Jubilee Funds Coming Rapidly Say Officials

MANY PROCRASTINATE

All Money Must Be In By Jan. 1 When Education Board Contract Expires.

From every quarter of the territory many payments of pledges on the Jubilee Fund are coming in rapidly. Hundreds of people have already assured officials that their pledges will be paid in 30 days.

The college has men in every corner of the field supervising the collection of the Jubilee pledges, all of which must be collected before January 1 in order to collect the money which the General Education Board will pay the college.

President W. G. Clippinger visited several important charges this week where many large contributions are in various stages of collection.

A number of churches have already paid in full, and a few have overpaid.

The college must know just where it stands by November 15. A meeting of all the field men will be called sometime next week to check up.

Procrastination seems to be a general trait among those who have not paid. However, excellent spirit prevails.

Plantation Singers To Be On Lyceum Nov. 17

FEW UNSOLD TICKETS

Male Quartet Will Give Varied Program Of Southern Selections In Chapel.

Following directly on the heels of the Adanac Male Quartet comes the announcement that the Jackson Plantation Singers will appear in the college chapel as the second number on the Citizen's Lecture and Lyceum Course. The singers will come to Westerville Thursday evening, November 17.

There are still some unsold season tickets according to Dean N. E. Cornetet, chairman of the course. Tickets may be obtained from Ed Hammon at King Hall and Mabel Eubanks at Cochran Hall.

Opening with a plantation scene, this male quartet, organized and coached by Robert Jackson of Kansas City, offers a musical production that is decidedly out of the ordinary. Stage settings and appropriate costuming are used to advantage in the first part of their program, while the latter half is devoted to negro spirituals, southern songs and plantation melodies. Many humorous diversions are introduced.

The Plantation Singers, notable for their close harmony, are the result of the vision and training of Robert Jackson, one of the most outstanding musicians of the colored race.

Juniors Will Stage Mammoth Benefit Circus On December 3

Entertainment after entertainment seems to be in store for Otterbein students; and now as a fitting climax to the pre-Christmas season comes the announcement that the Junior Class will stage a mammoth circus with accompanying side shows in the Association building on Friday evening, December 3. Proceeds will be used by the Juniors to assist in defraying Sibyl expenses.

There will be a menagerie, a tent of freaks, and a gigantic one-ring circus with trapeze performers, clowns, and animals of all sorts. There will also be a number of elephants on deck to entertain the kiddies. A negro clog dancer will provide additional merri-

Friday morning, preceding the evening program, a parade will be staged as an advertising feature.

The committee in charge positively assures everyone that there will be no foolers, and that there will be the money's worth in every show. Continuous performances will be held in every show so that the crowd will be easily handled. A small entrance fee will be charged for each show.

John W. Hudock is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements. Viola Peden, Ruth Trevarrow, Alice Blume, C. E. Boyer, Dorothy Patton and Ellis B. Hatton are the other members of the committee. Ray Pilkington is advertising manager, and Lloyd Yochum is the business manager of the affair.

MAKING TOUR OF COUNTRY

Songsters Have Concert Schedule Every Evening From Now Until Dec. 15.

The Westminster Choir under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. John Finley Williamson, graduates of Otterbein in the class of 1911, presented a varied program in sacred music at the First United Brethren Church last evening. The program was very well received by an appreciative audience.

It is needless to comment on such a performance. Several of their numbers have never been given in this country. The Choir is doing great work in a Crusade for better church music. The Choir come to Otterbein from The Westminster Presbyterian Church of Dayton, Ohio.

BELL-TOLLING EQUIPMENT FINALLY IN OPERATION

The electric bell tolling apparatus, which is the gift of Mr. George Walters of the class of 1902, has been completely installed after several weeks of delay and is now in operation.

Contrary to current opinion no new bell has been installed but simply a striking apparatus for use with the present bell. A master clock in President W. G. Clippinger's office effects full control over the entire system. Two small clocks have also been installed, one in Treasurer J. P. West's office and one in the hall of the Administration building. A complicated electrical mechanism operates independently of the regular light circuit, and is supplied with current from a 12-volt storage battery. The clock now strikes all hours of the twenty-four. The bell can be rung without the use of the equipment.

The bell now tolls about twenty times at six thirty in the morning, strikes the hour at seven, rings about twenty times for a seven-thirty class; one tap at eight-thirty, twenty again at eight thirty-four for chapel assembly; and thence afterwards the mechanism strikes the hour with one tap on the half hour. A five-minute bell is also rung after each class hour is struck.

STUDENT CHEST NOW HAS OVER $1,000 CASH

The committee in charge of the Student Chest Fund has announced that it has about $1000.00 in cash and about $2,000.00 in pledges. A new system of payment has been worked out, the plan being to have a Pay-day every two weeks. On perhaps the 1st and 15th of each month. Unless prompt payment is made on these dates the students will be personally canvassed. The committee spoke highly of the manner in which the student body has responded and feel confident that they will experience no difficulty in securing prompt payment of all pledges.

ADANAC PROGRAM FILLS CHAPEL THURSDAY NIGHT

Canadian Male Quartet Gives Number of Selections in Scotch Costume.

The Chapel was filled last Thursday night when the Adanac Male Quartet appeared as the first number of the local Lyceum Course this season. In no sense was the program a disappointment. The singers not only proved themselves able soloists but sang together with wonderful balance and blending of tone.

Appearing first in Scotch highland costumes the quartet sang a medley of Scotch songs followed by a bass solo, "Roaming in the Gloamin," sung in Harry Lauder style by Mr. Ruthven McDonald. "Lassie O' Mine," "Annie Laurie," two Scotch marches, and a stirring Sailors Chorus completed the first part of the program.

After an intermission in which the quartet was supposed to have journeyed from Scotland to the United States, they began by singing the American classic, "Yes Sir, That's My Baby." The remainder of the program was varied and interesting. "Four Jolly Good Fellows," "The Sandman," "Good Old Close Harmony," "Deep River," and Kipling's "Hymn before Action" were selected by the quartet. A tenor solo, Mother O' Mine, and a duet, tenor and baritone, added pleasing variety. A group of musical dialogues by Mr. McDonald were greatly enjoyed by the audience.

1927 SIBYL TO FEATURE PICTURES OF CLUB ROOMS

As a new feature of this year's issue of the Annual, the Sibyl staff has decided to run a picture of the club rooms along with the write-up of each Social Group.

The individual pictures of the club members will appear on one page, with a picture of some corner of the club rooms on the opposite page. These pictures were taken last Tuesday, along with the pictures of the various organizations that were scheduled for that day.

It is felt that a picture of some cozy corner of the club rooms will appeal more to the Alumni of each group than mere snap-shots of the individual members. Each group of both sexes will thus be afforded an opportunity to see what the rooms of the other clubs look like.

RIVER CITY GRIDDERS DOWN TAN MEN 7-0

By Harry E. Widdoes

Otterbein lost her fifth straight football game last Saturday afternoon to Marietta in a wierd game by a 7-0 score. It was Marietta's first victory of the present season. It was a rough game in which one member of each team was disqualified for unnecessary roughness. More yards were lost by each team from penalties than were gained from scrimmage.

Marietta scored early in the game when Lafferty caught a fifteen-yard pass from Reif and raced twenty-five yards for a touchdown. Reif kicked goal.

Not long after that Schott made it first down on Marietta's 10-yard line when he broke through the line for 35 yards. Otterbein failed to make first down and Marietta took the ball on the 2-yard line. A little later, after an exchange of punts when Reif punted out of bounds on his own 25-yard line Otterbein was again in position to score. Pinney made four yards on two tries at the center of Marietta's line and Pilkington passed ten yards to Snively on the 11-yard line but the last play was called back and Otterbein was penalized fifteen yards for holding. At no other time in the first half was either team within scoring distance. Just before the half ended Marietta completed a long pass that gave them first down on Otterbein's 21-yard line but the gun ended the period before more plays could be called.

Early in the second half an Otterbein penalty gave Marietta possession of the ball in the vicinity of Otterbein's 20-yard line. Two plays later however Lambert broke through the line and threw Reif for an eleven-yard loss when he attempted to pass and Otterbein took the ball on the next play when Reif's attempted drop kick was wide.

The next break in the game came late in the third quarter when Reif intercepted a pass from Pilkington in mid-field and started for the goal line with four men running interference. Pilkington spilled the interference and Crawford downed Reif on the eight yard line. Otterbein took the ball a little later on the 20-yard line when a Marietta pass was incomplete over the goal line on the fourth down.

About the middle of the last period Marietta made three first downs in succession and took the ball to Otterbein's 16-yard line but Otterbein held for downs and took the ball on the 10-yard line.

An exchange of punts and several penalties ending with a sixteen-yard pass from Pilkington to Snively carried the ball to Marietta's 33-yard line. The next play was a pass from Pilkington to Reigle but it was just close enough for Ernie to deflect it enough so that Reif could intercept it.

Each team made seven first downs. Otterbein attempted sixteen passes and Marietta seventeen. Each team completed six. Marietta intercepted four of Otterbein's passes and Otterbein was awarded the ball on one of Marietta's when Minnich was roughed attempting to intercept it.

The Otterbein line played as good a defensive game as usual but the offensive was not up to standard.

Captain Snively played his usual good game. He made nice catches of three passes from Pilkington besides doing excellent punting. Reigle caught the other three passes, pulling them down in each case with two or three men hanging on him.

Reif and Lafferty played best for Marietta.

Otterbein Women Have Part In Music Club Program.

Mrs. S. Edwin Rupp and Mrs. Mabel Starkey were assistant hostesses at a meeting of the Westerville Women's Club held at the home of Mrs. E. J. Norris last Tuesday afternoon.

A paper, entitled "Leading American Orchestras", was read by Miss Hazel Barngrover, instructor in violin and stringed instruments. Mrs. R. K. Edler presented a paper with "Opportunities in Symphony Orchestras for American Pupils" as its title.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY; 'T WASN'T THE ALARM

"Hey! What time is it? Did the alarm go off, is it 6:30 already, whet'll I wear today, turn on the light, somebody!"

One brave and gallant person, living by the Diamond Rule alone, jumps out of bed and madly claws the walls with her hands, until she finds the little magic button, which produces light. This she punches and suddenly the room is filled with that fomous soft and mellow glow."

Terror-stricken, she gazes at Ingersoll, who replies to her unspoken question, "Yes Madam, it is only eleven bells!" In frenzy she rushes to the mirror to see if she is dreaming but, no, she is the same little self. Calmly, steadily, distinctly the bell clangs away and what an hour for such a procedure!

Unbelievable! Incomprehensible! What was the object of the donor? Who would dare to present the college with a device for disturbing the peaceful slumbers of the little ones, suffering because of lack of sleep.

Regardless of all accusations against it, the bell keeps sending forth deep rich tones upon the nearing-midnight air.

By this time, a crowd is assembled. Some insist that it can possibly be nothing but a fire while others are nonchalantly counting the strokes as they clearly float along upon the breeze.

"Whats the use," someone groans sleepy, tired and bored, each person slowly winds her way back to her waiting pillow, having formed the conclusion that the bell was suffering from a bad attack of hydrostatic hydro-mania.

However, each persons mind was cleared the next morning when President Clippinger fully explained the disease, which had had such a dead grip upon the dear little bell which had tolled 697 times the evening before.

ATTITUDE TOWARD NEGROES

One of the recent phases of general college revolt which is worthy of present note is the determination to face the radical question in a tolerant, civilized spirit. Are the Negro young men and women to have their full, unobstructed, unprejudiced share in the advantages of Education? Shall they be treated, educationally and otherwise, as human beings?

Definite steps toward an honest treatment of this question have been made in at least two universities, the University of Michigan and the University of Chicago. Groups composed of both white and colored students (the Negro-Caucasian Club of the University of Michigan and the Interracial Discussion Group of Chicago U.) have been organized in both universities to study this question in a spirit of mutuality.

Compromises will not be made easily, nor will prejudices be wiped out in a short time.

Negro girls are not admitted, for instance to the women's dormitories at Chicago University, although negro young men can live in the men's dormitories. Wherein is the difference?

Although there is no ruling in Otterbein regarding negro life in Otterbein, a negro girl was practically refused admittance to the dormitories, and as a result left the college. The refusal was based almost entirely, we believe, upon the attitude displayed by the women already living in the dormitory.

However, no such attitude is present in the men's dormitory. Again we ask, wherein is the difference?

With such senseless discriminations in force, it is apparent that there is much work for inter-racial student groups to do.

CRIMINALLY FOOLISH FUN

From Pennsylvania comes an instance of college horseplay in which it was only the fortunate turn of chance that prevented the death of the victim. A freshman was seized and blindfolded and then led upon the main highway and left to grope his way to safety. The hazers took the chance that he would find his way to the side of the road before an automobile came along, or that drivers would see his plight in time to avoid striking him, but the chance went the other way. That he was only badly injured, and not killed outright, was due merely to chance and not any precautions on the part of those who had placed him, blind-folded, in the pathway of traffic.

The president of Westminster college informs the public that the hazers in this case have been severely disciplined, though what was considered sufficiently severe for risking another's life in this criminally foolish way, we are not told. Ohio has not forgotten a somewhat similar case, years ago, in which a young life was actually sacrificed. It is true in a way that there is no criminal intent in such cases, but it is time for college boys to learn that there is a certain degree of moral criminality in taking any such risks. Such a failure to heed the dictates of ordinary common sense, in matters where peril to human life is involved, has no rational excuse.—Columbus Dispatch.

GRADING PROFS

I wonder if there would be even a "first wave of wrath" if a system of grading the faculty were put into effect? I for one faculty member would like to see it tried, and I know of other faculty members who would welcome such a system.

Grading simply shows up a weakness, and why should one not welcome knowing his weak points? Frank and open criticism should result in a more healthful atmosphere than often exists when the failings of instructors are discussed merely among the students themselves. How are we to know what pleases or displeases, what students find helpful, and what they believe to be detrimental, if the students do not make these things known to us? A student would surely be kind enough to tell an instructor if he had accidentally placed his vest on wrong side out, or if his sox supporters were dangling. Why not, in the same spirit of kindness, tell the instructor about other faults, faults that to him may not be evident and may easily be overcome?

Students, let's co-operate.

LETTERS OF AN OTTERBEIN FRESHMAN

Oct. 31, 1926
Westerville, Ohio

Mr. Ira Hayseed
Hog Run Kentucky

Dear Paw:

Yours of the 13th incandescent received with much "Quod Erat Demonstratum" as Paul Revere affectionately remarked to the Queen of Sheba just before the massacre of St. Bartholomew and was very sorry to hear of the row that ensued among the members of the Hog Run Jazz Orchestra last Saturday night when Ernie Hillaker carelessly forgot to remove his quid of chewing tobacco from his mouth before getting into action with his jewsharp. Honest Paw, that bird is so dumb that he probably thinks the Mongolian race is a speed festival held annually each year for motor vehicles at Indianapolis, Ind.

Last Saturday we had a football game, and of course, I went to see it. Football, Paw, is an alleged sport which, as far as I could see, contains all the more violent and undesirable features of a race riot, an Irish panic, and the mob scene from "Romeo and Juliet". The main weapons used were eleven men on a side, a foot ball which is the same as an undersized basketball which has been flattened at both ends, two goal posts, and a pasture field which has been lined off in white like a downtown street corner. There is also the gridiron in use I'm told, but I looked for it all afternoon and the nearest thing to it I could see was the tin bucket which they used to water the combatants with occasionally.

As for the game itself, I didn't quite get the hang of it. At first I thought that the idea was to get hold of the ball and keep it; then, after the efforts of some of the Muskingum backfield men, I decided that the idea was to get rid of the ball. But some guy told me that the main idea was to carry the ball ten yards in four downs, each down consisting of the bird carrying the ball doing a nose-dive into the mud while everyone who happened to be anywhere near at the time jumped up and down on the middle of his anatomy. I was balled up a little by the fact that I had always heard of foot ball players "hitting the line" and I was sure watching to see if they would do it. But in spite of the fact that the line was carried all handy-like between two clothes-poles by a couple of guys over at the side, I didn't see anybody try to hit it even once.

We did almost score several times but a bird in a white shirt and a pair of bloomers which was too small for him didn't want to see the game get one-sided or anything so he took the ball away from us and gave it to those big hams on the other side. But he's just that type. They had to stop and dig someone out of the mud every few minutes, so that no one would get lost.

It has been raining so much since school started that everytime I look in the mirror, I expect to find myself developing fins and a cold expression around the eyes.

Which I guess will have to be all for this time, as my roommate is snoring in seven languages, including the Scandinavian, and the only things I can think of are prussic acid and floral offerings.

Hoping this finds you the same. Your loving son, res'y yours,
Happy Happen.

VARSITY BASKET BALL MAY BEGIN THIS WEEK

Varsity basket ball is due to start some time this week. Coach Edler has not decided yet what day it will begin.

A good squad is expected to report with a liberal sprinkling of letter men and near letter men. There is also expected some fair material from last year's Freshman squad. There will be plenty of material but it will take some time to find men capable of filling the two posts left vacant when Porosky and Widdoes graduated.

Coach Edler's job will be to develop some body who can fill these places as well as they were filled last year.

LOANS STUDY ANIMALS

Mr. A. B. Clark, instructor at Westerville High School, loaned an interesting cage of rats for use at Otterbein this week. The cage contains a pair of hybrid rats and their litter of young being a splendid example of how the Mendelian law work out when white and wild grey rats are crossed.

Mr. Clark is a wide-awake young teacher and has shown a fine attitude towards Otterbein College. He has loaned a freak siamese twin pig for study, and has a cage of young flying squirrels, some of which will likely be placed, mounted, in the museum.

STUDENT RETREAT TO BE AT OHIO WESLEYAN DEC. 3-5

Many From Otterbein May Attend Meetings

DISCUSSED BY LOCAL Y

Responsibility Of Church In Making Of Christian World Order Major Topic.

A student retreat for a discussion of international relations from the Christian viewpoint is to be held at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, December 3-5. The initiative for this proposed student gathering rests with the Continuation Committee of the Evanston Interdenominational Student Conference. The Commission on International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches is cooperating in this project. The Committee on Christian World Education of the Council of Christian Associations has also been asked to lend a hand.

The conference will meet in the "Bill" Street Methodist Episcopal Church, just off the Ohio Wesleyan Campus. The first meeting of the retreat is scheduled for Friday Evening, December 3. Preliminary statements will be made by at least three students and by Walter W. Van Kirk, of the Federal Council of Churches. Without further formalities the discussions will begin. The conference will continue through Sunday afternoon, December 5. A more detailed program will be issued shortly.

What is the responsibility of the Church in the establishment of a Christian world order? It is around this major question that the discussion will center. What have college young people to say on this burning question? The future policy of the church with regard to this issue is to be determined by the youth of America and other lands.

A syllabus of topics, problems and suggestions for study groups on the general theme "The Churches and World Peace" may be secured by writing to the Federal Council offices, 105 East 22nd Street, New York, N. Y. "The Churches of America and Armistice Week" may also be secured from this office. Then there is a booklet entitled "A Basic of Unity for American Participation in International Cooperation for World Peace", which will be sent on request by the World

Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Who Is Eligible.

Any college student in the State of Ohio is eligible for participation in this conference. There will be no registration fee. Delegates will be asked to pay their own traveling expenses to and from the Conference. Local entertainment will be furnished by the Ohio Wesleyan Committee. Students who are planning to attend this Conference should send their names at once to Walter W. Van Kirk, 105 East 22nd Street, New York, N. Y. The resolutions and findings of this Conference will be made available through the college, religious and secular press to college groups elsewhere.

Already word comes that delegates will be present from Ohio State University, Miami, Oberlin and Marietta. Ohio Wesleyan, of course, will have a splendid delegation. Every college and university in the State of Ohio should have one or more representatives at this Conference.

Otterbein undoubtedly will have a very large number of delegates to this convention. The convention was discussed in a Y. M. C. A. cabinet meeting last Tuesday evening.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Section A of Christian Endeavor was led by Ruth Hayes Sunday night on the topic "Races in America."

Various members from the society gave views on the subject by means of discussion talks, giving answers to questions, and debate. The conclusion arrived at was that foreigners of the desirable type should be given entrance to our country, and that americanization should be fostered.

Herbert Ervin and Everett Snyder played a clarinet and cornet duet.

Kenneth Echart and James Bright witnessed the game at Marietta, Saturday.

Will Take Stab at Hiram Saturday

Next Saturday afternoon Otterbein will close the present foot ball season when the Tan team jounries northward to meet Hiram.

Hiram has not won a game so far this season and what's more they have't scored a point in a conference game. They have had a total of 159 points scored on them.

Otterbein's record to date is not better. The Tan team has not won a game since Findlay was defeated in a non-conference game. It has however scored a touchdown and a field goal and has only had scored against it a total of 66 points.

Only three men graduate this season but they are all three valuable men. Captain Snavelly is probably best known to the side line coaches and his place will be hard to fill. He is a sure tackler and an excellent punter besides being the best receiver of forward passes on the team.

The other two men who will play their last for Otterbein next Saturday are Schear, center, and Lambert, guard. So far this season they have't missed a minute of play and their places will be difficult to fill. Schear has passed faultlessly this year and Lambert's ability to break through the line and down opposing ball toters is too well known to need futher mention.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. L. M. COLLIER

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Winifred Reed Collier, aged 27, who died early Monday morning following a long illness. Mrs. Collier was a former Otterbein student, and was the wife of Lawrence M. Collier who was graduated from Otterbein in 1923. The services were held at the home of Mrs. Alice Reed, 131 West Home street.

Rev. R. T. Stimmel, pastor of the M. E. Church, officiated at the funeral. Burial was made in Otterbein cemetery by Earl F. Keyes.

O C

Contribution Falls Short.

The results of the collection taken between periods of the Otterbein-Muskingum game show that only $12.56 was actually collected. However it has been provided that one-fourth of one percent of the total seasons proceeds shall go to the Walter Camp memorial fund. This means that $19.42 will be added making a total of $31.98 which falls $18.02 short of the amount required to have the name of Otterbein College placed on the memorial gateway to the Yale Bowl at New Haven, Conn.

Unless this deficiency is made up by interested persons within the next few days, Otterbein will forfeit her right to have her name recorded in memory of the father of foot-ball.

JUNIOR CLASS SELECTS RING AND PIN DESIGN

The members of that class next to the top in years of scholastic attainment, namely the Juniors, report that they are about to display themselves in a glittering and gorgeous manner, by wearing their class pins and rings.

The committee on selection of jewelry, headed by Lois Armentrout, narrowed down the possible types of designs which could be used to one of unusual attractiveness. At a meeting held Wednesday morning the class voted to accept the design. All orders for either rings or pins were to be in the hands of the committee by last Saturday evening.

The rings will be yellow gold, with a broad shank. The figures for the year of graduation will be cut on the sides below the design. A large gold O will appear in the middle of the design surrounded by black enamel. The pins will be the same except the numerals will be on a chain or guard.

The prices of these proposed articles of adornment are to be: rings $6.50; pins without guard $3.50; pins with guard $4.75. The Herff-Jones Co., of Indianapolis, Indiana, has the contract for the work.

Jelly Fish Discovery Causes Stir in Zoological Circles

The discovery of fresh water jelly fish in an artificial lake near Coshocton by Prof. Raymond Osborn, head of the department of Zoology and Entomology at Ohio State University, has created quite a stir in zoological circles.

A specimen of the jelly fish is being sent to every college in the state, one of which will come to Otterbein. This fish is found in only four other localities in America. Prof. Hanawalt's zoology class is now studying the ocean jelly fish so the find is an opportunity one for further study.
