Division III

DISCOVER | DEVELOP | DEDICATE

Follow your passions and discover your potential.

The college experience is a time of learning and growth – a chance to follow passions and develop potential for student athletes in Division III. This happens most importantly in the classroom, through earning an academic degree.

The Division III experience provides for passionate participation in a competitive athletic environment, where student athletes push themselves to excellence and build upon their academic success with new challenges and Lifeskills and student athletes are encouraged to pursue the full spectrum of opportunities available during their time in college.

In this way, Division III provides an integrated environment for student athletes to take responsibility for their own path, follow their passions and find their potential through a comprehensive educational experience.

Discover, Develop, Dedicate

Discover – Division III student athletes are encouraged to pursue their interests and passions beyond the classroom and field of play...to discover themselves.

Develop – Division III institutions provide an environment that encourages student athletes to develop into well-rounded adults, small class sizes, the ability to participate in more than one sport, and an emphasis on participation in activities outside of the classroom are all hallmarks of the Division III experience.

Dedicate – Division III institutions expect student athletes to dedicate themselves to achieving their potential. Student athletes must manage their hectic schedules, keep up with class work and face the challenges as the rest of the student body.

ABOUT JOHN CARROLL UNIVERSITY

Educating the Whole Person—a 450-Year Jesuit Tradition

At John Carroll University, we are committed to the education of the whole person – mind, body, and spirit – in keeping with the Jesuit tradition of educational excellence that dates back more than 450 years. This is a commitment to an integration of faith and culture that serves the human search for truth, justice, and solidarity in a diverse and vibrant community. At the same time, we are committed to adapting our programs to the cultural and social needs of our times and our location. Much of the distinctiveness of John Carroll University comes from our relationship to Greater Cleveland and Northeast Ohio.

Service and ethics are integral aspects of our Jesuit mission. Students may engage in a variety of volunteer and service learning opportunities. These include engagement in Greater Cleveland, across the United States, and abroad. Jesuit education seeks to assist our students in addressing the most challenging questions of justice and fairness in our world, including issues of business ethics, race relations, unemployment, the global imbalance of resources, environmental challenges, poverty, and oppression. Our students begin to engage in these issues by learning through research, reflection, and experiences both inside and outside the classroom.

Simply put, John Carroll University is a community that commits itself to academic excellence, to valuing differing points of view in an inclusive and ecumenical spirit, and to service to the common good.

ABOUT DON SHULA STADIUM: TEN-YEAR ANNIVERSARY

In a ceremony held on campus on the 16th of June, 2001, John Carroll University announced plans to begin construction on its new football facility, Don Shula Stadium at Wasmer Field.

On September 27, 2003, Don Shula Stadium was officially dedicated in front of a capacity crowd in the 5,416-seat state-of-the-art facility.

Just as he was in 2001, the stadium's namesake was on hand for the ceremony, which was held during the halftime of John Carroll's 28-23 win over Ohio Northern as part of Homecoming weekend at JCU.

"Who would ever thought all those years ago that a football stadium would be named after me," said Shula after he was introduced during the halftime ceremony by Reverend Edward Glynn, S.J., who was President of John Carroll University at the time.

Modest words indeed from Shula, who grew up in nearby Painesville, Ohio, and is a 1951 graduate of John Carroll. Shula has often said the mental, physical and spiritual foundation of his John Carroll education were instrumental in helping him become the winningest coach in NFL history.

Shula was named 1993 Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated. He currently holds the NFL record for most career wins with 347, and only had two losing seasons in his 36-year career of coaching in the NFL.

He is perhaps most noted for the 1972 season, in which his Miami Dolphins authored the only perfect season in NFL history, culminating with a victory in Super Bowl VII.

At the time the plans were unveiled for the construction of the future home for JCU football, soccer and track & field, Don Shula shared his feelings toward the project to the assembled crowd.

"Needless to say, I am overwhelmed," said Shula shortly after Father Glynn made the official announcement. "It is such an honor to have a stadium named after me. This is something I will always have a great deal of respect for and pride in."

The project began in earnest in the fall of 2001, as the old Wasmer Field bleachers were torn down on both sides. In time for the 2002 season, the visitors side was constructed, housing 1,400 spectators. A temporary press box was also put in place to add functionality to the facility.

All the while, construction continued on the home side. Locker rooms, five coaches offices, a weight room, a training room and equipment storage areas were built on the ground floor. Access to the home side dugout of Schweickert Field -- the baseball facility -- was also made available.

The main concourse houses the Shula Memorabilia Room as well as a fully-functioning concession stand. The finishing touches were the upper levels, where the press box, coaches booths and a filming area were placed on top of the home side.

For Shula, this honor is a continuation of the promise a Jesuit education has fulfilled in his life.

"When I look back and think about the things that have happened since 1947, the year that I enrolled at John Carroll, and think about how my life has gone in different directions ... to be fortunate enough to have the Jesuit education, graduate in four years, and to have the coaching I had on the field are opportunities I will always be very, very grateful for."

Now ten years old, Don Shula Stadium is utilized by a number of varsity and club teams as well as by the intramural and recreation programs at John Carroll University.

In 2011, Shula Stadium received a new playing surface, and the Julie Zajac Memorial Track housed within the stadium also was renovated.

SHULA STADIUM SALUTES FOR TONIGHT'S GAME:

Pre-Game - 2013 John Carroll University Homecoming Court, as voted on by the student body

During Game - Announcement of the 2013 JCU Family of the Year, Performances by the JCU Pep Band (celebrating its 20th anniversary)

Halftime - A performance by the JCU Dance team, followed by recognition of the 2013 JCU Athletic Hall of Fame Class (Tom Arth, Peggy Dempsey, Beth Grzybowski Litten, Craig Recko, Joe Runkel, Gerry Shay, Chad Stein, Eric Urdzik and the 1962 and 1963 JCU Football Teams)

For just the fourth time in its long and storied history, John Carroll University has turned to one of its own to guide its football fortunes.

Tom Arth, a former Division III All-American quarterback for the Blue Streaks as well as an NFL quarterback with the Indianapolis Colts, has been named the 17th head football coach in the program's 92-year history.

Arth has been an assistant coach and co-offensive coordinator for his alma mater over the past three seasons.

In being named to this position, Arth joins Jerry Schweickert (1965-1976), Frank Amato (1984-86) and Tony DeCarlo (1987-1998) as the only John Carroll graduates to serve as head coach of Blue Streaks football team. Arth also joins Schweickert and Amato as former Blue Streak players to have ascended to the head coach position.

"I am motivated by the challenge and humbled by the opportunity to lead our football program and serve the John Carroll University community," said Arth. "I am so proud to represent a university that is committed to leadership, service, academic excellence, and most importantly to helping young people realize the God-given potential they have to succeed and to make a difference in our world."

During his coaching tenure at JCU, Arth has served as a quarterbacks coach, co-offensive coordinator, assistant recruiting coordinator, and director of football operations.

He helped the Blue & Gold offense average 396 yards and 28.9 points per game in the last three seasons, and has mentored quarterbacks Devin O'Brien, winner of the 2011 Bob Packard Award for most outstanding offensive back in the Ohio Athletic Conference, and Mark Myers, one of the nation's leading passers in 2012.

From 1999-2002, Arth set 18 John Carroll football records as its quarterback, earning unanimous All-American honors as a junior and senior. In 2002, he guided the Blue Streaks to a 12-2 record, an East region championship, and a berth in the NCAA Division III national semifinals for the first time in program history.

Arth will be recognized for his achievements as John Carroll's record-setting quarterback when he gets inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame on September 27, 2013.

After graduating from John Carroll in 2003, Arth signed a free agent contract with the NFL's Indianapolis Colts, where he spent three seasons as a back-up to quarterback Peyton Manning. He also had stints with the Green Bay Packers, as well as NFL Europe and the Arena Football League.

Arth is a Cleveland area product, playing his high school football for the renowned St. Ignatius program under fellow John Carroll alumnus Chuck Kyle. Arth quarterbacked the Wildcats to a 10-3 record and a state playoff semifinal appearance as a senior and earned All-State honors.

With his goal to re-establish the Blue Streaks as an OAC Championship contender, Arth hopes to instill into his players Jesuit ideals.

"We will passionately pursue perfection and in doing so will create a culture of excellence," said Arth. "John Carroll football players will respect, value, and trust one another. They will be willing to sacrifice and persevere to accomplish team goals, and they will be ingrained with a relentless belief in themselves and their ability to achieve greatness."

ABOUT TONIGHT'S GAME: JCU VS. OTTERBEIN

Preview: Charles Dickens passed away before the birth of American football, but the words he wrote certainly resonate with the weary road warriors in the sport.

"Every traveler has a home of his own, and he learns to appreciate it the more from his wandering."

To play its first game of 2013 as the "home" team, John Carroll travelled nearly 450 miles west to face St. Norbert. Last week, the Blue Streaks stayed within the confines of the Cleveland metropolitan area to square off with rival Baldwin Wallace.

Tonight's game marks many debuts, as the curtain rises on the head coaching career of Tom Arth at Don Shula Stadium, on the home portion of the 2013 schedule, and on this year's edition of Homecoming and Family Weekend at John Carroll University.

With much anticipation and appreciation, the Blue Streaks have arrived at this date on the schedule.

They also carry with them momentum.

Propulsion gained from a record-setting day at Toyota Park in Chicago, where the Blue Streaks threw for over 500 yards in a season-opening 41-0 triumph. Energy drawn from a defensive effort that held a nationally ranked crosstown rival to seven points and 183 total yards in a 27-7 victory that recaptured the Cuyahoga Gold Bowl for the first time since 2010.

A 2-0 record and some national buzz follow the Blue Streaks out of the tunnel and onto the field this evening.

But as the rookie head coach is quick to note, the effort needed tonight has no true relation to anything that has happened before.

"We enjoyed the wins we have achieved, but this is a new week and a new team to prepare for," said Arth. "Otterbein is a quality opponent that demands our focus. What I have liked about our team this year is our ability to put everything in its proper place and perspective. We are happy to have the Cuyahoga Gold Bowl back in our possession, but that will not help us score points this week or play great defense. Our preparation, attention and execution will."

About the Game/History of the Series: The John Carroll University Blue Streaks (2-0, 1-0 OAC) will host the Otterbein University Cardinals (1-1, 1-0 OAC) in the 27th meeting between the two schools. In a series that dates back to 1931, John Carroll owns a 20-6 advantage but Otterbein has won four of the last five.

In the last contest between the two, the host Cardinals prevailed, 21-7, in Westerville on September 22, 2012. John Carroll scored first on an 18-yard touchdown run by Sean Kuenzig, but the Cardinals responded with 21 unanswered points. Aaron Kingcade had two rushing touchdowns to give Otterbein a 14-7 halftime lead, but the backbreaker was a 69-yard touchdown pass by Kingcade in the fourth quarter. The Cardinals outgained the Blue Streaks, 285-255.

In the last meeting between the two schools held in University Heights, the Blue Streaks prevailed 47-41 in two overtimes. Both teams scored touchdowns in the first overtime, but a missed field goal by Otterbein two start the second overtime opened the door. JCU won the game when Devin O'Brien plunged into the end zone from one-yard out. The two teams combined for 1,039 yards and 50 first downs.

John Carroll is 12-2 all-time at home against Otterbein.

Who To Watch For John Carroll: Senior running back DaQuan Grobsmith produced the first 100-yard rushing game for John Carroll last week against Baldwin Wallace since -- well, over one year ago when he rushed for 137 yards also against Baldwin Wallace. The 115 yards gained by Grobsmith pushes his career total to 1,824 yards ... Quarterback Mark Myers has thrown for 784 yards through two contests. He has five touchdowns against just one interception, and has completed over 60 percent of his passes (45-74, .608) ... Three JCU receivers have already topped 100 yards on the season -- Aramis Greenwood (13 for 240 yards, 2 TD), Marshall Howell (10 for 263 yards, 1 TD) and Alex Kline (10 for 102 yards, 1 TD) ... John Carroll's projected starting line played for the first time together last week and allowed just one sack. The seniors on the line are A.J. Short and Breen Cullivan ... Senior Ryan Winchell has started 22 consecutive games and recorded his first career interception last week against Baldwin Wallace ... Junior safety Brody Zangaro had two interceptions against Baldwin Wallace -- the first Blue Streak with a multiple-pick game since Marty Gibbons achieved the feat on October 13, 2012 ... Senior linebacker Mitch Krotz had a team-high 15 tackles against Baldwin Wallace, and now has 22 on the year including 4.0

for losses of 15 yards ... Fellow senior linebacker Matt Feeney has tallied 19 tackles so far in 2013 ... Sophomore lineman David Porter leads the Blue Streaks with 1.5 sacks for -13 yards ... Placekicker Kresimir Ivkovic is 4-5 on field goal attempts, with his lone miss from 51 yards out. He has connected on a 45-yarder, but just as impressively, he has five touchbacks on 13 kickoffs and his coverage units have yielded just 19.5 yards per return.

Who To Watch For Otterbein: Second year head coach Tim Doup has a very strong defense, which returns seven starters. One of those starters is 2012 Paul Hoernemann Award winner Pat Seesholtz, who earned the Ohio Athletic Conference Award as the top defensive lineman in the league thanks to 10.5 sacks a year ago. After missing the opener against St. John Fisher, Seesholtz returned to action and had four tackles, including 2.5 for losses of -4 yards ... Fellow senior defensive lineman Zack Grieves led the Otterbein squad with 66 tackles in 2012. He has nine stops and a forced fumble so far in 2013 ... Senior cornerback Alex Cameron has ten tackles and one of the two interceptions for the Cardinals ... Freshman Austin Jones has made an immediate impact on the Otterbein roster. The rookie linebacker has a team-best 14 tackles through two contests, and has amassed 2.5 tackles for losses amounting to eight yards ... Alana Gaither made headlines last year. The junior placekicker earned her first varsity letter as she was 3-4 in PAT's to become the first female to score points for the Otterbein football program. So far this year, she is 3-4 in extra points and has a 20-yard field goal to her credit ... Ben Sizemore earned the starting quarterback job out of camp, and thus far the senior is 25-47 for 262 yards and three touchdowns. He has yet to throw an interception in 2013 ... Sophomore Jeremy McCoy has emerged as the top target for Sizemore. He has 13 of the team's 25 receptions for 160 yards and a touchdown ... Steven Carpenter, who had a 69-yard touchdown reception against JCU last year, has six catches for 70 yards and two touchdowns so far through two games this year.

About The Broadcast: Live coverage of the game is available at www.jcusports.com for an online webcast of the contest. The game can be heard live on WJCU-FM (88.7) as well as online at www.wjcu.org. This contest is also available through a video webcast at www.jcusports.com/live. Live stats are also available through the jcusports.com website, and can be accessed through many mobile devices.

News & Notes: John Carroll was picked in the preseason to finish fifth in the OAC by both the coaches and media, while Otterbein was picked to finish fourth in both polls ... John Carroll has not won its home opener at Don Shula Stadium since September 27, 2008 -- a 17-15 win over Heidelberg ... Over the last seven meetings between the Blue Streaks and the Cardinals, six have been decided by 14 points or less, four have been decided by six points or less, and three have been settled in overtime ... According to the latest NCAA statistics, released Sept. 23, 2013, JCU is ranked first in the nation in total defense (145.0 ypg) and second in scoring defense (3.5 ypg). Offensively, the Blue Streaks are second in Division III in passing offense (471.5 ypg) and 16th in total offense (516.0 ypg).

TOM TELESKO

It is no secret that John Carroll graduates have made their mark in the National Football League.

"It's hard to imagine how many Carroll people there are" says Tom Telesco, in his first year as General Manager of the San Diego Chargers.

After a successful high school career at St. Francis in Buffalo, New York, Telesco was recruited by then defensive coordinator (and later head coach) Regis Scafe. He visited John Carroll and was impressed with the family atmosphere and resemblance to his hometown. It would become a perfect fit-fulfilling his desire to keep playing football and get a good education. He arrived on campus in the fall of 1991.

Telesco would play on teams that would record winning records in each of the seasons he played. As a wide receiver he would help the offense score an average of nearly 30 points a game and share a conference championship with Baldwin Wallace and Mt. Union in 1994.

He especially remembers the season ending win over the Yellow Jackets on their home turf in Berea.

"The defense was outstanding" he recalls of the 9-0 victory that knocked BW from the ranks of the undefeated. In fact the final three games that year the Blue Streaks gave up a total of only 3 points to conclude a 9-1 season.

A major factor in the success of those Blue Streak teams was the quality of the coaching.

"The coaching staff at JCU was as good as anywhere. The techniques and schemes were like those used by Division I teams" he recalled. Specifically noted were offensive coordinator Joe Perella and receivers coach (and current head coach of Case Western Reserve) Greg Debeljak who brought so much knowledge and leadership to the program.

After graduating with a Business Management degree and having done summer internship work with the Buffalo Bills Telesco was able to secure a job with the expansion Carolina Panthers where he worked in many different departments. After three years he secured a job with the Indianapolis Colts as an area scout.

Following his time in the scouting department he became director of player personnel from 2006-2011 and then vice president of football operations.

In January of this year Telesco was selected to be the General Manager of the San Diego Chargers.

Aside from the fantastic weather he has found working in San Diego to be a great experience.

"Despite the long hours and hard work, there really is a family-like atmosphere and great people to work with" he says.

He thinks his Division III background is actually beneficial and may help explain the number of John Carroll graduates in the NFL.

"In Division III, you have to love the game and have a passion for it. It really helps in coaching and the front office".

Joining Telesco this year with the Chargers as Director of College Scouting is Kevin Kelly who served as linebacker coach for the Blue Streaks in the 1994 season.

Telesco and his wife Larah have three children, daughter Elena and sons Thomas and Nicholas.

ON THIS DATE IN JCU FOOTBALL HISTORY ...

SEPTEMBER 28, 1940

For most of its early history, the John Carroll football program was content playing teams in the Great Lakes region.

But during the 1939 season -- one that resulted in the school's first Big Four championship -- the Blue Streaks played a team from the "deep south" for the first time. Arkansas A&M made the long trip up north, and John Carroll sent the team from Monticello packing with a 49-7 victory.

It would be an entirely different, and much more talented squad that made the trip up north in 1940.

Arkansas Tech, under the direction of one of its former standout players John Tucker, finished the 1939 season with an impressive record of 7-0-2 and captured the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference title.

Even though the Wonder Boys had graduated its first All-American (and future World War II Victory ribbon recipient) Firman Bynum, expectations were high for the team known by its unique nickname. Led by quarterback Bill Beeson, Arkansas Tech was hoping to keep an unbeaten streak against non-league opponents alive that dated back to a 26-19 loss to DePaul on November 23, 1936.

Coming off of an impressive 1939 season where they finished with a 7-1 record, the Blue Streaks had high expectations going into their 1940 season opener. With future JCU Hall of Famers Lou Konya, Carl Estenik, and Sam Marcus on the roster, and a mark of 11-2-1 over the past two years, head coach Tom Conley was hoping for more of the same in 1940.

With the troubling clouds of World War II looming over the United States, Americans yearned to distract themselves with something other than the threat of entering war. Fortunately, a fall Saturday night in Cleveland, Ohio was able to provide such a distraction, as 3,600 fans turned out to Shaw Stadium for the 1940 season opener between these two talented football teams.

In what eventually turned out to be a defensive gridlock, the Blue Streaks were able to strike first as junior fullback Tony Yonto was able to score from short yardage, punching in the one-yard touchdown to put JCU up, 6-0. Junior kicker Steve Polachek converted the extra point, making the score 7-0 in favor of JCU.

Later in the second quarter, the "Wonder Boys" responded with a score of their own, but in a much more unconventional manner. After halfback Aubrey Fowler connected with quarterback John Weese via forward pass, Weese then lateraled the ball to end Eugene Keaton, who then covered 44 yards of ground to score, cutting the deficit to 7-6.

However, the Wonder Boys failed to tie the game as they couldn't convert the kick, leaving the Blue Streaks with a narrow one-point lead.

Fortunately for JCU, that slim lead turned out to be just enough as a scoreless second half from both teams left the final score at 7-6 in favor of the host Blue Streaks.

In a game which featured more combined punts (19) than first downs (18), the Blue Streaks fell fortunate as the difference in the game ended up being a missed PAT.

The victory over the strong squad from Arkansas turned out to be one of the few highlights in the 1940 campaign for the Blue Streaks. John Carroll wound up with a record of 2-5, with the only other win a 21-7 triumph over Davis & Elkins in mid-November.

ABOUT THE OHIO ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

In all of college athletics, only three conferences are over 100 years old. Only three leagues had the vision and foresight to be organized before the NCAA itself came into existence. The Ohio Athletic Conference (OAC) is one of those three.

It began in 1902 with the major focus on the welfare of the student-athlete. One hundred years later, that focus has never wavered.

And while maintaining the priority that "student" always comes before "athlete," the OAC charges into its next century on the heels of another banner year athletically.

The OAC is predated only by the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (1888) and the Big Ten (1895). The Conference is older than the Rose Bowl, the World Series and has survived two world wars, the Great Depression, the Korean War and the Vietnam Conflict. From a modest beginning of six charter members in 1902, the OAC grew to as many as 23 members in the mid-1920s.

Through the years a total of 31 colleges and universities at one time or another have been members of the OAC.

Currently the Conference consists of 10 members, including Baldwin-Wallace College, Capital University, Heidelberg University, John Carroll University, Marietta College, University of Mount Union, Muskingum University, Ohio Northern University, Otterbein University and Wilmington College.

In the OAC's first year of existence, 1902, the first Conference champion was crowned — Case Tech won the football title with a 5-0-0 record. Outdoor track was added a year later and a third sport, cross country, became a Conference sport in 1914. More sports were steadily added to the OAC's repertoire throughout the years, culminating with the addition of women's sports in 1984. The Conference currently sponsors championships in 21 sports, 11 men's and 10 women's.

The enrollments at the 10 OAC institutions range from 1,100 to 4,500. All of the schools were founded in the 19th century and have long and outstanding academic reputations. While maintaining these high academic standards, Ohio Athletic Conference athletic teams and athletes have consistently enjoyed a great deal of success on a regional and national level. The athletic competition is viewed not as an end in itself, but as an extension of the educational programs.

BLUE STREAKS IN THE PROS

John Carroll has extended its reach beyond the borders of collegiate football. The Jesuit University of Cleveland is making a name for itself in the National Football League.

Former Blue Streak linebacker London Fletcher continues to make a name for himself in the NFL, completing his 15th season in the league and his sixth with the Washington Redskins.

In 2012, a year in which he was named to his third Pro Bowl, Fletcher received the Bart Starr Award, given annually to the NFL player who best exemplifies leadership and outstanding character in the home, on the field and in the community.

As the starting middle linebacker for the St. Louis Rams, Fletcher appeared in two Super Bowls. He posted a team-high nine tackles in a thrilling 23-16 victory over the Tennessee Titans in Super Bowl XXXIV.

He also made five tackles in the Rams 20-17 loss to New England in Super Bowl XXXVI.

Fletcher was a three-year letterwinner for the Blue Streaks (1995-97). He was a first team All-American selection in 1996 and 1997, as well as Football Gazette's Division III Linebacker of the Year in 1997. That year, Fletcher set a school record for tackles in a season with 202.

When Fletcher took to the field for Super Bowl XXIV, he became the first John Carroll alumnus to play in an NFL championship game in 40 years. The last Blue Streak to do so was Carl Taseff, class of 1951, who played on the Baltimore Colts' back-to-back NFL Championship teams in 1958 and 1959.

Fletcher is part of a distinguished list of Blue Streaks who have performed in regular season pro competition.

Graham Armstrong (class of 1941) played for the Cleveland Rams of the NFL in 1941 and 1945 (NFL champions that year), and the Buffalo Bills of the AAFC in 1946-47. He played in 36 games over four years, playing a variety of positions including placekicker. He made 23 of his 27 extra points during his four-year pro career.

Ed Ecker (class of 1944) began his career with the Chicago Bears in 1947, then played for the Chicago Rockets of the AAFC in 1948. After a year off in 1949, Ecker played with the Green Bay Packers in 1950-51 before concluding his career with the Washington Redskins in 1952.

Tom Lahey (class of 1941) had a brief stint with the Chicago Rockets of the AAFC in 1946 and 1947, playing end.

Burrell Shields (class of 1952) also played two seasons in the NFL as a back, hooking on with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1954 and the Baltimore Colts in 1955.

Don Shula (class of 1951) had a much bigger impact as a head coach in the NFL, but his career as a player spanned seven seasons. He started with the Cleveland Browns in 1951-52, moved to the Baltimore Colts in 1953-56, and concluded with Washington in 1957.

Gene Stringer (class of 1925) played for the original Cleveland Bulldogs in 1925. Stringer was listed as playing five positions: halfback, fullback, tackle, quarterback, and end.

Carl Taseff (class of 1951) had the most successful career in the pro ranks of any Blue Streak up to this point. Originally a halfback, Taseff made his name as a defensive back. He made 20 interceptions over 11 pro seasons, starting with the Cleveland Browns in 1951. From 1953-61 he played with the powerhouse Baltimore Colts. He wound up his career by playing with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1961 and Buffalo of the AFL in 1962.

Taseff's banner season was 1958, when he made seven interceptions for the storied NFL champion Colts. He played and started in the legendary 1958 NFL championship game when the Colts edged the New York Giants in overtime.

In more recent years, quarterbacks from John Carroll have received NFL and CFL attention. Larry Wanke (class of 1992) was a 1991 draft choice for the New York Giants. P.J. Insana (class of 1995) signing a free agent contract with the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League in 1995.

Tom Arth (class of 2003) spent two seasons with the Indianapolis Colts as well as two spring seasons in NFL Europe with teams in Scotland and Germany. He also played one year in the Arena Football League with the Grand Rapids Rampage. John Carroll's impact in the NFL is not limited to players. Three JCU graduates – Taseff, Gary Stevens, and Sil Cornachione – served at one time or another on Shula's staff with the Dolphins.

Another JCU grad, Dick Walker, was a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers staff that won back-to-back Super Bowls in 1978 and 1979. He also was part of Woody Hayes' staff at Ohio State from 1969 to 1976, appearing in five Rose Bowls and one Orange

Bowl. He was inducted into the JCU Hall of Fame in 2006.

Chuck Priefer, a 1962 graduate of John Carroll, spent four decades as a college and professional coach. He was renowned as a special teams coach, sending several of his charges to the Pro Bowl. Included in his resume are a collegiate championship as a member of Georgia Tech's staff in 1990, and a Super Bowl XXIX appearance with San Diego Chargers.

Nick Caserio and Josh McDaniels, both of whom played for JCU in the late 1990's, were part of three Super Bowl wins and four Super Bowl appearances with New England Patriots.

Caserio has remained with the Patriots, occupying the top spot in the personnel department as Director of Player Personnel. McDaniels is back with the Patriots as offensive coordinator after spending time as a head coach with the Denver Broncos.

Frank Ross (class of 2010) was a member of the New England Patriots scouting department for two seasons before joining the JCU coaching staff. The door swung the other way for Jerry Schuplinski (class of 2000), who left the John Carroll staff in February of 2013 to join the Patriots.

Another NFL team also has a John Carroll grad as its "OC", as Greg Roman (class of 1995) holds that position with the San Francisco 49ers. Roman helped lead his 49ers to an appearance in Super Bowl XLVII against the Baltimore Ravens this past February.

Three former Blue Streaks were employed by the Super Bowl XLI champion Indianapolis Colts at the time of their win in administrative roles -- Chris Polian, Tom Telesco, and David Caldwell.

Since that victory in Super Bowl XLI, all three have moved on to new positions. Telesco is the General Manager of the San Diego Chargers, while Caldwell is the General Manager of the Jacksonville Jaguars. Polian has joined Caldwell in Jacksonville and holds the title of Director of Pro Personnel.

After many years in the college ranks, which included a Division III national title at Allegheny College as head coach and Rose Bowl appearances at the University of Iowa as offensive coordinator, Ken O'Keefe (class of 1975) will begin his second season as receivers coach for the Miami Dolphins.

Ben Milsom (class of 2001) has also risen in the ranks of an NFL organization, as he is now Director of Sales for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, while David Ziegler (class of 2000) is a pro scout for the Denver Broncos.

Completing this list of Blue Streaks in the Pros is Pat Moriarty of the reigning Super Bowl champion Baltimore Ravens.

The team's Vice President for Football Administration first earned a bachelor's degree in industrial management from Georgia Tech, where he was a three-year starter as a running back. He then earned his master's degree in business administration from John Carroll University in 1993. A graduate of Cleveland's Benedictine High, he first joined the NFL as the Cleveland Browns' Director of Business Operations in 1994.

THE BLUE GOLD CLUB

What is the Blue Gold Club?

The mission of the Blue Gold Club is to promote, support and recognize varsity athletics at John Carroll University. Established in 1982, the Blue Gold Club raises much needed funds that supplement the annual operating costs of the Department of Athletics. We also seek to engage alumni athletes, and all John Carroll alumni through sporting events, the annual Hall of Fame dinner and social outings and receptions.

How does Blue Gold Club Membership Help?

Your gift to the Blue Gold Club provides John Carroll Student athletes access to state-of-the art facilities and equipment necessary to compete at a consistently high level. You help enhance the John Carroll University experience for all our student athletes.

Recent Blue Gold Club Enhancements & Programs

- Enabled the construction and recent renovation of Herb Eisele Blue Gold Room overlying the Tony DeCarlo Varsity Center which is used for alumni gatherings, recruiting future Blue Streaks and numerous other Department of Athletics functions.
- Contributed funding for the renovation of the David R. Meuse Wrestling Room.
- Supports alumni and senior dinner receptions for sports teams; as well as Hall of Fame and All American recognition display cases.
- Provides funding for supplemental needs for varsity teams such as timing systems, video cameras, uniforms and practice equipment.

Who joins the Blue Gold Club?

Alumni, parents, friends and boosters...anyone interested in becoming a part of and contributing to the continuation of John Carroll's successful athletic tradition.

There are six different levels at which to give, each with a benefits package that increases with the donation amount: Blue Gold ($50-$99), Head Coach ($100-$249), Athletic Director ($250-$499), Herb Eisele ($500-$999), All-American ($1000-$2499) and Hall of Fame ($2500+).

CELEBRATING STUDENT-ATHLETES FOR MORE THAN 60 YEARS.

The Award

Each year, the Capital One Academic All-America® program selects 816 distinguished student-athletes to become part of an honorary team in their respective sports -- men's football, basketball, baseball, soccer, track & field/cross-country; women's basketball, softball, soccer, volleyball, track & field/cross-country; and men's and women's at-large teams that include all other NCAA championship sports.

Capital One + CoSIDA = Win

In January 2011, Capital One partnered with the College Sports Information Directors of America to become the named sponsor of this illustrious and historic award program.

A longtime supporter of excellence in collegiate athletics -- as an Official Corporate Champion of the NCAA, and sponsor of the Capital One Bowl and Capital One Mascot Challenge -- Capital One is proud to be associated with CoSIDA, and all the stellar student-athletes awarded the Capital One Academic All-America® title.

History

Since 1952, the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) has honored more than 20,000 outstanding student-athletes with this prestigious award, which became known as the Capital One Academic All-America® in 2011.

The program used to select teams from just two divisions -- the University Division, comprised of Division I schools; and the College Division, which included Division II, Division III, NAIA schools, and 2-year colleges. To better honor the diversity of collegiate talent, however, the program was expanded in 2011 to include four divisions: Division I, Division II, Division III, and the College division that includes NAIA, two-year colleges, and Canadian schools.

Eligible Student-Athletes

To be nominated, a student-athlete must be a starter or important reserve with at least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) at his/her current institution. Nominated athletes must have participated in at least 50 percent of the team's games at the position listed on the nomination form (where applicable). In baseball and softball, pitchers must have at least 10.0 innings pitched. Athletes who have not participated in at least 50 percent of their team's contests are not eligible.
