Russell Declamation Contest Is Constantly Gaining in Popularity with Students.

JAMES GORDON IS SECOND

Success of Contest Reflects Splendid Work of Professor and Mrs. McCarty.

For the second consecutive year first honors in the Russell Declamation Contest, held in the college chapel last Monday evening, again went to Miss Frances Fanning in the form of a fifteen dollar prize. James Gordon of Scottdale, Pa., won second prize and Miss Lois Bingham took third honors.

The winning declamation was a selection from a speech by Thomas Carlyle, entitled "The Honor of Labor." Miss Fanning's dramatic style was excellent. James Gordon as second prize winner gave another famous selection, "Abraham Lincoln," by James A. Garfield. The third prize winner was "Toussaient L'Ouverture" a selection written by Wendell Phillips. Miss Bingham's enunciation was particularly good and the entire selection was very well delivered.

The other contestants were Perry Laukhauf, who gave, "The Minute Man of the Revolution"; Forest Berger delivered "Robert E. Lee", wardo Byers, "Greatness in Citizenship"; Florence Hinds, "A Message to Goshen"; Esther Williamson, "The Training of the Intellect"; Robert Knight, "Uses of Education in Business", and Betty White, "The Death of Garfield."

All of the contestants were selected from Prof. McCarty's public speaking classes by the members of each class, except Frances Fanning, who was accorded first place.

CAP AND DAGGER ROSTER INCREASED AFTER TRY-OUTS

Six girls competed for membership in the Cap and Dagger Club, at the second tryout held Thursday evening. The try-outs were held in the college chapel before the Cap and Dagger Club while Mrs. Tussey and Mr. Russell Ehrhart acted as judges. From the sixteen girls trying out those who were chosen to fill the vacancies in the club were Mida Steele, Ernestine Mozer, Margaret Weinland, Sylvia Peden and Helen Irwin.

BRONZE TABLET ERECTED IN MEMORY OF DR. BURTNER

A bronze tablet in memory of Dr. Elmer E. Burtner, who was for ten years pastor of the United Brethren church here until his death, was erected last Thursday on the south pillar of the front entrance of the church building. On the tablet were inscribed a few words of eulogy and the oft repeated quotation from Dr. Burtner concerning his ministry. "It is my supreme desire to honor the dignity and glory of the ministry by serving my generation until I fall asleep."

Superstition or No Superstition Junior Play Friday, Feb. 13

Courage is a thing to be admired, in any of its several manifestations, whether it be the timid, trembling courage of a freshman entering Saum Hall in quest of his first date, or the dauntless courage of Bryan setting out on his third race for presidential honors, or the calm, fearless courage of Leonidas and his three hundred Spartans hurling grim defiance into the teeth of Xerxes and his advancing legions. But the courage which impels a group of persons, open-eyed, forewarned, and forearmed, to set at naught ancient tradition and superstition betokens a courage which transcends them all. The annual Junior play will be presented on the night of Friday, Feb. 13.

DENISON AND KENYON QUINTETS TAKE VARSITY TEAM INTO CAMP

EXAMS PUT K. O. PUNCH ON NEXT ISSUE OF T. AND C.

Because of the examinations there will be no Tan and Cardinal next Tuesday, February 3. This action is taken for two reasons; because news will be hard to find this week and because the staff has to go the limit to master one big task on that day. We hope to emerge with sufficient strength to make up for lost time for the issue of February 10.

STORY WRITERS MUST BEGIN WORK AT ONCE

Barnes Short Story Contest Prizes Are Well Worth Much Hard Work.

To those students who are planning to enter the Walter Lowrie Barnes short story contest the advice to begin right away might not prove amiss. The dead line for the entries is March 15, and not many people can produce a short story of from five to fifteen thousand words overnight. Three prizes will be awarded, the first of $40, the second of $20, and the third of $10.

This contest is open to Juniors and Seniors only. The plot of the story must have as its basis some incident or established fact in American history. The production must be original, and of such character as to clearly emphasize the virtue of good citizenship.

Three copies, preferably double spaced typewritten, of each story must be filed with either Dr. Snively, Professor Altman or Miss Barnes before March 15.

CAMP ELECTED EDITOR OF QUIZ AND QUILL

At a special meeting of the Quiz and Quill Club held Friday noon, Wendell Camp, '25, was elected editor-in-chief of the 1925 Quiz and Quill Magazine. Robert Cavins, '24, was chosen for the business manager, and Ruth Roberts, '25, was selected as the special feature editor.

The club will begin work on the new magazine at once and the campaign for subscriptions will be launched sometime in the near future.

Fast Going Kenyon Quintet Beats Varsity 54-31 In Saturday's Game.

DENISON HAS FAST CREW

Big Red Team's Offense Too Powerful for Varsity and Denison Wins 59-27.

Denison journeyed from Granville last Tuesday night, January 20, and took the Tan and Cardinal basketballers into camp by the score of 59 to 27. It was the initial conference game for both quintets.

From the start of the game the Baptists had the home team guessing, making short, fast passes and caging the ball from almost impossible angles. It was an "on" night for Denison and their scores in rapid succession ran the count up to 39 to 12 at the end of the first period. Before Otterbein could annex a field goal, the winners had run up a score of 16 points.

Coach Livingston sent in his second string for the final period. Though tired by the first onslaught, the Tan warriors managed to hold them down much better. The Denison varsity, near champions last year, should easily repeat their successes of

PRESIDENT MAKES REPORT

$123,024.75 Is Added to Endowment Fund of College from May 31 to December 31, 1924.

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees last Tuesday, an extended report was given by President Clipping touching upon the policies, the program and future outlook of the college.

In his report the President announced the recent gift of $25,000 to endowment by the Myers family, a death note of $500 from a Westerville friend and a recent bequest of $2000 from the estate of the late Mrs. Anderson Irion, of Greenfield.

The endowment fund of the college has had a rapid growth the past nine months. A total of $123,024.75 has been added in cash to the endowment fund from May 31 to December 31. The total assets have been increased by $129,429.22, while the total assets of the institution on December 31 were $1,410,328.95. There are outstanding and unpaid pledges from miscellaneous sources and the General Education Board of nearly $500.00, in addition to the above.

TRUSTEES OF COLLEGE TRANSACTION BUSINESS

Trustees Meet in First Mid-Year Session—Create Office of Vice President.

Meeting for the first time for a mid-year session, 27 members of the Otterbein College Board of Trustees met for a one day session, transacting much business and paving the way for important measures to be considered at the regular spring meeting held at commencement time.

The attention of the board was first centered on the problem of selecting a new president of the Board of Trustees. That honor fell to Frank O. Clements, '96, who has become prominently identified with the General Motors Corporation and is regarded as one of Otterbein's outstanding alumni.

To facilitate the ease of transacting business and to relieve the president of many of his duties the office of vice president was created and E. F. Crites, of the People's Banking and Savings Company of Barborton, was elected to that position. Both new officers will become members of the executive committee.

The trustees gave the proposal of the Alumni Council involving a full time paid secretary to devote his time to both alumnal and college interests a very cordial reception. This plan will be developed between now and commencement time with hopes of placing it in effect at that time.

F. O. Clements reported on the gymnasium project, declaring that he has received a number of encouraging reports. The general canvass will not be resumed until it is reasonably certain that it can be successfully completed.

The trustees were entertained at dinner at 5:30 o'clock in the United Brethren church, and were addressed by President J. Knox Montgomery of Muskingum College, on, "The Relation of Trustees to the College."

Benefit Minstrel for Varsity "O"

To Be Staged February 3

The date for the Varsity "O" minstrel to be given in the college chapel has been selected as February 3. The performance will begin promptly at 8:00 p. m., and there will be no reserved seats.

The first part of the minstrel has been put on with great success by professional companies, and with the advantage of Otterbein persons and one's own friends to be the characters, the first part alone should be a splendid entertainment for every student. Throughout the entire program the numbers will be spiced with novelty songs and stunts. Upson, Eschbach, Beelman and Richter will perform as songsters while Ruffini, Patrick, Upson and Bechtoldt will play the parts of end men with Broadhead as interlocutor.

The proceeds of the minstrel will go to the Varsity "O" to purchase distinctive sweaters and watch charms for members of Otterbein athletic teams.

HONOR SYSTEM DISCUSSED

By Professor McCarty in Address Given Before Y. M. C. A. Thursday.

"The Honor System in Examinations," was the subject of the address of Professor McCarty who appeared before Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening. In citing its advantages Professor McCarty brought out the points that the Christian thing to do is to be on one's honor and that the honor system prepares one best for civic activities. Special music for the meeting was furnished by Camp and Upson.

After the speech the meeting was thrown open to discussion where most of the students present agreed that the honor system in examinations would be well worth a trial here at Otterbein. Several plans were suggested whereby one student was responsible for the doings of his fellow student, if he saw him cheating, warn him, and if he did not stop, report him. It was suggested that each student be asked to sign his name on the exam paper to such a statement, "I have neither received nor given any information during this examination."

Only Freshmen and Sophomores May Compete in Quiz and Quill Contest

Either a Freshman or a Sophomore can submit as many productions of any kind as he or she wishes in the Quiz and Quill contest which closes March 15. The prose productions must not exceed one thousand words in length nor a verse, fifty lines. All entries should be given to Miss Lyons, Miss Guitner or Prof. Altman.

All entries must show unmistakably the quality of originality and no composition that has been previously used will be accepted. The final test for the production will be its acceptability for use in the 1925 Quiz and Quill magazine. The judges will be members of the Quiz and Quill club. One copy only needs to be submitted. It should be typewritten in black ink and double spaced. The name of the writer must appear on a separate sheet.

FANNING AGAIN PROVES TO BE BEST DECLAIMER

Previous to the contest a selection was played by the college orchestra. During the intermission, in which the judges were deciding the contest, several more numbers and repeated encores were given.

Prizes for the contest were awarded by Dr. Howard H. Russell, founder of the Anti-Saloon League. For twelve years Dr. Russell has been giving a series of prizes, one in oratory and the other in declamation. While in college Dr. Russell was very much interested in forensic work, having won several state contests and one inter-state contest. Both his oratorical and his declamation contests have constantly gained in popularity during the last few years.

The judges were Mr. Harold Jones, a graduate of Harvard, Mrs. Noble Smith, an alumnus of Ohio Wesleyan and a former teacher of Public Speaking in Westerville High School, and Professor R. D. Bennett, a graduate of Otterbein. The contest was particularly difficult to judge due to the excellence of so many numbers.

'78. The pupils, alumni, and friends of West Commerce High School of Cleveland, Ohio, have erected a memorial tablet to Solomon Weimer, who was principal of the school from the time it was established until his retirement a year ago. He gave the best years of his life to this school and it is a well deserved tribute that has thus been paid to him while he is still living.

'11. S. F. Wenger, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Sainte Anne, Illinois, was one of ten persons who received prizes offered by The International Journal of Religious Education for the best answer to the question, "Why I Go to a Sunday School Convention." Answers were received from persons living in twenty-five states and provinces and the ten best ones were carefully selected by five judges. An interesting fact in connection with the contest is that Mrs. Wenger also was one of the ten who in the estimation of the judges submitted the best answers.

'18. Miss Janet Gilbert of Dayton, Ohio, who is so well known throughout the United Brethren Church as secretary of the Otterbein Guild, recently underwent an operation for the removal of goiter. She is now recovering and hopes before long to be able to resume her work.

'72. The Reverend Thomas H. Kohr celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary at his home on the Three C's Highway five miles south of Westerville on January 15. The following Sunday completed fifty years of service for him in the ministry. He observed this occasion by preaching on that day in the Kohr Memorial Presbyterian Church of Columbus, of which he is the pastor emeritus.

'91. Edgar L. Weinland of Columbus, Ohio, was one of the speakers at the January meeting of Olla Podrida Club held at the headquarters of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

'06. Dr. William A. Weber, professor in Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, has again been elected president of the board of education in that city, a position from which he resigned a year ago when he left the city to attend Yale University. Dr. Weber presided at the dedication of the new Roosevelt High School a week ago, at which time President William Oxley Thompson of Ohio State University delivered the principal address.

'96, '01. Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Clements of Dayton, Ohio, were in Newark, Ohio, over the week-end. They were guests at the celebration of the silver wedding anniversary of Mrs. Clements' sister and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. Cary F. Legge, last Saturday.

"The Eldest Son"—Pauline Knepp.
"Justice"—Alice George.
"The Silver Box"—Josephine Albert.

EDITORIALS

Help the Sibyl

The staff for the 1925 Sibyl is now right in the midst of the hardest season of its work. The editorial staff is gathering material, arranging the book and getting the copy into shape for publication. The business staff is hard at work going after advertising and is using every possible means to secure sufficient finances to pay the cost of the book. "System" is the motto of each staff and the organization is complete. The two departments of the staff are working at their respective duties to make the 1925 Sibyl a real credit to the school.

Many things must be sacrificed by them and this they will gladly do. To take a job on the staff is like that of every other Otterbein publication; it means work day and night for Otterbein with little glory and praise, but knocks galore. This organization is but one of the many here that is not in the game for its own benefit, but that Otterbein may be represented in a line of activity which would be defunct if it were not for their efforts.

That the annual may be a success,
the Juniors must have the support of every student and organization on the campus. We as students can help very materially in the work by responding to their requests with promptness. If you are to contribute something do it quickly and thereby facilitate the work as much as possible.

The drive for subscriptions is now on and it is urged that as many students as possible respond to the appeal. The expenses of the publication are very largely defrayed by the subscription money. The financial success of the Sibyl depends upon how large a number of students buy an annual. When you are solicited for an order put in your subscription and see that your friends do the same.

With an alert staff on the job and the rest of the students behind it, the 1925 Sibyl will be a credit and a great booster for Otterbein.

The Spirit of the Sportsman

All the world loves a winner.
Everyone wants to win and to be on the victor's side. The fruits of victory are sweet and defeat is not bitter if you have played the game honestly and hard. There should be no regrets if you did not cheat though opportunity had been offered. We always admire the "gang" that dies hard.

The man who has the idea that the most important thing in a game is to beat the other side does not have the spirit of the true sportsman. To have won a game without regard for the common rules of good sportsmanship is an empty victory indeed. Let the rules of good sportsmanship govern the intra-mural athletic games
here at Otterbein.

HERE WAS A MAN

There was a man who lived in an unpainted house. The sun had warped and twisted the boards and there were many unsightly cracks to be seen by the passerby.

The man who lived in the house was a failure; he himself had become convinced of that and the unpainted house was to him a visible symbol of his failure.

He had started life with dreams of success. He meant to accomplish great things, to acquire property, to make his name known among men, to give his wife the best that could be obtained and to leave a large estate to his children.

None of his dreams had come true.
He had been the victim of circumstances, of bad fortune and ill health;
investments had failed, plans for advancement had gone awry and all his life he had slaved in a job he did not like for a salary that was pitifully small.

He was a self-confessed failure.

He lived in an unpainted house.

The Akasic Record

Yet all the time there was being kept in a far corner of the universe a gigantic record in which were set the deeds of men.

This man's name was in the record and strangely enough it was not written among the failures, of whom there were many. Instead it was in a rather conspicuous place among those who had attained to success for it was set down that—

This man in the face of adversity had always played the game squarely.
He had never cheated though opportunity had been offered.

He was not a quitter. When he had been knocked down he always got up again.

He was kind.

He was tolerant.

And greater than all he had a habit of thinking of the welfare of others even before his own.

The unpainted house in which he lived was unsightly to behold, but there were no cracks or fissures in his soul.

Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NEARLY ORIGINAL WIT

By Tee and Cee

The star who fills the halfback position on the football team usually holds the position of way back in class room work.

Speaking of star athletes we have with us through the winter months the star forward member of the basketball team who is also the star backward member of the

This week's meanest man—The warden who puts a tack on the electric chair.

We'll bet that the gent who is responsible for the statement "Ignorance is bliss" never took an exam.

Two students were naming the fellows on the campus who had kissed their girls when one said,
"Wilbur Wood but she wouldn't let him."

Two students were hotly discussing the merits of their respective families
when one remarked, "To look at you one gets the impression that your family tree is pretty shady."

"That may all be, but after looking at your family tree I see what part of it you contribute—it's the sap."

What chance has the "man of few words" in this age of the cross-word puzzle?

Next week when exams are in full swing the recording angel will be as busy as when two women exchange

COLLEGE MUSEUM TO BE OPEN TO STUDENTS

Science Department Announces That Museum Will Be Open to Students Every Friday Afternoon.

Announcement is made that the museum in the Science Hall will be open every Friday afternoon from 1:00 until 5:00 o'clock, through the winter, to all college students. The plan heretofore has been to open the museum exclusively for those students studying science and for this reason perhaps some students taking arts courses did not even know that there was a museum on the campus, but from now on it will be open to the interests of every student.

The museum has a very creditable collection, which includes varied selected mounts of North American birds and animals as well as geological specimens and a collection of the antiques of primitive people, especially the Indians. In addition to this, there are several interesting articles connected with some of the doings of Otterbein in past years.

Most of the specimens in the museum were given by Otterbein students, alumni or friends. Much credit is due to Professors Hanawalt and Schear and to Wendell Camp for their persistent efforts in classifying and identifying the specimens and for keeping a watchful eye for additions.

Juniors Reject Resignation of Howard From Sibyl Editorship

At a meeting of the editorial staff held last Thursday, the editor, Don Howard, presented his resignation to the staff, on the grounds that he is eligible for graduation next June, and intends to do so, that he may go west next year to better his health. The fact that he is to graduate in June Howard construed to mean that he is ineligible for editorship of the Sibyl, which is a Junior publication. However, in view of the fact that Howard is entirely willing to go on with his task, and in consideration of the time and work which the editor has already expended in planning and supervising the work on the annual, the other members of the staff felt that they should not stand upon a technical point, and that the honor of editing the book should remain with Howard. Accordingly, the staff unanimously voted to reject the editor's resignation, and work will go on under Howard's direction.

Eclipse of Sun Plays Havoc With Class Interest Saturday

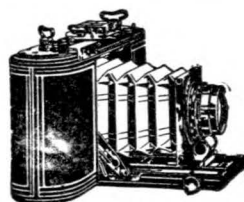

Many students who were fortunate enough not to have a class or fortunate enough to have one under a professor who had never seen an eclipse before, saw over a ninety percent eclipse of the sun last Saturday morning. It will be over a hundred years before there will be another eclipse of the sun as nearly total as this one caused by the moon and sun being in the same straight path from the earth.

Some of Otterbein's would-be photographers obtained some splendid pictures of the eclipse in series, showing the different stages at regular intervals.

To the student selling the largest number of college annuals, the University of Minnesota is giving a trip to the Pacific coast.

A Student Speakers' Bureau has been organized at the University of Kentucky to disseminate information concerning the institution. Members of this bureau are selected on a competitive basis.

INTEREST IN CLUB BASKETBALL GROWS

Annex Team Continues Fast Pace
By Defeating Sphinx Team
27-7 In Gruelling Battle.

The intramural basket ball games during the last week have been intensely interesting because of the fact that several of the favorite teams have been pitted against each other.

The Annex Club settled the Sphinx Club's championship hopes last Thursday, defeating them by the unexpected score of 27-7. The Annexers were expected to come out on top, but not with such a tremendous lead. The Cook House made another hole in the Sphinx balloon on Saturday afternoon, edging them out by two points, 17-15. This was the Cook House's second victory of the week, as they had defeated the Jondas in a game in which all of the scoring was done in the first half, on Monday afternoon. The final tally was 12-6.

On Monday afternoon the Lakotas gave the Alps another whipping to the tune of 13-5. The Lakotas further secured their place at the top of the ladder Saturday by nosing out the Jondas by one point. The final count was 11-10.

Country Club won its first game of the season Saturday afternoon by defeating the Alps 16-7. This raises the Country Club a rung or two from the bottom.

One Hundred Husky Howlers
Hope to Help Team Saturday

The old spirit will be revived again from football season when the "Howlers," 100 strong, will occupy the front ten rows of reserved seats on the men's side at the Otterbein-Ohio Wesleyan basket ball game next Saturday night. The "Howlers" will wear some kind of distinctive clothes, probably overalls, as they did during the football season, and will probably keep their hats on during the game. These two items of dress will unmistakably mark the "Howlers" as a group thinking of nothing else but cheering the O. C. team to a victory.

BASKETEERS TO MEET WESLEYAN SATURDAY

Methodists Will Bring Strong Aggregation to Westerville—Wesleyan's Slate Is Clean.

Among the interested spectators at the Denison-Otterbein game last Tuesday night were Coach B. F. Van Alstyne and Captain Eddie Knachel, an all-Ohio football man for two years, from Ohio Wesleyan. They were scouting the game preparatory to the Ohio Wesleyan-Otterbein fray on January 31.

The Wesleyan game will be one of Otterbein's hardest conference games this year. Critics all over the state believe that the Delaware team is even stronger this year, despite the absence of Bob Shea. Last week, Wesleyan defeated Ohio Northern to the tune of 36 to 26 with not much trouble. The coach used most of the second team in the second half.

Bill Turney, center on the Wesleyan team, has the highest scoring average in the state up to the present time, although he has not the highest number of points. Turney scored 33 points in the two conference games that he has played in. Kolb, right guard, stands at fourteenth place, having scored 19 points in two games.

But such things as these need not blacken Otterbein's hopes. Stair's tipping and the long shots of Widdoes and Snavelly will aid very materially. McCarroll is doing his work this season, his last for varsity basketball. Allison has brilliant prospects for his first season.

COLLEGIANS LOSE FAST GAME TO GROVE CITY

The Collegians, Otterbein girls' basket ball team, lost a thrilling game in the college gym Saturday night to the Grove City high school girls' team. The game was close throughout, and ended with a score of 12-8, in favor of the visitors. The playing of Lambert and Captain Widdoes featured for the Collegians.

The line-up for the Collegians: Forwards, Widdoes and Lambert; center, Palmer; guards, Snavelly and Pottenger.

FIRST BASKETBALL RALLY COMES FRIDAY NIGHT

Next Friday night there will be a basketball rally in the college chapel immediately following the adjournment of the men's literary societies.

On the menu will be "pep" speeches given by folks representing the students, alumni and faculty. Stunts and the rehearsing of college yells will complete the program.

This will be the first basketball rally of the year and all students should turn out to make it a success.

O C LEMON DROPS

Thus far has the editor of this column refrained from mentioning the Cross-Word puzzle. Thus far, I say, but no farther, for my long pent-up soul shrieks for an opening to vent its great anguish. The world seems to have gone stark mad on the subject. Indeed I have even heard that there are some that take them on dates. The worst thing than can be said for this latest sport is that it is completely ruining our social group life. It is deplorable but true that the ancient and time honored game of penny ante has been relegated to the list of forgotten sports and in its place have come dictionaries and synonym books; instead of men coolly and calmly shuffling the cards we find these same mortals feverishly searching for a nine letter word, said word being the name of a governor of the province of Ping-Ling under the Whang-Lang dynasty, about 196 B. C. O Tempora! O Mores!

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

"Guest Night" Features Program of Otterbein Woman's Club of Columbus.

The Otterbein Woman's Club of Columbus and vicinity enjoyed the annual guest night Saturday evening at the Southern Hotel. Husbands and friends of members of the club were invited to attend this meeting.

After a three course dinner the president of the club, Mrs. Ralph W. Smith (Helen Ensor) introduced Mrs. Merlin A. Ditmer (Daisy Clifton) of Westerville, who served as toastmistress of the evening and cleverly announced those taking part in the program. Mrs. E. J. Leshner (Henrietta Dupre), former president of the club, responded to the toast, "Our Club", and Walter D. Kring, who has just come to Columbus as director of religious education at the Broad Street Presbyterian Church, spoke on the theme, "Leadership".

Mrs. Kromer (Mary Creamer) rendered a piano number and responded to a hearty encore and Professor Spessard delighted those present by his singing of two numbers and an encore.

As this was the meeting of a woman's club, the toastmistress called for extemporaneous remarks from some of the ladies who are in the habit of sitting quietly while their husbands speak. In this way Mrs. W. G. Clippinger, Mrs. Frank J. Resler, Mrs. E. L. Weinland, and Mrs. E. M. Hursh were called upon and each one made a short and appropriate speech. Last of all President Clippinger was asked to say a few words and he responded in his usual happy vein, assuring the club of the appreciation he and the administration of the college have for the work of the members.

WOOSTER NEXT HOME GAME AFTER WESLEYAN

Otterbein must face a new team this year. The new squad is Wooster, one that she has not met for so many years that all trace of the count has been lost. When Wooster comes here on February 7 she will still be smarting from the effects of her defeat at the hands of Mt. Union in her first game of the season and will jump at Otterbein with a grim and deadly determination.

Mount Union, the 1924 basket ball champions of the Ohio Conference, defeated Wooster under heavy fire by the score of 26 to 16 at Alliance, on January 12. Mount Union's long and successful shots were jonahs for the Wooster quintet.

By the time the Wooster fracas appears on the home floor Coach Edler will have all the little difficulties in his team completely ironed out, having had the Denison, Kenyon and Wesleyan games to pick them out in.

last season, if they continue their present accuracy and speed. Not one of the Baptist first string were less than six feet tall and many times the Otterbein men would grope hopelessly for the ball under both baskets. Every man on the Big Red team managed to get into the scoring.

Widdoes was high scorer of the game, with twelve points. Stair's superior height aided him in scoring his four fielders. The rest of the local outfit played hard, scrappy games, but to little avail. Denison was equally good on offense and defense, forcing the O. C. men to make most of their shots from the center of the floor.

KENYON GAME

Otterbein's basketball team failed to stop Kenyon's championship march when it crossed the path of the Gambier cagers in Rosse Gymnasium Saturday night. The Kenyon team defeated the Tan five by the decisive score of 54-31.

The flashy playing of Van Epps, Kenyon's center, was largely responsible for his team's overwhelming victory. This man alone made exactly half of the Episcopalians' counters. Widdoes was second high score man of the game with fourteen points to his credit, and star of the Otterbein crew.

The absence of Captain McCarroll

from the line-up was keenly felt by his team-mates. Although he was in uniform his unfortunate injury kept him on the bench throughout the entire game. Widdoes was acting captain in his stead.
