Home-Coming Game By Hard
Fight—Score 9-0.

GAIN GROUND BY AIR ROUTE

Varsity Works Together Like Veterans—Backs Hit Line for Many Consistent Gains.

Otterbein was back in old form at the big home-coming game Saturday when she played Heidelberg's strong eleven. This was easily the best game of the season and all the old players and fans who came back for the game were well pleased with the fight put up by the Tan and Cardinal team. The teams were evenly matched and the game was intense from start to finish.

Otterbein kicked off and held Heidelberg for downs, forcing them to punt from the thirty-five yard line. Barnhart caught the punt at the goal and ran it back thirty yards. Otterbein made first down. In the next four plays Francis gained consistently through the line, making first down. Otterbein was held and punted. Heidelberg gained steadily through the line making three first downs in which Sayger and Jean were conspicuous. The first quarter ended without either team scoring. In the first of the second quarter Heidelberg failed in an attempt to drop-kick on fourth down and the ball went to Otterbein. Francis made a good gain. Hayes broke through for fifteen yards. Otterbein was forced to punt. Heidelberg made first down, and then made seven yards and were penalized five. They failed to complete a forward pass on fourth down. Hayes carried the ball for five yards and Francis made first down. Smith went through the line for five yards. Francis punted to the thirty yard line where Jean who received the punt was downed in his tracks by Hayes. Sayger made twelve yards and Jean placing the ball on Otterbein's thirty yard line. Jean gained five yards. Sayger made a successful drop-kick from the twenty-five yard line, scoring three for Heidelberg in the last three seconds of the half. The half ended with the kick-off.

In the second half Francis caught Heidelberg's kick-off and returned the ball to the forty yard line. Otter-

The Science Club will hold its regular meeting in Professor Schear's recitation room tonight at 7:30. All students eligible for membership are urged to be present. Eats are promised.

Philophronea Holds Opens Session.

The first open session of Philophronea was well attended last Friday evening. The literary numbers were especially fine, and the music was well rendered. After the business session the following program was given: Declamation—R. L. Roose.

E. S. Schutz, substitute.
Piano Solo—Im Walden . . . Heller
D. D. Hudson
President's Valedictory—
Our National Waste
T. B. Brown
Loyalty March . . . . . King
Philophronean Orchestra
President's Inaugural—
Amid Life's Crag
L. H. Higelmire

Following this excellent program, Mr. A. L. Funk presented to the society a roll of honor, on which the names of all the absent members who are in their country's service are to be inscribed. In behalf of Philophronea, Mr. Mase said a few words in acceptance of this gift.

The President called upon Dr. Clippinger, Dr. Sanders, and Dr. Russell during extemporaneous speaking. In these the speakers gave glimpses of the old Philophronea, and visions of the future. Freda Fraser represented Cleiorhetea. After the singing of Philophronea, the adjournment followed.

PEP MEETING HELD

"Best Ever" Rally in Chapel Thursday Night Furnishes Steam for Saturday's Game.

Who said there was no "pep" in Otterbein and no enthusiasm for athletics? No one has ventured such an opinion since the rally in the college chapel Thursday night. Nearly every student in school was out with the "push" and spirit of the old days and all did their utmost to make it the best football rally ever held.

Success was foretold from the beginning by the introduction of Dr. Sherrick, one-time foot ball antagonist, as the first speaker. Dr. Sherrick stated that inasmuch as she had not as yet been compelled to expend the usual amount of energy in keeping up the grades of the football men, she felt fully justified in using her influence in favor of the game. Not only did this noted literary scholar express frankly her belief in the legitimacy of football as a college sport but she even went so far as to urge attendance at the game Saturday and the importance of an abundant supply of enthusiasm.

Of course, no rally could be a success without speeches from the Seniors. Elmer S. Schutz and Janet Gilbert gave short "peppy" speeches urging support from the sidelines for the men on the team. The climax of the

Philomatheia Has Invited Session.

Friday evening the Philomathean Literary Society threw open its doors to visitors, this being the first invited session of the year. The program rendered immediately following the business session was pronounced by many to have been the best held for many years. The seats were nearly all filled with members and friends who enjoyed the following program: Violin Solo—Selected

Mourer, O. W.
Address—Divine Intentions
Siddall, A. C.
Book Review—Mr. Britling Sees it
Through.

Michael, H. E.
Vocal Solo—
(a) War . . . . . Rodgers
(b) O Heart of Mine . . . Galloway
(c) The Victor . . . . . Kam
Ward, I. M.

Oration—Tribute to France
Kline, R. E.

Music—Philomatheia
The extemporaneous part of the program was especially good. The president asked Prof. L. W. Warson to say a few words to the society. Mr. Pace of Columbus spoke following which Mr. T. H. Ross of last year's class gave some good advice. Miss Lake spoke for Cleiorhetea while Miss Keller represented Philalethea. The society then adjourned after having enjoyed a pleasant evening.

FLETCHER TO LECTURE

Noted Editor and Orator to Appear
As Second Number of Lyceum Course November Ninth.

Thomas Brooks Fletcher, who appears in the Chapel Friday night needs no introduction to Otterbein students. Mr. Fletcher, who is editor of the Marion, O. Tribune lectured here on the Lyceum Course two years ago. Those who heard him at that time can testify as to his ability as a orator. He is this season starting upon his tenth year as a lecturer. He is said to be the youngest man of singular renown upon the American lecture platform.

A man with a message, Mr. Fletcher is remarkable for the vivid pictures by which he brings his thought to his audience. He holds his listeners spellbound by his eloquence and wit while he pounds home the truths that go to make up his message. His personality is such that when he is heard once, he is never forgotten.

This rapid fire word artist, for he is no less than an artist, is becoming a favorite wherever he appears and lecture course committees invariably request his return. By many, he is classed with the most distinguished orators of the present time. He has lectured in nearly every state of the Union, meeting with great success in

ATHLETES ENJOY ROASTED PIG

Varsity "O" and Athletic Club Has Banquet in Parlors of Association Building.

G. O. REAM IS TOASTMASTER

Alumni and Ex-Students Stimulate Enthusiasm in Otterbein Athletics
—Plans Made for Future.

On last Saturday evening the parlor of the Y. M. C. A. was the scene of one of the most thoroughly enjoyable occasions which Otterbein students and alumni have witnessed in many a day. This was the huge banquet of the Varsity "O" Association and the Otterbein Athletic Club. About fifty members and guests were present and partook of the delicious roast pig, the rich brown gravy, the baked beans which far exceeded in quality the famous "Boston baked," the sweet potatoes, the palatable mashed potatoes, the ice cream, and all the other good things that go to make up the the most substantial and delightful "feed" imaginable.

Prof. A. P. Rosselot introduced Sergeant Glenn O. Ream as toastmaster. It will be recalled that Sergeant Ream was elected captain of this year's foot-ball team but was called to Camp Sherman in September.

The toastmaster called on VanSickle, "Milt" Mathews, "Tink" Sanders, "Jack" Johnson, Coach Gorton, Pres. Clippinger, Dr. W. M. Gantz, Bishop Mathews, and Dr. Van Buskirk, each of whom responded with enthusiastic remarks concerning the work of the new coach and his team which gave such a splendid exhibition of consistent training in the game with Heidelberg. Much was said concerning the future of Otterbein athletics.

It is hoped something definite will be done in the near future to secure a larger number of athletes for Otterbein. This sentiment was expressed by many of the alumni present.

All uniformed ex-students of Otterbein we invited to be present at this "feed" and many of the Otterbein soldiers from Camp Sherman were here on furlough for the occasion. It was indeed a fitting windup for a successful home-coming.

Choir Sings at Dry Meeting.

Prof. Bendinger and his choir furnished the music for a "dry" meeting held in Franklin U. B. church Wednesday night. Mr. Richardson of the Anti-Saloon League and Professor Wagoner made the addresses of the evening. Mr. E. E. Harris is pastor of this church.

Remember the recital in Lambert Hall, Wednesday evening.

cis to Hayes, gaining ten yards. Francis made first down. Otterbein penalized for being off-side. Francis punted. Heidelberg fumbled on the twenty yard line and Francis covered the ball. Francis completed a forward pass to Hayes. Otterbein made firstdown but was penalized fifteen yards. Hayes gained eighteen yards. Francis attempted a place kick but Heidelberg blocked it. Otterbein recovered the fumble and completed a twenty-yard pass, Francis to Smith, placing the ball on Heidelberg's ten yard line. A touch-down for Otterbein looked mighty sure. But on the first down Otterbein forward-passed over the goal line and Heidelberg received the ball on the twenty-yard line. Both teams held for downs. Quarter ended with Heidelberg on their thirty-five yard line. In the first few minutes of the last quarter Heidelberg worked the ball to Otterbein's goal and Sayger carried it over for the only touch-down of the game. He failed to kick goal. Evans received the kick-off and tore through the Heidelberg men for twenty-five yards, almost gaining the clear field and a sure touch-down. Francis broke loose for twenty yards and Hayes gained four. Heidelberg intercepted a forward pass. Otterbein held for downs forcing Heidelberg to punt. Barney returned the punt thirty-five yards. The game ended with both teams fighting as hard as at the beginning.

Every man on the Tan and Cardinal team displayed the true Otterbein fighting spirit. Every man played a hard and consistent game. If any distinction at all can be drawn in the merit of the players Francis deserves that distinction.

evening, however, came when the Reverend "Luther" Higelmire attempted the unheard of—the preaching of a sermon at a football rally! "Hig" chose as his text "the twenty-third verse of the thirty-third chapter of the forty-second book of the Egyptian Bible," which reads as follows: "Yet two days and Otterbein shall be exalted." The captain said that he had always had a great deal of respect for Jonah and only regretted that there were not more whales that we might have more Jonahs to proclaim, "Yet two days and Otterbein shall whip Heidelberg."

Coach Gorton, in the closing speech of the evening, foretold a sure victory for the Varsity, as revealed to him in a dream. He had many encouraging things to say for the team and gave assurance of a good score with proper support from the sideline.

During the course of the program at various intervals telegrams were brought in and read from "grads" and ex-students including G. O. Ream, "Al" Elliott, "Chuck" Campbell, Bishop A. T. Howard, and "Fat" Lingrel. These brought messages of encouragement and notification of attendance at the game. It is needless to say that the program was interspersed with the college yells and songs.

the east as well as west. He has appeared in some of the largest colleges and universities in the country and is pronounced by all to be the leader of the younger lecturers and thinkers of this generation.

There are still a number of good seats available for the remainder of the course. If you do not have a season ticket you should see Mrs. Resler at once. To miss this second number is to miss an opportunity of hearing one of the few better lecturers of the age.

Y. M. C. A.

Reports are often said to be dry and void of interest. Be that as it may, "Bob" Kline very seriously threatened the validity of such a statement in his presentation of Dr. John R. Mott's speech at Columbus before the Y. M. C. A. Convention there. This man of world-vision spoke at some length on the condition of Russia today and of her needs. The Y. M. C. A. has and still does exert a very strong influence on the morale of the troops. In one instance in a hard-fought battle the only sector which withstood the attack of the enemy was the one in which the Y. M. C. A. had been established. Dr. Mott also presented the needs of all the warring nations for the help of the association. The "red triangle" working hand in hand with the "Red Cross" may work wonders among the armies of the world, and will without doubt have much to do with determining the length of the war.

A LETTER FROM CAMP

Following is an extract from a letter received by President Clippinger from one of the boys in camp.

Fort Harrison, Oct. 24.

President W. G. Clippinger
My Dear Sir:

Received your letter several weeks ago and am certainly glad to know that old Otterbein is holding her own, war or no war.

Through my friends at Westerville I have been well informed as to the college activities. Everything considered, it seems to me that Otterbein is fortunate in the progress that she is making this year.

You inquired about army life. I hardly know how to answer that. New experiences, new faces, new duties and new and old temptations almost cause one to lose his balance wheel. * * * Yet with all these things army life is far better than I expected. We have plenty to eat, of the substantial kind, plenty of exercise to keep us in good physical condition and plenty of amusement to take, if only for a short time, one's mind from the realities of war.

At this point I want to say a word about the army Y. M. C. A. I have always believed in and supported the Y. M. C. A. though not as much as I ought but I never knew or appreciated its real worth until I joined the army. * * * If you could see the crowds that visit the Y. M. C. A. night and day you would know how the soldiers appreciate it and that it is worth while.

No doubt you know the character of my work, if so this bit of news may not be interesting. I enlisted as a clerk in the Quartermaster Department. In some way or other my enlistment papers were mixed with others or something else happened, for instead of being a clerk I am now a motor truck driver. I have had no experience in this line of work but I am confident that I can learn. We will be taught to drive all kinds of trucks and there are more fellows than myself in camp who have had no such experience.

We were transferred from Fort Crook to Fort Harrison about three weeks ago. So far our duties have consisted of fundamental military drill with an occasional sketching of roads from memory to test our power of observation. We have no trucks yet and probably will not receive them until we arrive in France.

As to how soon we will be in France; that is a question on the lips of everyone. We are equipped for overseas service and I believe that we are only waiting for transportation. Every fellow is anxious to go as soon as possible. * * * I have tried to give you a picture of what army life has meant to me and how it has affected me. Trusting that it has not become monotonous and hoping for an ideal year for Otterbein, I am

Sincerely yours,

H. H. Geiger,

Brooks Fletcher.

He comes to Westerville November 9 as the second number of the Lyceum Course. Mr. Fletcher is editor of the Marion Tribune.

Y. W. C. A.

"A College Woman's Character," was discussed at Y. W. C. A. last week, with Alice Hall as the leader.

Our character is undergoing constant change, for better or for worse, either being elevated or degraded.

Let us ask ourselves this question, What are we worth today? Not in money; not in brains, but in purpose, heart and character. Let us tell ourselves the truth about ourselves.

Commonplace as it may seem the doing of one's duty embodies the highest ideal of life and character.

The influence of character was brought out by the following: "Disappointment, ailment, or even weather depresses us; and our look or tone of depression hinders others from maintaining a cheerful and thankful spirit. We say an unkind thing, and another is hindered in learning the holy lesson of charity that thinketh no evil. We say a provoking thing and our sister or brother is hindered in that day's effort to be meek. How sadly too, we may hinder without word or act! For wrong feeling is more infectious than wrong doing; especially the various phases of ill temper—gloominess, touchiness, discontent irritability. Do we not know how catching these are?"

There are many requisites for a good and noble character, the spirit of duty, sincerity, purpose, work, kindness, manners, happiness, friendliness, cheerfulness, courtesy, purity, thoughtfulness, truthfulness and virtue are among these. Although education is not necessary to obtain all of these the college woman's environment is such that the gaining of these requisites would be possible to all. Thus should the college woman not strive to have the very highest and noblest character?

"Reputation is what men and women think of us; character is what God and the angels know of us."

Westerville, O., under act of March 3, 1879.

"I pledge allegiance to my Flag and to the Republic for which it stands;
one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Physical Education.

According to Newton, every action is accompanied by a corresponding reaction. This proves to be true in society as well as in the realms of Physics. Whenever any change from the existing customs is mentioned
there are always those who oppose it;
some justly, it is true, and that is as it should be, but there are others who make a business of opposing any new thing which does not strike their personal fancy.

Our present system of universal and compulsory physical training has been the subject of a great deal of discussion and the victim of much adverse criticism since the beginning of this year. There are a few persons who think that the Trustees have adopted this system to be arbitrary and to place more work upon the individual. However, that is not the case. The college is spending more than twelve hundred dollars a year in this department, aside from the money given by the athletic clubs.
This in itself should make the department seem to be a part of the curriculum and cause it to be received favorably.

By far the most complaint comes from the upper classes. There are those in these classes who seek to excuse themselves on the ground that they have too much to do; that they have no time to go to "gym." Some may be conscientious in their objections and these cases should be given due consideration; but there are others who are trying to avoid the gymnasium work, because they do not like it, or because it is real work.
There are but few students who get enough helpful exercise unless they are taking an active part in athletics or are in the "gym" classes. The Trustees had this in mind when establishing compulsory training, for it is true that the harder one works at his regular college work the more he needs the exercise, even though he may not see it that way himself. Inasmuch as the ruling is not intended to work a hardship upon anyone, but rather to be a help, it behooves every student to look at the proposition from all possible angles before seeking an excuse from this required work.

Do You Waste Time?

How much time does the Otterbein student waste? This is not a new question. Far be it from such. It has been the subject of many an editorial
and the cause for many a conference in Prexy's office. Yet the fact still remains that among the students
there is an enormous amount of time wasted; yes, in some cases, worse
than wasted.

There are several reasons for this dissipation of time. With some it is a matter of not having a schedule to work by. While a hard and fast schedule is not the best plan, yet everyone should have a tentative outline of each day's work. Any such system tends to eliminate the willful waste of time. With others this use of time to no advantage is due to an exaggerated condition of ennui.
Although the number in this class is small still we find a few persons to whom the term "lazy" would apply very well. They go to class only when they feel that it is getting dangerous to stay away longer; they cut lab on any pretext, they shun the football field; in fact they avoid any thing that savors of work, preferring rather to loaf.

There is still another class which includes those persons who indulge, according to the vernacular of the campus, in the "minor sports." They spend many an afternoon and evening, and in some cases even later than that, playing such games as "Authors," "Rook" and "Solitaire." The one great argument against such games is that of the time lost. This amounts to much more than the recreation derived from playing them.

We are now at a time when we are urged to economize on account of the war. While we are seeking to conserve the supply of fuel and food stuffs, might we not pay a little closer heed to the use of our time, as a war measure, if for no other reason?
Surely we would get more out of our remaining college days.

CLUB TALK

Editor, Tan and Cardinal:

Is a railroad walk better than a parlor talk? Boys will be boys, and girls will be girls, from henceforth even for-evermore, consequently they will get together, "in couples," although it is generally conceded among the boys, at least, that girls are a necessary evil. But their getting together;
—dates are a simple thing to get,
everybody knows, but where to spend the time is the question. The dormitory parlor is mentioned. We like the dorm parlors for some occasions,
such as receptions or banquets, but to spend the evening there, well that is another thing altogether.

It is admitted that walking is best in nice weather but it sure takes strong hearts to breast the winter winds and snows that are coming soon, a sample of which made us all shiver last week.

The only solution at present seems to be the Association parlors. What we need is to have something there to make that room agreeable instead of a stiff backed room for ill-fated pushes. Two hundred and fifty dollars has been given to fix up the auditorium and parlor. Most of it will be needed for the auditorium, but please go easy and save a little to fix up the parlor. What does it need?

It should be homelike and to make it such; how would an old piano from the conservatory do for a beginning?
Then a bunch of easy chairs would be nice, some settees too, or better still chairs made for one big person. As finishing touches, how about a rug or two, a few pictures, and a collection of pennants stuck around the room.
Now don't think that we are advocating any such thing as a matrimonial bureau, far from it, but to prevent the usual run of colds, sore throats and so forth let us hope that something is done soon.

A Track Walker.

On another page there is an announcement of the meeting of the Science Club tonight. This is an organization which has as its object
the rousing of interest in science.
Some phase of modern scientific development and discovery is discussed at each meeting and all students who are interested in the natural sciences will do well to become associated with this organization.

Keep with the team this week.

THE "EFILUO" CLUB.

"Hello Tom, you in already? What's the trouble, a little early, isn't it,"
asked Bill as Tom came into the study, flung his hat on the table and slouched into a chair.

"Yes, a little early. My girl wanted to go in early tonight, too much going on the last couple of days. Besides, I'm all in myself."

"You said a mouthful there old man, never been so busy in my life,
except once down home—"

"Aw shut up about that down home stuff, Doc. Can't you let a guy study once in a while," grunted Mac as he threw down his book and turned facing the other three boys.

"There you go again about studying Mac. That's all you get done, talk about it," said Tom.

"At least I don't get notices from Prexy every few days like some other people I know," responded Mac getting about half peeved.

"Come, cut the comedy boys,
What's the use to study tonight, no-body'll have their lessons tomorrow
anyway. Not after that celebration
Saturday."

"Celebration's right, that feed was a regular affair. Never ate so much in my life," said Tom.

"Yes you football fellows had it on us, you got the second helping, and they just passed the eats to us, so we had to act at least half civilized."

"I'll bet you got enough, even at that, Bill," accused Mac.

"Sure I did, but they kidded me
about it."

"Those talks certainly made me feel better after losing that game. I never fought harder in my life."

"I believe that Tom, and the game showed it. Although you boys were beaten you showed scrap and played all around those big Heidelberg fellows."

"Yes a couple of lucky streaks for them is all that did it. Luck seemed to be against us. We made the gains
but somehow just couldn't get a score.
Anyhow we're going to get Wesleyan next Saturday or something's the matter."

"I'll say so, if you play anything like you did today you can't help it."

"We're all going to the game next week, ain't we?"

"Count on me," said Mac.

"I've got a date already," this from Doc. "We ought to get a crowd to go over to Delaware. How about another rally this week, Bill, to get some rooters at that game."

"Wouldn't be a bad idea," Doc.

"Let's go to bed boys, I've got several lessons to get before seven o'clock tomorrow," said Mac, as he got up and started for the door.

"Not yet Mac, come on, let's have a little hand before we turn in."

One of our circulation men tackled an alumnus for his subscription to the Tan and Cardinal. Said alumnus was about to sign up when his lady, a present student, advised him that he did not want "that paper." Certainly this is not the spirit of all the girls.

Are YOU going to Wesleyan?

Second Lecture Given.

Sunday evening at the First United Brethern Church Rev. E. E. Burtner delivered before a good audience his second of the series of addresses on Martin Luther and the Reformation. These talks are more than entertaining, they are exceedingly instructive.

The speaker in his second address took up more minutely the incidents in Luther's life as they affected the Reformation. The striking fact was that Luther did not start the Reformation; he only dramatized it. It was also shown how tenacious Luther was in his purpose. Trial after trial was held in which the condemned was asked to recant and time after time he refused to do this. Threats were made and high positions were promised but to no avail. He stood fast for what he thought right and in accordance which the Bible.

Some amusing and yet enlightening incidents were brought out concerning his marriage. Also things happened in the church and country which delayed the pope and high officials from continuing their fight against Luther.

The speaker closed with great praise for the reformer. The last of the series will be given on next Sunday evening.

LOCALS.

Ruth Fries, Kathryn Warner and Geo. Sechrist took dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Young.

Edith Hahn of Section B and Harmon and Barthlow were delegates to the County Christian Endeavor convention at Columbus, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

When Glen Ream arrived in Westerville Friday afternoon, he was very much surprised to find that his younger brother had come from Rising Sun to spend the week-end with him.

Last Monday evening sixteen college folks, although you would have thought that most of them were ghosts, made merry at the home of Helen Keller on West Home street. Agnes Wright, Gladys Swigart, and Virginia Burtner were also hostesses.

Neva Anderson and "Ike" Ward sang in Columbus Friday afternoon, at the preliminary try-out for the State Singing contest conducted by the Columbus Citizen. Mrs. Megahan was Neva's accompanist, and Agnes Wright played for Ike.

Members of the Otterbein Guild entertained the College girls Saturday evening at the home of Edith Hahn.

Day of Three Cent Stamps.

"Did you put the stamps on those letters?"

"No, I slipped them through the slot when the fellow wasn't looking."

Sergeant Campbell returned on a furlough Saturday. "Whitey" Kurtz, a fellow sergeant and bunk mate, accompanied him.

A. C. Siddall was taken to his home in Dayton last Saturday in Ballinger's ambulance. Mr. Siddall has an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. It is reported that "Red" stood the trip very well.

The Russell Declamation Contest is scheduled to be held during the week before Christmas vacation. All Freshmen and Sophomores are eligible to compete for the prizes offered, and a large number of contestants is expected to qualify.

More Truth Than Poetry.

Laugh and the professor laughs with you,

Laugh and you laugh alone.
The first when the joke is professor's joke,

The last when it's one of your own.

If anyone considers himself or herself slighted on this matter of local items, please don't blame the local editors. They try to find out all the things that happen around this old institution, but they know perfectly well that a good many interesting things slip past them. So if you want to be loyal, when ever you know of any visitors in town or out, or any good joke worth printing, the editors of this column would be eternally grateful, if you would "put them next."

COCHRAN NOTES.

Gladys Howard spent the week-end in Circleville, O.

Hallowe'en celebrations were numerous in the Hall last week.

Lois Bickelhaupt has been ill for a few days.

Mrs. Wilhelm from Canton O. visited Vida last week.

There were smiles every where during Home Coming week. It might be a good plan to invite our friends to visit us more than just once a year.

Kathryn brought oodles of good things from home and twelve girls enjoyed them Monday night.

The guests in the Hall for "Home Coming" were Helen Bucher, Opal Gilbert, Dorothy Gilbert, Lydia Garver, Ruth Van Kirk, Annette Brane, and Nettie Lee Roth.

Miss Rhoda Basinger from Bluffton O. spent the week-end here.

We felt slighted when we weren't asked to help line the field for Saturday's game. I guess girls can do more than yell.

Anna Kate Shupe from Scottsdale Penn. visited here last week.

Helen Harris of Dayton visited Janet Gilbert last week.

Grace entertained for Ruth Van Kirk Wednesday night.

Mrs. Burtner visited Virginia Saturday.

We all think that Hallowe'en jokes are fun but when we remember the tick-tacks at midnight we take another "think."

Mrs. James Harbaugh from Toledo was Dean McFadden's guest last week.

Mrs. Barr of Columbus visited her sister Mary Weaver. She took Mary and Vera home with her Saturday.

Bernice Elsea visited Camp Sherman Sunday.

Boys we were sorry we couldn't attend your "pig roast" but our hearts were there.

Fifteen girls enjoyed a dinner party in Florence Reese's room Saturday night.

Prof. and Mrs. N. B. Nunemaker and their children Dorothy and Margaret of Canal Winchester were guests of Virginia Burtner. Prof. Nunemaker was an O. U. Varsity man.

Lenore Rayot and Grace Armentraut were dinner guests at the home of Marie Wagoner Saturday evening.

Marie Young spent the week-end in Columbus.

We enjoyed the second serenade of the season Saturday night. It was great—come again.

After the excitement of Home Coming week we are all down to hard labor once more.

Let's all go to Wesleyan.
