The Sibyl of 1933

A YEAR BOOK
PUBLISHED BY THE JUNIOR CLASS

OF

WESTERVILLE, OHIO

Dedication

To the Mothers of the Class of 1934, who have been sincere and loyal every hour of our existence, having always guided us through each hardship with an inspired devotion; it is with this in mind that we pay tribute and hereby dedicate the 1933 volume of the Sibyl, knowing that when all others have forsaken us, our torch of hope is dying out, they are the dearest and most worthy of our love and appreciation. Thus we dedicate this book to those whom we owe an unpayable debt—Our Mothers. ◆

Foreword

With the hope of retaining the spirit prevailing at Otterbein by adding one more page to its incomparable life as our noble institution, we attempt this book. As time goes by and we dust off this Sibyl once again, it is our desire that it will unveil the true memories and happy experiences of this year at Otterbein, if it so happens that we should forget. We pay tribute to our glorious days by this effort, wishing to, in some small way, make this worthy of our Otterbein and the purpose for which it has existed. ◆ ◆

LOVE SONG

In a quiet peaceful village,
There's one we love so true;
She ever gives a welcome
To her friends both old and new.
She stands serene 'mid tree-tops green;
She's our dear Otterbein.

CHORUS

Old Otterbein, our college,
We sing of thee today;
Our mem'ries round thee linger
In a sweet and mystic way.
O Otterbein, we love thee!
Our hearts are only thine;
We pledge anew we will be true,
Dear Otterbein.

Her halls have their own message
Of truth and hope and love;
She guides her youths and maidens
To the life that looks above.
Her stately tower speaks naught but power,
She's our dear Otterbein.

The College

'T is all a Chequer-board of Nights and Days
Where Destiny with Men
for Pieces plays:
Hither and thither moves,
and mates, and slays,
And one by one back in the Closet lays.

PRESIDENT WALTER G. CLIPPINGER, A.B., D.D., LL.D.

GREETINGS TO OTTERBEIN FRIENDS

We who administer the affairs of the College send you the greetings of the times. 'Mid storm and stress of business affairs and equal disturbance of mind and spirit we share with you what is doubtless your own experience. Otterbein has weathered the storms of many a turbulent sea in her eighty-six years. In all this time her goals have been the development of high ideals of character and service, coupled with scholarship and intellectual efficiency. Even in this social chaos education has not failed. The Christian college is needed as never before. The safety and security of civilization depend upon Christian leadership. Nowhere can this leadership be found and trained as in institutions like Otterbein.

We crave your sympathetic co-operation and extend to you greetings and good will for times like these.

Cordially,

W. G. Clippinger

President.

In Memoriam

PROFESSOR ALMA GUITNER

Otterbein College suffered a severe loss in the sudden and untimely death of Professor Alma Guitner, head of the department of German, on Sunday, February 26, 1933.

Alma Guitner was born in Westerville, December 12, 1874. She was the second daughter of John E. and Lydia M. Guitner. Mrs. C. E. Worman, of White Plains, New York, is the only surviving member of the family .

Her early education was received in the Westerville public schools. At the end of the eighth grade, like many others, she entered the preparatory department of Otterbein College. Following this she matriculated in the college proper and graduated in the class of 1897. She had a preference for the languages and took all the courses offered in Latin, Greek, German, and French. Her father thought that German was more fitting for a lady teacher, so she finally chose that.

In order better to prepare herself for her chosen profession, she pursued special studies in Berlin in 1898-1899. She graduated from Frau Doctor Hemple's school, having taken two years work in one. Later she spent four summers in European travel and study. Four summer sessions were also attended at Columbia University, from which institution she received the Master's degree in 1910.

Her work as a teacher began in the Eastern Indiana Normal University at Muncie, Indiana. This was in the year 1899. Her subjects were German and French. The next year, 1900, she was called to her Alma Mater, where she entered upon a term of service which ended with her death.

The Guitner family is unique among the Otterbein teachers' families in two respects. The one is that at least one of the five members of the family has been connected with the college as a student or a teacher from the year 1857 to the present time; in all, therefore, but the first ten years of the history of the college. The other unique record held by this family is that every member of it has been employed by the college as a teacher. The five members of the Guitner family have taught here for a total of seventy-nine years.

Professor Guitner was a splendid teacher, well prepared in her subject by academic training, travel, and personal qualifications. She was thorough, accurate, patient, and persistent. But she was more than a teacher—she was a valuable member of a number of committees of the college faculty and shared in a large measure the community life and especially the life of the local church.

Thus death has taken from the ranks of the Otterbein College faculty another strong and valuable member. Her loss imposes upon those who remain an added opportunity for responsibility for service.

SENIOR CLASS

Four seemingly long years ago this Senior Class entered college as comparatively insignificant freshmen.

We have proven to the world, however, that we are not so green and insignificant as we once seemed. We feel that our Senior Class has been one of the best (if not the best) of all classes that have previously departed from Otterbein's famed doorways.

This class has made its presence felt, it has made its mark in the history of Otterbein College, and its achievements will never be forgotten. All have done much towards the good of the college and have worked with genuine and wholehearted enthusiasm towards the final goal.

Our men and women are going out into a world of confusion and darkness, but we sincerely believe that we will assume important positions in this land of ours.

The seniors have always been the leaders to a certain extent and have tried to set a good example for other classes to follow.

In dramatics, music, art, oratory, and debate we have worked hard and added new laurels to these fields.

In athletics we have left a permanent mark. Our athletes have helped make outstanding teams, and have been given a great deal of prominence and recognition by the outside world. Otterbein won its first Ohio Conference basketball championship in its history, and we feel that we did our part in winning the coveted gonfalon.

Co-operation, we believe, has been one of our assets; we have tried to assist the faculty and fellow students in every possible way in order to make this a better community in which to live. We realize we have left much undone, but we hope the forthcoming classes will accomplish what we have failed to do.

Our class issues a challenge to all coming senior classes to equal all of our accomplishments.

We as seniors wish the coming senior classes the best of success. May you succeed in all that you attempt to do.

Our time has come to leave Otterbein's stately halls, but we shall never forget the spirit which dear Otterbein has given to us.

JUNIOR CLASS

THREE years have passed swiftly, and it is difficult to realize that we as Juniors have only one more year ahead of us. Only one more year can we take part in the activities of Otterbein—activities in which we have gloried and in which we have taken an active part. We have tried to contribute in different ways. Sometimes we have succeeded, sometimes we have failed, but no matter what the outcome, the experiences were valuable, and we have learned many things both as a group and as individuals. Our field has not been limited. We have taken an active interest in dramatics, in music, in writing, in athletics, and in various organizations. In this coming year we want to make a greater contribution.

We have made many friends in our three years at Otterbein, friends with whom we have intentions of keeping in contact throughout the years ahead of us. But though we may drift away from each other, there are many good times upon which we will look back. There are many things we remember—not the least of which are the bonfire of our first year, and the Freshman-Sophomore fight before our banquet in our second year. Those were near-tragedies at the time, but are incidents which only go to prove that saying, "The tragedies of yesterday are the comedies of today." Scrap Day, however, has never been a near-tragedy—that is, as far as our class is concerned. We came through with flying colors when we were freshmen, and though the tug-of-war last year was a tie, we can still say that we have never been dragged through the creek.

But in thinking of happenings of the past, we are not forgetting our aims for the future. We hope that our enthusiasm will not grow less, but that, on the contrary, it will become greater. A class is a success only when every member is working to do his very best. We believe that in this year to come each one of our members will keep his standards high. We are still trying to prove that ours is the best class in history. We want to make next year the best year yet, and to give our best to all for which Otterbein stands. "We pledge anew, we will be true, dear Otterbein."

SOPHOMORE CLASS

IN 1931 the present Sophomore Class was duly initiated into the royal order of "Otterbeinians." We were "green," as all promising young freshmen are, but, under the generous and discerning tutelage of upperclassmen, we rapidly grew and ripened. On Scrap Day we admirably displayed our brawn, winning the relay and tying the tug-o'-war. In debate we proved to the sophomores our superiority of brain. We established highly favorable social prestige for ourselves when we banqueted the Juniors in stately and elegant colonial style.

Now we are infallible sophomores and belong to the intelligentia of this institution. On Scrap Day of this year we totally subdued the impudent and presuming freshmen, winning all the events of the day. Now they show us due respect in remaining in their seats until their worthy superiors have left the chapel.

There is scarcely a field of activity to which the sophomores have not contributed a valuable part. In athletics we certainly have not been found lacking, for we have had several letter men in football. Two sophomore men fill the positions of forward and guard, respectively, on Otterbein's Conference championship basketball team. We also are providing good reserve material which, in future seasons, will make first-team timber.

We have had every reason to be proud of our musical talent, having outstanding performers, both vocal and instrumental.

Several sophomore members have distinguished themselves in dramatics and have shown genuine ability. Also, it was a sophomore who won the Russell declamation contest.

Several members of the class have given evidence of literary art and have contributed productions to the Quiz and Quill Magazine.

Our endeavors along all these lines have been earnest and purposeful—a credit to our class and to our school. Although we recognize our shortcomings and limitations, we are glad to be able to play our part in college life at Otterbein.

There has always been controversy as to whether anticipation is better than realization. But it is sufficient to say that if the realization of two more years at Otterbein be as pleasant as the anticipation, they will be well worth while. We have learned to love our Alma Mater and hope that in the remaining years we may humbly do her honor.

But we like to look even beyond the day when we shall wear our caps and gowns—the day when we shall put our shoulders to the wheel and take our places in the world. May our years at Otterbein enable us to "live best and serve most."

FRESHMAN CLASS

IN the fall of nineteen thirty-two the Zeppelin "Otterbein" issued a call for all those wishing to tour the Land of Knowledge for four years. Those that answered the call numbered seventy and had a wide variety of interests, ambitions, and ideals. These passengers spent three days inspecting the great ship and becoming accustomed to their surroundings. They met Pilot Clippinger and the aides-de-camp who were to teach them what they ought to know. A spirit of excitement, enthusiasm, and vitality was prevalent everywhere.

The big ship started, equipped to meet friend and foe. The first big event of the trip was Scrap Day in which their enemy was victorious in all three events. This did not bother them, however, but served as an incentive, and they started out with more joyful spirits than ever before.

The next striking episode in the trip was the bonfire. These tourists were later graciously entertained by the State Theatre, and they returned to the ship tired but happy. The trip was delayed because repairs were necessary for the damage done by the bonfire, but soon the Zeppelin was sailing high in the air again.

The passengers, in the meantime, felt the need of leaders among themselves, and they elected Richard Mitchell for their captain, Melvin Moody for assistant captain, Ella B. Smith for scribe, and Harold Cheek for secretary of the exchequer. They elected Evelyn Nichols and Sam Ziegler for the great council.

They worked hard to improve the ship, and each one saw many things in the Land of Knowledge to aid him or her. They took an examination when one-fourth of the first year was over (the grades of which will never be known). The aides-de-camp, with the pilot, thought it unnecessary to stop the ship to let any one off, so the Zeppelin sailed peacefully onward. The social life was in no way neglected, however, and the All-Zeppelin parties were well attended by the passengers. One of the aides entertained them, and they had a party themselves.

If the Class of Nineteen Thirty-six can judge from the past, they ought to expect the Zeppelin "Otterbein" to sail peacefully and calmly for the rest of the three years, for it is equipped with a co-operative spirit and an enthusiasm for things that are worth while.

April 23—Lots went on today. First we lost a tennis match to Bonebrake 1-5, then we won in track 77-49 at Northern, and lost in baseball 1-7. Last, but not least, the second cast presented "The Tragedy" in the evening.

May 28—Again we were outplayed by Wesleyan 1-5.
May 30—Picnic day. A good time was had by all.
May 31—Thirteen is our lucky number. It took just that many innings to rout Muskingum 4-3. "We always beat Muskingum." Frees-Copeland dramatic recital.

The Publication Board in a general way acts as an instrument of the student body in the publication of its newspaper, the Tan and Cardinal. Two faculty members and one student member from each class are appointed to the board by the Student Council. As its chief duties the board annually elects the editor and business manager, oversees the finances of the paper, and helps determine its advertising policies.

Editorially, the Tan and Cardinal adopted a vigorous policy and became a potent factor in campus affairs. From a feature standpoint, "Allamania," a column of campus comment by Dick Allaman, was outstanding.

Special editions during the year were the Fall Homecoming edition (which served as the official program of the day) and the Basketball edition issued for Winter Homecoming.

The Tan and Cardinal successfully negotiated the year of financial stress. Although the size of the paper was reduced to six columns, publication was maintained on regular schedule throughout the year. In addition, the Tan and Cardinal debt was cut in half. This was accomplished through the transference of the printing contract to an out-of-town establishment, and through the constant and careful economy on the part of the business manager.

SIBYL, 1933

INTO THIS VOLUME of the SIBYL we have given our sincere efforts to publish and reflect the varied activities of the campus. We have attempted to go further—we have tried to instill in the hearts of those here, as well as those to come, the true spirit of fellowship which prevails at Otterbein College, and to enliven this spirit where it may be waning.

We are well aware of the financial chaos prevalent and have tried to give to the students and alumni of Otterbein College an annual which is better fitted to their financial means.

It is the sincere hope of the staff that this 1933 SIBYL recall pleasant memories in years to come.

The Life Work Recruit organization is made up of young people who have fully decided upon Christian work, and also those who are much interested, but who have not come to a definite decision as yet. The group meets on Monday evening at six-thirty to share together in experience and prayer. Much work in surrounding churches is undertaken by the group, and a fine spirit of Christian fellowship prevails.

The Otterbein Music Club was formed to broaden the musical culture of those students already interested and to promote musical interest throughout Otterbein College. The club holds regular meetings, at which music is presented and topics of a musical nature are discussed. The present College Band was organized in the fall of 1930 under the direction of its present conductor, Prof. A. R. Spessard. That same year the various classes pledged money enough to equip the band with uniforms, and since then several instruments have been made available through gifts from alumni.

The band plays for all home football and basketball games and accompanies the teams on trips to other schools whenever it is possible.

Several concerts are arranged during the school year.

The Women's Glee Club at Ootterbein is a select group of singers chosen by the director, Prof. A. R. Spessard. It is an honor coveted by many to be chosen for this group of singers. Even though conditions this year did not permit many "away from home concerts," the club members have found pleasure in preparing the very interesting program for the year.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

A great part of the program is sung unaccompanied, and all numbers are in four-part harmony. Rehearsals are held twice a week, being one hour in length, and are refreshing after a day spent in college class work or laboratory. Since most of the club program is given by the entire organization, in order to add variety, and since material was found in the club personnel, a mandolin orchestra was made a part of the club. This we believe to be an unusual feature among college women's glee clubs.

The Otterbein Men's Glee Club is made up of twenty-four men, selected chiefly form the best musical talent on the campus. Due to the existing financial conditions, the club was unable to make a trip during spring vacation, but in addition to the home concert, several others were given the latter part of April in the eastern part of Ohio. The annual program was given over WAIU in Columbus.

As has been evidenced in past years, the Men's Glee Club has always maintained a high standard of musical entertainment, and this year sung all but two of its numbers unaccompanied, which is unusual for an organization of this kind.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

This year twelve places had to be filled for men graduating or failing to return. However, through the combined efforts of both the old and new men, as well as the untiring work of the director, A. R. Spessard, the organization developed into one of the best ever produced. Features on this year's program consisted of two new Czechoslovakian folk numbers, several sacred songs, and others of wide variety.

The Banjo-Mandolin Orchestra which always helps to lend variety to the Glee Club program is an outstanding organization in itself composed chiefly of men who sing in the club. Thirteen men make up this group.

Cap and Dagger is Otterbein's dramatic organization. Its purpose is to foster an interest in the stage and to study and present plays. Two of the dramatic successes of the year were "The Attorney for the Defense" and "The Tinker." Membership in Theta Alpha Phi, the national honorary dramatic society, is drafted from this group.

Otterbein maintains the Ohio Zeta Chapter of the national honorary dramatic fraternity, Theta Alpha Phi. Membership in it is the highest dramatic honor which can be achieved. The Cue, the official publication of the fraternity, is a leading periodical of dramatic comment. The local chapter has frequent meetings, at which problems of the modern theatre are discussed, as well as producing worth-while plays. This year's major production was "The Prodigal Son," given April 25. Professor Pendleton is the advisor.

From the standpoint of favorable decisions, the 1932-33 debating season was entirely unsuccessful. Otterbein's affirmative team lost to Ohio and Akron Universities, while the negative team lost to Wittenberg and Heidelberg Colleges. Capital also engaged Otterbein in a dual, non-decision encounter.

However, compensation comes to the members of the squad from having derived some intrinsic values of the Art of Public Speaking. We wish to future teams more success in gaining favorable decisions.

The Varsity "O" Association is composed entirely of men that have earned their letters in some varsity sport. To obtain this letter each man has to participate in a certain per cent of the games or win so many points. Each year the Varsity "O" puts on some form of entertainment in order to make money to help pay for their sweaters. This year they are planning a giant carnival to be held in the gym.

BASKETBALL, 1933

For the first time in the history of the college, Otterbein is hailed as champions of the Ohio conference in basketball. They have achieved this distinction by winning every on of their twelve conference games this season. Their closest rival won but ten out of twelve games. The Cardinals were not only undefeated in the conference, but were the only undefeated team in the state. An undefeated season is an extremely rare event for any college team, and the Cardinals may be further hailed for achieving this remarkable record. By counting the four victories made at the close of last year's season, Otterbein now has a record of sixteen consecutive victories.

Otterbein's Cardinals have the highest offensive record of any team in the state, running up a total of 582 points or an average of 48.5 points per game, while holding the opposition to an average of 29.25 points per game.

Otterbein was the only team to place two men on the All-Ohio Conference team. Francis, at forward, and Andrews, at guard. Both Worstell and Holland received honorable mention. As one sports writer put it, "You could just use the entire Otterbein team for the All-Ohio team and you wouldn't be far off." This statement was made before the selections were made, and it seems as though the statement proved to be very accurate. Francis and Holland were the two highest-scoring forwards in the state.

In many games it was obvious that the opposition was trying to make the Otterbein players foul themselves out of the game. However, the well-coached Cardinal outfit fought clean, hard games, and kept their fine sportsmanship record clean, despite the most adverse conditions.

This team has been the greatest in the history of Otterbein. No one man was the star on the team, for it was team play throughout which carried them so far. At no time during the season was there any suggestion of any man trying to shine at the expense of his teammates. It is to the spirit of friendship and co-operation that we attribute the marvelous success of the team. This spirit was instilled into the players by one of the finest of coaches, Otterbein's Dr. Edler.

The reserves were of high calibre and at no time during the season was there any fear of what might happen if one of the regulars happened to be taken from the game.

The celebration of this singular honor is one that will remain in the hearts of every Otterbein student—the wonderful pep rally, the free meal, the free show, and the fact that all classes were called off that day.

BASKETBALL, 1933

TOLEDO bows in season opener. A fast and aggressive Cardinal five outshot, outdribbled, and outplayed a great Toledo team on the latter's floor, for the opening victory of the 1933 season. Led by Sammy Andrews and Ken Holland, the Cards overpowered a team that had won three previous games.

Grabbing a 12-1 lead in the opening minutes of the game, the Cards were never headed. In the second half with the score 40-19 in Otterbein's favor, the second team was put in. The final score 41-35.

BOWLING GREEN conquered by Otterbein. With Barney Francis running wild, the Cardinal basketeers ran roughshod over the previously undefeated Bowling Green squad. Francis scored 23 points. Bowling Green had been undefeated in six starts up until this game.

Otterbein got off to a 13-0 lead before Bowling Green knew where the ball was. At half time the score was 24-14. Worstell and Maibach were taken out on account of personals a few minutes after the half started, but Holland took care of the center position and Hinton replaced Holland as forward. The final score 47-31.

DAYTON easily defeated. Led by "Dayton's own Sammy Andrews," the Cardinals were never in danger after the first few minutes of play. The Dayton Flyers jumped into an early lead of six points shortly after the opening whistle blew, but the Cardinals, after taking it over, proceeded to give the Dayton team a few pointers on basketball.

Captain Andrews drew first blood when he sank one of his long ones from mid-floor. Francis and Holland outplayed their men, and the score rapidly mounted. Worstell played a fine game at center. The final score 34-26.

KENYON downed for first home victory. The Cardinals had plenty of trouble with their shots in the first half, and after a fifteen minutes of listless play the subs were sent in to finish the half.

Running wild in the second half, the Cardinals gave Kenyon a real trouncing, outscoring Kenyon 28 points to 6. Otterbein displayed a powerful five-man offensive drive to start off the half with the regulars hitting the basket from all angles of the floor. Acting Captain Francis led the scoring with 11 points, followed by Andrews and Holland with 10 apiece. Final score 43-22.

OHIO NORTHERN thoroughly trounced. Otterbein was never in danger, although the scoring didn't start until the second half. Both teams played fast and furious ball from the opening tip-off. Porosky scored for the Bears on a bunny, and this was his last field goal the entire game. Francis then made a basket, and from then on Otterbein led the half. Otterbein led 17-16.

In the second half Otterbein really cut loose and left Ohio Northern in the dust. Francis and Holland collected 15 points apiece and Worstell 11. Final score 46-28.

HIRAM falls before Cardinals. Otterbein hung up their sixth consecutive victory of the season by easily beating the Hiram Terriers. The game got off to a flying start when Worstell got the tip-off, and after a perfectly executed play, Andrews scored. The game was unusually rough with 38 personals being called. At half time the score was 37-14.

Holland, Francis, and Andrews proved to be a real scoring machine, as they collected 19, 18, and 17 points respectively. Final score 69-32.

MARIETTA beaten at Homecoming fray. Otterbein easily won over the strong Marietta five before a large homecoming crowd. In this game the alumni were given a real thrill, and they saw a real basketball game that made them proud to call Otterbein their Alma Mater.

Otterbein was held in check the first half by the Marietta team, but much to their sorrow they found that Otterbein doesn't really get started until the second half. The Cardinals came back in the second period and after some of the neatest tip-off and offensive plays that any one could desire to see, swept through the rest of the game unhampered. The final score 45-30.

CAPITAL, Otterbein's next victim. Otterbein defeated Capital for its eighth victory of the season in a game played at Bexley. Otterbein held a commanding lead throughout this listless fray, with the only doubt being how many points that the Cards would score. Otterbein jumped into an early lead on easy tip-off plays, with Francis scoring the first nine points. The entire team entered into the fray with the men all taking their turns at the scoring. At half time the score was 30-12. The second half was merely a repetition of the first. The final score 52-32.

MUSKINGUM beaten by a large score. Otterbein made the greatest scoring margin of the season in this game with the heretofore highly successful Muskingum team. The game was a complete rout for the Muskies, but a wonderful exhibition for the great Otterbein five.

Otterbein jumped into an early lead, led by the incomparable trio of Francis, Holland, and Andrews. As the half ended Otterbein was ahead 28-12.

Worstell played a great game and counted for a good many points. All during the second half Otterbein scored in what seemed to be whenever they wanted to. Final score 56-19.

HEIDELBERG beaten in a hectic battle. Otterbein took the Student Princes down off their thrones in this encounter. This was the closest game that the Cards had had all season. After running wild the first half and piling up a 28-14 lead, the Otterbein team weakened, or rather the Heidelberg team strengthened.

In the second half the Princes just got "hot" and almost gave Otterbein their first defeat, but the Cards were determined and at no time were they behind. The score was 38-37 at one time, but the Cards got their eye on the basket once more and made five more points. The final score 42-37.

KENYON again loses. Otterbein once more gave Kenyon a beating. The game was played at Gambeir, but that didn't keep Otterbein from going, as we were well represented. The game looked as though it was going to be a runaway for Otterbein the first half. Otterbein piled up a huge lead during this period.

In the second half Otterbein couldn't "get going," but Kenyon surely did, and they made it very interesting—in fact, too interesting for a while, as they tied the score 39-39 . The score stood still for a few minutes, and then Otterbein broke loose, and as the gun went off Otterbein had won her eleventh victory. The final score 52-40.

CAPITAL loses in final game of the season. Otterbein established herself as the only undefeated team in the conference and the state by defeating Capital. The Cards scored the first basket after six seconds of play, and at the end of six minutes the score stood 21-0.

At no time during the contest were the Capital cagers able to cope with the Otterbein men. Francis and Holland were the high scorers, but Worstell, Andrews, and Maibach all counted for points. With the second team playing most of the game, it gave the spectators a good chance to see the material that Otterbein has for next season. The final score 55-19.

LETTERMEN

SAM ANDREWS

Andrews was rated by coaches and sports writers who picked the All-Ohio team as the best guard in the conference. This is a very outstanding honor to have bestowed upon Sammy, but he rightly deserves all the honor and glory that he has been given. Sammy was not only an excellent guard, but was also one of the highest-scoring guards in the state, with 107 points to his credit. This is certainly an enviable record for any guard. Sammy has been at a guard post for three years, and it will be exceedingly difficult to find a man to take his place next year. Good luck to you, Sammy!

BARNEY FRANCIS

Francis, through his outstanding playing and shooting, made a place for himself on the All-Ohio team as a forward. Barney was headed only in scoring by his running mate, Holland, who collected 170 points to Barney's 167. This year completed Francis' third year as a varsity basketball player. Barney outplayed and outfoxed practically every one of his men by his clever dribbling and faking. It is a real pleasure to watch Barney fake a man and then make a basket. For getting that ball on a center jump, Barney cannot be equalled, as he managed to get the ball practically every time. Good luck to you, Barney!

KENNETH HOLLAND

Holland was Otterbein's high-point man, collecting 170 points to his credit. "Hap" is a sophomore and it looks as though he is going to be one of the best players in the state next year. Holland was given honorable mention on the All-Ohio team, and should without any trouble make the All-Ohio first team next year.

KARL WORSTELL

Worstell's ability to get the tip-off accounted for Otterbein getting possession of the ball. Lank was also a valuable man in getting the ball out of the backboard, and he made numerous tip-in shots in this way. It usually took two men to guard Lank at the pivot position, but this didn't bother him, as he continued to make his one-handed shots. Lank also received honorable mention on the All-Ohio team.

PAUL MAIBACH

Maibach played a guard position with Andrews and was a tower of strength on the defense. Paul is only a sophomore and got his first taste of college basketball this year, but evidently he liked it. Much credit goes to Maibach for his good guarding and for his ability to break up and intercept the opponent's passes.

RAYMOND SCHICK

Schick played a guard position and showed up in a fine way when called upon to relieve Andrews or Maibach. Schick was the fastest man on the team, and he broke up quite a few plays that might have counted for baskets. Schick is a junior, and with the experience gained this year should prove a valuable man to the team next year.

VIRGIL HINTON

Hinton was a very valuable man this year and played a fine brand of basketball. Virge plays an excellent floor game and has a left-hand hook shot that accounted for quite a few points. Hinton is a junior and will probably fill one of the forward positions on the team next year.

KENNETH AXLINE

Axline played his last game for Otterbein against Capital and came through in a commendable manner. Playing guard, he held his man to only two baskets. Ken is a real fighter and whenever the ball got loose Axline was always there to get it. We are sorry that Ken will be lost to the team next year, as he proved himself a very worthy man.

WENDELL HOHN (MANAGER)

Hohn has been one of the finest managers that Otterbein has ever had. Hohn was always at the practices and at the games and it was his duty to see that all equipment and balls were issued and collected at the right times. Being manager is no easy job, but Hohn proved himself very capable in carrying out this position.

FOOTBALL, 1932

The 1932 football season has been the most successful that Otterbein has had in many years. Facing only tough opponents with no breather games, the Cardinals were forced to battle against injuries which kept the first string backs out of action in many games. One of the big reasons for the fine record hung up was the spirit that the team showed and the man responsible for that spirit was Dr. Edler. He is now affectionately termed by his players as "the grand old man of football." At a banquet held at King Hall the men presented Dr. Edler with a cup upon which the above was engraved.

Nine senior gridmen donned their Cardinal grid togs for the last time. Francis, Bowell, Andrews, Axline, Henry, Heil, Short, Lane and Martin were these men who played their last football game for Otterbein and each man covered himself with glory. These men will be missed and their places will be hard to fill when the roll is called next fall.

Once again Otterbein placed two men on the All-Ohio team. Barney Francis and Dan Bowell are the two men to get this great honor. Barney was captain and played quarter back. Bowell played a guard and it was very seldom that anyone got through him.

OBERLIN BOWS IN FIRST GAME, 18-0. The game opened up slowly with a punting duel going on between Francis and Sans. Captain Francis was gaining steadily on each exchange of punts and as the half ended, Otterbein had the ball on Oberlin's 15-yard line.

Opening the third period Oberlin drove to the Otterbein 3-yard line, where Schott recovered a fumble. Francis made a beautiful 70-yard punt, thus putting Otterbein out of danger. After gaining 44 yards in exchanges of punts, Francis threw a long pass to Lane who was downed on the 6-yard line. Short made the first touchdown on a line plunge. A long pass, Schick to Francis, netted the second score.

Late in the fourth period, Francis broke loose and made another touchdown. The final score, 18-0.

KENT STATE DEFEATED, 19-0. Otterbein's grid machine failed to do much in the first half, but in the second half, Otterbein ran wild. Schick reaped much praise from this game as he made brilliant runs of 75 and 65 yards. Van Gundy blocked a punt in the third quarter and ran 15 yards for the last touchdown. Final score, 19-0.

It looks like Otterbein was due to have her first undefeated team in years. The Cardinals were good. Then in the Kent State game, Schott and Bowell were injured. Schott was taken to an Akron Hospital with a serious kidney injury. Bowell had his knee hurt and was out for three games.

OHIO NORTHERN WINS, 9-0. Ohio Northern was Otterbein's Homecoming opponent. Otterbein again had many men on the injured list and Short and Scott were removed from the game in the first quarter. Northern scored its first win in five years over the Cards with a sixty-yard dash for a touchdown and a field goal. Quite a bit of discussion followed the game as a result of Schick being called back after running 80 yards to score a touchdown, but officials cannot change their decisions and Otterbein suffered her first defeat, 9-0.

CAPITAL BEATEN, 6-0. After three hectic quarters of poor football playing. The first quarter was a punting battle and so was the second. Otterbein opened up in the third quarter, outplaying the Lutherans, but lacked the necessary scoring punch. In the fourth period, Schick ran 53 yards before being halted. Francis then made a 19-yard run putting the ball on Capital's one-foot line. Otterbein fumbled on a bad pass from center and lost the ball. Capital in attempting to kick, forgot that Van Gundy was an expert punt-blocker, and the ball was blocked with Lane recovering it in the end zone. Final score, 6-0.

ASHLAND HELD TO 0-0. Ashland's strong, powerful team invaded Otterbein, but were held to a scoreless tie. Although the Cardinals outgained their heavy rivals, they lacked the scoring punch. The game was hard fought by both teams and at times it seemed as though Otterbein was going to score. In the third period Otterbein had the ball on the 10-yard line but were held for downs. Again in the fourth period, Otterbein had a scoring chance but failed. Final score, 0-0.

KENYON DEFEATED, 12-0. Kenyon was Otterbein's next victim and were defeated by a 12-0 score. For the first time since the beginning of the season the entire squad was in condition and they easily trounced Kenyon. Beautiful passes by Francis and the running of the entire backfield proved Otterbein to be the superior team. Otterbein could have easily made the score larger, but instead the substitutes were sent in to finish the game. Otterbein's goal was never once threatened.

TOLEDO WINS, 12-7. Toledo University's hard hitting Rockets handed the Cardinals their final defeat of the season by a 12-7 score. Errors on the part of the Otterbein team proved very costly in this game, but we were not outplayed. In the third quarter Otterbein came back with renewed pep and vigor. The period opened with Otterbein scoring her first touchdown on a beautiful end run by Francis. This put Otterbein ahead, 7-6, but it was only a short time until Toledo broke through the line and made the final score, 12-7.

AKRON HOLDS OTTERBEIN, 0-0. Akron's strong "Zepper" team held Otterbein to a scoreless tie in the last game of the season. Akron threatened to score four times in the first half and Captain Francis had to punt from behind his own goal line.

In the third quarter, Otterbein had the ball the greater part of the time, but could not get within scoring distance. Play was about even in the last period until late in the game when Bowell recovered an Akron fumble on the 50-yard line. Francis gained forty yards on three drives, but the game ended before Otterbein had a chance to score.

BASEBALL, 1932

Otterbein's baseball club from which much was expected, flopped hard from the lack of practice and the Cardinals were able to gain only one verdict. This was at the expense of Muskingum, Ohio Conference Champions, by a 4-3 score in twelve hectic innings.

The material which reported to Coach Edler at the initial practice looked promising, but due to weather conditions and other difficulties, the material was left undeveloped and consequently the Cardinals had a poor season.

The season opened with Ohio State trimming Otterbein 8-0. Had it not been for the errors the score would have been very low. At Ohio Northern, the Cardinals' defense again cracked and they lost, 8-1. During the season Capital took over the Edlermen four times, twice 5-3, once 6-3, and 13-7. Ashland made things more miserable by administering two defeats to the Cardinals, 2-1 and 9-7. Ohio Northern again won an easy victory by a score of 18-10.

Otterbein next played Ohio Wesleyan and again three errors lost, 13-10. Ohio State then came to Westerville and won an 8-1 decision. Then came the sweet climax. Muskingum hadn't lost a game all season, in fact they had won twelve straight and came expecting an easy win from Otterbein. The lead see-sawed back and forth and at the beginning of the ninth inning found the Cardinals one run behind, but after the smoke and dust in the last half of the inning had cleared away, the score was tied. It remained that way until the twelfth, when Bob Lane cracked a single to left field, sending home Sammy Andrews. The final score was 4-3.

Lettermen were Francis, Andrews, Hinton, Paul Schott, Martin, John Schott, Albright, Immarino, Lesh, Lane, Schick, and Captain Bill Botts. Other men on the squad were: Moore, Bennett, Nagel, and Campbell.

TRACK, 1932

The Otterbein cinder artists again demonstrated championship form when they went through their 1932 schedule undefeated. This makes the second consecutive season that the track team has been undefeated.

This season brought forth many unexpected stars. Under the watchful eye of Coach "Beany" Beelman, such men as Schick, Bradshaw, Brubaker, Tryon, Burtner, and others were developed. All these men will be eligible for competition in 1933, thus assuring Otterbein of another fine season.

Probably the outstanding performers for the Cardinals were Barney Francis, Burtner, and Ray Schick and Bradshaw. Francis high jumps, throws the javelin and runs the low hurdles; Barney was high point man on the team. Burtner was the surprise of the season, as he lost only one race and that was a one-mile race against Fredericks, Capital's star distance runner. Bradshaw, a sophomore, performed in a very commendable manner in both the pole vault and the half-mile.

The season started off with an easy victory over Ohio Northern by a score of 77-49. Schick and Francis were high scorers in this match. Otterbein snowed under Kenyon in another easy meet by a score of 87-45. Otterbein's team scored heavily in all events. The final meet was with Capital, and this was no set-up for the strong Otterbein team. It was only after a hard struggle that the Cardinals finally pulled through by a score of 69-62.

From this team Coach Beelman will have back for 1933 the entire team with the exception of Irvin. With the other men all back and a wealth of material in the lower class, Otterbein is due for another fine team.

SEASON IN BRIEF

Capital	62; Otterbein 69

TENNIS, 1932

Bracing up over recent years, the Otterbein racketeers swept through their Ohio Conference schedule undefeated. Added strength was given the team by the return of Captain John Shively and the addition of two sophomores, Dwight Barnes and Charles Botts. George Robinson and Gerald McFeeley, lettermen from last year, together with Arthur Brubaker, K. Aggrey and Fred Peerless, completed the squad.

Several outside matches were lost, but these were of minor importance. Otterbein lost their first match of the year to Bonebrake, 5-1, but later in the season journeyed to Dayton and emerged victorious by a 4-2 score. Ohio Wesleyan defeated Otterbein twice, the first match 7-0, and the second by 6-1.

In the Ohio Conference, Otterbein opened with Kenyon and showed a remarkable improvement over the previous week with Bonebrake, and won 5-1. Kenyon visited Otterbein, but was forced to go away defeated, the score being 4-2.

Capital proved to be Otterbein's toughest conference assignment. In the first encounter the score ended in a tie, 3-3. The second match was won by Otterbein by a 4-2 score. By winning this match Otterbein was given credit for winning both matches.

Muskingum was easily defeated in two matches, the first by a 7-0 score and the second by a 6-1 score.

Captain John Shively, Botts, and Robinson represented Otterbein in the Ohio Conference tournament held at Oberlin. In the singles Shively and Robinson were eliminated in the first round. The doubles team, Shively and Botts, fared better, getting to the semi-finals. After winning from Wooster, they lost to Case in the semi-finals. After losing the first match 7-5, Otterbein made a come-back and won the second 7-5. Otterbein led in both the third and fourth matches, but lacked the punch to win and lost both, 7-5.

Otterbein should have another championship team in 1933, as the entire squad will be back. There are also men in the lower classes that are going to prove valuable to the team.

Following the custom of previous years, the basketball season was divided into two parts, league and class. League basketball afforded an opportunity for girls who were interested to play. The various teams were trained by members of the basketball coaching class. The spirit of rivalry ran high through these games. Perhaps even more important to the real basketball devotee were the class games. There were two exciting rounds of class basktball this season, with each team glorying in playing its best.

In the Prune League, the Dubs, who were also last year's champs, easily defeated every team in that league.

The play-off game between these two teams was one of the toughest intramural games ever played. After being tied 23-23 at the end of the regular game, Annex forged ahead in the overtime period and won, 28-25.

The Women's Intersocial Group Council was organized as a governing body for the eight existing sororities on Otterbein's campus, and is composed of two members from each sorority. It attempts to keep a spirit of friendliness and co-operation among the groups.

The most important problem facing the group is that of rushing. This year a new plan was tried. Rushing began the second semester and lasted for two and a half weeks. During this time each club had one party, the date being chosen by lot. At the close of that time each group submitted its bids to the Dean of Women, who was appointed as Moderator, and she also received the preference of the Freshmen.

MAY DAY, 1932

May Day dawned bright and clear in honor of our beautiful queen, Rhea. At 10:30 a beautiful human garden bloomed in her honor. She was crowned by the retiring queen, dainty Arnellon Drake.

As the services progressed, graceful narcissi swayed in the breezes, colorful poppies nodded to and fro, and the dainty bluebells and daffodils danced for the queen. Even Jack-in-the-Pulpit and Peony were there to celebrate the occasion. The bright tulips and shy violets brought their greetings and the frogs hopped around. The virgin daisies were followed by the lovely rose. The trailing columbines swung to the music and the butterflies flitted about. Finally, the pansies twined the maypole, and the queen retired with her attendants.

ORATORICAL CONTESTS

Oratorical activities this year at Otterbein included the regular annual contests, with the Men's State Oratorical Contest being featured as the main event of the year. This annual contest, including participants from Akron University, Baldwin-Wallace, Heidelberg, Kent State, Muskingum, Ohio University, Ohio Wesleyan, Otterbein, Wooster, and Wittenberg, is rotated among these various schools, so that Otterbein acts as host only once in ten years. In the contest, held February 17, John Weaver, college orator for Otterbein, was eliminated in the preliminary contests. Weaver's oration was entitled, "America's Last Opportunity." Ernest Greenwald, representing Ohio University, was accorded first place with the oration, "Toward Saner Values."

The annual Russell declamation contest attracted much attention this year, as twenty-three contestants entered the preliminaries, with nine remaining for the finals.

In the contest, held in December, Dorothy Metzger, sophomore, won with the declamation, "The Pearl of Great Price." Richard Caulker, with "Black and White," placed second. Ella B. Smith, presenting "A Magic Personality," and Frances Riegle's "The Insistent Question," received third and fourth positions respectively.

Other students who participated were: Mary Otsuki, "The Moonlight Sonata"; Ruth Owens, "For the Sake of a Little Child"; Marjorie Bowser, "Happiness and Liberty"; Helen Penick, "The Challenge of the Hour."

KOTTERBEIN KOLLEGE REORGANIZED!

DUTH RICUS MADE DEAN OF WOMEN

The Dean has made a new code out of the old "four walls" commandments. Her idea has just turned the commandments around. Instead of being in at night by eight or what time is it, our fine, noble dean says the girls must be in at eight A. M. and have to sleep in the day time. That old class cut rule is changed and we have to go to school the number of times that we previously had cuts. If you have sixteen hours you must sleep only sixteen hours in the class rooms to get through instead of only getting sixteen cuts. All girls are required to get special permission to go to classes more than the required number of hours to get through, and she says that only the dumbest will be allowed special permission. Week-end privileges have been changed from the old idea of Saturday to Sunday nights, from Sunday night to Saturday afternoon. Duth Ricus has also decided to stay in Paris so she can keep the girls in touch with the ever-changing styles. Her commanding ways and influence is such that none of the girls would think of breaking the regulations although she will be at a few hours distance.

VUDY RALLE OBTAINED

It is only fitting that the faculty of Kotterbein Kollege should sponsor the first dance authorized under the new regime and they have consented to do so.

The hop is to be held in the crystal room of Gilliam's Will on October 44, 1944 (a bit ahead of time, but something to look forward to.)

The big feature of the evening will be a tap-dance by none other than Rert Bine, our president—and to the music of Vudy Rallé, a premier dance orchestra of the country.

It is expected to be the big social function of the year and already nine hundred and ninety-nine reservations have been called in. If you have not secured your reservation, call Shamokin 1944 (advertisement). The committee has arranged for one thousand couples and it is feared that equally as many will have to be turned away or sent to the Greystone.

A luncheon will be served at 1:30 A. M. consisting of coffee, tea, and milk, along with snags, after which the crowd will disband to the tune of "Comin' Through the Rye."

By making nine naturals and five elevens in succession, Shan Hott, captain of the Red and Green dice aggregation, led his team to a thrilling and undispected victory last night, after four days and equally as many nights of continued rolling.

The final score was Red and Green with three dollars and forty-four cents, to Yellow Streaks dead broke.

These boys are to be commended on their marvelous achievement.

CAN WE ENDURE?

Unless the prevailing conduct in the chapel is corrected in the near future, the Bored of Trusties will be forced to do away with these recreational periods.

There has been quite a bit of incoherent interest during these periods and it is the sincere hope of the Bored this malady will be corrected.

Do we appreciate the efforts of the Bored in securing these loquacious personalities for our benefit in order to quiet our shattered nerves after a hard day of classes? I'm afraid we do not. What I mean is, I am afraid we have not cultivated one of the higher arts, viz., that of listening.

A sacrifice has been made for us. Our parents have been burdened with tuition, accidental fees, and what-not so that we might be able to enjoy the higher things of life.

We alone can bring about the change to attentive behavior and preserve these much-needed, and to a few, apparently interesting chapel services.

Fellow students, the fate of Kotterbein Kollege's chapel periods lies in our hands. Are we going to close our mits and crush them or are we going to cultivate the art of listening? I challenge you. There must be a change, else we be denied this privilege.

RERT BINE REPLACES C. W. GLIPPINGER AS PRESIDENT

Kotterbein Kollege is looking forward to bigger and better things in the coming years.

With Rert Byan replacing the late C. W. Glippinger as President, the college enrollment is expected to increase to capacity and it is thought that a limit will restrict number of students enrolled.

Rert Byan says he aims to make Kotterbein Kollege one of the outstanding kolleges in the state of Ohio from the standpoint of social life as well as in scholastic attainment.

Some of the new innovations of the college are: Bi-weekly dances in which the faculty will figure, girl's football and track contests, three-day-a-week classes of one-half hour length, no compulsory chapel, and the student council has the right to hire and fire the members of the faculty, as the council will act in the capacity of a Board of Trustees.

The most modern device of the college is the adoption of the so-called salaried-attendance system. Under this system Profs will be paid on the basis of the number of "cuts" from classes. That is to say, if a professor cuts a class once his salary will be increased in proportion. This idea is entirely new and the council fears that Profs will "cut" as frequently as the students used to under the old system. Be that as it may, the administration has decided to experiment and the students have voiced their approval.

EALE DVANS IS APPOINTED DEAN

Eale Dvans, a mystic sort of soul, has been chosen to act as dean of men as well as prexy of the Publicity Board.

The Board of Trustees considered numerous applicants and, after due deliberation and inconsideration of Dvans' wide experiences with the President, Dvans was given the position. The new dean is, to say the least, broad minded and should get along with the men of the college with little difficulty as he is in a position to know their habits and is quite adept in forecasting their actions which will enable the administration to run the college accordingly.

Being President of the Board of Trustees, the dean has launched a campaign for new students. Various means, such as, newspaper, radio and capitalizing on the success of our basketball team in the past season will be used in this campaign.

It is useless to speak of Dvans' extensive training and knowledge along this line. Actions speak louder than words.

SPORT NEWS

The high tootin' tardinals of Kotterbein Kollege will amble up state to Nhio Orthern via airplane to trounce the overconfident teddy-bears or bear-kitties in the most talked-about game of the season.

The team will leave Kotterbein Kollege's airport at 1 P. M. in uniform and a large crowd of by-standers is expected to see them off. (Off what, we don't know, but we'll guess with you.) The aggregation will return the same way they went at approximately 352½ P. M. and will have added another victory to the already exciting forty-four. This game will be placed in the bag as it is expected to be a push-over.

CLASS MAN IS AQUATIC CHAMP!

Class Sec. Downs Salt Singers in Whoopee Water Party!

Midst the drowning roar of yells and whoops the Class Secretary downed, not drowned, the one and only Inek Wilson, in the race for death, I mean honor, tomorrow noon. It was a thrilling race 'till the end with the two contestants neck and neck and sometimes you couldn't see their necks. (Pardon the necking, it must have been that date I had the other night.)

To go on with the story I might say, as stated above, the large audience was surprised and at the end congratulated both contestants as they were undecided as to the winner.

The author was one of the three who witnessed the affair and after due deliberation, has decided that our own class Secretary be crowned the victor.
