1927 FORENSIC SEASON TO OPEN WITH CAPITAL

TO BE DUAL AFFAIR

Will Debate "Personal Liberty" Question on February 8 and 9. Teams Picked.

Otterbein will open her intercollegiate forensic season Tuesday, February 8 with Capital on the home platform. Otterbein will return the visit the following night. The purpose of conducting the debate on different nights is to permit all the squad to hear both debates.

This tilt is a pre-conference affair and does not in any way affect Otterbein's standing in the Conference.

The teams that will represent Otterbein are: affirmative: Fletcher, Bromley, Knight and Echard as alternate; the negative line-up will be: La Porte, Mayer and Hampshire, with Charles (Continued On Page Eight.)

PROF. TROOP COACHING AMERICAN LEGION PLAY

Prof. H. W. Troop is coaching the American Legion play, "Adam and Eva", which will be presented in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, February 1. The play is the fourth offering of the Westerville Young-Budd Post of the Legion. Prof. Troop also has a major part in the play aside from his coaching activity. The play was presented at the Hartman Theatre last summer by a stock company.

CONSERVATORY MUSIC STUDENTS IN RECITAL

Students in the school of music were presented in a recital last Wednesday evening in Lambert Hall.

The program consisted of piano, violin and vocal numbers. A piano quartet was the opening number.

Catherine Matz, Anna Sheesley, Vira Dunmire, Geneva Shela, Ruth Le Masters, Bessie Lincoln, Stella Calloway, Glendora Barnes and Releafa Freeman played piano numbers.

Vocal solos were given by Margaret Kumler, Mildred Zinn, Mary Trout, Mary Belle Loomis, Elma Harter, Mary Gaines, Zelfa Fisher and Mildred Lochner.

Frances McCowen and Ruth Haney played a violin duo. An organ solo by Lavonne Steele and a mandolin solo by Nelle Ambrose completed the program.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE BEING MADE FOR RUSSELL CONTEST

Arrangements are now being made for the annual Russell Oratorical Contest which will be held in the College Chapel sometime within the next few weeks. The definite date will be announced later. This contest is open to upper-classmen. Three prizes of fifteen, ten and five dollars each are offered to the students who win the first three places. These prizes, like those for the Russell Declamation Contest for under-classmen which was held shortly before Christmas vacation, were established by Dr. Howard H. Russell, founder and associate superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

SELMA LENHART TO BE FIFTH LYCEUM NUMBER

IN CHAPEL THIS EVENING

Nationally-Known Reader and Interpreter Will Present Varied Program

Miss Selma Lenhart, nationally known reader and interpreter, will present a varied program in the College Chapel this evening at 8:00 o'clock as the fifth number on the Citizens' Lecture and Lyceum Course.

In Miss Lenhart's repertoire are a great variety of monologues, dialect readings, poems, Shakespearean plays, and such interesting modern comedies as "All-of-a-Sudden-Peggy", "Erstwhile Susan", "The Woman Intervenes", "In 1999" and "Leah Kleschna."

On Redpath Since 1920.

Since her fourteenth year Miss Lenhart has been doing dramatic work—not commonplace dramatics, but dramatics of a type stamping her as unique in her profession. She devoted several seasons to directing and taking leads in plays in her home city of Pittsburgh. At the same time she was equipping herself through private study, and training at the King School of Dramatic Art. Her first work for the Redpath Bureau was done in 1920 when she appeared on courses which had booked such notables as Katharine Ridgeway, Gay MacLaren and Strickland Gillilan.

Certain critics who have heard the most famous Lyceum monologists, have ventured the strong assertion that Miss Lenhart excels her contemporaries in the matter of differentiating her characters. She has the dignity necessary for the heaviest parts, and Should Otterbein Adopt A Periodic Test Plan In Place Of The Final Examination System In Vogue At The Present?

Perhaps the most outstanding question in the minds of Otterbein students today, the zero hour when the first exam gun is being loaded, is "How can exams be eliminated?" The answer comes frankly and without hesitation: "Examinations should not be eliminated but the entire system could be vastly modified and improved."

A comprehensive but not exhaustive survey of Faculty members revealed a large number of interesting facts and helpful suggestions. A survey of a number of representative students on the campus points toward the abolition of the present examination system and the installation of the periodic test plan.

The average student extremely dislikes the idea of cramming for an exam until his eyes ache, writing the two-hour list of questions, and then promptly forgetting all the material he had crammed. Such a process proceeds for possibly five examinations. Such a scheme does not make for education; no swallowing of material wholesale ever did. During examination week the student is keyed to a high nervous pitch which is practically unavoidable and oft times leads to mental and physical disruption.

All in all the average student over-estimates the practical importance of the semester examination.

How differently and how much more easily and smoothly the march of events proceed under the periodic test system. Tests would be given at convenient breaking places in the course, or at the end of certain equal intervals, and would cover only the

WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL GAMES AROUSE UNUSUAL ENTHUSIASM

The Girls Inter-Social Group League got under way a week ago yesterday afternoon when the Arbutus and the Phoenix defeated the Owls and the Polygons, respectively, in two rather uninteresting games. The score of the first game was 31 to 4 and of the second 19 to 11. Weimer led the scoring for the Arbutus with 19 points. Wilson scored most for the Phoenix with four field goals and Whetstone scored nine of the Polygon's 11 points.

The Greenwich and Arcady battled through the regular playing time and one overtime period without being able to decide who was superior, the game finally ending 14 to 14. The Arcady scoring was divided pretty evenly between Knapp, Wardell, and R. Moore, the latter leading with six points. Dew did most of the scoring for Greenwich, waving the net five times from the field. She missed, however, ten attempts from the free throw line. The game is to be played off later.

The T. D. had little difficulty in trouncing the Lotus in the second game on Wednesday 33 to 0. Shimer and Mabel Eubanks scored 14 points each for the winners.

Last Saturday the Talisman defeated the Owls in the first game of the afternoon 41 to 8. Trevarrow led the scoring with 13 field goals and three fouls. Peden scored six baskets the majority of which were from the vicinity of the foul ring. Matz scored all of the losers eight points when she made good on eight of her 15 attempts from the free throw line.

In the other game on Saturday the Onyx came from behind to win from the Polygon 23 to 20. The losers were forced to play the last few minutes of the game with five players when Banner and Rinehart were banished from the game with five fouls. Patton scored 13 points for the winners and Whetstone scored 11 for the losers.

Trevarrow, Talisman, leads the scorers with thirteen baskets and three fouls for a total of 29 points. Whetstone, Polygon, is second with seven baskets and six fouls totaling 20 points. She has played in two games, however, and Trevarrow has only played one.

OTTREBEIN SENIOR IS MARRIED IN JOHNSTOWN

Miss Mildred C. Dimond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walter Dimond of 230 Railroad Street, Conemaugh, Pa., and Kenneth M. Falstick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Falstick of 725 Bedford St., Johnstown, Pa., were united in marriage at the First United Brethren Church, Johnstown, Pa., by the pastor, Dr. C. C. Gohn, on January 17th, 1927. Mrs. Hallie Diamond, sister of the bride, and Homer Falstick, brother of the bridegroom, were their attendants.

Mrs. Falstick has been employed at the Penn Traffic store for a number of years and has served as a model in their fashion reviews. Mr. Falstick is a graduate of the Dale High School, Johnstown, class of 1922, and will register as a member of the present Senior class of Otterbein in February. After a brief honeymoon in Ohio the couple will locate in Columbus.

TAN AND CARDINAL TO SKIP ISSUE EXAM WEEK

The next issue will be dated February 8. The Tan and Cardinal wishes you a Merry Examination and a Happy Smile.

CARDINAL CAGERS FACE TWO DIFFICULT BATTLES

Otterbein's cager's face a hard week after the exams are out of the way. Marietta will be met on her own floor on Wednesday night, February 2, and Muskingum at New Concord on Saturday.

Going by the results of the past games it would look as though Otterbein was scheduled to lose two more games. Marietta has already defeated Otterbein once and this time they will be playing on their own floor. Muskingum defeated Kenyon worse than Kenyon defeated Otterbein and so it would look as though Otterbein is going to be in for a bad night when the Tan pill tossers meet the Muskies on the following Saturday.

Marietta will probably use the same lineup against Otterbein that proved so successful last Saturday. Muskingum's lineup is intact from last year except for "Speedo" Montgomery. J. Orr and Bradbury will probably play at the forward posts. Taylor, center, and Clark and Harrop will hold down the guard positions.

The woman's student council at Ohio State maintains a fund to help co-eds through college.

DR. SNAVELY TALKS ON NICARAGUAN SITUATION

Dr. Snavely presented a very well-prepared outline of the trouble between Mexico and the United States, and of the Nicaraguan difficulty at the regular Y meeting on Tuesday evening. History of Mexico formed the first part of the talk. "Policies, oil and religion are the causes of the misunderstanding between the two American republics in the trouble."

"Feeling toward the state department by the citizens of our nation is antagonistic because they want to know what is going on on the 'inside.' The majority of Americans will never be satisfied until Secretary Kellogg is removed from office, and an internationally-minded statesman assumes control in the state department."

Following the talk, round-table discussion was indulged in by a large number of interested persons who attended the meeting.

Cook House Beats Lakota In Overtime; Country Club, Annex Also Victors

CASUALTIES FEATURE MEN'S LEAGUE GAMES

COOK HOUSE, SPHINX LEAD

Jonda Seconds, Hoffman Drugs and Blendon Hash Emerge As Prune League Victors.

Close scores and hard fought games, coupled with casualties such as twisted ankles, black eyes, and broken teeth featured the second round of intra-mural games last Thursday and Friday. Sphinx and Cook House are now the only undefeated teams in the social group league.

Jondas and Annex tangled in the first game, Annex emerging victor by virtue of a one-point lead, 12-11, when the final whistle blew. D. Lee of Annex was high scorer with 7 points. O. Cline scored most for the losers, garnering 5 points.

Alps were scheduled to play Sphinx but forfeited the game.

Country Club turned the tables on the Philotas and counted 20 points to Philota's 16. McCowan of Country Club accounted for 7 points, and Roby of Philota scored 6.

The Cook House-Lakota game proved a hectic fray, with the score knotted at 18-all when the game ended. Five minutes overtime was played and Gibson's two long shots proved fatal for the Lakota cause. Seitz of Lakota was high scorer of the game with 19 points. Gibson and Kaufman divided honors for Cook House with 7 points each.

In the Prune League Red Hawks, Hoffman Drugs and Blendon Hash still have a clean slate.

Red Hawks easily trounced the Kingites to the tune of a 39-13 score. Van Auken of the Red Hawks was high scorer with 12 points. D. Allaman accounted for 9 of the Kingites' counters.

Jonda Seconds defeated the Dubs 8 to 4 in a game that should have been played on the gridiron Riegle of the Dubs was high scorer, sinking both deuces for his team. Bright scored 3 points for the Jondas.

Hoffman Drugs won from Cook House Seconds, 10-4. Gallagher scored 4 points, and Shelly scored the only field goal for Cook House.

Blendon Hash emerged victorious over Lakota Seconds, 14 to 10. Blackburn garnered 9 points for Blendon's, and Simmermacher accounted for 6 of the Lakota points.

Gibson, Cook House, still leads the scorers of Social Group items with 23 points; Seitz, Lakota, and Marsh, Cook House are runners-up. Propst, Cook House Seconds, leads in the Prune League, with Van Auken, Red Hawks second with 14 points.

TAN MEN LOSE 36-32 IN OVERTIME PERIOD

MARIETTA GETS HIGH END

Game Tied By Last Minute Spurt At 30 All. Further Attempts Avail Two Points

Spurting to score eight points in the overtime period, Marietta defeated Otterbein 36 to 32 in the first home conference game of the season. The score at the end of the regular period of play was 30 all.

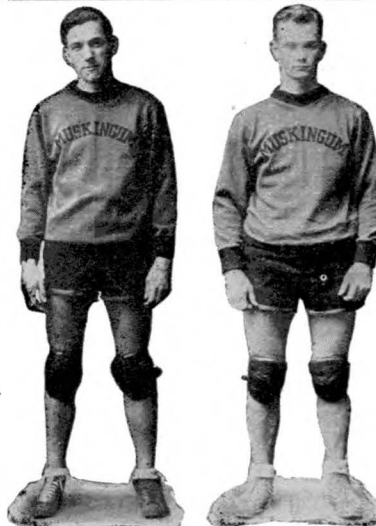

Several minutes before the end of the game Otterbein was trailing eight points and defeat seemed certain. However, Buell broke loose long enough to drop in two baskets and the crowd yelled with renewed hope. When Snavely netted a short shot all the spectators rose to their feet. The timer had his gun in hand when Buell tied the score with a shot from the foul line to the left side of the court.

Otterbein took the lead for a moment in the overtime when Buell netted another side shot. Marietta soon got the ball and Snavely again tied the score. Eggy, a substitute for a substitute, scored what proved to be the winning points on a short shot. Schafer registered two more fielders before the period ended.

Fast Lead Exchanges

The lead exchanged hands several times in the first half, Marietta leading at the mid-point, 14 to 10. The visitors increased the lead at the start of (Continued On Page Six)

J. ORR AND C. BRADBURY STAR FOR MUSKINGUM

"Jim" Orr "Charley" Bradbury

One of the big features on the Black and Magenta floor squad this year is Jim Orr, who plays a bang-up game at both the guard and forward positions. He is a clever floorman and has a keen eye for the basket from the middle of the floor.

Although there is not much of him,

Muskingum has in "Charley" Bradbury one of its most valuable men. Quick as lightning, Bradbury's floor work is outstanding, and his "pot-shots" are almost certain to register. It will take clever guarding to hold this man down.

DESIRE FOR COLLEGE

Many people, and college people are certainly among them, greet jubilantly the fact that America has seven hundred and fifty thousand of her young men and women attending colleges and universities. Four times as many young people in America go to college as do in France and England. That Americans have the means to send to college so large a proportion of their country's youth is significant, but much more so is the fact that they have the desire. The one is evidence of outward prosperity, the other of inward progress.

Such a craze for education in America has never before been in evidence either in this or any other country. The time is yet to come when some one will point out that there is too much higher education or that too many public school graduates are going to college. Just now there is no way of telling whether the college enrollments contain the greatest possible number of those capable of turning the advantages of education to public as well as private profit.

While the craze for education lasts colleges and universities will undoubtedly show larger and larger enrollments from year to year. Education may be a craze but there has never been a craze like it before.

IMPERIALISM

University students in Brazil are protesting against America's show of imperialism and American intervention in Nicaragua.

At a meeting in a Rio de Janeiro university, senior students said that Brazil "faced the peril of being Americanized" and that if they were not careful "all South America soon will be under the American flag." They went further and compared the intervention of United States in Nicaragua to the German invasion of Belgium.

Their statements may be a little strong, but the student body of almost any American University or college will sympathize with them and be in accord with their feelings.

So it is always. Students are invariably among the first to recognize a wrong and to attempt to correct an injustice, and students are the same the world over. Just ideas and right thinking generally will be found in colleges and universities that are uncontaminated by politics, when they cannot be found anywhere else in the world.—Ohio State Lantern.

In the College of the City of New York, five of the instructors failed to receive passing grades when graded by students. Only ten of them received A's.

SHALL WE HAVE PERIODIC TESTS OR FINALS

material just completed. It is true that cramming would not be eliminated under such a system, but would it not be reduced to almost a negligible quantity?

Learning is characteristically aided by reviews and that recall is facilitated by the recency of impression. Reviewing just before a periodic test serves the memory by providing repetition and recency which are both conditions for favorable impression. Reviews at the conclusion of a section of a course will show facts in perspective and will disclose many new relations between them.

In the survey of the Faculty one professor became vehement enough to declare that colleges have outgrown the present examination system and that something more modern should be substituted; this professor admitted that the periodic test plan was the best yet proposed.

Another professor who approved of the periodic test scheme added the suggestion that the college grant a two or three day vacation between semesters in order to allow the professors time to grade papers and the students a rest from scholastic activities; in order to keep the students on the campus an intensive athletic and social program should be planned.

A large majority of the professors and certainly all of the students are eager for a modernization of the present threadbare system. Youth may be impulsive in many of its ideas, but the Faculty remains as a stern balancer; and when even the Faculty admits certain ideas of youth are good, then it is time to act.

It is the hope of the Tan and Cardinal that the administration and Faculty will give the periodic test plan a fair trial next semester. The scheme warrants the most careful consideration, but over-conservatism will retard the advancement of education.

MR. WALTER JONES REPLIES

To The Student Council,

Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio:

I wish to thank you sincerely for the letter of sympathy sent to me on behalf of the student body of Otterbein, upon the occasion of my father's death. His later years were spent most happily in Otterbein and I am sure that any feelings of affection and inspiration he may have engendered were fully reciprocated. I hope, as you so kindly predict, that his spirit will live as an enduring influence in the college. It was considerate of you to let me know that he at least has a place in the hearts of the present student body.

Very truly yours,

Walter E. Jones.

THE UNION

HIGH AT LONG

THE LAMENTATIONS OF A FRESHMAN

Ah, woe is me, for I am a Freshman!
Lo, I rise with the sun, and, yea verily, I retire with it also. For are not the members of my illustrious class requested to be in their respective rooms on the seventh hour after the sun has reached its zenith?

I am the unchanging subject of the supposedly funny jokes that fall upon mine innocent and unsuspecting organs of hearing.

Each and every upper classman calleth me dumb when I am silent, and idiotic when I speak. Ye Gods, shall I be loquacious or mute?

The wicked adviseth me to converse with my professors both before and after class if I would be the proud and elevated possessor of the elusive B.

Fain would I do what my senior ad-viseth; but even Daniel could not have faced the lions, had he been possessed of that fatal disease—weakening of the knees.

I know not what treatment to expect at the hands of those who are no longer among the ranks of the freshmen, for lo, on Friday evening they make much of me at a push, and on Saturday night they take me snipe hunting.

If variety is the spice of life, make my existence less spicy!

I describe in flaming details an engagement I have had with a handsome specimen of the opposite sex.

My listener, who classeth herself as a member of our altogether too conceited and self-satisfied senior organization beareth nobly with me to the torrid finish. She also thrilleth through all the aforesaid details.

"Is he dark?" She asketh as her interest waxeth hot.

And in pride, I answer, "O, thou fair daughter of Minerva, his hair is as dark as the darkness of midnight; his eyes put to scorn the most brilliant stars; his physique revealeth that of Apollo to be weak and anemic. Yea verily, he is a perfect man!

Then she asketh, "What year is he?"
And my pride trailing in the dust, I answer, "Freshman".

She elevateth her nose and speaketh
thus, "Thou shouldst see to it that thine eyes be aided in their sight."

But I am convinced that I am not in need of glasses. For did not these very orbs behold the self same senior with the hero of my dreams in a place that would be described as dark and secluded, rather than light and open?

Yea verily, the Freshman learneth the rules in the Little Gray Book—but she forgetteth them speedily.

Yea, my life is hard; I rise early, study late, my toil is never ending and my trials and tribulations increase apace.

Ah, woe is me, for I am a Freshman!
Selah.

GIRLS GO TO COLLEGE ALL RIGHT—BUT WHY?

Masculine promenaders in front of Ewing Hall have been heard to groan.
"Why do girls come to college?" One hundred co-eds of Ohio University have supplied answers.

The first reply was, "To get an education", but on further inquiry it was learned that:

Fifteen came because the home town was too dead in the winter months.

Twenty-six came to enlarge their circle of acquaintances and friends to a good sized number.

Five came to learn the "Charleston", while three others came to teach it.

Twelve got tired of boarding school.
Twenty-two wanted to have a good time.

Five confessed that they wanted to belong to a sorority.

Eight came to college to "get collegiate."

One came because her father threatened to make her go to work if she didn't.

Two came to have a last fling before they got married.

One girl said that she came to keep any other girl from running away with her man.

It is interesting to know that one girl gave as her reason that she came to get a prosperous husband. However, not one stated ambitions for becoming governor of the state or president of the United States.

COLLEGE DEMANDS LONG SKIRTS AND SUSPENDERS

For the regulation of students morals, the following rules were posted by the faculty of a small college in Kansas:

"No dresses shall be worn to college which are shorter than six inches below the knee.

"Use or possession of lip-stick or rouge on the school campus is prohibited.

"No slang phrases or immodest language shall be employed.

"Wearing of belts by boys is prohibited, their use to be supplanted by suspenders.

I'LL BE DARNED IF I WILL!

Me! I'm just a green little freshman.
I'm young yet in the college life. But I'm not all nuts!

I was sitting in the library the other day, studying, when in comes a guy and a girl. I liked her. She had hair like flax and eyes of blue. But him!
Gosh!—His hair, dark when next to her light, was tossed and tumbled and sprouted from his head like a fern growing out of a crock. His face looked like a desert overgrown with black shrub bushes and prickly cactus, bereft of habitation for a hundred years.
Long loose pants encased his legs—pants from which the crease had gone out many days since. His feet were covered in brown cowhide shoes spattered with mud around the edges.

Gee! He was some specimen. And yet we're supposed to worship a thing like that! (He was an upper class man.) Well, I'll be darned if I will!

the second half and led until the final minute.

Schafer at left forward for Marietta was the outstanding player of the evening with 21 points to his credit, garnered from nine baskets and three fouls.

Barnes led the local cagers with 14 points, six field goals and two fouls. Buell accounted for 12 points, all tosses from the field. Barnes also played the best defensive game for the Tan team.

Visitors Have Fast Offense

Marietta displayed a fast breaking offense which gave Otterbein no time to get its defense set. The invaders were also adept at taking the ball off the bank board and following shots. Lorentz jumped center in approved style despite his small stature.

Otterbein's offense was slow and experienced difficulty in penetrating Marietta's stiff defense. The locals also failed to follow their shots.

In a fast preliminary the Freshmen defeated the Second team 18 to 13. Gibson led the Frosh with nine points. Pilkington and Saul each scored six points for the Seconds.

ROY BURKHART NAMED GRACE CHAPEL PASTOR

Mr. Roy Burkhardt, senior in the college, has been appointed pastor of Grace Chapel, a rural community church three miles north of Westerville, to fill the vacancy made by Rev. H. W. Widdoes who left for the Philippine Islands last Thursday to take his post as superintendent of the United Brethren mission at San Fernando.

Mr. Burkhardt has been active in the young people's department of the United Brethren denomination for a number of years.

PHILETHEA

Those who attended Thursday's session of Philalethea enjoyed a lively program which was as follows:

Vocal Solo—"The Springtime of My Heart," Cowen—Mildren Zinn.

Essay—"Nature Lovers"—Lavonne Steele.

Vocal and Instrumental Duet—"At Dawning", Cadman—Josephine and Louise Stoner.

Adventure—Ruth Asire.

Vocal Solo—"The Mission of the Rose", Cowen—Mary Trout.

Medley—Vira Dunmire.

The extemporaneous speakers were Isabelle Ruehrmund, who painted a very vivid picture of the student and term-papers and Esther Williamson who portrayed her favorite author interestingly.

O C

PHILOMATHEA

At the regular session of Philomatheia last Friday evening, K. F. Echard read a "Book Review" and C. E. Boyer read a "Scientific Paper" which was written by Robert E. Mumma.

On the extemporaneous program Walter Martin spoke on "Why Grades?" and D. J. Cole expounded on the topic "Fields Open to College Graduates." Impromptu speeches were made by W. M. Keck on "Cramming as a Science" and C. H. Bielstein on "Current Events."

The third election session of the year will be held this Friday evening in the Hall.

O C

Dr. Widdoes Leads Chapel.

Rev. H. W. Widdoes, led chapel last Tuesday morning for the last time this year. He compared his observations of American and Filipino students especially as to their religious lines. At the close of his talk he bade the students of Otterbein farewell, stating that he was leaving for the Philippines the following Thursday. Dr. Widdoes was given his D. D. last commencement by Otterbein.

Rev. Fred L. Dennis, superintendent of the Miami Conference, and former pastor of the Euclid Avenue United Brethren Church in Dayton, led the chapel exercises yesterday morning. Following chapel he held a number of conferences.

REV. F. L. DENNIS IS C. E. LEADER

The joint session of the Intermediate, Section A and B societies was the occasion for a unique and helpful program with Rev. Fred L. Dennis, Supt. of the Miami Conference, as the speaker of the evening, last Sunday.

Rev. Dennis spoke on "Youth's Problems". He emphasized the importance of life work for Christ; of the keeping true to our decisions. He spoke also on other general problems of youth—of destiny, of vocation, and our associations.

Ferron Troxel presided as chairman. Music was provided by a vocal quartet formed by Mary Mills, Lawrence Miller, Viola Peden and Lewis Frees, with Arley Zinn at the piano. Everett Snyder and Fred Miller played a cornet duet.

CO-ED BRAVER THAN COLLEGIATE FRIENDS

It was a rainy morning. It was a 7:30 class. My watch was fast. That's why I arrived in time to watch for the rest of my collegiate classmates as they came wandering in looking for a chair as Narcissus must have looked for his image in the River Styx. The professor was writing on the board. But surely something was wrong. They were not coming in casting their eyes about for an inconspicuous seat as usual. Were they playing hide and seek? Had the strain of impending exams broken down their morale to the extent that they had become childish? Now in, now out, one bobbed head, two bobbed heads, one Apollon form, one Barrymore profile, and then much excitement in the hall. But no one ventured in. The professor kept on writing.

One girl slipped, two others caught her and dragged her behind the protecting ledge. One shiek started bravely for a seat, took two steps and fled precipitately. The professor kept on writing.

Finally one brave Co-Ed, heroines always, scooted around to a vantage point, looked at the board, flung her books on a chair and yelled to the

That the other day the Prof asked one innocent economist whether she ever paid a tax at the theatre and she answered in a profusion of blushes, "No, Louie does."

That she thinks the five minute bell should be replaced by the half hour bell during this icy weather.

That she's been reading SHOULD STUDENTS STUDY for one of her classes and she has more doubts now than ever.

That she heard the Gentleman's Grade is C and she'd like to know what a Ladies' Grade is.

That for some reason or other a lot of folks seem to be falling for each other lately.

That once more her mind is turning toward the Utopian Idea of free love, free thought, and no exams.

The Y. M. C. A. has subscribed for a set of five magazines, which are of special interest to the men of the college. While there was an abundance of magazines in the Library the Association felt that the selection offered there did not quite fit the needs of Y men. Thus the following magazines have been subscribed for: "The Inter-collegian", "The World Tomorrow", "Vox Studentium", "Association Men" and "The New Student".

These magazines come regularly every month and are placed on the tables in the parlors of the Association Building. The magazines are not to be taken from the building but may be read there, when spare time affords.

BALDWIN-WALLACE TO INVADE TAN SATURDAY

Another hard battle is in prospect when Baldwin-Wallace invades the Westerville high school gym Saturday night for Otterbein's second home game. Comparative scores indicate that the Berea team is on the same level as Ohio Northern, which team forced Otterbein to play at top speed to win a close game. Otterbein defeated Baldwin-Wallace by a 61 to 24 score last year.

Baldwin-Wallace turned in its latest victory against Heidelberg last Friday night, 33 to 31. The visitors boast of a clever offense so that most of its scores come from short shots.

Otterbein will be facing a slightly different defense this week as Baldwin-Wallace has been playing man-to-man. How the Tan men can perform against this style of play remains to be seen, although it should hurry the offense.

Schill at left forward has shown good form for the Bereans to date and will require watching. Wells, right guard, is also a strong offensive player. The remainder of the lineup will probably be Homan, forward; Worley, center; and Dickhart, guard.

Otterbein will continue to work out against the Freshmen this week and Coach Edler hopes to iron out some of the weakness displayed against Marietta. The starting lineup will probably be the same.

Clippers Entertain

President and Mrs. W. G. Clippinger entertained Dr. Fred L. Dennis, superintendent of the Miami Conference at six o'clock dinner Sunday evening. Other guests present were Miss Lulu Baker, Prof. Lester Raines, Dean Cora A. McFadden, Prof. and Mrs. P. E. Pendleton, and Prof. and Mrs. A. H. Wilson.

FROSH APPEAR IN NEW SPRING BONNETS

Lo and Behold!! Otterbein has a new innovation. Freshmen appeared in a special section at the Marietta game last Saturday evening wearing reversible, double-billed tan and cardinal caps. The following parody on the "Song of the Vagabonds", as composed by Robert Bromeley and Wendall Rhodes, will be sung at the Baldwin-Wallace game:

Sons of Tan and Cardinal
Will you lose the battle
And bow down to Baldwin-Wallace
Otterbein, our college,
Will you quit the conflict
And give in to Baldwin-Wallace.
Onward! Onward!
Face against the foe
Forward Forward!
Our Cardinal devils go.
Loyal sons around us
Beat the team before us Triumph over Baldwin-Wallace!

PHILOPHRONEA STAGES CONGRESSIONAL SESSION

Those who missed the Congressional Session of Philophronea, doubtless missed one of the most interesting sessions of the year. With Noel, J. presiding as the president of the Senate, many bills and resolutions were presented for discussion. The associate members filled various minor offices: press reporters Rhodes, W., and DeHaven, E. L.; pages Allaman, D. W., Allaman, G., Horner, W.; chaplain, Derhammer, H.; sergeant-at-arms, Horner, E. L.; secretary, Bromeley, R.; clerk, Shawen, C. E. Hammon, E. H. introduced a bill on the marriage question. An important communication from the House of Representatives was read. Keller, C. presented an amendment to the 18th amendment. Laukhuff, T. P. favored the consideration of the Nicaraguan situation. Several telegrams were received and read. The death of an august senator was communicated to the Senate. Adjournment closed the session.
