DENISON BESTS OTTERBEIN FIVE

Otterbein's Brilliant Comeback in Early Part of Second Period Proves in Vain.

"ANDY" AND POROSKY STAR

Sensational Shooting and Perfect Passing of Baptists too Much for Varsity.

In a fast and erratic contest Wednesday night Denison triumphed over the Tan and Cardinal 50 to 33. A good crowd was out to witness this, the first home game, in the high school gym.

In the first of the game the Baptists started with a rush that fairly swept the locals off their feet. Good refereeing made the game very fast. The lead garnered by Denison so early in the game seemed to dishearten the Otterbein crew and the half ended 25-14.

With the beginning of the second period it seemed that the Big Red was going to have things all its own way again. Their team play was working like a charm and they continued to drop the baskets through with ease.

Just at this point Captain Anderson called time out. When play was resumed the Tan team came back with a bang. Thirteen points were scored without the Baptists caging any. The Denisonians were fairly dumbfounded and the crowd went wild with cheering.

With Otterbein within four points of tying the score, Anderson and Widdoes were forced out of the game on account of personal fouls. Then the morale perceptibly let down and the team went to pieces. While Otterbein did not cease to fight, the Granville aggregation got their scoring machine to working once more. From that time on they scored almost at will and the game ended without a doubt.

O C "Y" Movie.

The Y. M. C. A. movie committee has a double attraction on the menu for Saturday night. Charlie Chaplin, in "The Pilgrim" will be the head-liner while the Ohio Harmonica Co. will provide the remainder of the program. The Ohio Harmonica Co. holds the state championship for proficiency in this line of entertainment and Saturday night three players, including the manager himself, will appear with Mr. Chaplin on the movie program.

PRESIDENT BACK FROM EAST

Attends Meetings of Importance in New York City and in Washington.

Tuesday evening President Clippinger returned from the east where he visited New York and Washington attending conferences and alumni banquets and also transacting some business for the college.

In New York he was in attendance at the meeting of the Association of American Colleges. Wednesday evening he was present at the Otterbein alumni banquet of which organization Frank D. Wilsey is president and Nolan R. Best is secretary. Among the 26 guests present at the banquet were Dr. A. C. Flick, '94, and Dr. Richard Swain, '89. While in New York the president also visited the Rockefeller Board.

Monday morning President Clippinger was in Washington where he attended the twenty-first National Anti-Saloon League Convention. This convention emphasized the fourth anniversary of the going into effect of the Eighteenth Amendment. The president addressed the convention Monday afternoon on the subject, "The American College and Prohibition."

President Clippinger Pleases Audience With His Lecture, on "Egypt And the Nile".

A large and interested audience assembled in the college chapel last Thursday evening and enjoyed an oriental program given by three members of the faculty for the benefit of the Public Speaking Council.

As the first number of the evening's program Professor Grabill rendered two organ selections that were in keeping with the oriental atmosphere of the entertainment. His selections, "The Pyramids", and "The Desert Song", were well received by the audience.

Professor Fritz in his usual pleasing manner gave the reading, "Mr. Dooley's Experience in a Pullman". As an encore he read, "Experiences of a Guide," from Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad".

The stereopticon lecture by President Clippinger was very interesting and instructive and was given in an informal way. The President's attire of a tourist added much to the interest of the lecture.

He described his trip from Alexandria to Cairo and his journey up the Nile Valley by train. The speaker. (Continued on page two.)

PI KAPPA DELTA IS INSTALLED

Ohio Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta Installed Friday Night.

HOWARD IS PRESIDENT

Thirteen Students and Professors Initiated As Charter Members of Honorary Fraternity.

Following the initiation of thirteen students, professors and former students to active membership in Pi Kappa Delta, National Honorary forensic fraternity, Friday night, the Ohio Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta was installed at Otterbein. Professor Brees, a member of the Michigan Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta initiated the various members and later presented the local organization with its charter.

Philaethean Hall was the scene of the first Pi Kappa Delta initiations Friday afternoon when Professor Brees initiated Professors Lyon, Rossetol and Fritz and Don Howard into active Pi Kappa Delta membership in order that they might help with the initiation ceremony in the evening. At the later initiation service nine more became members of the national forensic society. Professors Schear and Troop, Messrs. Myers, Hoover, Wood, McGuire, V. Willit, '21, Dwight Arnold and L. O. Perry, former students, were initiated as charter members of the Otterbein Chapter. Following the initiation of all the members, the local chapter known as the Ohio Epsilon Chapter was installed with Don Howard as President, V. E. Myers as Vice-president, F. E. McGuire as secretary and treasurer and Earl Hoover as corresponding secretary.

The initiation and installation ceremonies were witnessed by only two invited guests other than the initiates and officers themselves. President Clippinger and Dean Cornet were invited as guests to the initiation and installation of Otterbein's first national honorary fraternity.

O C Dr. Sherrick Returns

With the beginning of the second semester Dr. Sarah M. Sherrick will again take up her work in the Department of English Literature after a leave of absence of several months. For the past few months Dr. Sherrick has been at the Hillview Sanitarium, Washington, Pa., under observation of physicians there.

WASHINGTON ALUMNI MEET

President Clippinger Addresses Members of Otterbein Club in Capital City.

The Otterbein Club of Washington, D. C., held its annual meeting in the Red Room of the New Ebbitt Hotel on Monday evening, January 14th. President Clippinger, Dr. Russell, and Dr. Keister were present and conveyed to the assembled alumni and friends of the college interesting messages of the present day life and activity about the campus, as well as sketching the splendid story of the continued growth and development of the college, and the plans and hopes for the future.

The fact that a national conference of the Anti Saloon League was in session in Washington, and the growing interest in national and international affairs, perhaps more evident than anywhere else in the capital city, gave an added significance to the occasion, and was reflected in several of the speeches. Mr. Elwood P. Morey, president of the organization, gave a stirring address on the growing interest in religion as the solution of our national problems, particularly interesting in that it came from one of the prominent attorneys of Washington, and what he termed a "hard-headed business man." Mr. Morey was recently swept into national prominence when he acted as Chairman of the Entertainment Committee for the great Shrine Convention which assembled in Washington last summer. Mr. Theodore Shuey who was a member of the class of 1866, and the oldest Otterbeinite present, gave some interesting anecdotes of those ante-bellum days, and then told of some interesting experiences in the United States Senate, where he has been Chief Stenographer for fifty-six years, and as such has gained an enviable acquaintances with men of national prominence for the past half century.

Others present were Mrs. B. E. Ewing, Miss Helen Gruver, the Misses Ada and Urilla Guitner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Kline, Mr. Robert E. Kline, Jr., secretary of the club, Dr. and Mrs. Walter L. Kline, Miss Daisy Magruder, and Mrs. Morey. A buffet supper was served later in the evening, and after about an hour of informally getting better acquainted, the meeting adjourned, everyone feeling a new sense of loyalty to the college, and an added enthusiasm in its great program.

Adrian Newens to Appear as Third Number of Lecture Course

The Citizens' Lecture Course for its third entertainment January 24, offers one of its best programs in the person of Adrian M. Newens, famous monologist. Mr. Newens is a master in his profession, and at the same time is able to supplement his technical knowledge with his honest sincerity and good humor which makes his programs especially interesting. His ability as an entertainer is proven by his success with past audiences. In one case when he was permitted to entertain four audiences in two days at Moline, Ill., his hearers followed him from place to place making his four audiences number approximately 3100 people.

Mr. Newens' programs are varied. Perhaps he is best known on the Lyceum for his "Message from Mars," but he gives other programs each of which affords a splendid evening of entertainment. His programs have built up for him a reputation as an entertainer of the highest rank.

er described the Nile Valley as very level and possessing the most luxuriant growth of any place he had visited in his travels. The description of his visit to the pyramids was very interesting and instructive. Very effectively he corrected any misconception the audience might have had regarding the size of these wonders of the world. The speaker compared the size of the largest pyramid to that of the Otterbein campus and the college buildings, by saying that it was as high as five administration buildings placed one upon the other, and its base would require more than the area of the entire campus.

The entertainment was in charge of the Public Speaking Council and was given for the benefit of a new curtain for the chapel stage. Don Howard very ably presented the different numbers of the program.

'05. A recent issue of the Dayton Daily News contains a feature article concerning Dr. Ernest J. Pace, pastor of the First United Brethren church of Canton, Ohio, who, it says, actually "draws" many souls to salvation by means of his religious sermonettes which have been having a wide circulation in religious papers and have been put on lantern slides for use in sermons and lectures.

'89. Memorial services for Miss Sarah M. Kumler of Columbus, whose death was noted in this column last week, were held yesterday in the Northminster Presbyterian Church of Columbus, when North High School students faculty and alumni united with other friends to pay this tribute to one who had been a teacher in North High School for almost a quarter of a century. Clarence R. Weinland, '06, of the department of science in North High, represented the faculty on this occasion. Dr. William Houston also gave a memorial address.

'11. J. Foraker Hatton of Detroit, Michigan, is making himself felt in the religious life of that city and state. For three years Mr. Hatton was pastor of the United Brethren church there, during which time he served as secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Pastor's Union. Last summer he was in charge of the outdoor evangelistic program of the Detroit Council of Churches. He has now accepted the position of field secretary of Christian Endeavor for the state of Michigan.

'18. William I. Comfort, who was for some months pastor of the First United Brethren Church of Portland, Oregon, has returned to Ohio and has assumed the pastorate of a church just recently organized in Portsmouth, Ohio.

Y. W. C. A. Studies the Mission Field in Japan

After the opening songs of consecration, Mary Elizabeth Brewbaker, leader of last week's session of Y. W. C. A. gave a short explanation of what the Bible Missions Committee is planning to do. It is promoting a new plan of devotional services and the girls were notified to watch the bulletin board for the daily Bible reading.

Lora Addis had charge of the devotion. Her keynote was "Abiding." She read scripture lessons which pointed out that "Abiding" is God's plan and which related the results of unfruitfulness. She requested that the girls pray especially for our nine missionaries in Japan.

The leader told how many people were brought to Christ through the children of the two hundred kindergartens of Japan, eight of which are controlled by the United Brethren Church. She also narrated the experiences of a native Japanese missionary, Mr. Yasuda. A story by Mrs. J. Hal Smith, telling how a Japanese boy found Christ was related by Pauline Knepp and a similar story concerning a Japanese girl was recounted by Mabel Cassel. Margaret Graff gave a comprehensive review of the January number of the "Evangelist."

Y. W. C. A. is grateful for Josephine Cridand's violin solo, "The Old Refrain"

Prof. Grabill to Give Recital.

Professor Grabill will give an organ recital at the United Brethren Church in Anderson, Indiana, January 27, when the new organ of that church will be dedicated. Anderson is the home of the Lambert family who are alumni of Otterbein and who gave the conservatory to the college.

O C

Student Recital Announced.

There will be a general music students' recital January 30, at Lambert Hall and Professor Grabill states that this program will be unusually good and well worth hearing.

O C

Organ Recital Well Received

A large audience was present at the excellent organ recital given by pupils in Organ at the College Chapel on Sunday afternoon.

The opening number, "Sonata in C Minor," by Guilman, was played by Ferne Buckingham. "Coronation March" from Meyerbeer's grand opera "The Prophet", "Meditation" by Sturges and "Toccato" from Becker's third Organ Sonata were presented by Miss Francis Harris. "Chanson du Soir", an evening song by Becker, was played by Miss Gladys Brownfield.

Miss Louise Robinson sang "Aria—Hear Ye, Israel," taken from Mendelssohn's Oratorio "Elijah."

"Marche Funebre et Chant Seraphique" by the great French composer Guilman, was played by Miss Hazel Dehnhoff. The Overture to "William Tell" by Rossini was very well played by Miss Thelma Bonnell. All those who took part in the program should be commended on their excellent work.

EDITORIALS

V. E. MYERS Retiring Editor

Since last May, Mr. Myers has served efficiently as editor-in-chief of the Tan and Cardinal.
Mr. Myers assumed the manifold duties connected with the publication of the paper at a critical time and carried his responsibility satisfactorily. As editor he has displayed a good knowledge of journalism and has been conscientious in the policy which he formed for the paper.

Sportsmanship

The conduct of any group of students at a basket ball game should never be such that the college officials must call them to order. Yet this actually happened at the basket ball game last Wednesday. It is humiliating to a member of the faculty to feel called upon to ask students to refrain from too rabid censoring of a referee. The official who was subject to the attack was chosen to referee that game because he is competent and because the officials of the Ohio Conference have faith in his fairness and ability to referee a good game of basket ball. Even if he erred at times that should not make him an object of criticism by the students.

If he needed correcting for his officiating it is not for the fans to do so as that is the duty of the coaches and managers. If the referee is wrong let the proper authorities put in the complaint.

No points are scored by "razzing" the referee. "Razzing" merely demoralizes both teams, slows up the game and ruins the evening for people who desire to see fair play mani-fester by the spectators as well as by the teams. "Razzing" an official is unbecoming to an Otterbein student and no true sportman will practice it.
We want Otterbein to be regarded by the colleges of the Ohio Conference as a school standing for true sportsmanship, but that goal can never be realized if the conduct displayed last Wednesday night continues to be shown by Otterbein students.

A Request.

A member of the varsity basket ball team recently stated that he believed music by either a band or an orchestra at the varsity contests would instill more fight and spirit in the team. He went further and asked that music be provided for the next game.

In our mind nothing instills more real pep and enthusiasm in an athletic contest than does music. Unquestionably music speeds up the game, puts a fighting spirit in the fray and creates an atmosphere of excitement among the fans. It is true that music may not be desirable during the progress of the game but music in its place; before the start of the contest and between the halves in no way affects the work of teams. Spirited music used at the proper time would do more to bring the team out of a slump than an hour of cheering.

We had a band during the football season. It could be reorganized, but if that is impossible enough loyal Otterbein musicians should volunteer their services to form a band or an orchestra. Let something be done to get music for the next varsity game.

O C

IT STRIKES US

That it is time for the Varsity "O" Association to get busy and initiate the football letter men.

That the Board of Control acted wisely in its arrangement of the seating of the college students at the basket ball game. The plan is O. K.

That the segregation of the sexes at the basket ball game is conducive to better cheering.

That the winner of the Group League championship will go through some tough battles.

That the coming examinations will be a big bug bear for quite a few students.

That you should patronize our advertisers as they make possible the Tan and Cardinal.

That the football game scheduled with Wooster gives Otterbein a much better schedule.

RALLY BIG SUCCESS

Freshmen Present Unique Feature in Year's First Basket Ball Rally.

History lovers of Otterbein were very much gratified when they beheld the first basketball rally of the season in the Chapel last Tuesday night. Pocahontas, John Smith, Powhatan, and other illustrious personages stepped forth from the pages of history and held forth for the benefit of the Otterbein fans.

After Cheerleader Upson had led the crowd in a few cheers the "Romance of Pocahontas" was enacted by some of the dramatic talent of the freshman class. Ed Hammond played the part of Powhatan better than that doubtful old chieftain himself could have acted. Grace Cornet was a worthy successor to the original Pocahontas while Captain John Smith was not disgraced in the least by his personifier, Nathan Roberts. "Bill" McKnight as an oak, Waldo Keck as a squirrel, and Robert Snively as a babbling brook brought credit to their class. Of course the fact that each object or personage was identified by a card held in the hand of each imitator did not detract from the success of the performance.

The Marching Song and the Pep Song contributed to the enthusiasm of the evening. Two prospective additions to the cheerleader's crew, "Red" Lancaster and Nathan Roberts, next appeared on the platform and called for a "Yea, Otterbein" in turn. H. W. Troop put the crowd in a good humor with a few remarks concerning the coming game and several good jokes. Dr. Cook, a former Otterbein athlete, concluded the evening's program with a short talk, in which he brought out Otterbein's advance in athletic circles within the past decade.

O C

Freshman Class Present Program at Y. M. C. A.

Under the leadership of Waldo Keck, the Freshmen furnished the program for the Y. M. C. A. meeting Thursday night. The significance of the letters Y. M. C. A. were discussed by Hammon, McConaughy, Bauer and Marshall respectively, who gave their own opinions of what the college "Y" stood for.

In closing the discussion, Keck made a few remarks concerning personal service and individual relations among the men on the campus.

O C

ANNOUNCEMENT

Heretofore Otterbein has always had an orchestra,—sometimes good, sometimes very good, and a good part of the time, indifferent. This year it was thought that other organizations might take the place of a college orchestra but everyone now realizes that there is a definite place and need for an orchestra.

Many interested people have been asking for an orchestra and there are evidences of much musical ability in the freshman class. Therefore there will be a college orchestra the second semester. One is especially needed for plays, a concert, and commencement. The orchestra must be composed of those primarily interested in orchestra work and good music, and who are willing to work double-quick since the organization is being made so late in the season.

— Josephine Cridland

O C

Leaderless C. E. Meeting

The Christian Endeavor meeting of last Sunday evening took on an unusual trend when a leaderless meeting was attempted. Don Howard planned the meeting and then wrote the program for the evening on the board. Each person whose name appeared on the program arose and rendered his part without further announcement. The discussion centered around the questions, "How can we extend the cause of Christ on the campus?" and "How do we betray Christ today?" Those discussing the question were those who happened to be sitting in certain designated chairs. The interest of the meeting was unusually high. The business of the evening was in charge of the new president, M. W. Killinger.

O C

Denison Has Unusual Way Of Electing Court Captain

Denison has the somewhat unusual custom of having no regular basketball captain. Instead the team members get together and elect their captain just before going on the floor for the game. This is perhaps advantageous, particularly in Denison's case, when the team is composed entirely or almost entirely of new men.

Banjo-Mandolin Orchestra Given Mention in Musical Magazine

Professor Spessard reports that the college glee club is receiving more offers for concerts this year than any previous year, and inquiries are coming in from other glee clubs in other states asking for music that the glee club uses.

The Otterbein banjo-mandolin orchestra also promises to be unusually good this year. The orchestra which uses instruments of the Gibson Company exclusively received recognition of their merit by this company in its catalogue issued recently in elaborate style and carrying pictures of organizations of various kinds using their instruments. A very large picture of our orchestra extended across the top of one page and this recognition in itself means a great deal since this catalogue is sent all over the world.

Kappa Delta and their guests adjourned to the Maple Tree Tea Room where a banquet was served. The president of the local chapter presided over the extemporaneous speaking after the banquet at which time most of the older members of the chapter were called upon to give their opinions of the significance of the occasion.

Professor Brees in the concluding talk of the evening congratulated Otterbein on her choice of a national fraternity in the interests of forensics and on her future in forensics. Professor Brees wears three keys from forensic organizations and declares Pi Kappa Delta the best suited to the needs of Otterbein.

Membership in Pi Kappa Delta is open to anyone who has represented the college in intercollegiate debate or oratory, provided he be elected to membership by the members of the chapter. Various degrees are awarded according to the caliber of the work done and the number of contests in which a member participates. Special Distinction is the highest degree that any member can receive, and it is saying much for Otterbein forensics that three of the original members of the Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta are awarded the degree of special distinction. The three who are permitted to wear the highest insignia of the fraternity are Professors Fritz, H. W. Troop and Virgil Willit.

Both men and women are entitled to wear Pi Kappa Delta keys and Miss Lyon is among those making up the original members of the local organization.

The Otterbein Chapter installed Friday night is the 88th chapter if the fraternity in the United States. Pi Kappa Delta has the largest enrollment of any national forensic fraternity in America. The chapter here is expected to stimulate interest in local forensics as permission to wear a Pi Kappa Delta key is a distinction that marks one as having outstanding ability and the key is recognized all over the country. The Otterbein chapter is the fifth to be granted to an Ohio school, Heidelberg, Hiram, Baldwin-Wallace and the University of Akron already have chapters. The keys for the local members failed to arrive in time for presentation at the initiation ceremony but will soon be seen about the campus.

Lakotas Spring Surprise When They Defeat Cook House by a 14-10 Count.

Organization league basketball got into full swing last Saturday morning with ten different teams competing. Because of this fact, games were shortened to about thirty minutes. Interest shown by the students in the contests so far has been good.

Playing started off at 8:30 a. m. with the Sphinx vs. Jonda tilt. In a loosely played game the Sphinx won out, 20-10, although the Jondas acquitted themselves well considering that this was their first attempt.

The big upset of the morning was furnished when the Lakotas beat the highly touted Cook House quintet by a 14-10 score. Bechtolt's floor work caused him to shine most brilliantly for the victors, while Killinger was the only one of the Cook Housers to show much ambition.

In the final group league contest the Alps met the Annex for some hotly contested minutes. Priest looked perhaps the best in the Annex outfit which triumphed 11-8.

The Bailey and McRill clubs started things off in the boarding club league with an encounter which the Bailey team won 13-12. This was a story of good material poorly organized. Allison won the game for his team mates by scoring ten points of the thirteen, eight of which were on free throws.

Although there was a game scheduled between the Priest and Eschbach clubs, the latter team put in no appearance and so the affair was canceled.

The morning was wound up with a fray between the Cusic and Schrock teams. In this contest Harry Widdoes was high scorer although he played for the Schrock team which was vanquished by the count of 21-18.

Most of the morning's refereeing was done by Killinger and Priest. Intra-mural basketball activities will continue on next Tuesday evening with a series of games.

Group League Standing.

Award Freshmen Numerals

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Board numerals were awarded to sixteen members of the freshman football squad. Numerals were granted to the men who played in the Freshman-Sophomore football game and to a few who served faithfully as members of the squad during the season.

The men who were voted the 1927 numerals are Felton, Curk, Collier, Snively, McEowen, Schear, McKnight, Carroll, Lambert, Pilkington, Hayes, Cross, McConnaughy, Hammon, Johnson and Roberts.

Wooster Added to Football

Schedule for 1924 Season

Sometime ago a contract was signed with Wooster College scheduling a football game with that school for next fall. The game will be played October 4, on Severance Field.

Last December at the meeting of the Ohio Conference officials, our schedule for 1924 was arranged but the schedule did not call for any games early in the season. This game coming when it does greatly improves our schedule as it provides a seasoning game which is very essential to the conditioning of the team.

Cincinnati Next

O. C.'s next opposition is to be furnished by the University of Cincinnati five, who are booked to appear here Wednesday evening, January 23. The Queen City team looms up quite formidably and it will require superhuman efforts on the part of the Tan team to tame the "Bear Cats."

It will be remembered that Cincy held Denison to a 19-2 score in the first half of their late encounter. That means that Otterbein will be forced to give the last ounce of energy, both of rooster and of player, to show up the Queen City aggregation. The Tan must, however, come back and mop the Cincy basketballers and it will take some wholesouled effort.

any further flashes from the Tan quintet.

Douglass of Denison was high scorer of the game, making a total of 27 points, more than half their score. Haskins and Hla, who were put into the game late, played well.

Anderson was high scorer again for Otterbein. Andy was hot and if he had finished in the game there would have been a decided difference in the score. Porosky played his best so far this season in this game. Faust, McCarroll, Widdoes, shone too during those too brief minutes at the beginning of the second half. If the team can only reach and maintain that standard of play in the ensuing games there is going to be a different story to tell. Durr and Hancock as substitutes put up a hard game although it turned out to be a losing fight.

The line-up:

Denison 50	Pos.	33 Otterbein
Douglass	R. F.	Widdoes
Rettig	L. F.	(C) Anderson
Hla	L. F.	Hancock
Steadman	C.	Porosky
Haskins	R. G.	Faust
Stevenson	L. G.	McCarroll
Rogers	L. G.	Durr

Field goals—Denison: Douglass 11, Haskins 5, Hla 2, Rettig; Otterbein: Anderson 6, Porosky 4, Widdoes 3, McCarroll.

Fouls—Denison: Douglass 5, Rettig 2, Hla 2, Steadman 2, Haskins; Otterbein: Porosky 2, Widdoes 2, Hancock.

Game with Ohio Wesleyan to Be Played at Gem City

Otterbein's fourth conference basketball contest will be played at Dayton with Wesleyan. This game which was originally to have been played here has been changed to the down-state city due to the insistent appeal of alumni from both institutions.

The fracas will take place on Saturday night, February 2, at 8 p. m. It will not occur in Memorial Hall, as one might suppose, but will be played at the new city recreation hall at the Montgomery county fair grounds. The tilt is under the management of a joint committee of Otterbein and Wesleyan alumni.

Francis Pottenger is arranging for a special car to run over the interurban lines provided twenty-five rooters express their intentions of going. This will be necessary due to the fact that no regular car service is available at the time when the game will be over. Coach Ditmer's lads can be counted on to furnish some excitement in their attempt to recoup their loss in prestige from the defeat administered them by Wesleyan early in the season.

"NET SWISHERS"

Left forward Douglass of the Red outfit and the bright spot of Denison's offense, scored the first three points for his team with a foul and a basket. In the course of the game he annexed ten more field goals.

Captain Anderson scored the first points for Otterbein and raised his total to six buckets before he was forced from the contest.

Many have suggested that the players be introduced to the audience as they take their places on the floor. We suggest that the referee also be introduced to the fans.

It is doubtful if our team will encounter another team that will make as many long shots as Denison did. Their long shots counted time and again and it is doubtful if the shooting they displayed here will be consistent throughout the season.

Porosky brought down the house with two baskets from the center of the floor. Andy's shooting also was a sensation and a pleasure to the fans.

Otterbein's spurt in the second half gave occasion for a burst of enthusiasm from the spectators. That enthusiasm would be welcome during the entire contest.

Otterbein was making a strong bid for victory but all hope was annihilated when Anderson and Widdoes were forced to retire from the game because of personal fouls.

WE STILL WANT THAT GYM

The following item was clipped from the sporting page of the Columbus Sunday Dispatch and is an outsider's opinion concerning our gym drive.

"It has come to our ears that Otterbein College alumni are lagging somewhat in the project of financing a new gymnasium for the little institution in nearby Westerville.

"We can recall that 25 years ago Otterbein was a leader in up to date college activity in Ohio and it had one of the first college gyms in the state that was any way modern in its plan and equipment. But that isn't enough. A college can not live in the history of a proud past, so it is high

Prof. Martin talking about the necessity of the segregation of the sexes reminds us of the verse we learned in Shakespeare's or Longfellow's works which goes as follows, "And every night that Dodo Bird descends into the depths of the ocean, There to segregate its species, crying in a shrill voice, 'I sacka benzal!'" Which when translated freely into the vernacular signifies, "We can make more noise!"
