LOOK TO THIS DAY . . .

1954 SIBYL

Otterbein College

Westerville, Ohio

LOOK TO THIS DAY

LOOK TO THIS DAY!

FOR IT IS LIFE, THE VERY LIFE OF LIFE,
IN ITS BRIEF COURSE LIE ALL THE VERITIES
AND REALITIES OF YOUR EXISTENCE:

THE BLISS OF GROWTH;

THE GLORY OF ACTION;

THE SPLENDOR OF BEAUTY;

FOR YESTERDAY IS ALREADY A DREAM, AND TOMORROW
A VISION OF HOPE.

LOOK WELL, THEREFORE, TO THIS DAY!

SUCH IS THE SALUTATION OF THE DAWN!

FROM THE SANSKRIT

FOR YESTERDAY IS ALREADY A DREAM

ABOVE: Otterbein's oldest living alumna, Mrs. A. C. Crouse, 101, visiting with Billy Shackson, a "future" Otterbein student.

Behind is the dream of one hundred and seven years. The sacrifices of time, money, effort, and of life have created Otterbein as it is today—a college of old and new. Otterbein is the accumulation of old traditions and new beliefs, of time-honored buildings and modern additions, of venerable elders and young leaders, of unwritten ideals and an established reputation.

AND TOMORROW A VISION OF HOPE

Ahead is the vision of years unknown.
You, a student of 1954, created a better Otterbein for the STUDENT
OF THE FUTURE.

FROM 1847 TO 1954 . .

In 1847 eight students met for Otterbein University's first chapel program; it was perfect attendance! But by the year's end 81 students had enrolled. Miss C. Murray, a teacher, was the world's first lady professor.

1854 found Otterbein University students at work in a College Garden located at the present site of the athletic fields. This Manual Labor Movement, though intended to improve students' health and wealth, failed.

In 1858 Ben Hanby, author of "Darling Nellie Gray" and the Christmas song, "Up on the Housetop," was graduated from Otterbein. Hanby married half of Otterbein's 1858 graduating class (of two)—an unusual distinction!

By 1954 we are in the midst of a tremendous building boom. With a stadium, dining hall, auditorium, and new library, Otterbein looks forward to more dormitories by 1957 and a largely increased enrollment by 1960!

... OTTERBEIN

From 1852 until the early 1900's literary societies held social sway. These competed in choosing honorary members like T. Roosevelt. Rivalry sharpened; members at opposite ends of the hall wouldn't date each other!

In 1857 walks together were taboo for Otterbein's men and women. Inquisitive students were told that at least 10 feet must separate the sexes. Couples at once took walks—holding opposite ends of ten-foot poles.

At 2:00 a.m. January 26, 1870, fire destroyed "Old Main." The faculty met at 4:00 a.m. to lay plans. Classes were held in Saum Hall and in professors' homes; and the Administration Building was begun as a replacement!

DEDICATED TO A FULL LIFE

Dr. J. Neely Boyer, SIBYL dedicatee, died with his wife, Estella, in an airplane disaster over the Pacific Ocean July 12, 1953. At the time of his death Dr. Boyer was head of Otterbein's sociology department and Mayor of Westerville.

Dr. Boyer first came to Otterbein as a student after he had decided upon the ministerial profession. He left his job at a Pennsylvania steel mill and moved to Westerville with his wife and young daughters. Three years of theological seminary followed college; then during his ministry Dr. Boyer continued study until he eventually earned his doctorate. Just previous to the beginning of his teaching career at Otterbein Dr. Boyer preceded the Rev. M. J. Miller as pastor of Westerville's First E. U. B. Church.

The memory of this man's life will serve for most of you as a better tribute than words. We're sure that Dr. Boyer knew "the bliss of growth," "the glory of action," and "the splendor of beauty" — life was precious to him. And we're sure, too, that what he did with each minute of his days reflected an optimism toward the future and created, in many known and unknown ways, a better Otterbein College for you.

An Indian Summer . . .

The stately Administration Building, backgrounded by an azure sky and sentinelled by evergreens and bright yellow, green, and brown-leaved trees, welcomes every autumn the students of Otterbein. The warmth of an Indian summer is matched by the warmth of "hello."

The Winter Months . . .

In winter months the stark trees are whitewashed with a northwestern blast of snow. The nakedness of the campus is protected by winter's blanket over Westerville, and college life goes on as usual.

. . . And Spring At Last

Spring is announced by the birds; by robins pecking for worms, doves carrying twigs, and crows cawing overhead. The warm sun rises over Westerville earlier every morning, and green life fills the campus again.

1954 Sibyl Queen

Margaret McClure Hastings was secretly elected 1954 SIBYL Queen by the yearbook staff last fall. "Queen Micky," of "Talisman" sorority, holds the rather unusual distinction at Otterbein of being a married queen! Mrs. Hastings was also an attendant to the Winter Princess this year.

So College Life Begins

The beginning of school, and for the freshmen the beginning of a new world. King Hall fills with eager co-eds, ably assisted by Student Council luggage-carriers.

Many of the freshmen meet members of the faculty for the first time at the freshman reception on Sunday afternoon when President and Mrs. J. Gordon Howard give them a warm welcome to the "Otterbein Family."

One of the first organized efforts to make the new students feel at home is the Big and Little Sister marshmallow roast. This event, sponsored by the YWCA, is an after-supper gathering of the freshman women and their upperclass Big Sisters on the banks of Alum Creek for marshmallows and good fellowship. The YMCA sponsors getting-acquainted events for the freshman men.

ABOVE: One of the first "duties" of the freshmen is to boost school spirit before the first home football game of the year. On the Friday preceding the game, the frosh must accumulate a mountainous quantity of material for a bonfire to be ceremoniously lit that evening. The bonfire is traditionally topped by an unassuming wooden "edifice" and by an effigy of the opposing team.

RIGHT: Upperclassmen and cheerleaders "encourage" frosh school spirit at the bonfire activities. After the lighting of the bonfire, the freshmen, in pajamas, are led in a snake dance around the fire and through Westerville, ending up in town where they "crash" the local show.

Frosh Fun

ABOVE: Comes Scrap Day, and the rivalry between the freshman and sophomore classes reaches its height. One of the main events is the sack rush — almost traditionally a sophomore victory!

LEFT: The freshman "girls" are noted on Scrap Day for their peculiar attire. Specifications for dress are set up by the sophomore "women," who see that the effect is definitely NOT bewitching.

Queen Nancy Wood

Nancy Wood, of "Talisman" sorority, was selected 1954 Fall Homecoming Queen.

Maid of Honor to Her Majesty was Mary Ann Charles, of "Owls" sorority, and her First Attendant was Barbara Klenk, of "Arbutus." Mary Wagner, of "Greenwich," Joyce Hickok, of "Onyx," and Mary Jo Westervelt, of "T. D.," completed the court.

1954 Fall Homecoming Day . . .

Coronation, Grid Victory, Drama

"Antigone," a Greek tragedy, was Cap and Dagger's fall homecoming production. The drama concerns the girl, Antigone (Anita Shannon, left), who defies the king, Creon (Walter Bonnett, below), to uphold the dignity of man. The black and white simplicity of the setting provided the keynote for the plot and served as a contrasting back-drop for the acting.

With President Howard as "Santa Claus" and Janet Love and Madelyn Sears acting as MC's, Otterbein's all-campus Christmas party evidenced that "holiday spirit."

The program was divided into two parts — one with student talent, and the other with the faculty performing.

Winter Princess, Miss T & C . . .

Miss T & C Eloise Valentine

Janet Wilson, of "Owls" sorority, was crowned 1954 Winter Princess during the half-time ceremonies of the Winter Homecoming basketball game, February 6. Helene "Mike" Miller, Maid of Honor in 1953, presented the royal crown. Maid of Honor to the Princess was Dolores Koons, and Margaret Hastings served as First Attendant. The basketball game was an 86-66 "Otter" victory!

During intermission time at the Interfraternity Spring Formal, Eloise Valentine, a freshman in "Owls" sorority, was selected as Miss TAN AND CARDINAL of 1954. Miss Valentine, the candidate of "Annex" fraternity, received the engraved cup from Miss T & C of 1953, Mary Ann Charles. Also vying for the royal honor were Barbara Fast, Cynthia Guerrio, Ida Hartsook, Eva Holmes, and Lois Porter.

Greek Week — and the culmination of all the bad things a lowly pledge ever dreamed of. But a pervading spirit of fun and the knowledge that soon it will all be over and “we’ll be just like other people again” makes the week bearable. And the pledges pictured at the left don’t actually seem to mind the “active-simonizing” job they’re faced with.

March Activities Begun

Dr. Harvey Hahn and Mrs. William K. Messmer were guests on campus during Otterbein’s annual Religious Emphasis Week in February. Dr. Hahn, of Otterbein E. U. B. Church, Dayton, and Mrs. Messmer, of Dayton, led discussion groups, held personal conferences, and spoke in chapel during their four-day stay. Pictured at the right they are talking with some students following a “bull session” in Zeta Phi fraternity house.

Jump Week

The girls begin pinching their pennies and the fellows put on knowing grins when Jump Week rolls around. The main activities of the week, besides "inexpensive" dates, revolve around the campaigns for the freshman king to reign at the dance. By vote of the women Charles Bradford and Robert Henn competed for the title. William Bowes, the "Dark Horse" candidate was entered in the contest by TAN AND CARDINAL.

William Bowes, an "Annex" fraternity man, received the royal Jump Week crown during intermission time at the annual Jump Week Dance. Bowes, sponsored by the TAN AND CARDINAL, was the first "Dark Horse" candidate to win the kingship since Maurice Schutz's victory in 1950. Identity of the king was not made known until the crowning by retiring king, James Wagner.

King Bill Bowes

BELOW: King Bill Bowes and his campaign manager, Shirley Smith.

Queen of the May June Warner, of "T. D." sorority, was presented the royal crown during a special coronation program in the bandshell Saturday morning, May 8. Maid of Honor to Miss Warner was Barbara Tompkins, and Donna Good and Anita Shannon served as attendants.

Spring

The warm days of spring bring renewed interest and activity to the campus, and among the high spots of the season are the festivities of May Day. Spring is also the perfect time for a sweetheart serenade, with its sentiment enhanced by song and candlelight.

Then graduation comes, bringing the bitter-sweetness of final departure from college and the beginning of a new life.

TOMORROW IS

A VISION OF HOPE TO HIM

... And to you, faculty and student administrative leaders, if you are interested in a wisely educated people. You have acted and planned this year toward a better Otterbein for the student who will be here in five, ten, or twenty years . . . and toward improved liberal arts education everywhere . . .

An Otterbein graduate of 1922, President J. Gordon Howard has apparently enjoyed his return to the "quiet peaceful village." He and Mrs. Howard are now serving their ninth year at Otterbein College.

An administrator, a churchman, and a distinguished educator, Dr. Howard holds the difficult position of commanding both the respect and the friendship of the College community. In typical Otterbein fashion, the Howards' "door is always open" to any student.

The Howards

... The leafy pathway to the Howards' home on a fall afternoon. Students are always welcome here ...

Dr. Martin

The phrase, "Must be cleared through the vice-president's office" is a common one on campus, and with good reason. One of Otterbein's busiest men is Dr. R. F. Martin, who, in addition to serving as vice-president also fills the positions of Dean of Men, Chairman of the Physical Education Department, and advisor to many student organizations. It is his uneasy job to enforce the rules, and at the same time, to make the students like it.

Faced with the problem of serving as a buffer between what rules the Administration sets up and the wishes of the students, the deans hold a sort of continuous no man's land position on any campus. At Otterbein the antagonism which might be present in such a situation is dispelled by the deans' obvious attitude of helpfulness; students have found them both willing to go more than halfway in solving problems.

Not only do the deans have their official duties to fulfill, but they also double as classroom teachers and personal counsellors. Both officials help as organization advisors.

Miss "Van"

A green station wagon, a cocker spaniel named "Chi," and a friendly drawl can mean only one thing at Otterbein — Dean of Women Joanne Van Sant. Whether it's a WAA activity or a Social Committee meeting, "Van" has become in a mere two years one of the College's more respected officials. Still — with all her jobs Miss Van Sant remains to Otterbein students a person who is "never too busy to help."

Health Center

Whether it's cough drops or broken bones the Health Center is expected to have the answer. Since it moved into new quarters on Grove Street this fall, the Center has been able to furnish improved care for the students, especially in the case of hospitalized patients.

With four registered nurses on duty this year the Health Center was also able to provide around-the-clock service. Mrs. Mildred Crane served as head nurse.

Dining Hall

Year in and year out nothing provides so much subject for controversy as the dining hall. Each year the complaints pour in and just as regularly the students agree that in the long run the food is even better than can be expected under difficult conditions.

Faced with the nearly impossible job of keeping the students satisfied, Head Dietician Alice Reinheimer and her assistant, Mrs. Esther Jacobs, perform highly commendable jobs.

Student Council

Composed of 25 student-elected members, Student Council is the highest organ of student government on campus. Through this body passes annual plans for Homecoming, the bonfire, May Day, High School Day, freshman orientation week, and elections.

Equally important, however, is Student Council's position as a clearing house for student administrative problems, such as desired changes in college rules and relations with other colleges. During the 1953-54 school year Council was faced with several such issues. In addition to setting up a new pre-and-post vacation cut ruling and establishing a new student-operated bookstore system, Council also carried on extended relations with Capital University over violation of the Cap-Otter agreement. In the spring, a revision of the Student Government Constitution was completed.

Officers for the year were James Shaw, president; Robert Moore, vice-president; Eloise Tong, secretary; and Glenn Miller, treasurer. Dr. R. F. Martin served as faculty advisor.

Women's Student Government Board

Women's Student Government Board, the executive wing of the Women's Student Government Association, is composed of officers elected by the entire women's student body. Among other things, the Board made several recommendations this year concerning improvements in campus dress.

WSGA is a permanent sub-committee of Student Council, and the purpose of the group is to co-ordinate the interests and activities of the women students. The Association sets up rules for government and conduct in the women's living centers and promotes individual responsibility in maintaining rules. WSGA also attempts to promote the ideals and traditions of the College which pertain to the women's values.

In addition to governing the dormitory rules, WSGA gives a tea for the freshmen during the first week on campus which serves to introduce them to the faculty. Every woman enrolled in the College automatically becomes a member of WSGA and is entitled to take an active part in the organization.

Officers of the Board this year were Eloise Tong, president; Virginia Phillippi, vice president; and June Warner, secretary. Dean of Women Joanne Van Sant served as faculty advisor.

Interfraternity Council

Interfraternity Council entered a phase of enlarged authority this year with the ratification of a new and more powerful constitution. Whereas the Council was formerly a co-ordinating body only, with its newly established rules it is able to require conformity of the six member fraternities.

Robert Moore served as first semester president; Ross Morris assumed the position for the second semester.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of three delegates from each sorority, who are elected by their respective sorority for the period of one college year. Among the duties of the group are the compilation of rules governing sorority rushing, pledging, and initiation.

Officers for the year were Anne Liesmann, president; Joyce Bowman, vice-president; Clara Johnson, secretary; and Doris Kelk, treasurer.

A New Addition . . .

Newly located in the $250,000 addition to Otterbein's campus are the three librarians, Mrs. Mary Crumrine, Mrs. Frances Beatty and Mrs. Jennie Miller. Mrs. Crumrine is retiring this year, having served as head librarian since 1935.

The library has a 94,700 book capacity, a study room seating 132 persons, ten faculty offices, a faculty lounge, a conference room, audio-visual facilities, and a historical display in the Otterbein Room.

Basic Literature with Dr. Price

The "old" library

Every Otterbein student comes in contact with the English department at some time during his college career. Activities of the department, headed by Dr. Paul B. Anderson, include sponsorship of QUIZ AND QUILL, the literary honorary society on campus. Several contests, among which are the Weinland Writing and Selling Contest, the Barnes Short Story Contest, and the Roy Burkhardt Prizes in Creative Writings, are backed by the department.

Courses are offered in composition, journalism, various types of literature, drama, English grammar, and English education.

In language laboratory

Miss Wilson and a group of Spanish students

In a modern language laboratory boasting facilities for listening to records in French, Spanish, and German, or for recording their own voices, Otterbein students are introduced to the study of foreign languages.

Courses in diction, reading, grammar, and literature are stressed, and discussion tables in the College dining room are set aside once a week to provide the opportunity for additional oral practice in the romantic languages.

The department, led by Professor Gilbert Mills, encourages foreign study and provides workshops and courses in language methods for advanced students.

McFadden Science Hall

Otterbein's Division of Science and Mathematics, headed by Dr. Lyle J. Michael, offers students forty-five science courses including astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology and geography, natural science, and physics. Preparatory courses are available in medicine, dentistry, nursing, engineering, forestry, research medical technology, laboratory technology, or for teaching in the science field.

Science

McFadden Science Hall, named for Thomas McFadden, who served Otterbein for over sixty years, was constructed in 1919 and houses laboratories and lecture rooms.

Included in the Division are practical courses in several fields of mathematics. Statistics, surveying, geometry, algebra, and calculus are offered to students who are working toward a major in science or mathematics. Elementary courses are also available for the benefit of students who were not able to complete their college preparatory mathematics in high school.

The department, headed by Dr. Frederic R. Bamforth, is closely associated with the various science departments and prepares Otterbein mathematicians for employment as engineers, technologists, research workers and teachers.

Dr. Engle's religion class

Concerned with the "science of man," the departments of psychology, sociology, religion, and philosophy cover widely diversified subjects and approaches.

Starting with the stimulus-response in psychology the subject moves on to the physical man and the workings of his mind, then through social man and his interrelationships, religious man and his relationship with his God, and eventually to philosophical man with his questions covering all existence.

Head of the psychology department is Professor John Wells, and Dr. Jesse Engle leads the department of religion and philosophy. Mrs. Mary Needham replaced Dr. Perry Denune in sociology for the second semester.

History and Government and Business

The history and government and the business departments, although divergent in nature, once shared the same office on the third floor of the Administration Building.

The department of history and government, headed by Assistant Professor Harold Hancock, offers seven government and twelve history courses for those interested in the field.

The business department is headed by Dr. Ralston Scott. Courses of study offered are economics, business administration, and business education.

Lambert Hall

With its headquarters in Lambert Hall the music department, headed by Professor L. L. Shackson, can claim not only the "noisiest" building on campus, but also the one with the most rooms.

In addition to the usual music curriculum classes and the private lessons, the department also produces many events of campus-wide importance including student recitals, choir, glee clubs, band and orchestra recitals, and occasional Chapel programs.

In February Miss Beatrice Ulrich replaced the late Miss Frances Harris in the department.

Activity in the Practical Arts class

One of the few departments to see the finished product of its teaching is the education department, headed by Professor Harold McMillan. Each potential teacher trained by the department is assigned a minimum of sixty hours of practice teaching to be completed before a degree is conferred, and it is here that professors must evaluate the eventual effectiveness of their lectures and tests. Nearly two-thirds of the graduating seniors will receive classroom teaching certification.

Physical education courses are required of all Otterbein freshmen and sophomores. The work of the physical education department does not end there, however, as its activities include intramural and intercollegiate athletics and, of course, the program of studies for the potential physical education instructors. Such varied events as tumbling exhibitions, interpretive dance performances, and May Day programs also come under the jurisdiction of this department.

The physical education department is headed by Dr. R. F. Martin. Miss Joanne Van Sant is director of women's physical education.

AFROTC started its second year at Otterbein under the direction of Lt. Col. E. H. Korsborn. The unit was established for the purpose of training selected students in certain functions normally performed by reserve officers in the Air Force. Students who successfully complete the requirements are commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force, and will spend two or three years in active service as officers and with officers' pay.

AFROTC has become more prominent in the public eye this year through exhibitions at football and basketball half-times and sponsorship of the Military Ball.

Association Building

Behind the old brick of the Association Building lies an inspiring history. In 1892, when Otterbein, with a mere 300 students, was "scraping the barrel" to maintain existence, fourteen enthusiastic students wanted an Association Building—to serve as a College gymnasium and headquarters for a YMCA. Student spirit was swept to a new high, and the drive for funds was so successful that within only a few months construction was begun. Students even helped to lay bricks.

Resultant of the spirit aroused by this movement was the significant advent of business-men into the management of the College. This meant a decided turn toward more prosperous days.

Otterbein coeds are probably as well-behaved as any other college lasses but this would not be so without the aid of certain "helping hands."

Housemothers, whose 24-hour services deal with everything from emergency middle-of-the-night illnesses to dormitory pranks, must enforce the necessary dormitory regulations.

The "College Church"

The "College Church," Westerville's First Evangelical United Brethren, saw the completion of a reconstruction program this year. A total of $150,000 was spent on the "New Century Program" of improvement and enlargement, the plans for which grew out of the one-hundredth anniversary of the church in 1951. The project was finally realized at the dedication of the educational rooms and chancel on November 22, 1953. The organ was dedicated May 2, 1954.

Interest from the College is manifested by the choir, largely composed of students, and by the close affiliation of the Church and the College on religious matters.

Rev. M. J. Miller has served as pastor of First Church for the past nine years, having been preceded by the late Dr. J. Neeley Boyer.

THIS IS LIFE

THE VERY LIFE OF LIFE

. . . Traditions like the Scrap Day battles between the freshmen and sophomores capture an extra something that makes college life meaningful. From a sack rush to a commencement ending on the steps of the Association Building, these are the spirit, the life of Otterbein. . . and they will be as real to the student of the future as they have been to you, and to those before you. . .

HE MUST KNOW

THE BLISS OF GROWTH

. . . You know the experience of working with people and ideas to make a creative project grow. This is part of your college life. A dramatic production, a newspaper, a science project — group efforts that stimulate your personality growth. And part of you will remain in those groups . . . they will be even more valuable to the student of years to come . . .

Cap and Dagger's fall homecoming production was "Antigone." "The Circle" was presented on May Day, and "The Shrike" was the Commencement play.

Each year Cap and Dagger presents a "Christmas Gift" of three one-act plays to the campus. Composed of freshman casts, the plays are directed by Cap and Dagger members. This year Nancy Carter directed "The Wonder Hat," Anita Shannon was in charge of "Two of Them," and Sally Hall produced "The Monkey's Paw."

Theta Alpha Phi

Membership in Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatics honorary, is the most distinguished recognition given to dramatics students at Otterbein. Although the group is chiefly honorary in nature, its members contribute to campus dramatic productions.

Officers for the year were Lloyd Lewis, president; and Sally Bodge, secretary-treasurer. Professor Marion Chase serves as club sponsor.

Activities in Theatre

Cap and Dagger

For twenty-eight years Cap and Dagger has served as the dramatics organization on campus. Designed for students interested in any phase of theatre, the group does not limit membership to those who actually perform on the boards. Students may also earn membership by helping to produce plays through assistance in ticket-selling, backstage handiwork, or committee service.

Campus Radio Station WOBC

WOBC, the campus radio station, was established in 1948. This year WOBC was given a budget of three hundred dollars for new equipment. The station purchased two badly-needed tri-speed turntables with floating pickup arms, dual crystals, and amplifiers.

Nancy Carter served as station manager this year, and Professor William Hall was the faculty advisor.

Men's Glee Club this year celebrated its fifty-fifth anniversary by participating in such traditional activities as singing in Chapel programs, giving various concerts, and taking part in May Day and commencement exercises. On the annual tour the Club, although nearly snowed-in at several places, journeyed through three states, giving concerts in Akron, Detroit, and Naperville and in numerous high schools and churches.

The Club, composed of thirty-four voices, is under the direction of Professor Lee Shackson. Officers this year were Glenn Miller, president; George Freese, secretary-treasurer; and Louis Driever, business manager.

A Southern Tour

For the first time in its short history, the A Cappella Choir toured portions of the deep South during its spring concert tour. Most of the trip was completed during spring vacation. Leaving Otterbein on March 29, the choir made stops in Knoxville, Tennessee; Macon, Georgia; and Tampa and St. Petersburg, Florida. While in Florida, the group visited Cyprus Gardens and the Bok Tower at Lake Wales. Several afternoons were spent at the seashore.

The trip back to College featured a day spent sightseeing through the Smokey Mountains and a stopover in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. The choir returned to Otterbein on April 9.

... The A Cappella Choir

Composed of forty of the best voices on campus, A Cappella Choir is Otterbein's most distinguished touring musical organization. Although in only its seventh year of existence, the Choir has come to be looked upon as a significant part of the campus.

In addition to the traditional spring home concert, the choir this year added a special program at the First EUB Church during a weekend tour of Dayton. In further serving campus needs the group sang at High School Day and commencement and presented a Chapel program.

Joseph Eschbach served this year as president and William Lutz acted as business manager of the Choir. Professor Robert W. Hohn is director.

Women's Glee Club

Women's Glee Club, originally consisting of twenty-one voices, was organized in 1918 by Professor A. R. Spessard. The Club has gone on tour yearly except between 1940 and 1947. During recent years the group has sung for Chapel programs, participated in Christmas festivities, and presented concerts in the vicinity of Westerville. This year, under the direction of Professor Lee Shackson, the Club toured northern Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York City.

Officers of the fifty-voice organization were Jo Ann Leaverton, president; Nevart Chorbajian, secretary-treasurer; and Ann Hathaway, business manager.

Band

Otterbein's Band was formally recognized on campus in 1931. Until that time the Band had been without uniforms and without inclusion in the college catalogue. However, in 1931, Professor Spessard succeeded in getting uniforms for the band and in establishing it as a part of the college curriculum.

The Band serves as three units: a marching band for football season, a pep band for basketball games, and a concert band. Two annual concerts are given by the latter.

This year the Band consisted of forty members under the direction of Professor Westrich.

Officers for the year were Louis Driever, president; Betty Pooler, secretary-treasurer; and James Wagner, business manager.

Organized in 1947 by Professor William Cramer and David Wakser, the Otterbein Brass Choir is the youngest of the College's musical organizations. It has become one of the valuable ones, however, as attested by its annual spring tours under College sponsorship. The Choir also holds the distinction of being one of the few organizations to be included as a credit course in the College curriculum.

Although the Choir was unable to carry out a sustained week-long tour this year, it nevertheless remained active with shorter tours. These day-long excursions were set up to cover business and social, church, and school programs in nearby communities. In addition, the Choir played at the May Day ceremonies and gave a Chapel performance.

The Choir itself is composed of four trumpets, three trombones, two French horns, and a bass horn. In concert, the Choir may perform as a quartette, a quintette, or a sextette.

The history of brass choirs can be traced to medieval times when they were used in the churches as a part of worship services; they played a part equal with vocal choirs. During the Protestant Reformation, however, they were discontinued in the churches but were still used for special occasions.

C. C. A.

Council of Christian Associations was established at Otterbein in 1931 as a unifying body for the campus religious organizations. The Council consists of representatives from each of the religious groups and from Student Council. Among the functions of CCA is the annual financial drive for some worthwhile service.

David Kay presided over the Council this year.

Youth Fellowship

Youth Fellowship, directly affiliated with the College church, provides for college students a Sunday evening of wholesome religious activity. Programs include formal worship, recreation, handicraft, and discussion groups. Some of the discussion topics for the past year concerned marriage, music appreciation, science, and religion.

Officers for this year were Donald Rapp, president, and Mary Wagner, secretary.

Life Work Recruits

Life Work Recruits, one of the oldest campus organizations, is a group of students who are interested in full-time Christian service.

The group meets monthly in the Association Building. The programs this year have featured a number of speakers; however, the principal activity of the organization concerns dispatching teams which go to churches within a hundred-mile radius of the school.

S. C. F. and Mid-week Prayer

Sunday College Forum was initiated in 1947 as a new type of Sunday School class for college students. Discussion topics for the group include any phase of religion.

Besides the Sunday morning class is the Mid-week Prayer Group. This group meets weekly to provide interested students with a religious worship service.

Otterbein's Young Men's Christian Association has the distinction of being the first YMCA west of the Allegheny Mountains and the oldest association in Ohio.

The campus YMCA meets every other week for an evening program. The Freshman Talent Show, the Y-Mixer, the Christmas festivities, and the International Festival along with athletic events and religious activities are contributions of the YMCA in conjunction with the YWCA. The YMCA and YWCA also handle the writing and publishing of the Y-Handbook each summer.

The purposes of the YMCA are to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God and to be determined to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

This year's officers were Charles Eversole, president; Robert Arledge, vice president; and Donald Rapp, secretary-treasurer.

Sigma Zeta

Epsilon is Otterbein's chapter of Sigma Zeta, national honorary science society. Purposes of the group are to encourage knowledge and to recognize high scholarship in the field. Active members include faculty, juniors, and seniors who have attained high scholastic achievement in the sciences.

This year's program included films, speakers, a field trip, and a banquet. During the spring, some members attended Sigma Zeta's annual national convention in Macomb, Illinois.

Officers for this year were Charles Eversole, president; Duane Smith, secretary; and Taki Anagnoston, treasurer. Professors Keith Crane and James McCloy served as advisors.

Alpha Epsilon Delta

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national honorary group for pre-medical students. Otterbein's chapter was founded in 1948. An activity of the group is the publicizing and promoting of the Red Cross Blood Drives on campus.

This year's officers were Charles Neilson, president; Duane Smith, vice-president; Joseph Eschbach, treasurer; and Henry Bielstein, secretary.

Business Club, open to business majors and minors, was founded in 1951 by students who desired a knowledge of actual business practices.

This year's officers were Dale Moyer, president; Maurice Hill, vice-president; Janet McClusky, secretary; and Gene McClusky, treasurer. Advisors were Dr. Ralston Scott, Mrs. Faye Smith, and Mr. George Hogue.

Phi Sigma Iota

Otterbein's Phi Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, national language honorary, meets monthly to study literature and life in countries speaking romance languages. This honorary group was organized in 1933 by Dr. A. P. Rosselot, who then headed the foreign language department.

Officers this year were Sally Bodge, president; Miss LaVelle Rosselot, vice president; and Miriam Gress, secretary-treasurer. Professor Gilbert Mills was faculty sponsor.

Phi Alpha Theta

Dedicated to promoting interest in history, Phi Alpha Theta is in its thirty-third year at Otterbein.

This year the national honorary sponsored a Barlow Hall display depicting the progress of civilization.

James Shaw was president; Patricia Lasswell, secretary; and Prof. Harold Hancock, sponsorer this year.

Alpha Rho Tau

Alpha Rho Tau, an organization open to all art majors and minors, was founded in 1945. The Greek letters were chosen to represent the theme of the club, ART. The purpose of the group is to further art appreciation and to develop artistic skills.

The year's cabinet members were Monta Stursteps, president; William Replogle, vice-president; Charlotte Keeney, secretary; and Nancy Reel, treasurer. Mrs. Paul Frank is the club's advisor.

Home Economics Club

Home Economics Club encourages interest in the household arts. Facilities of the Club include the Home Economics House where students receive practical laboratory experience.

Officers of the year were Anne Hathaway, president; Suzanne Dover, vice president; Beverly Dodd, secretary; and Cora Lehner, treasurer. Miss Helen Mettler is the Club's advisor.

Quiz and Quill

Now in its thirty-fifth continuous year, Quiz and Quill serves the purpose of stimulating and recognizing creative writing on campus. QUIZ AND QUILL magazine, the annual collection of the College's writing talent, is published each spring. The Club also sponsors seven creative writing prizes yearly.

Officers for this year were Patricia Lasswell, president; Robert Eschbach, vice president; and Janice Slaybaugh, secretary.

Torch and Key

Torch and Key, Otterbein's scholastic honorary, recognizes the highest academic achievements among both faculty and students. To attain membership a student must have completed 90 semester hours of work with at least a 3.5 cumulative point average. Members received this year include Frederick Collins, Joseph Eschbach, Ruth Kingsbury, Dorothy Miles, Dorothy Laub Kaiser, and Eunice Jones Pettibone.

Officers were Patricia Lasswell, president; Miriam Gress, vice president; and Dr. Robert Price, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Paul B. Anderson serves as sponsor.

Tan and Cardinal

RIGHT: A. Zagray and C. Gifford.

TAN AND CARDINAL, like any newspaper in the world, has only three problems: headlines, bylines, and deadlines; what is the news, who's going to write it, and can we get it finished in time? Editors, copy staff members, and proof-readers make up the clan which has one thing in common: the pride in seeing that new T&C each Friday morning.

In its thirty-sixth year of continuous publication, the "Student Publication of Otterbein College" operated with a staff of some twenty-five students. About one-third of these were editors or managers.

The business staff was under the direction of Business Manager Craig Gifford, and the position of circulation manager was divided between Louis Driever and Theodore Howell.

Yearbook of Otterbein College

For Beth Hammon, editor of the 1954 SIBYL, work began last April with the making of tentative plans. Through the summer heat she corresponded with engravers, printers, and men who wanted to make the SIBYL cover.

The autumn and winter months kept the entire editorial staff busy scheduling pictures, making pictures fit the proper spaces, and writing copy.

Among the numerous jobs of Anne Liesmann, assistant editor, were the mounting of special pictures and the editing of "Christmas Contrasts."

With a sigh of relief, the staff culminated a year's work in March of 1954.

1954 SIBYL

If the editorial staff has a busy time arranging for 164 pages of pictures and copy, the business staff has no less of a job producing $5600 to pay for the SIBYL. Under the direction of Robert Warner, business manager, the business staff expanded operations this year. Not only did the staff sell a Christmas booklet of creative writing, College stationery, and sandwiches to the students, but it also produced and sold an "Otterbein Record" featuring traditional songs.

HE MUST SEE

THE SPLENDOR OF BEAUTY

. . . Many kinds of beauty crown your college life — the beauty of an autumn day, or of a grand social affair like the spring formal dance. But the finest, deepest kind is the beauty of friendships and the experience of working and planning together. . . and having fun. Genuine friendliness is Otterbein's trade mark. You lived by it; and Friendliness will reign . . . next year . . . and the next . . .

Epsilon Kappa Tau Sorority

Epsilon Kappa Tau sorority was organized in 1917. The group's nickname, "Arbutus," comes from the trailing arbutus, the sorority's official flower. "Eros Kai Timi," meaning "love and honor," is the motto of the group, and pink and white are the colors.

In addition to the usual social affairs, pledging activities, and traditional college events, the sorority projects included a redecoration of the clubroom. Also, possession of the coveted Scholarship trophy during second semester was acquired by the "Arbutus" women this year.

Mrs. Marion Chase and Mrs. L. L. Shackson served as advisors.

Kappa Phi Omega Sorority

Kappa Phi Omega, known as "Onyx," the sorority's stone, was founded in 1921. "Sisters and friends to the end" was chosen the motto; gold, black, and royal blue, as the colors; and the yellow chrysanthemum, as the flower. The purpose of the sorority is to promote leadership, scholarship and friendship.

Under the advisors, Mrs. William Steck and Mrs. Samuel Urton, the club sponsored a Father Time's Party, a square dance coed, and the spring formal which was shared by Greenwich. The highlight of the year was the purchase of new clubroom furniture.

Sigma Alpha Tau Sorority

From a secretive group of seven in 1910, Otterbein's first sorority, Sigma Alpha Tau, has increased to an active group of forty-three, advised by Mrs. John Wells and Mrs. Dean Gross. "Sagacity, Affection, and Truth" were the ideals set forth by the founders of "Owls." The flower is the yellow chrysanthemum; the sorority colors are gold and jade.

This year "Owls" was honored to have two queens chosen from among its members: Janet Wilson was Winter Homecoming Princess, and Eloise Valentine was Miss TAN AND CARDINAL.

Tau Delta Sorority

Tau Delta was founded in 1921, the first year that social Greek organizations were recognized on Otterbein's campus. Unlike any other sorority "T. D." had an alumnae group formed before the club was officially established. A group of friends, following their graduation in 1916, formed Phi Sigma Epsilon, which became the alumnae chapter of "T. D."

This year found the present circle busy with the usual round of fun, fellowship, and work. Some of the more important projects included the spring formal, two co-eds, and the publishing of the Student Directory.

Advisors were Mrs. Ralston Scott and Miss LaVelle Rosselot.

Tau Epsilon Mu Sorority

The year 1915 marked the beginning of Tau Epsilon Mu sorority. The founders chose purple and gold as their colors and the Talisman rose as the sorority flower. On the sorority crest there is a scarab—the “talisman,” or good luck charm—the lamp of learning, and the book “Everybody’s Lonesome,” which is also the club’s motto.

Last fall the group was honored by the election of Nancy Wood, one of the thirty-seven active members, as Homecoming Queen.

Mrs. David Burks and Mrs. Bevan Kimmel advised this year’s group.

Theta Nu Sorority

Otterbein's third oldest sorority, Theta Nu, was founded by five art majors in 1917 and was nicknamed "Greenwich." The sorority colors are purple and white, and the sorority flower is the spring violet, symbolizing purity. "Artes honorabit," or "she will honor the arts," is the "Greenwich" motto.

Because "Greenwich," advised by Miss Jean Geis and Mrs. George Hogue, had the highest semester sorority point average, they possessed the Scholarship Trophy first semester. One project of the year was the selling of chrysanthemums during fall homecoming.

OFFICERS: Henry Bielstein, treasurer; Robert Perryman, Sergeant-at-arms; Robert Thompson, secretary; Gregory Andreichuk, second semester president; David Erisman, first semester president.

Eta Phi Mu Fraternity

Thirty years ago Eta Phi Mu was established on Otterbein's campus. The founders of "Jonda" selected the edelweiss, a small white aster, signifying bravery and purity, as the fraternity flower. Blue and gold are "Jonda's" colors.

This year saw several improvements on the interior of the house on West Park Street as the members of the active chapter set to work in the spirit of redecorating.

Advisors for the year were Mr. Bert Horn and Professor Robert Hahn.

Lambda Gamma Epsilon Fraternity

Since the founding of "Kings" fraternity six years ago, the spirit of the group has grown around the motto, "Loyalty to God, country, brothers, and Otterbein." This year the fraternity, advised by Professor L. L. Shackson, Professor Lawrence Frank, and Ford Swigart, moved from the Barracks to the former Health Center on West Main Street. Fifteen of the sixty active members live at the fraternity house, which actives renovated last summer and fall.

During the year "Kingsmen" sponsored several coeds, including a hay-ride, the "Racketteers' Rendezvous," and the spring formal dinner-dance.

Pi Beta Sigma Fraternity

Otterbein's first fraternity was organized in the spring of 1908. Most of the original founders were staying at the Bailey House at the time, and in order to make more room they built an annex onto the house. Thus came the fraternity's name, "Annex."

After several changes in location throughout the years, "Annex" bought the present house on Plum Street in 1946. Since that time the house has been redecorated and modernized into a comfortable home through the efforts of its members.

Advisors for the year were Dr. Frederic Bamforth, Professor Walter Bailey, and Professor John Wells.

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity

Now in its forty-seventh year, Pi Kappa Phi still occupies the house in which it was founded. However, the organization's early meetings were held outside Westerville's city limits; hence, the name "Country Club." Today, the total membership has grown from four charter members to include over 550 men, with fifty-five current members. With the help of Professors Harold Hancock, Marion Chase, and James Ray as advisors, the fraternity has held the usual group of social events, including the all-campus "Mardi-Gras."

"Sphinx"

Sigma Delta Phi was formed in 1919 by five freshmen and became the eleventh social Greek organization at Otterbein. The name "Sphinx" was used until 1930 when the present Greek name was adopted. In 1933 a merger was made with the Alps; as a result "Sphinx" has the largest alumni group to this day.

At the start of World War II the entire membership was taken into the service, and the fraternity lost its house on University Avenue. When peace was restored the "Sphinx" group reassembled and moved to East Lincoln Street, and in 1949 the fraternity moved to its present house at 36 W. Home Street.

In 1951 when the 39th division was activated, nearly all of the "Sphinx" members were taken, leaving only eleven. Only six members were left in 1952, but the active chapter pledged twelve members that year and the fraternity survived the crisis. This year "Sphinx" had an increase of thirteen new members.

OFFICERS: Charles Neilson, vice president; Maurice Hill, treasurer; Edward Axline, president; John Menke, secretary.

Zeta Phi Fraternity

Zeta Phi fraternity resulted from a merger between Delta Beta Kappa (Cook House) and Lambda Kappa Tau (Lakota). This merger took place in 1931.

The fraternity's colors are gold, black, and white, the flower is the Dr. Van Fleet rose, and the motto is "Union of Purpose." LIONS is the annual publication of Zeta Phi.

The group welcomed a new advisor this year, Mr. Richard Whitehead, an alumnus, class of 1950. Dr. Lyle J. Michael continued in his capacity as advisor.

HE MUST FEEL

THE GLORY OF ACTION

. . . Action is football, hockey, baseball, and cheering from the stands. Action is learning to play the game as a team. Action is a spirit—the energy that brings a small college team a conference rating near the top; it is an eagerness to live. You know that kind of action. . . and because you had energies to be utilized another student will some day know that kind of action, too. . .

Grid-men Place Third!

During the 1954 season three seniors received mention on the All-Ohio selections. Earl Belcher, a guard, topped the list by being named on the All-Ohio first team. His running mate, Ed Axline, who played the other guard, was honored by selection to the second team. Pete Fields, the fullback, was given an honorable mention in the balloting. Junior end Dick Ruh also ranked high in conference punting averages.

Sporting a 5-3 Ohio Conference record and a 5-3 overall season, the College had its best football season in several years. The five wins lifted the Cardinal gridmen to third place in the Conference.

The "Otters" produced two outstanding games for the home fans. Not only did they whip Marietta in the Homecoming game, but more important, the squad hung a 20-19 defeat on Capital in the last game of the season. The latter was an especially sweet victory as the team avenged the previous year's defeat by a similar score.

The Otterbein cagers matched the football squad this year with a third place in the Ohio Conference. In compiling a 14-4 record, the basketball team enjoyed a 6-1 home floor mark. Included in the 14 wins were twin victories over Ohio Wesleyan and Capital.

Third Rank

Jerry Wirth, with 317 points, was high scorer for the year. His performance earned him a berth on the Ohio Conference second team and an honorable mention in the all-state rating. Dick Ruh was second in Otterbein scoring with 205 points, and Captain Dale Andrews netted 192 points.

Varsity "O" Athletes

Varsity "O" is an organization of fifty members who have received recognition from the athletic department for participation in any varsity sport.

Every fall the members, dressed in their letter sweaters, sell hot dogs, cokes, and coffee during the home football games. They also conduct certain freshman activities, including the Scrap Day program and the selling of freshman beanies.

Interpretive Dance

Interpretive Dance Club offers interested students an opportunity to express themselves creatively through dance.

Under the direction of Miss Joanne Van Sant, Club advisor, and June Warner, manager, the Club's efforts culminated in March at Cowan Hall in their presentation, "Between the Bookends." Some sixty-five students helped to produce this show.

The Dance Club participated in a fall Chapel program, the all-campus Christmas party, and the May festivities. In April, as a money-making project, the group brought the nationally-known dance-duo, Frankel and Ryder, to Cowan Hall.

The W.A.A.

Women's Athletic Association provides women students an opportunity to participate in competitive athletics. Individual competition is offered in archery, golf, and tennis. Intersorority team tournaments include bowling and volleyball events, and class tournaments are held in field hockey, volleyball, basketball, and softball. This year WAA sponsored co-recreational competitions in tennis and volleyball.

In intercollegiate competition, informal "sports days" are held in hockey, tennis, bowling, basketball, volleyball, archery, and golf.

Monthly activities of the Association include guest speakers, a freshman open house, a banquet, a co-recreational play night, a student-faculty play night, and a picnic.

W.A.A. Board

Women's Athletic Association Board is the governing and planning body of WAA. The Board meets on the first and third Wednesday of the month and is comprised of the WAA officers, the head, or manager, of each sport, and several committee chairmen. Interpretive Dance Club is also represented on the Board.

Officers for this year were president, Evelyn Mujais; vice president, Dorothy Laub Kaiser; secretary, Lois Kauffman; and treasurer, Carole Stover and Jean Karns, first and second semesters, respectively.

The one hundred and seventh year of Otterbein College is nearly ended. In less than a month another senior class will have seen the official close of its college career. These are days of reminiscing, and of evaluating the meaning of Otterbein to you.

Perhaps college is actually a time for the discovery of the "varieties and realities of . . . existence." And perhaps this year in particular has been a mixture of "growth," "action," and "beauty." It has been for us.

Since a year ago April we have been watching your yearbook grow, and we know it as the end result of a large cooperative effort. The 1954 SIBYL has been of special significance to us as our attempt to express a sincere belief in the spirit of Otterbein.

We thank all of you for your cooperation.

Look well, therefore, to this day . . .

Such is the salutation of the dawn!
