Acknowledging and actively working toward democratic ideals in a living world society, Otterbein College adheres to her major purpose: to discover, to motivate, and to train intellectual leaders in every student generation through development academically, spiritually, physically, and socially. Otterbein College is devoted primarily to a program of Liberal Arts Education ... a college education truly being the students'

KEY TO TOMORROW

Otterbein College . . . Westerville, Ohio . . . twelve miles north-, east of Columbus . . . State Route 3 . . .

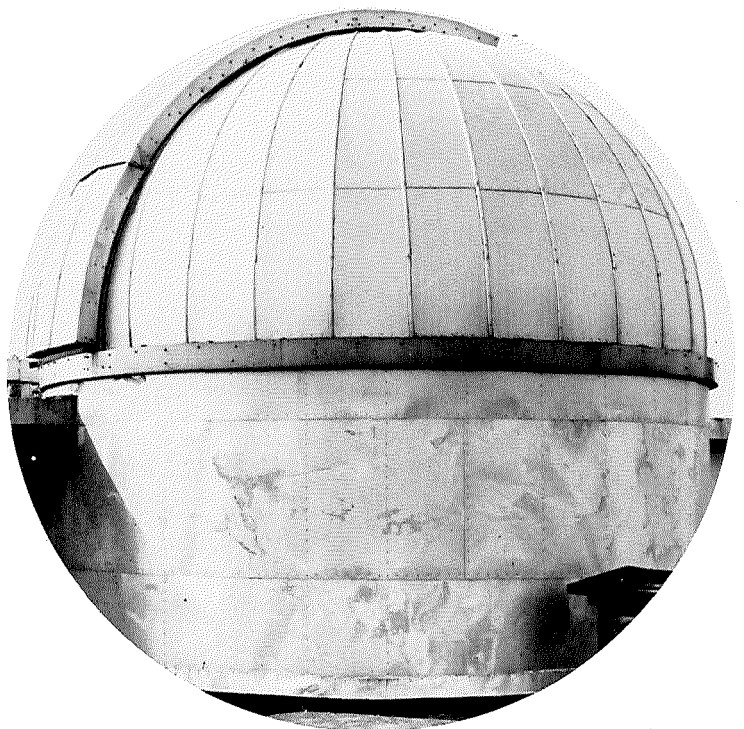

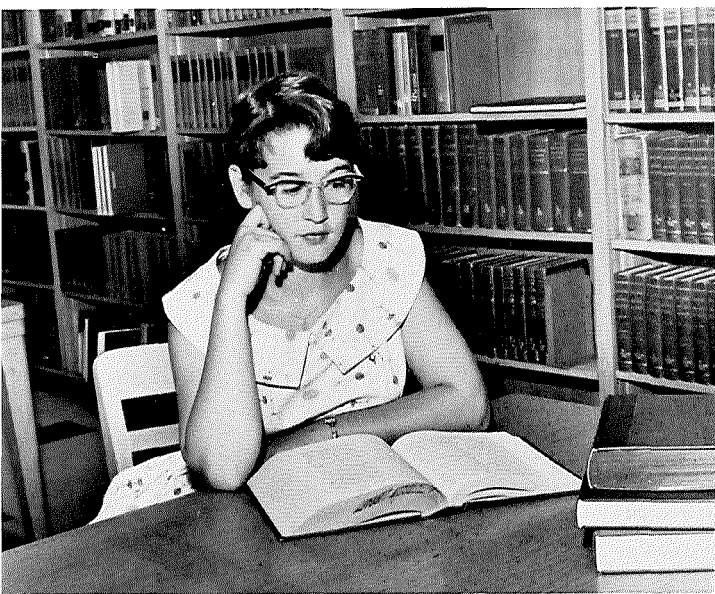

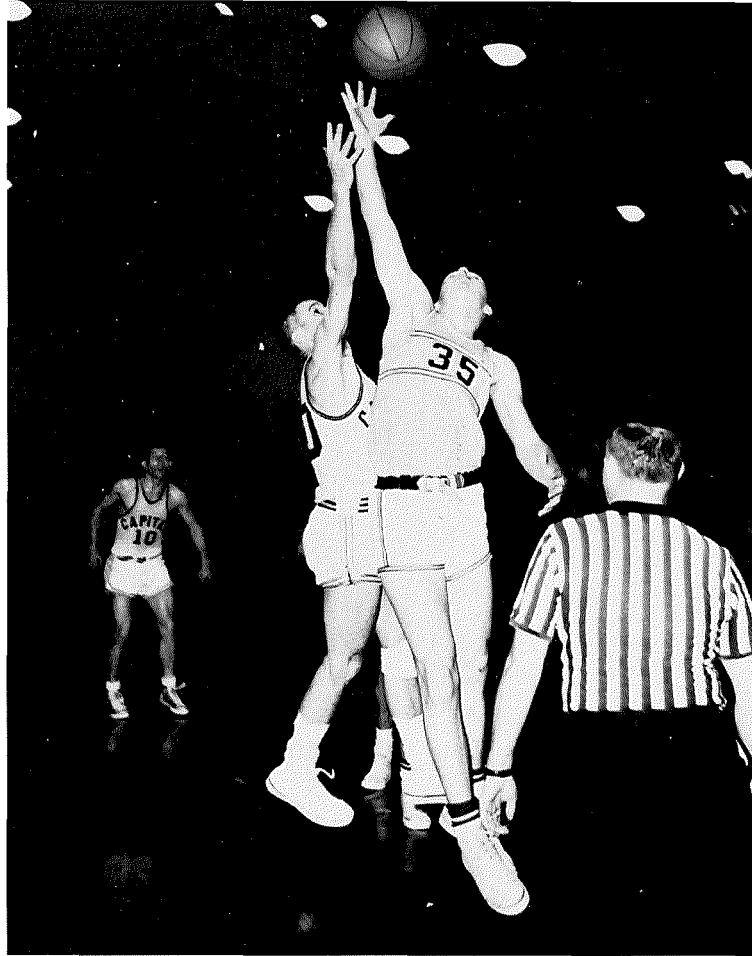

Located in the geographic center of Ohio, the college campus covers more than forty acres. From its beginning in 1847, Otterbein has been co-educational. It was the second college in the world to admit women on an equal basis with men. Academic standards are high at Otterbein, and the College is on the approved list of every major accrediting body.

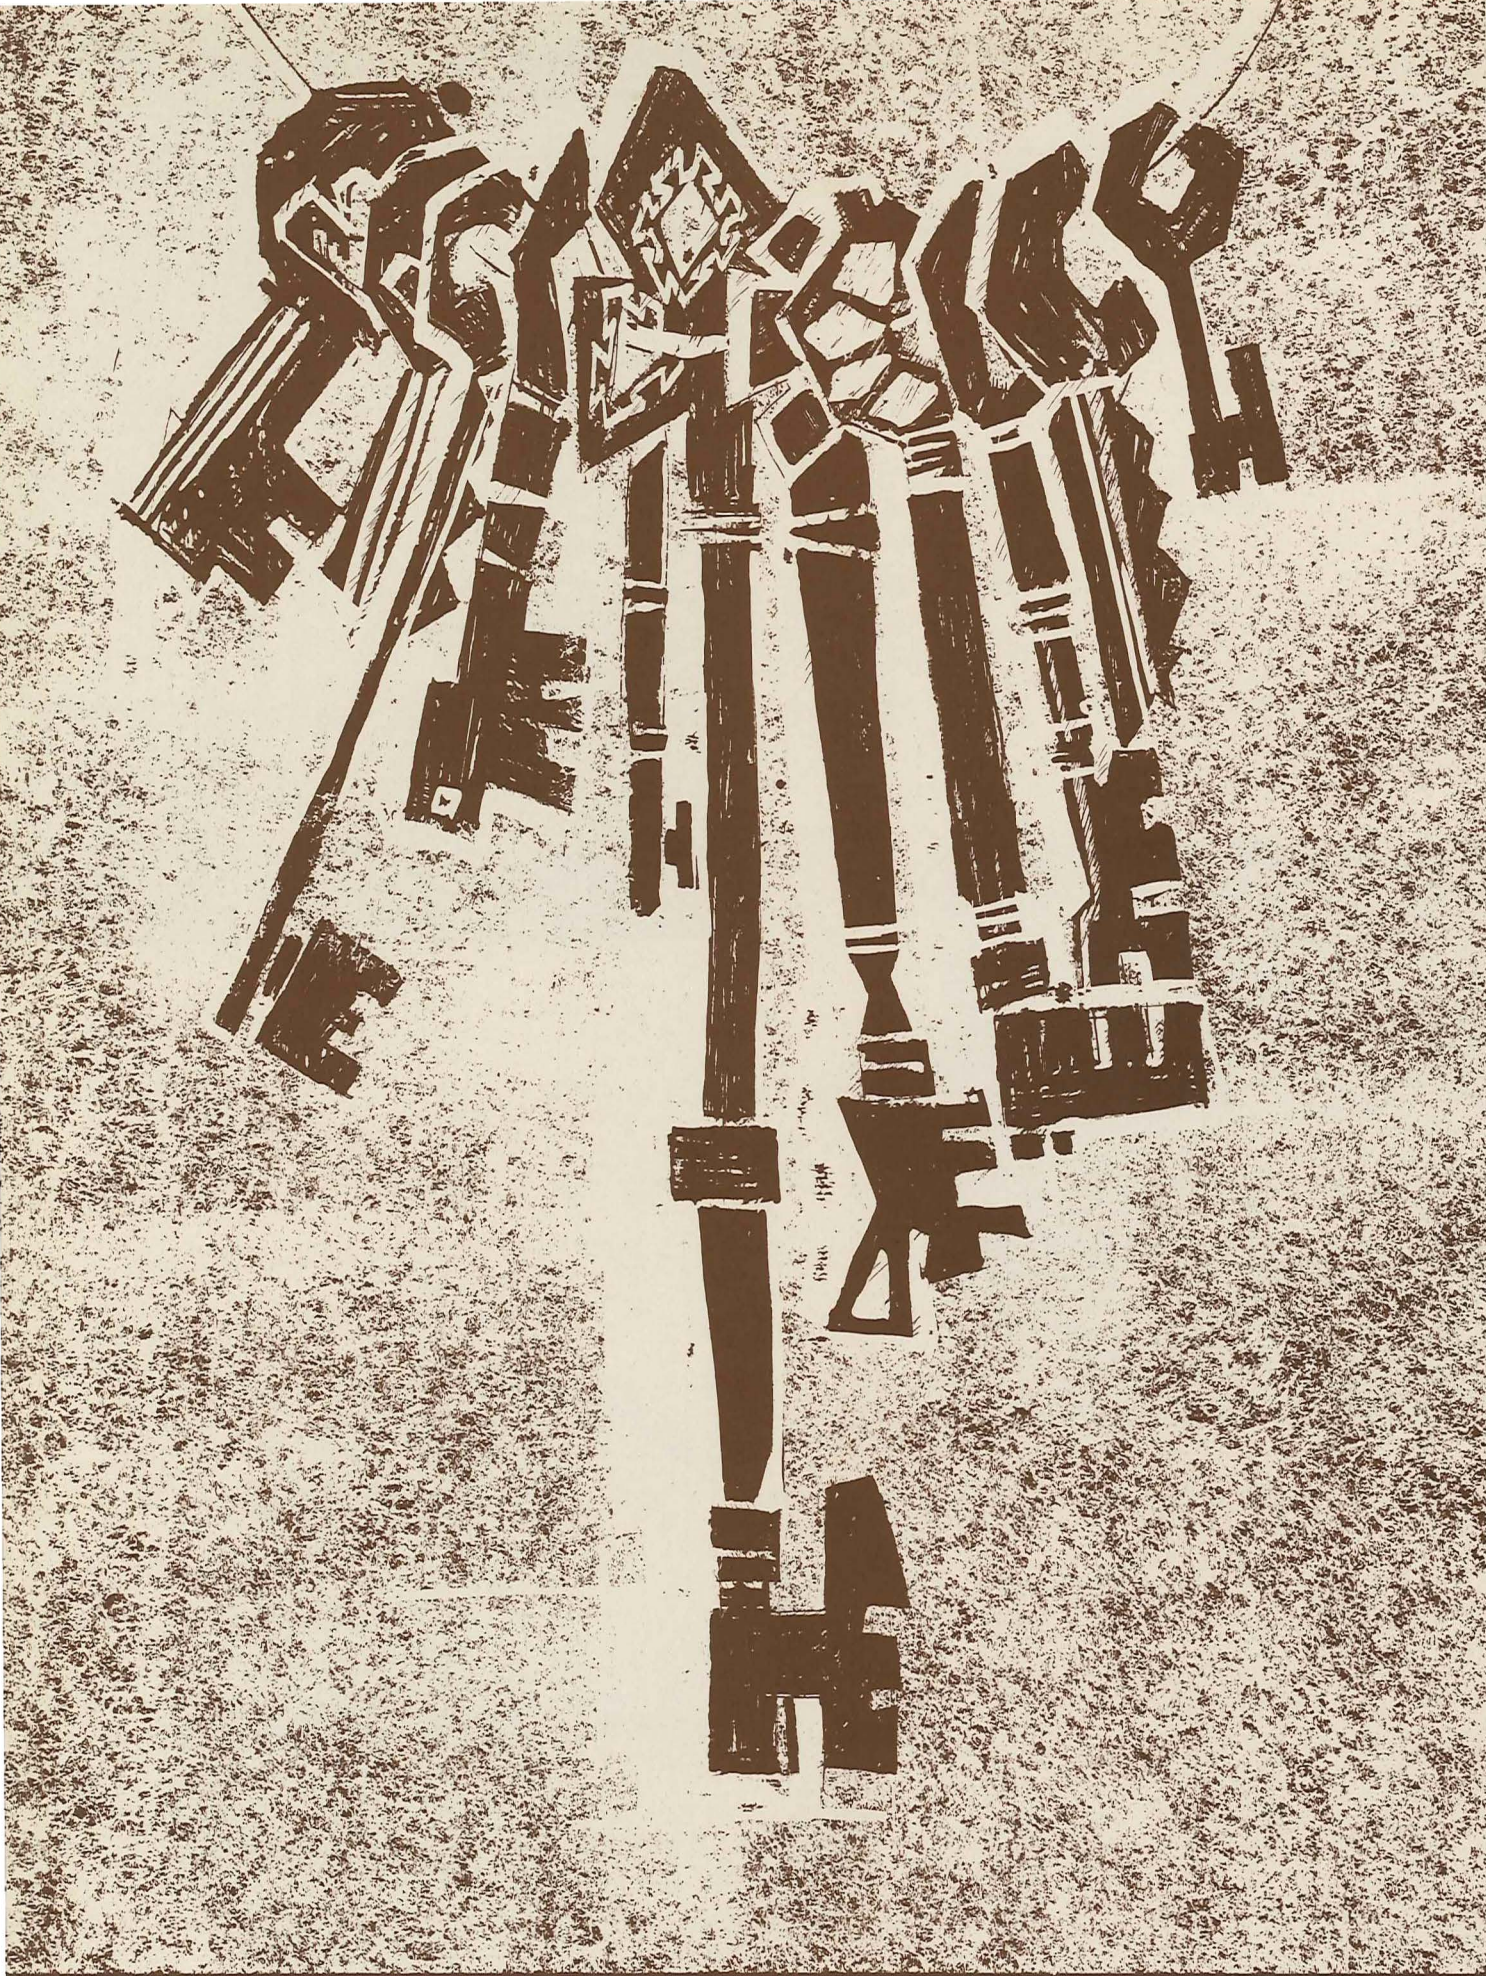

Friendly ... co-educational ... accredited ...

One word, friendliness, characterizes the Otterbein campus. "Hi, Walt," ... "Hello, Barb," ... "Good morning, Prof," are characteristic salutations on a campus of nine hundred students, such as Otterbein's. Here, the students explore the mysteries of science, the joys of literature, and the satisfaction of the arts. They seek to understand the heritage of the past in relation to the present. As a community of persons from all walks of life and from all over the world, the Otterbein campus serves as a laboratory for the development of techniques and patterns of the Christian tradition and of the democratic way of life at its best.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT

OF THE

COLLEGE

Lynn W. Turner, President of Otterbein College.

President and Mrs. Turner.

Guiding and directing the curriculum of the college is our President, Dr. Lynn W. Turner. Liberal giver of a friendly "hello," Dr. Turner exemplifies himself as a staunch believer of the Otterbein friendly spirit. Visiting alumni clubs and attending conventions and meetings are only a portion of his out-of-town activities. On campus, his main job is the co-ordination of the work of the faculty, deans, and trustees. Working through a "campus roundtable" of administration officials and student leaders organized to discuss college problems, the Ten Year Program is being realized.

COLLEGE

DEANS

D. Waas, Dean of the College.

Counselor . . . friend . . . teacher . . . co-ordinator of student government and activities . . . these are only a few of many phases in the work of our deans-Dr. David A. Waas, Dean of the College; Miss Hannah M. Frank, Dean of Women; Mr. Marion C. Chase, Dean of Men. Scheduling of extra-curricular events, class attendance, and chapel attendance are handled by the deans.

H. Frank, Dean of Women.

M. Chase, Dean of Men.

REGISTRAR

F. Vance, Registrar.

Dean's lists and probation lists constitute the extremes of forms issued by the Registrar's office. Somewhere between the two lies the job of handling placement services and records. These tasks are capably performed by Mr. Floyd J. Vance, Registrar, and his assistant, Mr. Pete Baker.

P. Baker, Assistant to the Registrar.

ASSISTANT

TO THE

REGISTRAR

DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

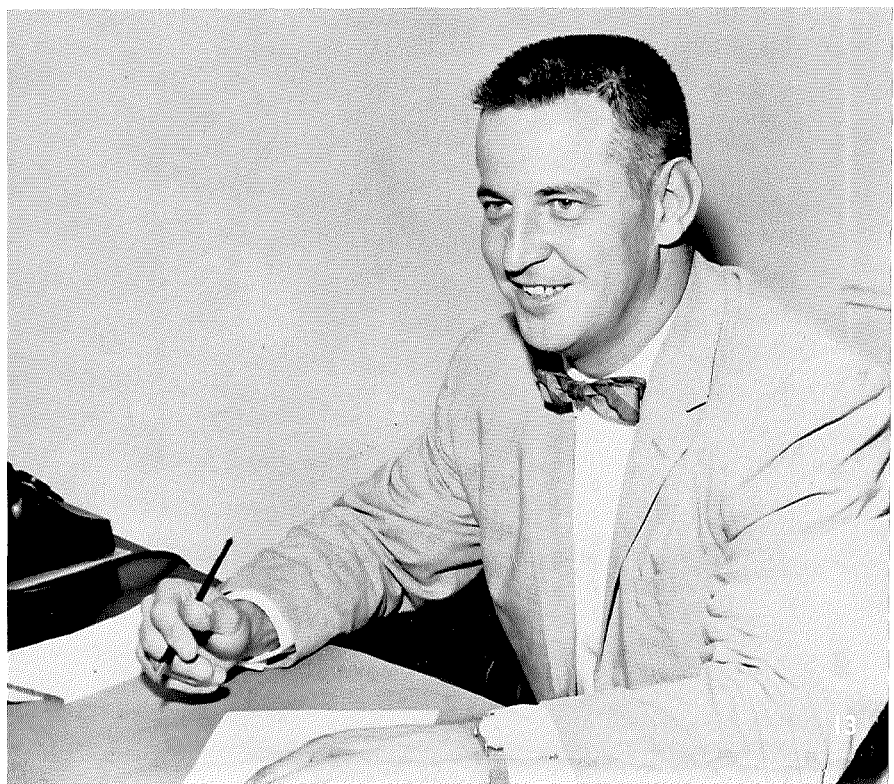

A. Schultz, Director of Public Relations.

As Director of Public Relations, Reverend Arthur Schultz is kept busy collecting news and publicizing the latest campus happenings here at Otterbein. He is also concerned with alumni affairs and edits the alumni magazine, The Towers.

Mr. Richard Pflieger and Mr. Eisley Witt have joined the administrative staff this year as admissions counselors. These men are kept busy the year round meeting and interviewing prospective Otterbein students.

R. Pflieger, Admissions Counselor.

ADMISSIONS COUNSELORS

W. Ladley, Assistant Treasurer; A. Horn, Treasurer.

TREASURER

To Mr. Albert Horn, College Treasurer, and Mr. Walter Ladley, Assistant Treasurer, belongs the never-ending task of collecting bills and keeping records of students' accounts.

W. Miller, Vice-President in Charge of Development.

DEVELOPMENT

Dr. Wade S. Miller, Vice-President in Charge of Development, is responsible for all fund raising activities of the college. He is kept busy conducting annual gift programs for the alumni and soliciting special gifts, bequests and annuities.

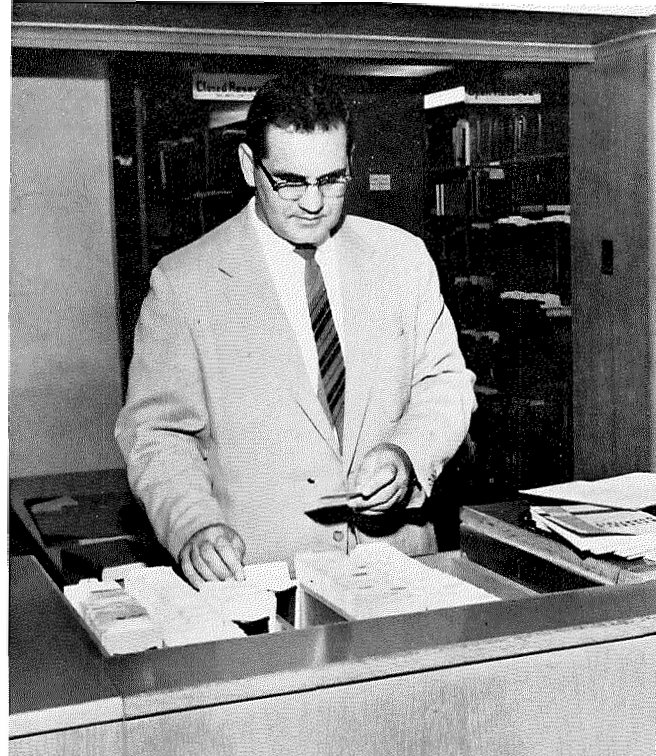

S. Frye, Business Manager.

BUSINESS MANAGER

With Mr. Sanders A. Frye at the helm, a hard working crew of maintenance men keep the campus well-groomed. The men include janitors, carpenters, electricians, truck drivers, and general handymen with tasks varying from pouring concrete sidewalks to constructing new dormitories.

J. Becker, Librarian.

LIBRARIAN

A familiar face to most "studious" Otterbein scholars is that of Mr. John Becker. Mr. Becker and his staff, which includes Mrs. McKenzie, Mrs. Hersberger and Mrs. Miller, are willing at all times to aid the students in the use of our beautiful library.

CHAPLAIN

J. Recob, Chaplain.

The duties of Reverend James B. Recob are two-fold. As our college chaplain he works as a counselor and a guide to students, and also as part-time instructor in the Religion Department.

R. Botts, secretary; M. Crane, R. N.

Flu epidemics, measles, poison ivy, colds, cuts, sprains, and headaches are among the multitude of illnesses treated each year by our staff of nurses. Headed by Mrs. Mildred Crane, the staff consists of Mrs. Rose Kintigh; Miss Ann Cherry; Miss Adelie Bence; and Mrs. Ruth Botts, secretary.

COOKS

Year in and year out nothing provides so much attention and subject for controversy as the dining hall. Each year the complaints pour in but these are all seriously considered and most requests for special services are reasonably answered. In the long run most students agree that the food is even better than can be expected. This year under the direction of Head Dietician, Miss Alice Reinheimer, and her assistant, Mrs. Esther Jacobs, a new arrangement for Sunday meals has been instituted which has proven to be enjoyable to all.

LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

The English Department, led by Dr. Robert Price, is concerned both with composition and language and the aesthetics and history of literature. Creative writing is encouraged by contests, such as the Barnes Short Story Contest and the Roy Burkhart Poetry Contest, and by Quiz and Quill, the honorary creative writing society sponsored by the department.

SPEECH AND DRAMA

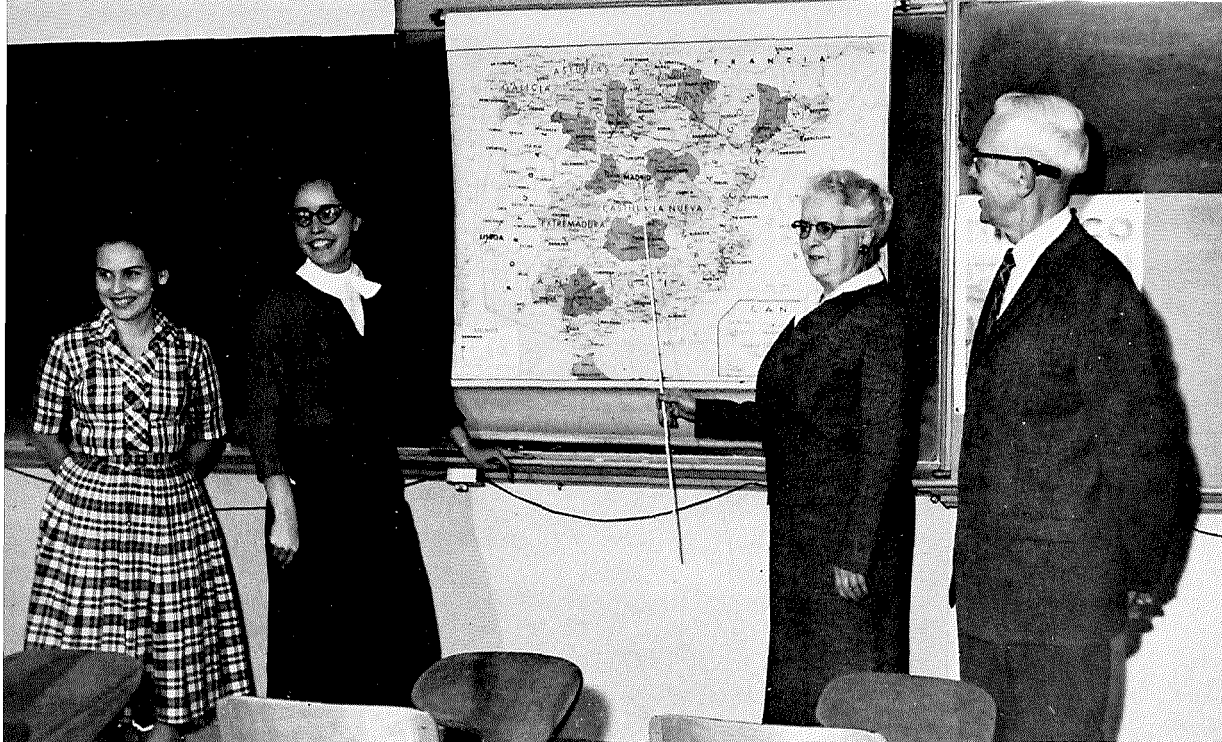

Located in the "lower mezzanine" of Cowan Hall, the Department of Speech and Drama sponsors many activities, such as oratory contests, debate tournaments, dramatic presentations, and the radio station WOBN. Five major fields are: public speaking, theater, radio-TV, speech science, and speech education. Organizations sponsored by the department are: Cap and Dagger, the debate team, and Theta Alpha Phi and Pi Kappa Delta, national dramatic and forensic honoraries respectively.

Dr. Grissinger, Mr. Thayer, Mr. Dodrill.

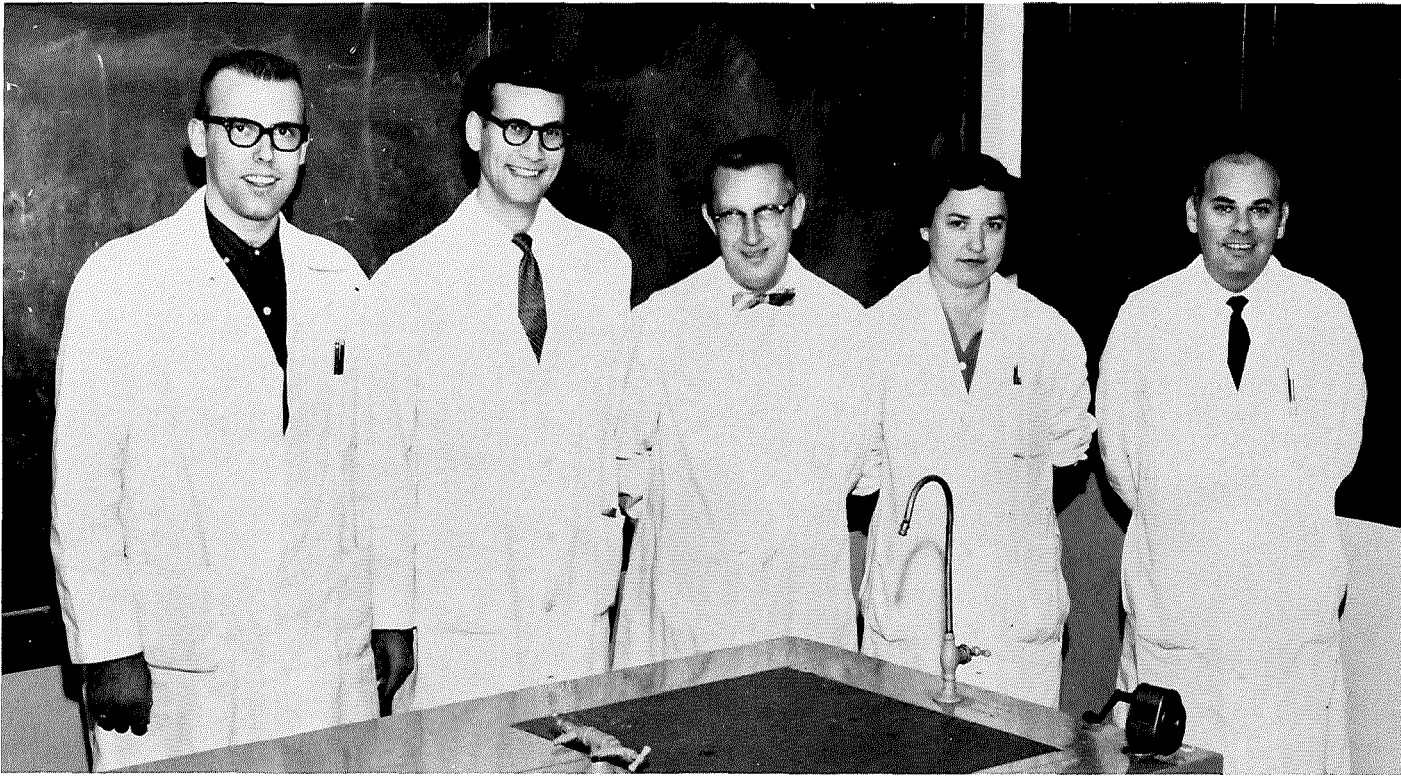

Miss Gutierrez, Miss Axline, Miss Wilson, Dr. Mills.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Science majors are no longer the only students to spend much of their time in a laboratory. In the language "lab," the student learns to perfect pronunciation and increase his ability of self-expression in French, Spanish, and German. Headed by Dr. Gilbert Mills, the foreign language department, including Greek, attempts to broaden the student's knowledge of the life and manner of thinking of foreign peoples and also sponsors Phi Sigma Iota.

Miss Lambert, Dr. O'Bear, Dr. Rosselot.

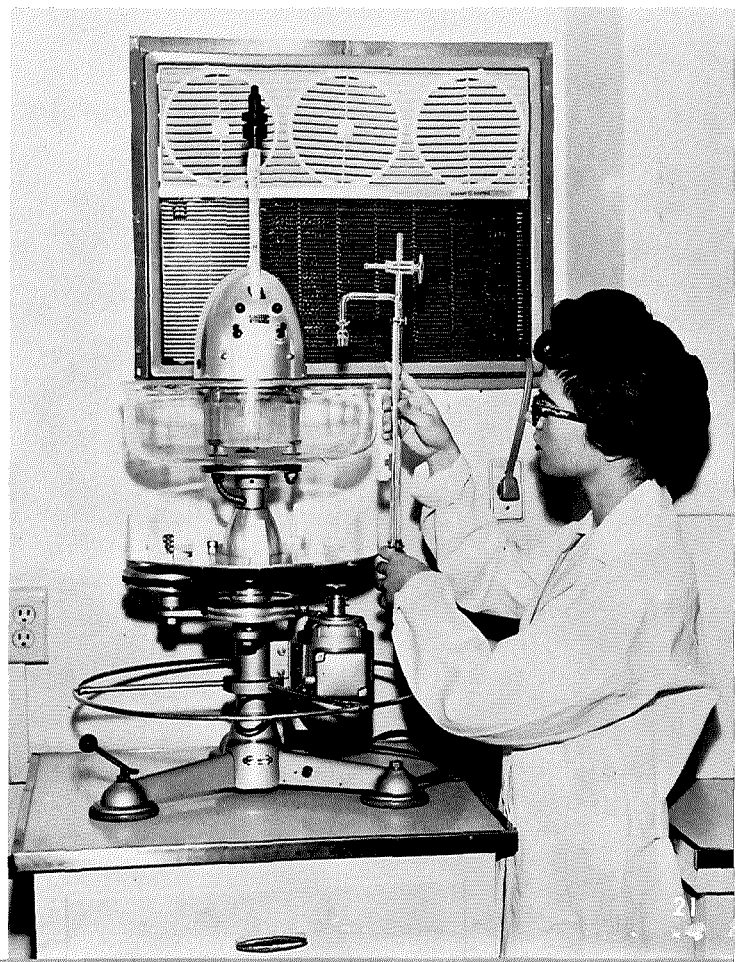

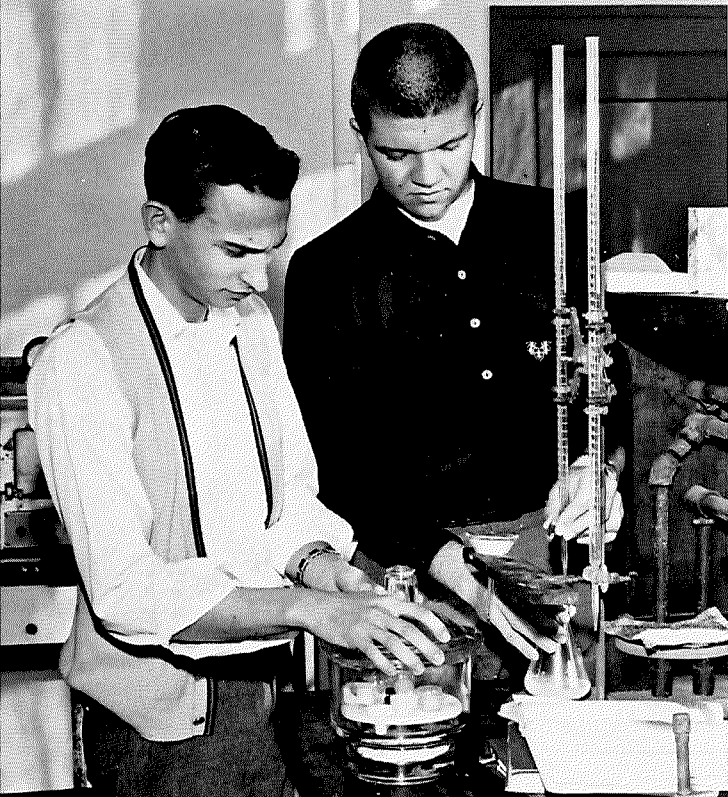

Mr. Weber, Mr. Norvell, Mr. Botts, Dr. Willis, Dr. Grodner.

BIOLOGY

The biology student obtains a better understanding of life-its origins, growth, and development, all of which are increasing the importance of biology today. Under the leadership of Professor Charles Botts, the department offers courses ranging from general zoology and botany for any student to specific fields for majors preparing for medicine, nursing, medical technology, and education. Of special importance is the promotion of individual student research in excellently equipped laboratories.

J. Pohner inspects Warburg apparatus for use in Physiology research.

CHEMISTRY

Chemistry students at work in Quantitative Analysis laboratory.

Headed by Dr. Lyle J. Michael, the chemistry department offers preparation for industry, research, and education. Biology majors supplement their work with organic and general chemistry, while pre-med students are required to take one semester of quantitative analysis. Chemistry majors add chemical German, calculus, and physics to their departmental requirements. Along with the other science departments, the chemistry department sponsors Sigma Zeta and Alpha Epsilon Delta, national science honoraries. Every chemistry major knows the thrill of titrating a solution until cross-eyed, or opening a furnace to find his favorite beaker melted.

Mr. Esselstyn, Dr. Turley, Dr. Michael, Mr. Crane.

MATHEMATICS

Due to the present emphasis upon science, students especially need to have a conception of the significance and contribution of mathematics to our culture. While science students often supplement their work with mathematics, majors in this field particularly prepare for education, engineering, or industry. Mr. Roger Wiley, head of the department, is evidently its only "constant" member, for the more "variable" instructors seem to change each year.

Seated: Mr. Wiley. Standing: Mr. Molyneaux, Mr. Michaud.

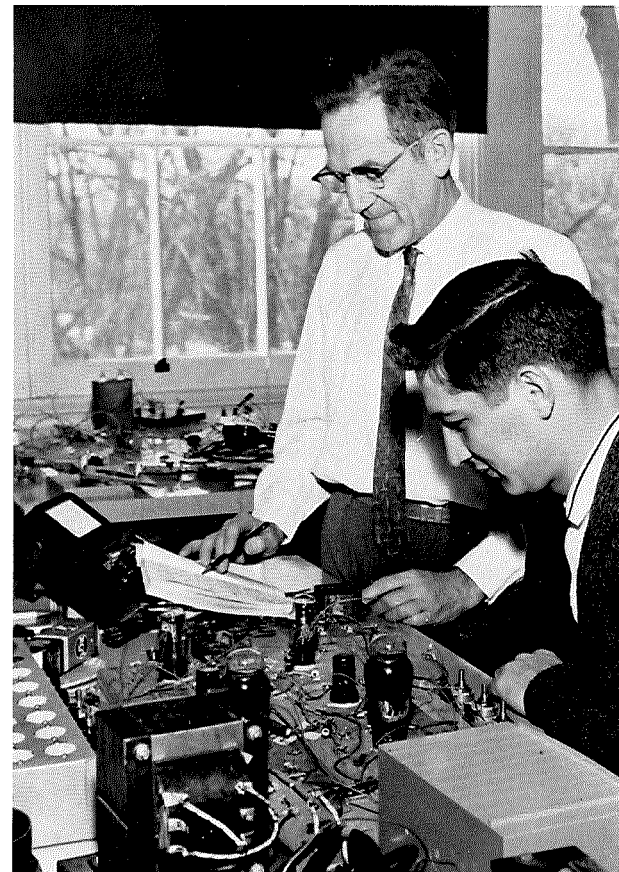

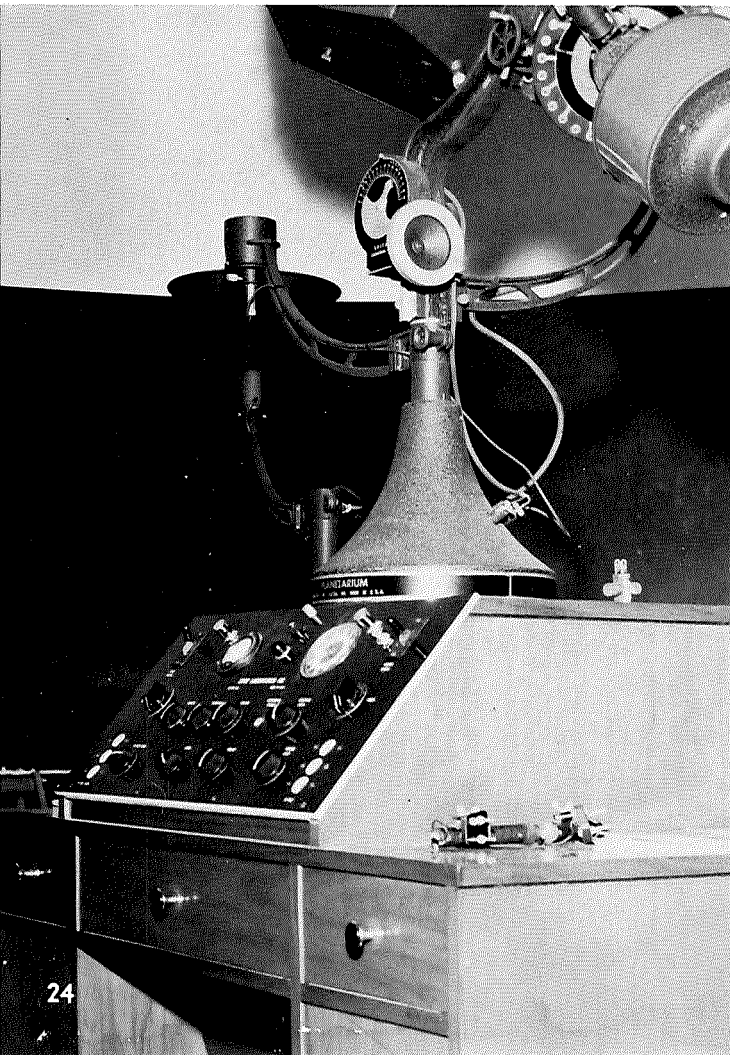

PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY

Otterbein's Weitkamp Observatory and Planetarium are one of few such astronomical combinations in Ohio. In addition to astronomy, the department offers courses in general physics, radio-activity, and nuclear physics. A program presented for the first time this year is Modern Physics. Besides fulfilling a requirement for the bachelor of science degree, physics courses prepare students for industry, engineering, electronics, and education.

Mr. Barnhart, Mr. Matthews, Mr. Molyneux.

RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY

Headed by Dr. Paul Ackert, the Department of Religion and Philosophy purposes to provide competent instruction in the Bible and in philosophy and to stimulate thinking by a provocative approach to human problems. Hence, students are stimulated to study and re-evaluate their beliefs. All members of the department are ordained ministers.

Dr. Deever, Dr. Ackert.

HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT

The aims of the Department of History and Government are to assist students to think effectively, to discriminate among values and to make relative judgements. Departmental majors may spend one semester of their junior year at the American University in Washington, D. C., under the "Washington Plan." The department, led by Dr. Harold Hancock, provides opportunity for students to explore the peoples, ideas, and institutions of past civilizations in order to better understand the roots of the future. Sponsored by this department are the Young Democrat and Young Republican Clubs and Phi Alpha Theta.

Dr. Laubach, Dr. Holtermann, Mr. Hancock.

Mr. Harrison, Dr. Lovejoy, Dr. Combs.

SOCIOLOGY AND PSYCHOLOGY

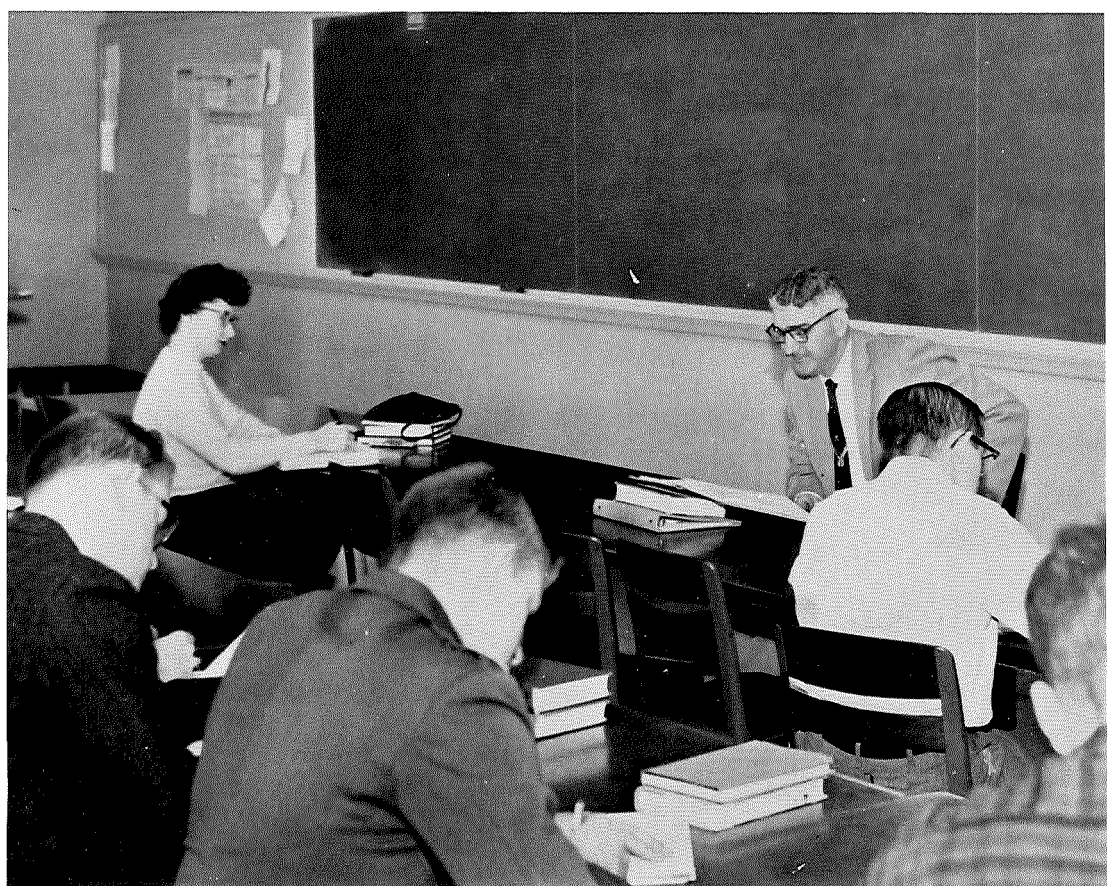

When studying sociology and psychology, a student gains a better understanding of human behavior and increases his cultural enrichment and ability for social adjustment. Under the leadership of Dr. Albert J. Lovejoy, the department offers programs preparing students for work in personnel and guidance, public administration, and racial relations. General psychology is required for future teachers and, particularly, provides an excellent background for lawyers, ministers, and engineers.

Mr. Hogue, Mr. Michaud, Mr. Glaze.

ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS

Headed by Mr. Bert Glaze, the Department of Economics and Business seeks to develop in its students a thorough understanding of our economic system and to provide basic training in business administration. Today's business world has become so intricate and close to our lives that a knowledge of economics is valuable to any student regardless of his major. The Society for the Advancement of Management is sponsored by this department.

Prof. Glaze conducts class in Business.

VISUAL ARTS

In addition to the Music Department, Lambert Hall houses exhibitions and displays of student art-work, a collection of original paintings available for use, and a lending gallery. Directed by Mrs. Lillian Frank and Mr. Carl Hassenpflug, their courses range from Basic Art to Advanced Sculpture. Primarily, the Visual Arts Department strives to develop appreciation of art in each student and to create personal experiences for the promotion of mature sensitivity.

Mrs. Frank instructs students in the art of sculpturing.

Students in Basic Art work together on a project.

MUSIC

Under the leadership of Dr. L. L. Shackson, the Music Department boasts a high percentage of student participation in its many organizations: Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, A Cappella Choir, Brass Choir, College Band and College-Community Orchestra. Accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music, they seek to prepare majors for music education, private teaching, or church music work and to provide opportunity for any student to study music as an avocation. The organizations M.E.N.C. and Delta Omicron further encourage study and practice in voice, piano, organ, and other instruments.

Seated: Miss Myers. Standing: Mr. Chamberlain, Dr. Shackson, Miss Smith, Dr. Frank, Mrs. Gerhardt, Mr. Frank, Mr. Bradley, Mr. Westrich, Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Vigilante, Dr. Pagean.

EDUCATION

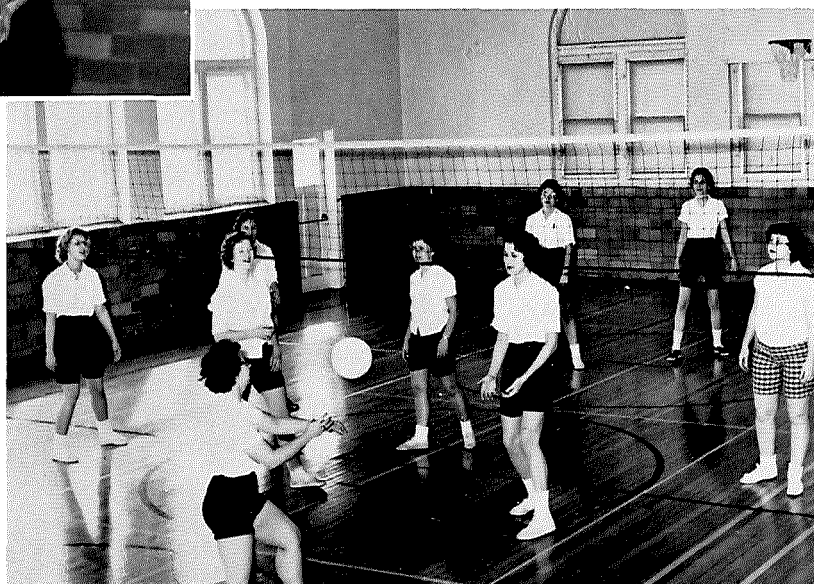

Many Otterbein students are preparing to dedicate their lives to the field of education in response to the ever increasing demand for teachers. The Department of Education, headed by Chairman Dr. Fred C. Slager, provides an opportunity for preparation in the fields of elementary and secondary education. In order to more nearly meet the needs of these students, courses in techniques of teaching, audio-visual workshops, experiences in actual classroom instruction, and O.S.E.A. all help to produce efficient and well-informed teachers.

WOMEN

The Women's Physical Education Department, under the leadership of Miss Joanne Van Sant, sponsors the WAA, which in turn sponsors intramural competition among classes and sororities, and intercollegiate competition among nearby colleges and universities. In addition, any girl may enroll in courses in hockey, outing, archery, bowling, modern dance, square dancing, basketball, volleyball, softball, tennis and canoeing.

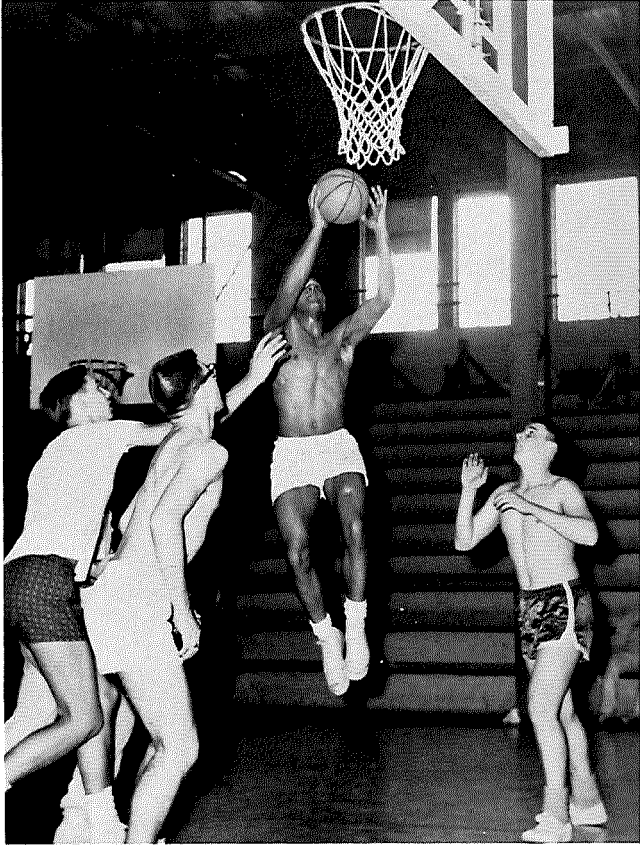

Miss Day, Miss Jensen, Miss VanSant.

MEN

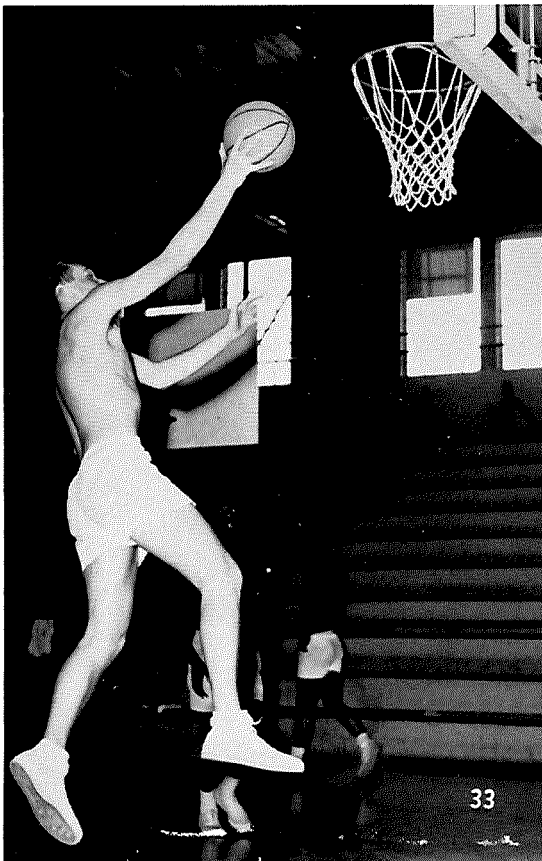

The Men's Physical Education Department, which belongs to the Ohio Conference Association, provides an opportunity for participation in varsity competition in such sports as football, cross-country, basketball, wrestling, baseball, track, tennis, and golf, as well as intramural competition among Otterbein's five fraternities. Led by acting chairman Mr. Kenneth Zarbaugh, the department offers activity for everyone, but particularly trains recreational leaders and physical education majors.

HOME ECONOMICS

Conducted for any men and women students, home economics courses further education for successful home living and for well-adjusted individual lives. Particularly for those majoring in the field, The Home Economics Club prepares girls for vocations in homemaking, teaching and other various occupations. In the Home Management House, Mrs. Mabel Joyce and Mrs. Emily Ingram instruct classes from Textiles, Clothing and Child Development to Home Management, Household Equipment and Foods and Nutrition.

The work of this unit is represented by the drill team, particularly by participation in the Seventh Annual ROTC Drill Team competition in Washington, D. C.

CLASS OF 1961

Commencement day ... a nostalgic end of college days ... good-byes to friends, to college fun. Yet ... a new beginning ... joy of attaining long pursued goals ... new responsibilities. As the leaders of tomorrow become leaders of today, they are motivated to higher achievements by the experiences which they have received during their years spent at college. Some of these were serious, some happy, some poignant with memories; but all have in some way molded the life of the person who will be known as the Otterbein graduate.

After four years of college preparation, senior students reach those goals for which they have sought so diligently.

JUNIORS . . .

CLASS OF 1962

The junior year may be considered a plateau in the climb of the student toward his treasured goals and life ambitions. By this time one feels the responsibilities of an upperclassman, but is still relatively free from the rush of the senior. The number is slightly reduced, due to the fact that some "cadets" have left the ranks, but the vitality necessary to make many valuable contributions to campus life still remains. This year, perhaps, is the one which will remain the most memorable.

SOPHOMORES . . .

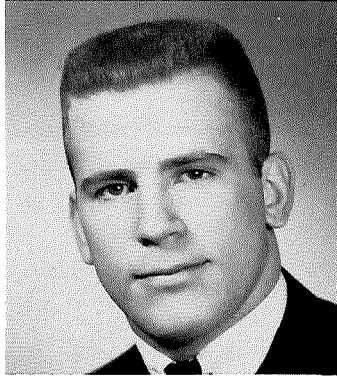

With one year of successful endeavor and happy memories behind them, the sophomores return to the campus. They are full of enthusiasm, ready to participate in campus activities, especially in the task of initiating the new class of "Frosh." Two outstanding high points in this process are the Bonfire before the first home football game and the traditional rivalry-Scrap Day. This year, to the chagrin of the sophomores, they were defeated in this great annual match.

JUNIOR COUNSELORS

Friendly, understanding, cooperative, gentle but reproofing, are the characteristics that denote the Junior Counselors. Loyal to their charges, they encourage scholarship, promote friendships, alleviate homesickness and mend broken hearts. United in their efforts, they ease the Freshman women and men into the Otterbein family.

SIBYL QUEEN

Traditionally a senior, the Sibyl Queen must be representative of the Otterbein spirit. She must also have demonstrated her ability as a leader in campus organizations and must be versatile in these participations. The members of this year's Sibyl staff extend their best wishes to Miss Alice Heft, the woman chosen as this year's queen. Typical in character and personality of the qualities which we honor, she is truly an outstanding representative and exemplifies the spirit of the entire year's work.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Social events and sorority problems in general-such are the activities of the Panhellenic Council, organized to coordinate all sorority functions and to promote friendly relations among sororities and with the campus. The Council strives to promote the basic interests of the sororities-recruiting new members, scholarship, social life, effecting benefits beyond the campus, better and more understanding friendships.

One of the most exciting social events of the year is the Panhellenic Formal. The Council also sponsors Jump Week and is responsible for the awarding of the scholarship trophy to the sorority with the highest point average each semester.

Seated: B. Hickin, D. Gorsuch, J. Shackson, J. Collins. Standing: D. Emmons, J. Legg, D. Correll, Mr. Chase, R. Spears, D. Knight.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Comprised of representatives from each fraternity, the Interfraternity Council serves as the co-ordinators of all their activities. The major aims of the Council are to stimulate the fraternities into constructive action by closer fellowship and school projects. Rushing and pledging for the individual fraternities are supervised by the Council.

Social events include the Winter Formal, and more important, the Spring Formal, at which Miss Tan and Cardinal is selected from among five girls representing each fraternity.

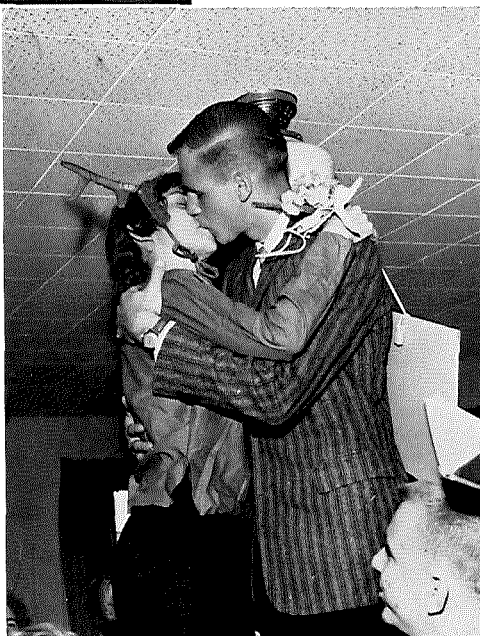

The Council sponsors interfraternity sports and awards an athletic trophy as well as the scholarship trophy.

To the sorority and fraternity pledges, the beginning of second semester on Otterbein's campus does not mean a chance to start anew-it simply means the beginning of Greek Week. Days of hazing and dressing in suits or heels is climaxed with a sharp contrast in apparel and appearance. Strange creatures roam the campus asking odd questions and doing various jobs for their superiors. All the nonsense is brought to an end with Hell Night, which goes as quickly as it comes.

LAMBDA GAMMA EPSILON KINGS"

In 1948 eleven college men established the principle: "loyalty to God, country brothers, and Otterbein," and thereby founded Lambda Gamma Epsilon fraternity. They are rightly represented by the colors of royalty-maroon and gold. The name Kingsman originated with the eleven charter members, who worked in the dining room of King Hall. The residents of 98 West Home Street live for their goal of "true manhood." The first all-campus event of the year, King's Pancake Supper and Barn Dance, was soon followed by their smoker, "The New Yorker."

ZETA PHI

Two new lions mark the entrance to Zeta Phi Fraternity House.

Takota and Cook House merged their "fellowship and love, divine like that above," in 1932, to form Zeta Phi Fraternity. With the lion as their mascot, the colors of black, white, and gold, they live each day for the "Union of Purpose." Their sacred flower is the Doctor Van Fleet Rose and their motto is "we'll make our vows to thee." Rushees attend the Smoker and watch "Leo Go Beat," while no-one misses the all-campus event-the Zeta Phi Stomp.

With the aims of directing matters of student life, increasing the sense of individual and community responsibility among women students, and co-operating with the Administration and Student Council of the College to maintain a high standard of scholarship, social life and group living, the Women's Student Government Board undertakes an immense responsibility. Under the direction of Miss Hannah Frank, the thirteen-member board meets frequently to discuss problems of the campus women.

This general board, representative of all women students, is composed of all presidents and vice-presidents of the women's residence halls, in addition to three elected officers who are chosen by all women students each spring. Tasks are many; willingness to serve is great. It is because of such fine representation that our democratic school policy continues to thrive.

The ten-member Men's Student Government Board is the governing body of the men students of Otterbein. Representatives from each fraternity, independent men and the freshman dorm council meet with the three officers, who are selected by an election by the campus men, to help maintain and interpret the high standards of conduct set for all men. The board co-operates with the Administration and the Student Council in maintaining all rules of the college. It, too, is an important part of our democratic system of self-government on our campus.

TAN AND CARDINAL

Each week finds a copy of the Tan and Cardinal, the campus newspaper, in the possession of students, faculty and administrative personnel, and many interested alumni and parents. Otterbein students assume all duties—from the gathering of news information to setting type and proofreading the galleys—with the right of self censorship prevailing.

The student body benefits, not only from this reflection of student opinion, but also from various activities sponsored by the staff. A publications banquet, the Miss T & C contest, and Ann-Ton's Run, and an April Fool edition of the paper, all play an integral part in the Otterbein tradition.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

"Florida-bound" is the popular motto for this year's A Cappella Choir which will make the southern section of our country the destination of its annual spring tour. Not only new members but also a new director, Mr. Richard Chamberlain, add to the choral effect of the group.

Two of the activities in which the choir has participated are the fall High School Day program and their home concert. Many hours of hard work are co-ordinated with the talents of each of the choir members to produce a professional sounding musical organization of which Otterbein can well be proud.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club provides fellowship through singing and promotes good public relations for Otterbein College. They present various concerts in and around Columbus and at the college and have toured in Pennsylvania, New York, Canada, and New England as well as in Ohio. Attired in black wool dresses, they present programs of secular, sacred, folk, and modern music.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club, directed by Dr. Lee Shackson, is a tradition of long standing as an organization on Otterbein's campus. They have presented many local concerts and this year their tour took them to Chicago. Auditions are necessary for membership, but any male student who enjoys singing and works diligently finds satisfaction in his endeavors when he appears in his white dinner jacket for concerts.

M.E.N.C.

The Music Educators National Conference is an organization for music education majors to create an interest in better public school music. Principles and techniques of teaching music are studied and discussed. Activities which will prepare the members for a career in music education are important. They attend the annual M.E.N.C. Convention in Columbus in the spring.

ORGANISTS' GUILD

Such noted organists as Flor Peters are heard by members of the Organist's Guild as they make numerous field trips to organ recitals in and around Columbus. Students taking organ lessons or those with a vital interest in organ music as an art are a part of this music interest group. With Professor Lawrence Frank as their adviser, these students strive to further their knowledge and appreciation in this medium of music.

BRASS CHOIR

Otterbein has the distinction of being the only Central Ohio School to have a brass ensemble. The Brass Choir is made up of those college students who play either in the college band or take private lessons, and who, after an audition, are recommended by the director to become a part of the group. The size of the ensemble varies from year to year according to the instrumentation demands at that time. A concert given each semester and a spring tour are activities which keep each and every member busy throughout the year.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

An active group on campus this year were the Young Republicans as they campaigned in various ways for national, state, and county Republican candidates in the election. Any person interested in politics, government and the Republican Party was welcomed into this organization which displayed plans for an exciting year. A torchlight rally and parade, a trip to Columbus to see the state legislature in action, and a Youth for Nixon group all point to the work of many interested students-Otterbein's Young Republicans.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

The project of stimulating in young people an active interest in governmental affairs and of fostering and perpetuating the ideals and principles of the Democratic Party is an all-inclusive task for our Young Democrats. An election return party at the union, a vigorous membership drive, and door-to-door campaigning for candidates for election were some of the more noteworthy activities of the organization during the year-a truly busy one for all concerned.

Seated (Front): M. Dudgeon, P. Hopkins. Row 1: M. Schadt, J. Baker, D. Spicer, J. Pepper, A. Duran, T. Jenkins, J. Morris, A. Scholz.

HOME EC CLUB

Hair styling, antiques, floral arranging, Christmas creations, and a peek into summer fashions are only a portion of the programs of the year for co-eds who major in home economics. The Sunday night snacks, which are the biggest undertakings of the Home Economics Club members, teas honoring various Otterbein personalities, and the care of our home management house all help to train these young women to be active and efficient leaders in home and community life.

S.A.M.

Anyone interested in the promotion of the field of management will find the Society for the Advancement of Management active on our campus. Upperclassmen, who may join the national chapter, and freshmen, local chapter members only, both meet together each month as a speaker in the field of management presents a program of interest.

O.S.E.A.

In order that a feeling of professionalism, an acquaintance with history, ethics and future goals of the teaching profession, and a realization of the need, power and potential worth of a teacher in his community may become uppermost in the educator's major's life, the Otterbein Student Education Association finds its existence. This group of students strives, through movies, special speakers and programs, and a general knowledge of the teaching profession, to acquaint its members with information which will be helpful to them as prospective teachers. Programs deal with teaching from both the elementary and secondary viewpoints in attempting to better prepare Otterbein men and women to meet the challenge of teaching as a profession.

W. A. A.

Intramural tournaments for women, co-rec tournaments, sports days with other colleges, and various outings during the year are all responsibilities of the Women's Athletic Association. Members of the group are those women who not only have a 2.0 scholastic average, but who have accumulated 100 points under the W.A.A. point system for participation in various sports competition.

In addition to all these activities, the W.A.A. governing board accepts the responsibility of directing the beanie and Scrap Day programs for freshman women. A busy group are W.A.A. women as they attempt to organize and supervise the athletic program on our campus each year.

VARSITY "O"

Varsity "O" promotes high standards in both athletic and social conduct of all its members and cooperates with the administration and Student Council in maintaining all rules of the college. Male students who have earned a letter either by participation in or association with athletics are eligible for membership. This distinguished group is responsible for the freshman beanie sales, controlling Scrap Day activities, coordinating the visitation of promising high school athletes, selecting the Winter Homecoming Princess, and holding the spring all-sports banquet.

MODERN DANCE CLUB

The Christmas program presented for the entire campus, participation in various chapel programs, and plans for a spring dance show present the achievements and attainments of the Modern Dance Club. Members, chosen on the basis of either tryouts or participation in a dance show, make known their interest in modern dance by their willingness to spend many hours of practice in order that modern dance may play an even more active part in the activities and programs here on campus.

ATHLETICS

Stadium lights are ablaze as the 1960 football season gets under way.

The victory bell on "ole Towers Hall" rang out eight times during the 1960 football season. Coach "Moe" Agler's finest team finished the season with eight victories and a one point loss. Concentrated individual effort and a strong co-operative spirit piled up a massive 352 point total for the season. Quarterbacked by senior Larry Cline, who broke two passing records, the team averaged over 38 points per contest. Cline broke the career touchdown passes record by nine passes, and in the Capital game set a new season touchdown passing record, breaking the record held by a Capital alumnus. End Ron Jones also set two records during the season. Pile-driving fullback Gary Allen and standout end Duane Correll also contributed greatly to the Agler offensive machine.

"Get that ball and fight."

Otterbein continues its way toward the final goal line with a smashing victory over Marietta.

The season highlighted many thrills. The first two games saw the Otters pile up 100 points; then the loss to Heidelberg which saw victory deflect off the fingertips of an opposing end. After a 35 point thrashing of Kenyon, it took a last minute touchdown to subdue Oberlin 22-21.

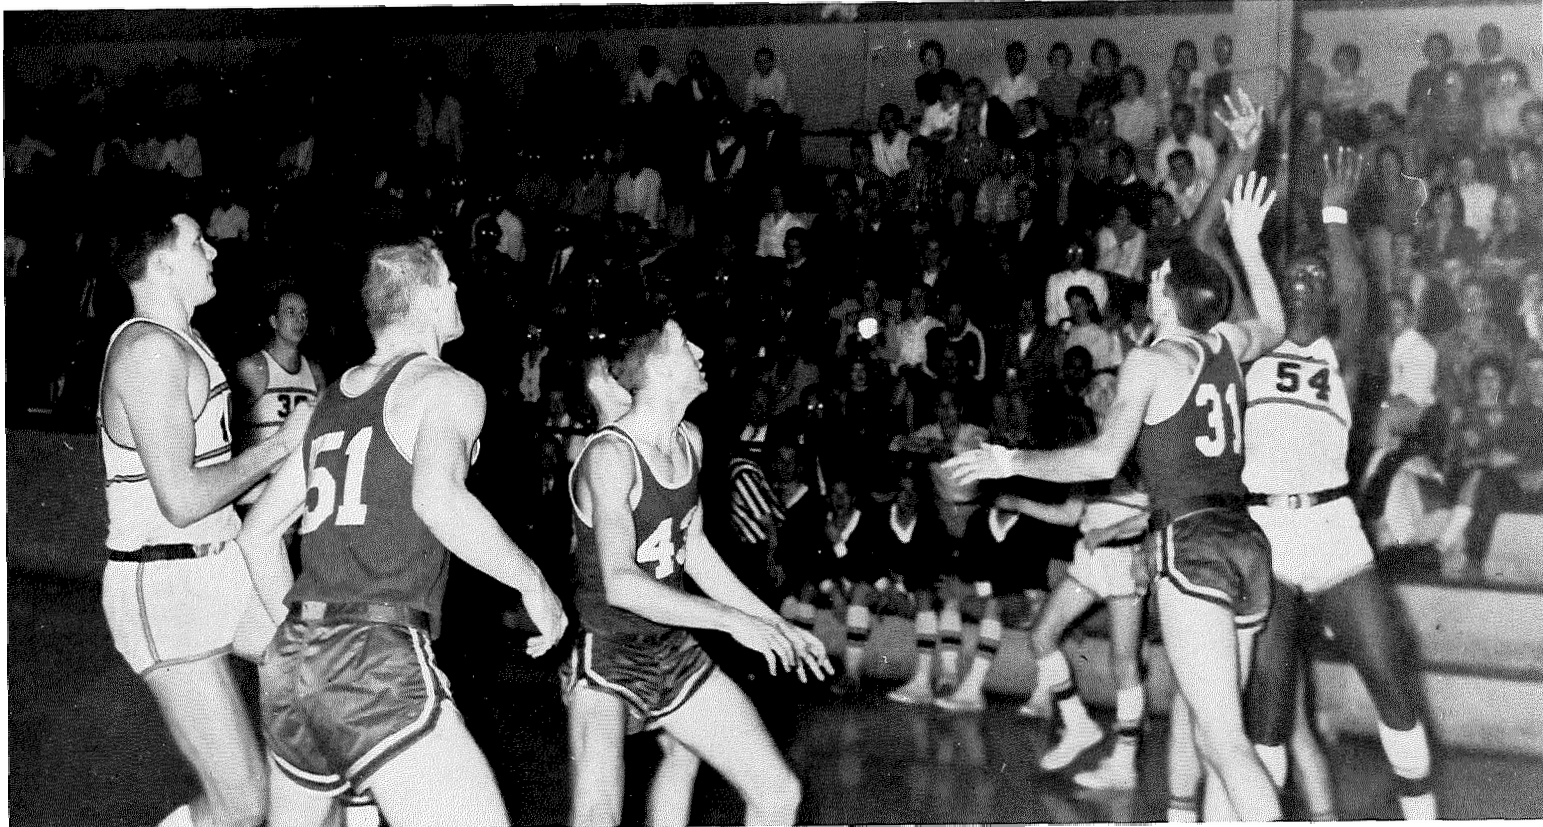

Riding on the crest of two 20 point victories over Marietta and Ashland, and an overall record of 7-1, we invaded the Capital campus and walked away with everything, including the goal posts. We had subjected the Purple Plumbers 50-12 to the glory of all Westerville and especially the seniors, Gary Allen, Larry Cline, Duane Correll, Ron Jones, and Dave Reynolds, who were playing their last game.

The crowd roars as player makes dash for touchdown.

Referee blows whistle as player's knee hits ground and forward action stops in game against Ashland.

Players wait to see who recovers the rebound.

BASKETBALL

Head Coach Mike Kish presented the school with its best basketball season in six years as his cagers rolled up a 7-8 conference record and a season tally of 10-9.

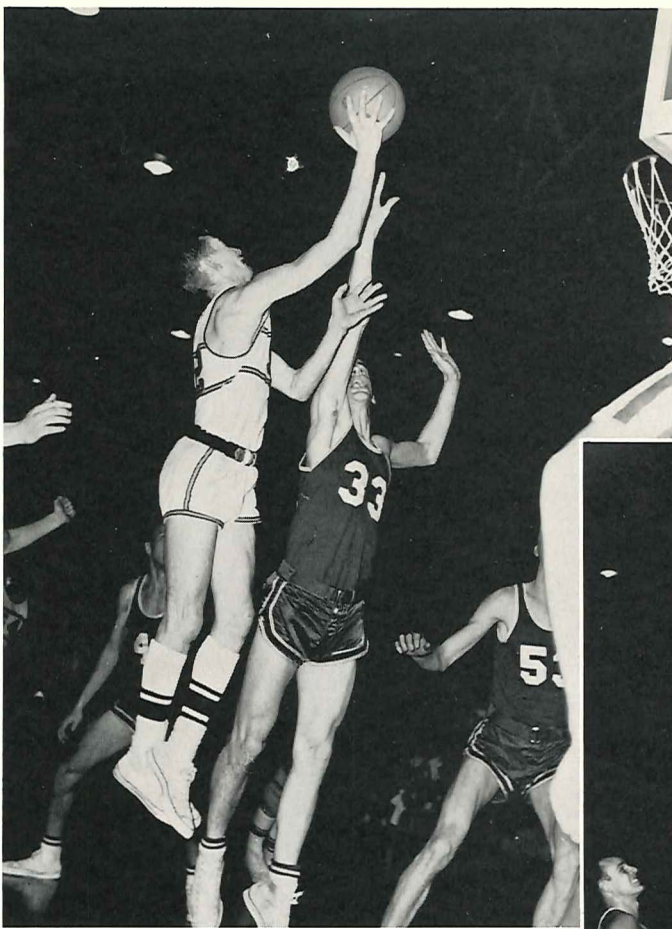

It was sophomore center Alf Washington who led the team in scoring, and Dan Jordan, the scrappy play-maker, who formed the backbone of the Otterbein quintet. Coupled with the superb teamwork of the rest of the squad, Alumni Gymnasium was many times filled to capacity with enthusiastic supporters.

The season started slowly as the Cards dropped two close non-conference contests. Rebounding fast, the squad then nailed down successive victories over Findlay, Heidelberg, and Ohio Wesleyan. A five game losing streak then followed including an overtime loss to Capital.

It was not until Homecoming that the Otters were able to find themselves and turn in their best performance of the season, upsetting a confused Wooster squad to the tune of 80-69, while shooting at an amazing 48 per cent from the floor. Faltering only once, to Kenyon, the Otters closed the season with four straight victories, looking forward to the '62 season with the same starting five and a winning streak to build on.

BASEBALL

The coaching of Ken Zarbaugh and heads-up ball playing by a young and spirited squad, carried the diamond stars successfully through a rugged spring schedule. When the chips were down, sterling performances were turned in by mound specialists Herb Wood and Larry Cawley, while at the plate, the bats of Jack Pietila and Myron Haag were always in evidence. Pietila finished fourth in the conference with a .417 batting average.

May Day found the battling Cards deadlocked in a contest with Wittenberg on the local diamond. It appeared as though the Tigers' 24-game winning streak might be broken, but from under the stadium, the Otter jinx had crawled again as we suffered a 1-0 heartbreaking loss. Hampered by injuries and bad fortune, the record was not impressive and hardly indicative of the team's ability.

TRACK

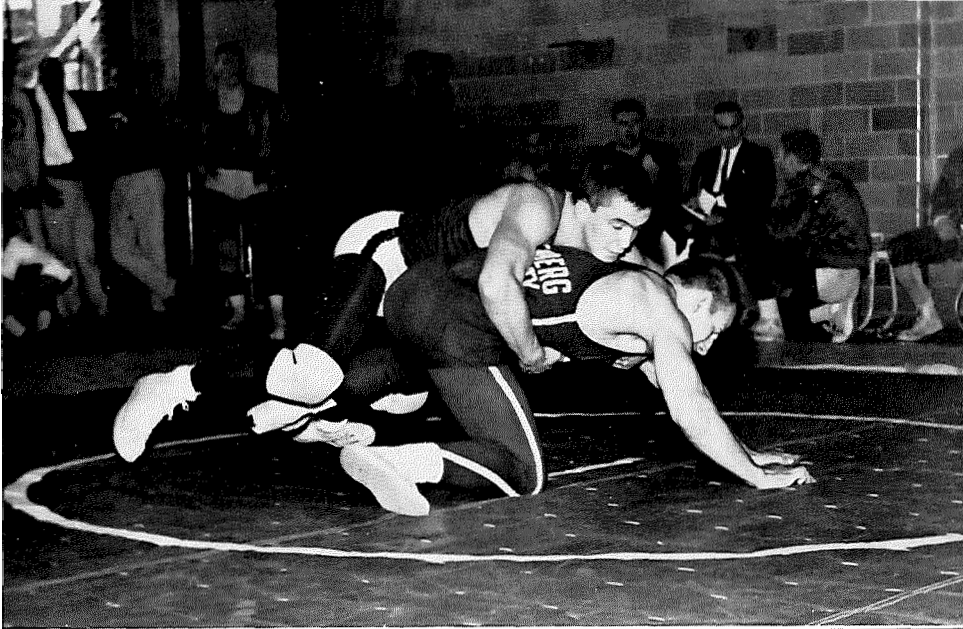

Led by distance runners Terry Hafner, Larry Humbert, and Tony Hugli, the Otterbein track squad vastly improved its point total over the previous season. Our conference respected weight men, led by discus tosser Bill Young and shotput artist Gary Allen, reached new heights. Young had broken his own school record before mid-season, while in the quarter-mile run Larry Cline was approaching the 50 second barrier. The Otters were at their best against Ashland where Coach Yoest's boys completely outclassed the hapless Eagles to the tune of .54-41. However when the dust had cleared and the cinders ceased to fly, we found that once again youth and inexperience had prevailed as the thinclads finished with a 3-6 record.

WRESTLING

Pitted against the cream of the Ohio Conference, Otterbein's red-clads fared with the best on the mats. Supplemented by three strong freshmen, this year's wrestlers showed more depth than in their initial season last year. The team picked up momentum as freshmen Jim Clark, Dave Sharp, and Larry Morse acquired experience. Sophomore stalwarts Ralph Ciampa and Chris Schumacher helped considerably in winning a fair share of the matches on the rugged eight-meet schedule. Veteran Glen Aidt once again proved practically infallible in the 177-pound division as one of the keys to a highly successful season for Coach Nick Vigilante.

TENNIS

Spurred on by the new asphalt courts the Otterbein tennis team approached the 1960 season with a number of returning lettermen and high aspirations. Walt Vernon, Jim Thomas, Bob Ringo, and Dick Kissling, supplied the singles punch, while in doubles, Bob Zech and Ron Tobias paired with Jim Bebee and Dick Gerbec, to bring home several individual victories. Many a match lasted into the twilight hours as the out-classed Otters battled staunchly for every point; but due to the caliber of competition from such schools as Muskingum, Wittenberg, and Capital, Coach Kish's plebs managed to find the win column only once.

WOMEN'S INTERCOLLEGIATE

The Women's Department of Physical Education provides a program that would interest any coed. Included in this program are intercollegiate activities, intramurals, intersorority, and co-recreational tournaments. By means of these events, they strive to promote sportsmanship and fun and fellowship.

In the fall of each year, girls interested in field hockey may be seen practicing or participating in an intercollegiate game. This year as a result of their hard work, the team ended by having nine members selected to participate on the Buckeye Team. Besides this intercollegiate activity, in field hockey there is an organized program of intramurals which is enjoyed by members of the different classes.

1960 INTERCOLLEGIATE FIELD HOCKEY TEAM. Row 1: S. Gallagher, S. Sain, B. Bushong, P. Buck, S. Wilson. Row 2: S. Hept, M. Daniels, K. Sidwell, C. Thompson, E. Koehler, K. Getzy.

Since this sport seems to be so well liked, volleyball has a very extensive program. Intercollegiate activity comprises one aspect of this program. The team usually plays six squads from several of the Ohio colleges. In addition, there are also intersorority and intramural tournaments set up to provide recreation for Otterbein coeds. To complete the program in volleyball, a co-recreational tournament is held each year. The winner of this is given the opportunity to represent Otterbein in a game against Capital.

Activity in basketball can be found by taking part in intramural games or by playing on the intercollegiate team. In 1960, the intercollegiate basketball team had an outstanding season which may be shown by their record.

With the coming of spring, softball enthusiasts start practicing for intercollegiate activity which consists of games scheduled against teams from some of the Ohio colleges. Besides this, play days are organized to provide a day of recreation and fun.

IN RETROSPECT . . .

The staff of the 1961 SIBYL is proud to present this yearbook to you. In it, we have tried to re-create this past year at Otterbein in order that each of you might relive the experiences of the year 1960-1961 in the years to come. We have tried to keep the same high standards of former SIBYLS, and at the same time introduce new aspects of college life.

The following legend is nothing new. It was first printed in the 1915 SIBYL and was last printed in the 1953 SIBYL. We reprint it here so that you may understand the origin of the name of our yearbook—THE SIBYL.

THE SIBYLLAE were mortals, scattered about the world, who were supposed to be inspired by heaven with prophetic power. Apollo, god of the sun, became enamored of Cumae, the most celebrated of these, and offered to give her whatever she should ask. She, taking a handful of sand and holding it forth, said, "Grant me to see as many birthdays as there are grains of sand in my hand." Unfortunately she forgot to ask for the enjoyment of health and bloom, of which she was then in possession. However, this also would the god have granted her, had she accepted his love, but, offended at her refusal, he allowed her to grow old. As the years increased, her body shrunk, and in time was lost to sight, but her voice remained and will forever.

Great was her prophetic power, and many were they who came to her cave whose fate she unraveled. It was said that she was accustomed to inscribe, on leaves gathered from the trees, the names and dates of individuals. The leaves thus inscribed were arranged in order within the cave, and might be consulted by her votaries. But, if perchance, at the opening of the door, the wind rushed in and dispersed the leaves, the Sibyl gave no aid to restoring them, and the oracle was irreparably lost.
