Students Share Scholarship Sentiments

Somewhat of a tradition has developed at Otterbein over the past several years for our students who are recipients of Alumni Memorial Scholarships to write the alumni council president during the holiday season to express their gratitude over receiving the scholarship assistance.

I, too, was touched and my Christmas brightened by the cards I received from 16 Alumni Memorial Scholars. They all wrote how important the scholarship is to them, and a number indicated they could not have been in school had it not been for this help. One student, Lori Warren, a senior music education major from Fresno, O., added that one day she hoped she would be able to help future Otterbein students pay for their college expenses—much as she has been helped—through contributing to the alumni scholarship fund.

I think the students who took the time to write their thanks should be recognized. In addition to Lori, they are: Bill Brooks, a junior business administration major from Westerville; Rob Brown, a senior speech and broadcasting major from Alexandria, O.; Heidi Brum, a senior English and sociology major from Powell, O.; Martha Dunphy, a senior public relations major from Westerville; Donna Eppley, a senior elementary education major from Zanesville, O.; Kristen Holm, a senior music major from Indianapolis, Ind.; Judy Ketner, a sophomore business administration major from Columbus; Susan Maxwell, a junior elementary education major from Millersburg, O.; Candee Morris, a senior mathematics major from Westerville; Becky Pasden, a freshman nursing major from Columbus; Lisa Pettit, a senior journalism and sociology major from Columbus; Mark Puskarich, a senior business administration major from Cadiz, O.; Tara Ressallat, a freshman chemistry/pre-med major from Galion, O.; Todd Weihl, a senior life science, health science and chemistry major from Marietta, O.; and Susan Wright, a senior economics and Spanish major from Washington Court House, O.

This one small gesture means a lot to me and speaks loudly, I feel, for the kind of student who attends Otterbein. Through your gifts to the College, you can help make it possible for future students, like these, to also benefit from the Otterbein experience.

The Alumni Memorial Scholarship is just one of more than 75 endowed scholarships for students that are funded through the generosity of Otterbein alumni and friends. This school year, 22 students are receiving financial assistance from these scholarships, and more than 200 students are benefiting from all endowed scholarships. Otterbein's total scholarship endowment is in excess of $2 million.

To all the students who wrote to me, I say thank you, and I also express my sincere thanks to all our loyal alumni and friends, whose gifts to the College make learning opportunities available to all Otterbein students.

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

An important part

Otterbein College is rich in tradition, and an important part of the College's heritage is the endowed scholarship program.

The program was founded in 1898 by J. Wesley Welshans. He donated a gift of $1,000 to the endowment fund establishing the George E. Welshans Memorial Scholarship in memory of his son, a graduate of the Class of 1897. Mr. Welshans wrote, "It is hoped that this (gift) may be increased, and that many others of like character may be established."

Over the past 138 years, there have been a great variety of scholarships established. Some have focused on academic interests, church relationships and extra-curricular activities. Others are awarded to students from certain geographic areas. Many memorialize or honor loved ones and are donated out of concern for students and in appreciation for Otterbein. Principals of these funds range from a few hundred dollars to more than $200,000, for a total scholarship endowment in excess of $2 million.

In 1985-86, Otterbein College is assisting over 200 students from more than 75 endowed scholarships. The principals of these scholarships range up to $250,000. Otterbein junior Mark Puskarich, a senior from Cadiz, Ohio, and a recipient of the Alumni Memorial Scholarship, said, "I think the program is good. If it keeps growing, I think it will bring more people to the College. I've really appreciated it."

Since 1980, scholarship donors and representatives, students and their parents have been recognized at a spring luncheon. However, with this academic year a change was initiated in the College's effort to thank donors and recognize the program's participants. This past November, students and area donors and representatives were recognized at a dessert buffet followed by an Opus Zero concert. Julie Legg, a Mt. Vernon, Ohio, sophomore and a William M. Junk Scholar, said of this change, "I think the buffet and concert event was a lot better than the luncheon. It was more intimate, and gave you a better chance to talk with your sponsors and get to know them. I think it's good for them to become better acquainted with the person they have invested in."

Seven new scholarships have been added for the current academic year. They are: The Dr. and Mrs. N. E. Cornet Scholarship, The Margaret B. Gill Scholarship, The Sylvia Warren Turner Scholarship, The President Lynn W. Turner Memorial Scholarship, The Dorothy G. VanSant Memorial Scholarship, The Yantis Family Scholarship, and The Epsilon Kappa Tau Scholarship.

There will be four additional scholarships initiated next year: The Professor and Mrs. Lawrence S. Frank Scholarship, The Edward Nagel Memorial Scholarship, The Leonard P. Roberts Scholarship, and The Floyd J. Vance Memorial Scholarship.

Endowed scholarships at Otterbein College can be established in the name of a donor, to honor individuals, or as memorials. The scholarships can be restricted to interests defined by the donor, or they can be administered by the College. The minimum gift or pledge required to establish an endowed scholarship is $10,000. Some scholarships have been pledged to reach the endowed level within three to five years, while others have been pledged by bequest. For more information about the endowed scholarship program at Otterbein, contact Dr. Robert Fogal, vice president for development.

of the College's heritage

Donors Come From All Walks of Life

The men and women who are endowed scholarship donors at Otterbein College come from all walks of life and all parts of the country. Many have family associations with the College that go back generations. Others do not.

Despite many different characteristics, they all share one goal that truly unites them in a class of distinction—a desire to assist in the education of deserving young people. These benefactors are all very special to the College and are essential to its strong future.

* * *

An example of Otterbein benefactors with no formal affiliation to the College are William and Frances Junk. The Washington Court House, Ohio, family, with a desire to help young people, established the William M. Junk and Frances Smith Junk Grant in 1977 in tribute to Mr. Junk's mother. Because his mother, who came from a rural background, was able to achieve her dream of completing a college education (at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio), Mr. Junk felt he wanted to be able to help others like her; students who might need assistance in beginning their college careers.

The scholarship is designated for incoming freshmen, preferably from rural Ohio areas, who have financial need. Otterbein is just one of several Ohio institutions to benefit from the generosity of the Junk family. They have also established endowed scholarships at Wilmington College, Cedarville College and Muskingum College.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Junk is an Otterbein graduate, and their two children attend two other Ohio colleges, but these friends believe in Otterbein College and continue to add to the principal of their endowed scholarship.

Donors are young and old alike and come from a variety of financial situations. But, according to Jo Ann May '52, whose family established an endowed scholarship back in 1963, you don't have to be rich.

"I am proud that my family had the wisdom to establish an endowed scholarship in memory of my father (Albert C. May '26)," she said, "and I have contributed what I could. Although I wish I could have done more, the fund has continued to grow with a lot of small donations. You don't have to be a billionaire (to establish a scholarship)."

After the death of Miss May's mother, Frances, the name of the scholarship was changed from the Albert C. May Memorial Scholarship to the Albert C. and Frances C. May Scholarship, according to directives in her will. Over the years, countless relatives, friends and neighbors have contributed to the growing fund, with individual gifts ranging from $5 to $25,000.

The Otterbein tradition began for the May family long before Albert C. and Frances C. May. Jo Ann May's grandparents were Walter '01 and Cynthia May. Her aunt, Helen May '28, died just last year. In addition, numerous other cousins, nieces and nephews from the families of both her parents have attended the College.

Immersed in Otterbein, at one point Miss May withdrew her savings to contribute money that would boost the May family scholarship up to the $10,000 level. "Now everybody knows that medical technologists don't make a lot of money," said Miss May, a recently retired senior medical technologist at The Ohio State University's Hospital Clinic, "but I have been surrounded by Otterbein people all my life, and I feel this family scholarship is an important responsibility for me."

Among the many things at Otterbein that bear the Clements name are the carrillon in the bell tower of Towers Hall (center) and (clockwise, from upper right), the president's residence, the College's new soccer field, and a women's residence hall.

It doesn't take long before even a new student at Otterbein begins recognizing the name Clements. From Clements Hall to Clements House, the name lives on.

By SUSAN GREINER

It's hard to imagine a time when the College was without the comforting chimes that ring out from Towers Hall each day. Did you know that it is the Clements carrillon that is responsible for pealing out the special music? Well, if the Clements name rings a bell at Otterbein, it also does much, much more.

Countless projects have been completed and gifts donated under the Clements family name by the organization first brought together in 1966 by a fiery lady by the name of Vida S. Clements '01.

It doesn't take long before even a new student at Otterbein begins recognizing the name Clements. From Clements Hall, the women's dormitory on Home Street, to Clements House, that President DeVore and his family call home, the name lives on.

Although she died within a few years of spawning the Clements Foundation, an organization that has become a real "guardian angel" to the College, Mrs. Clements is still very real to Clements Foundation members. They take seriously the stipulation in the organization's founding papers that cautions them to consider Mrs. Clements and her personal way of thinking in evaluating and granting proposals.

When she created the Clements Foundation, Mrs. Clements wrote, "The traditions and goals which Doctor Clements and I always regarded as the basic aim of Otterbein College are that it should continue its century-old tradition of usefulness in practical as well as in intellectual fields, of training youth in ideals of practical living and thinking, of pragmatic utility as well as intellectual integrity."

Always willing to help, the Clements Foundation has contributed to all major College campaigns. It is committed to scholarship, especially in the areas of science, music, home economics and athletics.

Whether the need is new vials (for a science lab), new dials (for the campus radio station), or new seats and aisles (for renovating Battelle Fine Arts Center's auditorium), the Clements Foundation will listen.

As of last October, the Clements Foundation had rung up a total giving record of more than $900,000 to the College. The Decision for the Arts campaign received $350,000; the Venture Into Opportunity campaign was awarded $170,000; and general scholarships accounted for nearly $113,000 from the group. In addition, more than $280,000 in specific gifts has been recorded over the years, benefiting campus departments from the Learning Resources Center to Cowan Hall, from life sciences to general athletics, from band uniforms to pianos. Recent major Clements Foundation projects have included renovating the facilities of the campus radio station, WOBN, and building a soccer field for the College.

Vida S. Clements, like her husband Dr. Frank Clements '96, graduated from Otterbein. The couple spent many years in Dearborn, Michigan, where he was director of research at the General Motors Laboratory.

After a busy research career and many inventions to his credit, the scientist and his wife decided to trade in their hectic schedule to return to Westerville and their beloved Otterbein to spend their retirement years.

A talented woman, Mrs. Clements drew up house plans for what would become the presidential house at 111 West Street, and she and her husband built it brick by brick. They both loved having students around and began a tradition of inviting them to Sunday night suppers.

Francis "Red" Bailey '43, Westerville attorney and Clements Foundation member, first met the Clementses when, as a student at Otterbein, he became involved in one of the couple's early projects. "They wanted to put students to work and initiated a student-operated workshop business in the basement of the science building," Mr. Bailey explained. "We made and sold reflective signs, and we thought we were pretty successful at it. To the Clementses, we were 'busy and out of trouble.'"

If those signs reflected the Clements' belief in hard work, the foundation's membership today continues to reflect her way of thinking. "I've never known anyone like her," said Dwight C. "Smokey" Ballenger '39, one of the three remaining members of the original board that was hand-picked by Mrs. Clements.

"She'd let you know how she felt," Mr. Ballenger reminisced. "Mrs. Clements was very down-to-earth and enjoyed helping people who helped themselves. If somebody really needed something, and could demonstrate that need, then she'd offer help on-the-spot."

"We all know her thinking, and seriously try to see requests as she would have. It's not unusual today to hear the question asked time and again, 'Do you think Mrs. Clements would approve that?' "

"Roger Powell '22, Mrs. Clements' personal attorney, drafted a very specific list of eight questions for her organization that continue to guide actions of the Clements Foundation even today," said Mr. Bailey. "It was somewhat unusual to set up such strict standards. But Mrs. Clements was adamant in her feelings that the College should be seriously reviewed annually." She made that very clear in the two meetings she had with the original board of trustees she gathered together some 20 years ago, he added.

There is often what attorney Bailey calls "heavy discussion" about the worthiness of a program being considered for funding and the extent to which the Clements Foundation should participate. "Sometimes, we have decided that Mrs. Clements would want us to spend even more money than requested," he said, "to get the increased quality, so that's what we have done."

The original group chosen in 1966 included Herman Lehman '22, whom Mrs. Clements named chairman; William Steck '37, chosen vice chairman; Dr. Powell, secretary; Dr. Sanders Frye '48, treasurer; Mr. Ballenger; and H. William Troop '50. Mrs. Clements also selected Dr. John-Karefa Smart '40, family friend, professor, and physician currently of the Washington, D.C. area, as honorary trustee. Dr. Harold Boda, then Board of Trustee president, also served the Clements Foundation in an ex-officio capacity.

Current trustees, besides Mr. Lehman, include original trustee Mr. Troop, now president of the First Savings and Loan in Massillon, Ohio, who is vice chairman of the group, and project officer Mr. Ballenger, a retired personnel officer, who also serves Otterbein as president of the "O" Club.

Foundation trustees Verle Miller '35, Dr. Frye, Dr. Powell and Mr. Steck, are all deceased now. And there are new faces in the organization: Robert Agler '48, president of Agler-Davidson Sporting Goods stores and Otterbein Board of Trustees member; Craig Gifford '57, executive director of the Ohio School Boards Association; and Dr. William Freeman '57, local physician appointed in the fall of 1984. Edwin L. "Dubbs" Roush '47, president of area hardware and sporting goods stores and a Honda car dealership, is a board member who has served in an "ex-officio" capacity since becoming a member of the Otterbein College Board of Trustees.

Members of the Clements Foundation are very proud of the work of their organization.

"It has been a thrill over the years to sit with the other foundation trustees and reminisce about Mrs. Clements," said Mr. Troop, "but the farther we get from her death—and the beginnings of the foundation—the tougher our job will become, to operate the foundation while maintaining the values of Vida S. Clements."

Ballenger concurred. "We all know her thinking, and seriously try to see requests as she would have. It's not unusual today to hear the question asked time and again, 'Do you think Mrs. Clements would approve that?' seriously debated at foundation meetings," he said.

Although the names and faces are bound to change in the coming years, there doesn't seem to be any chance of the spirit of Vida S. Clements waning, if future boards are half as dedicated and enthusiastic as the present one. One feels confident that her spirit and their spirit will continue to be felt in the Clements Foundation's endeavors, and that the effects of their combined generosity will continue to pulsate through future generations of Otterbein students, for whom the name Clements will still ring a bell.

'Exciting Times' For The Humanities At Otterbein

If Sylvia Vance, chairman of the department of integrative studies, has more of a twinkle in her eyes than usual these days, it's because she's contemplating the potential a challenge grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) will have for the study of the humanities at Otterbein.

In 1984, the College was one of 13 colleges and universities named nationwide to receive the challenge. Since then, it has been up to Otterbein, as part of its receipt of the $250,000 three-to-one matching grant, to raise three times the amount of the federal funds awarded by NEH.

"Part of those matching funds has been raised," said Dr. Vance, project director of the NEH grant, "and the College can now plan to spend the endowment interest (approximately $18,000) available this July 1, of what will evolve into a one-million dollar endowment when fully funded.

"The excitement in this project is double: the prospect of being able to strengthen programs with new funds and also the establishment of an advisory committee to oversee the humanities at Otterbein. We've never had this kind of directing body before."

As proposed, income from this endowment will be used to underwrite three aspects of Otterbein's humanities programs: the acquisition of books, professional journals, and other resource materials in the humanities for the Courtright Memorial Library; a professional development program for the humanities faculty; and, when the grant is fully funded, Otterbein will be able to establish a visiting professorship that will rotate among the various humanities disciplines to bring distinguished teacher-scholars to campus.

The new Humanities Advisory Committee, working with Dr. Vance, is comprised of faculty representatives of eight designated humanities areas. It includes James Bailey, chairman of the English department; Michael Haberkorn, assistant professor of music, representing the Center for the Arts; Stuart Knee, chairman of the history department; Paul Laughlin, assistant professor of religion and philosophy, representing the Integrative Studies Advisory Committee; Roger Neff, chairman of the foreign language department; Alison Prindle,

"Now we will be able to do things we always dreamed of, but could not implement without funds like these. We're just entering exciting times for the humanities at Otterbein!"

associate professor of English, also representing the Integrative Studies Advisory Committee; Mitchell Staude, assistant professor of religion and philosophy; and Donald Bulthaupt, vice president of academic affairs. As the NEH grant project director, Dr. Vance coordinates the work of the Humanities Advisory Committee, which she expects will continue to meet "once or twice a term."

One of the early projects likely to be considered is development of the humanities components of a new interdisciplinary freshman studies course. Another involves program implementation in the area of intercultural study. The grant also includes support funds for travel to humanities conferences, engaging outside consultants for the humanities departments, and awarding small project grants.

"We're all pleased and invigorated," Dr. Vance summed up, "because of the great potential of this grant. Now we will be able to do things we always dreamed of, but could not implement without funds like these. We're just entering exciting times for the humanities at Otterbein."

College Granted Funding For Important Projects

By KATHY BOOTH

Otterbein's Development Office placed special emphasis in 1985 on obtaining grant support for the College's teaching, endowment, capital and other special project needs. A major goal has been to coordinate efforts on campus to increase the probability of grant support from private and corporate foundations and from federal and state government programs.

A direct result of the increased emphasis on grantseeking efforts for Otterbein has been funding for some very important projects: a symposium on church-related higher education, a reading system in the LRC for visually handicapped students, the NEH challenge, the Religious Activities Center, and endowment support for scholarship assistance.

In April 1985, the Board of Higher Education and Ministry of the United Methodist Church granted Otterbein $2,500 to help fund a symposium that will examine the present and future role of United Methodist colleges and their mission within the large purpose of American higher education. The symposium will be held on campus April 7-8. The grant will aid the College in its effort to build a better awareness of the impact of church-relatedness—past, present and future—and to extend that awareness into surrounding communities.

The College received a $1,000 grant from the DeLuxe Check Printers Foundation, St. Paul, Minnesota, last April that provided additional funds to purchase a Visualtek reading system for the Learning Resource Center in Courtright Memorial Library. The system helps Otterbein provide essential services to visually handicapped students, and has become an integral part of the reading and study area in the LRC.

Then in June, the College was awarded $50,000 from the GAR Foundation of Akron to assist in matching a challenge grant of $250,000 from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The NEH challenge grant, as part of a $1 million endowment, will enhance humanities instruction at Otterbein by helping provide faculty development opportunities, additional library resources and support for a rotating endowed chair.

The long-awaited campus Religious Activities Center became a reality in November with the announcement from New York City's Booth Ferris Foundation of a $52,000 grant "restricted to the expenses of the creation of the campus Religious Activities Center." The announcement culminated months of proposal work by Development Office staff; together with Mike Christian, director of church relations; Chaplain Monty Bradley; and Dean Joanne VanSant. President C. Brent DeVore's visit to Booth Ferris' New York office in support of the proposal was a strong factor in its success. In making the award, Booth Ferris affirmed College objectives for the center: to create and furnish a campus Religious Activities Center that symbolizes and reinforces Otterbein's spiritual heritage; to strengthen the religious dimension of campus life; and to enhance student growth by providing chaplain's facilities for counseling and programming; and by meeting the need for a place for solitude, meditation and prayer.

December brought news of two additional grants. The J.C. Penney Company will contribute $4,000 in 1986 and $4,000 in 1987 toward scholarship endowment. Penney's contribution is in response to Otterbein's recognition of the ever-increasing need of families for assistance in financing a college education for their children, and in recognition of the College's policy of meeting 100 percent of each student's basic educational need.

A December grant of $8,000 from The Quaker Oats Company in Marion, Ohio, and The Quaker Oats Foundation in Chicago, will fund one year of a three-year program to replace outdated audio-visual equipment in the LRC. The Quaker Oats award will provide funds for equipment that is most urgently needed to maintain LRC services. It has been estimated that 74 percent of the LRC's audio-visual equipment is outdated because of limited funds for replacement and upgrading. The three-year program will ensure that the LRC remains a quality source of support to academic programs.

In January, the College learned it had received a $1,000 grant from the Ingram-White Castle Fund of Columbus to fund a computer-assisted language learning conference. The conference, held at Otterbein on March 8, focused primarily on computer assisted instruction in English, English as a Second Language, and foreign languages. Colleges and high school language instructors attended.

In addition to these successful grant requests, Otterbein has several foundation proposals currently under consideration. With continued strong emphasis in the area of grantsmanship during 1986, foundation and corporate support is expected to become even more significant and, therefore, more important to the advancement of all College programs.

Kathy Booth is director of major gifts in Otterbein's Development Office. One of her primary responsibilities is coordinating the College's grant seeking efforts.

Library Gift to Fund Science Book Purchases

Because of the generosity of husband and wife librarians, Courtright Memorial Library has received its largest single gift ever recorded, worth over $100,000. The newly-established Elvin and Ruth R. Warrick Library Book Fund will be used for the purchase of "science books and literature" to honor the bequest in the will of Ruth R. Warrick '22, who died in Columbus in May, 1984.

She and her husband, Elvin S. Warrick '21, who died in 1977 in Urbana, Illinois, were both actively involved as Otterbein students, sharing a great love of books. Both were considered "sharks" (excellent students) on campus: Mr. Warrick a math major and member of the Philophronean Literary Society, and his future wife a home economics major and member of the Philalethean Literary Society.

After graduation, the Otterbein sweethearts married in Westerville in 1925, where they lived briefly before moving to the Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, area, where Mr. Warrick entered the University of Illinois School of Library Science. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in library science in 1927 and was then appointed a professor in the research library of the university's math department.

By 1932, Elvin Warrick was chief librarian of the mathematics department library and had earned a master's degree in his field of library science. In addition to his administrative and general library duties, Mr. Warrick managed to compile a hefty listing of all mathematics books published before 1851 and authored a study on technical publishing before his 1962 retirement.

Meanwhile, Ruth Warrick had served as a substitute teacher in the Champaign-Urbana public school system, while also organizing the book collection of the Carle Foundation Hospital Library there. She was later employed by the Urbana Free Library and the University of Illinois Library before joining the Illinois Natural History Survey Library in 1948, where she remained until her retirement 14 years later.

Today, the Warrick book fund committee at Otterbein is hard at work, preparing both short- and long-range decisions on future book purchases. It will select new science acquisitions for the library.

Committee members include Michael Herschler, professor of life science; Louis Arnold, associate professor of physics and astronomy; Richard Yantis, associate professor of mathematical sciences; Jerry Jenkins, associate professor of chemistry; and Alberta MacKenzie, acting head librarian at the Courtright Memorial Library.

According to Dr. Herschler, eventually $6,000 to $8,000 per year will be available to spend on much-needed science books and periodicals. "Most of our departments have had problems with their library budgets because they haven't been upgraded to parallel the ever-increasing cost of current periodicals. This is just one of the many areas of acquisitions being discussed in our planning meetings. We're very excited about the potential of the Warrick bequest," he said.

OTTERBEIN COLLEGE

WESTERVILLE, OHIO 43081

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

(614) 896-1410

Dear Alumni and Friends:

Each year we publish in the spring issue of Towers magazine our Honor Roll of donors. It is one small way we can publicly recognize and thank all of you -- alumni, parents, business and church leaders -- for your generous support. It is this support that is the foundation of the Otterbein heritage.

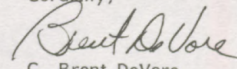

As you will see in reading this year's spring issue, 1985 was a very good year for Otterbein.

For the 8th consecutive year the College raised more than $1 million. In fact, private gifts received during the year exceeded $1,656,000, highest total in the history of the College. These gifts will enable us to continue funding scholarships and other forms of financial assistance for students, support faculty research programs, purchase equipment and resources for classrooms and the Courtright Memorial Library.

Through your generosity, Otterbein continues to grow and to prosper. You can take pride in being a part of this movement as we look to a bright future, with continuing dedication to tradition and innovation in our academic programs.

Thank you for your commitment, and I invite you to continue your support in 1986.

Cordially,

C. Brent DeVore
President

1985 Fundraising Report: A Record-Breaking Year

Congratulations Otterbein family! In Dr. DeVore's first full year, you broke the total giving record to the College with contributions of $1,656,000. What a great habit to start. That total, and eight straight years of million dollar giving, is unprecedented in Otterbein history.

Perhaps even more important is that last year 4,395 Otterbein faithful made gifts to the College—an increase of more than 350 from 1984. The largest single gift was $181,888.

The new LIFEndowment program also became an important vehicle for our reunion groups. More than $1 million dollars in LIFEndowment deferred gifts were committed to the endowment fund. This year the LIFEndowment program is open to all Otterbein alumni and friends.

The 1984 giving total of $1,066,000 proved significant by showing the Otterbein family commitment in a year of transition. In 1985, our record gift total of $1,656,000 revealed what we can do operating from a solid position of strength. And we expect 1986 to be even better!

For the first time we paid student Phonathon callers, and the result was a record breaking response. Yet volunteers continued to prove essential to the success of the College's development program. Class agents again wrote classmates to support the Otterbein Fund, and reunion committees met to plan class projects. The significant achievements of 1985, thanks to your generosity and commitment to Otterbein, included:

- Total giving reached $1,656,000—a record never before achieved and the eighth consecutive year over one million dollars.
- A total of 4,395 individuals made gifts to Otterbein College in 1985.
- Unrestricted gifts to the Otterbein Fund totaled $523,000, another new record.
- Endowed gifts soared to $707,000, up nearly $400,000 from 1984 and again the best in Otterbein history.
- Restricted and unrestricted gifts to meet current operating costs exceeded $900,000.
- The new President's Club acquired 26 charter members, each giving more than $5,000.
- The new Towers Club established 23 leadership members giving between $2,500 and $4,999 each.
- The inaugural 1847 Club generated 99 members, who gave from $1,000 to $2,499.
- The elevated Cardinal Club also totaled 99 members, with each giving between $500 and $999.
- The new Century II Club totaled an encouraging 287 members, each giving between $200 and $499.
- LIFEndowment gift pledges totaled more than one million dollars.
- Phonathon pledges established a new annual record of $145,308.

You're right on target Otterbeiners! Well done. Let's make 1986 another record-smashing year.

'Young Alum' Program Offers Recent Grads A Giving Opportunity

It's not easy for a recent college graduate to "get started" in life. Realizing that, the Otterbein Alumni Relations Office has designed a new program for young alums that begins this year. Called "Young Alum—Century II," the program provides Otterbein alumni who have graduated within the past five years the opportunity to become members of the leadership giving Century II Club for just $100—one half of the $200 gift level required for membership recognition in this prestigious group.

"We raised our minimum leadership giving level to $200 in 1985," stated Jack Pietila '62, alumni relations director and overseer of the Otterbein annual fund. "The 'Young Alum-Century II' initiative allows our young people, for a gift of $100, to be recognized as a leader for the significant contribution of their discretionary resources. It provides a true leadership giving opportunity and establishes a sense of ownership for future support."

So, for graduates from 1981 and after, here's your opportunity to be a Century II Club leader for just $100. Join the team.
