Thomas Que Harrison, a veteran of the World War and now a leader in the quest for peace, will be on the campus today. He will hold discussions during the day and will address the joint meeting of the two Y Associations tonight at 6:30.

Mr. Harrison is traveling about the country addressing student groups in colleges and universities, under the auspices of The American Friends' Service Committee. Harrison enlisted and served in the World War as a volunteer in the tank corps. Returning from France he took his A. B. degree at Nebraska Wesleyan University and then entered the Theological School of the University of Boston. Realizing the spiritual challenges presented by the modern war, he inter-

Y CABINET HOLDS OVERNIGHT RETREAT

By way of a little variety the Y. M. C. A. cabinet held an overnight retreat at Professor Hursh's cottage, located on a little farm east of Central College, beginning Saturday night, April 23, and extending until Sunday noon. The primary purpose for holding this meeting was to afford each officer an opportunity to get better acquainted with his fellow officers and to get an idea of how each man's job was related to the other's.

After a rather hilarious dinner Saturday evening, an informal discussion was the order. The program Sunday morning included a service of both private and group devotions, followed by a group forum, at which time the entire personnel of the various committees, which are to handle the reins of the Y next year, was worked out. The consensus of opinion was that the party "went over big".

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA TO GIVE CONCERT APR. 27

FIRST OF SERIES

Program to Consist of A Variety of Familiar and Classical Numbers. Good Balance.

The college orchestra, under the direction of Professor Spessard, presents its home concert tomorrow evening, April 27, at 8:15 in the college chapel. The concert promises to be an excellent and unusual one, due in part to the fact that the types of instruments used in the orchestra are numerically well balanced. The director predicts that his performance will surpass all concerts the organization has ever given.

This, the initial concert of the season for this year's personnel, is only one of several which the orchestra will present. The activities of the college orchestra are generally confined to the period directly following the glee club season and as the personnel indicates below, several of the members of the orchestra are also members of the glee club.

The program will consist of a variety of both familiar and classical numbers. There will be some vocal music interwoven into the regular instrumental program. Some of the ensemble numbers are taken from operas while a few are taken from popular songs.

The personnel of the orchestra is as

Other speakers were Samuel Burkhard, of Bluffton College; J. Stewart Ake, of Ohio Northern and Charles Lemen, of Wittenberg. The judges of the contest were faculty representatives of the respective colleges.

Miss Frances Harris gave a short organ recital during the time the judges were making their decisions.

Piano, Mildred Wilson; Director, Prof. A. R. Spessard.

PROPST TAKES SECOND IN ORATORICAL PRELIM

"Education For Peace" Name of Oration. Will Go To State Finals At Wesleyan.

The preliminary Women's Oratorical Contest—the sequel to which was held at Case School in Cleveland—took place in Philophronean Hall last Friday afternoon.

Miss Louise Richison of Wittenberg College was the winner with her oration "Colleges of Crime." Miss Alice Propst of Otterbein captured second place by rendering "Education For Peace." Miss Mildred Crawford of Ohio Wesleyan took third, giving "The Unlighted Lantern" as her production. Miss Orpha Troyer also spoke, representing Bluffton College with "The War Debt Settlement." Representatives from Capital and Denison Universities did not appear. The winners of the first three places will compete at the state finals to be held at Ohio Wesleyan on Friday, May 13.

The judging was carried out by means of the very democratic point system. Each school is represented by a faculty member, who judges all contestants except the one from his own school, basing the score on a point chart. Prof. Lester Raines acted in this capacity for Otterbein.

WOMEN DEBATERS FEATURE IN WIN AND DRAW

PHILALETHEAN HALL USED

Question: "Resolved That Uniform Marriage and Divorce Laws Should Be Adopted."

Last Tuesday afternoon Denison University clashed with Otterbein in a verbal fray, each being represented by women debaters. The affirmative team of Otterbein, Jeanne Bromley, Margaret Kumler and Esther Williamson, traveled to Denison. The judge of the contest, Prof. Layton of Muskingum, failed to arrive, so the contest was carried through as a non-decision affair.

On the home platform the invading affirmative team from Denison, composed of Misses Winberg, Shaffer and Shaner, lost the laurels of victory to the home team made up of Helen Gibson, Mable Plowman, and Margaret Duerr, who defended the negative side of the question. The question was stated: "Resolved that Uniform Marriage and Divorce Laws Should Be Adopted By Congress." The judge of this home contest was Miss Christine McBride of the local high school.

This debate was held in Philalethean Hall under the auspices of Cleiorhetean Literary Society. Miss Marguerite Blott presided. It is significant to note that this is the first decision contest of the women's debate season.

OTTERBEIN RELAY TEAMS PLACE IN ANNUAL BUCKEYE CLASSICS

GET SECOND AND THIRD IN OHIO STATE RELAYS

PINNEY THIRD IN HIGH JUMP

Local Placers In One and Two-Mile Relays Receive Bronze and Silver Medals.

Otterbein's track squad, running true to form, returned from the Ohio Relays which were held in the Stadium at Ohio State University last Saturday with trophies gained through its competition in the annual Buckeye track classic. The squad deserves credit because of the keeper competition this year when 12 college records fell in the chilling April breezes.

Captain Pinney achieved distinction by placing third in the high jump against Big Ten competition, Chicago and Drake being the only other representatives in the meet that placed higher than Pinney.

Second In Mile Relay

The mile relay team, composed of Wales, Hatton, Thompson, and Erisman gained second place in their race, pressing the leaders hard all the way. A new meet record was established in this race. Otterbein's team also unofficially broke the record made by the last year's team in the mile relay.

The two-mile relay team composed of Keck, Molter, Pilkington, and Erisman placed third in the two-mile relay, against such competition as Wesleyan, Case and Cincinnati.

Other Representatives

Others representing Otterbein in the relays were Smith and Thompson in the 100-yard dash; Wales and Van Auken in the pole vault; E. Reigle and Kintigh in the javelin throw; E. Reigle in the shot put; Green and McGill in the hurdles; Smith and McGill in the broad jump; and the 880-yard relay team composed of Green, Wales, Thompson, and Hatton.

Captain Pinney and the members of the two relay teams that placed received silver and bronze medals in recognition of their achievements.

INITIAL ENCOUNTER OF RACQUET MEN IS LOST

Kenyon proved to be too much for Otterbein in the first tennis meet of the season last Friday afternoon and the local team went down in defeat without winning a match.

Roby was the only man on the Otterbein team to win a set. He won his first set 6-3 and then lost the other two. Lai, McConaughy, and Sanders were the other local net men. Lai paired with Roby in the doubles and Sanders with McConaughy. Due to the Ohio Relay meet on Saturday, Captain Pilkington did not participate in the first court games.

Varsity Base Ball and Track Men Not To Be Permitted Par- ticipation in League.

According to announcement of R. F. Martin, the Men's Recreation Ball League is expected to get under way by the first week in May.

Several teams have already entered the league and the competition and interest is expected to be as keen as ever. Because of interfering sports and the weather no schedule has been made as yet, but will be made out this week.

The rules will be the same as last year. No member of the varsity track and baseball squads will be allowed to participate in these games unless they have the consent of the coach. It is expected that this ruling will make it possible for more of the college men to get out and enjoy the advantages of this form of spring sport.

Teams entered are Lakota, Outlaws, Philota, Jonda, Sphinx, Annex, Cook House and Country Club.

The first five places will be counted in all events. Ribbons will be awarded to all contestants placing in any event. There is no limit to the number of events each man may enter.

BEUCLER TWIRLS WELL

Bliss Team Blows Up In Eighth Inning. Rain Stops Game as Cardinal Men Rally.

Otterbein opened the baseball season Thursday by defeating Bliss Business College by the overwhelming score of 17 to 2. The feature of the game was the excellent moundwork of pitcher Beucler for Otterbein. He struck out 14 men in the eight innings played before the game was called. Beucler stingily allowed but one hit and gave but one pass.

The game was played despite the very cold wind that swept the field. Rain threatened throughout and at last stopped the game in the eighth inning. Nearly 200 fans braved the dangers of pneumonia to see the contest.

Bliss scored a run in the first inning. With one out, Koch drew a pass and promptly stole second. He scored immediately on Bihl's line single to right. Beucler saw that that was not the proper manner to open the season so he put a stop to the Bliss scoring activities until the sixth when he threw over Dick James' head at first after picking up Andrews' grounder. Andrews took second on the play. He stole third boldly and scored on James' error on Malone. He ended the inning by fanning Tryon. After that Bliss never again reached first safely.

Beucler once fanned six men straight beginning with Tryon who made last out in the first inning. In the second he whiffed Nagle, Noble and Grose with ease. In the third he continued the same tactics on Dorsey and Andrews. Beucler's fast-breaking curves remained a complete mystery to the Bliss batters all afternoon.

Otterbein's scoring began in the first when Young stole third while Schott was passed. Cline grounded to second and Young was out at home on the play. Schott and Cline each stole second and third. Schott came in on a wild pitch. Cline on a passed ball.

In the second Brock was safe on Nagle's error. He stole second and scored on Slawita's double. In the third Beucler was passed and he stole second and third. Mraz scored him with a single to right.

Cline scored in the fifth after he worked Dorsey for a base on balls. He stole second and third and came in when Andrews made a three-base error on Mraz's hot grounder.

EDITORIALS

WILL IT RIDE WELL?

This, the initial edition of the Tan and Cardinal under the direction of the new staff, will no doubt be examined with critical eyes. The new staff has been given steed, saddle, boots and spurs, the question is, How well can it ride?

The degree to which this paper attains the ideals of college journalism, depends, more upon the student body than the staff itself, though both are jointly responsible. The staff performs the mechanics necessary to publish the paper each week but in the last analysis the responsibility lies with the student body. The paper is a student project. If the students concerned in an event of interest cooperate by reporting the facts accurately and promptly when a reporter is sent to make inquiry, interest and reliability will both be built up in the publication. If the student body holds back its support and confidence, the paper will reflect that feeling. College newspapers are not published by the staff but by the student body through the staff.

We, the new staff, are proud of the positions we hold among our fellow students. We are proud of the confidence the student body has imposed in us by electing us, through the Publication Board, to the staff of the college publication for the ensuing year. We shall do all in our power to live up to that trust. We shall exhaust every means at our command to publish clean news and state facts accurately. Your cooperation is necessary to do any one or all of these.

In our opinion the preceding administration has been an outstanding success. Several improvements, both in the mechanics of make-up and in the style of writing have taken place during its regime. A variety of cuts, new columns and stimulating feature stories have added to the interest in the paper during the past year. A definite system of headlines has, perhaps, been the outstanding contribution of the retiring editor. We have received careful training and valuable advice under his tutelage. We shall, in the main, continue the policies he has followed.

In regard to the reflection of student opinion, we shall endeavor to state principles and policies in a fair and unprejudiced way. We shall strive for the truth irregardless of the consequences. If an editorial arouses ill feeling come to the editor first. Do not hash it over in the social or boarding club. Perhaps you do not know all the facts. If we have been wrong we will be glad to recede from our position. We will not tolerate prejudiced gossip but we will face facts.

You must criticize. Not narrow, blind criticism but constructive suggestions are what we want. It's your paper why not try to improve it? If our editorials do not suit you, if you have an idea you want to express, send a let-

CLASS IN PSYCHOLOGY CONDUCTING SURVEY

Prof. Hursh's class in Social Psychology is conducting a survey covering a period of the last five years, in an effort to ascertain what percentage of those members of the Freshman class who are not pledged to Social Groups either drop out of school or are taken into a group before they graduate.

It is a recognized fact that a large percentage of the Freshman class are not asked to join a group during their first year, also it is a general rule that there are few in the class when it graduates that are not members of a group. The class in Social Psychology has essayed to find out why this is so and incidentally to test the group system as it now exists.

WORD "LITERARY" DROPPED

A recent edition of the Mac Weekly, Macalester College, Minnesota, carries the following statement:

"The literary societies of Carleton College (Minnesota) have dropped the word 'literary' from the names of their organizations. The only conclusion we can gather from this is that the nature of their societies has degenerated in a manner somewhat similar to our own."

The progress from literary societies is due, the Weekly guesses, to the lack of any other medium for social life.

DRAMATICS DEPARTMENT WILL STAGE FOUR PLAYS SATURDAY

STUDENTS HELP DIRECT ORIGINAL PLAY CASTS

On Saturday, April 30, Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity, Cap and Dagger, and the play production class will unite in presenting four one-act plays, all of which will be premier productions. The first play will be "The Road To Agincourt," a French tragedy, in which Romaine, an English knight (Francis Bechtolt) falls in love with Alcía, a beautiful hostage, (Ruth Asire). The dark and medieval villains, Anatole, (Boyd Rennison) and Count Dubois, (Richard Sanders) prevent the consummation of the love affair between the hero and heroine. To keep the play from being too gloomy a comedy element is introduced by bringing in two clever servants, Dorcas, (Betty White) and Francis, (James Gordon). This play is being directed by Alice Propst.

The second number on the bill will be a weird Japanese tragedy, "Samurai," written and directed by Lillian Shively. This play is full of lighting effects and atmosphere. The older brother, Akana, is played by Edward Hammon; his mother is played by Lillian Shively, and the younger brother is Robert Bromeley. The musicians are Margaret Baker and Morris Ervin.

The next play will be "Undercurrents," with the scene laid in India. Narain Singh, a conspirator and enemy of the English, is played by Duane Harrold. Radha, his daughter, (Isabelle Ruehrmund) is in love with Lieutenant Chetwynd of the British army (Richard Jones). Gopal, (William Diehl), the servant of Narain Singh, attempts to discover the route the British army will take, but is foiled by Radha and the Lieutenant. This play is under the direction of Margaret Kumler.

The last play of the evening will be "Clare Again", written by Verda Evans and Ernestine Nichols. Clare the spoiled daughter of C. Monroe Hart (Fred White), is portrayed by Helen Clemens. Gladys, a gum-chewing stenographer and co-ed (Jeanne Bromeley), is the sorority sister of Shirley Lee, the heroine, (Ernestine Nichols). Geiger, the Jew, (Wendell Rhodes), Scranton, a man about town, (Oliver Spangler) and Shetler, (Lawrence Hicks), are all half in love with Shirley. Jimmie, the office boy, furnishes the laughs, and the part, of course, is taken by Henry Gallagher. The whole play is being directed by Verda Evans.

The performance will be given only one night and all seats will be reserved. Seats go on sale today. The performance will start promptly at 8:00 Saturday evening, April 30, and the price of admission will be fifty cents.

"Mr. Harrison's address was one of the best which have been delivered before our forum. He was a 'home-run hitter' at answering questions."

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION HELD FOR SHAKESPEARE

J. V. DENNEY IS SPEAKER

Cap and Dagger, Quiz and Quill, Chaucer Clubs Hold Unique Commemoration.

The birthday of William Shakespeare was very appropriately celebrated by the Cap and Dagger, Quiz and Quill, and Chaucer Clubs last Saturday night in Philophronean Hall with Prof. J. V. Denney of Ohio State University acting as the speaker of the evening. His subject was "A Shakespeare Festival at Stratford-on-Avon".

Scenes from the second and fifth acts of Macbeth were very ably acted by Helen Clemens. Edna Hayes, accompanied by Isabelle Ruehrmund, sang two groups of songs from Shakespeare. Her selections were "Who is Sylvia?", "If Music be the Food of Love, Play On", "Under the Greenwood Tree", and "Hark, Hark, the Lark!"

The statue of Shakespeare was decorated with a wreath, and a motto of welcome quoted from The Merchant of Venice was hung on the wall. Members of Theta Alpha Phi, wearing Shakespearean costumes, acted on the Reception Committee. Those who stood in the receiving line were Fred White, Alice Propst dressed as Juliet, Helen Clemens as Lady Macbeth, Francis Bechtolt as Romeo, Betty White as Ophelia, and Jean Camp as Gertrude, Queen of Denmark.

Charlotte Owen, president of the Quiz and Quill Club, presided at the meeting. The Chaucer Club was in charge of the refreshments.
