Welcome to BW

We are delighted to welcome you to Baldwin Wallace University today.

The BW campus is buzzing with the energy of a new academic year. We continue to build on the successes of the last academic year where we saw incredible academic achievements from our faculty and students and impressive successes from several of our sports teams. Last fall, Professor Indira Gesink published "Barefoot Millionaire," a history of John Baldwin and the founders of Baldwin Wallace. We celebrated our outstanding community over gallons of hot chocolate when the polar vortex hit Cleveland in January, and again in the spring with a record-setting celebration of student excellence at Ovation. Our baseball team went to the NCAA Division III World Series for the first time in BW history, we gained two national titles in track and we added six student-athletes to the ranks of Academic All-Americans.

Perhaps most importantly this past year, the BW Board of Trustees passed the BW 2020 Strategic Plan, building on our great strengths and looking ahead to our 175th anniversary in 2020. This plan is grounded in the core values that BW holds dear: we are a community of learners committed to intentional excellence, extraordinary engagement and holistic support. These values will guide our university as we continue to "inspire success through excellence."

Thank you for coming to support our student-athletes as they strive for success on the field today. Please enjoy your visit and come back often to join in the vibrant life of our remarkable University community.

President

A Closer Look at Baldwin Wallace University

When founded in 1845, Baldwin Wallace University was one of the first colleges in Ohio to admit students without regard to race or gender.

In 1913, Baldwin University merged with neighboring German Wallace College. Since that time, Baldwin Wallace University has continued to develop as a comprehensive college, combining the strengths of its liberal arts heritage with opportunities for career preparation and pre-professional training.

BW is an independent, co-educational college. The University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission, a commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. Individual programs also are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM), National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), and the Commission of Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE).

The University, which is affiliated with the United Methodist Church, offers more than 60 programs of study within eight schools: Business; Conservatory of Music; Education; Health & Physical Education and Sports Sciences; Health Sciences; Humanities; Natural Sciences, Mathematics and Computing; and Social Sciences. Approximately 80 percent of the faculty have earned their Ph.D. or other terminal degree. The student-to-faculty ratio is 15:1. Students can earn the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science in Education, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Music Education, and Bachelor of Science in Nursing. Graduate programs at Baldwin Wallace lead to the Master of Business Administration, Master of Arts in Education, and Master of Medical Science in Physician Assistant degrees.

Today, a diverse student body of 4,100 can be found on the BW campus. In addition to the 3,000 full-time undergraduate and conservatory students, 500 people are enrolled in part-time evening and weekend undergraduate programs. Another 600 students are involved in graduate programs.

BW students hail from 36 states and represent 23 foreign countries. In the incoming class of 2014-2015, students of color comprise about 27 percent of the population.

Our Athletic Facilities are Among the Best in Division III

All Baldwin Wallace University student-athletes train, practice and compete in some of the finest facilities for any small school of its size in the nation.

For instance, a BW football student-athlete practices in-season at the nationally renowned and newly dedicated and renovated Tressel Field at The George Finnie Stadium where the Yellow Jackets play on FieldTurf. He also dresses and practices on the grass field behind the newly renovated Packard Athletic Center, formerly used as the practice field for the National Football League's Cleveland Browns, when BW plays its game that week on grass.

During the off-season, the BW football student-athlete can hone his skills or work on strength and conditioning in the Packard Center or at the Lou Higgins Recreation Center.

In addition to the Packard Center, George Finnie Stadium, the Lou Higgins Recreation Center, where BW student-athletes practice and compete on, Heritage Field (baseball), the Cuyahoga County Fairgrounds Field (softball), the "Pop" Collins Tennis Complex and in the Cleveland Metroparks system combine to give BW the finest physical plant of any small, private liberal arts school in the nation.

Baldwin Wallace University President Robert C. Helmer

Robert C. Helmer is in his third year as the ninth president of Baldwin Wallace University. An avid Tweeter (@BWPres), he has a personal warmth and presence that connects with nearly every portion of the BW community.

Last year, Bob as he prefers to be called, led a strategic planning process designed to ensure that BW continues to excel at providing a student-centered experience that supports each individual in achieving his or her full potential in pursuit of meaningful careers and an extraordinary life.

The plan, which had input across campus, will build on BW's ongoing commitment as a community of learners to intentional excellence, extraordinary engagement and holistic support.

At the same time, he continued BW's ongoing efforts to ensure that campus facilities match the quality of the exceptional programs that they house. In the past two years, he has led the renovations of Klein, 63 Beech and Saylor halls that is now known as Davidson Commons, the R. ## Director of Athletics Kris A. Diaz '78

Kris A. Diaz, a 1978 graduate of the University, is in his seventh year as the athletic director at Baldwin Wallace University in 2014-2015.

"The opportunity to lead a storied athletic program, such as BW, is and continues to be a dream come true for me," said Diaz.

"For more than a century Yellow Jacket athletics have been built on the broad shoulders of exceptional athletic directors like Ray Watts, Lee Tressel and Steve Bankson, former coaches Bob Packard, Bob Fisher, Marcia French, Dave Demmerle, Larry Van Dusen and Sparky Adams. Our current staff is outstanding."

Evidence of that success is the winning tradition that Diaz and his staff have continued. Last year, fifteen of 23 athletics programs had winning records for a .674 winning percentage with five Yellow Jacket student-athletes earning CAPITAL ONE Academic All-America honors. In his six years as Athletics Director, Diaz's teams are 89-35-6 overall with a .708 winning percentage.

education from the University of Akron the following year and a specialist's degree in educational administration from Moorhead State (Minn.) University in 1994.

He began his coaching career in 1976 at BW as a student-assistant under the legendary Lee Tressel and was a graduate assistant coach at the University of Akron during the 1978-79 school year.

The following fall, he joined Friends University in Wichita, Kansas where he served until 1983 as an instructor in physical education, as an admission counselor, assistant coach in football and basketball and as head track coach. He received an Outstanding Young Man of America award in 1982.

From 1983-89, Diaz was an assistant professor of physical education at Moorhead State as well as an assistant football and track coach, assistant athletic director, interim facility director (1985) and served on a number of other university committees. In 1989, he accepted a position as an assistant professor of physical education and as head football coach at Bemidji State (Minn.) University where he stayed until 1996. Twice at Bemidji State, Diaz was selected as Coach of the Year.

Head Coach John Snell '87

Baldwin Wallace University graduate John Snell '87 enters his 13th season as the Head Coach of the Yellow Jackets in the fall of 2014. Snell led the Yellow Jacket football program back to the NCAA Division III National Playoffs in 2003, and his goal is to have BW in the playoffs every year.

"We will work hard to help keep the BW program one of the best in Division III," said Snell, who has an outstanding 77-45 career record with a .627 winning percentage. "Our goal is to win the OAC title and win the NCAA Division III national title. Both our players and coaching staff are dedicated and committed to making it happen.

"I have a responsibility to keep strong the tradition of excellence of our football program and its student-athletes," said Snell. "We are all committed to continuing that tradition of excellence and look forward to the challenges ahead."

Snell finished his 20th season at his alma mater in 2013-2014. He had previously served as an assistant coach in charge of quarterbacks and recruiting and was the offensive coordinator for five years. In the spring of 2001, Snell was elevated to assistant head coach and offensive coordinator.

Snell was hand-picked to take over the Yellow Jacket program by former Head Coach and 1965 BW graduate Bob Packard. Packard, who ended his career as the winningest coach in BW history and learned his trade from College Football Hall of Famer Lee Tressel.

In his first season as the head coach of the Yellow Jackets, Snell led his team to an impressive 8-2 overall record and a ranking both in the North Region and national Division III polls. For his efforts, he was selected as the OAC Co-Coach of the Year by his peers.

In the fall of 2003, Snell's program went two steps further. He led the Yellow Jackets to a 10-2 overall record and his team received BW's first NCAA Division III Playoff berth since 1991 and won its first playoff game since 1978. In 2006, BW had a 7-3 record and Snell earned his second OAC Co-Coach of the Year honor.

Prior to returning to his alma mater, Snell coached at the University of Rochester (1987-88 and again from 1992-94), at Rutgers University (1988-90) and the University of Buffalo (1990-92). Snell is a native of Albion, New York and graduated from Albion High School in 1983.

Snell and his wife, Shelly, reside in Strongsville and have three children.

Today is Professor Appreciation Day

BEREA, OHIO -- Each of the five 2014 Baldwin Wallace University home football games have a promotional event attached to it. It adds to the pageantry and fun of attending a Yellow Jacket football game.

Today is Professor Appreciation Day. Prior to the game, each Yellow Jacket senior football student-athlete will honor a professor or administrator who has made an impact on that person during their collegiate experience.

To commemorate the occasion, each senior football student-athlete will present their chosen member of the faculty and/or staff with a framed copy of the cover from today's game program with a hand-written message of thanks. This has been a tradition at BW since Head Coach John Snell took over the reigns 13 years ago.

Our final home game this season is on Saturday, November 8 when the Yellow Jackets host OAC arch-rival the University of Mount Union, the University will celebrate Seniors' & Parents' Day.

Prior to the game, senior members of the football team, its student coaches, managers and trainers will be recognized with their parents.

At halftime, the senior cheerleaders and members of the Marching Band will be recognized along with their parents.

For tickets to any of BW's five home games this season, please call either Meg Carney or Marcy James in the B-W Athletic Department at 440-826-2140 or 2184.

For the 13th straight year, Yellow Jacket senior football student-athletes will recognize a member of the Baldwin Wallace faculty who have made a difference in their BW experience on Professor Appreciation Day. Recognizing members of the BW community has been an important part of John Snell's tenure as head coach.

BW Announces the Construction of a Sculpture to Honor Four-Time Olympic Gold Medalist and 1949 Graduate Harrison Dillard

BEREA -- This spring, at a date yet to be determined, Baldwin Wallace University will dedicate a sculpture of four-time Olympic gold medalist and 1949 graduate Harrison Dillard at The George Finnie Stadium. Dillard is still recognized as the finest student-athlete ever to compete at the University.

"I am humbled and overjoyed," said a Dillard as he sat at a luncheon on campus in Strosacker Hall that was organized by 1951 graduate and life-long friend Ted Theodore. BW President Robert C. Helmer gave the news to Dillard and a number of other BW officers, trustees and friends of the University. The luncheon announcement was a secret to Dillard.

"I had no idea," said a humble Dillard with his classic giant smile. "It is an opportunity for the legacy that I established at BW to last forever."

In both the 1948 and 1952 Olympics, 1949 BW graduate Harrison Dillard did some things that NO OTHER track and field athlete has ever done.

At the London Olympics in 1948, Dillard won the 100-meter dash and was a member of the gold medal-winning 4 x 100-meter relay team. Four years later in Helsinki, Finland, "Bones" as he's been referred to by his friends for more than 75 years, won his specialty -- the 110-meter high hurdles -- and again was a member of the winning 4 x 100-meter relay squad. In the history of the Olympics, Dillard is still the only male and one of only two superb athletes to ever win both the 100-meter dash and 110-meter high hurdles.

But that is just a part of the Dillard legacy in the Olympics, at his alma mater and in Cleveland. While at BW as a student, and ever since, Dillard has brought distinction to the University by virtue of his excellence in the classroom and on the track as a student-athlete, nationally and internationally when competing at national meets and internationally and in the Olympics and after he retired from competing for the dignity and class that he has displayed for Cleveland, his alma mater and the sport of track and field.

"Harrison has been a great ambassador of BW, Greater Cleveland and the sport of track," said Theodore, who teamed with Dillard on the track in relay events and was a Yellow Jacket team captain. "This is a great honor for Harrison, BW and the entire City of Cleveland. I couldn't be happier."

Sculptor David Deming of Lakewood of Lakewood has been commissioned to do the sculpture. He recently completed a sculpture Cleveland Indians Hall of Famer Jim Thome that is on display at Progressive Field in Cleveland.

Why the Yellow Jacket?

The first mention of the Yellow Jacket was in 1927 when a newspaper account referred to the football team as the "Yellow Jackets." This was probably a reference to their uniforms which were "Brown and Gold." In the spring of 1930, the baseball team was called the Baldwin Wallace Yellow Jackets in the yearbook, The Grindstone, and in the fall of 1930, the football team was called the Yellow Jackets in the yearbook writeup. Since that time, the Yellow Jacket has been the accepted mascot.

No official documentation has been found regarding the origin of the "nickname," but at one time it was said that BW's coach Ray Watts remarked during an exciting football game in the early 1930s that his team was "swarming like a bunch of Yellow Jackets." This story has been repeated many times over the years.

SONGS OF THE BROWN AND GOLD

THE BW FIGHT SONG: "FIGHT, BALDWIN WALLACE"

*Fight, Baldwin Wallace
 Fight, Baldwin Wallace
 Fight and win this game
 We're cheerin' for you,
 There's glory for you,
 You're on the road to fame.
 And in the battle,
 We'll prove our mettle,
 We're loyal, square and brave.
 Vict'ry will crown our might,
 And in the breeze tonight,
 Our Brown and Gold will wave!*

-- Kathryn Olderman Kuelman '28

ALMA MATER

*Baldwin Wallace, hail thy name,
 Praise to thee we bring,
 Where e'er we go throughout the land
 Our loyalty we'll sing;
 Thy wisdom and thy friendship true
 Will inspiration be,
 Forever, Baldwin Wallace,
 We pledge our hearts to thee.*

BW Historically Successful In Football Against Its Most Intense Rivals

The Baldwin Wallace University football program has a rich tradition of excellence. The Yellow Jackets traditionally play one of the most competitive schedules in all of NCAA Division III football and have had 46 winning seasons in the past 49 years. BW leads its season series record against nine-of-10 of its opponents. This year's opening game versus Bluffton University is the third straight meeting between the two schools which began in 1934. The Yellow Jackets lead the all-time series, 4-0, including a 52-21 win last fall in Bluffton.

BW has always enjoyed the challenge of playing and competing against the best teams available. In its one non-league game during the past 20 years, BW played against Wabash (Ind.), Moravian (Pa.), the University of Wisconsin at Whitewater, Division II Mercyhurst (Pa.), Wittenberg, Adrian (Mich.), Allegheny (Pa.), four-time national champion Augustana (Ill.), Franklin (Ind.) and The College of Wooster.

The Yellow Jackets face the annual challenge of the Ohio Athletic Conference schedule, including games against 11-time NCAA Division

III national champion Mount Union, cross-town rival John Carroll as well as versus Capital, Heidelberg, Marietta, Muskingum, Ohio Northern, Otterbein and Wilmington.

Historically, BW has played Heidelberg the most times (67) and the Yellow Jackets lead the all-time series with The 'Berg, 46-21. John Carroll is its second biggest foe in terms of games played with 53 including 25 in the series billed as the Annual Battle for the Cuyahoga Gold Bowl Trophy, and NCAA Division I-A foe the University of Akron is third on the list at 44 games. BW leads the series versus JCU, 25-24-4, and in the Gold Bowl Trophy series, 13-12. BW also leads the series against Akron, 21-20-3. The combination of games against Case Tech, Western Reserve and its current name of Case Western Reserve University makes CWRU the Yellow Jackets most popular foe at 76 meetings, however the two schools have not met since 1953. The first football game at BW was played in 1893 against Oberlin.

Baldwin Wallace University Football Records Tressel Field at The George Finnie Stadium

The George Finnie Stadium was built in 1971 and was dedicated in honor of the late BW trustee for whom it is named. The bowl-shaped facility has a FieldTurf playing surface named Tressel Field and is encircled by a quarter-mile Mondo-surfaced, NCAA approved track. Included in the stadium are a team house with locker rooms and completed training facilities, a two-tiered press box, two concession stands and an excellent lighting system. Seating capacity for Finnie Stadium is 7,800.

The Yellow Jackets have had great success at Finnie Stadium, compiling a 159-38-2 all-time record with an .801 winning percentage. The largest crowd to ever see a BW game was in 1998 when the Yellow Jackets hosted Mount Union College and more than 11,000 fans packed Finnie Stadium.
