost complete deafness played Beethoven's favorite 'Adagio', 'The Sonata Pathetique' with a feeling and power that would have done credit to most players of a third of his age."

He told the reporters he had played the piano since he was six years old and that particular Sonata since he was eight.

The alumni sends Mr. and Mrs. Doring congratulations and best wishes.

Dr. G. A. Funkhouser

The Church and secular papers have carried full accounts of the death of Dr. George A. Funkhouser at his home in Dayton, Ohio, July 30, 1927.

As the Church and the State has suffered a great loss so also has Otterbein, his "Alma Mater."

Being deeply interested in religious education, his was always an encouraging word for the administration of the institution, and his great personality was always an inspiration to young men to equip themselves for service.

His interest in Otterbein was shown when he attended the Dayton Alumni Banquet last April, when he was about to celebrate his 86th birthday, where he enjoyed the college songs and yells along with the younger and more recent graduates.

The Alumni body has lost one of its great and enthusiastic members in the death of Dr. Funkhouser.

As a young man he entered Otterbein in 1860 but owing to his spending several years in the service of his country he did not graduate until June 1868. He was one of the professors in what is now Bonebrake Seminary when it opened its doors in 1871 and served actively in this capacity until 1912 when he was made Professor Emeritus and given charge of the Seminary Extension Work.

The sympathy of the Alumni Body is extended to the family.

CLASS OF '77

Among the many classes having reunions at the last commencement was the Class of '77. Just 50 years had elapsed since the class, numbering eight boys and girls had gone forth to find their places in the busy world.

This class was the first to sit together as a class in chapel. The method of seating was by ages. S. W. Keister was the oldest member and Maggie McDaniel, now Mrs. W. B. Outcalt was the youngest. Mrs. Outcalt was one of the youngest graduates, receiving her degree at the age of seventeen.

Of the seven living members, six were present at their reunion. Judge C. M. Rogers, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Sarah Mowry, Cleveland, Ohio; Dean Cora McFadden, Westerville, Ohio; Mrs. T. J. Sanders, Westerville, Ohio; Rev. S. W. Keister, and Mrs. L. O. Miller, Princeton, N. J.

The class sang their College Class Song at the Alumni Banquet to an appreciative audience.

Mrs. Outcalt of Murray, Utah, was the only living member not present. We admire the spirit and loyalty of many more reunions.

Letter From Mrs. Kate Hanby.

The following letter of greetings from Mrs. Kate Winter Hanby to the Alumni meeting in Westerville at Commencement was read at the Alumni dinner. Mrs. Hanby of the class of '57, the first class graduated from Otterbein, is living at 214 C. Ave., Redondo Beach, California.

June 3, 1927.

Greetings to the Alumni of Otterbein College from one of the earliest graduates, if not the very oldest.

The distance you are from those crude early days, with your many commodious buildings, your array of competent professors, your fine campus and magnificent trees, is as great as the distance from dirt roads, mud hub deep, and horse power are from paved boulevards, automobiles and air planes. Yet those early students although few were earnest souls, braving hardships, self sacrifice, often poverty for the sake of an education. You are reaping what they sowed, and from what I hear, harvesting a good crop. In a few years you will be coming to Otterbein in the air.

I thank you.

(Mrs.) Kate Winter Hanby.

HOME COMING DATE SET FOR OCTOBER 22

PLAY BALDWIN WALLACE

Great Plans Are Being Made For Annual Migration Toward Otterbein's Campus.

With the opening of the football season and the attendant interest in all college activities, great preparation is being made to entertain the Alumni and friends who will be back on the campus, Oct. 22.

Have you been back to any of the home comings? If not you have missed meeting the bunch which always come back.

The office had telegrams and letters during the summer asking for the Home Coming date.

Make your plans to be back.

stituency. A college must have friends of large means in this day of increasing demands upon our schools. If it is a denominational school, it must have a church constituency. But neither of these occupies the unique place that the Alumni holds. The spirit born on her campus and within her classic halls, and the culture and strength that gives us ease and confidence in a demanding social order lays upon us an obligation and places us in a position of privilege in relation to Otterbein.

We have an official Alumni Relations Secretary, who will act as eyes, ears and mouthpiece for us and through whom we may focus on some great objective for a greater and better Otterbein. Here we are, Mr. Secretary. Lets go!

Sincerely yours,

J. R. King, President.

O C Cupid's Delight

The engagement of Charlotte Reist and Robert Richardson was announced at a luncheon Sunday afternoon at the Tea for Two.

The color scheme used was an attractive combination of the delicate shades of pink, yellow, blue, green and white.

The place-cards bore the surprising news. The favors were feather fans of the various colors mentioned above and roses.

The center piece was a beautiful bouquet of pink gladioli and blue delphinium.

O C CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HAS GOOD ATTENDANCE

Unusual interest is being shown in Christian Endeavor Section A, this year. A week ago 183 people filled the societies room. The program a week ago was under the leadership of Robert Erisman. A number of students spoke on topics relating to loyalty with particular adaption to college students.

Last Sunday evening there was an attendance of 150. This program was of a leaderless nature. It was placed on the blackboard and each performer followed in his turn without being announced. A very interesting program interspersed with musical numbers was given.

The program for this week will be in charge of Robert Knight.

Good Material Turned In

The material turned in by those who are trying out for the editorial staff of the Tan and Cardinal, has in the main proven very satisfactory. Announcement of selections for the staff will appear in an early issue.

There are still opportunities open to those who wish a position but have not yet tried out.

Coats are a little longer, lapels higher and more rounded. Single breasted seem to be well in the lead. Slipover sweaters, white preferred, are being worn in place of vests by some of the leaders of the east.

The more colorful notes of the ensemble are the bretes of bright hue and colored shoes. Sport oxfords of the brogue pattern are popular through the west, while the trend in the east is to high heels. Fall hosiery comes in tans, beige, and all light shades.

Hats are small with the brown shades predominating. Soft felts are most noticeable. Hand bags are smaller, flowers are perceptibly present, while the beads seem to run to jade and amber. Ear jewelry is nearly taboo.

Men's clothes are quieter than of former years. In the eastern schools the trend is to greys—gray suits, gray sweaters, grey socks, black shoes, gray hat of the snap brim variety. Through the west and middle-west, the browns continue in favor. Fabrics are rougher; tweeds, homespun, cheviots, and serges.

The trend of college styles this fall is to the conservative especially in the east. Women are wearing coats with capes, travel coats with fur at the collar and cuffs.
