CHILDREN'S RECITAL COMES WEDNESDAY EVE

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 10,
at 8:15 o'clock, a children's recital,
in which 30 children will take part,
will be given in Lambert Hall. These children are the pupils of the four teachers of music, Mrs. Starkey, Miss Baker, Miss Vance, and Miss Barn-grover.

This type of program is an innovation at Otterbein. Heretofore the recitals have consisted of both children and advanced students. But this program is to be given by children. Children of some of the professors of the college are to take part.

This recital is indicative of the growth of the music department.
At present Miss Hazel Barngrover conducts the largest stringed instrument department that Otterbein has ever had. This children's department is something new in Otterbein.

Channing Pollock's "The Fool" is the movie which Pi Kappa Delta,

sic fraternity will flash on the silver screen of the Garden Theater next Monday evening, February 15.

"The Fool" first appeared in 1922 in play form in Los Angeles and later in the Times Square Theater in New York. Within a fortnight
this play sprang into popularity there to a packed house at every performance.

"Daniel Gilchrist, a young man who was the football hero of his recent college days, is engaged to a beautiful young lady of influence and position. But there is another man see the picture to appreciate the intense situation developed.

Proceeds from this movie will be used to send a representative to the national convention of Pi Kappa Delta which will be held in Estes Park, Colorado, next summer. There will be two shows, one at 7 o'clock

CHURCH CHOIR SINGS FOR DEDICATION

Sunday evening the Church choir journeyed to Worthington and sang in the dedicatory service of the M.
E. church. Bishop Henderson of the Methodist church, gave the address of the evening, and Gov. Donahey was a distinguished guest. A series of such services are now in progress, covering the period of time between Jan. 31 and Feb. 14, during which a number of soloists and choruses have given selections. Bishop Henderson complimented our singers very highly.

The choir practiced at the new church in the afternoon, then at the dinner hour, enjoyed a delicious meal which had been previously arranged
at the Ann Robinson Tea Room.

TAN AND CARDINAL EDITOR RESIGNS

fact that he has received enough

INTER-RACIAL NEEDS DISCUSSED BY CORBIE

Colored Student In Columbia Law
School Brings Race Problem
To Campus.

F. Eugene Corbie, a colored student in the Law School of Columbia University, visited Otterbein last Friday, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. His visit was in the interest of better inter-racial feeling.

In his chapel talk Friday morning
he said that Otterbein was to be commended for its broad-mindedness in having always opened its doors to other races. In very few other places had he ever seen the welcome given students of other races as it is done here. The body of his speech consisted mainly of a survey of racial oppression in all parts of the world by white overlords.

Later in the morning, Mr. Corbie

FIFTH CONFERENCE WIN RESULTS IN A 38 TO 19 SCORE

Akron's Defeat By Case Places Otter-

SNAVELY IS HIGH SCORER

Buell and Barnes Score High In Fast-Moving Game on Ohio
Northern Floor.

Otterbein defeated Ohio Northern last Saturday at Ada in an Ohio Conference basket ball game 38 to 19. The Tan and Cardinal pill tos-sers took an early lead and were never in danger after the first few minutes.

The inability of the Tan and Cardinal players to cage the pill which bothered them so much at Heidelberg the week before, vanished into thin air before the terrific onslaught.
The Otterbein defense was in good working order and the Polar Bears were only able to get one field goal in the first half. They did better in the second period, waving the net
five times from the field.

Snavely came into his own and made six baskets and a foul, to be the individual high-scorer of the game. In addition he played his usual good game at guard. Buell was next with 11 points.

board every time a Polar Bear attempted a shot. Widdoes and Barnes played their usual good floor game.

PROF. GRABILL WRITES NEW MARCHING SONG

Professor G. G. Grabill has proved himself to be a capable poet as well as a composer and musician. Evidence of his abilities in both lines were shown the other morning in chapel in the form of the new marching song. He said he got his idea
from the Ohio State Marching Song, but that it is entirely different and original. It was written primarily for the band. Professor Grabill also composed the words.

The male arrangement of the song
is dedicated to the Chesterfield Trio, composed of N. Hale Richter, Carl Eschbach, and John Hudock, who sang it for the first time in chapel.

TONIC FOR BLUES ON LYCEUM COURSE NUMBER

Herbert Leon Cope, Humorist, to Appear on Chapel Program
Thursday Evening.

Guaranteed to dispel the blues, gloom and grouches, and substitute sunshine and laughter, Herbert Leon Cope, radiating optimism and happiness through his "Religion of Laughter", will appear on the Citizen's Lyceum Course in the College Chapel on Thursday evening, Feb. 11.

During the war 53 of the United States cautions called Cope to cure the blues. He spoke from two to five times in each of these camps. It is doubtful if any speaker faced more soldiers and sailors than did Cope. Furthermore, he originated and was president of "The Army and Navy Players," one of the big constructive forces designed to keep up the morale among service men.

With delightful contrast of the sublime and the ludicrous, Cope develops rare entertainment out of the absurdities, inconsistencies and excesses of human nature. He takes his models from life. He simply buttons or unbuttons his coat, turns up his collar, fumbles his hair, and becomes the person he represents.

This a humorous number, presenting only clean fun in the best form. The committee urges an expression by the town and the college students for more of this type of entertainment.

Admission for the Cope humorous lecture is 35 cents for reserved seats. Tickets may be secured from Viola Priest, the student representative, or from Mrs. Frank Bookman.

MR. AND MRS. R. A. DOAN
ADDRESS Y. M. AND Y. W.

"The World Influence of Youth" was the keynote of the speech which Mr. R. A. Doan delivered to Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Doan addressed the Y. W. C. A. meeting at the same time.

Mr. Doan declared in his address to Y. M. C. A. that "youth is diligent and uncompromising in its search for the truth." He made many startling remarks about the power of youth in politics, war and religion.

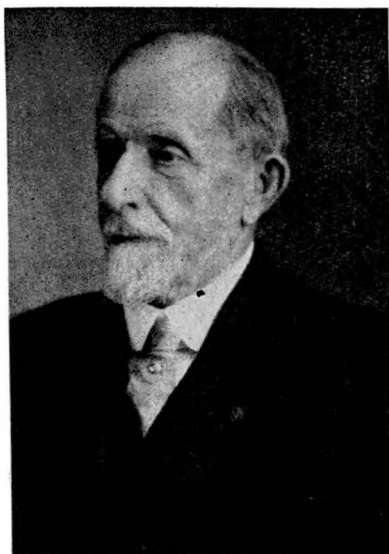

In his description of the Inter-Denominational Student Conference, which was held in Evanston, Ill., last fall, Mr. Doan stated that the central idea of the entire conference was the desire to be rid of denominationalism in the church.

Mrs. Doan talked to the girls about international relations stressing the fact that America's treatment of Japan during the earthquake caused a friendly feeling to exist between the two nations but that the Immigration Bill passed by America totally destroyed this feeling.

Devotions were led by the President, Ruth Braley. The special music was furnished by Isabelle Ruehrmund who sang a solo entitled, "I May Not Pass This Way Again."

Mr. and Mrs. Doan are world-wide travellers, having made extensive trips to the Orient and Europe.

DR. E. A. JONES TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Dr. E. A. Jones, professor emeritus of Bible in Otterbein will celebrate his eighty-fourth birthday Thursday evening when he attends a banquet given by members of his Sunday School Class in the basement of the U. B. Church. A project of considerable importance will be announced at this banquet.

VARSITY "O" MINSTREL MAKES DRAMATIC HIT

Lazarus Jubilee Quartet Scores In Interludes — Upson and McMichaels Star.

With Upson and McMichaels carrying leading roles, the second annual Varsity "O" Minstrel given Thursday evening in the college chapel, was a great success. During the whole performance the audience was kept in an uproar of laughter.

Before the curtain went up the performers did some clogs on the bare floor of the stage, which served to arouse the curiosity of the audience. The opening number was given by the Lazarus Diamond Jubilee Quartet. It was through the aid and co-operation of Coach Edler that this quartet was brought to Otterbein for this occasion. With high green silk hats and green coats, to say nothing of their large green ties, the quartet made a striking appearance. The harmony of this group was very fascinating, especially the melody of the first tenor.

As the curtain went up the second time the Minstrel chorus sang a medley of popular songs. The first solo was sung by "Bus" McMichaels. Widdoes followed with a solo, "Look Out Below." As the entertainment proceeded the Gold Dust Twins came forward and sang a duet which was heartily received, as the applause testified. Richter's "Hokey Poky" was a take-off on some of the students and faculty.

As end men, Upson and McMichaels covered themselves with glory by their make-ups and funny actions. "Bus" carried a horn which he practised on as occasions demanded. His long coat, flopping feet and short hair were enough to make even the most sober laugh heartily. "Uppy"

PRESIDENT CLIPPINGER TO SPEAK AT CHURCH RALLY

President W. G. Clippinger will speak at the Indianola M. E. church of Columbus Thursday evening, at a banquet and young people's rally which will be given in the church at six o'clock.

President Clippinger spoke Sunday morning in the U. B. church in Van Wert and in the evening at Rockford in the interest of education day.

wore a polka-dotted evening suit and red necktie. His facial expressions and catchy gestures with his hands were his main features.

In its second appearance the Jubilee Quartet gave several snappy stringed instrument numbers.

A limerick contest by different members of the chorus was especially interesting. Poetic license was used to its fullest extent. "And It Wasn't a Good Day for Hunting Either" was also a very humorous scene.

In the number "Hinky Dinky" several of the students and professors found themselves to be so out-standing in some particular way as to be incorporated in a song. A quartet composed of Richter, McMichaels, Renner and Upson, gave some numbers which were especially appreciated by the audience.

The group as a whole acquitted itself very creditably. Each member seemed to be at ease and master of the situation at all times. Much credit for the carrying out of the program is due Mr. Wilburg, the interlocutor, who kept things moving smoothly during the entire entertainment.

FINANCIAL CONDITION DISCUSSED IN ALUMNI COUNCIL FEBRUARY 4

Only 334 Alumni Have Paid Dues.
Director Urges Prompt Payment of Bills.

The regular meeting of the alumni council, held on Thursday, February 4, was given largely to a discussion of the financial condition of the association. The response to the call to support the new program has been splendid. To date 334 alumni have paid the membership fee of $3.50. The total amount received is $1,146.50 of which the Tan and Cardinal gets $427.50, and the remainder, $719.00, applies on the budget of the Association.

The fact that 334 alumni have paid their dues and are definitely in touch with the college is significant, but we can do better. That figure represents only 22 1-2 per cent of our alumni, and when consideration is given the large number of ex-students, the proportion subscribing is even smaller. Many other institutions have at least 50 per cent of their alumni supporting their programs.

The budget originally proposed totaled $4,000.00 to which the trustees of the college appropriated $2,000.00, the remaining $2,000.00 to be raised by the alumni association. We find our task is as follows—$2,000.00 less $719.00 now paid in leaves, $1,281.00, which can be reduced to $781.00 since there is a balance of $500.00 in the hands of the treasurer remaining from previous years. If another 25 per cent of our alumni were to pay the membership fee the problem would be solved for this year.

A summary of expenditures so far follows:

|--|-----------|
| Directors Salary | $1045.00 |
| Office Secretary | 199.50 |
| Office equipment, (desk, chairs, files and cards. | 174.50 |
| Postage | 50.00 |
| Printing (cards, bulletins, stationary and multipraghing | 113.11 |
| Travel | 36.69 |
| Miscellaneous | 17.70 |
| Totals | $1636.50 |

The figures compiled to date and an estimate of expenses for the remaining half year indicate that the full budget of $4,000.00 must be raised to meet the needs. The program even then cannot be as comprehensive as is desired.

Active alumni organizations can help the cause along if they will request their members to pay their dues.

The council also considered the Dix Class Reunion plan but deferred action until the next meeting hoping that some suggestions or plans might come from the interested alumni.

PROGRAM MOVES SLOWLY FOR FAMILY REUNION

Dayton To Give Annual Banquet
Night of Get-Together—Florida Group Answers

The responses to the appeal for co-operation in the program launched for March 26th, which is the night of the Big Family Reunion for Otterbeiners, has been very poor this week.

Only two groups have replied. The farthest point yet to respond is the Florida group. Miss Esther Bearss of Tampa, Fla., is going to manage the get-together there. Miss Bearss says that they are few in number and far away, but they are going to think about Otterbein that night. It will be difficult for them to tune in on WAIU and listen to the Glee Club, but what difference does that make when the old Otterbein spirit is going to permeate the atmosphere everywhere.

The other day we saw "Red" Klepinger in the Y. M. C. A. at Dayton. That title must disappear now, for as an active and successful minister, he should be called Rev. M. B. Klepinger. Well anyhow he said that Otterbein night will go across in Preble County. He confessed that there were several Otterbeinites in Preble County that he did not know which gives us one more big reason why the Family Reunion should be put across. If there is an alumnus in your vicinity you should know him and call him friend. The existing organizations of Otterbein folk are the best testimony I know of the fine spirit existing between alumni of Otterbein.

The executive committee of the Miami-Valley Association (Dayton and vicinity) have determined definitely to put on their annual banquet at that time. That kind of co-operation means a better Otterbein.

CLASS OF 1947

Oh boy it's another girl! Eleanor Jane Wagner arrived January 8 at the home of her mother and father in Wilmington, Delaware. The young lady weighs 9½ pounds.

Eleanor Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Channing Wagner. "Chan" did not graduate but belongs to that noble class of Ex. many of whom are most loyal and enthusiastic supporters of Otterbein.

Mr. Wagner is principal of a large high school in Wilmington having gone there following a successful term of service at the McKinley High School in Canton. He is for Otterbein everywhere he goes.

Somebody said that the first time Eleanor cried it sounded like—Yea Otterbein!

Self-sacrificing people usually try to sacrifice what they will miss least.

Garver Comments on Team.

"Words cannot express my feeling of joy and satisfaction over the results of the basketball season thus far this year. The team's showing has immeasurable value and has come as a long-needed stimulant toward reviving interest in Otterbein in this immediate vicinity."

Sincerely,
"Bot" Garver.

"Bot" played football and baseball and belongs to the class of '25.

ALUMNALS

'72. S. J. Flickinger, editor of the Hamilton Daily News, attended a meeting of Ohio newspaper men held in Columbus last week. He visited some Otterbein friends on his trip. He didn't come in the alumni office, however, which was a very serious omission.

"Skinny" Weinland, '11; Paul Fouts, '12, and J. R. Libecap, '09, brought two basketball teams from the First U. B. Church, Dayton, to visit Otterbein and play two teams from the group league. That's a fine stunt—to bring our U. B. boys to visit our college.

Kenneth Priest, '24, "Jake" White, '23, Beth Mason, ex-, Helen Anderson, ex-, Grace Johnson, ex-, and Harold Mayberry, '24, attended the game at Ada Saturday.

'14. Miss Grace Brane, instructor in the Department of English Speech of Hood College, Frederick, Maryland, recently gave a full evening's program of readings before the students of the college. Miss Brane's selections were varied, including Italian and negro dialect, giving evidence of the versatility of the reader.

'23. Rev. J. W. Wright has accepted a pastorate in the Virginia Conference and expects to finish his work in Chicago University later.

Mr. E. S. Lorenz, Class of 1880, has recently completed another book entitled "Music in Work and Worship." It is a discussion of church music as an applied art and is a companion volume to the author's important volume, "Church Music." It has been carefully prepared for the same constituency as that for which the former work was intended—the students in theological seminaries, ministers in the active pastorate and musical workers in the church. The work consists of 374 well printed pages, with splendid analytical table of contents and an extensive index.

Mr. Lorenz is also the author of "Practical Church Music" and "Getting Ready for a Revival." He is the editor of the "Choir Leader" and the "Choir Herald." Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz have been spending the year with their daughters in China.

OTTERBEIN WOMAN'S CLUB LENDS SUPPORT TO ALUMNI PROGRAM

Votes To Give $100 To Alumni Association in Saturday Evening Meeting.

The Otterbein Woman's Club held its regular meeting Saturday at the Fifth Ave. U. B. church, Columbus. Aside from the regular program many items of important business were considered and plans were outlined for future activities of the club.

The club very generously voted $100 for the support of the program of the general alumni association. In view of the possible shortage in the budget of the association, the one hundred dollars voted by the women will assist very materially in the prosecution of the work outlined. This gift is another evidence of the splendid spirit shown by the women of the club. Their loyalty to Otterbein and their desire to be of genuine service to their alma mater has been manifested many times.

This year the club will pay to the treasurer of the college the final installment, amounting to $1250, of their $5,000 pledge. This is the most outstanding gift of any organized group of alumni.

Not wishing to be idle the women have turned their attention to another project—the raising of a fund to provide a scholarship for worthy Otterbein girls. The fund will be started this year even though the entire amount may not be raised.

Some of the methods used by the women in raising the money for these various causes have been an annual rummage sale, individual pledges by members of the club, and musical teas. They plan to hold another musical tea in the near future. They plan to sell 1,000 cook books, edited by themselves, as a means of raising the money for their scholarship fund.

The activities of the Otterbein Woman's Club have meant much to Otterbein and now their gift to the alumni program means much because it links actively the largest group of alumni, those of Franklin County, with the general program.

'04. Rev. U. B. Brubaker, closing a six months period of service in the editorial office of our Sunday-school literature, has accepted the pastorate of the U. B. church at Warren, Pa., made vacant by the death of Dr. R. J. White.

When you do not understand a man, you are perilously near to hating him.

EDITORIALS

"Otterbein is evidently not troubled by cynicism and youthful revolt."—Prof. O. C. Hooper, O. S. U.

HERE'S TO THE FUTURE!

Staffs may come and staffs may go but our Tan and Cardinal must live forever. With this week's issue we begin a new era with a practically new staff. So here's to the future.
Won't you wish us success?

To the retiring editor and business manager we desire to pay tribute.
How well they have upheld the standards in the struggle to the peak of success even through the valleys of regret and humiliation! To them is due a great honor. But in the elation of our praise we must not forget how valuable the other members of the staff have been. Without the cooperation of the staff the editor and business manager can do nothing; but we can sit back and smile with a merry twinkle in our eyes for the staff has co-operated to the nth degree and will continue to do so in the future.

TEACHING YOUNG TO KILL

From the College of the City of New York we have just received a copy of "The Campus", a journal published by the undergraduates. This institution, like many others throughout the country, is being shaken by an attempt of the students to compel the authorities to abandon the policy of compulsory military training.

"The Campus" prints, in large type,
certain maxims of military science,
which are quoted from the "Manual of Military Training," the text-book of the two year course in military science and tactics, prescribed for all students at the College of the City of New York. Here are a few:

"The object of all military training
is to win battles.

"The principles of sportmanship and consideration for your opponent have no place in the practical application of this work.

"The inherent desire to fight and kill must be carefully watched for and encouraged by the instructor."

So this is the kind of instruction
our militarists want to give the youth of America. And such instruction comes into our educational bodies
seven years after the end of the war to end war.

O C LITERARY ROUGHNECKS

It is easy to write pleasant nothings about things that do not count, and thereby win a reputation as a "constructive" fellow. But give us the fellow who is not afraid to be "destructive", who does not tremble when he is called a "knocker", and who does not hesitate to call a thief a thief.
We have too many writers of pretty pieces; we need some more rough-necks. The writer who never offends his readers never gets them to think.

O C Strange Antics of Retiring Editor

It was his last issue. The first form of type was almost complete.
He was taking the proof of one of the pages, and just for good measure, gave an extra lick of the hammer with the smashy squash of a finger.

There was a gush of blood—the prancing of feet as of one in pain,
the suppression of guttural slang,— and every object in the shop took on a hideous form, all objects were in a whirl. He sought the support of a bench—and that is all he knew —until he began to hear strange clicking noises, the revolving of many wheels, and a frightened voice in panic screaming, "Come here, quick."

And the retiring editor opened his eyes to see the local editor standing in abject amazement, his face as white as the paper he was holding.
—the assistant editor came rushing with a galley of type in his hands,
the shop boss speeded up for once and the whole force gathered to witness the strange spectacle.

And they didn't like it because the retiring editor laughed.

IT STRIKES US

That our basketeers are certainly hitting the high spots in the Ohio Conference.

That now exams are over, if you note that you are not making the grade, shift into second.

That Eugene Corbie gave a fine
lecture Friday evening.

That Love's Old Sweet Song should have been "Buy Me Some Candy."

That some of Otterbein's best dramatic talent was brought to light
Wednesday evening in the Varsity
"O" Minstrel.

O C FOOLED HIM THAT TIME

Dean Culler, dean of men at Hiram College and well known in Columbus, has the reputation among students by what he believes they deserve in examinations instead of by a close inspection of the examination papers.

It is told that in a recent examination one of the young men students in about the middle of his examination paper interlined words, "bet you twenty cents you don't get this far."

The student the following day was surprised to find on return of the paper the inscription at the bottom of the page, "Will collect the bet tomorrow."

At chapel the following morning
Dean Culler related the incident naming the student and said that he was ready to collect the twenty cents.
Without any hesitancy the young man went forward and paid the bet, and the student body agreed that both were good sports.

12 EAST MAIN STREET

F. EUGENE CORBIE VISITS CAMPUS.

addressed one of Prof. Hursh's sociology classes. The interest which he aroused showed that he was discussing a live subject.

In the afternoon his time was given over entirely to private conferences and interviews. Quite a number of students took advantage of this chance to learn more of the race problem.

Speaks at Societies Session.

In order to give Mr. Corbie further opportunity to present his subject, Philomathean and Philophronean Literary Societies adjourned early and re-assembled in a joint session in Philophronean Hall. Ralph Tinsley, president of Philomathean, was chairman of this meeting. The combined societies joined in singing after which Miss Pauline Knepp offered a short prayer.

Mr. Corbie was introduced to the Philomatheans, Philophroneans and visitors present by Prof. E. M. Hursh.

The topic of Mr. Corbie's talk at this meeting was, "The Contribution of the Negro to Civilization." He showed that the Egyptians were all of negro ancestry and hence whatever is credited to them should be credited to the negro. Our Christian religion began with the Egyptians who taught Moses many things about monotheism. The great Hannibal, who led the Carthaginian army across the Alps into Italy is supposed to have actually been of negro descent although common report has it that he was a Phoenician.

He stated that some of the great minds of comparatively modern times were of negro ancestry. Two notable examples he pointed out were Dumas, the French novelist and Alexander Hamilton, early American financier.

"Most of the truly American music," Mr. Corbie declared, "comes from the pent-up souls of the slaves, who, having no other means of expressing their oppression, put their feelings into song.

Blames Whites.

In discussing the matter of race mixture, he said that the blame for this crime could always be placed on the whites rather than the negroes. This discussion was supplemented later by a few remarks on the subject of inter-marriage. Although it is possible that true love can exist between two persons of opposite race and sex, it is not likely to happen. He expressed the opinion that inter-marriage should not exist.

In order to show just what the negro has done in literature, Mr. Corbie read several poems by Dunbar, Mackay and others. Some of this poetry ranks with the very best produced in America. Most of it deals with negro life and shows their great capacity for suffering, religion and good humor.

Holds Open Forum.

When asked about the possibilities of a negro republic in Africa, Mr. Corbie stated that such a thing is possible and very desirable. The best way for such a republic to be conducted would be to have some larger nation protect it as England does Australia. This would leave the people of the republic free to make laws and carry on their own affairs and at the same time give them the benefit of the protection and advice of the other nation.

Mr. Corbie has travelled extensively in Germany, England, Denmark and Canada. At present he is making a tour of a number of Ohio Colleges under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. He has given lectures at Denison, Antioch, Central Seminary and Bonebrake Seminary. From Otterbein he goes to Wittenberg, Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio State and Wilberforce.

Sphinx and Cook House AreWinners in Wednesday Games

In the games of Wednesday, Feb. 3, Sphinx and the Cook House won their respective games at the expense of the Country Club and the Annex in the Group League. Bailey-Annex was also successful in the game against the Deltas, winning 14 to 10. Kappas forfeited to the Wonder "5" on the same afternoon.

The Country Club showed considerable improvement in their game with the Sphinx, but failed to break ketball game, Coach Edler said, "They all did." After a minutes thought he added, "Each man had a certain part to do and each one came through in fine style. I have no complaint to make on the work of the players."

Buell had his shooting eye in good shape and hit three straight shots from the corner of Northern's fifty foot wide floor.

The game got rough in the last part of the second half but at that the home team had only three personal fouls called on it in the whole game.

The Otterbein cagers played consistently through the whole game, making eighteen points the first half and twenty the second. The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 5. Three of the Polar Bears five points came by the free throw route, and the other two were the result of a lone fielder.

SATURDAY WINS MADE BY ALPS AND LAKOTAS

Kozmops Defeat Celtics 14 to 4 and Dubs Win Over Wobugas
34 to 2.

Last Saturday the Alps and the Lakotas won their Group League games at the expense of the Jondas and the Philotas respectively. The Alps won 26 to 9. The winners didn't find much of a puzzle in the defense of their opponents and took an early lead from which they were never headed. The score at the end of the first half was 14 to 4. Yantis was the high scorer of the game with twelve points.

The Lakotas found unexpected difficulty with the Philotas and were forced to work exceptionally hard to win 7 to 4. The loss of P. Myers was keenly felt by the winners. R. Myers was the high scorer of the game with 4 points. The score at the end of the first half was 0 to 0.

The Kozmops continued their winning ways at the expense of the Celtics in the Prune League. The Dubs were successful in their game with the Wobugas in the last game of the afternoon. Miley ran wild and made six baskets in the first half but was held to one fielder in the second period. Smith played best for the losers and made two baskets and a foul for a total of five points. The winners led at the intermission 14 to 4.

The Dubs didn't have much trouble with the Wobugas, winning an uninteresting game 34 to 2. D. Riegel was the high-point man of the game with twelve baskets totaling 24 points. The winners were leading at the end of the first half 18 to 0.

OTTERBEIN TO MEET THE FIVE MUSKETEERS HERE SATURDAY EVE

Saturday night, February 13 Otterbein will meet her seventh Ohio Conference foe when the Tan and Cardinals play the St. Xavier quintet in the high school gymnasium.

It will be St. Xavier's second Ohio Conference game. The Musketeers will find plenty to do in their central Ohio trip as they will attempt to down Muskingum on Friday and then come here to meet the Tan and Cardinal cagers the next night. St. Xavier can always be counted on to furnish most excellent opposition in any sport and especially in basket ball.

The last time that the Musketeers were met in basket ball was in 1924 when the Tan and Cardinal pill tossers were defeated at Cincinnati in the last game of the season.

The St. Xavier five is a team composed almost entirely of veterans. The center position, the only one held by

ONYX, GREENWICH AND POLYGON ARE WINNERS

There was only one game played Saturday in the Girls' Group League and the Onyx won that one at the expense of the Owls 20-7. The game was interesting to most of the crowd that saw it.

The winners took on early lead and were never headed, the first half ending 10 to 3. Johnson and Palmer of the winners were tied for individual scoring honors with seven points each. Norris was not far behind with six points.

The games for this week.

Feb. 13—

Owls vs. Arbutus.
Lotus vs. Phoenix.
Talisman vs. Greenwich.

The two girls games played on Tuesday, February 2, resulted in wins for the Greenwich and the Polygon clubs at the expense of the Lotus and Phoenix. The Greenwich swamped the Lotus under an avalanche of field goals to win 37 to 1. The game was too one-sided to be interesting. Dew of the winners was high scorer with nine baskets.

The second game was much more interesting. The Polygon defeated the Phoenix 26 to 5. The game was better than the score would indicate. Every point was hotly contested. Bishop of the winners was high scorer with seven baskets and two fouls for a total of 16 points. Moomaw did much to keep the Phoenix score low with her excellent guarding.

George Reynolds, last year's captain, and Dick Bray at forward and Captain Jake Weiner and Joe Kelly at guard will be the other four men on the floor for the visitors when the referee starts the game next Saturday.

COOK HOUSE AND LAKOTA TIE GROUP CONFERENCE

Miley increased his lead in the list of high scorers and has a margin of 11 points between himself and Mendenhall, his closest competitor. D. Reigle is third with 32 points. Mendenhall has 33 points. P. Myers continues in the Group League in spite of the fact that he did not play in the last game that the Lakotas had. He has scored 29 points. Davis and Marsh are tied for second with 28 points.

SPORTORIAL

There can be no doubt but that we have the best basket ball team now that Otterbein has ever had, and it is deserving of all the support that the student body can give it.

At the last home game that Otterbein had there were not over thirty people in the auditorium at the high school when the team came out on the floor the first time. It would be a great improvement for the students and faculty to be on hand at the next basket ball game at least twenty minutes before the game is scheduled to begin in order that the cheer leaders can lead in cheers five minutes before the game begins.

We are prepared to suggest a method for getting the students out to the games early. There is no complaint about the support after the game starts. Why not reserve the whole center section for the student body, but not reserving the seats? The team is for the benefit of the student body and there is no reason why they should not have the center section. Since there will be no reserved seats in the student section the cheer leaders will expect the students early enough to do some preliminary cheering.

Mrs. Rupp To Speak To Y. W.

This evening Mrs. Rupp will talk to the girls of the Y. W. C. A. on the topic, "Making a Life." This promises to be a fine meeting so every girl is heartily invited, and urged, to come. So few of the girls have a chance to become acquainted with Mrs. Rupp and this is a fine opportunity. She is sure to have a worth while message.

My Room-mate Says:

That if they don't soon wash the marbles in the ballot boxes in the Society Halls, candidates are going to be unanimously black-balled.

That these new sweat-socks are useful as mud-guards, as well as being efficient time-savers, inasmuch as she never has to darn her hose any more.

That she sees aviation is being added to the curriculum of several north-western colleges, but she thinks it's scarcely necessary at Otterbein because she's up in the air in most of her classes anyhow.

That after trying vainly for four consecutive days to practice basketball on the gym floor at noon, she has come to the conclusion that boys are all right in their place, but their place must have burnt down.

That living in a den of Charleston friends has its educational advantages, of course, but that the people downstairs are beginning to complain of bits plaster falling on their rug.

That statistics show that if all the golashes sold to American "collitch" students in 1925 were placed end-to-end, it would take a lot of work.

That when one aspiring suitor told her that he was the only son of a millionaire she just said, "Souise your old man!"

That she is getting out her extra-curricular work in sleeping.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR Section A

A novel camp-fire meeting was conducted in a very informal manner by Marguerite Blott in Section A of Christian Endeavor Sunday evening. The scripture consisted of favorite Bible verses contributed by members of the society. The leader developed the topic, "What Does Christian Endeavor Mean to Me?" by a thorough-going discussion of Jesus' life and character with appropriate applications to our own attitudes and accomplishments in Christian Endeavor. Carlton Gee and Martha Alspach also spoke upon topics relative to the discussion. The meeting closed with a vocal solo sung by Frances Hinds.

Announcement also was made of a special free-will offering to be taken next Sunday evening for the benefit of the anniversary contribution to Dr. and Mrs. Clark, founders of Christian work.

Love-Lorn Hero Is Locked Among Co-eds

The ten o'clock bell had rung. Gentleman callers at Cochran Hall had reluctantly gathered up their hats and coats, said a prolonged good-night to their co-ed friends, and left. All of them? Alas, no! One poor, love-lorn youth, too engrossed to notice his surroundings, had failed to note the general exodus. No doubt his thoughts were in a roseate world of dreams, where He and She were alone together. At least—he got locked in.

Did his nerve desert him? Did he beat wildly upon the door and shriek for help? No! Even though his fair companion, remembering other encounters with the Dean, beat a hasty retreat up the nearest stairway. The brave young man, summoning his last bit of courage, advanced timidly to the Dean's door. He knocked. There was a long moment of silence. Then the Dean threw the door open, a forbidding expression on her face. "I'm locked inside," stammered our hero.

Gradually the menacing look on the Dean's face changed to one of suppressed mirth.

"I see you are," she smiled.

And a moment later a relieved young man stood locked on the OUTSIDE of Cochran Hall.
