JUNIORS SCORE HIT WITH PLAY

Booth Tarkington's Four Act Comedy Drama, "Clarence," Given as Annual Class Offering.

LANCASTER PLAYS LEAD

Well Chosen Cast Pleases Appreciative Audience—Professor C. A. Fritz Directs Production.

Thursday evening the Junior Class presented Booth Tarkington's four act comedy-drama "Clarence" in the college chapel before a large and appreciative audience. The mirth the play produced and the applause it received alone attests of its success, much of which is due to Professor Fritz who very ably directed the talented cast.

George Lancaster in the leading role very ably performed his part in the play, a returned soldier taking a job as a domestic servant for a rich man whose family was disrupted by petty jealousies. Through his personality and ability as a musician he reunited the family.

Pauline Wentz in the role of the leading lady played her part in a very pleasing and capable manner.

"Pete" Ward as Mr. Wheeler the financier did his part with characteristic dignity.

Ruth Lucas as Mrs. Wheeler played her part exceptionally well.

WILL GIVE RADIO CONCERT

Friday Night Otterbein Talent Will Be Broadcasted from Erner & Hopkins Co., Columbus.

The radio broadcasting station WBAV of the Erner and Hopkins Co. of Columbus will be the scene of a program of exceptional nature next Friday night May 2. The occasion has been announced as Otterbein Night, and the program will be composed of the entire concert of the Glee Club and the Banjo-Mandolin Orchestra. President W. G. Clippinger will speak on, "Otterbein College, Its History and Its Relation to Church and State."

All alumni and friends who are fortunate enough to own a radio receiving set can tune in on 360 meters at eight o'clock, Friday night May 2, and receive the entire program.

Otterbein students will be given the opportunity to go to the physics laboratory in the science hall and hear the concert from the loudspeaker of the set which was recently installed there.

PRESIDENT BACK FROM EAST

Attends Alumni Meetings in New York, Boston and New Haven—Spirit High in East.

Tuesday evening President Clippinger returned from a week's trip in the East where he visited alumni and friends in New York, New Haven and Boston and also transacted some official business for the college.

During the eastern trip President Clippinger visited the Yale Divinity School and while there he learned the interesting fact that in that institution there are more students from Otterbein than from any other college in the United States with the exception of Yale itself. An exact count of Otterbein alumni in Yale shows there are 8 in attendance. President Clippinger says that the officials of the school take great pleasure in emphasizing the high scholarship of Otterbein graduates and that some of their very best material comes from Otterbein.

President Clippinger attended alumni banquets and meetings at New York and Boston as well as at New Haven. All meetings were marked with enthusiasm and good will towards Otterbein. Dr. Clippinger finds the alumni in all instances enthusiastic over the new gymnasium project.

Sociology Club Visits Ohio State Penitentiary.

The members of the Sociology Club went to Columbus, Saturday morning where they visited the Ohio State Penitentiary. An inspection was made of the cells, the electric chair, the mess hall and the various factories.

Warden Thomas addressed the class after the inspection of the penitentiary had been made. He gave many interesting facts regarding illiteracy and race problems and their relation to crime.

A number of interested students accompanied the club on its trip.

ATHLETES WILL BE BUSY

Four Home Contest Feature Weekend Program for Tan and Cardinal Teams.

Athletically speaking this is a big week for Otterbein. With two tennis tournaments, a baseball game and a track meet all packed into the last three days of the week and all on the home grounds, Otterbein fans will have a hard time being enthusiastic over class work.

The tennis tournament with Ohio Northern on Thursday, May 1, is the starter. The courts are in good shape, due to the efforts of Manager Breden and his assistants, and Capt. "Al" and Co. are "rearin' to go." Just who will represent Otterbein in this tourney and the one with Ohio Wesleyan on Saturday is not yet certain.

The track meet with Kenyon is the big event for Friday. Last year Otterbein did not meet Kenyon in this sport but in both meets in the two years previous, Otterbein emerged the victor by large scores.

Besides the tennis tournament on Friday, there will be the baseball game with Antioch. Those who have been observing baseball practice during the last two weeks predict that "Chic's" men should be more than a match for the Yellow Springs aggregation.

Annual Russell Declamation

Contest to Be Held Wednesday

After many postponements due to conflicting dates, the annual Russell Declamation Contest will be held tomorrow night, Wednesday, April 30, in the college chapel at eight o'clock.

All the productions given by the contestants will be readings involving some impersonation. Only Sophomores or Freshmen are eligible to compete in the contest for the three prizes of $15, $10, and $5. These prizes are made possible by Dr. Howard H. Russell.

Those who will compete in the contest are Francis Fanning, Ruth Lyon, Elizabeth Marsh, Sylvia Peden, Gladys Walker and Nathan Roberts.

Miss Bonnell to Appear Sunday

Afternoon in Vesper Organ Recital

Miss Thelma Bonnell, an advanced music student on the organ, will give a vesper organ recital Sunday afternoon, May 4, at three o'clock. The program, which will be exclusively organ numbers by Miss Bonnell, will consist of difficult compositions by the best composers. Those who have heard her play in chapel appreciate her ability and will be eager to hear this concert.

OHIO IS VICTOR IN INITIAL GAME

Bruce Pitches Stellar Ball Throughout Contest, Allowing O. C. One Lone Hit.

ERRORS PROVE COSTLY

Hancock Pitches Well—Errors and Weakness at Plate Lose Game—Pierce Garners Only Hit.

Otterbein opened the baseball season last Saturday afternoon on the home grounds, with a 4-0 defeat at the hands of Ohio University. The skill of Bruce, the Athenian twirler, and some costly errors on the part of the local infield, featured the contest.

In the first inning, Ohio managed to put across one run. This was followed in the third inning with loading the bases with Ohio men. Then an O. U. man hit into a double play at first. Seibert, in an effort to make it a triple play, heaved the ball to third where the baseman missed it and allowed two runners to reach home. In a later inning the visitors were lucky enough to garner another.

Bruce of Ohio proved to be a pitcher of high calibre, as Pierce was the only Otterbein man to hit safely. An almost airtight infield valuably seconded his efforts. Hancock occupied the mound for Otterbein, and he did much better than the score would indicate. None of the runs chalked against him were really earned, but were due to the loose playing of his team-mates. "Hank", Seibert and Pierce were probably the stars of the home team.

TRACK MEN LOSE

Tracksters Fall Before Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware—"Andy" Breaks Record.

Otterbein track and field men made a fair showing against Ohio Wesleyan last Friday afternoon in a dual meet held at Delaware. Considering that Otterbein is the Ohio Relays champion of Class B while Wesleyan is champ of Class A, the 51 to 80 score does not look so bad. The Tan team took first in but four events, the shot put, the discus, low hurdles and the relay, but placed consistently in most of the others.

Harold Anderson was high point man for Otterbein with 11 points, while Richter was second with eight. Splendid showings on the part of new men as Stoughton in the 220-yard dash, Renner in the javelin throw, Porosky in the discus, and Drury, Broderick, Widdoes and Keim in other events make prospects for the future meets look rosy. Beelman's return to form and Capt. Blauser's improved condition also help out matters.

High spots of the afternoon were furnished by "Andy" taking first in the low hurdles and breaking the college record, the flashy running of the 220 yd. dash, and the speed with which Otterbein took the relay, coming close to the college record.

Otterbein to Enter Team in National Crow Shooting Contest

Otterbein will be represented both by students and faculty this year in the International Crow Shooting Contest of United States and Canada. This campaign has been fostered with the intention of starting a means of ridding the nation of a portion of the marauding crows which because of their number are the worst enemies of desirable game birds in this country and in Canada.

The following team, on which Otterbein is well represented, has been organized by Professor Hanawalt: J. W. Brown, Grafton, W. Va.; H. B. Hall, Northville, Mich.; Frank Hills, Northville, Mich.; Frank Bendel, Naponee, Neb.; Carl Stolz, Naponee, Neb.; G. R. Dreidlem, Scranton, Pa.; George Dryer, Scranton, Pa.; H. L. Monbeck, Dayton, Ohio; Karl Kellar, Xenia, Ohio; E. C. Voght, Escanaba, Mich.; F. A. Hanawalt, L. E. Little, W. F. Martin, J. G. Meade, H. W. Miller, G. F. Johnson, W. H. Camp, C. O. Altman, S. B. Hanawalt, and Pearl Long, of Westerville.

SOPH CARNIVAL GOES BIG

Much Theatrical Talent Uncovered in Second Year Class—Program Pleases Audience.

The Sophomore Carnival, an event arranged and produced by the members of the second year class, went off with a bang last Saturday night. A goodly number of college students and town folks appeared at the Administration Building to enjoy the festivities, and were amply repaid for their coming.

The main attraction of the affair was B. B.'s Follies, a theatrical production of merit, consisting of a varied program of vaudeville acts, among others a male quartet, a revue of pretty girls from far corners of the earth, a tumbling act, an exhibition of clogging and harmonica playing, a whistling solo, and a comedy-skit entitled "How Love Came to America." All numbers were capably presented and received much applause from the audience. Two performances were given, one at 7:30 and one at 9:00.

Benefits of "Y" Camp on

Lake Geneva Presented

Lake Geneva was the general topic for discussion at "Y" last Thursday. Instead of the meeting being held in the Association building it was held in Professor Weinland's class room in the science hall where a stereopticon apparatus was at hand.

Marion Hite gave a stereopticon talk about the Y. M. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva, Wis. He showed some very beautiful scenery of Lake Geneva itself, and also showed the home of John Wrigley, chewing gum manufacturer, and the famous Yerkes observatory which are situated near there. He showed snap-shot pictures of some of the athletic sports, having a picture of John Weismueller, world's champion short distance swimmer, making a fancy dive. After the conference those who wanted to go were taken on a trip through Chicago, and a group of pictures from this trip was projected on the screen. After the stereopticon talk Otterbein delegates of last year sang the official Ohio delegates' song.

DIAMOND DUST

The defeat may be partly attributed to the fact that the whole Otterbein team was very nervous. Even the veterans of the squad felt themselves in more or less of a tension.

O'Daffer, who played center field for the Athenians, is a football and track star, while Herron, the short-stop, is an All Ohio forward in basket ball.

Ohio handed the Big Red outfit of Denison a 7-4 defeat the week before the Otterbein game.

Antioch, who plays here Saturday, is said to be very strong, although defeated by Ohio Wesleyan some weeks ago. They have played six games this season and will have the advantage of experience.

Bruce, Ohio's brilliant twirler, is a good example of the old adage that "good goods comes in small packages." His drop and out curve combined with great speed rendered him almost invincible.

Of eight consolidated schools in Crawford County having debates this spring three schools won both debates and the teams coached by Mr. Dick and his sister were two of these three. Miss Dick's team received five out of the six votes cast, and Mr. Dick's teams both won by unanimous decisions. The question for discussion was, "Resolved that the United States should enter the World Court as presented by the late President Harding and Secretary Hughes."

Those Pep Posters

Some one showed some real spirit
Thursday night when they tacked some clever pep posters on the trees of the campus. These posters were the right thing and the reaction of the students is already favorable. There is only one conclusion to be drawn and that is that someone has the real spirit and is endeavoring to pass it on.

Although there is an unwritten law forbidding the placing of bills on the campus trees we feel that posters of the kind put up Thursday night are not in the least out of place. Posters that tend to promote a better college spirit are never out of place no matter where they may be. The men who put up those signs Thursday night are to be commended.

O C

Watch Your English

Our speech and our use of English is an accurate index to our mentality.
The professors and our fellow students estimate our character and form their opinions of us by our choice of words and use of grammar. If you would better your standing both scholastically and socially be careful of your English.

The campus is infested with a large number of students who neither know nor care what correct speech is. They are concerned merely with getting from their courses the material which, after a while, they can turn into cash.

These students will profit greatly if they realize that they can't get far in the commercial world without a complete mastery of the mother tongue.

The expression "a university man" should mean something more than that an individual has spent four years learning a vocation. It should mean also that he has acquired the desire for more respect of the social graces of life, the development of character and the refinement that marks a gentleman.

Doubtlessly you have overheard some student declare, "That wasn't no fair exam, them ketch questions!"
Is there any excuse for any one in any school to make such a statement?
Such a student should be told that his language is the language of an illiterate, of an ignoramus and that no gentleman talks like that.

O C

It Strikes Us

That there is no doubt but that the fans and students are behind the baseball team. Saturday when the home team was losing the fans stayed on the field until the last man was out. Such support doesn't go unnoticed.

That all three varsity teams will be out this week end seeking revenge.

That the faculty should give us the Picnic Day recommended by the Student Council.

That Professor Rosselot's talk in chapel Wednesday morning was timely and hit some of us pretty hard.

That there is still some room left on the organ to place coats, hats etc.

That the Juniors scored the hit of the season with "Clarence."

O C

CLUB TALK Our Athletic Policy.

Successful athletics are a great advertising power to a college. Otterbein is sadly in need of some good advertising. Realizing that need why not foster modern athletic principles and raise the athletic standing to the same level as the scholastic standing.
Then and not until then will the college be well balanced and prosperous instead of lop-sided as it is now.
The remedy however must come from the administration and not from the students.

Here is the present policy and to better illustrate, a little sketch will be used. John Jones, a fine young fellow was graduated from a modern high school where he has participated in athletics. He is looking forward to his college career with anticipation. He was a little undecided at first where to go but a very good friend told him Otterbein was a fine college and although he had never seen the place or heard much about it he feels sure of being satisfied. But this is what he finds.
No Freshman coach for any sport, an antique gymnasium, no spirit in student body, no pep rallies, no standard Freshman numerals, etc. Then comes his varsity career. He plays throughout the season, many times when physically unfit against great odds to make a little money for the management, and then for his work receives a slip of paper entitling him to a piece of felt to put on his OWN sweater. Then he realizes why all the athletes are dissatisfied and why Otterbein usually tastes defeat.

The remedy for this deplorable condition is: some interest shown by the administration, a shakeup in the athletic department, some schedules with teams in our class, some recognition to athletes in the form of sweaters or gold emblems as other colleges give, some care taken of the athletic field and then the alumni will give the college their new gymnasium.

HELP NEEDED AT ONCE

Old Man "Spring Fever" About to Die Unless Help Comes Immediately.

There has been a lot of ignorance babbling by the students about the unchastity of a subject around which centers the noblest dreams and the most sublime thoughts of the college students—Spring Fever. Heretofore he has had his battles and has fought them well but this year it seems as if he may take the count. His enemies the Professors are closing in on him and his life is in immediate danger. Never until this year have his enemies become so aggressive as to endanger his very existence.

Spring Fever has been the students' friend for many years and now when he is in danger we dare not forsake him. With a view of protecting his noble life we recommend the following—

1. That the college institute a course in snoozology to provide for the better enlightenment of the industrious students in the noble virtue of la fevre du printemps.
2. That the college professors be asked to take a two weeks' vacation every fortnight.
3. That there be a silent prayer service in chapel in which time the students can rest for their duties during the day.
4. That all laboratories be locked and the keys stuck in a cake of Ivory soap, a millstone hung on the soap and the whole thing thrown in the sewer.
5. That Morris chairs be installed in the classrooms and that the "Profs" each be given a couch.
6. That school be in session only when it rains and even then it be possible to make arrangements to be excused from class if the student thinks he will get too wet.

—"Opium Eater."

If a writer wishes his contributions to be printed in the Tan and Cardinal they must be signed. The editor is in receipt of a number of anonymous communications and while the thought was good it is obvious that he can take no heed of the content. However, if requested the name will not be printed, but the writer must be known to the editor.

OLD TIMER SAYS:

That Cochran Hall is a memorial to Philip G. Cochran given to the college by his wife Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran, of Dawson, Pennsylvania. The Hall was built in 1905 at a cost of $31,000, all given by Mrs. Cochran besides an endowment fund of $5,000. The brick employed, like that of the Association Building, was made at the old tile mill, until recently located west of Westerville. The Hall stands on the former site of the President's house before it was moved to its present location. Originally, the President's home was the Walker-Goodspeed-Sibel house, and was moved across the street to the north end of the Saum Hall lot, remodelled and greatly improved to serve as the President's home and make room for the Cochran Memorial Hall.

Philip G. Cochran to whose memory the Hall was erected was a student in Otterbein during the late '60's and early '70's.

Otterbein Net Men Score 3-0 Victory Over Heidelberg.

In the first tournament of the season the Otterbein tennis team met and defeated the Heidelberg team on Friday afternoon, April 25. Two matches of singles and one of doubles were played, all three of which were won by the home team.

The first match of singles was played by Capt. Mattoon of Otterbein, and Mulfinger, of Heidelberg. Mattoon won the first set without much trouble, by the score of 6-4. In the second set he proved his ability by getting out of a very bad hole. After he had won the first game the breaks went against him, and his opponent took the next five games before he could be stopped. It appeared as though one more set would be necessary to decide the match, but at this point Mattoon settled down to real tennis and won the next six games, thereby winning the set and the match.

"Rus" Cornet played in the next match of singles against Prugh, of Heidelberg. Two sets were all that was required to prove that "Rus" is still the "Blizzard" of last year. He had a service which was hard to return and a return which usually won his point. The score of each set was 6-4.

In the doubles, Patrick and Brown showed their ability to play good consistent tennis. Although they lost the first set, they were not long in finding their opponent's weak points. The next set was a deuce set, and the final score was 7-5. The last set was the hottest one of the entire tournament. The battle waged back and forth, each team winning a game in its turn. The tie wasn't broken until after the deuce-eighth game, when the Otterbein team won the next two games, and the score was 10-8.

O C STRAY CINDERS

We wish to correct a mistake in last week's issue when we stated that Otterbein's mile relay team ran the distance in six seconds less than the record set by last year's team. It should have read "six seconds more".

The Tan and Cardinal made a fine showing against the Wesleyan trackers, losing 80-51, a margin of 29 points. The score for last year's meet was 103-23, a difference of 75 points.

Anderson and Richter both made their letters in the meet, "Andy" getting a first in the low and a second in the high hurdles while "Bozo" won the shot put and took second honors in the discus.

The weather was ideal for the meet with the exception of a slight wind. A small crowd turned out to see the event.

One Otterbein record was broken when Anderson lowered the time on the low hurdles from 27:2 sec. to 27:1 sec.

Senior Sportraits

Ralph Gillman hails from Johnstown, Pennsylvania, whence have come a number of Otterbein athletes, H. H. Myers and Roy Peden among them. "Gillie" had had no previous athletic experience, and his first two years in school held a lot of gruelling work for him on the football field. Though he gained no particular recognition as a Freshman or Sophomore, Gillman knew that he was improving and steadfastly refused to be discouraged.

At last, as a Junior, Ditmer found that Gillie had arrived and from that time on he was a fixture on the line. Physical qualifications and a determined will gained him the coveted "O". During his last season Gillman became known as one of the best guards in the conference. Characteristically, the last game of his college career was his best one, that one with St. Xavier at Cincinnati. Gillie is taking his workouts as a member of the baseball squad this spring.

NOTHIN' MUCH

Greetings, one and all. Be you friend or enemy, I couldn't hold a grudge against a horsefly on a morning like this.

The above was written Friday A. M. so don't blame me if the weather gets contrary before this meets your eye.

An Essay

The quiet life of Otterbein spring time is upon us. After a strenuous winter of social activities we return to our books and meditation with nothing to disturb the even tenor of our ways, except (To be continued next week).

There were green onions on the dinner table. "Do I or don't I?" pondered the sweet young thing across the way, "Will he mind?" "Oh, well, what's an onion between friends," she asked and reached for the dish.

A certain senior girl reports this so it must be true. She went to see "If Winter Comes" and caught cold. Here's where I stay away from "A Midsummer Night's Dream." I'm not looking for a sunstroke or moonstroke either.

My latest motto, sad but true: Why worry about grades. Let the faculty do that.

Playlet Features Program of Y. W. C. A. Tuesday Evening

Last Tuesday evening the program of the Y. W. C. A. was in charge of the Missionary Committee. Elizabeth Saxour led the devotions and Mabel Eubanks very beautifully sang, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." The main feature of the program was a little sketch of Japanese school girl life entitled, "Overheard in Japan." Margaret Graff, Olive Shull and Edith Oyler were the ladies who took part in the playlet. One of them had been to the American Mission School in Tokyo and she was trying to interest the other two girls. Another was exceedingly anxious for the chance to break away from the old way of living, but the third one wanted to cling to the old traditions and ways of living.

Florence Vance and George Bechtolt as brother and sister played well and their arguments never failed to create a great deal of laughter.

Edith Oyler proved herself an actress of talent. From side burns to brass buttons, Clarence Broadhead was a typical butler. Joseph Mayne played cleverly the part of grass widower and villian. Mildred Swab was Mr. Wheeler's highly efficient private secretary.

Behind the drop important parts were filled by F. M. Pottenger, Jr., business manager; Donald Clippinger, property manager, and David Reck as stage manager.
