ALUMNUS SPEAKS AT EVENING SERVICE

Y. M. C. A. Secretary Tells of Association's Work in Army Camps.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. among the soldiers of the belligerent countries was explained by Mr. E. C. Worman, Y. M. C. A. secretary in India, in an interesting talk at the United Brethren church last night. Mr. Worman introduced his subject with a short explanation of what the Y. M. C. A. has meant to the Indian soldiers, who are so bound by their rule of caste. In Mesopotamia and especially in Egypt, where temptations are so great and so difficult to resist, the Y. M. C. A. has been of great help in solving the problem of discipline by the provision of games, reading and writing materials, and other interests, with which the men become occupied.

It is in the hospitals and prison camps that the Y. M. C. A. renders especially valuable service. In these prison camps where the endless monotony is a worse menace than bullets; the men often go mad through the lack of something to do. This pitiable condition has been bettered greatly since the establishment of the Y. M. C. A., where the men may come to read, write or amuse themselves with games. It frequently happens that in these camps there are professors and musicians. Through the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. the musicians have organized orchestras and the professors have classes where almost any subject can be studied.

The explanation of the Y. M. C. A. among our own soldiers was especially interesting. Foreseeing the great need, the Y. M. C. A. mobilized its forces even before the national army was mobilized, and in the cantonments which are being established in the United States the Y. M. C. A. headquarters are the first to be built. There is but one Y. M. C. A. for every 5000 men and ten thousand dollars will equip one for a year. The equipment includes a victrola, piano, lantern slides, magazines, writing materials and a place in which to rest and be sociable.

There are two hundred of these Y. M. C. A. camps in the United States and the service that they render cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

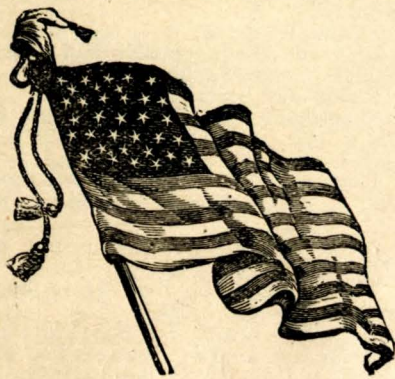

PHILATHEA ENTERTAINS THE NEW GIRLS

Friday evening, at the beautiful home of Mrs. A. G. Crouse on College avenue, the members of Philathea entertained all of the new girls in college. The Crouse home was ablaze with brilliant lights and the eighty young women in light-colored evening frocks presented an unusual scene.

The decoration was a profusion of rose and white astors and cosmos. On entering each girl was presented with an odd shaped rose-colored card, and told to find her partner by matching her card. It was so arranged that each member's piece of card would fit that of a new girl. When matched, they were found to be verses or jingles cleverly written in white ink, and appropriate ones; such as Rah! Rah! for Otterbein—O. U. will shine tonight, etc.

Prexy Talks in Chapel.

President Clippinger in occupying the chapel period Monday morning, impressed upon the student body, something of the seriousness of the war condition. He said that the rural districts as a rule had not awakened to the fact that we are at war and that most of us do not realize how serious the war is, until it strikes us personally. He also spoke of the opportunity that was open to those who could not go to the front, to aid in peaceful pursuits. In closing the President commended the members of the present student body for following out their original purpose by returning to college this fall when so many are staying at home.

SOPHS HOLD FIRST PUSH AT FAIR GROUNDS

Wednesday evening the first class push of the season was enjoyed by the class of 1920. We left Cochran Hall shortly after six o'clock and went at once to the old fair grounds east of the city. By the time we arrived there we were some thirty strong although a few of the thirty were rather weak from carrying the eats.

A huge bonfire was started at once and by its light the fun commenced. Every one took part in the games and general good time. This served to whet up an appetite for the eats which followed. We roasted marshmallows and weiners. Other things on the bill of fare were sandwiches and pickles, cider and pumpkin pie.

After we ate we yelled. The old fair grounds fairly rocked with the class and college yells we gave. Then we left and the push was ended.

Prof. and Mrs. L. A. Weinland, as usual proved very popular chaperons.

PHILOMATHEA HOLDS ANNUAL STAG SESSION

Last Friday evening was the time set for the annual stag session of Philomatheia. The regular session for the evening took the form of an extemporaneous session and every number on the program was well given. At the close of this regular session, members and guests gathered about the hall in informal groups while refreshments were served. These consisted of potato salad, ham sandwiches, hot cocoa, ice cream, and cakes. In carrying out this part of the program the committee in charge "gave full proof of their calling," as those present, Professor Rosselot among the rest, will testify.

Philomatheia and her guests were called to order in informal session by committee chairman, I. M. Ward, who introduced as toastmaster for the evening, Professor A. P. Rosselot. From the time Professor Rosselot took the chair until the close of the last speech there was one continuous round of wit and humor mingled with sound advice and counsel.

R. E. Kline, jr., of the class of '18, gave the opening address of welcome which was responded to by Dr. Chas. E. Snavely. Then I. M. Ward favored the company with a solo, which in every way served to hold his reputation around Otterbein as a soloist. The toastmaster then called upon Professor L. A. Weinland, T. H. Bradrick, Dr. John H. Francis, and Dr. E. A. Jones. These gentlemen with the exception of Dr. Jones, who however wishes to be classed with the rest, are all graduates of Philomatheia and remain as loyal to her today as when they were active members. Among the things mentioned in the speeches was the fact that though the number of men in school is small this year, this very fact gives those who are here greater opportunities than ever for development. They can make or break the cause working for good in Otterbein. From every speaker came the best wishes for a record year for the Society.

How many are going to Granville Saturday? Let's have a crowd of rooters on the side lines! Pep on the side lines means more pep in the team. Pep gets touch-downs. A good crowd of Otterbeinites may mean the necessary touch-down.

OTTERBEIN SPIRIT REVIVED BY RALLY

Coach Gorton Urges Conscription To Supply Football Material.

The old "Otterbein Spirit" was greatly in evidence last Thursday evening when the student body and faculty of the college came back strong with a rousing foot-ball rally.

At about seven-thirty the band began to play in front of the college and soon the entire student body had collected. The old time snake-dance was given with rousing yells on the street corners.

The crowd then congregated in the college chapel for the program of the rally. Vance Cribbs acted as chairman of the meeting. "Cocky" Wood, class of '17, and for the past two years cheer-leader of the college led the yells with all of his old "pep".

Professor Rosselot gave an instructive talk on the value of football and the opportunity of the new men this year, and closed with a strong appeal to the loyalty of both the old and new men. Rosselot is an old varsity man and knows the game.

Dr. Jones gave a speech with his usual punch and fighting spirit. He made a strong appeal to the loyalty of the student body.

Betty Fries spoke for the girls of Cochran Hall and told the fellows of the terrible fate awaiting them if they did not go out for foot-ball, and the new girls of the worse fate to them if they gave dates to fellows who did not go out.

"Pearly" Mase told us of the work of the men thus far and spoke of Coach Gorton.

"Chuck" Campbell an old varsity man gave us the dope as it looked from the outside. And urged the co-operation of the entire school to make a winning team.

Coach Gorton took the platform amid the applause of the entire assembly. He brought his "pep" and "bull-dog" fighting spirit right off the gridiron into the meeting. He first told us all the difficulties of the situation and how they must be overcome, and then gave the brighter aspect and the encouragement that Otterbein would have a good team. He laid down the rules to the girls; no dates with foot-ball men, no fudge for foot-ball men, etc. He made a strong appeal for more men and threatened to use the conscription plan if they did not come out. If this plan did not work he said he would follow the example of Russia and play girls on the field. We all have confidence in Coach Gorton and believe that he will make for us a winning team.

CLEIORHETEA AND PHILOPHORNEA HAVE JOINT PUSH

On last Monday evening occurred the annual push of the Cleiorheteian-Philophronean Literary Societies. The crowd gathered at the society halls and walked to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Barnes. The fore part of the evening was taken up in playing games, after which lunch was served. After the lunch Mr. Brown took charge, and the following program was rendered:

Reading Freda Frazier
Speech R. P. Mase
Remarks Prof. C. O. Altman, '05
This was followed by a few yells and some songs, and the party broke up.

GRIDIRON BUMPS

For the past week Coach Gorton has been putting his men through some regular gridiron drill. One of the strenuous phases of this is charging under the rope to give endurance. And it certainly ought to.

Kenneth Arnold has been chosen foot-ball manager and is taking hold of the work with the proper spirit.

Howard Moore is assistant manager and is capably assisting manager Arnold.

Coach Gorton went to Columbus Friday to purchase new shoes for the team. He evidently intends to put the team on a good footing.

Perry has been forced to leave the gridiron on account of work.

Hert and Barnhart, two old veterans at the game are on the field this week.

Vernon will probably have to quit the game on account of injuries.

It is rumored that three new fellows who look like good foot-ball material will be out this week.

The weight of the team this year will be about 160 pounds.

It is reported that "Big" Higlemire is coming back this week. We hope he hurries.

Coach Gorton who is a personal friend of Coach Castleman of Ohio State, was in Columbus Friday watching the O. S. U. team work out.

The coach has been giving the boys theory work on the black-board evenings.

Next Saturday we play Denison. Our team cannot win without a large crowd of rooters. Every student and supporter of Otterbein should be on the side line next Saturday. We're all going!

The rally got back the old time "pep" all right. We ought to have a bon-fire before next Saturday.

What about a cheer leader? Are we going to Granville Saturday without a leader? Let's get one. What do you say?

It's going to be mighty hard to get dates at Otterbein this fall. If you're not a foot-ball man you can't and if you are you "dassent."

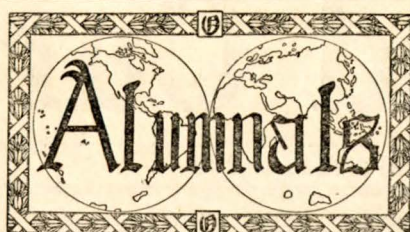

Talk about selective draft! If Uncle Sam don't get you Coach Gorton will.

"Rossy" says if you can't go to war, get out on the foot-ball field.

Cleio Takes Truck Ride.

Another of the social functions of the week was the "push" given in honor of the new girls by Cleiorheta Wednesday night. Although hurriedly planned it was a social success and thoroughly enjoyable.

Chaperoned by Miss Hanawalt the party—or bevy, left Cochran Hall about six o'clock via Longhenry's truck bound for Big Walnut. A few fellows, as a sort of necessary evil, were taken along and they provided a huge bon-fire as soon as the destination was reached. Hot ham sandwiches, pickles, marshmallows, pop and green apples were the eats, the ham being fried in true "Camp Fire Girl" fashion. A short so-called program of readings, songs and characteristic speeches preceded the breaking of camp. The truck load reached town long before the sophomores returned from the fair grounds, everyone apparently having enjoyed "herself."

'95. The Pittsburgh Gazette Times of August 12 contains a fine full page illustrated article by Daisy Custer Shoemaker, on "Socializing the Teacher." This is a new department in public school work inaugurated lately at Margaret Morrison Carnegie School of Pittsburgh, having as its aim the better equipment of the teacher through social service training, for handling the problems of alien children, and through the child, to aid the great cause of Americanization. Mrs. Shoemaker was the only Pittsburgh writer invited to be the guest of the Institute for Social Service held this summer at the Carnegie Institute of Technology. The article is indicative of Mrs. Shoemaker's careful and masterly style and she is to be congratulated on the success she has attained as a writer of special articles.

'14. Miss Agnes Drury of Dayton has just been appointed by the Foreign Society as a missionary to the Philippine Islands, to be a co-worker with Miss Matilda Weber, in the Young Women's Bible Training School at San Fernando. Miss Drury has had excellent training for this important work, having taken post-graduate work at Ohio State, Bonebrake Theological Seminary and Chicago University. She will also take special studies in methods of Bible study in New York this fall, preparatory to sailing for the Philippines in December.

Rev. L. B. Bradrick, brother of T. H. Bradrick and Mrs. C. S. Pilkington, goes to Wilson Avenue Methodist church, Cleveland, according to announcement of the Western Ohio conference. O. L. Williams goes to Sunbury and D. A. Morris to Galena. Mr. Williams is a new preacher at Sunbury.

PHILALETHEA ENTER-TAINS THE NEW GIRLS

tet. Neva Anderson, Charlotte Kurtz, Ruth Fries and Agnes Wright sang "Summer Night" by Oehme. This was thoroughly enjoyed. Then Helen Keller made everyone laugh when she read "Adam and Eve in the Apple Tree." Neva Anderson sang "La Folletta" (Madcap). Marchesi, most pleasingly and was followed by a piano selection "Manska" by Agnes Wright.

A series of charades was given next by a number of girls, which proved very unique in their presentations. All had a chance to guess.

After the program, the girls were escorted in groups to the large and artistically-arranged dining room. Here again, the rose and white predominated. On the table, a huge crystal candelabra held the rose-colored candles, the light from these, making the room doubly attractive. The dainty refreshments carried out the color scheme and were served most temptingly.

The college songs and Philalethea were sung and all expressed their thanks to Mrs. Crouse, the efficient committee and all of the Philaletheans for their delightful evening.

Those present besides new girls and members included Dr. Sherrick, Prof. Guitner, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Wagoner, Mrs. Snavely, Mrs. Weinland and Mrs. Rosselot.

ATHLETICS.

In spite of the war football promises to be as popular this year as ever and Otterbein will give an account of herself at the end of the season that will be wholly acceptable. Everywhere we hear the lament that "men are scarce." If this be true, and it certainly is, there is all the more need for the men that are here to get out and show what they can do. Not within recent years has there been such an opportunity for a man to do something for his college in athletics and at the same time make a name for himself. We need not think that because we are crippled by the lack of men that we shall be an "easy mark" for our opponents this year. Other colleges have been hit as hard as we and will have just as many new un-seasoned men on their teams as we shall have. Now let us see every able-bodied man, without a reasonable excuse, out for football. You may not amount to much individually but it is the team as a whole that counts.

This publication is yours, therefore it is your duty to see that it succeeds.
Have you subscribed for it? Are you boosting it?

CLUB TALK

Some one has truthfully said, "You get out of an organization just what you put into it. The Y. M. C. A. started the new year with two live meetings. What are we going to get out of it?"

Mr. A. will go to all the meetings, take an active part in all the association work and will receive a great amount of good from it.

Mr. B. will not go to very many, if any, of the meetings. He will plead too busy when called upon to do some active work for the association. To him the Y. M. C. A. will mean nothing but a useless organization. He will wonder why it exists and why it doesn't do something for the student body. In reality, he is to blame, but it would take ten thousand years to convince him that it was thus and not the fault of the men in the organization.

Old Men: You know what the Otterbein Y. M. C. A. has stood for in past years. You know that all the school leaders were big factors in Y.
M. work. You know that when you decline to take an active part in this work you are only cutting off your own nose. The enrollment will be small this year any-way, so why not get into line and enjoy the benefits which are certain to come to the individual on account of the diminished enrollment?

New Men: You are acquainted with your association at home. Ours is a similar organization. You have seen two of our regular Thursday evening meetings. With in a short time some one will wait upon you and ask you to join. Forget about this question.
"Can I afford to join the Y?" and ask yourself "Can I afford to miss it?"
—A Cabinet Member.

We Need A Cheer Leader

What is Otterbein to do for a cheer leader this year? Our own "Cocky" Wood who has led the yells so ably for several years is now an alumnus.
Last spring when it was announced that there would be tryouts for the position of cheer leader, no candidates appeared. Might not some person volunteer to serve his Alma Mater in this capacity. We should hate to think that there is no one in our number who is qualified to take charge of this. Of course it would require some originality and practice but there is certainly some one who will take hold of this. When the call is given for tryouts may we have at least a dozen candidates.

OUR HONOR ROLL

On our first page appears a semi-complete list of the men who have left this institution to take up arms in defense of democracy. A half century since, a similar call came, and it was answered by the same willingness that has characterized the present enlistments. The soldiers' monument on the campus testifies to the fact that Otterbein men are always ready to respond in a crisis. It may be that in years to come a similar memorial will be erected to the memory of some of those that were so recently in our midst, and that are now wearing the khaki. We know that all Otterbein men now in the service and those that may enter later will give a good account of themselves and so hurry the time when they may return to the peaceful paths they have left.

Watch this roll as it grows: If you know of any additions or corrections, send them in at once. We want to know where our boys are.

Wallace Miller, a former student and football man is a member of the headquarters company stationed at Wooster.

WE WANT MORE LIKE THIS.

Following is a letter received this morning from a firm supporter of Otterbein journalism. He has the right spirit, and more letters like this one would bring joy to the ex-staffs of the Aegis and Review
as well as to the staff of the Tan and Cardinal.

Gentlemen:

I am enclosing check for subscription to the "Review" as per bill.
Also please find another check for the "Tan and Cardinal" as per first issue of same, a courtesy for which I feel indebted to your management.

Permit me to wish a brilliant success for this very worthy venture.

Respectfully,

P. S. If there is a member of your Sophomore class, whose hat is smaller than his head, by the name of Carl Lewis Smith, I am rather inclined to believe that he is a nephew of mine.

The remark about his hat is based upon the autocratic rules his class has formulated for the poor defenseless Freshman.

Pep! That's what we wanted and that's what we got at our big football rally on Thursday evening.

"Chuck" Campbell '15, one of Otterbein's old athletes was drafted and left Saturday morning for training camp at Chillicothe.

Ladies' Phoneix Silk Hose, 55c, 80c, $1.15 and $1.50. E. P. Norris.—Adv.

Cecil Bennett also was drafted and is now in training at Chillicothe. We all hope he likes camp life as well as making dopes.

The Y. M. C. A. is sending a copy of "The Tan and Cardinal" to each Otterbein man who is in training camp. We know our boys will appreciate getting the paper.

Take advantage of our long experience in measuring for suits. Fit guaranteed. E. J. Norris.—Adv.

"Fat" Lingrel, '17, came back to Westerville Friday evening for a short visit. We are all glad to see him and hope he will come often.

It's easy to guess why Charlotte is so happy, when Booth, '17, is coming you know.

Let us fit you in a Spalding V neck. E. J. Norris.—Adv.

The girls were very much pleased with the talk given at dinner Wednesday evening by Dean McFadden; and hope the respect for the Seniors will continue.

Changing tables in the dining room at Cochran Hall was an interesting feature for new girls.

Walk Over or Bostonian Shoes. Latest shapes and leathers. E. J. N.—Adv.

The Art Department of Otterbein is growing fast this year. The art students are glad to have visitors any time. Go up and see what they are doing.

Get your athletic goods from E. J.—Adv.

The Cochran Hall girls have started to go home for little visits already. Helen Vance and Edythe Cave are spending the week-end at home.

Nice line ladies' school shoes and street shoes. E. J. Norris.—Adv.

Ben Carlson, an Otterbein student for the past two years, left Tuesday for Washington where he will join an engineering corps of the United States Army. The corps will leave for France within a few weeks. His work will consist of constructing shelters for artillery.

FORMER O. U. STUDENT TO CONDUCT DODGE AGENCY

Westerville is to have another up-to-date garage. E. H. Mathias, former Otterbein student and for the past year and half proprietor of a Ford agency in Cincinnati, has leased the Johnson garage room on West Main street, formerly Foster's livery barn, where he will conduct a Dodge agency and general garage.

A new concrete floor will be laid in the room. Mr. Mathias will also install a gasoline station. He has the Dodge agency for Blendon, Genoa and Plain townships and an option on Sharon, Mifflin and Jefferson. Associated with him will be Gus Haueter, also a former Otterbein student, who has been in the Cadillac factory for the past two years. The new organization will be known as the Westerville Auto Sales company.

Y. M. C. A.

New Athletic Business

Manager Will Speak.

Thursday night at the regular hour, Kenneth, or as he is perhaps better known, "Red" Arnold will speak to the boys at the Y. M. C. A. on "Self." Do you think you can afford to miss it?

Do your bit!

Publicity Committee.

The second meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held last Thursday evening resolved itself into a student's meeting. J. C. Siddall acted as leader, giving a live talk on the general meaning and work of the Association and closing with valuable practical suggestions for the local organization. Mr. Siddall said, "In spite of the fact that the war has taken so many of our cabinet members, this year must be and will be a good one for the Y. M. C. A. of Otterbein College. We are few in number but we can make up in real practical undertakings. There are at present between fifteen and twenty Otterbein men in the training camps in different part of the country. These men are interested in their Alma Mater and their friends who are still in school. What could be more expressive of the Association's regard for them and interest in them than to send each one of them a copy of the college paper every week and if possible to see that each one receives a letter practically every week from some one here?" Mr. Siddall also suggested work in the barracks at Columbus.

After the conclusion of Mr. Siddall's talk several of the other students expressed their hearty sympathy with the suggestions and a committee was appointed to look after the matter.

ROLLIN DURANT WRITES FROM LONG ISLAND

Military discipline prevails now in all training camps and it is that fact that gets the boys in bad that are used to sleeping long hours. Rollin Durant who is a member of the Fourth Regiment band in camp now at Mineola, Long Island, had his first tastes of military discipline a short time ago while the band was at Camp Perry. Rollin gives the reveille but the day before had been a hard one and he overslept. When the reveille fails to sound there's something always happens in camp. It happened. He chopped wood that day.

Excerpts of an interesting letter which he wrote his parents last week describing his trip from Camp Perry to Long Island follows:

"We left Camp Perry at 4:30 Friday afternoon, September 7, and arrived in Jersey City Saturday evening at 7:30, eastern time, making the trip in twenty-six hours. We were switched around all night and into the 42nd street station at about 12:30 Saturday and night from there through the tubes to Long Island. I went to bed then about 1 o'clock and awakened in Mineola. We then marched to Garden City and set up camp and cleaned up. It is now 2:00 and we are waiting on dinner.

"We went over the Lake Shore line to the Rotterdam Junction then over the West Shore line down the Hudson to New York. All we could see of Cleveland, Erie and Buffalo was the lights but the scenery through New York state, especially down the Hudson, was fine.

"We passed Vassar College, West Point, Stony Point, Matteawan and a U. S. Arsenal going down the Hudson.

"We all over-slept this morning and had to dress in about 3 minutes. Had bacon, potatoes and hard tack, no sugar. Last night we had supper at 8:30. A couple of aeroplanes were flying around, darting and swooping like birds. The last troops to leave started out on a five day hike and ended up on the boat for France, so you will know when we leave by lack of news."

MOTHER OF THREE

O. U. GRADUATES DEAD

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Mauger, aged 73, wife of Rev. Jacob L. Mauger, Columbus passed away suddenly Sept. 6 after an attack of heart disease. Mrs. Mauger and her husband and children lived in Westerville about twenty-five years ago, all the daughters graduating from Otterbein.

Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters, Miss Sarah B. Mauger, at home; Mrs. S. C. Markley of Richmond, Ind., and Mrs. J. B. Bovey of North Baltimore, Ohio. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Mauger home in Columbus, in charge of Dr. T. J. Sanders. Burial was made in Otterbein cemetery.

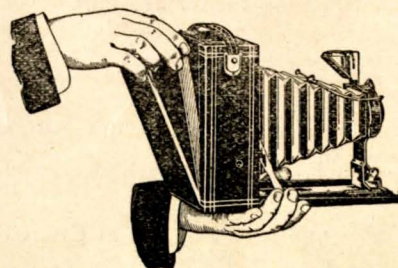

The total subscription list to date is only 146. That means that somebody is not doing his duty. Perhaps that somebody is you. Woe to the man who hasn't enough college spirit to subscribe for his college paper, even if in the securing of the dollar and a half the student runs a risk of a sixty day term at the county workhouse.

Kenneth Arnold, announces that the Association Handbook, the new student's friend, will be ready for distribution within a short time.

Y. W. C. A.

A very hearty welcome was given to all the new girls at Y. W. C. A. Tuesday night. The meeting was led by the president, Alice Ressler who gave a helpful talk on the importance of letting our lives count for the most of which they are capable. Among other things, she said that we should never let trifling circumstances interfere with our duty as Christians. In closing she gave all the girls who are not members of Y. W. C. A. a cordial invitation to join.

Each member of the cabinet was given a chance to explain the work of her committee.

After the meeting there was a frolic out of doors, in which apples and "Run, sheepy, run" featured prominently.
