VARSIITY TAKES ATHENIAN SCALP

Mundhenk Holds Ohio Batters to Three Hits, While Otterbein Clouts Ohio Artists for Thirteen.

LINGREL SMASHES BALL

Varsity Outclasses Ohio in Every Department—Ream and Booth Hit Well—Team Fields Cleanly.

Otterbein's baseball nine trounced the Ohio University team on the Ohio field at Athens last Saturday to the tune of 7 to 3. The game was an exhibition of two extremes, Ohio playing a wretched game in the field while Otterbein played in big league fashion. Both mound men for Ohio were exceedingly easy for the Otterbein swatsmiths, while Mundhenk was invincible to the Green and White men.

In the last of the second inning Finsterwald gained first base by being hit by the pitcher. He was then advanced on Grover's hit and crossed the plate for the first score of the game. Otterbein was equal to the occasion and in the first of the third evening things up besides taking a small lead. Mundhenk got on base through Grover's error, Ream followed and was safe by Goddard's error. Weber then singled scoring Mundhenk and Ream. "Jew" then stole second and scored on Booth's sacrifice. This put Otterbein two points in the lead, which kept growing as the game progressed. In the last of the fourth Ohio made their last scores when through a series of plays Watkins and Grover crossed the plate. Otterbein scored three more runs during the remainder of the game.

Lingrel was there again with the "big stick" and secured four hits from five times at bat, one of which was a three-sacker. Ream and Booth were close followers with three and two hits respectively. "Mundy" only

Year Ends with Bills Paid and Small Surplus in Treasury.

Although it was necessary to hold the books open a few days, W. O. Baker is able to make a report which shows all bills paid and a slight surplus with which to begin next year. The many improvements made last summer greatly increased the budget for the year. All of this has been raised through the personal solicitation of President Clippinger. The fact that Otterbein has been able to close the books with a surplus in recent years has made it possible to gain much in the way of gifts and recognition by endowment boards.

Athletic Association Votes To Build New Tennis Courts.

In a called meeting after chapel this morning the Athletic Association decided to start the construction of some new tennis courts immediately. A part of the money cleared by the minstrel show will be used to defray the necessary expenses. The construction of these new courts, which should have been made early this spring, was necessarily delayed on account of the baseball team. A baseball diamond was to be fixed on the new athletic field, and the old one used for our new tennis courts. But owing to some unavoidable circumstances these changes could not be made. Matters have adjusted themselves so that we can soon have several new up-to-date tennis courts as well as a new baseball diamond on the new field next year. The debt that will be incurred is the result of the failure of the students to make good the total pledges of last fall. Another minstrel will clear this.

REED GIVES LECTURES

Noted Speaker From West Delivers Series of Addresses in Chapel on City Government.

Professor T. H. Reed of the University of California delivered a series of lectures last week in the college chapel. His theme was "The Evolution of City Government in the United States."

In the first lecture on Monday evening, he gave a history of city government and outlined the course of its development. He told why city government is necessary and how, in its early history, people were made to feel the need of the affairs of the city. He then mentioned some of the evils of the early city governments, but discussed them more thoroughly in his next lecture.

On Wednesday morning at the chapel hour, in pointing out the evils and faults of the early city governments, he stated that the people were unable to fix the responsibility of government upon any one person or group of persons, and that this condition of affairs made it impossible to find the real source of many unsatisfactory measures which were passed by the city government. Professor Reed then told how a reform in city government was inaugurated at the time of the flood at Galveston, Texas. At this time of disorder, the people took into their own hands the affairs of the city, and learned that by consistent cooperation they could run the affairs of the city themselves. From this developed the various forms of city government which are now in operation. The operation of

SENIORS WILL PRESENT PLAY

"Much Ado About Nothing" to be Given on Wednesday of Commencement Week.

CAST IS WELL CHOSEN

Will be Staged on Campus With Natural Scenic Effects—Fritz Coaches Actors.

On Wednesday evening, June 14, the Senior Class will present Shakespeare's comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing," with Mary Nichols and Glen Rosselot in the leading parts. For weeks the cast has been hard at work upon this play, and the finished production promises to be one which will be a credit to 1916.

Supporting Miss Nichols and Mr. Rosselot is a cast which is proving very good in the several parts. Helen Moses as Hero is a very demure little maid who cannot help touching the heart of Claudio who is Stanley Ross. Throughout the first, second, and third acts these two are models of love sick couples. Even the biting sarcasm of Benedict cannot dissuade Claudio from his love. Without his Hero, Claudio cannot exist a single day, and Hero sees no sun in the Universe save in her Claudio. Benedict and Beatrice, on the other hand are models of peppery dislike during the first part of the play. Each professes to hate the other, and ample proof of this sentiment is given in their biting and sarcastic remarks to one another. By a ruse, however, each is made to believe that the other is madly in love, and dare not speak because of fear and refusal. This changes the situation. Then does our erstwhile staid and dignified Rosselot stand forth and say:

"Beatrice! Love me! Why it must be requited. When I said I would die a bachelor, I did not think I should live till I were married."

And soon after this quiet little Mary trips on the stage and says: "Contempt farewell! And maiden pride adieu.

No Glory lives behind the back of such.

And Benedict, love on; I will requite thee,

Taming my wild heart to thy loving hand."

And thus are two hearts, once warring, united into one. Here, perhaps, is an example for Europe.

Love, however, pursues a snaky course for Claudio, for Don John, in the person of L. H. Biddle, cooks up a devilish scheme by which Hero is made to appear disloyal to her darling. Receiving what seems to be un-

Chapel to Have Pipe Organ—Kind Donor Withholds Name.

Withholding the donor's name, President Clippinger announced a gift of a pipe organ for the college chapel. It has been hoped for some time that this gift to the college would be made, but nothing definite was announced until Monday morning at the chapel service.

The organ will be especially built for college purposes and will embody several new and unique features of construction. It will be especially adapted to teaching purposes and also for concert use and public worship.

The cost of the organ will be approximately forty-five hundred dollars. Several companies are making estimates and it is said by those in charge of the purchase of the instrument that a selection will be made within a week or two and that the organ will be installed in the early fall.

This is a gift from a good friend of Otterbein and will be erected as a memorial.

ORCHESTRA GIVES CONCERT

College Instrumentalists Supported by Glee Club Render Pleasing Program Before Packed House.

A large audience greeted the combined concert of the Otterbein Orchestral Club and the Otterbein Glee Club on last Thursday evening. The chapel was packed to the doors, those coming late having difficulty in securing seats. Every number received many rounds of applause, and during the two appearances of the Glee Club the house insisted on encore after encore. The program was varied and well rendered. The orchestral numbers were exceptionally good. As to the Glee Club's singing, the enthusiastic approval of the audience bore witness to its excellence.

The program opened with Langley's selection of Italian Folk Songs from Italy, a lively bright number, reflecting the sunny life in old Italy. This was followed by a "Cossack Lullaby" of Jiranek, more sober in nature, and with a soothing melody running throughout. Then that delightful Russian melody, the "Song of the Boatman of the Volga," was played, after which the orchestra retired and the Glee Club came upon

President and Wife to Entertain.

President and Mrs. W. G. Clippinger will give a reception in the Cochran Hall parlors on Saturday evening, June 10 at eight o'clock in honor of the senior class and family friends, all alumni, faculty and wives. Dr. J. H. Frances, '92, superintendent of the public school of Columbus will be an honored guest at this reception.

ALUMNI STUNTS ARRANGED

Columbus and Westerville Clique
Will Present Fitting Play Which Ends With a Moral.

One of the liveliest events of the day, and something entirely new, will be the stunt program in the college chapel at 2:30, following the dinner at noon. The alumni and former students have been divided according to classes, cliques or cities, so that they might arrange different parts of the stunt program. Alumni from Westerville and Columbus will stage a play depicting the events of the life of Grandfather Alumni Spirit. This old gentleman, who had a large family, is shown very feeble and tottering, in fact he has one foot in the grave. His demise supposedly comes and the family gathers around to divide the property. The will is about to be read, when the old gentleman walks in on the company and reports that he has decided to change his will and that he is going to give his property to the last person with whom he lives. To cap the climax he announces that he is going to marry. This is the high point in the play and calls for some good acting. With his marriage he is rejuvenated and has a great ambition to great things for the college. Thus the play ends with a moral.

The Dayton group is under the charge of Nettie Lee Roth, '15. Their plans are kept secret, but Otterbein can always count on the Dayton crowd's being up to the minute.

An auction sale will be one of the interesting stunts. Hollis E. Shirey, one of Otterbein's famous wits, will be the auctioneer, and he will sell everything from the college bell to some of the old college ponies.

Dr. Andrew Timberman, '87, of Columbus, will be the chief surgeon in the operating room, where an ambulance will take the sick and ailing. No charges will be made for the removal of yellow streaks or the imbuelement of a good healthy college spirit into anyone who should be so unfortunate as to have lost it.

There is no telling what else this day may bring forth, for when some of the former roughnecks get back to Otterbein the roughness may return suddenly and Westerville fruit cellars may suffer thereby.

To accommodate the visitors, the Otterbein Alumni association officers have prepared a list of the rooming houses in Westerville. This will be in the hands of the committee at the alumnal headquarters in the association parlors. Here all the alumni and friends will be urged to gather, that they may meet one another and register. The election of officers will be held at the headquarters in place of in the treasurer's office as formerly. Ballots may be secured there for the voting. In addition, arrangements are being made to place all the tickets for any of the events of the week on sale at the headquarters.

PROMINENT SENIORS

Frank E. Sanders.

Although christened Frank Edgar, to Otterbein students he is better known as "Bones." He received this homely cognomen when a youngster running the streets of Westerville, which town he is a native. Since that time he has never been able to add sufficient weight to outgrow the nick name. It is more than likely that he will continue to be known as such unless Providence is more liberal to him in the future.

His preparatory work was completed in Martin Boehm. Besides the regular work of the college years he has attended summer school that he might linger in this classic town during the summer months for fear Helen and he might be parted. Information at hand does not point to his receiving any favors from the college because of family ties in the faculty.

He has been prominent in all forms of class athletics. Each year he has been a mainstay on the 1916 basketball five and a strong candidate for a forward job on the varsity. On the Sibyl board he was assistant business manager. This year he is handling the finances for the senior class. Along other managerial lines he has served as baseball business manager in his junior year. During the past year he has managed the glee club.

In the future "Bones" expects to teach school. It is reported that with the first profits he expects to "By-fer."

Neally Elected to Captain
Track Squad Next Season.

At a meeting of the track team, after the St. Mary's meet, A. W. Neally, '17, was chosen to the captaincy of the 1917 track team. Ever since Neally entered Otterbein he has been one of the mainstays of the tracksters. He delivered the goods early in his career and easily copped his letter when a freshman. Last year he was hampered with a bad knee, but bagged his usual number of points. In the season just past Neally sacrificed himself by entering the dashes because there were no other men who could even make a showing and so had to be content with second places in his races which went in the fast time of 10 seconds flat for the hundred and 23 4-5 seconds for the two-hundred.

TRACK TEAM LOSES AGAIN

Varsity Athletes are Handed Neat Defeat at the Hands of Saint Marys Tracksters.

In a spirited and fast track meet St. Mary's defeated Otterbein at Dayton by a score of 73 to 58. The Dayton track was in fine shape and some good marks were made. The 100 yard dash, was run in 10 seconds flat. Both hurdle races were also run in good time. The weight events were excellent and here Otterbein held her own, for Lingrel and Miller were equal to the St. Marys lads.

The highest point getter was Lai Hipp of St. Mary's having 28 points to his credit. For Otterbein Oppelt led having 10 points. On account of the badly arranged schedule of events all Otterbein men had to run their races in succession without any rest. This had a great deal to do with the final score. The results of the meet are as follows:

100-Yard Dash—Hipp, St. Mary's, first; Porter, St. Mary's, second; Neally, Otterbein, third. Time, :10.

1 Mile Run—Oppelt, Otterbein, first; Ryan, St. Mary's, second; Love, Otterbein, third. Time, 4:45 1-5.

120-Yard High Hurdles—Hipp, St. Mary's, first; Nugent, St. Mary's second; Fellers, Otterbein, tie for second. Time, :17 4-5.

220-Yard Dash—Hipp, St. Mary's, first; Porter, St. Mary's, second; Neally, Otterbein, third. Time, :23 4-5.

440-Yard Dash—Nugent, St. Mary's, first; Underwood, St. Mary's, second; Thrush, Otterbein, third. Time, :52 2-5.

880-Yard Run—Fellers, Otterbein, first; Schmidt, St. Mary's, second; Ligday, St. Mary's third. Time, 2:08 2-5.

220-Yard Low Hurdles—Hipp, St. Mary's, first; Porter, St. Mary's second; Thrush and Barnhart tied for third. Time, :29.

Pole Vault—Peden, Otterbein, first; Barnhart, Otterbein, second; Evans, St. Mary's, third. Height, 10 feet.

Shotput—Lingrel, Otterbein, first; Higelmire, Otterbein, second; Busch, St. Mary's, third. Distance, 34 feet, 8 inches.

Relay Race—Won by St. Mary's: Nugent, Porter, Ryan, Underwood. Time, 3:38 2-5.

SCIENCE CLUB MEETS

Interesting and Instructive Papers
Read at Last Meeting of Scientists
in Saum Hall.

The last meeting of the Science Club for this year was held Monday evening at 7:30 in Professor Schear's recitation room. The club this year has been doing good work. Of course there is still much room for improvement, but we believe that as the organization gets a little older and comes to be appreciated by the students to the degree that it should be, it will become more and more a factor of student life. The club loses but two members this year by graduation and should be much larger next year than ever before.

"Pellagra" was the subject discussed by Rowena Thompson as her valedictory address as president of the club. Pellagra is a skin disease quite prevalent in the South. It is caused by an improper diet. The average case lasts about three years. Chronic cases have been known to last fifteen years. The absence of proteins from the diet is perhaps the direct cause of the disease. Other authorities believe the disease is due to some intoxicating substance in the diet. Pellagra finds its victims chiefly among the laboring classes. Women are more susceptible to it than men.

Mrs. Noble could not be present so her paper on "A Balanced Meal" was read by Alice Hall. There are four classes of food—fats and oils, proteins, carbohydrates, and mineral foods. One class of foods cannot be substituted for the other. Nature needs all kinds to keep the body going. Scurvy, pellagra and other diseases are caused by failure to take a varied diet. The properly balanced ration consists of pure, wholesome food in sufficient quantity to promote growth, preserve health and guard against disease.

The last paper of the evening was read by Prof. Schear on "The Determination of Sex." This is a very old problem in biology and one until recently considered unsolvable. Old theories made the sex of the offspring dependent on the relative physical health of the parent, or on external factors such as food. But the modern theory teaches that sex is predetermined in the egg. The theory is known as the chromosome theory.

Varsity Will Close Season
At Muskingum on Thursday.

Next Thursday the Otterbein baseball nine will cross bats with the Muskingum team at New Concord. This is the last regular game of the season and prospects for a closing victory are bright. With the style of ball put up in the last two games the Muskingum nine should have quite a little trouble if they carry off the honors. In former years Otterbein has received some pretty tough decisions at New Concord but the boys will make everything sure in order to close the season victorious. The motto for this week is "Get Muskingum."

Library Receives Gifts

From Alumni and Friends.

During the past year, the college library has been fortunate in receiving a number of valuable gifts from alumni and friends of the college.

The latest gift arrived just last week and has not been catalogued. It consists of about three hundred volumes, and is a gift from James Allison Barnes, '94. The other gifts are as follows:

Twenty volumes and a case of object lesson cards for use in teaching—Doctor Jones.

Nine volumes—President Clippinger.

Forty volumes—Doctor Suavey.

Fifty-seven volumes, relating to temperance—E. H. Cherrington.

Twelve volumes—H. N. Athanasian.

Two volumes and a photograph of the Otterbein faculty as it was in the sixties—Richard Chambers.

Besides these gifts the college library has been purchasing new books and has grown considerably during the last year. The many books and periodicals of the college library, together with those of the four literary societies make a library of which Otterbein well may be proud.

Juniors Trounce the Seniors.

While Preps Trim Freshmen.

This last week marked a victory and defeat for two more teams in the class baseball series. Last Friday the seniors were forced to take an overwhelming defeat by the Juniors to a tune of 13 to 4. The heavy hitting of the Junior team and poor fielding on the part of the Seniors was the cause for the large score.

Saturday afternoon the Preps appeared on the scene and whipped the "Freshies" in a seven inning game by a score of 12 to 7. This was the second game for the first year men defeating the sophomores a few weeks ago. Siddall and Fellers doing the mound work for the freshmen were unable to locate the plate, which aided the Preps in their scoring. The score by innings of the two games is as follows:

Seniors 1 0 0 0 1 3 0 0 4

Juniors 4 3 0 2 1 1 1 1

Batteries: Seniors—Sanders and Richey; Juniors—Turner and Meyers.

Freshman 1 0 1 0 1 1 3 7

Academy 3 5 1 1 1 1 12

Batteries: Freshmen—Siddall, Fellers and Replogle; Preps—Hiett and Peden.

Former President's Mother Dies.

Dr. Lewis Bookwalter's mother, Mrs. Phebe Bookwalter, died in Chicago, May 17, aged almost ninety-five years. Funeral services were held in Lisbon, Iowa, two days later, conducted by President M. R. Drury of Leander Clark College, a long time friend of the family. Dr. Lewis Bookwalter was president of Otterbein for a number of years preceding President Clippinger, and is now pastor at Kansas City.

Making and Keeping Friends.

Our friends are those who know
all about us and love us all the more for it. They see the best in us and by that very fact call forth the best in us. Friendship is one soul abiding in two bodies. It is the first, unveiling of love, the greatest gift possessed by man. It is a communion of heart, the purest and greatest joy in the world. To the individual who has a true genuine friend, words expressing ideas of friendship can not satisfy him in the definition of his own friend.

Otterbein is a garden spot to cultivate lasting and blessed friendships.
There is no better time in our lives
than now, for we are young in years
and therefore less cautious, more open to impressions, ready to welcome new ideas and open in our opinions. Later in life it will be hard to give ourselves away, our ideas will be old and firm, and we will keep a firmer hand on our feelings. If you fail to make friends in college you will lose a golden opportunity and your course might as well be thrown to the winds.

But these golden and blessed friendships are not to be picked up in the street. They would not be worth much if they were. Like wisdom they must be sought for as for diamonds in the sands. You must get out of your narrow shell, quit looking in the looking glass, find the good in your associates, and having found it, learn to appreciate it.

To be able to make friends is sometimes an easy matter but to keep them is a different thing altogether. Human beings have different temperaments and for one it is easy to make friends while for another it is easier to keep them. Here at Otterbein as anywhere it is indeed a difficult task to keep friends for it demands much care and thought.
Little faults of manner, little occasions of thoughtlessness or lack of little courtesies do more to separate us than glaring mistakes. Many of our friends are lost through sins of speech. Just a little slip of the tongue often breaks hearts and God himself can't take back the stinging words after they are said. We do not treat our friends with enough respect. We should treat them with a sort of sacred familiarity as if we appreciated the precious gift of their friendship.

The greatest of all obstacles in keeping friends here is the one called gossip. More friends have been separated from this cause than by any other. Some mean natures rejoice in sowing discord, carrying tales with just the slightest turn of a phrase, or even a tone of the voice, which gives a sinister reading to an innocent word or act. Frankness can only prevent such from wrecking friendship. This gossip is brought about through envy, jealousy
and a tongue that delights in scandal.
If we will only save our opinions until we find out the truth much sorrow and sadness will be done away. It is a difficult task to master these difficulties but when we once learn the secret of keeping friends we are the possessors of a priceless gift.

Stay for Commencement.

Commencement week is fast approaching. It is the gala time of the school year. A time of both gladness and sorrow. Joy reigns because the work is over and tears flow for the parting of college friends. Commencement is really a part of the school year and those who miss the festivities fall short of their opportunities. The social life of the week is a prime factor in our education and to miss it means a loss to everyone.

We should all stay for commencement week from the lowliest "prep"
to the president of the senior class.
Many visitors and alumni are coming to visit the school and naturally to get a glimpse of the student body.
If we are not here a poor impression is made of Otterbein, a misfortune that not one of us would wish. What a fine thing it would be if all those who could, would resolve to remain for the memorable week, to the betterment of ourselves, the pleasure of the alumni and the advantage of Otterbein.

Changing the Hours.

In the catalogues just issued we note a decided change in the hours of classes from Monday to Friday. This move is a good one and the faculty

used excellent judgment in ordering the change.

In the past years Monday classes
were not what they should have been.
The students were listless after the week-end vacation and came to class with lessons unprepared. Many were through with the week's work on Thursday and then threw all their efforts for one big time during the remaining days. In their empty minds was a half-hearted idea that they would get their lessons on Sunday which also slipped by in the usual
"happy-go-lucky" fashion. Others who were more conscientious prepared them on Friday; but when Monday came found that they had forgotten what they had learned.

The trouble was that the vacation
was too long and thus the lesson so easily forgotten had slipped away.
The new order ought to improve these conditions since all will have plenty of time to do their duty in the class room, which after all is the real benefit of the college.

Our Orchestra.

There is one organization in Otterbein that is organized, not for its personal benefits but for the pleasure of others and that organization is the college orchestra. These instrumentalists gave the townspeople and students a splendid program last week for nothing, which is something new around these parts. They even went so far as to scoop out of their already empty pockets the kale in order to delight the audience with programs.

During the past year the orchestra
has been out-bid by a little "dinky" organization, which is in the field to beat the bigger fellows out of their jobs and incidentally to show off.
And those who are supposed to have the school at heart disregard the college organization entirely and hire this cheaper set of musicians. It is to be hoped that all will soon get a vision of the greater Otterbein and stick to the college orchestra as we should.

IT STRIKES US

That the editing of a college paper
is not to be envied.

That the Varsity "O" association is about the deadest organization in the school.

That Friday's Chapel service will long be remembered.

That some of us must cram for exams, or flunk.

That college students ought to know what they intend to do before they graduate.

That a serenade of the Glee Club at the dorm would be enjoyed soon again.

That training for our athletic teams
is a joke.

That interest in our work is suffering the pangs of hook-worm.

That Doctor Francis caused a little squirming when he said "Don't waste your time trying to be good."

That Decoration day picnics are getting to be annual affairs.

CLUB TALK

To the Editor:

Great turmoil and consternation arose in the faculty camp a year or so ago when a new grading system was adopted. In the selection and perfecting of this system a committee investigated and reported in detail
so that all members of the faculty might thoroughly understand it.
After this the president likewise went to great pains in explaining and discussing it.

After all this, students have a right to expect, at the very least, a certain uniformity in the grading system. At this time a few conform to the action in favor of the new system, some abide by the old system as if it were one of the beloved traditions of Otterbein while others break out with the theory that grades are worthless
and that none should be given.

In this article we do not wish to uphold over another anyone of these groups. We do, however, want one system used. Such as has been adopted. Why not make it the universal system? There is no reason why the will of the majority should not be recognized by the minority
even though it be in the Otterbein faculty.
Abe Ooster.

To the Editor:

In an editorial the former editor
of The Otterbein Review commented upon the lack of social life in Otterbein. There is much truth in his article. We are about now to go into a final whirl of social life but during the past year we have had absolutely nothing in that line.

One of the main reasons for this inactivity is that our girls are so slow.
They never give a thing in any line of society unless they invite to dinner
or to a "push," and these but seldom.
Athletic seasons, glee club concerts
and all pass by with never a reception or the slightest kind of recognition in the social line. Why our co-eds do not even have the selfish desire to show their pretty dresses—the modest things—is hard to answer.

There seems to be but one way to help the situation and that is for the boys to lead out. Since there are no other parlors we shall have to break into the "Dorm" and hold a fancy ball (a la Otterbein) right in the faces of our fair ladies. Some social life must be started regardless of the manner and means.

—Social Demon.

The Kiss.

A kiss is a peculiar proposition.
Of no use to one, yet absolute bliss to two. The small boy gets it for nothing; the young man has to steal it; the old man has to buy it. The baby's right; the lover's privilege;
the hypocrite's mask. To a young girl, faith; to a married woman, hope;
to an old maid charity.—Ex.

If there is any good thing that you can get too much of it is a little advice.

Lingrel led again in this respect, pulling down six flies in fine shape. There didn't seem to be a single place in center field to hit a safe ball, and Ohio couldn't hit them any place else as neither Schnake or "Gil" had a chance. The box score is as follows:

the various political machines was described in a very interesting manner. Professor Reed told why they are organized, how they procure the money which is required for their operation. He also gave a vivid description of the evolution of the "political boss."

Wednesday evening, he spoke of the various forms of city government in operation. In the past, the fear of power has been a curse to our American government. People were afraid to grant to one man or body of men, unrestricted power or authority, but always placed beside that body of men another body to act as a check on whatever measure was passed by the first body. But under the present forms of city government, a single individual or body has complete control, but this individual is hired by the city and in case he fails to perform his duties properly his power is taken from him. Of the various forms of city government, such as commission government, manager government, and absolute mayor government, Professor Reed said that in his opinion, the city manager form is best.

ORCHESTRA GIVES CONCERT

the stage. Robin's "Medley" of well-known American songs was first sung, followed by two light encores, "General Grant" and a "Mother Goose Tale." The orchestra next played Tchaikowsky's beautiful "Song Without Words." An "Arabian Serenade" by Langey followed, and then that tender duet "How so Fair" from Flotow's "Martha" was played. The Glee Club sang "O Peaceful Night," and followed with three humorous encores, "In the the Morning," "Oh Jerusalem" and the "Bagpipes," ending in a dismal groan, after someone stuck a pin in the bags. The orchestra next played Paderewski's dainty "Minuet," and ended with a sprightly Hungarian march, "Rakoczy," by Liszt. Taken altogether the concert was excellent, and the combined clubs only deserve the splendid support they received.

disputable proof of this, Claudio goes to the church to be married, but, making known her supposed crime, scorns her before the whole congregation. This arouses the wrath of her father, H. D. Bercaw, who, believing in preparedness, buckles on his rapier, and challenges Claudio to a duel. Benedict, urged on by Beatrice, also puts in his bid for a scrap with Claudio, but before any blood is shed, the duplicity of Don John is bared and universal peace is established. Both Benedict and Claudio are married, and the world moves once more among roses.

Besides this plot of semi-seriousness, some most ludicrous scenes take place between the men of the watch and the constable, Bogberry (Babe LaRue), who informs the company that he is "As pretty a piece of flesh as any is in Messina." While not doubting his word we are inclined to view the whole act as funny. Supporting Babe in this scene we have the renowned Albert Lambert Glunt and four others of like merit. We must not mention the names of all the cast, for the longer we go the better they get, and so we must stop our review here for fear a longer account of the excellence of this play would invoke an audience which would be too large for the theatre.

Mrs. Nellie L. Noble spent Memorial Day visiting friends in Richmond, Indiana.

At a senior class meeting last Wednesday evening it was decided to engage the college orchestra to furnish music for the senior play, "Much Ado About Nothing." This will be given on the college campus on Wednesday evening, June 14. Another assessment was levied on the class for the Sibyl. This makes the total paid by each member fourteen dollars. The last assessment is for one dollar. For this sum each member was given a volume of the Sibyl.

Lebanon College of Annville, Pennsylvania will observe its fiftieth anniversary this year. The program of commencement week, June 9 to 16 is a very elaborate one. Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent of New York will be the commencement speaker. G. D. Gossard, an Otterbein graduate in the class of 1892 is the president of Lebanon Valley College.

Announcements have been sent out to the effect that Miss Ethel May Scherer and Professor Charles Andrew Fritz will be married at the Presbyterian Church of Endeavor, Pennsylvania on Saturday, June 17. Professor Fritz and his bride will come to Westerville during the summer and make their home in Professor Spessard's residence while he is away. During this time they will get their own home in readiness.

Even though the hour was late the Glee Club could not pass up the opportunity to serenade the "dorm" after the reception at Professor Spessard's Thursday night.

W. R. Huber spent the week-end in Dayton.

The catalogues are here at last. A few changes have been made in the schedule. Several Monday classes have been shifted to Friday.

Tuesday was the annual picnic day. The weather man was a little unkind but the rain did not interfere with the plans. Glenmary Park, Camp Budd, Big Walnut and the tile mill were the places most in favor.

A. W. Neally visited at his home in Marion Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. E. E. Burtner conducted the chapel service Thursday.

The second edition of J. L. Morrison's poems is just off the press. The first issue was exhausted soon after publication and its demand was suffi-

Glee Club and Orchestra

Entertained by Spessards.

Immediately after the Orchestra and Glee-Club Concert, the members of these organizations, Professor Grabill and wife, Professor Bendinger and Frau, Mrs. C. E. Watts and Professor Fritz were royally entertained at the home of the Spessards. After a dainty lunch of strawberry short cake plus grape juice, for the Spessards are temperate, the dress suit donners and tastily dressed ladies were entertained by the victrola.

Notice—No dancing was in order for the room was packed to the limit as there was some thirty in the crowd. The party then merged into a sing which delighted the small audience of the untalented, who made up the rest of the party. After thanking Mr. and Mrs. Spessard for the enjoyable evening and hinting for another like occasion the merry-makers adjourned to the Dormitory where a serenade was rendered.

Wooster Racquetters Smother Otterbein in Straight Sets.

In straight sets Wooster defeated Otterbein in a tennis tournament here last Friday. The games were not as interesting as they might have been on account of the strong wind.

In the first match Bercaw met Buchanan of Wooster. Buchanan however proved to be too much for Bercaw and took the first set with a 6 to 3 score. "Hen" did better in the next set but was forced to defeat with a score of 6 to 4.

Ross then met Fitch in the second match. Otterbein here started the first few games in a whirlwind and all pointed to victory when the tide turned and Ross was defeated in two straight sets with the scores of 9 to 7, and 7 to 5 respectively.

In the doubles Fitch and Miller easily defeated Ressler and Senger by scores of 6 to 2 and 6 to 4.

Tuesday evening, Miss Blanche Groves, voice; Miss Verda Miles, voice, and Miss Lelia Debolt, piano, will receive diplomas.

At the same hour and place Wednesday evening, Miss Lucile Blackmore, voice, Mrs. Anne Bercaw, voice, and Miss Clara Kreiling, piano, will give the recital.

These recitals always attract considerable attention among students and townspeople and the coming ones promise to be up to the excellent standard of the past. The conservatory has been growing by leaps and bounds and the quality of work required has been raised. Indeed all should witness the final appearance of our senior musicians.

COCHRAN NOTES

People don't have pushes anymore—everybody's attention is turned to exams. According to the nature of the "gramming," it seems that campistry, astronomy and nature study are expected to be the hardest.

Despite exams, Seniors can have a good time. Down in Mae Baker's room a good old fashioned "Toast-Push" was enjoyed to wind up the season in good fashion.

We've been sort of lonesome lately. Florence Berlet, Alice Hall, Betty Henderson and Neva Anderson spent the week-end out of Westerville. Gail Williamson left Sunday morning for home, not to return again this year.

Something came to us pretty strongly Saturday night. Tracers put on the scent soon revealed a "liver and onion push" in Edna Farley's and Marie Hendrick's room.

Doran will haul your trunks to the depot. When you are ready to leave see him or leave your name and room number at 46 West Park street.—Adv.

"Are you going to wear a duck hat? Loan me your boots. Oh Shoot! Don't you think the sun will shine?" Anybody knows all this and some more was heard in the general confusion that reigned Tuesday morning the thirtieth. But despite the bad beginning the day turned out to be a glorious one with sun and warmth, but in the evening back to Cochran Hall, a lot of happy, tired girls, who had had the "best time yet" of their picnic days.

Lucile McCulloch has entertained for several days, Marjorie Clarke of Elizabeth, New Jersey. It's mighty good to have "folks from home."

Sunday noon found many guests at the Hall, among whom were Reverend Burtner, Lois Bickelhaupt and Messrs. Huber, Gifford, Kline and McClure.

Jessie Wier of Baltimore, Ohio, was the guest of Lois Neible last week. Miss Levering was the guest of Alta White. Both of these are prospective Otterbeinites of next year.

The good old days of last year are brought back to us when Ruth Weimer comes to see us. Say Ruth, let's have some tomatoes, spring onions and fresh buttered bread!

Association Work Discussed—

Richey Springs New Ideas.

Thursday evening's Y. M. C. A. meeting was another one of those interesting and helpful ones led by a student. C. L. Richey took for his topic, "The Y. M. C. A." In the course of his address he gave some astonishing figures concerning the association, besides launching some very important questions. The most important of these was that of the association attendance, and how to help it. The leader in order to get at this question classed the students into two classes, namely that of "Preachers" and "Roughnecks." "The truth of it is that this association has been run by the 'preachers' and has not been put before the 'roughnecks' in the right way," continued Mr. Richey.

Professor Grabill Elected to American Guild of Organists.

At a meeting of the American Guild of Organists held in New York May 29 Professor Glenn Grant Grabill received the coveted honor of being elected to the membership of colleagues in that organization. A colleague is an organist whose name has been presented by two active members and elected by the council. Professor Grabill was recommended by J. Lawrence Erb, President of Music Teachers National Association and director of music at the University of Illinois. The American Guild of Organists is the largest and best of its kind in America and Professor Grabill is to be congratulated on his
