New Members Elected For Student Council

SNAVELY IS NEW PREXY

New Representatives for Government Elected After Strenuous Balloting Period.

After completing a three-hour period of almost continuous balloting last Wednesday morning for representatives to the Student Council the Junior class finally came to a definite conclusion. The Junior men, who were elected to the Council and automatically the Men's Senate, are Robert Snavely, President; Perry Laukhuff, James Phillips, and Wayne Harsha. The women, elected to the same Council and the Women's Senate are Mary McCabe, Martha Alsapach, Dorothy Ertzinger and Bessie Lincoln.

The Sophomores chose A. O. Barnes, Craig Wales, and Keene Van Curen for the Council and Men's Senate; and Alice Propst, Marguerite Banner, and Verda Evans for the Council and Women's Senate.

The Frosh chose Ruth Weimer and Isabelle Ruehrmund for the Women's Senate and Albert Mayer and Philipp Charles for the Men's Senate.

Freshmen representatives, of which there will be one man and one woman, will be elected late next fall when the new students have become more accustomed to college life.

The Freshman and Sophomore representatives may be members of the Men's and Women's Senates, but only upperclassmen are permitted to be members of the Student Council.

O C
Son of Second Otterbein President Visits Campus

Mr. T. L. Owen, son of Otterbein's second president, Dr. Owen, visited the campus Saturday and Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Owen. The Owens now live in Carlisle, Pa., and were on their way by motor to Iowa. Mr. Owen is a cousin of Dr. J. W. Owen, United Brethren Editor of Sunday School literature. Mr. and Mrs. Owen visited Miss Charlotte Owen and many other friends in Westerville, and were entertained by Professor May Hoerner, head of the Department of Home Economics, of whose mother the Owens are close friends.

MISS BESSIE LINCOLN WINS EXTEMP CONTEST

Presented With Silver Shield by Pi Kappa Delta. Seven Contest Prize.

Miss Bessie Lincoln won first prize in the Extemporaneous Speaking Contest, which was held in the College Chapel last Thursday evening. Miss Lincoln was presented a silver shield by Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity, which sponsored the contest. Miss Lincoln represented Philalethea. She took as the subject of her speech, "The Importance of the Negro Question."

Richard Durst, representing Philophronea, took second place with his speech "Negro Achievement." Margaret Eubanks, one of the Cleiorhetea contestants, placed third with "Discrimination against the Negro in the North."

Other society representatives in the contest were: Verda Evans, Philalethea; Katharine Myers, Cleiorhetea; Lewis Hampshire and J. Neely Boyer, Philomatheia.

O C KING HILARITY REIGNS SUPREME AT CLASS FEED

Abduction of Class Presidents and Toastmaster Fail to Dampen Spirits.

King Hilarity reigned supreme last Friday evening at the Freshman-Junior banquet. Departing from the dignified and orderly procedure of former years, the program was enlivened by the most novel and startling features. The Sophomore and Senior men strove valiantly to dampen the spirits of the revellers, but even assault and battery, abduction and the like failed to wet-blanket the party. The Junior Class President, Gwynne McConaughy, proved himself to be a man of infinite resource and sagacity by twice escaping from his relentless kidnapers and arriving just on time. Even the Freshman president recovered from his flying trip to Columbus in time to be present for part of the program.

But the toast-master—what to say of him! The party has assembled, the banquet is waiting, but the toastmaster has not yet arrived. Consternation reigns. At last a lone, solitary, uncortorted Freshman girl appears timidly on the threshold. It is Toastmaster

No Paper Next Week.

Due to the fact that Monday, May 31, is Memorial Observance Day, and Picnic Day, there will be no Tan and Cardinal issued for that week. After that week there will be one more issue for the school year, which will appear June 8.

COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES MEMORIAL DAY PLANS

Will Have Fitting Religious Services. Will Be Picnic Day For Groups.

As previously announced the program which has been arranged for Memorial Day, is to be put on by students this year. When May 31 was declared a holiday by the faculty it was felt that the day could serve a double purpose. Not only will an opportunity be given to accord the proper respect to the flag and the soldiers who have given their lives to their country, but, the men's social groups may hold their annual picnics also.

The program in the chapel and on the campus is scheduled to last for one hour only. The chapel bell will ring at 7:45 and again at 8:00 when the program will begin. After the services the remainder of the day will be given over to the social groups.

O C Prof. Schear Has One Year's

Leave of Absence for O. S. U.

Prof. E. W. E. Schear is planning to continue his research in Physiology at Ohio State during his leave of absence from Otterbein. Although a number of applications for his position during the interim are being considered no definite decisions have been made. The professor who will serve for the year will teach Prof. Schear's subjects. Prof. F. A. Hanawalt will act as head of the department.

O C Y. Movie Returns $35.

The committee in charge of the Y movie, "The New Klondike," which was given at the Garden Theater last Monday evening, announces that the sum of $35 was realized from this venture. The money will be applied on the expenses of the two Y delegates to the recent Birmingham conference.

Ninth Consecutive Win Nets 82 to 49 Score

LAST MEET FOR 5 MEN

Stoughton Again Breaks 220-Yard Record. Widdoes Ties Low Hurdles Record.

Otterbein completed her successful season without the loss of a dual meet when the Tan and Cardinal tracksters defeated the Muskingum cinder artists last Saturday afternoon at New Concord, 82 to 49. It was the last dual meet of the season and was the ninth consecutive win for the Otterbein track team.

Stoughton was the high scorer of the meet with first places in his three favorites, the 100, the 220, and the 440-yard dashes besides running last on the winning relay team. Captain Stoughton, in his three years of intercollegiate track meets, has not lost a race in a dual meet.

Stoughton again broke the 220 record when he ran the distance in 22.2 seconds. Widdoes equaled the 220 low hurdles record when he traveled the distance in 27.1 seconds. The co-holder of the record is W. H. Anderson, '24.

Otterbein took first places in eleven of the fifteen events, six second places and nine thirds. Muskingum took first and second places in two events, the javelin and the mile run, while Otterbein finished one-two in the 440, the 220, the pole vault and the half mile. The feature race of the afternoon was that between Cheek and

O C CHILDREN'S RECITAL TO COME THURSDAY EVENING

The second children's recital of the year will be given in Lambert Hall Thursday evening, May 27, by younger students of the conservatory. The program includes many piano and violin solos, a piano quartet by four of Miss Baker's pupils, and folk dancing by Mrs. Starkey's classes. The numbers promise to be interesting.

In addition to the children's recital there are four others to be given before the end of the term. A general recital is scheduled for June 3. The others are the graduating recitals in voice of Miss Lorene Smith, Mrs. Vera Wright, and Miss Lenore Smith.

FEW CHANGES IN NEW EDITION OF CATALOG

There are but very few changes in the new edition of the college catalog which was issued last week. The Political Science and Business Administration departments under the direction of Dr. Raymond V. Phelan have undergone several changes and additions. The courses are more extensive than they were this year.

In the English department a course will be offered to freshmen who are found deficient in fundamentals; no credit will be given for this course. No courses in journalism will be offered but such classes will be combined with the advanced composition classes. Advanced Composition has been increased to three hours and will be divided into two sections, one for students receiving a grade of B or better, and another for those receiving C or lower in English 217-18.

The Home Economics courses have undergone many changes and additions under the direction of Professor L. May Hoerner. A major in Home Economics will lead to an A. B. degree instead of a B. S. degree.

Wise, who has chosen this ingenious disguise to elude his would-be kidnappers. Alas! Now must they be content to gnash their teeth in outer darkness.

The Freshman Married Men's Club which turned out to be merely a group of men who did not consider themselves worthy to escort girls, and knew better than to ask, occupied a special table—that is, when they were not doing the "Charge of the Light Brigade" stunt.

The program proper consisted of speeches by Albert Mayer, impromptu proxy for the Freshman President, and Gwynne McConaughy, Junior President, toasts by Edward Hammon, and Don Shoemaker, and musical selections by Isabelle Ruehrmund, Lawrence Green and Homer Huffman. Extemporaneous speeches were delivered by Dean Cornet, Miss Taylor, Henry Williams, Marguerite Blott, Kenneth Echard, and Harold Thompson, whose bright and shining face appeared just in time to cause him to fall a prey to the malicious toastmaster. And so on into the night.

SCIENCE CLUB FORCED TO POSTPONE MEETING

The Science Club was obliged to postpone their meeting scheduled to be held Thursday evening of last week, until Thursday evening, May 27. At this time the Club will entertain as guests the members of the Columbus section of the American Chemical society.

The visitors will be taken on a tour of inspection to the Kilgore Toy Factory after which the members of the two organizations will have supper together in the U. B. Church parlors. At 7:30 Prof. Menzel of Ohio State University will make an address on the "Chemistry of the Stars". This address will be given in Lambert Hall and will be of interest to all. The Science Club wishes to call the attention of those interested in science to this postponed meeting and to invite all to hear the address of the evening.

Big Six Meet Comes Friday and Saturday

The Big Six, Ohio's annual college track classic, will be held at Oberlin next Friday and Saturday. According to previous records, several state records should fall, both in the track and field events.

Previous records give Miami the best chance of winning the meet. Wesleyan, winner for the last three years, is expected to finish a close second to Miami. Case and Oberlin are given outside chances of finishing close to the top.

Captain Stoughton is given an even chance at the quarter-mile by the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Widdoes and Meyer should both score points in the pole vault. Either Storey or Erisman or both, should finish among the leaders in the half-mile. Pinney and Snively have both been jumping around five feet nine inches all year, and at least one of them should finish in the money. Richter finished third in the shot put the last time he was entered in a Big Six, and Porosky finished in the money last year at throwing the discus. Otterbein's relay team has placed consistently for the last three years in the state meet and is expected to repeat.

The century dash will probably end with Sharkey of Miami, or Engle, of Oberlin, as the winner. In either case this time will be a new state record. Emery, of Miami, has broken the state records in the mile and two mile both in meets this spring. Johnson of Akron, state pole vault champion, vaulted 12 feet last week in a meet at Wooster. Byrns, of Case, looks like the best bet for the high jump. His best jump this season was measured at six feet, one and one-half inches.

COOK HOUSE AT HEAD OF CONFERENCE BALL

Wednesday evening, the Cook House defeated the Philotas on the north diamond of the East Field by a score of 12 to 5. The first half of the game was hotly contested but in the last three innings, free hitting with numerous errors on the part of their opponents, gave the Cook House an easy win. The same evening, the Jondas slugged their way to a win over the Cosmopolitans by the score of 15-6.

Thursday evening, the Country Club walked over the Lakotas for a 23-2 count and the Philotas came out with the best end of a 20-15 score in their slug-fest with the Sphinx. Seven more games remain to be played, counting a tie game to be played off between the Lakotas and the Jondas. The present standing is as follows:

Name	W.	L.	Pct.
Cook House	3	0	1.000
Country Club	4	1	.800
Jonda	2	1	.666
Lakota	2	1	.666
Cosmopolitans	2	2	.500
Philota	1	5	.167
Sphinx	0	4	.000

VARSITY NET MEN LOSE TENNIS MATCH TO OHIO

Succumb To Onslaught of Athens
Racquetters Friday by 4 to 2 Score.

Otterbein lost a tennis meet to Ohio University last Friday afternoon at Athens 4 matches to 2. Captain Pilkington playing number 4, had no difficulty in defeating Lundberg in straight sets 6-1, 6-1. Lai also won his match while Roby and Bechtolt dropped their singles matches and Lai and Pilkington, teamed together, lost to Black and McConnehey, and Bechtolt and Roby lost to Newheart and Walton.

Lai, playing number 1, defeated McConaughy in a fine match 6-4, 6-1. It was a fast match and closer than the score indicates.

Bechtolt, playing number 2, lost to Black in straight sets, 2-6, 4-6. Black is a whirlwind at the net, and played his net game all he could. Bechtolt was having trouble getting his drives in except toward the last of the second set.

Roby, playing number 3, lost to Walton in two hard sets 3-6 6-8. Roby was leading in the last set, but finally succumbed to Walton.

Pilkington and Lai lost to McConaughy and Black in straight sets, 4-6, 2-6. Ragged team work cost Otterbein the two sets and the meet.

Roby and Bechtolt lost to Newheart and Walton in a three set match, 6-3, 2-6, 3-6. Lack of team work again proved fatal.

Another fine race was that between Pinney and R. Clark for second place in the 220. Stoughton finished first, with a comfortable lead. Pinney trailed Clark at the 200 yard mark, but forged ahead in the last twenty yards.

On his first throw, Thompson threw the javelin 174 feet, over ten feet farther than Otterbein's record. Bradbury, of Muskingum, vaulted eleven

CLASS WARS

The actions of a large number of Sophomores and Seniors at the Freshman-Junior banquet last Friday evening were, in a large part, despicable. Class wars, as long as they are conducted in a fairly peaceable manner, are all right. When the war brings about the destruction of property, and church property at that, the battles of the opposing class factions are entirely unexcusable on any ground whatsoever.

The kidnapping of the toastmaster and the Freshman and Junior class presidents was all accomplished during a funny streak of the Sophs and Seniors. The forces of the opponents to the banquet probably thought it all a humorous affair because the toastmaster had to be smuggled into the church in female attire.

Smiles of merriment turned to frowns of anger when certain members of the Sophomores or Seniors broke locks on the church doors and cut the light wires. All of the damage must be repaired by the church, and most of it cost not little money.

Church organizations are reported to have said that they will serve no more class banquets if damage to church property is likely to ensue. So it is up to the students to omit despicable elements in class wars if social activities are to be continued.

Some bright Junior figured out just how much time was wasted by the three classes in the Student Council Elections last Wednesday morning. Here it is: 606 students minus 94 Seniors who did not vote leaves a total of 512 classmates who voted; 512 times 3 hours spent in voting makes a grand total of 1536 hours, all of which makes 64 days, or 2 months and 4 days spent in voting.

Really you don't know how fortunate Otterbein really is until you've heard that at the University of California there are 5,000 women and only 1,000 men. That place ought to be a man's paradise. We now have 303 men and 303 women; such may never happen again so you'd better take advantage of it. We hope Otterbein men don't start singing "California, Here I Come."

Twenty years ago people had the good old-fashioned idea of a college, namely, that it is an institution of higher learning.

Some professors think that a student's mastery of a subject depends on the number of their lectures he has attended.

EXTRA-CURRICULARS

"Extra-curricular activities," is a matter which is often heard discussed upon the campus. These activities of course, are those not included in the regular University curriculum. Various viewpoints are held concerning such activities, some students desiring as many of them as they can possibly function in, and even more, while others are rather conservative in affiliating themselves with anything outside their regular school work. No doubt there is justification for either viewpoint.

Extra-curricular activities certainly have their value. To limit one's self exclusively to class work is very likely to result in a rather narrow training for the game of life, into which those who are now enrolled in the University will soon actively enter. The development through mere book knowledge is not sufficient for any person who would be really successful in life. There must be a social development through direct contact with people. True, there is contact in the different classes, but through affiliation with some organization upon the campus this social contact and growth is developed to a much greater extent. Of what real benefit is a person's knowledge to him if he cannot mingle easily and congenially with his fellow men? Even though he should possess greater knowledge he will have a difficult time imparting the same to other people if he is unable to form social contacts and amicable relations readily and easily. Then, there is also possible a mental knowledge development through participation in extra-curricular activities. Certainly, there is no such activity on our campus which does not offer mental food in some form or other. There must be a word of caution thrown into the discussion at this point, however, against too extensive participation in the various activities. A student should use intelligence in making his selections. He should choose those activities that will be of greatest interest and benefit to him and not choose more than will be commensurate with the time which he has to devote to them. If these precautions are followed, there is no doubt that a student may be materially benefitted through affiliating himself with extra-curricular activities.—Case Tech.

Caged Nightingales Disturb Student

P. Ensive Mood, with extract of tortoise shell periscopes, and one cow-lick as the total of his physiological decorations, wended his way carefully and unobtrusively down the maple arched avenue to the library, where he carefully hoisted his ninety-seven pounds to the level of the sidewalk, heading directly into the library and proceeded to struggle gamely to the door, even though he was almost trodden under foot by the rush of the study-mad student body. However, P. Ensive was finally able to gain the door to the outer chamber of the library, which action gave opportunity to seek a table in a quiet corner. Having thus secured a corner of a table near the door Mood lowered his ninety-seven to a sitting posture and drew from his pocket a time-honored, worn, dog-eared, and thumbd copy of Shakespeare. "All the worlds a stage, Oh! Oh! Ooo Moo!" Mood waggled one ear earnestly and listened with the other. Certainly a cow was loose, trailing the streets. Mood approached the window and readjusted his periscopes. Both the extremities of the visible part of the avenue were behaving normally. But as he looked, another prolonged wail came, but this time from an open window in Lambert Hall. Thus, thwarted in his efforts to aid mankind, Mood returned to the "stage."

"The Men and Women Merely"—Clang! Clang! Rump! Mood sprang up. But only the mail man walked past him. "All the world's a stage," began Mood again. "You know I think he's a big boob for asking me right now when the banquet is tomorrow night." "What color's your dress?" (Mood goes to the far corner of the table).

"The Men and women merely," "Moo! Ah!" from Lambert Hall. The curtain went down and the world remained a stage.

SENIOR GIRLS CONTINUE TO LEAD BASE BALL LEAGUE

The Senior team continues to lead the girls' league, no changes being made in the standing as the result of the two games played Monday. The Sophomore-Senior game resulted in a 10-10 tie. A second tie game was played the same day between the Freshmen-Junior teams, the final score being 4 to 4. The Freshmen-Sophomore and the Junior-Senior games Friday were postponed because of the Freshmen-Junior banquet.

BASE BALL TEAM WILL MEET KENYON WEDNESDAY

The Tan and Cardinal base ball team will go into action this week, after two weeks of forced idleness due to rain and wet grounds, against Kenyon on the Otterbein field.

The Antioch game postponed from last week will be played within the next two weeks if it is possible. The game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. It will be the first baseball game between the two schools this season as the other game was called off on account of rain two weeks ago.

Otterbein and Kenyon broke even on the Diamond last year winning one each of the two games played. Both games were decided by a single run. This year Kenyon will be anxious to even up scores on the track meet and on the last basket ball game and a good game is expected.

O C

A petition signed by more than 300 seniors, to be excused from finals, has been denied the senior class of Northwestern University.

Where two steam locomotives formerly puffed and strained to pull a 360-ton freight train up the steep slope of Maltrata incline, two electric locomotives haul a 660-ton train with power to spare.

Electricity levels the Mountains

In Mexico, romantic land of pretty señoritas and languorous minstrelsy, practical American engineers have harnessed streams so that mountains may be leveled.

The winding thirty-mile Maltrata incline on the road from Vera Cruz to Mexico City is now electrified. Ten electric locomotives replace twenty-three steam engines. The electrics haul twice the tonnage of the steam locomotives—and in half the time, with obvious benefits to traveler, rail-roader, and shipper.

Yet Maltrata is but an example of electrical progress. For electricity is conquering the grades of railroads and of industry alike, the world over.

Impressive, no doubt, but still modest when compared with the possibilities of electricity in years to come. And it remains for college-trained men, with trained capacity for initiative and leadership, to become ambassadors for further electrical conquests in foreign lands.

The General Electric Company required but eighteen months to electrify Maltrata incline—locomotives, power plant, transmission equipment complete. Engineering skill, backed by vast manufacturing facilities, has enabled G-E to serve humanity in many ways.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

ECHOES from the ALUMNI

ALUMNITORIALS

The contribution alumni can make to their college is usually measured in terms of money. In every financial drive the alumni are expected to give largely. That is not the only kind of a contribution alumni may make to an institution. A large university in Ohio has during the year had the privilege of having twenty of its own successful sons and daughters on the campus to speak and counsel with students concerning their particular fields. There is real value in that kind of contact both for the alumnus and the college.

The alumni and the college should see more of each other.

The professor lives in the realm of theory. The alumnus lives apart in the world where theory counts but little unless it solves problems, expands business enterprises, and adds to the income. The two are seemingly apart, but each exists for the other. The professor is refreshed by contacts with the men who are succeeding in the practical application of his theories,—in many cases his own students of former years. The alumnus is surprised to find the lively interest the theoretical man has in his practical problems and goes away with mind refreshed and with energy renewed.

The spirit of mutual helpfulness should be developed between Otterbein alumni and professors.

It is significant that the President of the Board of Trustees of Otterbein is an alumnus. He is contributing his time, thought, and energy to further the interests of his Alma Mater.

In addition to this splendid contribution we record in this issue an account of his Christmas gift to the college. This splendid combination of material and personal gifts to the college is an inspiration to all alumni.

It is fitting to say—Come thou and do likewise.

For the first time in the history of Otterbein the alumni have been an identity. The alumni association has become a vital personality interested in the affairs of the College and attempting to make a definite contribution to the life of the campus. The effort has not been wholly unselfish since a part of the program is designed to secure something from the college for ourselves. Complete results cannot now be ascertained. We hope some things have been accomplished for the good of all.

This has been a significant year for Otterbein and the Alumni of Otterbein.

The biggest problem confronting the college officers at the present

COME TO WESTERVILLE TO CELEBRATE WITH YOUR CLASSMATES

According to the Dix Reunion Plan the following classes are scheduled to hold reunions. Special emphasis is being placed on the ten year classes.

'76, '86, '87, '88, '89, '96, '05, '06, '07, '08, '16, '24, '25, '26.

Things are already in motion for class affairs:

'76—Frank D. Wilsey, who will be one of the speakers at the annual banquet, is planning to have all five members of his class present.

'86—Mrs. Nellie Knox Miller has sent invitations to the surviving members of her class.

'87—We do not have a single comeback from the class of '87 and consequently nothing can be announced.

'88—Several members of this class live here in Westerville and will look after the other members of their class.

'89—Thomas A. Gruber of Mansfield is all set to be on hand and is pushing to have other members of his class.

'96—Responses from the thirty year class have been good. Charles R. Frankham is personally inviting members of his class.

'05—Professors Altman, Hursh, Rosselot, Weinland and Mabel Crabbs Starkey make a reunion by themselves. They'll look after the rest of the crowd.

'06—The twenty year class is alive. Frank O. Van Sickle is behind this bunch.

'07—The president of the Alumni Association, Walter Kring, belongs to this outfit. It will have to go over. Mary Lambert Hursh says, "Sure I'm for it."

'08—Nothing definite to announce at present.

'16—The local committee composed of Floyd Vance, Mr. and Mrs. "Bones" Sanders, Helen Moses, and W. A. Kline are all set for a big ten year reunion. The invitations are out and the class dinner arranged.

'24—This class of the younger generation is all set for a big time.

'25—Dean Upson and Emmett McCarroll will be on hand before commencement time and are ready to work up the details for their bunch.

'26—Of course—they're the cause of the whole party.

time is the collection of the outstanding Diamond Jubilee pledges. It is necessary that all pledges be paid promptly in order for Otterbein to claim the remainder of the gift from the Rockefeller Foundation. The money already contributed has helped the financial condition of the college very materially but we should do all in our power to increase the endowment fund.

Alumni ought not to be a problem to the officers of the College.

The Class of 1947.

This week we add the name of another boy to the class of '47, which now numbers approximately sixty.

Don Charles Gifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gifford, of Westerville. "Ray" is an ex-student and Mrs. Gifford was Marie Wagoner, of the class of '18.

Mr. Gifford was formerly editor of the Westerville Public Opinion and is now proprietor of the Johnson Furniture Company in Westerville.

Don Charles also has a big brother, "R. W.," who belongs to the class of '45.

'08. Charles W. Plessinger, for a number of years superintendent of schools at West Carrollton, Ohio, has recently been elected to the position of superintendent of schools of Montgomery County, succeeding Professor A. A. Maysailles, widely known educator, who retired because of ill health.

This appointment to such a responsible position is evidence of the ability of Mr. Plessinger and honors both him and his college.

President Clippinger recently inquired of Secretary of State of Ohio, Thad H. Brown, concerning his father and grandfather, and received in reply.

"I beg to advise that my father, William Henry Brown, of Cardington, Ohio, was in Otterbein College in 1882 and 1883. My grandfather, the Reverend William Watters, was a United Brethren Minister, and, if I recall correctly, was a resident of South Woodbury, Morrow County, Ohio, at the time of his death."

PHILALETHEA

Many guests were present at Philalethea's Senior Open Session last Thursday evening. Alice Sanders read her story, "The Passion Flower" which won second prize in the Barnes Short Story Contest. "Prospective Teachers," was the title of an informal essay by Esther Sullivan. Vocal solos were sung by Lenore Smith and Lorene Smith. "Ever Young," a one-act play, was presented under the direction of Adda Lyon. Pauline Knepp as a domineering dowager, Marian Snavely, a domesticated society matron, Ruth Davis, a devotee of youth, and Emily Mullen, who believed "a woman may have any man she wants," made up the cast. Bernice Norris, Emerson Bragg, Waldo Keck, Mrs. T. J. Sanders, and Dr. Chas. Snavely spoke for the visitors.

C. E.

"China and Her Problem" was the topic of general discussion in C. E. section A. John Hudock, the leader, presented the thought by directing the attention to the sentence on the blackboard. "Resolved: America Need Fear No Yellow Peril," and through the medium of questions to various members of the group. Philipp Charles further developed the thought by a very good discussion on "China and Her Present Condition." The special music was a vocal duet given by Isabelle Ruehrmund and Mildred Lochner.

NEW FLAG POLE INSTALLED

A new flag pole was installed on the campus last week to replace the old one which was badly rusted at the joints and too dangerous to climb. The new pole is seven feet higher than the old one. It was lined up by correct survey figures with the administration building and stands about ten feet west of the old pole base.

A new flag, ten by fifteen feet in size has been ordered by the college to replace the old flag which is badly tattered.
