The entire Otterbein community was saddened on July 18 when Mrs. Rhea Howard, '23, wife of Bishop J. Gordon Howard, '22, and mother of Gloria, '55, and Sarah, '58, died in a Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania hospital after an extended illness. She was loved by all.

Pictured on the right is Dr. Richard Hartzell, Grantsburg, Wisconsin physician who received his Bachelor of Science degree twenty years after his scheduled graduating class. He was admitted to medical school from Otterbein in 1944 after completing his pre-medical requirements, but did not have enough credits for his bachelor's degree. In the past several years, he has taken additional courses in Wisconsin to qualify for the degree. Dr. Michael was his chemistry professor over twenty years ago and the only faculty member remaining at Otterbein who had taught Dr. Hartzell.

COMMENCEMENT, 1964

Two hundred and thirty-seven seniors were graduated from Otterbein College in commencement ceremonies, May 31, held at the Stadium. This is the largest class in the history of the college and marked the first time Baccalaureate and Commencement have been held the same day, as well as the first time Commencement has been held outside.

Nine students were graduated with honors: Lyle T. Barkhymer, Johnstown, Pennsylvania; Sandra Williams Bennett, Westerville, Ohio; William J. Catalona, West Palm Beach, Florida; Regina Fehrens, Berlin, Germany; Nancy E. Loudenslager, Cincinnati, Ohio; Martha Deever Matteson, Naperville, Illinois; Barbara Ann Maurer, Rittman, Ohio; Gary D. Nixon, Columbus, Ohio; and Karen Sue Ruegg, Columbus, Ohio. Graduation with honors means a cumulative grade point average of 3.7 or more.

Arthur H. Dean, senior partner in the New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell, was the commencement speaker. Using the title, "Communism and The Western World," Mr. Dean said:

"At a time when you are leaving these peaceful and beautiful surroundings and entering the outer world, it may not be amiss to talk about Christian ideals, Communism and the Western World.

The fundamental principles of Christianity as Christ taught us are "to love thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy mind" and "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" and "to do unto others as you would be done by."

These, as Christ said, are the first and greatest of the Commandments and on them, too, hang all of the law and the prophets.

Communism, on the other hand, is essentially materialistic, atheistic, revolutionary and immoral, and does not recognize any place in the Communist hierarchy for a Divine being or for religious thinking.

In 1957, the Montgomery County Medical Society named him "Physician of the Year." Recently he was honored by the Ohio Academy of General Practice which made him a life member of the academy.

ARTHUR H. DEAN

The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon the Commencement speaker, Arthur H. Dean, senior partner in the New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell.

A graduate of Cornell University, Mr. Dean in 1933, at the request of President Roosevelt, helped draft the Securities Act and was subsequently instrumental in the creation of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the drafting of the Bankruptcy Act of 1938 and the Investment Company Act of 1940. Mayne Hall Dedicated Horace L. Mayne, '13, is pictured after unveiling the outdoor sign at the dedication of Mayne Hall as a Junior-Senior Women's Dormitory, Saturday, May 30.

The four-story women's dormitory with a capacity of 144 was named in memory of Mrs. Hannah Lambert Mayne, x'90. Her son, Horace L. Mayne, '13, contributed $300,000 to name the new dormitory in memory of his mother. He prepared the following "Essay on Love" at the time of the dedication:

We are here to dedicate this magnificent home away from home for these girls, as well as untold generations not yet born.

Some people see this pile of bricks, stones and gadgets from many parts of the globe, all of which are so ingenuously and skillfully fabricated — Yes, they call this "permanent"; but without love this beautiful palace would pass away and this ground under our feet would know it no more.

Love is the only permanent thing in this world and love could keep this great building standing to the end of time.

Some of you might like to know the true-love stories back of the name Mayne.

Over one hundred years ago, in the State of Maryland, eighteen-year-old Joseph Mayne heard about the rich farmlands beyond Columbus, Ohio. With the little cash he had saved he walked over the Appalachian Mountains, westward on the "Cumberland Trail" now known as United States Route 40.

He saw a big, red, brick house near Dayton, Ohio, and asked for a job. Joe fell in love with his employer's daughter, Mary Michael, who spoke his own native German. They were married and their first born was named John Calvin after the great German Reformation Preacher.

His mother wanted John Calvin Mayne to become a minister of the Gospel, so she sent him to that school in Westerville, called OTTERBEIN.

There he fell in love with a co-ed, Hannah Lambert. Later he went to Lane Theological Seminary in Cincinnati, but he didn't forget to write love letters to his sweetheart Hannah.

So they were married, after which they took a Pastorate in Churdan, Iowa, where their first child was born and named Horace Lambert Mayne, your orator. Hannah Mayne, his mother, was one of thirteen children of Daniel Webster Lambert, a circuit-riding United Brethren preacher in Southern, Ohio, but he couldn't ride horse-back all the time.

So, while hiking across the fields a huge boar-pig attacked him; he used his hat for a weapon. The vicious boar sunk his tusks in the Reverend's headpiece and the next Church Service started on schedule but minus one hat.

Hannah Mayne was left a widow with their five children in 1900, when Rev. John Calvin Mayne died, victim of a typhoid epidemic, in Dana, Indiana. As he lay on his death-bed, he pointed his hand up with the last words, "Up, up, Heaven, Home." Hannah Mayne reared and educated their five orphans, John, Ira, Dwight, Helen and Horace.

So, may there be many more love stories in

The Distinguished and Honorary Alumnus Awards For 1964

Dr. John A. Smith

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS

Dr. John Alan Smith, '33, medical director of Ryder Memorial Hospital, Humacao, Puerto Rico, received the Distinguished Alumnus Award at the Alumni Day Luncheon, Saturday, May 30. He was presented by Dr. Harold L. Boda, '25, Chairman of the Otterbein College Board of Trustees.

Dr. Smith is the son of Professor Emeritus and Mrs. John Franklin Smith. He was graduated from Westerville High School in 1929 and Otterbein College in 1933 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He received a B.D. degree in 1936 from United Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, and returned to Otterbein for further work, receiving the Bachelor of Science degree in 1937.

He then entered the Ohio State University Medical School, graduating with the M.D. degree in 1941. The following four years, 1941-45, were spent at Gorges Hospital, Panama.

In 1945-46, Dr. Smith taught at Otterbein in the Biology Department during a leave of absence for

Dr. E. W. E. Schear. At the same time, Miss Virginia Norris of the Class of 1936, was serving as the chairman of the Home Economics Department at Otterbein. They were married in 1946 and left that year for Ryder Hospital in Puerto Rico where they have served for the past eighteen years. The Smiths' have three sons, John David, 17, Howard, 15, and Dwight, 12.

As Medical Director of Ryder Memorial Hospital, Dr. Smith supervises the operating room, clinics, and medical and nursing staffs. Clinics are conducted six days a week where an average of 250 persons a day receive consultation. Many walk ten to twelve miles to receive medical attention and lines begin to form as early as 4:00-5:00 a.m.

Dr. Smith is dedicated to a healing ministry, loves his patients, performs many charitable operations and is devoted to his work in ministering to the poor and unfortunate people of Puerto Rico.

HONORARY ALUMNUS

The Honorary Alumnus Award for 1964 was bestowed upon Mrs. Celia Ihrig Grabill, author of the words of the "Otterbein Love Song," the official alma mater song of Otterbein. The citation was read by Arthur L. Schultz, executive secretary of the Alumni Association at the Alumni Day Luncheon, Saturday, May 30.

Mrs. Grabill died suddenly on Saturday, June 27 and Services of Memory were held in Westerville on June 30th, exactly one month after she received the award.

She was born in 1887 on a Wayne County, Ohio, farm and graduated from Wooster High School. In 1907, she graduated from the College of Wooster with a music degree. She then taught music for two years in a Baptist Mission School in Landrum, South Carolina. In 1910, she married Glen Grant Grabill, of the Otterbein College Music Faculty and moved into a brand new home at 132 West Home Street, which had been home to her ever since. The Grabills had six children — Glen, Jr., Dorothy, Gladys, Mary, James and Ernest and five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

At Otterbein, Mrs. Grabill was an advisor of Tau Delta Sorority for over twenty years.

In 1917, Mrs. Grabill wrote the words of the Otterbein Love Song and her husband wrote the music. The words and music were copyrighted in 1918 as the official alma mater song of Otterbein. Sitting up one night with several sick children, Mrs. Grabill received the inspiration to write the words as she looked out over a quiet, peaceful village. Her husband immediately wrote the music to the words the next day.

Summer School

An enrollment of 425, the largest number of students ever to attend summer classes at Otterbein, is reported by the Registrar's Office. Summer school extends from June 8 to August 14.

Campus Center Tour

Mrs. Robert Morris (Judy Thomas, '60), who was Homecoming Queen at Otterbein in 1942, brought her second grade students to view construction of the new Otterbein Campus Center Building on April 22. She was accompanied by Miss Sylvia Hodgson, a junior elementary education major at Otterbein.

On the stairway leading to the second floor cafeteria lines and dining room.

Emerson R. Boyd, college supervisor of the construction and the Manager of the Campus Center Bookstore, conducted the tour and prepared the following information for the students:

To Our Visitors

Otterbein College is happy to welcome the Students of the Second Grade of Emerson School. Your tour through the new Campus Center will include the Main Lounge; the Snack Bar; the Book Store; the T.V. Room and the Browsing Library. All of these rooms are on the first floor.

As you go from the first floor to the second floor you will note there is a dividing bannister in the stairways. This is necessary because it affords a way of dividing the serving lines in the Cafeteria. Since there are two divided stairways, we can serve four lines of students at meal time in our Cafeteria. This means a student can be served in one-half the time he formerly needed at the old Cafeteria—and when you become a college student, you will realize that saving time is most important.

Viewing the northwest section of the new Campus Center Building facing the Stadium.

On the second floor you will see the Main Dining Room; the Faculty Dining Room; three private Dining and Meeting Rooms for college groups and the President's Dining Room. At the front of the second floor is the Food Preparation Room, Stock Room, Bakery, Offices and Elevator that serves the Dining Room only.

Due to construction difficulties you will not be permitted to visit the Pent House, But if you were, you would see the boilers, hot water heaters and a gigantic fan that circulates fresh air through the entire second floor.

You will see the basement Equipment Room and there you will find the large electrical switchboard that distributes electricity throughout the Campus Center.

When you get home ask your mother and dad to show you the one in your own home, then you will see for yourself how much more electricity is needed for the new building.

You will also see a large unit called Multizone and this unit picks up the outside air and filters it; in summer it cools the air; in winter it warms the air, there it is distributed through large metal ducts throughout the first and second floor. As the air enters through this unit, there is another unit called an exhaust fan that picks up the "used air" and blows it outside the building, so, through these two fans, we always have fresh air in our new building.

Mock Political Convention

A Republican mock political convention was held on the Otterbein campus, April 23. Henry Cabot Lodge was selected on the second ballot as presidential candidate and William Scranton as vice presidential candidate.

Other candidates nominated by various state delegations included Barry Goldwater, Nelson Rockefeller, Richard Nixon, Everett Dirksen, and Elizabeth Taylor by the Virgin Islands delegates.

Lodge led with 578 votes on the first ballot and Scranton was next with 423. On the second ballot, Lodge won by a landslide with 1093 votes to Scranton's 117. The delegates then supported Scranton as vice presidential candidate with 1079 votes to Dirksen's 229.

Quiz and Quill Foundation

A new Quiz and Quill constitution has been created and the Board of Directors will manage the Endowment Fund. Members elected to the Board of Directors are: Mary B. Thomas, '28, Sylvia P. Vance, '47, Cleora C. Fuller, '53, Craig Gifford, '57, and Ethel S. Steinmetz, '31. WAR ON HUNGER

"Just add three years to the age you think a Peruvian child is, and that will be his actual age." If the little girl looks to be 3, she's really 6. The three years she is missing were lost to hunger.

More than a third of the infants born in Peru each year will suffer from malnutrition. They will be smaller, less muscular, more listless, weaker than well nourished children of the same age. In less severe cases they will have the puffy face and bloated belly that are the trademarks of severe malnutrition.

These little boys and girls will forever be running fevers, suffering from diarrhea, carrying boils or sores. Because they wear no shoes, and sewerage runs across the ground in their village, they are pretty sure to offer little resistance to hookworm and other stomach parasites.

They are tragic little figures, sometimes too weak to cry or even make a tear. They can only whine.

Their parents are able to be of little help. A sick, scrawny child is "taken with evil," no one would think better food might drive out that evil. But again, fully a quarter of the malnourished families couldn't afford two or three cents a day per child to improve their diet, even if they saw some reason to.

Into this seemingly hopeless situation came Dr. Robert B. Bradfield, x'50, fresh out of Cornell University Graduate School of Nutrition in 1955. He was a Foreign Service reserve officer on assignment as nutrition adviser to Peru's Ministry of Public Health. He spoke Spanish well and had faith in what his field of nutrition could contribute. With these assets he went to work.

Jungle youngster's nutritional status is checked.

Tingo Maria girls greet Bradfield on return in 1962. Children helped win over parents.

Dr. Bradfield and a nurse distribute the food supplement he developed to a child in the mountain village of Puno, during 1962 follow-up studies.

The Peruvian Nutrition Project had three prime goals: to determine the nutritional status of its citizens, to determine the nutritive composition of Peruvian foods, and to devise a means of dealing with any nutritional deficiencies turned up by the study. The project appeared to say, let's see what we are getting from the food at hand, and what might be hoped for by better use of it. And any study would have to contrast rural and city conditions, and variations between jungle, mountain, and coastal plain areas.

Rice, potatoes, bananas — such staples of Peruvian diets were simply not rich enough in protein to fill the country's nutritional needs. Nor could education alone lead a poor people to good health.

What Bradfield set about to develop was a supplementary foodstuff that would satisfy the nutritional needs of Peruvian children, consist of inexpensive materials available in Peru, and be accepted by Peruvians as part of their diets.

The major ingredient Bradfield chose was a cottonseed flour, an industrial by-product of Peru's largest crop — cotton — that previously went to use only as cattle feed and fertilizer. It is high in proteins and low in cost. For flavor, he added the indigenous horsebean, with its distinctive and well known taste. Quinoa, an edible seed dating back to the conquistadores and chewed by rural Peruvians, was added for its nutrients as well as the psychological advantage its presence gave in persuading native villagers to give flour a try.

His first outpost was Tingo Maria, a jungle community of 5,000 in the Amazon Basin. Selecting fifteen families with severe malnutrition for the initial controlled testing, Bradfield gave each family 2.2 pounds of the flour per week, and circulated among the families at meal-time to see that the flour was being used. His chief problem, as he had expected, was breaking down native resistance to the use of a strange foodstuff.

The results of the Tingo Maria experiment were salutary. Children fed regular portions of the food-flour quickly recovered from their accustomed malnourished state; the natives of Tingo Maria were happy to incorporate the flour into their regular diet; and most important in terms of the future, they were willing to pay for it.

Talisman Celebrate 50

The original members of Talisman were Dora Beck (Mrs. Rodney Huber), Ruth Drury (Mrs. Floyd McClure), Dorothy Gilbert (Mrs. Darrell Drucker), Marie Hendrick (Mrs. T. R. Jessup), Stella Lilly, Norma

Along Alum Creek, hunting suitable place to burn sorority papers when all secret groups were banned by college in 1916, are left to right: Charlotte Kuntz Booth, Ruth Drury McClure, Inez Staub Elder, Stella Lilly, Dorothy Gilbert Drucker, and Norma McCally Kline.

Some of the original members of Talisman in 1914 attending a Cochran Hall "Push." Margaret Marshall Nord, Ruth Drury McClure, Norma McCally Kline, Stella Lilly, Marie Hendrick Jessup, Donna Beck Huber, Dorothy Gilbert Drucker, and Inez Staub Elder.

McCally (Mrs. Homer B. Kline), and Inez Staub (Mrs. A. B. Elder).

During 1914, Margaret Marshall (Mrs. K. C. Nord), was initiated and became a member. Later Opal Gilbert (Mrs. Homer Cassel), and Janet Gilbert were included in the group.

In 1915 the college ordered all secret organizations to destroy their constitution and by-laws. While some fraternities and sororities continued underground, Talisman complied with the request and burned their constitution and by-laws with an appropriate ceremony.

Although there was no formal organization, close ties of friendship continued. When the college recognized fraternal groups in 1922, all of the original members returned to the campus to activate their old sorority as Tau Epsilon Mu.

Initiated into the sorority as active members were Mary Elizabeth Brewmaker (Mrs. J. R. Howe), Mabel Cassel (Mrs. Charles Vernon), Josephine Cridland (Mrs. Paul K. Noel), Helen Drury (Mrs. Ralph Knight), and Ruth Snyder (Mrs. Virgil Willet).

Talisman Sorority seeks to give its members a code to "live by" since one of its principles is that friendliness and friendship should be a quality of the membership. Each year the sorority sponsors a Friendship Tea. An annual event since 1922-23, this tea is given by the Talisman actives for friends who are not members of the Sorority. Official flower of the sorority is the Talisman Rose.

1963-64 Honor Roll OF OHIO'S CORPORATE GOOD CITIZENS

THE OHIO FOUNDATION OF INDEPENDENT COLLEGES, INC.

For 1710 Firms with a Forward Look, One Tax-Saving
Contribution Brings . . . THANKS FROM THIRTY-THREE

Yes, it is on the records of 33 colleges in all parts of Ohio that firms listed on these pages really are doing something about free enterprise in education and about economy in their own taxes . . . now!

Their one-check, no-favorites contributions through the Ohio Foundation help to strengthen and enlarge non-tax-supported colleges where students pay most of their own costs. This lightens the load at public institutions, where it is the taxpayer, rather than the student, who pays the greater share of educational expenses.

The colleges gratefully commend these "partners in free enterprise" to 225,000 alumni families receiving this latest Honor Roll of Ohio's Corporate Good Citizens.

They also renew their appeals to other firms not yet included to add their names now, as 259 have done for the first time in the past 12 months.

Two million dollars continues to be the minimum need in corporate aid each year if the Ohio Foundation's 33 colleges are to be kept strong without tax aid for operating costs.

NEW COACHES

Terry Parsons, former Denison University baseball star, has been named the new Baseball Coach at Otterbein succeeding Kenneth L. Zarbaugh, '50, who is becoming a Junior High School Principal.

A graduate of Denison in 1962, he holds a master's degree from Bowling Green State University and is completing work on the doctorate at Ohio State University.

Terry W. Parsons

In addition to his responsibilities as head baseball coach, the 24-year old Parsons will also serve as Assistant Football Coach, Assistant Basketball Coach and Assistant Professor of Physical Education.

At Denison, Parsons was on the baseball and basketball teams. He was captain of the baseball team in his senior year and for two years was the team's most valuable player. The final two years of his collegiate career he was named to the All-Ohio Conference Baseball Team.

Larry Lintner, '58, head football coach at Watkins Memorial High School, Licking County, Ohio, for the past six years, will join the Otterbein athletic staff in September on a half-time basis.

For the past two years, his teams have won the Licking County championship and he has been named "County Coach of the Year." This past season after finishing with a 9-0 record, Lintner ranked third in balloting for state recognition as "Coach of the Year." His 1963 team ranked second in the official state polls.

In his new post at Otterbein, Lintner will be responsible for physical education classes, serve as head wrestling coach, assistant football coach, and assistant track coach. He plans to continue his studies toward a master's degree.

Fourth In NCAA

Otterbein's Bill Thompson placed fourth in the javelin event at the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) track and field finals, Saturday, June 13 in Fresno, California.

Thompson hit an all time distance of 217 feet $7\frac{1}{4}$ inches, exceeding his previous all time record of 200 feet. A toss of 223 feet won the event.

Thompson's fourth place heave was made on his first throw in the meet. Accompanied by Track Coach Elmer Yoest, Thompson became the first Otterbein athlete to participate in the NCAA track and field finals.

O.F.I.C. CONTRIBUTORS

The preceding eight-page insert lists the honor roll of 1,710 donors to the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges for the twelve month period ending May 31. Otterbein's share amounted to $37,990.86 out of a total of $1,226,000. This was the 13th year for the O.F.I.C. fund-raising program among corporations and business concerns in Ohio. This year's check makes a total of $342,829 Otterbein has received from the Foundation during the past thirteen years.

NCAA Regional

The Otterbein College Track team shared second place with Baldwin-Wallace College in the NCAA Small College Mid-East Regional Track Meet. Mount Union won the meet.

SPOTLIGHT ON

S. Clark Lord, '39, is the northeast Ohio representative for the Otterbein College Admissions Office. The non-paying job means that Lord will be an ambassador for Otterbein in the Akron-Cleveland area. His appointment was featured in the Akron BEACON-JOURNAL newspaper.

He is a chemical engineer for B. F. Goodrich Chemical Company of Cleveland. His wife is the former Donna Love, '39, and she teaches English and Latin at Old Trail School, a private girls' school. Their oldest daughter, Jeanne, is a junior at Otterbein.

Much of the discussion in the West today, of the problems of dealing with World Communism and the problems of working out alleged "peaceful coexistence," revolve around just how far the West and its peoples can live in a democracy under a "peaceful coexistence" policy and just how far the non-communist World would be safe in relying on the disintegration of the concentration of World Communist power in Moscow and the emergence in Communist China of an independent or partially independent center of political authority within the Communist bloc."

Dr. Ruth Hovermale, '49, will assume the chairmanship of the Home Economics Department of Winthrop College, effective September 1st. For the past two years she has been Associate Professor of Textiles and Clothing.

Winthrop College is located in Rock Hill, South Carolina, with an enrollment of 2,200 women.

Since 1931, the Alumnae Association of Tau Epsilon Mu has published an annual newsletter known as TALISMAN NEWS. Mrs. David Allaman (Martha Shawen, '30), has been editor of the news from the beginning.

The interest of the early founders has remained active through the years. In the 1964 TALISMAN NEWS Mrs. A. B. Elder writes from Texas, "I was 'one of us' when TEM was forced to dissolve by college ruling. We had a burial, with flowers, out at the cemetery."

Scholarship, campus leadership and a spirit of friendship have characterized Tau Epsilon Mu Sorority through fifty years. Today the sorority continues strong and vigorous in all aspects of its life on the Otterbein campus.

Faculty Advancements

The Executive Committee of the Otterbein College Board of Trustees approved the following advancements:

John K. Coulter from assistant to associate professor.

Earl C. Hassenpflug from instructor to assistant professor.

William O. Amy from instructor to assistant professor.

Here are some interesting facts and figures about the Campus Center Building.

Cost: when the building is completed and furnished it will have cost in excess of one million dollars.

We used $25,000 for terrazzo and tile floors.

We used 120,000 bricks or 1 1/3 miles of single brick.

We used 520 truck loads concrete.

We used 271 tons reinforcing steel.

We used 21,120 feet of pipe which equals 4 miles.

We used over 1000 light fixtures.

We used 20 miles of electrical wire.

We used 1/2 mile of fire alarm wire.

Today you will visit the newest Campus Center Building in Ohio. We have built it for the present and future students of our College and who knows, maybe someday when you enter college it might be Otterbein, if it is, you can honestly say you were a part of the First Elementary School group to tour the new Campus Center Building.

We hope the tour will be interesting and instructive and if later on you have any further questions, they will be cheerfully answered.

Thank you for coming to visit us.

Emerson R. Boyd

Letters of appreciation were received by Mr. Boyd from each member of the class. Typical of the letters are the following: Dear Mr. Boyd:

You are a very nice man. I enjoyed you very much. I was never in a building that was just being built. You seemed like my grandfather to me. Thank you for letting us come to see the building.

Love,

Treva Faye R.

Dear Mr. Boyd:

Thank you for taking time out of your work. We enjoyed the trip. I thought it was interesting myself. I liked to see the concrete block most of all. Thank you for the ice cream.

With love,

Carol H.

Dear Mr. Boyd:

I liked the visit to the building yesterday. I like you! I liked the way the dishwasher worked.

Love,

Phyllis H.

Tenure was approved for Dr. Chester L. Addington, Associate Professor of Education since 1961; Roger H. Neff, Assistant Professor of Foreign Languages since 1961; and Earl C. Hassenpflug, Assistant Professor of Art since 1955.

GEORGE R. GARTRELL, '64, is chemist at the Monsanto Research Corporation Mound Laboratory, Miamisburg, Ohio, since June 8.

Senior Class President William Catalona made the following response from the Class of 1964 after the class was officially received as members of the Otterbein College Alumni Association:

"My reaction to these year-end ceremonies which honor the seniors so highly is that the praise is usually more glorious than the deeds. In fact, I feel much as Faust did as he reflected:

I've studied now Philosophy
And jurisprudence, Medicine,
And even, alas! Theology,
From end to end, with labor keen;
And here, poor fool! with all my lore
I stand, no wiser than before.

I can imagine how many senior class presidents before me have stood before their respective classes on this evening and responded for the class by expressing the desire that each individual will utilize the knowledge gained at Otterbein to make the world a better place in which to live. To view this situation realistically, one realizes that the world has not become a better place in which to live; consequently, I feel inane in repeating this platitude tonight.

It seems that the whole of modern society clings desperately to the belief in the absolute supremacy of intellectual powers. Intellectual development has become the pre-eminent hope of the twentieth century for the solution of all the problems which face us today.

It is somewhat of a paradox that the real attraction of the intellectual existence lies in its relative easiness. It is merely the substitution of simple, intellectual abstractions for the complexities of reality. It is incomparably easier to know a great deal about history or physics than to understand intuitively one's fellow man and establish satisfactory relations with him.

This fact is attested to every time a rocket is sent into orbit and with every racial demonstration.

I think it was Cardinal Newman who once said that, if he were given the funds to build a university, he would first build dormitories. If he had extra money after this was done, he might buy textbooks. And if his funds were unlimited, he might hire a few professors. I do not intend to speak derogatorily of the value of textbooks or professors. My point is that, although seeking the truth is splendid and often lucrative amusement, it is infinitely easier than learning the art of integral living.

And so I would like to respond for this class by expressing the desire that each one of us will have the strength of character to abdicate this disproportionate reliance on intellectualism and devote more of our energies to the more serious and difficult task of living harmoniously."

The Sidewalk Supervisor Recalls A Bit Of Otterbein College History

Otterbein College students and the workmen on the new student center recently have been aware of an old man sitting daily upon a low wall across Home Street from the new building. Most people evidently take him for someone indulging his second childhood. His friends know him as a retired alumnus of the College whose life experiences include the opening, operating and renovating a dozen YMCAs around the world: including Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York City, Karachi, Pakistan, Bombay, India and Vladivostok, Siberia. He dotes on the miracles performed by Mr. Carter and his expert builders.

But the real source of this intense interest lies in quite another area. This building and its location has unusual interest to the old man dating back to the Junior year in College when he was President of the Class of 1911. In search of a suitable project for his Class with which to honor their Alma Mater he had interviewed Dr. T. J. Sanders, President Emeritus of the College.

Dr. Sanders suggested a project of sufficient challenge for a Class of less than fifty members. His suggestion grew out of the recent history of the College, and marked a significant shift in its future expansion. Then the field west of Grove Street and south of Park Street to the Cemetery contained the Cellar Cottage only. It seemed the appropriate direction for the extension of the College. The owner had offered the land and the Cottage to Otterbein for $3,500.00. Much as they needed the land the College was not able to find the money. Thereupon the owner sold a portion of the land to Dr. Perley Baker upon which he built the present Howard House, and a second plot to Dr. Howard Russell also of the Anti-Saloon League where he built the house now owned by the Country Club Fraternity. These sales had blasted the hope of Otterbein expanding in that direction.

Dr. Sanders thought that the alternative would be the acquisition of some land north of Home and Grove Streets where there was an old gravel pit surrounded by farm land. The Class learned that the gravel pit could be purchased for $2,000.00 and they decided to obtain the necessary money. During their Senior year every Class member and his friends was solicited for contributions. During the Senior year Rex John was President of the Class and James O. Cox carried the chief responsibility for solicitation. The money finally was obtained and the gravel pit, which we thought would be made into a football field, was purchased. Several years later the farmer owner died and his widow was happy to sell more land to the College. Now in these days fifty-three years later the old man sits almost daily with stars in his eyes watching the builders crown the gravel pit with a million dollar student center and he is content. His only regret is that James O. Cox is not present.
