Expect Many Alumni For Homecoming Celebration

Men's Rushing Season Closes At 9 Tomorrow

PRINTED BIDS USED

Answer Must Not Be Given Before Tomorrow Morning After Chapel Dismissal.

The rushing season for the men's social groups will culminate in a grand climax Wednesday morning when bidding of the new men may be permitted. Bids from all social groups were mailed out Monday night at seven o'clock by Prof. L. A. Weinland, head sponsor of all men's social groups.

The Freshmen men will receive the bids through the mail this morning, thus allowing them a full day to make the final decision regarding the social group they may join.

The bids were uniform printed pledges issued to all clubs by the Men's Inter-Social Group Council. A plan whereby all prospective pledges should receive bids at the same time was felt extremely necessary by the Council to eliminate undesirable activities which would certainly be prevalent Wednesday morning after chapel.

Although the Freshmen receive the bids Tuesday, an answer cannot be given in the form of a signed or verbal pledge until after 9 o'clock Wednesday morning according to the regulations now in effect. The invitation to join a club may be accepted by the prospective member by merely signing his name to the pledge and returning it to the representative of the club he joins Wednesday.

ADDITIONS TO STUDENT CHEST ARE DEPRESSING

Additional pledges of $50 have been received in the Student Chest campaign within the last week. Attempts to secure enough pledges to bring the amount to $2500 have been particularly disappointing to the Student Council committee. Over $79 in cash has been collected since Friday.

The total pledged is now $1950. Efforts are still being made to secure more pledges. In case the goal is not reached no organization will receive the full amount of its budget. The funds now on hand are being distributed among the eight organizations pro rata this week.

The following organizations were given a tentative place on the schedule: Inter-Social Group Council, 7:00 o'clock on the 1st and 3rd Mondays of the month; Cap and Dagger Club on the 3rd Monday at 7:00; and the Music Club on the 1st or 3rd Monday at 8:00.

Annual Banquet Will Be Evening Feature

DAY TO OPEN WITH RALLY

Alumni Athletic Club Will Have Noon Luncheon. Will Have 24-Page Program.

Otterbein will attempt to make the score pendulum swing back toward her own goal when she meets Muskingum next Saturday in one of the greater features of the big Homecoming celebration which will be staged on the local campus next Saturday October 30. Several hundred alumni are expected to return for the big fun fest according to the reports sent out in advance by H. W. Troop, Director of Alumni Relations.

The day's program will open at 9:15 Saturday morning with a pep rally and lid lifter in the college chapel. Songs, yells and stunts will constitute the greater part of the rally. The band under the direction of D. Harrold will also make its first appearance of the day at the rally.

Dedication ceremonies of an informal nature and an open house are the events which will take place at King Hall between 10:30 and 12. A student representing the men in the hall, will speak during the program.

Ed Hammon and Mabel Eubanks Are Student Ticket Sellers. Dean
Cornetet Chairman.

The Adanac Male Quartet, recognized throughout the United States and Canada as one of the foremost male singing organization of the day, is the first number on the Citizen's Lecture and Lyceum Course. The first of the series of six entertainments will be given in the college chapel Thursday evening, November 4. Part of the program will be given in Scottish costume.

Students may secure tickets for the entire season from Ed Hammon at King Hall or Mabel Eubanks at Cochran Hall. Tickets with reserved seats for the season are $1.75 and $1.50. Dean N. E. Cornetet is the chairman of the course.

The Adanac Quartet was organized in the Dominion of Canada. The spelling is simply "thrown in reverse".

Season tickets should be secured at once as there is only a limited number available. Single admissions will cost those who attend much more than will each number on a season ticket.

REV. E. E. HARRIS IS APPOINTED U. B. EDITOR

Rev. E. E. Harris, 37 University Street, Westerville, has been appointed editor of the Watchword, publication of the United Brethren church, to succeed Dr. H. F. Shupe, who died last week.

Mr. Harris is a graduate of Otterbein in the class of 1921 and of Bonebrake Theological Seminary in the class of 1924. He is the field representative of Religious Education for the Southeast Ohio conference of the U. B. Church.

Mr. W. E. Snyder has been promoted from assistant to editor in chief of the Religious Telescope to take the place of Dr. J. M. Phillippi who died several weeks ago. Mr. Snyder is the father of Freda, a senior in the college.

Dr. J. B. Showers, formerly a professor in Bonebrake, will be Dr. Snyder's assistant.

Plan For King Hall Open House.

The King Hallites are planning to do their bit in entertaining the alumni and visitors on Homecoming day. From 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning all rooms in the dorm will be thrown open to visitors. There will also be an address of welcome by a representative of the Hall. Music of some kind will be furnished all morning.

INITIATORY FEES NOT INCLUDED IN STUDENT CHEST SUBSCRIPTIONS

The idea seems to be afoot on the campus that the Student Chest funds were to include initiatory fees of the organizations represented. This is not the case. Any organization must maintain a fee for membership in order for it to mean anything to the applicant. For example the Y. M. C. A. initiatory fee is to be $1.00 while the Varsity "O" will be $5.00.

Y. M.-Y. W. JOINT SESSION ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

Address By Dean N. E. Cornetet Is Special Feature of Joint Program.

A special feature of the joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday evening in the Association building, was a short address by Dean N. E. Cornetet. The theme of the talk was that our four years spent in college are not a segment of life but a reality. "If we are to appreciate the value of college we must relate college life to the life of the world," declared Dean Cornetet. He emphasized the point that the school whose social life tends to produce snobbery cannot become the strongest school.

A duet by Mabel Eubanks and Amy Morris completed the program.

Following the meeting everyone adjourned to the Association parlor which was decorated in Hallowe'en effect with pumpkins and corn shocks. Don Shoemaker and several freshmen presented a clever playlet, "The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter." Lights were lowered and all joined in singing several songs. The party ended with light refreshments.

KING HALL-ITES TO STAGE HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION

Tomorrow evening King Hall will celebrate its first Hallowe'en. To make the affair a bigger success, a number of the fairer sex from the other dorms are being invited. The party will be informal and no masks will be worn. All will be welcomed by a big fire in the fire-place of the reception room and the peppy jazz of the King Hall Kampus Serenaders, a ten-piece aggregation of recent organization. A variety of games and refreshment are on the program for the evening.

24-PAGE PROGRAM WILL BE HOMECOMING FEATURE

A 24-page program with a tan cover printed in cardinal ink will be one of the features at the Homecoming celebration next Saturday. In the booklet will appear photos of the Muskingum football squad, Coach Lange and Captain Moore of Muskingum as well as photos of our own Coach Ditmer and Captain "Slippery" Snively. Statistics of both teams will be published. There will also be a place to keep the score and many other minor features too numerous to mention.

The programs will be sold for 15 cents probably by members of the Freshman class. No profits will be made since the cost is barely high enough to pay for the publication of the booklet. Wayne V. Harsha is editor and A. O. Barnes is business manager for the program.

Reports Indicate That Small Colleges Lost In Attendance

Reports indicate, says Dr. Raymond Phelan, formerly at Otterbein College and now professor of business management in St. Louis University, that the smaller colleges have lost in attendance this year. It is said that students in general wish for one reason to attend larger colleges because the small ones carry out, or try to carry out, a surveillance over students that is out of date with the times. As one keen observer has put it, if the small college wishes to survive this movement to the cities so to speak in the college world, it must become freer in its treatment of students.

FROSH SQUAD ACTIVE IN LAST WEEK'S WORK

Decrease In Number Out May Hamper Freshmen In Frosh-Soph Game.

The Freshmen football squad put in some good hours of work last week, being out on the field every afternoon except Saturday.

On Monday and Tuesday the squad worked on the plays that Muskingum has been using this fall; on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, scrimmage was held against the varsity.

The Frosh team appears to have a fast and shifty backfield, and a line that is fairly heavy, and with further development should be able to hit hard from tackle to tackle. Coach R. K. "Deke" Edler's hardest task will be to find a pair of good ends. Only one man on the present squad has had experience at either of the flank positions.

There has also been a decided decrease in the size of the squad. Of the original number of men out, at least one-third have dropped out, left school, or are just not coming out for practice. According to the opinion of the Frosh coaches, this is indeed a deplorable spirit for a Freshman class to have, especially with the annual Frosh-Soph grid contest but a few weeks away. There should be at least half of the men in the Freshmen class out on the field every afternoon. This is also a splendid opportunity for a Freshman to get well-grounded in the fundamentals and type of collegiate football, in preparation for further work on the football field, and to be better-fitted to enjoy a game from the stand point of the spectator.

TOMORROW, FRESHMEN

Yes, tomorrow, Freshmen, is the end of the rushing season for the men.
After nine o'clock Wednesday any club member on the campus may approach you to get an answer to the invitation, or convey to you the club's desire to have you become a pledge. But be careful of your answer. Make your decision wisely and carefully.

Many Freshmen men received bids this morning. If you were the recipient of one you will have just twenty-four hours to think it over before any club man can approach you.

There are many things you should consider. If the club is composed of members who are congenial toward you, and you think they are the type of men you would want for friends, then join that club.

This editorial has not been written with the purpose to preach but to aid Freshmen in determining a solution to a pertinent and timely problem. Now we can go on and know that you do not think we are merely preaching.

How about the scholastic standards of the group you are considering? You should not disregard that entirely.
Do the members take the attitude that studies are necessary evils. You should also get an inkling, at least, if not definite information, concerning, the grades the club made last semester.

Now for the general life of the club.

A social club should not attempt to mold its new men in such a manner that it tends to destroy individuality and make them less democratic; neither should a social group look upon a prospective pledge with disdain if his financial resources are limited. Otterbein social groups do not have this attitude developed to even a low degree.

Try to discover, Freshmen, how the club you are planning to join regards social activities, drinking (which is still prevalent among some Otterbein students), smoking, and gambling.

When you have thought all these things over, make as wise and as careful decision as you can in the limited time.

TWO TYPES

We are watching expectantly, and almost breathlessly, the results of two new educational institutions, with relatively different types of education, which are now being built in the North Carolina and Arkansas.

North Carolina is digging the foundation for her $25,000,000 educational plant which will have an ultimate endowment of $80,000,000. There will be, according to reports in the newspapers, a string of Gothic buildings, a 40,000 passenger stadium, and an up-to-date fire alarm system. Finally, the administrators of Duke University promise to stock the Faculty with the "biggest men in their respective fields that the country affords."

Away out in the Ozark Mountains of Arkansas where there is no stadium and not even a Gothic spire. In fact the college is so poor that it begs for a good dictionary. Its founders went out into the hills to educate workers in a way impossible in property ridden institutions.

Without being sentimental admirers of poverty for its own sake we confess a prejudice for the latter type of institution. We grant that Duke University may throw off the tyranny of material things by gigantic effort.
We hope so. But our admiration goes out to the educators and educatees who are willing to eat locusts and honey in the wilderness.

The Ohio college coach who said,
"Play the game to win; moral victories are not recorded in the score book", has been receiving a large amount of extremely adverse criticism in many newspapers. We can thank heaven that Otterbein coaches are not like that.

The Modern Girl is fond of sports—especially when they are good spenders.

Loosen up, lads, and treat her to a box of our Candies.

REXALL STORE

Notice the difference in attitude between the club man and the pledge in the next few days. We pity the poor Frosh who doesn't see that this rushing business is about 99% appleesauce and 1% reality.

Club brothers who get dates for their prospective pledges are liable to prosecution on the charge of using the males to defraud.

The co-eds who don't like the freshmen mustaches will all come to them in time.

The Cardinal's Whistle

Don: No, how does it go?

Thompy: On four wheels.

The Complexity of Modern Life.

Since the college bell is going to be rung by electricity, we respectfully suggest this change for our dear old college song. Instead of "Tied up the old college bell". Instead "Short-circuited the bell-tolling apparatus."

Did you ever notice that he who burns the candle at both ends usually gets more light?

Johnny: My! He sure is English-looking.

Ruth: Who is?

Johnny: The Prince of Wales.

"Gentlemen prefer blondes," observed the cannibal chieftain as he was cooking the big Swede.

If there is one person we hate more than the fellow who continually says, "you're just the type," it is the half-wit who says, "You're just the type that is continually saying 'You're just the type.'"

MIRTH PREVALENT IN
PHILOMATHEAN SESSION

Much mirth prevailed at Philomatheca's session last Friday evening. K. W. Kumler gave an "Essay on Life", C. T. Bielstein read W. F. Martin's "Satire on Modern Education." K. F. Echard, J. W. Hudock, and C. H. Zimmerman and Prof. Raines spoke on the impromptu program. Parliamentary drill was conducted by E. Caldwell. During the business session, Hugh M. Steckman of Altoona, Pa., became an active member, while George A. Eschbach was elected as an associate member.

New men, not in a society, are cordially invited to visit and inspect Philomatheca.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Esther George led the discussion in C. E. section A, on the topic "Are you a cog in the wheel?" The theme was developed by a few members of the society giving short talks on the place and importance of the cog, and by others suggesting necessities for the wheel of life. Olive Holt gave a vocal solo, and Josephine and Louise Stoner sang a duet. An instrumental duet was featured by Homer Huffman and LaVere Breden, and a piano solo was given by Oliver Spangler.

O C
OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE
DEBATE TEAMS ON TOUR

Intercollegiate debating on an international scale receives further development in the current forensic season. Since 1923 visiting English teams have become the accepted thing, and now Australian debaters are matching wits with American collegians. On October 12, three University of Sidney debaters met a University of California team on the subject "Resolved, that Democracy has failed." From California the Australians will proceed to many colleges in the west and middle west.

Cambridge and Oxford teams in the meanwhile are facing collegians of the south and east. The former visiting New England and Canada, the latter the south and southwest. Each year the visitors travel through different sections of the country. Last year Oxford debated eastern colleges while Cambridge toured the middle west.

Oxford's most important debate will undoubtedly be the clash with Bates, October 21. Bates has an exceptional team that has come off with honors in many international events. A new method of debate promotion is being engineered. Instead of meeting on the Bates campus the opposing teams are scheduled to debate in Portland, Maine. Elaborate preparations are under way for a large audience.

The local debate season is swinging into action. At Chicago the Mid-west Debate Conference chose appropriately enough the question "Resolved, that the essential features of the McNary Haugen bill be incorporated into law." Debate coaches from college debate teams of both sexes in the state of Michigan, Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, and Wisconsin were present. For the women a more academic subject was chosen, "Resolved that the jury system should be abolished. —New Student Service.

MUSKINGUM GAME DESIGNATED AS WALTER CAMP MEMORIAL

Next Saturday, the date of the Muskingum football game will be known as "Walter Camp Day". Between halves of the game a collection will be taken to help pay for the memorial gate way that will be erected at Yale University in New Haven in his honor. All of the Universities and Colleges of the United States have been asked to contribute to this fund. It has been recommended by the Ohio Board of Managers that an addition of ten cents be made to the admission charge of the game but Prof. R. F. Martin thought that such would be too compulsory and has arranged that all who care to may contribute at the game. If Otterbein raises fifty dollars at the game her name will be printed on a plate and be placed with the rest of the names in a conspicuous place on the memorial.

Walter Camp is known to the sport world as the Father of Football" and to the general public as the originator of Walter Camp's Daily Dozen. During his undergraduate days at Yale he won a place on every varsity team. He was pitcher and Captain of the baseball team, was on the track team and rowed on his class crew besides winning swimming races up to five miles. However, football gave him his big moments.

In Camp's first year at Yale they played their first game of football under Rugby rules. Walter Camp played half back on the first football team. In two years he was captain of his team. In that day before there were any paid coaches the captain took care of the training of the teams but it is said of Walter Camp's team, "His men would follow him anywhere."

PROF. MARTIN APPOINTED TO PLAN LODGE PROJECT

Prof. R. F. Martin is the chairman of a committee appointed a week ago last night by the Blendon Lodge Masons for the purpose of investigating the possibilities of building a Masonic Temple in Westerville. The plan is not new, and was suggested over a year ago by the lodge. However nothing definite was done at that time.

Prof. J. P. West, treasurer of the college, was elected treasurer of the committee. Prof. E. W. E. Schear, on leave of absence from the college for one year, is also a member of the committee.

WOMEN WILL DEBATE

Get all set for a good fight for this year the women will march into inter-collegiate linguistic battles. Women who have fulfilled the requirements are: Verda Evans, Alice Propst, Margaret Kumler and Virginia Nicholas. Negotiations are being carried on for debates with Heidelberg and Wittenberg.

Walter Camp was in a large way responsible for the present game of football. He was responsible for the reduction of the number of players from fifteen to eleven. He was later responsible for the opening up of the game which permitted less injuries and gave the spectators more thrills in the way of long runs and spectacular passes.

Walter Camp's "All America" teams were recognized generally. There will doubtless be many other such selections but none will command the respect as did the selections made by Walter Camp.

The Sportsmanship Brotherhood defines the true sportsman as one who—

Plays the game for his side;
Keeps to the rules;
Keeps a stout heart in defeat;
Keeps faith with his comrades;
Keeps himself fit;
Keeps his temper;
Keeps modest in victory;
Keeps a sound soul, a clean mind and a healthy body.

E. K. Hall, Chairman Football Rules Committee says, "I have never known a man who exemplified the sportsman's code better than Camp."

My Roommate Says—

That the other nite she came in and found her side-kick reading the Little Gray Book and she's been worried about her ever since.

That one of the nice things about week-end trips home is that you can tell anything you want to and not be contradicted.

That she's expecting a test in School Ad most any day since Colgate got beaten in football.

That her idea of Paradise Lost is six 7:30's and three Saturdays.

That if she has to park in the Library much more she's going to try to get a rebate on room rent.

That she's in favor of a Girl's Varsity "O" to enforce the wearing of green ribbons.

That she started last week to prepare Papa for the oncoming grade card.

That O Henry has nothing on her when it comes to giving that surprise twist on the end, especially when it applies to snap quizzes.

OFFICIALS AGAIN URGE JUBILEE COLLECTIONS

Officials in charge of the collection and solicitation of the Jubilee funds again are making known the extreme urgency for the payment of all Jubilee pledges. The college may be forced to suffer a loss if the terms of the Rockefeller contract are not fulfilled before January 1.

All pledges should be paid before November 7. Jubilee week has been designated to begin November 1 and end November 7.

Six men are now in the field supervising the collection of all outstanding pledges. If sufficient collection cannot be made before November 7, stringent efforts will be made to secure new pledges.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC PRESENTS FIRST RECITAL

A very pleasing and varied program was given last Wednesday evening in Lambert Hall by the students of the Conservatory of music in their first recital of the year. Every department of the school was represented.

These programs which are presented once a month throughout the year are not only beneficial for the players, but are very interesting to the audience.

There were seven piano numbers, seven vocal solos, a violin duet, an organ solo and a mandolin selection on the program.

Another recital will be presented by the music students sometime before the Christmas vacation. The definite date will be announced later.

FAMOUS WESTMINSTER CHOIR WILL GIVE
CONCERT IN U. B. CHURCH NOVEMBER 8Otterbein Graduates
Of '11 Are Directors

CHORUS OF 60 VOICES

Musical Organization From Dayton
Westminster Presbyterian Church Making Tour.

The nationally famous Westminster Choir, which is directed by Mr. and Mrs. John Findlay Williamson, graduates of Otterbein in the class of 1911, will give a concert in the United Brethren church Monday evening, November 8. Announcement of the ticket sale will be made later by Prof. A. R. Spessard.

Westminster Choir is more than a choir, being a regular concert organization. It is the finest mixed chorus known, and is comprised of over sixty voices. It is Nationally and Internationally known, having given concerts in all the larger cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts.

During a concert given by the Westminster Choir all numbers are unaccompanied and at no time during the concert is there any sign of them taking a pitch.

The choir is under New York management and because it is such a high class organization, guarantees of a thousand dollars are necessary for its appearance.

"Because their concerts are high class," Professor Spessard says, "the Westminster Choir's concert will be, without a doubt, the finest ever heard on Otterbein's campus."

Westminster Choir, in addition to Otterbein's concert, is giving concerts at Oberlin College, at Oberlin, and Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware.

1926 YOUTH LIKE ADAM
WHEN HE RAISED CAIN

"Youths of today are no worse than those of yesterday," declares Dr. Rudolph Michael Binder, D. D., Ph. D., professor of sociology at New York University. "It's world old. No doubt Adam and Eve were shocked at the behavior of their son Cain. They forgot that they, according to hypothesis, were themselves responsible for such wild behavior, since they had transgressed the law of God—not to eat the fruit of knowledge," said the noted authority.

Much of the talk on the lack of morals, says Prof. Binder, originated with a certain group of narrow-minded people who have set a code of rules, up to whose standard they and every one else must live and even think.

Miss Thelma Snyder was hostess to the Hanby Music Club at her home last Tuesday afternoon. Grace Cornet, Ethyl Wilburg, Marguerite Banner and Evelyn Edwards were the Otterbein students who appeared on the program.

SIBYL STAFF IS NOW WORKING FULL FORCE ON '27 YEARBOOK

Junior Class Appoints New Business Officers

SPECIAL SECTION PLANNED

Theme Of Book To Be Taken From Entrance To Science Hall.
Tan Color Scheme.

The report comes from the staff of the 1927 Sibyl, that a really different year book will be offered to the student body this year. The staff declares that this year's effort is to be one that will truly be representative of college life, and one to be highly treasured.

After careful study of types and methods in annual book work, the staff has decided that the theme for this year's book will be a design taken from the entrance to the Science Hall. It is felt that this theme will help to give the book artistic continuity, and at the same time to break up any awkward open spaces. The border for each page, the main division pages and the cover will carry this design in some form or other.

A special feature has been added to this year's book; however its exact nature has not been divulged. It is to appear as a special opening section. The scenic section will be somewhat different from former years also.

Last year four representative students, two men and two women were selected from the Senior Class. Plans are under way to allow this selection to be made from the whole school, since the whole school is concerned. One man and one woman will probably be selected from the whole school, while one each will be chosen as representative of some particular type of man or woman.

Cream paper with a tan border has been selected for use in the book proper. The cover will be made of stiff stock with old gold letters on a brown background.

Both the business and editorial staffs of the annual are working with "all hands on deck" so that the book will be out in good time in the spring. The engraving contract has been awarded to The Canton Engraving Co. Baker Art Gallery is making all the photographs except those of the Seniors, which the Montrose Studio has charge of. The printing contract has not been let so far.

Work was temporarily held up on the business staff by the resignation of Albert Barnes and Louie Norris as business manager and treasurer of the staff, respectively. These men felt that they would not be able to do justice to their positions on account of the press of other outside activities. As a result of the class meeting held by the Juniors Wednesday noon, Ernest Reigle was elected to the position of business manager and Feron Troxel to that of treasurer.

The personnel of the staffs now is:

Editorial Staff: Editor-in-Chief, John

Business Staff: Business Manager, Ernest Reigle; Assistant Business Manager, Claude Zimmerman; Advertising Manager, George Griggs; Assistant Advertising Manager, Ross Miller, H. C. Minnich, Margaret Kumler, Lloyd Yochum; Treasurer, Feron Troxel; Circulation Manager, Waldo Keck; Assistants, Craig Wales, Viola Peden.

road will be the scene of the dinner of the Alumni Athletic Club at 12:30. The Club has invited all alumni who are interested to attend the dinner.

The college band will lead the parade which will start from the Administration building at 1:30. Many of the campus organizations are entering floats in the parade. The Freshmen men will also form one section of the procession.

The high end of the score after swinging between Muskingum and Otterbein since 1920 should rightfully come to the Tan team this year in the grid battle which will begin at 2:30.

Muskingum has several spectacular men, among them a 210-pound German guard.

Banquet To Be Big Affair.

The annual Homecoming banquet will be held in the basement of the United Brethren church at 6 o'clock. Everyone is privileged to attend this feast. Tickets are now on sale at 75 cents each. Alice Propst is in charge of the sale.

The toastmaster has not yet been secured but attempts are being made to secure John Garver of Strasburg for this position. President W. G. Clippinger, Coach M. A. Ditmer and Captain Robert Snively will be among the principal speakers on the program. Definite musical numbers have not been secured.

Football badges will be sold at cost this year by the Student Council, which is sponsoring the entire Homecoming celebration. The Sophomore members of the Men's Senate have charge of the sale.

Innovation Is 24-Page Program

Another innovation at this year's Homecoming festival will be a 24-page program with a tan cover printed in cardinal ink. It will contain a number of features concerning both teams and a great deal of minor material. These programs will be sold at fifteen cents each probably by members of the Freshmen class.

Social Groups To Entertain.

After the banquet in the evening all of the social groups will stage entertainments for their visiting alumni.

No definite plans have yet been devised for the erection of the sun dial which the class of 1926 presented to the college as its farewell gift.

A special edition of the alumni publication, containing an invitation to return for Homecoming, was issued Saturday and mailed to all alumni. The pamphlet was entitled "Campus Comment" and contained a number of other features in addition.
