Varsity Cinder Men Easily Win 80-51 Victory Over Ohio U. in Track Meet

High Winds Hamper

Otterbein Takes Ten First Places and Ties for First in High Jump.

Otterbein defeated Ohio University in a dual track meet last Saturday on the Otterbein field 80 to 51. There was a strong wind from the West which bothered competitors and officials to considerable extent. It was necessary for the judges to almost hold the bar in place.

Otterbein led in the number of first places taken with ten besides a tie for first in the high jump. The high jump was the only field event in which Otterbein did not have an unconditional hold on first place.

Ohio U. was supreme in the hurdles and in the mile and two-mile runs.

Stoughton was the high scorer of the meet with a first in the 100, 220, and 440-yard dashes, besides running as anchor man on the relay team.

Hudson scored most for the visitors with ten points as a result of first places in the hurdles. Percelle scored five points in the mile and three in the two mile.

The high cross wind was especially hard on the 220-yard dash and the 220-yard low hurdles as fully a third of the distance was run directly against the wind.

The summary:
100 Yard Dash—Won by Stoughton (Ott.), E. Roberts (O. U.), second: Liggett (O. U.), third Time—10.8 seconds.

Discuss—Won by Porosky (Ott.) Silcox (O. U.) second, Pinney (Ott.) (Continued On Page Eight).

COLLEGE EDITORS TO CONVENE AT AKRON U.

Will Be Taken Through Beacon-Journal Plant and B. F. Goodrich Co.

The Ohio College Press Association, of which the Tan and Cardinal is a member, will hold its second meeting of the year on the campus of the Municipal University of Akron Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1. Eugene B. Denning, editor of the Akron Buchtellet, is in charge of the arrangements.

The program for Friday includes a trip through the plant of the Akron Beacon-Journal, a talk by John S. Knight, managing editor of the Beacon-Journal, a tentative bus trip around the Portage Lakes, and a dinner at the Lone Star fraternity house. In the evening the college editors will be the guests of the Laughing Masque Club at its annual show.

A trip through the plant of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. will be the principal attraction Saturday morning. The party will be conducted through the new Municipal Building in the morning also. A meeting for general discussion will convene in the afternoon.

Student Council Begins Tabulation of Questionnaire

The Student Council began a tabulation of the questionnaire, which it submitted to the student body last week, yesterday afternoon. A complete report of this questionnaire will appear in next week's Tan and Cardinal.

"BOUNTEOUS REPAST" WILL BE SERVED SATURDAY

Cochran Hall once more throws open her doors and beckons the general public to breakfast with her on Saturday morning, May 1; with the first strawberries of the season and all that goes with 'em! And look who prepares them, and serves them. What more could one wish? Oh, music? It will be there. An orchestra of stringed instruments played by pretty girls in their prettiest attire is all ready for the occasion. Decorations? Every class and organization in any way connected with Cochran Hall or the girls of Otterbein College helps with the beautifying of the hall dining salon for this occasion.

Breakfast will be served continuously from seven o'clock until nine, so that you may come early or late, (Continued on page eight.)

FIFTEEN MEN NOW OUT FOR VARSITY DEBATE

The try-outs for varsity debate squad Wednesday, added Clyde Bielstein to the squad, making a total of fifteen. Only four old members remain, Robert Knight, Palmer Fletcher, Karl Kumler and Perry Laukhuff.

By virtue of their work in the Freshman-Sophomore debate the ten men on these teams were automatically elected to the squad. The Sophomores are Louie Norris, John Hudock, Waldo Keck, Clay Kohr and Donald Borrer. The Freshmen are Albert Mayer, Bruce LaPorte, Philip Charles, Mason Hayes and R. Durst.

United Brethren Church Ob- serves Dedication Anniversary

Church services Sunday marked the observance of the tenth anniversary of the dedication of the U. B. church.

Dean N. E. Cornett spoke at the morning service on "Glimpses Along the Way," and Rev. J. H. Harris, Conference Superintendent, also addressed the congregation.

VAUDEVILLE AND BEAU- TY CONTESTS FEATURE

MEET KENYON IN TRACK

May Day Dance Headed By May Queen Will Also Be One of Big Features.

A May Morning Breakfast, a May Day Dance, a track meet with Kenyon, a vaudeville contest and a beauty contest are among the headline features of the big Parents' Day Program which will be presented next Saturday. Parents' Day is now an annual tradition for Otterbein.

When Parents' Day was inaugurated last year, its chief objective was to get as many of the students' parents on the campus, as possible. This was done in order that the parents might get a more definite and concrete idea of the student's life on the campus. In order to further this purpose the administration gave each student a mimeographed letter in Chapel, which it is hoped will reach each student's parents.

Not only will the parents have an opportunity to get acquainted with the professors, and get a view of campus life first hand but plenty of entertainment is planned for the entire day, winding up with the vaudeville and beauty contest in the Chapel in the evening. This beauty contest is an innovation this year, inasmuch as nothing of its kind has ever been held before at Otterbein. Each person in the audience at the vaudeville will be given an opportunity to vote so whoever wins the prize box of candy will be the selection of the whole campus.

The May Pole dance, in charge of Gladys West will be staged on the campus south of the Administration Building. The May Queen has been selected by the Varsity "O" but the election will be kept secret until Saturday.

The May Morning Breakfast will be served at Cochran Hall from 7:00 to 9:00. Tickets may be secured at the door for 35c.

President Visits Portsmouth

The President spent Sunday, April 25th, at Portsmouth, speaking twice in the First United Brethren Church, and interviewing young people who are interested in attending Otterbein.

WILL ELECT NEW TAN AND CARDINAL STAFF

The Publication Board, official controlling body for the Tan and Cardinal, will hold its annual election for the new staff of the paper next Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock in Philomathean Hall. The new staff will operate the college news publication until April 1927.

A large number of freshmen and sophomores have been trying out for the new staff for the past two weeks. Several students are also trying for the business staff. The competition is exceptionally keen this year; twelve students are trying for positions on the editorial staff.

A new business manager will be elected to fill the position recently left vacant by the resignation of Marcus Schear.

— O C — VARSITY DEBATORS CON- SIDER NEW QUESTIONS

Monday evening the Varsity Debate Squad, for next year, held a meeting in which the proposed questions for next year were discussed. It is planned that debates will be held before various business clubs next year, thus questions that interest business men will be selected. In all probability two questions will be used next year instead of one, as has been the custom in the past.

FRANCES HARRIS WILL GIVE ORGAN RECITAL

Miss Frances Harris will offer a delightful program of classical and semi-popular numbers as her graduating recital on the pipe organ next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the College Chapel. The public is cordially invited to attend this musical event which is the first of a series of graduating recitals by Otterbein students.

Chr:stian Endeavors To Produce "Everyman" Play

Contrary to an announcement published last week Cap and Dagger as a club will not produce the modern version of the morality play, "Everyman," which was written by Joseph Q. Mayne of the class of '25. Instead the Christian Endeavor societies will co-operate with individual members of Cap and Dagger in putting on the play.

BLACK AND MAGENTAS TO COME FRIDAY P. M.

Muskingum Nine Lost to Capital Last Friday. Montgomery Hits Home Run.

Otterbein will attempt to avenge defeats in basket ball and football when Muskingum comes to Westerville to furnish opposition to Coach Dittmer's baseball team next Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Otterbein and Muskingum have not met on the diamond for several years.

Last Friday Muskingum lost to Capital 10 to 4. In this game Montgomery hit a home run with Minter on base in the first inning. Taylor of basket ball fame, will probably hold down the first sack.

TENNIS MEN WIN OVER KENYON RACKETERS

Otterbein defeated Kenyon in a Tennis match last Friday on the Otterbein courts four matches to two. The visitors carried off honors in one singles match and one doubles match. Rain threatened through most of the match and the courts were a little slow from the recent rains.

Lai defeated his opponent in straight sets after losing five of the first six games of the first set 7-5, 6-2. After a somewhat slow start he steadied down and readily handled his opponent.

Bechtolt lost to Humphrey in straight sets 7-5, 6-0. Six games in the first set went to deuce before they were decided.

Pilkington found no difficulty in defeating his opponent in straight sets 6-3, 6-2. The second game of the second set was deuced eight times before Pilkington finally won it.

Roby won his match by the same score, namely 6-3, 6-2.

McConaughy and Roby lost a hard match to Martin and his partner 7-5, 0-6, 4-6.

Bechtolt and Lai won their doubles match 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

GIRLS ORGANIZE RE-CREATION BALL LEAGUE

Following the precedent set by the men, the women of Otterbein have recently taken a lively interest in the organization of an intra-class league for recreation baseball.

Captains for the teams were selected at meetings last week and a great amount of enthusiasm was shown in planning the practices for the first games which will start about May 3. Two diamonds have been laid out on the east field; it is planned to start most of the games at 6:15 p. m. The afternoon games will begin at 4 p. m. All games are to consist of seven innings.

With the large amount of material available, the captains should develop four smooth working, formidable teams before the season is far advanced and a large amount of rivalry is expected.

Mary McKenzie will captain the Sophomores. Mary Long and Helen Palmer will lead the Junior and Senior teams respectively. As yet, the Freshmen have not selected a captain.

TAN AND CARDINALS LOSE FIRST DIAMOND STRUGGLE OF SEASON TO U. OF D. SQUAD

The Otterbein baseball nine went down to defeat at the hands of the team representing the University of Dayton in the opening game of the local schedule last Saturday 9 to 0. Except for the second inning, when Dayton scored five runs on two hits, five bases on balls and three errors, the game was fairly well played.

After a bad start Roberts improved his game steadily each inning. Yohn took his turn at the rubber in the eighth and ninth innings. He pitched only once to each of the three batters who faced him in the eighth. Roberts allowed six hits in the seven innings that he worked and Yohn one hit in two innings.

A foul hit Phalor on the knee in the fourth inning and Wertz replaced him in the fifth. Slawita, playing his first game for the Tan and Cardinals, handled nine chances faultlessly. Errors and passes were the cause of most of the scoring done by the opposing team.

Caulfield pitched well for the visitors, allowing five hits and striking out seven Otterbein batters.

Otterbein's best chance to score came in the third inning. After two men were out Slawita singled back of third base and Young got in the way of one of Caulfield's offerings. Renner singled, filling the bases. The side was retired when Murphy came in close to catch Carroll's line drive to right.

VARSITY TRACK MEN TO MEET KENYON SAT.

Otterbein will attempt to make it two in a row in track when a track team representing Kenyon will be entertained on the local field next Saturday. Otterbein defeated Kenyon last year by a decisive score. Although nothing is known of the visitors' strength this year, Otterbein should encounter no real difficulty in repeating.

EDITORIAL

IS THIS YOU?

Students have the right to criticize; it is their duty to criticize. The students in turn expect to be criticized by the administration. We may say in the beginning that the Tan and Cardinal is the expression of the student opinion and student life and not a hot-bed of revolution.

The Tan and Cardinal feels that it has the backing of a large majority of the student body in attempting to express the views and opinions of that body. About 99 percent of the Otterbein student body whose opinions we endeavor to voice remain silent or, like Brutus of old, turn traitor and stab us in the back. Although they make empty and boisterous declarations within their rooms, club rooms or houses this same 99 percent lacks the backbone to support its convictions publicly.

In endeavoring to find out just why such an inconsistency existed we questioned a number of students. The substance of the replies in almost every case was: "If we come out with opinions which the professors do not like, they'll either flunk us or lower our grades. It's better to save them a little and get good grades."

So that's the putty-brained reason

TIMELY TOPICS

TENNIS ETHICS

Editor Tan and Cardinal:

This letter is occasioned by the surprising number of spectators at the tennis matches on Friday who seemed to be ignorant of the very fundamentals of good sportsmanship. Tennis ethics demands that applause should only be given to placement shots; to applaud an opponent's error is the height of barbarism. Time after time when the Kenyon players netted a ball or knocked it out of the court the error was promptly applauded by the Otterbein onlookers.

In the name of all that is fair and square and sportsmanlike, let us cultivate the essence of good sportsmanship. In tennis, perhaps more than in any other sport, the game should be of first consideration,—not the players. If Otterbein cannot astonish the Ohio Conference with her athletic prowess, she can at least excel in superior sportsmanship! L. H. S.

why Otterbein students do not express their true ideas and opinions; they are willing to subordinate their ideals to a few insignificant grades. Students should not forget that they do not come to Otterbein to get a list of alphabetical letters, but to gain an education.

We fail to conceive of any professor who would be so common as to lower a student's grade because his opinions do not conform with those of the student because that student had dared to display a difference of opinion. If there are such professors, they are by no means deserving to be called educators.

Students have the right to criticize but it certainly is not to their credit that they voice in private opinions which they are afraid to voice in public. Students should not turn traitor to their ideals and convictions simply to retain favor in the eyes of the professors. Far better to be true to ourselves and our friends and flunk than to degenerate into cowards. Be true to yourself.

These times are out of joint, they cry. The good old days were best they say. And maybe even you and I. In fifty years will talk that way. —R. McCann's "Cheerful Cherub" in the Columbus Dispatch.

Only those who do things get criticized. The idler is lost sight of in the march of events. Criticism is a compliment paid to the man who acts.

Professors who do not like the attitudes and recitations of their classes, should go out among the hills where their echoes will sound very plainly.

Some people have to be brought to a realization of their condition before they can be made enthusiastic over changing or remedying it.

THE TAN AND CARDINAL

Editor Tan and Cardinal:

As a member of the Publication Board, I would like to discuss briefly several proposals which have come before that body and which would affect the future of the Tan and Cardinal.

The first proposal is to take the control of the T. & C. out of the hands of the Literary Societies and place it in the hands of the Student Council. At present, of course, the paper is backed and controlled, financially and otherwise, by the four Literary Societies, and so long as that is true, we cannot say that we have a real college publication.

Probably the worst feature is that only active society members can be on the staff, which plan excluded many capable students who do not care to join a literary society. Such a requirement is perfectly proper, as long as the control rests where it does, but it would be removed were the direction of the paper to be given to the Student Council, representing all the students. Of course, on the other hand, the Tan and Cardinal has long been published by the Literary Societies and to change its ownership now would be to take from the Literary Societies their last means of directly influencing campus affairs. But I believe that a serious consideration of both sides of the question will lead one to the conclusion that the transformation of the T. and C. into a 100 per cent Otterbein College Publication, in theory, as well as in practice, would result in benefit to the paper and even to the Literary Societies.

The second proposal is to place the subscription fee of the T. & C. on the Matriculation fee of every student, thus making every student a subscriber. This proposal is contingent upon the first, for so long as the paper is a Literary Society Publication, it would scarcely seem right to force it upon the students, whether or no. However, something must be done to increase the number of subscribers. At present only 300 out of the 600 students are taking the T. & C. It makes it exceedingly difficult to make a go of the thing with so few subscribers. However, if every student became a subscriber upon paying his matriculation fee, two benefits would be put on a sound financial basis, and second, the subscription price could probably be lowered to about $1.50 per year. Of course, there is the argument that it is good experience for the staff to try to get as many subscribers as possible every year, but I believe that the results attained are far too meager to be commensurate with the energy put forth year after year, and bring only worry and hardship to the T. & C. staff. With the doubled subscription list that would be obtained by the proposed plan, a bigger and better and cheaper Tan and Cardinal could be published.

Perry Laukhuff.

ECHOES from the ALUMNI

H. W. TROOP ATTENDS U. S. ALUMNI SECRETARY MEET

Representatives of 91 Colleges Attend. Educational Relations Are Stressed.

The Ohio State University entertained the annual conference of the Association of Alumni Secretaries of the United States on April 15 to 17. There were representatives of 91 colleges and universities of the United States representing nearly 1,000,000 alumni.

The Otterbein secretary took a look in on the conference and gives here a thought or two for your inspiration.

At one of the sessions three noted speakers presented various phases of the problem of alumni relationships.

Professor William J. Newlin, of Amherst College, who recently made a study of "Educational Relations with Alumni" for the American Association of University Professors, presented a little different angle to some of our problems. He suggested that the reason for the "over-emphasis" of athletics, largely football, might be due to the professors themselves inasmuch as they sometimes forgot that the undergraduate boy is "nineteen and healthy" and suggested further that if the college course would take on something of the attractiveness of action displayed by athletics that perhaps when undergraduates became alumni we could find much basis for the "over-indulgence in muscles" but would find real respect for brains.

Dr. Harry A. Garfield, President of Williams College, and former wartime fuel administrator, likened the alumni secretary to a "main highway" on which communication was maintained in two directions and reminded the assembly that if the alumni secretary became a "one way street" that alumni and college, the president and faculty representing the college, would be seriously hampered in their development.

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, President of the University of Michigan, America's youngest college president, presented a few challenging ideas, i. e.

1. The education of the potential alumnus begins in the freshman year, then he gave concrete ways by which to begin this education.

A. Call attention to his wide horizon, the big world in which he lives.

B. Budget his support to extra-curricular activities. Teach him relative values so that when he is an alumnus he will have an appreciation of all phases of college life.

C. Take the student into the confidence of the administration of the college by assigning him to committees. Allow him to work with the Dean. Give a one-hour course in College Policy and Life.

Dr. Little then summarized the work of the alumni secretary. "Strive to assist the alumni in the

THE CLASS OF 1947.

We just discovered Lulu J. Hay, who is nine weeks old. This young lady is the daughter of John L. Hay of Shelby, Ohio. Mr. Hay is of that very large class, the Exers, but we are quite certain that Lulu will become an alumna after she enrolls in the illustrious class of '47.

Another young lady is enrolled in the class this week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett of Westerville.

Elizabeth Ann was born on April 15, and since her daddy, "Chuck" belongs to the class of '15, she properly belongs to Otterbein.

"Chuck" manages the destinies of the H. L. Bennett Coal and Feed Company of Westerville.

One boy comes on the list this week also. John Stanley Wilhelm Brunner the son of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Brunner of Canton, Ohio.

Dayton Otterbein Sorosis Meets.

The Dayton Otterbein Sorosis met on April 15th at the home of Mrs. Lucille Coppock Pansing. The club was especially favored by having with them "The Harmony Four" from Euclid Avenue Church. Some of the girls in the quartette will attend Otterbein next year.

The general subject of the evening was Italy. In accordance with this theme the singers rendered "Lucia". Miss Chloe Niswonger, '11, presented a very interesting paper on Roman Art, given in her accustomed brilliant manner. Ruth Koontz, '15, gave an interesting and delightful account of her rambles through southern Italy in a recent trip. Her description of ceremonies in the cathedrals was very amusing.

The following officers were elected for the coming year. President, Grace Coblenz, '11; Vice-President, Lucille Peden, Ex.; Secy. and Treas., Marie Comfort, '23.

Mrs. I. R. Libecap assisted Mrs. Pansing in the social hour.

Mrs. W. L. Mattis, reporter.

prolongation of youth and in its intelligent utilization." That he suggested was the reason for the interest in athletics—the desire to remain young.

At a stag dinner the relation of alumni to football was discussed by such prominent men as Hall, Kennedy, Savage, Wilce, Bezdek, Berry, St. John, and Major Griffith.

The fundamental thought of the group was that the game is for and belongs to the student. If the alumni would use their influence to stop the press and the outside public from trying to make the game theirs the business side of athletics would disappear.

A plea was made for alumni to keep liquor away from big games, which we are sincerely grateful has no part in the consideration of the athletic managers at Otterbein.

STILL MORE ECHOES

Warren County.

From Helen Drury Knight:

On the night of March 26 the home of Kay and Dick Goodrich was full of Otterbein Spirit. We were sorry that we were unable to hear the boys sing, but some high tension wires spoiled the music.

The following officers were elected. President, Dick Goodrich; vice-president, Maurice Horlacher; Sec., and Treas., Helen D. Knight.

Although only 12 in number we want to help Otterbein all we can.

Licking and Knox Counties.

From Wilbur Wood:

We did have a Family Reunion in our community but did not have many present. There were only three present but we had a big feed and listened in on the program.

The reunion idea is good and worth trying again next year.

South Bend, Indiana.

A letter from H. Lucile Gerber:

Even though I cannot report a large meeting, yet I thought you might be interested in knowing that we did observe Otterbein night here in South Bend and our meeting was just as enthusiastic as three interested Otterbein Alumni could possibly make it.

Mary Chamberlin, '23, and Lois Coy, '23, and I began the evening with a dinner and from that time on all our thoughts and words were of Otterbein—a true old grand sort of an occasion. Along with our reminiscences were many sincere hopes for Otterbein's future and a determination to do all we can to further her interests. We read the most excellent letter which was sent out by President Clipping. We are all for Old Otterbein.

Hancock County.

Plans went awry at the last minute and only a small group got together. They enjoyed the President's talk and the splendid musical program. Enough spirit was generated by the small group to carry on until the next meeting can be planned and put over.

OTTERBEIN WOMANS' CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Westerville Branch of the Columbus Otterbein Womans' Club was held Friday afternoon, April 16, at Cochran Hall.

Mrs. Oscar H. Charles was the guest of honor and gave the club a speech based upon her personal reminiscences.

The pledges for the year were paid at this meeting. Mrs. Charles presided over the basket and as each member presented her money she gave a stunt. The stunts were unique and displayed the originality of the members. The pledges paid amount to $198.00.

Another one of the unique features of the meeting was the questionnaire handed to those present. It was designed to test their knowledge, or rather to determine their lack of knowledge of Otterbein history. It proved to be delightful entertainment and served to acquaint them with the history of their own institution in which they were all interested.

Y. M. C. A.

Waldo Keck led the Y. M. C. A. in a further discussion of "Ruts," a continuation of the meeting of the week before. The social situation was again the principle subject brought before the group. Several men made suggestions for the improvement of former unsuccessful plans. Prof. Hursh and Mr. Widdoes brought out some important facts regarding this problem. A. O. Barnes, at the close of the meeting, presented the treasurer's report in the absence of Louie Norris, treasurer.

PHILALETHEA

A shrill high voice penetrated the dignified silence of the room, filling the air with electricity and anticipation. Suddenly a babble of confusion and excitement was heard as the freshman troupe, in charge of Josephine Drury, fairly stormed the fragile, yet substantial portals of Philalethea Thursday evening.

In the typical fashion of the modern youth, the freshmen girls, dressed in costumes varying from ultra-modern to those secured probably from grandmother's cedar chest, entertained society with an amusing and ingenious mock society, which might easily have been re-christened as a "farce."

The entire mock session was a striking exhibition of the potential ability of the freshman girls of Philalethea.

PHILOPHRONEA

A debate, "Resolved: That Otterbein Should Permit Dancing," evoked not a little comment at Philophronea's session of Friday evening. An oration by B. D. Redman was very well worked out. The book review by W. C. McKnight proved to be interesting also. A committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities of an extemporaneous speaking contest to be held within the next month.

Professor Exhibits Chivalrous Nature

After Wednesday's game with the University of Dayton, Prof. Martin recommended that a chicken wire fence be erected around the base ball field in order that he might enjoy the game to its fullest extent, hereafter.

During the Dayton game two little base ball enthusiasts arm in arm wandered across the outfield toward the right field bleachers. As these 3-year-olds passed the Dayton right fielder, they excited his big brother instinct, causing him to leave his post and pilot them toward the sidelines. However, this juvenile pair soon lost interest in the game and started home by the same route over which they had come. But this time the chivalric nature of Prof. Martin asserted itself. Running toward them, he extended his fatherly hand and propelled them off stage at right, amid the hearty applause of an appreciative grandstand, thus allowing the game to proceed.

Hence it is obvious that a fence would greatly facilitate matters.

FRESHMEN WIN ANNUAL COX FORENSIC CONTEST

The Freshmen again won the annual Frosh-Soph tilt by a unanimous vote. The question debated was: Resolved; that Congress Shall Have the Power to Nullify Decisions of the United States Supreme Court Declaring Federal Laws Unconstitutional.

The affirmative side of the question was opened by Louie Norris of the Sophomores and followed by Clay Kohr and John Hudock; Donald Borrer and Waldo Keck acting as alternates. The negative side was upheld by Albert Mayer, Bruce LaPorte and Phillip Charles of the Freshmen; R. Durst and Mason Hayes acting as alternate.

A small but enthusiastic crowd was present. The debaters did not seem disappointed in the small turn-out but each speaker tried very ardently to get his part of the argument across.

The members of the winning side were each presented with a purse of $5. This was made possible by "The Cox Prize Foundation for Debate."

The judges were Dr. Chas. Snively, Dr. Raymond Phelan, and Horace W. Troop. Earl Hoover acted as chairman.

Eliminations of the Quiz and Quill productions are being made to determine the winners of the contest. Winning productions will be published in the spring number of the Quiz and Quill magazine which will appear sometime during the first week in May. Three hundred subscriptions have been received and the publication of an 84-page magazine will go forward rapidly.

Winners of the two contests will be announced later.

The Sociology Class, under the direction of Prof. E. M. Hursh, made two trips to Columbus last week to study labor and economic conditions in factories.
