RELAY TEAM WINS TRACK MEET FOR TAN CINDER MEN

Baritone Artist To Give Concert In College Chapel Next Week

WILL BE ASSISTED BY PROMINENT ALUMNA

WILL COME JUNE 2

Dan Harris and Agnes Wright To Present Concert Under Auspices Music Club.

The halls of Otterbein will once more ring with the baritone voice of Dan Harris, '23, when he appears here Thursday, June 2 after another successful year on the opera stages of New York City. He will be assisted by Miss Agnes Wright, '19, prominent Columbus pianist and accompanist.

Mr. Harris sang one year in the Shubert production, "Princess Flavia" at the Century and Shubert Theatres; then he sang in Hammerstein operetta, "The Wild Rose" and assisted in its musical production. He was, furthermore, on the cast of "An Arabian Nightmare" at the Cort Theatre. Recently he has been associated with Wm. J. Wilson, English producer, in arranging the score for the American production of "The First Kiss."

Miss Wright is a pianist who has had unusual training. She has traveled with Midland Chautauqua; attended Chicago Musical College; studied piano with Rudolph Ganz and Richard Hageman; was three years a teacher in Otterbein Conservatory; two years at Institute of Musical Art and studied piano with Arthur Nevosted, English

MAY UNITE IN STUDENT MOVEMENT FOR MISSIONS

Three Thousand Students of the Seven U. B. Schools May Organize Student Project.

Dr. Samuel G. Ziegler, General Secretary of the Foreign Missionary Board, was on the campus Thursday for meetings with the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets in regard to organizing some denominational student movement for better friendship with other peoples.

The plan was to unite the 3000 students of the seven United Brethren schools in one large project. Dr. Ziegler has been visiting the denominational schools and getting the opinions of their student bodies regarding such a proposition.

WILL GIVE CONCERT

HERE THURS., JUNE 2

MR. DANIEL H. HARRIS

Mr. Dan Harris, '23, a prominent baritone, will give a concert in Lambert Hall under the auspices of the Otterbein Music Club on June 2. Mr. Harris has been studying in New York and will sail for Italy to study this fall.

COUNCIL PLANS MEMORIAL DAY CELEBRATION

Roy A. Burkhardt, associate director of the International Council of Religious Education, will be the speaker at the annual Memorial Day exercises to be given Monday, May 30. The student Council has not been able to complete the plans for the day, but the program as made out to date will include an organ prelude by Prof. Grabbill and several numbers by a male quartet.

Tribute to the dead of the World, Spanish American and Civil Wars will be given by students dressed in costumes of the times at the time of the war. Further notice will no doubt be made in chapel later this week.

Graduate In Voice

Mable Eubanks is graduating in music this year along with her arts work and will give her graduating recital in voice Monday evening, June 6.

SIBYL MAY ENTER CONTEST

A letter has been received lately from the Tri State Service asking Otterbein to enter her student year book in a contest which will cover Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. There are two classes according to the size of the school, allowing for fair competition. Editor Robert Knight stated that he will very likely enter the Junior book of this year in the contest competing for one of the loving cups that are offered. It is reported that the scenic section of this year's Sibyl is now off the press.

Business Manager Reigel states that the financial footing of the Annual is considered so that a 100% payment of bills and assessments to the 1927 staff will help them in the contest.

CLARK WORMAN, '07, WILL SPEAK AT Y TONIGHT

Just Returned From India Where He Was Associate National Secretary of Y.

The Y. M. C. A. presents another noted speaker in the person of Mr. Eugene Clark Worman, who graduated from Otterbein in 1907. Mr. Worman has just returned from India where he has been engaged in "Y" work for seventeen years. He now retires from work in India with high rank as a secretary, having been the Associate National Secretary for India, and the Senior American Secretary in that country. He will now be under the direction of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. in the United States.

While in Otterbein Mr. Worman was an outstanding student leader. Along with other activities he was always active in the work of the Y. M. C. A. and was president of the local association during his senior year. It is interesting to recall, too, that since the senior class is giving "As You Like It" this year, that Mr. Worman played the part of "Orlando" twenty years ago when his class gave this play. Mr. Worman married Miss Emma Guitner, sister of Prof. Alma Guitner of Otterbein and with his family he resides for the present at the Guitner home on College Avenue.

The meeting this evening will be in charge of the men of the faculty who will give an informal reception in honor of Mr. Norman following his address.

DEFEAT MUSKIES 68-63 IN LAST MEET AT HOME

TWO RECORDS BROKEN

Erisman Makes All Points Possible In His Events, Breaking Half Mile Record.

Otterbein's track team kept its slate clean for the third straight season by defeating the strong Muskingum outfit 68 to 63 Saturday afternoon in the most thrilling meet of the season.

After Muskingum took the first two places in the two mile run, Otterbein was faced with the task of scoring 14 points in the three remaining events in order to win. The score was then tied at 63 all when Otterbein copped first in the javelin and first and third in the broad jump. With the meet depending on their success, Wales, Hatton, Thompson and Erisman stepped out to win in 3:35.

Two records were broken by Tan runners. Erisman cut 2.2 seconds from the former record when he ran the half mile in 2:01. Green shattered the record in the low hurdles, finishing in 26.6 seconds.

Smith came near topping the mark in the broad jump, when on his last jump he cleared 23 feet, only to fall back. He took first place in the event with 22 feet 2 3/4 inches.

Bradbury of Muskingum and Pinney of Otterbein tied for high point honors in the meet with 12 apiece. Erisman (Continued On Page Two.)

ANNUAL SENIOR PLAY WILL COME TUESDAY JUNE 14

"AS YOU LIKE IT" IS TITLE OF PRODUCTION

TO BE GIVEN OUTDOORS

First Two Acts are Committed and Rehearsals are Being Held. May Give Review.

The Senior Play, "As You Like It," is scheduled for Tuesday June 14. At present rehearsals are under way, the first two acts being committed. The theatre selected for the production is the steps in front of McFadden Science Hall.

Very elaborate lighting equipment has been ordered from Sullivan's at Columbus, and costumes for the principal characters are being made to order by the same firm. Miss McCahon, the official photographer, spent last weekend in photographing the cast. It is hoped that the photographs will be on display soon.

Five hundred seats will be sold prior to the night of the performance. In case of rain, these will be admitted to the chapel, since the actors are trained to present the play either outside or in. It is probable that a review will be given a week previous to the commencement season for the benefit of the underclassmen. However a definite date, will be announced later.

Due to the failure of sufficient Senior men to fill the cast, part of it has been recruited from the Cap and Dagger Club. Wendell Williams will sing the part of Amiens, a minor character. The musical numbers introduced by this character contribute largely to the beauty of the play. The chief women characters are, Rosalind, Kathryn Steinmetz; Celia, Betty White; Phoebe, Gertrude Wilcox; and Audrey, Margaret Tryon. Mrs. Jean Turner Camp will act as assistant director. G. H. McConaughy plays the part of Orlando in love with Rosalind, Kenneth Millet, Oliver in love with Celia, and F. M. Bechtolt the part of Touchstone, the clown.

ENDOWMENT DRIVE

STILL NEEDS $25,000

There yet remains between $25,000 and $28,000 to clear up the amount necessary to claim the entire gift of the General Education Board, the contract for which expires July 1. President Clippinger announced yesterday that if all pledges were paid the Jubilee fund could be easily be completed.

The business of the Endowment drive will close on May 31, for this year. All money paid in after that date will be credited on next year's business. As much money as possible will be collected by Commencement, and this year's Commencement will be called Victory Commencement.

KENYON DIAMOND MEN TRIM OTTERBEIN 4 TO 0

RATHBUN PITCHES WELL

Schott Is Forced Out at Plate in Sixth, Spoiling Tan's Only Chance
To Score.

Pitcher Rathbun and shortstop Maire of Kenyon with some slight assistance from their teammates defeated Otterbein in baseball Friday afternoon 4 to 0. Rathbun displayed a fast breaking curve that accounted for his striking out no less than twelve of the Tan batters. He allowed five hits and gave no free tickets to first base.

In the sixth, Schott got to third base long enough to strike up an intimate acquaintance with Mr. Stanley but was forced at home on the next play, thus ending Otterbein's best chance to put over some runs.

Kenyon scored their first run in the third when Rathbun walked and scored on singles by Muir and Mulvey. They got two more in the sixth after Maire singled and Rowe walked. Walling hit a sacrifice fly and Beucler threw past first on Dempsey's roller, allowing both runs to trickle across. With Kintigh pitching Kenyon got their fourth run in the eighth after Maire forced Shannon at second. He stole second and scored on Rowe's single to center. Riegel's throw to home was perfect but Metzger called Maire safe on the play.

Good fielding was displayed by both teams. For Kenyon Maire robbed Riegel and Slawita of hits while the policeman who was present was not looking. For Otterbein, Euverard and Cline made spectacular catches in the outfield pastures.

FORMER OTTERBEIN MAN HELPS WIN OHIO MEET

Kent Crooks, a local boy and former student of Otterbein, helped Ohio State win the fourth annual quadrangular Track meet with Northwestern, Wisconsin and Chicago, Saturday, May 14.

In the last event of the meet he won a second in the broad jump thus enabling Ohio to win the meet by one point. Previous to his last trial, Ohio needed five points to win the meet. These five were won in Crook's last jump.

GAME NOTES

The weather was ideal for baseball, being warm and clear. The field was a bit soft, especially around third base. About 400 attentive spectators appeared to see the shut out.

Catcher Harold Young hurt his hand in tagging Maire in the eighth at the plate, after Riegel's fine throw home. From the press-box it looked as if Maire was out by three feet or so, but Metzger said safe. One run more makes little in this game. Young's injury was not serious and he continued in the game.

Kenyon's spectacled first-baseman, Dempsey, is captain of their baseball team for next year.

Rathbun struck out five men in a row in the second and third innings. His curves were working most marvelously all through the contest.

Will Meet Muskingum June 4

Probably one of the hardest games on the baseball schedule for this year will be played with Muskingum at New Concord, June 4. The Muskies have most of last year's team back and will undoubtedly furnish stiff opposition. To date, Muskingum has defeated Capital and Kenyon and has lost to Marietta and Ohio U.

OTTERBEIN WILL SEND MEN TO BIG SIX MEET

HELD AT CINCINNATI

Men Sent Are To Be Selected According To Ability Shown
In Past Meets.

Otterbein College will be represented at the Big Six Track Meet which is to be held in Cincinnati Friday and Saturday of this week. Otterbein is fortunate in having several men who are able to meet the entrance requirements and it is hoped that each man who is selected to go to the meet will be successful in placing.

From the showing made against Muskingum, Saturday afternoon, it looked as if our men would be able to stand some real stiff competition and then come out ahead.

At the time the Tan and Cardinal went to press no definite list of men who are going to participate in the Big Six Meet was available from the Athletic Department.

Coach Dittmer stated that the selection of the men to participate Friday and Saturday would depend upon showings made in workouts this week as well as past performances in meets.

EDITORIALS

The whole of human history presents unanswerable proof that only through the open and unhampered clash of contrary opinions can truth be found.—
Glenn Frank.

ARE YOU SERIOUS?

Modern writers paint the exaggerated picture of the 1927 male collegian
as one who starts his day by toasting his bread over a red-hot phonograph record and eats the said toast as he "dunks" it in powder-made coffee; who hides his scrawny body in a fur coat that gives him the appearance of a couple of mattresses out for an airing;
who gets his quota of slumber during dull lectures by harmless professors;
who calls bootleggers by their first names and drinks straight alcohol like water; who pets and pats silk-clad girlies till it is time to start the nightly crap game.

That picture is exaggerated, without a doubt. But it does have some foundation. The average collegian does spend more time in maintaining the College Humor conception of him than he does in study or keeping up with world events.

Topics for conversation and discussion are seldom those of a serious nature. We have yet to hear a group of Ohio college men talk of the situation in China, the revolution in Spain,

the tax problem in Ohio, or the presidential possibilities in 1928.

Will we always center our attention on the trivial things? Are we always going to be collegiate?—Green and White (Ohio U.).

LET'S CHANGE

The Student Council could well afford to consider some other method of election than the one now followed.
By the method now pursued there is too much danger that illogical choices will be made at the annual elections.

For example, not a single one of the new members of the council has been a member of that body before. Serious difficulty will be encountered when the Council endeavors to carry out its duties next year. They will have no precedent to follow. No one will be able to recall the exact functions of the council the previous year.

The new members elected to the council are very capable people in themselves, but they are inexperienced.
Senior members of this year's council who are serving their second term complain that even they experience difficulty in recalling how certain problems were solved last year. We recognize fully the value of doing things in new ways, but an old Council member would save much time and worry.

The cry arises that there is no other democratic way to elect members to the governing body. If democracy results in ill considered elections it is high time democracy takes a back seat.
Why not allow a nominating committee to prepare the ballot? The president of the Student Council, the dean of the college, and a member of the student body selected by these two men should be allowed to nominate the new members, and these nominations should be posted a week before election time.

This plan may not be exactly democratic, but it would result in the election of at least one experienced Council member.

TOO BUSY TO READ

A guest of the University recently,
in recounting his college experiences,
was responsible for the following illuminating statement:

"While at school I was so busy I had no time to read books."

In the years to come the students of today will come to recognize those words as one of the saddest criticisms of their college days. Between faculty and students it is, of course, a moot question who is to blame. But regardless of rightly placing the blame, the truth of the statement is profoundly evident.

Doubtless the curriculum is intended to require of every student the maximum of his time. Were it not so, education might become even more extinct than it is. Such time as is not demanded by studies most students give liberally to "activities". It is sufficient to note that these activities do not include the reading of books—reading for sheer delight, the pursuit of that wealth of life to be found in a careful selection of books.

It is perhaps of little or no use to urge students to seek new friendships in literature, to renew old ones. They will admit that they'd like to—and then continue about their busy way. Only when it is too late do they regret.

So, having admitted the hopelessness of inspiring students to a freedom among books that will permit them to avoid the regret voiced by the quest quoted, it remains only to look at the matter philosophically and say with Aristotle, "Do Nothing in Excess;" not even the reading of books.
It might broaden your mind and make you educated.—University Daily Kansan.

hair would do if he got scared.

FRANCES HARRIS GIVES GRADUATING RECITAL

Has Received A. B. in Music and Receives Diploma In Organ
This Year.

On Sunday afternoon in the College Chapel, Frances Harris presented her graduating organ recital. The program was given at four o'clock and was over an hour in length.

Opening with Bach's great Fugue in G minor the program continued with a variety of Sonatas and charming description pieces. Boxes of ferns and baskets of roses decorated the chapel stage and the organ. Miss Harris looked lovely in peach georgette.

A large group enjoyed the recital.
Leware Andantino in D Flat from which "Moonlight and Roses" was derived was an especially well received number. Miss Harris presented her piano recital last year and received her
A. B. in music and this year receives her diploma in organ.

The Cardinal's Whistle

By Al. K. Hawl

When better cars are built;
Some one ought to let Henry know about them.

Some will graduate in June, but they are not yet sure which June it will be.

Joshua has nothing on Prof. McCloy.
Prof put the whole solar system on the board.

She was only a chemistry prof's daughter but she always had a good retort.

There was a little girl,
Who had a little curl
Right down the middle of her Ford
When she was good she was very,
very good
But when she drove she was terrible.

Y SENDS DELEGATES TO ANNUAL GENEVA CAMP

Ten Students and Two Faculty Members To Go. May Drive
Through In Cars.

Otterbein will, as usual, send a large representation of men to the annual Lake Geneva, Wisconsin Camp, for training of leaders and quest of truth. Ten men have definitely decided to go, while several others have not yet made final arrangements. The camp opens on June 10, and continues through June 20. The added feature this year will be a tour of Chicago, with guides to point out the places of most interest.

Transportation will be partly taken care of by Prof. E. M. Hursh. The men going are Quentin Kintigh, A. O. Barnes, Howard Minnich, Lloyd Schear, Louie Norris, Ernest Riegle, Lawrence Marsh, Kwong Lai, David Allaman, and Robert Erisman. The local Y. M. C. A. has agreed to pay the registration fees of $7.50 for cabinet members, while delegates furnish the rest of the funds.

It is hoped that another car will be secured in the near future to carry other men to Geneva.

Professors H. W. Troop and E. M. Hursh are to serve on the faculty of the conference assisting Owen E. Pence with the Vocational Council work. Registrations must be in by June 1.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS OF REAL SPORT

When men graduate from Otterbein it is hard to tell where they will land. Otterbein is now represented in the big leagues. The following is clipped from a Cincinnati paper.

Bobby Quinn, president of the Boston Red Sox, and Ernest S. Barnard president of the Cleveland Indians, sat in the press box at Dunn Field Saturday, May 21. The following conversation took place between them:

"Ernie was responsible for sending me to Otterbein college, back in 1898," Bobby Quinn said. "He was athletic director of the Westerville school, of which he was a graduate, besides being sports editor of the Columbus Dispatch.

"I was considered a pretty good amateur catcher, so he registered me in the commercial college of the school and I caught every game for the team, though I never attended classes. Of course, that was legal in those days.

"The fact that I was registered at the school put me in a funny position one day when I first became head of the Boston club.

"There is an Otterbein club at Boston. Two members of it came to my office to welcome me as an alumnus of the school. They asked me to join the organization and become one of their leaders. 'We are proud of having you in Boston,' they told me, 'and we want you to be one of us.' I didn't have the heart to tell them that I never attended a class at the school, so I politely accepted their kind offer, though I never took advantage of it."

NO TAN AND CARDINAL FOR NEXT WEEK

Due to the fact that Decoration Day comes next Monday and that the local print shop and the Tan and Cardinal refuse to work on a legal holiday, there will be no issue of the T and C next week. The last issue of the year will come out on June 7.

C. E. Discusses "Guidance"

Helen May and Rachael Brant had charge of the installation session in C. E. section A. The topic "Guidance" was selected as a help to the new officers who began their duties for the first time and took the oath of office.

O C

Sunday, as per our usual custom, we went with our girl to church. The minister during the course of the sermon made a most eloquent appeal for helping out the poor heathens of Africa.

After the sermon the plate was passed. When we had successfully passed this order our girl leaned over and in a loud stage whisper asks:

"Didn't the minister say the collection was for the poor African savages who don't even have clothes?"

Terribly embarrassed at this rather indelicate question we managed between our blushes to gargle a "Yes."

Even this did not exactly satisfy our girl for she learned over a minute later and asks again in that same confidential whisper:

"Well, if they haven't any clothes, what was your idea in dropping a pants button in the plate?"—Michigan Daily.

MOUNTED RATS ON DISPLAY THIS WEEK

The display of rats shown in the case in the lower hall this week was arranged by Prof. Wilson to illustrate the Mendelian law. The corn stalk on exhibit showed how the sex of the tassel had been changed to produce grains of corn.

Special recognition is due L. E. Hicks who has mounted specimens of three birds, the barn owl, the kingfisher and the night heron, and presented them to the science department. Mr. Hicks has obtained a government permit to collect both birds and birds' eggs.

In order to preserve both eggs and birds before mounting, Prof. Hana-walt has secured an air-tight and insect-proof case. Formerly insects destroyed specimens which were not mounted immediately.

ANNUAL FRENCH PLAYS GIVEN LAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT DRAW FULL HOUSE

The chapel was filled with a large and enthusiastic audience last Wednesday night when the class in French composition and conversation presented three plays under the direction of Mrs. Eathel Young Rosselot. The plays, which were given entirely in French, were a one-act comedy, "La Plaisanterie"; "Le Petit Chaperon Rouge" (Little Red Riding Hood); and the famous drama, "Le Barbier de Seville", by Beaumarchais. Mary Mills, wearing an attractive French costume of the 18th century, sang four French songs during the intermissions.

The students who acted in the three plays showed familiarity with the French language and were able to convey the meaning of their action to those of the audience who did not know French. Before each act Prof. A. P. Rosselot gave a brief explanation of what was to follow.

"The Barber of Seville", recognized as one of the most important pieces of world literature, was the most outstanding of the plays. Robert Knight as Figaro, the poet-barber, was a picturesque figure. Elizabeth Lee was cast as Rosine, the charming heroine, with Fred White in the role of Count Almaviva a Spanish nobleman who finally overcame all difficulties and married Rosine. The part of Bartholo, Rosine's villainous guardian, was well played by Clive Hoover. Gerald Rosselot appeared as Don Bazile the music teacher, and Theodore Riegel as a Justice of the Peace.

"La Plaisanterie" proved to be an exceedingly entertaining comedy. Nitetis Huntley played the part of a young lady dentist. Vivian Hayes was her servant, and Alice Foy took the part of a patient who had a rather terrible adventure but came out all right in the end.

The play based on the French version of the story of Little Red Riding Hood was very childish but interesting. The title role was played by Grace Shufelt, with Osborn Holdren as the Wolf, Mary Bunce as the mother, Marian Dew as a neighbor, and Alice Blume as the grandmother. Gladys Dickey was cast as Louise, a playmate of Little Red Riding Hood, and the other children's parts were taken by Nellie Wallace, Helen Magill, Alice Foy, Clara Baker, Nitetis Huntley, and Vivian Hayes.

Y. W. ADOPTS CONSTITUTION AT LEGACY SESSION

Y. W. C. A.'s Senior Legacy Session, Tuesday night, was a meeting of importance and interest. Mildred Marshall gave a report of the retreat, held last week-end at Prof. Hursh's farm, in which plans for the new year were given. An important item of the evening was the adoption of the constitution, read by Frances Hinds, which by order of the group had been revised.

Following this the legacy of the evening was given by Elizabeth Trost, who willed to Y. W. what Mae Mickey had to say on "ideas", what Marguerite Blott had to say on "happiness", what Lucile Leiter had to say on "broad-mindedness", what Freda Kirts had to say on "decisions", and what Dorothy Ertzinger had to say on "friendship".

TRADITION OF GUILDED SCROLL IS UPHELD

playing dominoes, Student Council members skipping rope and members of Cochran Hall Board playing "Drop the Handkerchief" have reached the Campus. Again we face the situation of the New Degeneration.

As the Magna Charta in 1208, A. D. freed the people of England so did the Gilded Scroll of the Class of Nineteen and Twenty-Six, A. D., free the Seniors of Otterbein.

One year ago our local dignitaries were lured by the call of "The brooks and the meadows"—a quiet and peaceful call, we admit, but—in the year of '27, by the Sign of Cyrus, our playmates were led (and not by the Pied Piper) to the strains of "Syncopatin' Sue" to . . . . . we pause to reflect . . . and then disclose nothing as we have tradition to look forward to and live up to ourselves.

So—hats off to the Seniors!! All power and honor to those who dare and do!! Off with the Cap and Gown!! On with the dance!!!

JUNIOR GIRLS AT HEAD OF INTRAMURAL LEAGUE

The Sophomore girls baseball team learned to its sorrow Tuesday afternoon that Peden could surely "sling a wicked ball," when the Juniors defeated them with a 24-5 score. Baker, Shriner, and Howe pitched to the victors.

The Juniors are at the head of the list in the tournament, having won the three games played.

NO RUSHING OF FROSH FIRST WEEK NEXT YEAR

WILL AWARD CUP

Waldo Keck, of Cook House, Automatically Becomes President of Social Group Council.

A "Gentlemen's Agreement" entered into by members of the Men's Inter-Social Group Council at a meeting of the Council held a week ago last night in the Annex club rooms implies that no rushing of Freshmen will be done by the various men's social groups on the campus during the Freshmen Period next fall from Friday, September 9, to the official opening chapel on Wednesday, September 14. Such an agreement was formed by the Council in order to prevent undue rushing advantages by groups, and quell any interference with the official program as outlined by college officials for the first-year students during the five-day period.

To Award Scholarship Cup.

A silver loving cup will be offered to the men's social group having the highest scholastic average at the end of each semester next year; sponsors of the men's social groups in conjunction with Prof. L. A. Weinland, head sponsor for the men, are backing the proposition.

Professor Hursh's class in Social Psychology has just completed a survey, covering the period during the last five years, in an effort to compare the number of group and non-group students.

The above figures indicate that the social group system is gradually absorbing the student body. In the year 1922-23 only 52% of the student body belonged to groups whereas, in 1926-27, 74% were members of groups. By statistics not shown here a total of 341 students dropped out of school between 1922 and 1927. Of this number an average of 58% for the five years were not members of groups.

It is significant that there is a larger percentage of this year's Freshman Class in groups than the average for the four classes in the year 1922-23. According to figures compiled by the class, in 1922-23, 70% of the Senior Class were in groups and 28% of the Freshmen were in groups. In 1926-27, 80% of the Senior Class belonged to groups and 55% of the Freshmen Class belonged to groups.

All the implications of this survey have not yet been ascertained. Further figures and a more detailed explanation will appear in the next issue of the Tan and Cardinal.
