JUNIOR CIRCUS DRAWS LARGE STUDENT CROWD

ZUZU AND SUZIE FEATURE

Proceeds of Junior Carnival To Help
Defray 1927 Sibyl
Expenses.

Zuzu, a wild man recently captured in the jungles of Africa; Suzie, the dancing giraffe; and the fat lady who "weighs 475 pounds, is only sixteen years old and has plenty of time to grow" were headline attractions at the Junior Circus, the annual carnival event put on by the Junior Class to make money for the Sibyl, last Saturday night in the Association Building. None of the essentials of a real circus was lacking, from the clowns to the monocled barker with his line of—"Ladies and Gentlemen, right this way! The big show is now going on! Take your sweetheart, somebody else's sweetheart, your wife, somebody else's wife, to see the big show."

The upper floor of the building was given over to the animal show and fish pond. The gorilla, elephant, educated bear, and a number of birds of gigantic size and rare species were kept tightly caged. At intervals Suzie, the famous giraffe, was taken out of her cage by the trainer and allowed to dance for the frightened spectators.

Zuzu, the desperate wild man, terrified the audience.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE REACHES CONCLUSION

College Will Purchase More Books
Instead of Hiring An Extra Librarian.

The Library Committee, composed of Miss Tirza Barnes, Miss Anna Dell Lafever, Dr. Charles Snively and Professor J. S. Engle are considering changes in the present conditions at the Library. The committee agreed to take before the administration the alternatives of an extra hour per day or the purchase of more books.

Since it would require the services of an additional full-time librarian if the extra hour were added, the administration agreed to the purchase of more books.

SCHEDULE FOR GROUP CONFERENCES POSTED

Group Conferences with Dr. Davis will be held according to the following schedule:

Tuesday—Sphinx.

Wednesday—Cook House.

Thursday—Cochran Hall.

Friday—Annex.

Each meeting will begin promptly at 8:00 p. m. Every man on the campus is invited to attend each conference except Thursday, when all the women of the college will meet. None of the meetings during the week are compulsory. See bulletin board to schedule personal interviews.

The election session of the Y organizations completed, the members of both groups assembled in the Association parlors for a St. Patrick's Party. After the grand march, Fred Miller lead the assembly in singing several songs, Irish either in sentiment or melody.

The chairman of the program then divided the group into four parts representing the classes, and called upon each group for a stunt. The stunts were very varied and very original. The prize went to the Freshmen for they succeeded so well in looking "green."

At the end of the program, the social committee served refreshments.

FACULTY COMMITTEE OUTLINES PLANS FOR FRESHMAN PERIOD

ALL FRESHMEN REQUIRED TO COME 5 DAYS EARLY

TO HAVE HEAVY PROGRAM

Lectures, Examinations, Registration and Tours To Feature New Institution.

When Freshmen who come to Otterbein next September have completed the program recently outlined by a special Faculty Committee for the "Freshman Period", they will be ready to take a deep breath and declare a vacation.

The extensive program which will enable Freshmen to begin their work in Otterbein under favorable conditions has been completely drawn up by the committee in charge of Prof. E. M. Hursh. This program is intended to introduce the entering student to the life of the college, its program of personnel and activities, in such a way that from the outset he will have the fullest opportunity to make satisfactory progress.

The Freshman Period will be considered a part of a more extensive course in orientation running through the first semester; this course is required of all Freshmen. Because so much importance is attached to students getting the right start, the committee states that all entering Freshmen will be required to follow the program outlined for the Freshman period.

Come September 9

On Friday, September 9, at 3 o'clock, the first assembly for the neophytes will be held in the chapel. President W. G. Clippinger will deliver the welcome address. The announcement of the program will also be made at this time.

A complimentary dinner will be given the Freshmen by the College on Friday evening at 5:30. The place will be announced later. An informal reception by the Faculty will occur at 8 o'clock.

Faculty to Lecture.

The second assembly service will be held Saturday morning, September 10 from 8 to 10 o'clock. Dean N. E. Cornet will conduct the worship service and Registrar F. J. Vance will deliver an address entitled "In and Out."

From 10 a. m. to 12 m. and from 1:30 p. m. until 3:30 p. m., the groups into which the Frosh will have been divided will register and take English and physical examinations. Athletic games are scheduled for the remainder of the afternoon. Dinner will be served by the United Brethren Church in the church parlors at 6:30 p. m. After the dinner the newcomers will sing college and serenade songs.

To all Freshmen will be extended a cordial invitation to attend all of the religious services in the United Brethren Church on Sunday, September 11. An organ and vocal recital will be presented Sunday afternoon. Freshmen will be entertained to dinner in the homes of the Faculty Sunday at 12:30 p. m.

"The Use of the Library" by Miss Tirza Barnes, head librarian, "How To Study" by President W. G. Clippinger and "Budgeting of Time and Money" by H. W. Troop, are addresses which are also scheduled for the group meetings.

REPRESENTATIVE STUDENT ELECTION HELD BY SIBYL

Results will Remain Secret Until 1927 Yearbook Is Issued
On June 1.

Only three members of the 1927 Sibyl staff and Prof. A. P. Rosselot, permanent yearbook adviser, know the results of the representative men and women election conducted in chapel last Tuesday morning by J. Robert Knight, editor of the 1927 annual. Prof. Rosselot counted the ballots after the election.

Members of the senior class were candidates in the election which was open to the entire school. Mr. Knight stated that five points should have been considered by students in the voting: service, scholarship, participation in extra-curricular activities, character and leadership.

The results of the election will be kept secret until the 1927 Sibyl is issued. Full page engravings of the representative men and woman will appear in a special section of the yearbook.

Work on the annual is now proceeding rapidly; indications are that the book will be off the press by June 1.

BASKET BALL "O"'S AWARDED TUESDAY

At a special meeting of the Athletic Board Tuesday noon, basketball letters were awarded to the following men: Captain Barnes, Captain-elect Buell, Snively, Seaman, Van Curen, Riegle; James was awarded a manager's letter and Marsh was awarded a cheer leader's letter.

At the same meeting J. N. Boyer was elected Senior Tennis manager and G. M. Moore Junior manager.

scorer on the home squad. His grand total for the year was 123 points, an average of approximately eleven points for each game. Buell is left-handed and on this account has caused no little trouble in the Ohio Conference during the two years he has played. His work has been so outstanding that some of the newspapers in central Ohio have placed him on their mythical all-conference teams.

After the election, Captain-elect Buell gave a little talk on the prospects for next season. Retiring Captain Barnes gave a sketch of the past season; Snively, Van Curen, and Widows, the Seniors on the squad, made brief remarks. "Deke" Edler, who acted in the capacity of toastmaster, discussed the past season.

After the four-course dinner, an informal discussion of athletics in general followed.

TRACK TRY-OUTS ARE SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

Half-Mile, 100-Yard Dash and 220-Yard Dash Try-Outs Held Last Week.

Coach Ditmer was favorably impressed with the improvement that the track squad has shown recently. Try-outs were held last Friday in the half-mile, the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Try-outs in the high hurdles, the quarter and the mile were planned for Saturday but they had to be postponed on account of cold weather.

Hatton and Holdren finished first and second respectively in the half mile with Keck and Pilkington finishing neck and neck for third place. The time was 2 minutes and 19 seconds. Earlier in the afternoon "Bob" Erisman, varsity half-miler ran the half-mile in 2:14 in a time trial.

In the 100-yard dash try outs Ray Pilkington finished first, followed closely by Thompson, Smith, and Mumma in the order named. The time of the 100-yard dash trial was 10.8 seconds.

In the 220-yard dash try outs Captain Pinney nosed out Thompson in 24.7 seconds. Green, Molter, Mumma and McGill finished in the order named. Lack of lanes and an overcrowded track prevented faster time.

Unless the weather continues cold this week try-outs will be held in the high hurdles, the quarter-mile and the mile as well as the two-mile and the broad jump. The weights and the high jump and the pole vault will probably be held over until a later date.

O C FROSH AND SOPHS ARE VOLLEY BALL VICTORS

The Freshman and Sophomore volley ball teams were victorious over the Seniors and Juniors last Wednesday afternoon. The Frosh took all three games, winning 15-6, 15-3, 15-7. After making sure of the set by winning the first two games, the Sophs dropped the third contest. The scores were 15-10, 15-4, 7-15.

Due to the junior circus Saturday night no games were played Saturday afternoon.

PHI BETA KAPPA

There have been suggestions, during recent years, that Phi Beta Kappa should "broaden its base" a little in making its elections, and take into consideration attainments in other than intellectual lines. Perhaps those suggestions grew out of a certain uneasiness lest Phi Beta Kappa should become predominantly a woman's organization, through the growing tendency of the young men in our colleges to underestimate the importance of purely intellectual attainments. If something like high-kicking or polevaulting could be added to high grades in classroom work as a criterion, the proportion of women making Phi Beta Kappa could certainly be brought appreciably lower than it stands at present.

John D. Rockefeller, jr., and others, however, have concluded to try another method, by sponsoring a movement to raise a Phi Beta Kappa fund of $1,000,000, the annual income of which is to be used, in such ways as may be found feasible, to stimulate a revival of interest in high-grade scholarship. There is too little zeal, at present, for the more serious side of college life—too much desertion of the main tent for the side shows. If the Phi Beta Kappa fund can be so used as to impress a larger number of our college boys and girls that these four years are too pre-ious to be treated as a "joy ride," the $1,000,000 will have been well invested.

LESSONS FROM OTHERS

On a city newspaper a college graduate working as a reporter, found himself responsible for the daily obituary column—a task customarily given to an inexperienced "cub". This man seldom was assigned to any story of any importance, and usually spent most of his time in the office, rewriting small items and performing menial duties. Frequently he was called upon to fill in for an office boy and carry copy from the fifth floor to the eight floor of the building. He quit after three months.

On the same paper another college graduate, one who had been an honor student in his class, worked as a reporter. He was soundly versed in foreign languages, and was exceptionally good at mathematics. He was fired after one month.

To us, it seems that each of these examples holds a lesson for Ohio students, especially those who will be graduated this June.

In the first case, had the man carried on, forgetting the imaginary ignominy of his work, he undoubtedly would have succeeded as a newspaperman. He had the qualities of a good writer, had a good sense of news values, and

TIMELY TOPICS

SUSTENANCE NEEDED

Editor Tan and Cardinal,
 Sir:

Sixty-nine years ago the Philophron-ean Literary Society of Otterbein College, having been made an incorporated body, in compliance with the laws of Ohio, took for its aim to provide for mutual improvement in elocution, composition and debate; for enlargement of the fund of general intelligence; for cultivation of friendship and the promotion of wisdom. Today we are confronting the question as to whether this society or any such society can endure.

Undoubtedly, the men who are in college now, having had a taste of what such a society means, will be more concerned as to its future than can be expected of those who will come later. It appears reasonable then to act immediately, not necessarily hurriedly, before control passes into the hands of those who have had no connection with such an organization.

The interest shown in the past two weeks proves that Philophron-ea, at least, is not dead. But all members realize something must be done immediately. Philophron-ea accordingly was quick to grasp suggested improvements in his work.

But when he took the place, he was not prepared for the shock to his dignity that was to follow. He had been a popular fellow in college—had been a leader. And he was not accustomed to carrying out the ideas and orders of others.

The shock that came to him will be experienced by many of us. Armed with diplomas and a sense of superiority, we will expect to proceed in the world as we have stepped up in campus life. We will expect, perhaps, a brief period of instruction to acquaint us with the work, and then we will look for our employers to realize our unusual ability and reward us with important positions.

Then will come the shock. For employers have found that college graduates, like all other persons, must learn their work from the ground up. Usually the advantage the college man or woman has over others is that he learns more quickly. But ordinarily he has to start where all others start, and prove his worth.

In the other example cited, the man attempting newspaper work was out of his field. He was cut out to be a teacher, and later got into that profession and quickly established himself.

But we can learn a lesson from his experience. Most of us know the work for which we are fitted. Perhaps the remuneration in the early stages is not as attractive as in some other line. But in the end it will be far better to get into the work for which we are suited. We will be happier, and will be more successful. —Green and White.

is sending out letters to most of her alumni requesting a contribution of one dollar from each alumnus to help pay off her debt, and the aid of those concerned to help her meet the situation now existing.

The crisis, having been made known, has aroused splendid cooperation on the part of the Alumni and faculty. Let us continue to direct our energies toward a definite, durable, practical solution.

The statement has been made that Otterbein men no longer wish a general cultural society, but would rather confine the extent of their activities to smaller more highly specialized groups.

This seems to be true to such an extent that one can obtain most of the benefits mentioned in my introduction through other now firmly established, groups or organizations. We must then concede that the Literary Societies either are duplicating, or are providing something which no other group does.

Sensing the enormous importance of this latter, some of us are using every effort possible that this most valuable asset pass not from Otterbein's campus. Ways and means cannot be suggested here. But allow me to suggest to Alumni and students, if you have ever gained any good whatsoever from the societies, if they mean anything now to you, if you believe they can provide something no other group can, by all means stay by us and aid us in obtaining a durable workable plan. —N. M. R.

PHILETHEA

Philaethea enjoyed a very interesting session Thursday evening. The following program was given: Vocal solo, "Fallen Leaf," Isabelle Ruehr-mund; Magazine, "Only One of It's Kind," Mary Lehman; Piano Solo, "In a Persian Market Place," Caryl Rupe; Autobiography, Mildred Zinn; Vocal Solo "Until," Mary Gaines; Invective, "On the Library," Mildred Lochner.

Helen May, Ethel Kepler and Lois Armentrout spoke extemporaneously.

Last week during the regular session Philaethea was delightfully entertained by her alumnae. The chair offices were filled by the old members and the entire program, consisting of travel sketches and musical numbers, was given by them. After the program a short social hour was enjoyed during which time light refreshments were served.

Elections for the 1927-28 staff of the Tan and Cardinal will be held on April 13, the day after spring vacation, by the Publication Board. Announcement of this election is being made now so that students may file applications for places on the staff.

G. H. McConaughy is president of the Publication Board; other members of the Board are J. Neely Boyer, vice-president; Laura E. Whetstone, secretary; Faculty members, Dean N. E. Cornet, and Dr. Sarah M. Sherrick; student members are A. O. Barnes, Ruth Hursh, Mabel Eubanks, Alice Blume and Craig Wales.

There are but few students on the staff who are eligible for the position of editor, and business manager. A number of Sophomores, however, are eligible for the position of News Editor.

Students who wish to try for positions on the staff, either editorial or business, should call at the offices of the Tan and Cardinal this Tuesday afternoon or next Thursday afternoon.

Any member of the student body who evinces interest and ability may try for positions on the staff. It is not now necessary to be a member of a literary society; a new constitution drawn up by the Publication Board rules out this requirement.

fied all visitors to the gymnasium with his blood-thirsty cries and constant attempts to break the rope with which he was tied. Other attractions here were the strong man who lifted 1,000 pounds with comparative ease, the fat lady, a black-faced dancer, and the Egyptian mummy. One of the greatest freaks of all was the lady with long hair. A gypsy fortune teller in an incense-perfumed hut read the palms of all who dared to inquire of the future.

Clowns and peanut vendors circulated through the crowd. Eskimo pies were sold at a booth in the hall, and the large room on the main floor was converted into an attractive tea-room.

PITY THE ENGLISH
INSTRUCTOR WITH A LIFE LIKE THIS

Mr. H. L. Mencken, whom someone aptly called a connoisseur of human ignorance would enjoy the Log Book kept by the English Department at the University of North Carolina. In that amusing journal is kept a record of the outstanding boners committed by freshmen and others.

Here it is recorded by one freshman that David Copperfield's novels are infinitely superior to anything Dickens ever wrote. Another first yearling recalled having read Hawthorne's House of Seven Gabriels.

Gems are called from compositions. A freshman describing a singer said "She had a charming voice of melodious noise."

Lincoln's mind, another essayist reminds us, "grew as his country kneaded it."

"I pulled through a disease," another recalls, "which was a victim of my sister." She was a microbe hunter, we presume.

In public speaking class an embryo Patrick Henry exclaimed "Mr. Speaker, I smell a rat in my opponent's remarks, but I propose to kill him while it's young."

Pity the poor English instructor!—New Student.

WOMEN'S DEBATE SEASON WILL OPEN WITH HEIDELBERG APRIL 5

FIRST CLASH WILL COME IN CHAPEL NEXT MONDAY

RETURN DEBATE APRIL 7

Local Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta To Be Represented At Contest.

Otterbein continues her forensic activities of the year with women's debate. Next week the women open their debate season by a dual debate with Heidelberg's women. The question the women are discussing is the official Pi Kappa Delta question for women. Resolved: that Congress be Given the Power to Enact a Uniform Marriage and Divorce Law.

The first clash is scheduled for Monday evening, April 4, to be held in the chapel at 7 o'clock. Heidelberg, upholding the Affirmative case, will be represented by Grace Otte, Nellie Otte, and Captain Winifred Anderson, the ladies speaking in the order named. Otterbein, presenting the Negative case, will be represented by Helen Gibson, Virginia Nicholas, Margaret Duerr, and Mabel Plowman, alternate. This debate will be on the open-forum discussion type.

After the debate the men's debate squad will entertain the women's teams.

Return Comes April 7

Otterbein will have a return debate with Heidelberg during the vacation period. On April 7th at 8:15 p. m. Otterbein's affirmative team will meet Heidelberg's negative team in Reckley Hall, Heidelberg College. Otterbein will be represented by Jeanne Bromley, Margaret Kumler, and Esther Williamson. Heidelberg's representatives will be Esther Daniels, Annabelle Lott, and Harriet Wade.

Dean Lela Taylor, Mrs. Harrold, and Mrs. F. A. Z. Kumler will chaperon the party which is meeting in Fostoria at the Harrold home where they will be entertained on this trip.

The teams are hard at work preparing for these clashes and others which will follow. Duane Harrold is coaching the affirmative team and Palmer Fletcher the Negative.

Prof. H. Dana Hopkins of Heidelberg College will accompany the women's debate team to the campus on Monday, April 4th. Prof. Hopkins is Pi Kappa Delta governor of the Province of the Lakes and will inspect the local chapter of Pi Kappa Delta on this visit.

The Ohio Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta is sending delegates to the provincial contest to be held at East Lansing, April 13-14-15, with Michigan State College entertaining the convention. A three-day program is arranged during which time there will be competition in debate, oratory, and extempore speaking, both for men and women.

The question for debate is, Resolved: That the Volstead Act Should Be Modified to Permit the Manufacture and Sale of Light Wines and Beer. The contestants must be prepared to speak on both sides in this debate. Palmer Fletcher and Robert Knight will enter this contest.

The general topic for the extempore speaking is "The China of Today." One hour before the contest each speaker shall draw for some particular phase of this general topic. Each contestant shall speak not less than six minutes and not more than seven and a half. Duane Harrold will battle for honors in this contest.

Prof. Lester Raines, Fletcher, Knight, Harrold, and Kumler will drive through to East Lansing, where they will attend the entire convention.

SENIORS "PULL WOOL OVER EYES" OF UNDERCLASSMEN

Fourth-Year Students Have Unannounced Cap and Gown Processional.

The Seniors "pulled the wool" over the eyes of the other classes last Friday morning when they marched into the chapel unannounced in caps and gowns. After plans for Senior Recognition Day services had been thwarted two weeks ago, the Seniors decided to evade the annual egg-throwing occasion by appearing in the traditional attire without previous announcement.

Frances Harris played the processional march on the pipe organ for the seniors who were led by Francis Bechtolt and Louise Stoner. Class presidents who customarily lead the procession were absent.

The Seniors marched on to the platform and sang the "Love Song." During the playing of the recessional march the Seniors assumed seats in the audience. Although not prepared with a speech, Dr. Charles Snively gave appropriate reminiscences of former cap and gown days.

Previous to the chapel assembly the Seniors had gathered in Professor Raines' classroom and prepared for the processional.

The Freshmen, generally and traditionally the worst offenders on Senior Recognition Day, merely looked on with open mouths in awe and amazement.

Recognition Day for Seniors was inaugurated at Otterbein six years ago with the introduction of student government on the campus, according to Dean Cornet. The first to wear caps and gowns at Otterbein graduated in 1894.

The class of 1927 is Otterbein's largest senior class. At least ninety-nine students will be graduated. Registrar Floyd Vance said, "And possibly two or three more will be able to make the grade."

Statistics show that 50 per cent of the married people are women.

A sock on the foot is worth two in the eye.

DEBATE SQUAD MAKES NORTHERN OHIO TRIP

Charles, Kumler, Harrold, and Prof. Raines Visit Northern Colleges.

Last Tuesday an Otterbein negative team, Charles, Kumler and Harrold together with Director Raines traveled to Heidelberg to do battle in an open forum debate. Heidelberg was represented by Gallagher, Gasier and Sheats. The black smoke of the affair was over a clash of definition and analysis.

Baldwin-Wallace cancelled the debate which was to have been held Wednesday night.

Again on Thursday a negative team consisting of Laporte, Kumler and Harrold met Mount Union College in the First United Brethren Church of Alliance. The Mount Union speakers were McFall, Meredith and Plants. Mount Union is not in the Ohio Debating Conference this year but may be next year. Mount Union has a Chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha.

This debate probably finished up the last of the debates on Personal Liberty.
