NEW RECORDS MADE AT BIG SIX

Relay Team Breaks Its Own Big Six Record. A. R. Porosky Again Breaks Discus Record.

WESLEYAN WINS MEET

Stoughton and Widdoes Add Other Points Which Land Otterbein In Ninth Place.

Two new Otterbein records were made in the Big Six track meet at Delaware last Saturday. Otterbein's relay record, established in the Big Six two years ago by Beelman, Stoughton, Upson, and Ruffini, was once more shattered. This time seven seconds were deducted from the time by the same team, except that Broadhead ran instead of Upson. This team took fourth place in the Big Six. A. R. Porosky again broke his own record in the discus throw, slinging it 119 ft. 4 in. Porosky ranked fourth in this event.

Otterbein's other markers came in the 440 yard dash, in which Stoughton copped third place; and the pole vault, in which fifth place was won by Widdoes.

Otterbein track men scored 7 1-3 points and landed in ninth place. Ohio Wesleyan won the meet for the third time, scoring 60 1-2 points. Ten Big Six records were broken.

Cap and Dagger Repeats Play Before Local Citizenship Club.

Cap and Dagger gave a repeat performance of "Suppressed Desires" before the Citizenship Club last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Hannah Mayne on East Park street. George Bechtolt, Mida Steele and Elizabeth Saxour made up the cast of this one-act comedy on Freudian complexes. Prof. and Mrs. McCarty were guests at the meeting.

Ornithologists Do Good Work.

George Griggs and Donald Borrer of the Ornithology Class have identified about one hundred and fifty birds each on their tours of observation this spring. The average for the other members of the class is about sixty birds, which shows the extent of the work of Grigg and Borrer. Their trips have taken them to big Walnut, Alum creek, Buckeye Lake, and the region of the new O'Shaunessy dam.

CAMP AND COLE TAKE A STROLL

Springtime and the Gypsy Fever had done their worst. The old "Red Gods" were callingly so strongly that they must not be denied, so I found my good friend Dorsey Cole and proposed a tramp through the Lancaster and Hocking County hills. Neither of us had ever been there, so to us it was an exploring trip.

We left Westerville Thursday morning on the first bus and then by train to Rockbridge, where we shouldered our packs, heading south into the hills. The rest of that day we hiked, turning our course the next morning to the west and then later heading back north. The third morning about ten o'clock we met the Botany class at Sugar Grove. From the time we began walking until we met the Botany class consumed about forty-eight hours, and in that time we walked nearly fifty miles.

There is not space to tell of the things we saw, but only to hint of a few impressions that stay with us.

Wildcat Hollow, Crane Hollow, and the camp on No Name Creek. (that is our christening). Are they not names to conjure with? There you will find deep canyons where the sun shines only a few hours in the day, where brown and red rocks pile up for two hundred feet, being so close together that the trees growing on their edges almost touch.

One does not long remember the ache of straining muscles, the burning sun, the dripping of sweat, nor the stab of lungs that have too little air. One can even forget those moments when, unbalanced by a heavy pack, you struggled over some loose (Continued on Page Eight)

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE APPRECIATED BY MANY

About 150 Attend Service Honoring The Hero Dead. Prof. Rosselot Delivers Address.

An audience of about 150 students and professors welcomed the opportunity of observing Memorial Day by attending the memorial service held in the college chapel at 8:30 Saturday morning. The program included the placing of the stars and stripes upon the platform, the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," a prayer by Dr. N. E. Cornet, the singing of "America the Beautiful," and the placing of a wreath upon the seven gold starred service flag by Roy Miller. Prof. H. W. Troop officiated. Dean Upson led the singing, and Edith Oyler was at the organ. Harold Phalor, with Ellis Hatton and Theodore Gantz as escorts, carried the flag to the platform.

Prof. Rosselot based his address upon the national, ideal, and personal appeals of observing Memorial Day.

"Dan" Harris Wins Honors.

"Dan" Harris, '23, had great honors heaped upon him at a state high school glee club singing contest held at Denver, Colorado, May 8. "Dan" is director of the boys and girls glee clubs at Rocky River, Col., and in the competitive singing event in which twenty high school clubs were entered, his boys' club was awarded first place, his girls' club followed the example of the boys' and won first place in their class. The two clubs joined and won first place for a mixed chorus.

"Sam Hill" Party.

The Saum Hall girls entertained some of their friends of the opposite sex with a lawn party Friday night. The lawn was nicely decorated with Japanese lanterns and flowers, with rugs and chairs in convenient spots, and a victrola to furnish the music. The evening was spent with games and music. During the course of the evening's entertainment light refreshments were served.

PROF. McCARTY EXPLAINS PUBLIC SPEAKING DEPT.

So many questions concerning the changes made in the Public Speaking department have been asked that Prof. McCarty has been requested to give an explanation of all the different courses which he will offer next year.

To the members of the upper classes who are interested in dramatics, there are two courses. For the Juniors, a two hour course will be offered the first semester, and for the Seniors, a two hour course will be given the second semester. It is possible that more practical work will be offered than theory. The two courses will offer more training along this line of work than has ever been given before.

To the students interested in trying out for college orator, those expecting to be ministers, and those who desire a detailed study of the construction of a speech, the course, Rhetoric of Oratory, is open. This should be taken the second semester of the Junior year.

Two courses of Interpretative work are given. They should be taken the Sophomore or Junior year in order to aid the student in the play work. The training is for ease and poise on the platform and the appreciation and interpretation of masterpieces of literature. This work is carefully supervised and much individual work is done.

For a study of the practical side of thinking or reasoning the course in Argumentation and Debate should appeal.

The Freshmen and Sophomores who desire to do some of the advanced work such as Junior and Senior play or debating are warned that the standards of the department are to be raised, and it will be necessary to take the first course in Public Speaking 581-582 before any of the upper class courses can be entered.

The courses, Oratory Seminar and Debate Seminar, are open only to special students.

Jumping Mouse Given

To Otterbein Museum

Mr. Stuckey lately presented an excellent specimen of Zapus hudsonicus (Zimmerman)—in other words a well preserved kangaroo mouse or jumping mouse, to Prof. Hanawalt for a zoological specimen. This is worthy of note because of the rarity of this species in this part of the country, the animal having been found in but few places in Ohio. This specimen was collected by the donor near Bloomville, in 1923.

MUSIC RECITALS

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock a good-sized audience, attended the organ recital of Edith Oyler and was delightfully entertained by a selected program which reached its climax in Rubinstein's "Kammanoi-Ostrow No. 22 (Reve Angelique)" with the piano accompaniment of Miss Frances Harris.

Miss Oyler's recital was the real climax of a week of good music.

Wednesday.

The last recital of the year was given Wednesday night at Lambert Hall before a capacity audience. The program was varied—organ, piano, vocal, and violin numbers being presented. Grace Cornet, Betty Marsh, Mary Whiteford, Freda Snyder, Margaret Weinland, Mildred Bolander, Glendora Barnes, Kathryn Gantz, Mildred Wilson, Hazel Baker, Ethel Kepler, and Lucile Leiter participated in piano numbers. The two violin solos were played by Tsok Sham and Ellsworth Reese. Those who sang vocal solos were: Lenore Smith, Ethel Kepler, Elizabeth Marsh, Kathryn Minnich, Pauline Knepp, Lorene Smith, and Vera Wright. Elizabeth Marsh played a number on the organ. The Sight-Singing Class, composed of ten girls under the direction of Mrs. Starkey, sang two songs.

Monday.

Twenty-four Westerville children participated in the recital given by the College School of Music, Monday night at Lambert Hall.

QUIZ AND QUILL

Professor and Mrs. Altman delightfully entertained the Quiz and Quill Club last Tuesday evening in its last regular meeting of the year. The program consisted of a series of poems by Jean Turner, a limerick by Robert Cavins, two descriptive sketches by Alice Sanders. Mrs. Altman served a delicious two-course luncheon of fruit salad, nut bread, ice cream, cake and coffee.

Among the most important business of this meeting was the election of Alice Sanders as Editor-in-chief of next year's Quiz and Quill magazine. The business manager will be selected next fall. Important plans for the publication of the book were discussed.

This year's edition of Quiz and Quill is almost sold out and will be completely gone by Commencement week. Robert Cavins, the business manager, urges that all subscriptions be paid immediately so that all forthcoming bills can be met.

The annual Quiz and Quill breakfast will take place at The Towers on Tuesday morning, June 16. Tickets for this event are now on sale by members of Quiz and Quill Club. All alumni are cordially invited.

Rev. Winger Leads Chapel.

Rev. S. S. Winger, '11, pastor of the St. Anne, Illinois, Presbyterian church, came up Thursday morning from Columbus, where he had been attending the Presbyterian Conference, and led chapel.

IT STRIKES US

That the library on a sun-shiny afternoon looks like a vacated battlefield, only the remains of the dead are there and their caretaker.

That we enjoy having the younger members of the faculty lead chapel. There are others whom we should like to hear.

That the Otterbein school spirit is greatly improved.

That Upson's break in chapel singing reminds that "they were all out of step but Jim."

That red on the windows was not required to make some folks see "red" in a particular class room.

That the taking of the five Sibyls from the Sibyl room was a down and out theft, and deserves no less punishment than the law provides.

That the janitors really enjoyed removing the paint from the Science building basement windows.

That the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" in chapel was a real innovation.

That we had almost forgotten the Star Spangled Banner since we hadn't sung it in chapel for three years.

That a lot of good healthy sunburns came in from the picnics.

CONSTITUTION GOVERNING THE PUBLICATION OF THE TAN AND CARDINAL

(Editor's Note—The Constitution of the Tan and Cardinal which we publish here is self explanatory. The present staff will in no way be effected by the new constitution this year except that those not members of a literary society will be asked to become an active member before next year.)

The original agreement governing the publication of the Tan and Cardinal having been lost, the trustees of the four Otterbein literary societies—Philomatheia, Philophronea, Philalethea, Cleiorhetea—meeting in joint session Wednesday, May 25, 1925 at Cochran Hall, have drawn up and adopted the following constitution. (This agreement shall take precedence over any previous agreement.)

Article I. The Paper.

Section 1. The Tan and Cardinal shall be a paper issued to promote all the legitimate activities and interests of Otterbein College, to foster college spirit, and to serve as a record of college events. There shall be thirty-two issues published each school year.

Section 2. It shall print each year not fewer than twenty productions selected from those given during the year in the four literary societies. A method of rotation shall be followed as closely as possible.

Section 3. The four literary societies shall share equally in any profit gained or loss sustained in connection with the publication of the Tan and Cardinal.

Section 4. Final jurisdiction in any case or question that may arise concerning the publication of the Tan and Cardinal, not peculiarly under the jurisdiction of a particular society, shall lie in the trustees of the several boards representing the four societies, meeting in joint session.

Article II. Publication Board.

Section 1. Membership. The immediate control of the publication of the Tan and Cardinal shall be vested in a publication board consisting of the following members: (a) The President of the Board of Trustees from each of the four societies; (b) One other active member from each of the four societies, elected yearly at the last election session of the society of which he is a member; (c) One alumnal member of each of the four societies, a resident of Westerville, elected yearly at the last election session of the society of which he is an alumnus.

Section 2. Powers and Duties.

(a) The Publication Board shall elect the members of the staff.

(b) In selecting the staff it shall give careful consideration to the recommendations of the retiring editor and business manager.

(c) This election shall occur on the second Wednesday in April, and the new staff shall assume their duties immediately.

(d) It shall have power to recall any member of the staff found ineligible according to Article III, Section 2 (a); any member declared ineligible by the college authorities; any member found guilty of wilful neglect of his work as a member of the staff.

(e) It shall have power to fill any vacancy on the staff.

(f) It shall determine the financial and editorial policy of the paper, except as herein limited or prescribed.

(g) It shall have power to enact any additional rules or regulations necessary to the successful carrying on of the Tan and Cardinal, so long as they are not at variance with the letter or spirit of those contained herein.

Section 3. Meetings and Organization.

(a) The Senior Alumnal member shall call a meeting of the Publication Board on the second Wednesday of October, or earlier if necessary, for organization and transaction of business.

(b) A quorum shall consist of eight members with at least one representative from each society.

(c) The Publication Board shall hold three other stated meetings: second Wednesday in January, second Wednesday in April, and second Wednesday in May.

Section 4. Officers.

(a) The officers of the Publication Board shall consist of a President, Vice-President and Secretary.

(b) They shall be elected at the first meeting called after the annual election of members to the Board.

(c) They shall perform all the duties customary to their respective offices.

Section 5. Special Duties of President.

(a) One week previous to the selection of the staff the President of the Publication Board shall secure a complete roster, signed by the President and Secretary, of all members in each literary society, eligible to membership on the staff.

(b) He shall transmit a copy of the report of the retiring editor-in-chief to each of the literary societies not later than two weeks after the regular May meeting of the Board.

(c) He shall require from the Business Manager a written financial monthly report of the Tan and Cardinal and shall transmit a copy of the same to the Publication Board and to each of the four literary societies.

(d) At the first regular meeting of the Publication Board, he shall appoint an auditor who shall make two audits of the books of the Department of the Business Manager, including those of the advertising and circulation managers; one immediately prior to the regular January meeting of the Board of Publication, and one immediately prior to the April meeting.

(e) He shall make a report of the auditor's findings to the Publication Board and to each of the four literary societies.

Article III. The Staff.

Section 1. Members. The staff shall consist of an editor-in-chief with assistants; a business manager assisted by a circulation manager and assistants and by an advertising manager and assistants.

Section 2. Membership.

(a) Every member of the staff, with the exception of the alumnal editor, shall be an active member, in good standing, of one of the four literary societies, and shall have been for six school months preceding his election, with the exceptions of freshmen who must have become active before the beginning of the second semester.

(b) No member of the Publication Board may become a member of the staff while serving as a member of Publication Board.

Section 3. Duties of the Editor-in-chief.

(a) The Editor-in-chief shall have direct charge of editing and printing the paper.

(b) He shall keep a record of those contributing and, at the time of election of the new staff or in case of a vacancy, shall make recommendations on the basis of their record.

(c) At the close of his term he shall make to the Publication Board a written report of the year's work with any recommendations as to policy, together with a copy of the same for each of the four literary societies.

Section 4. Duties of the Business Manager.

(a) The Business Manager shall have charge of the financial interests of the paper.

(b) He shall be the director of the Circulation and Advertising departments.

(c) He shall make to the President of the Publication Board a written monthly financial report of the Tan and Cardinal, based on the monthly reports of the Circulation Manager and Advertising Manager, with a copy of the same for each of the four literary societies.

(d) At the close of his term he shall make a final summarizing report of his department and have the same published in the Tan and Cardinal. A copy of the same shall be furnished to the President of the Publication Board together with a copy for each of the four literary societies.

(e) He shall keep a systematic record of those trying out for positions on the staff and, at the time of election of the new staff or in case of a vacancy, shall make recommendations to the Publishing Board on the basis of their records.

(f) He shall have charge of all moneys received and pay all bills.

Section 5. Duties of the Advertising Manager.

(a) The Advertising Manager, under the direction of the Business Manager, shall have charge of securing all advertising and of making the collections for the same.

(b) He shall make a written monthly report of his department to the Business Manager.

(c) He shall transmit to the Business Manager all moneys received.

Section 6. Duties of the Circulation Manager.

(a) The Circulation Manager, under the direction of the Business Manager, shall have charge of the Circulation department.

(b) He shall make a written monthly report of his department to the Business Manager.

(c) He shall transmit to the Business Manager all money received.

Article IV.

This constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the trustees of the four literary societies meeting in joint session in which each society is represented by not fewer than three members.

The Man Who Works.

We do want to say something about the man who works. There are those who will not receive a recognition of honor for noteworthy work done during the school year while the athletic, forensic, and scholastic heroes and heroines are being held upon a pedestal Honor Day.

It is not always the man whose work comes before the public eye that is the most deserving. Quite often it is the suggestion of a sub-committeeman that directs the legislative policy. Must we not say that it is in part the unlauded hero that has a share in directing the policy of a school. The unlauded hero it not the man who wastes his life in idle ventures after a degree, whose pockets are filled with spending money, whose life is not fired with a lofty ideal.

The unlauded hero is the man whose college privileges are meager and are obtained at a great sacrifice.
Short stories of the college hero are many. Actual cases exist at Otterbein. Recently, there came to our attention the work of one person.
Every cent of his college expenses is being paid by honest work. Board and room are being paid for by regular duties. Other expenses needful in college life are being met by further labor. There is no time for extra-curricular work, consequently this one is deprived of the attendant honors, not because ability is wanting but because the day grants to each only twenty-four hours.

While not praised in college circles,
the college is indebted to many men and women of this type, whose lives and records in their communities today are the best recommendation that can be given to any institution. We honor the man who works.

The New Constitution.

It is always advisable to have a guide book as a basis for any endeavor. When we entered our duties upon the Tan and Cardinal staff, we sought for tangible guidance, as to policy and procedure, but there was none to be found. All records had been lost. The new Constitution governing the publication of the Tan and Cardinal is the consequent result.

The trustees of the four literary societies in joint sessions and acting as the civil body of the societies have produced and adopted the new constitution which we print in this issue.
As the publication of the literary societies in the interests of Otterbein College, the Tan and Cardinal is distinctly a college paper, but published and edited by the literary societies.

Fairness has been the guiding principle in the writing and arranging of the new code. The best interests of Otterbein have taken precedence in all of the procedure.

The Tan and Cardinal is now definitely governed and organized on a systematic working basis that promises to produce a better college paper.

Elections.

We have been impressed with the absence of the proverbial politics in the elections to school offices this spring. Scarcely in the history of the institution has the offense of school politics been so dormant. If politics has in any way entered into the selection of certain persons for their offices, it has been so skillfully disguised that it has passed without observation.
The usual thing is for a voice of disgust to be raised during each election season.

An increasingly good school spirit is being evidenced. It is greatly to be commended that partisan and group interests are disintegrating, and the worth of the individual is becoming the guiding principle in our school elections. We desire that this might be said of all elections.

— O C —

Sibyl Theft.

The person or persons who stole the five 1925 Sibyls from the Sibyl room have committed one of the lowest, meanest, and most despicable pieces of deliberate injury and injustice that has ever been perpetrated upon Otterbein's campus.

We don't care who you are, but we do want you to know that your presence in college life is disdained.

We don't know what motive led you to the theft. But we do want to tell you this. If you were led to make the theft through personal hatred, you have brought an unjust burden upon the whole class and a glaring disgrace upon the whole student body. If your motive was class hatred, you have evidenced the most contemptible of hates and covered with shame the democratic spirit of Otterbein College.

By your act you have done that which the closest friendship cannot bear.

The common mosquito, magnified 24 times, is a truly fearsome object!

But this electric pumping station effected a remedy.

Do what Toledo did

Once Toledo had a nuisance, a tract of swamp land near the lake, a breeder of mosquitoes, foul odors and fogs.

Study what electricity is doing to make a better and happier America; remember that you will live in an electrical age, full of surprises, and full of new services to humanity. The monogram "G-E" which you see above is placed on the epoch-making products of the General Electric Company.

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

But an automatic pumping station, equipped with motors made by the General Electric Company, turned the swamp into dry land—and abolished the menace to the city.

This is one example of what electricity can do. As you meet life's problems, think of electricity as a valiant and ever-ready ally.

VARSITY NINE HANDS ONE TO WITTENBERG

Wesleyan's Conquerors Take Loosely Played Game on Loose Fielding and Bunched Hits.

Lacking the final punch caused Garver's varsity nine to go down before Wittenberg Wednesday by the score of 7-4. It was a close game and one that will be remembered long for its lost opportunities.

In the first two innings Otterbein played an air-tight game not allowing a single man to reach first. Then came the third inning, the hectic inning. The first Wittenberg man up singled, the second did likewise, and then Armstrong, the Ruth of the Wittenberg outfit, stepped to the plate and hit the second ball pitched for a circuit pass. This was the first Wittenberg inning but they had two more innings scoring two runs in each of them. They were the result of very costly errors in the pinches.

The second inning saw the start of Otterbein's tally. In that inning Carroll was safe at first on an error and Jacoby's single sent him galloping across the plate. Two runs were marked up for Otterbein in the fourth. The bases were loaded by Carroll's hit, Wilburg's single, and a free ticket that was given to Ruffini. After fouling a half dozen offerings Jacoby knocked a hot one to the Wittenberg second baseman who fumbled and gave "Jake" a life. When Renner came to bat there were two down but he had a nice grounder through first base and two Otterbein men tromped home.

In the seventh inning and ninth Otterbein had golden opportunities to chase their men across but our sluggers were not good in the pinches. The bases were full in both these innings and in one of them there was only one man down.

Wittenberg has a good baseball team that played well Wednesday in the pinches. By the conquerors of Wesleyan we were defeated.

O C THE WEEK'S SPORTS

With the track season over, interest in spring sports at Otterbein is centered on baseball and tennis. The baseball schedule concludes with the game with Antioch, at Yellow Springs, on Thursday, and the tennis team plays its next to the last tournament next Saturday, with Denison, at Granville.

Reports from Antioch indicate that her pill twirlers are only of mediocre ability. As Otterbein has not clashed with this outfit in recent years, it is difficult to foretell the results, but with the kind of baseball displayed by the Tan team in the Kenyon tilt, a victory should be forthcoming.

TENNIS SQUAD LOSES

The Otterbein tennis men took a 6-0 defeat at the hands of the fast Muskingum team Friday afternoon, in a six man tourney. The singles were played by Patrick, G. Bechtolt, F. Bechtolt and Syler, and the doubles teams were composed of N. Carpenter and H. Carpenter, McConaughy and Lowry.

The only matches in which Otterbein was able to score were F. Bechtolt's singles, in which he won one set, 6-3, and the doubles played by McConaughy and Lowry, who took one set 6-4. F. Bechtolt showed up especially well against a man who could play equally well with his racket in either hand.

Patrick was off form, and his sets went the wrong way, 6-1, 6-4. G. Bechtolt put up a game fight which promised victory, but finally lost, 6-4, 6-4. With the majority of his games at 40-0 and 40-15 in his favor, Syler was unable to annex the winning point, and lost 6-4, 6-4. The Carpenter brothers were hopelessly outplayed, six-love, six-love.

O C RECREATION BALL

Boys.

The recreation ball games of last week resulted in the closest scores of any week since the league started. All four games were hard-fought. Excellent pitching and fielding resulted in low scores.

On Monday eveing the Alps handed the Annex Club a 13-7 defeat. In Tuesday's games the Country Club won over the Cook House, 6-4, in a hotly contested game, and the Sphinx beat the Independents, 6-5, in a game no less exciting and thrilling. On Wednesday one point again decided the victors, when the Lakotas defeated the Jondas, 716.

Girls.

The second round of games in the girls' interclass recreation ball league was begun last week.

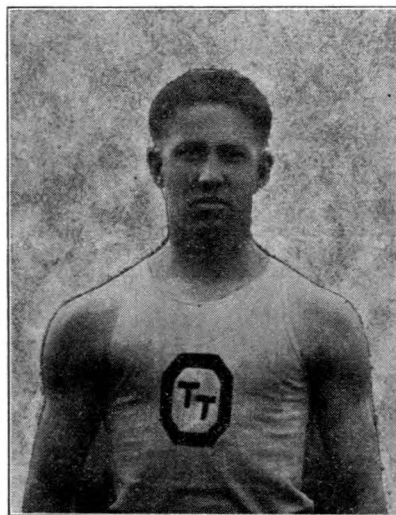

On Monday evening the Juniors defeated the Seniors 2'-12, and added another victory to their list on Thursday evening when they beat the Sophomores 17-9. On Friday evening the Juniors beat the Freshmen by a large score (? ? ? ? ?)

SENIOR SPORTRAITS

Dean Upson No. 8

"Uppie" earned his first track letter his Sophomore year as a member of the record breaking relay team. Last year he was a member of the relay team that once more lowered the college relay record. Upson specializes in the dash events and is recognized as one of Otterbein's fastest short distance men. The outlook for a promising season for Dean was blasted when shortly before the first meet he met with an accident that resulted in several bones in the ankle being fractured.

Senior Meeting at Y. W. C. A.

The program of the meeting of Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday evening was carried on by the Senior members. Christena Wahl, president of Y. W. for the past year, had charge of the meeting. It was a "scrap book" meeting. There was no special topic, each Senior girl present giving a few remarks, some parting thought which she wished to leave with the other members. The girls expressed their appreciation for the benefits which they had received from Y. W. while they were here in college.

Betty Plummer sang a vocal solo and Lucile Judy closed the meeting with another vocal number.

O C CLEIORHETEA

An extemporaneous session went off with a bang in Cleiorhetea Thursday night. Charlotte Owen reviewed a book; Lois Bingham gave society reasons why she would send a daughter to a co-educational college instead of a women's college; Dorothy Wadsworth discussed the subject, "A Career vs. Marriage for a college woman"; Iva Thornton talked on "Pep". Music for the evening was furnished by Mrs. Vera Wright, Lucille Leiter and Elizabeth Plummer. Francis Fanning gave a musical reading.

LIST'IN'IN' IN

Western Reserve is discussing the question of fraternities being barred from their institution at an Open Forum which is sponsored by the Y. and the reserve union. This seems to be a subject for discussion on many campuses.

Prof. Faris, Sociologist at the University of Chicago says: It takes mentality to blush. He also states that since blushing which was once so common, has almost entirely disappeared, scientists have taken to studying it carefully.

The Daily Northwestern, Northwestern University's school paper reveals a startling thing. They give statistics proving that what constitutes a year of college work for the student really averages only six months of actual labor. In computing this, vacation week ends and interest in extra curricular activities, were subtracted from the time.

At Oberlin a contest between all the women's Literary Societies has been inaugurated. The Societies combine for a banquet and after that the contest takes place. The contest consists of extemporaneous and prepared speeches, each society having one representative for each. The society winning receives a silver loving cup temporarily. To own the cup permanently one same society must secure it for three successive years. This arouses interest in public speaking and stimulates loyalty and allegiance to one's own society.

The girls at Ohio Wesleyan have recently organized a League of Women Voters. Forty girls have shown their disposition to join. These girls have the distinction of being the second chapter in Ohio. The only other being one at Ohio State.

Harvard and the University of Virginia have combined on the idea of jointly supporting a large and well-equipped school of architecture. This will be known as the Harvard-Virginia School of Architecture.

The Student Council at Western Reserve has decided to have a new Alma Mater. The tune which was chosen by a music committee, met the approval of the Student Council. They have decided to award a prize of $10 and five honor points to the Reserve student or alumnus who composes the most suitable words for the song. This a good plan for securing new college songs.

At the University of Michigan, it has been discovered that 1500 students are giving their blood in transfusion to help defray their college expenses.

TAKE A STROLL

rocks wondering if the next step would send you slithering for a hundred feet into the tops of the trees that showed green in the canyon below. Time is kind and they may soon be forgotten but one can never forget those silent stretches, the deep green of the hemlock and the slopes where the yew grows thick. From far in the distance one can hear the tinkle of a waterfall as it slides over a rock-rim breaking into mist somewhere in its hundred foot fall.

In the deep canyons the hemlock and the sweet birch grow thick and on the rocks a profusion of fern quiver and shake in the damp air. A scarlet tanager flashes in the sunlight, a ruffed grouse drums on an old log, and far on the hillside a wild turkey-hen calls her brood together.

When night falls and one is curled in a blanket watching the wavering flames in his campfire there is an unutterable peace that settles over those hills. The whip-poor-wills are singing their old lonesome tunes, and the hemlocks, with sibilant whispers, nod in the stray whiffs of breeze that wander over the hill. The creek, stumbling over the rocks, chants a sleepy tune while the stars slip from the canyon rim and wander off to be lost among the swaying pines.
