is experiencing a genuine revival of jubilee singing. The rhythm and character of songs of the colored race are a relic and inheritance, combining joy, superstition and religion. The jubilee chants, plantation melodies, camp meeting shouts and spirituals offered by the Plantation Singers are authentic in every detail.

There are still a few unsold tickets left. Season tickets may be obtained from Ed Hammon at King Hall or Mabel Eubanks at Cochran Hall. General admission tickets will be 35 cents and can be obtained at the door.

Captain Snavely Intercepts Pass and Runs Sixty Yards for Second Touchdown.

Otterbein closed the 1926 football season and incidentally won her first conference game by defeating Hiram on a muddy field at Hiram last Saturday afternoon by a 13 to 6 score. There were two inches of snow on the field two days before the game and its melting left the field in a bad condition.

The first half was scoreless with neither team gaining much of an advantage. In the third quarter Hiram carried the ball two-thirds of the length of the field with a mixture of split bucks and two or three short passes to gain first down on Otterbein's one-yard line. Three plays gained nothing. On the fourth down Hiram carried the ball to the 8-inch line, so Otterbein players thought, but the official ruled that the ball had been carried across. The try for point was missed.

Otterbein angered by the decision carried the ball half the length of the field only to lose the ball on downs on Hiram's 5-yard line. On the first play Hiram tried to punt but three Otterbein linemen broke through and (Continued on Page Three.)

Three Senior Men Have Played Last Game Under Tan and Cardinal Colors

MARK SCHEAR

For three of the men on the Otterbein football team, the Hiram game was the last on the gridiron under Tan and Cardinal. Those three are Captain Snavely, Lambert, and Schear.

Of the three, Snavely is the only one who will play under Otterbein colors again. Since "Slippery" plays basketball and participates in the high jump during track, he will not end his athletic career here until next spring.

Bob has been prominently connected with football and other sports since his freshman year. While a frosh he captained that team. Since then he has played on the varsity each year.

Snavely has always been a triple threat man. His tactics while carrying the ball earned for him the nickname "Slippery". His punting ability is well known to every one in school. He has not thrown as many passes as he might have, since he is the best receiver on the team and is more valuable in that respect. He is also a good defensive man.

To Marcus Schear has fallen the task of starting all the plays; Mark played center. His excellent handling of the ball, even on wet fields, has helped the backs to get under way without loss of time. He also played well on offense and defense.

Jubilee Collectors Hold Meeting Monday

DEFICIT OF $60,000

All Pledges Must Reach College Before Jan 1 To Receive Board Money

A meeting of all of the field men and Conference superintendents was held yesterday morning in the offices of President W. G. Clippinger for the purpose of summarizing results of the last few weeks of the Jubilee Fund collections and to make plans for the further prosecution of the work. A deficit of about $60,000 will have to be made up by the college to make up for deficits due to death, sickness, and failures. A growing interest in final drive for collections is manifest over the entire territory; payments are coming in very rapidly now.

One alumnus sent his check for $1,000 and another for $400 in the past week. Many others are turning in checks in varying amounts. One church which had a deficit made it up and sent in twice as much in additional. One woman in Westerville who makes her living by sewing sent in $20 more than her original pledge yesterday morning.

The Westerville U. B. Church is now making arrangements to make up a small deficit. The church's original pledge was $42,389.

ANNUAL UNDERCLASSMAN GRID CLASSIC WILL BE PLAYED THURSDAY AT 3:15

Saul and "Dutch" Lee Named Class Captains

SOPHS ARE CONFIDENT

Frosh Have Important Advantage of Team-Work Practice and Are Hopeful.

On next Thursday at 3:15 p. m., Nov. 18, the annual post-season classic of fall sports will begin, with a fast, powerful, and aggressive Freshman team opposing an equally fast, powerful, and aggressive team of Sophomores. Each team is pepped up to the limit and will fight until the final note of the referee's whistle is blown, sounding victory for one team, defeat the other.

"Dutch" Lee has been selected to captain the Freshman aggregation, and Francis Saul, a varsity player, will captain the Sophomores.

The Freshmen are looking forward to the game, eagerly hoping to soothe the bitter sting of defeat experienced by them in Scrap Day at the beginning of the school year. And they have definite reasons for high hopes of victory, too. The Frosh have a line that charges and a backfield that hits—with that combination, they expect victory.

On the other hand the Sophomores are just as determined to retain and add to their laurels by another victory over the Freshmen and thus conclusively prove the superiority of the Sophomore over the so-called lowly "Frosh" in football, at least.

The Sophomores have several varsity men who will decidedly strengthen their attack. Wurm, Day, Hall, L. Schear, Yantis, Reck, McGill, Saul, Alspach, Cline and Weaver are the varsity men. Other men that may be used by the Sophomores are Shankleton, Huffer, Kurtz, Young and Steimer. However, there is considerable doubt as to the starting line-up of the Sophomores and probably will be until the day of the game.

The Freshmen have the following men on whom to depend: H. Reck, center; Fowler, Cline and Bunce for the guard positions; Hance and Benford will probably hold down the tackle berths; Jenkinson, Eschback, E. Widdoes, Gibson and Zinn for ends; the backfield will be selected from these five candidates: Lee, Hadfield, Dixon, J. Miller, and Clingman.

O C IS IT A CO-OP?

Whether or not the university Co-op which supplies Wisconsin students with text books at low rates is truly a cooperative will be disclosed at a coming investigation. The Gatewood Book Company a competing firm brought charges. The business practices of the Co-op will be aired in the coming investigation by Harry Klenor, state official responsible for the enforcement of cooperative laws.

blocked the punt and Wurm took the ball for Otterbein's first touchdown not long after the fourth quarter had started. Pinney place-kicked for the extra point.

About five minutes later Snavelly intercepted a pass and streaked sixty yards for Otterbein's second touchdown.

On one occasion Pinney picked up a Hiram fumble on Otterbein's 10-yard marker and raced ninety yards for a touchdown but the officials ruled that the ball was dead before he fumbled.

Hiram made more first downs than Otterbein but Otterbein failed to budge in the pinches, and held Hiram for downs on two different occasions.

Besides his sixty-yard scoring sprint Snavelly made several gains from scrimmage. Schott made two runs of about twenty yards each.

The line showed up to advantage especially toward the last part of the game.

Hiram attempted numerous passes, three of which were completed. Only one was intercepted but that one proved disastrous for Hiram.

Captain Snavelly, Lambert and Schear played their last game for Otterbein.

VARSITY BASKET BALL BEGAN YESTERDAY EVE

Three Last Year's Letter Men and One from Year Before Re- turn to Lineup.

The first varsity basketball practise was scheduled to be held last night. A large squad was expected. More detailed information will appear next week.

There are three letter men back from last year's squad and one from the year before. Captain Barnes, Buell and Snavelly are the letter men left from last year. The letter man from the year before last is Ted Seaman who wasn't in school last year.

There are two positions left open from last year and the large number of men expected out will make competition for the two positions keen.

A cut will probably be necessary within a week. Work will have to progress rapidly as there is less than a month till the first game, a pre-season tilt with the Akron Rubber Co. at Akron.

There will be several other pre-season games before and during the Christmas recess before the Conference schedule starts, January 12, at Kenyon.

The conference schedule is not one to be "sneezed at". It is all that could be desired if teams of high caliber are to be met. The schedule includes eleven conference games, five of which will be played at Westerville.

SIGNS OF MODERNITY

Certainly one of the most hopeful signs in America today is the growing disposition of our college youth to throw off the control of stodgy professors, and to take life more and more into their own hands. There is a large body of youth in our centers of learning today that can shame the most pretentiously learned of its elders in being backward concerning the very latest and least whispers of thought and progress. And aside from the minority of the best, and they are the real thinkers among college youth, there is a general taste for freedom, a taste that is pretty openly manifested and in no light manner by the thousands of young people who are not worrying much over the state of the universe.

A good deal of what is wrong with the universe, if you please, is or has been its unwillingness or inability to face life with a smile, a zest, a dare, and to enjoy frankly the good things of it. A lot of our problems will disappear when we throw off the troubles we needlessly impose upon ourselves by restrictions in the enjoyment of life.

By the side of the college fellows who are not very conventional, even though not thinking very deeply, is a smaller but very important group that is boldly formulating new thoughts; that is turning a liberal and resolute eye on the life-philosophy of its predecessors and professors; that is putting a hand, without fear to some of the biggest social and cultural questions of the day; and, above all, that is demanding freedom. College youth of today is apparently determined to have freedom.

And freedom is enough. Once freedom is attained, other things will follow. It is only in an atmosphere of freedom that a gainful search for the truth can be carried on, or that any problem can be helped toward a solution.

As an example of the desire for freedom, college youth the country over is protesting against compulsory chapel attendance by which religion has long tried to offset the influences of higher education. We may agree that this has never been a great influence in college life. Nevertheless, it has lately been recognized, or squarely challenged as a form of intellectual tyranny.

Similar to this attack on compulsory religion has been the student's opposition to compulsory military training. They object to being problematically saved by Christ's blood or by prospective shedders of human blood against their will.

Again we see the student demanding something to say—and saying it forcibly too—about the government of our colleges, and even the very nature of their studies. Students object to the ruling elders of our colleges changing the curriculum without so much as a by-your-leave. The latter rightly insist that they shall have some choice in what they shall learn, seeing that this learning is more important to them than to anyone else.

Still more significant is the spirit to be observed in the college publications of the country. Here one sees, not merely students expressing new ideas, not demanding this or that right or privilege, not simply pointing out certain evils of academic tyranny, but a kind of a skepticism of the old-fashioned, copybook morality of days that are gone.

Generally, the American college youth is trying to make the university safe for culture and the enjoyment of life. He is taking a good, clear-eyed look at the values of thought and association that enter into his immediate life, and often he is in touch with the larger movements of modernity outside the college. He is demanding that education be made free and intelligent, and that it be not kept apart from life—from the big things as well as the little things of life.

One of the most inspiring things of the present is the spectacle of the college student's revolt against just such a condition.

PHILOMATHEA

A very good inaugural session was enjoyed by Philomatheans and their guests last Friday evening. The retiring Chaplain's address by Doyle A.

Stuckey on "Misconceptions of the Bible" was very well written. The president's valedictory by J. Neely Boyer on the "Outlawry of War" was likewise interesting. Wayne V. Harsha climaxed the evening's program with his inaugural speech on "Signs of Modernity".

Mr. Caldwell, of Porto Rico, the father of E. Caldwell, and Prof. J. S. Engle, spoke impromptu.

The inauguration of officers was conducted by D. A. Stuckey, the chaplain. The president also appointed committees for the ensuing term.

National Y Conference Is Coming To Milwaukee

DEC. 28 TO JAN. 1

Local Y Cabinets May Send One Delegate Each to Great Student Conference.

The first National Conference of its kind will be staged at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, when the National Student Conference meets there from December 28 to January 1. This Conference is being sponsored by the National Council of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s and is a result of a great demand coming from student groups, all over the country for such a conference.

Last year, during the Christmas holidays a student conference was held at Evanston, Illinois, but it was composed of unorganized student groups, while the one this year is an effort to organize the Christian Associations of Colleges from all over the United States into one unit, seeking to discover the religion of Jesus Christ. The aim of the conference will be to discover these resources of Jesus and also the way in which they may be made available in the present student generation.

The program will be designed, therefore, to reveal the contrast between the kind of people we are, the kind of madhouse world we have made for ourselves and the ideals set for us, by Jesus the Teacher of all time.

Courses of reading have been prescribed by the Conference Committee. This reading is to be done before the delegates go to the conference so that a real constructive piece of work may be done there.

Some of the outstanding leaders who will be there are G. A. Studdert Kennedy, Charles W. Gilkey, the college pastor at University of Chicago; Kirby Page, a nationally known leader on the problem of War; Bruce Curry, who is familiar to most of the students on the local campus; and Powers Hapgood.

The cabinets of the local Associations feel that they should not miss this opportunity to send at least one representative from Otterbein. The Conference Committee expects the registration figures to reach 3,000, so the affair is one of tremendous importance.

Announcement will be made later, concerning the action taken by the local cabinets.

Audience of 600 Hears Westminster Singers

60 VOICES IN CHOIR

Present Varied Program Of Pleasing Selections in U. B. Church Monday Evening.

Six hundred people attended the concert given by Dayton Westminster Choir last Monday evening in the United Brethren church. Mr. and Mrs. John Finley Williamson, graduates of Otterbein in the class of 1911, are the directors of the vocal organization.

Tuesday morning the choir gave a special performance in the chapel. The religious number, "Celestial Voices," was the main attraction on this program. A number of townspeople were present.

In the Monday evening program two selections were given for the first time in America. They were the "Fifty-first Psalm" by Johannes Brahms and the "Lord's Prayer" by Samuel Ganes.

Following the concert there was an informal reception in Cochran Hall given the sixty choir singers by the Otterbein College Music Club. The Music Club is responsible for the bringing of the Choir to Westerville. Miss Mabel Eubanks is president.

The entire choir sings entirely without accompaniment of any sort. Perhaps one of the more interesting selections given on the Monday evening program was "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" which for fervor and for beauty of tonal effects, for a kind of soaring delicacy and for haunting appeal, has perhaps never been equaled by any interpretation given here.

Y. W. Studies Japan.

The weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday evening was devoted to a study of Japan. The girls sat upon the floor and the performers were dressed in Japanese costume. Katharine Myers spoke on the position of Japanese women. Mary McKenzie led the devotions. Esther Williamson told a Japanese fairy story, and Lillian Shively sang two Japanese songs.

After the program, tea and biscuits were served.

What Would the Old Folks Talk About If Not About America's Youth?

"In last month's issue of the Cosmopolitan, I read an interesting article by H. G. Wells on the Present Generation.

"You will pardon me if I speak again on the subject of the Younger Generation but I feel that it is a subject which bears repeating. In the August Number of Harpers you will find Percy Marks discussion . . . .

"Dean Henderson says . . . .

Bunk, I say, bunk. If the older generation couldn't talk about the degeneration and evil tendencies of the younger generation, what would they talk about. I fear they would be terribly bored. As it is, I feel that I'm the party that's being bored. To sit through endless sermons and exhortations on one's sins gives me the same feeling as the one experienced when the man from Baker Art inquired in frigid tones whether I never parted my hair and why I wore such an odd outfit to have a picture taken.

I'm through. I don't believe in suppressed desires. I have sat quietly through the last talk on my generation. I shall never again assume the bland expression of one who is being lulled to sleep by the philosophy of the wise one, during such a discourse. I am an honest, upright individual and as such I shall express the dictates of heart and mind from this moment on. The next man who chooses his text from H. G. Wells, Percy Marks or Dean Voight is in danger of receiving the loan of a Chapel hymnal at a most unexpected time.

Why doesn't some high-minded professor spend a few minutes counting the candle lighted rooms in Cochran Hall at the interesting and questionable hours of the night and expound on the dangers of over-work. Why doesn't some liberal friend of students tell us that he approves of the high standard of extra-curriculars on the campus? Why doesn't some thinking professor tell us that he admires the clear cut decisions of youth and the new spirit of freedom? Why?

My dear suffering friends, that is not news. If Percy or H. G. were to tell of the hardships and real work of the average student, the average individual would not read more than the headlines, if it ever got in the headlines. Such is not news. The great craving for the sensational which is innate in man finds satisfaction in the glaring features of the Sunday Supplement or the New World Movement. This is one reason. I think another is that we have the older generation bluffed into being worried about our soul's salvation.

Let me choose a text for the next Chapel exhortation. It shall be: "Blessed is the professor that readeth not in the Sunday Supplement, nor shrinketh from the philosophy of Sherwood Eddy, nor taketh excerpts from the Dearborn Independent. "But his delight is in the joy of the student and of his prowess doth he read from the Sport Page." "He who had ears let him hear."

FRESHMEN WILL CONDUCT Y. M. SESSION TONIGHT

Tonight the Wearers of the Green will have a chance to show forth what knowledge they possess. It is the custom to let the Freshmen have complete charge of one Y. M. C. A. meeting so tonight, under the direction of Louie Weinland, the men of the college will have opportunity to see just what sort of stuff is in our Freshmen.

Louie announces the theme of the meeting as "The Y. M. C. A. Triangle A Exemplified by Jesus." Fred Miller will present the physical side of life as Jesus lived it. The spiritual life will be discussed by David Allaman. Ed Shawen will show the way in which Jesus directed his mental activities. These talks promise to be good for all three men have spent time at Lake Geneva conferences and are well fitted to discuss their respective subjects.

It is likely that the Rev. J. Edgar Knipp, if he is still here, will give a talk.

Levere Breden, accompanied by Oliver Spangler at the piano, will play a violin solo.

Glee Club Personnel Recently Completed

MAY ENTER NEW FIELD

Many New Men Added To Musical Organizations. Plan For Concert Tour.

The personnel of the Otterbein College Men's Glee Club has finally been completed and rehearsals are now being held regularly on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week, under the direction of Prof. A. R. Spessard.

This year's Club gives every indication of measuring up to the high standard of musical program that last years Glee Club offered, and will present as varied and pleasing program as that of last year. Losses due to graduation and other reasons have been filled by new men, solving the yearly problem that always faces the director and the Glee Club.

Eleven new men have been chosen by Prof. A. R. Spessard for this years concert season. J. N. Boyer is the Senior addition; Stanley Kurtz, Ross Miller, and Fred White are the junior men; Wendell Williams, Dean Wise, and Wendell Rhodes compose the Sophomore list of new men; and James Harris, George Eschbach, Fred Miller, and Oliver Spangler represent the Freshmen class. These men are rapidly becoming accustomed to the music and to Glee Club work.

Efforts are being made to book concerts in new territory and towns that have not been visited for a long time, if ever.

Wilbur McKnight is the president and Ellis B. Hatton is the business manager of the musical organization. Efforts are now being made to establish an office in the basement of Lambert Hall.

Russell Declamation Tryouts Come Thursday MUCH INTEREST EXPRESSED

Fourteen Have Already Expressed Intentions Of Trying Out.
$30 In Prizes.

Fourteen students have already signified their intentions of trying out Thursday afternoon in Prof. Raine's classroom for the annual Russell Declamation Contest which will be held sometime before the Christmas vacation. A great deal of live interest and competition is being shown particularly by members of the Public Speaking classes.

Winners of the contest last year were Alice Propst, Dean Wise and John Hudock, first, second and third, respectively.

Each year Dr. Howard H. Russell, founder of the World League Against Alcoholism, donates $30 to the Public Speaking Department to be divided into prizes of $15, $10, and $5.

Dr. Russell, a member of Otterbein's Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity, has always been intensely interested in public speaking work. He has received several state and interstate prizes. Dr. Russell has also established prizes for an oratorical contest on the campus. This contest will be held early in the spring.
