Game Day

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Otterbein College continues its proud tradition of athletic and academic excellence and has enjoyed over 100 years of intercollegiate competition. During that time, the College's mission has been to balance academics and athletic competition. Our commitment has been to the whole person, both in and out of the classroom. Our coaches are teachers first, mentors who make deep and lasting impressions on their students.

While the drive to win is important, our real commitment lies in developing leadership traits and the competitive spirit, which will aid our scholar-athletes throughout their lives.

On behalf of Otterbein's faculty, students and administration, we thank you for your support of Otterbein's athletics programs in 2003-2004 and for your continuing involvement in their successes.

ADMINISTRATION

Dick Reynolds, who has established himself as one of the most successful basketball coaches in the 100-year history of the Ohio Athletic Conference (OAC), brings those winning traits to his additional position of athletics director.

Reynolds, who took over the reigns of the men's athletics department in 1992, was also placed in charge of women's athletics in 1998 after Otterbein combined both men's and women's athletics into one department.

A ten-time OAC Coach of the Year selection and two-time Ohio College Coach of the Year, Reynolds has taken his cagers to at least a share of the regular-season conference title 11 times and into the NCAA Division III Tournament 13 times. The Cardinals advanced to the Final Four in 1981 and 1991 and won the national title in 2002.

He became the all-time winningest basketball coach in the OAC, surpassing Wooster's E. M. "Mose" Hole (1926-57) in 1994 and picked up his 500th career win in 2000. Reynolds has compiled a 546-300 record over 31 seasons at Otterbein.

Following graduation from Otterbein in 1965, where he was a 12-time letterman in football, basketball and track, Reynolds returned to his home town of London, Ohio, and taught seventh-grade science while serving as an assistant coach in football, basketball and track at the high school. He served three years in the U.S. Air Force (1966-69) as a personnel services officer in charge of recreation.

He spent three seasons as an assistant under Otterbein head men's basketball coach Curt Tong while teaching in the Columbus and Westerville, Ohio school districts from 1969 to 1972. He became head coach in 1972.

Reynolds and his wife, Ellen, live in Westerville. They have two children, Amanda and Chad, and five grandchildren.

HEAD COACH

Head Coach Joe Loth

Joe Loth begins his first season as head football coach at Otterbein College.

Loth, a 1991 Otterbein graduate, served as head football coach at Kean University, Union, N.J., the last three seasons.

"We are pleased to have Joe Loth take over our football program," said Otterbein director of athletics Dick Reynolds. "He was an outstanding player at Otterbein and brings extensive coaching experience at the NCAA Division III level.

"He has shown success in organizing, administrating and recruiting at our level," he continued. "We look forward to our program developing into a competitive, well-balanced Division III experience for our student-athletes."

The Painesville, Ohio native has taken part in rebuilding programs throughout his 12-year coaching career.

Kean turned in its best record in eight years in 2002. More importantly, Loth brought 100 players (a conference-imposed limit), with 20 on the waiting list, into camp. Prior to his arrival, Kean finished the 1999 season with about 30 players left on its roster.

Loth has assembled a coaching staff at Otterbein that, including himself, features six former Cardinals.

"If you look at the great NCAA Division III programs and the staffs they have, most of their coaches have gone through their program," Loth said. "I think that's important."

The staff has developed a four-step approach aimed at turning the Otterbein program around.

"There are four areas we will look to address," Loth said. "The first is to recruit. We want to recruit as well as anyone in the OAC. The second is retain our student-athletes. It is not always how many student-athletes you bring to campus, it is how many student-athletes you have retained. The third area we look to address is to develop our players mentally, physically and create a great feeling of team.

"Finally, Loth said, "we try to organize our program and prepare our players to ensure we accomplish our goals of recruiting, retaining and developing our players."

"The third area we look to address is to develop our players mentally, physically and create a great feeling of team."

Loth began his football career as a graduate assistant at Southern Methodist University (1991-93). He served as defensive coordinator at NCAA Division III schools Western Connecticut State University (1993-97) and Capital University (1997-98). Loth spent two seasons as defensive secondary coach at the University of Rhode Island (1998-00) before accepting his first head coaching job at Kean in Feb. 2000.

Loth was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at defensive back as an undergraduate at Otterbein. He earned second team All-Ohio Athletic Conference honors his senior year in 1990 and still holds the Otterbein career record of 13 interceptions. He received his bachelor's degree in business.

He and his wife, Keri, have two sons, Zachary, 2, and Tyler, 1.

THE OHIO ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

Commissioner: Timothy W. Gleason Information Dir.: Julie Work Supervisor of Officials: Larry Glass Secretary: Michelle Martin

After 100 years of excellence in academics and athletics, the Ohio Athletic Conference is looking to continue its good fortunes throughout the next century.

During the 2002-03 season the OAC had 10 teams finish in the NCAA "Sweet 16", including a national championship in football (Mount Union) and a runner-up finish in men's soccer (Otterbein).

Individually, the Conference was represented by 46 All-Americans, 30 men and 16 women, and 19 Verizon Academic All-Americans to go along with a bevy of regional and national honors for our coaches. The Conference also had two athletes earn Verizon Academic All-America Team Member of the Year in their respective sports.

The OAC, the third oldest conference in college athletics, is predated only by the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (1888) and the Big Ten (1895). The Conference is older than the World Series and even the NCAA itself and has survived two world wars, the Great Depression, the Korean War and the Vietnam Conflict. From a modest beginning of six charter members in 1902, the OAC grew to as many as 24 members in the mid-1920s.

Through the years a total of 30 colleges and universities at one time or another have been members of the OAC. Currently the Conference consists of 10 members, including Baldwin-Wallace College, Capital University, Heidelberg College, John Carroll University, Marietta College, Mount Union College, Muskingum College, Ohio Northern University, Otterbein College and Wilmington College. Wilmington became the 31st OAC member school, on July 1, 2000.

In the OAC's first year of existence, 1902, the first Conference champion was crowned - Case Tech won the football title with a 5-0-0 record. Outdoor track was added a year later and a third sport, cross country, became a Conference sport in 1914. More sports were steadily added to the OAC's repertoire throughout the years, culminating in the addition of women's sports in 1984. The Conference currently sponsors championships in 21 sports, 11 men's and 10 women's.

The enrollments at the 10 OAC institutions range from 1,200 to 4,500. All of the schools were founded in the 19th century and have long and outstanding academic reputations.

While maintaining these high academic standards, Ohio Athletic Conference athletic teams and athletes have consistently enjoyed a great deal of success on a regional and national level. The athletic competition is viewed not as an end in itself, but as an extension of the educational programs.
