About this issue: Clocks. Calendars. Wristwatches. Daily reminders of time passing. For a college, the surest measure of time lapse is the end of a term. The closing of another academic year. The graduation of another senior class. For an institution, time is defined by plans made. Deadlines met. Goals reached. Our annual report chronicles the life of the college and the growth of the institution. It is our measuring piece. The gauge by which we judge our past and plot our future.

1987-88 ANNUAL REPORT

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Alumni and Friends,

Through this annual report we invite you to share aspects of the College's life during the 1987-88 academic year.

It is difficult in a few pages to convey the spirit of an entire year. But we hope the highlights that are provided will give you some sense of the vitality we have experienced in all areas of campus life.

Whether we talk about particular expertise and achievements, or special learning opportunities beyond the classroom, what happens at the College continues the service and commitment that have characterized Otterbein for decades. Each year is a process of taking the best from the past and using it as a foundation to build for the future.

To assure that Otterbein moves ahead in the strongest way, the board of trustees last spring authorized a strategic planning process called "Otterbein 2000." During the coming months the trustees and the campus community will examine many dimensions of the College to guarantee Otterbein's future as an institution of quality higher education.

This effort will include consultations with many alumni and friends so Otterbein can benefit from your experience and from your aspirations and dreams for the College.

As we look to the future we recognize the gratitude owed to all who have supported the College faithfully with their gifts. Your contributions make it possible for students to learn and expand their abilities in a challenging and stimulating environment.

Your support helps Otterbein look to the future with confidence.

Cordially,

C. Brent DeVore

1987-88 ANNUAL REPORT

OVERVIEW

An institution is only as strong as its people. Many faculty, staff, students, alumni and friends have distinguished themselves as leaders and individuals of merit. The 1987-88 Annual Report highlights many of the accomplishments that typify Otterbein's year-round commitment to excellence.

One important dimension is the enrichment provided by noted persons from the worlds of academia, business, science and the arts who visited the campus. These individuals shared their perspectives and imbued students with a wealth of experience from beyond the classroom.

The College contributes to the community-at-large in many avenues of outreach. Through events on campus and the varied activities of faculty and administrators, the Otterbein name represents quality service and commitment to a host of community, state and national organizations.

A special pleasure comes from the recognition many Otterbein students and faculty receive for their expertise and accomplishments. Their attainments bring honor to the College, as does the success and service of alumni and friends whom Otterbein recognizes during the year.

All who consider themselves part of the Otterbein community help cause the spotlight to shine on the College's progress. As people and programs attract attention, Otterbein advances into the future with a solid sense of achievement.

Much of what is accomplished at Otterbein results from the generous and continued support provided by thousands of voluntary gifts each year. The 4,266 gifts contributed from July 1, 1987, to June 30, 1988, exceeded $2.3 million. Additional future gift commitments made through estate plans and capital pledges totaled more than $900,000.

Specific sources and purposes of this support are provided on page 12. These voluntary contributions are essential to Otterbein's current operation. Equally important, the future of Otterbein as an institution of quality and distinction depends upon the commitment demonstrated by all who are named in the 1987-88 Honor Roll.

Through the Honor Roll of Donors, Otterbein recognizes the generous spirit that sustains the College's commitment to excellence.

BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

Distinguished Church Leader Speaks at Annual Commencement

Widely recognized minister, author, administrator, historian, professor and lecturer Dr. Leonard I. Sweet served as speaker for Otterbein's June 12 commencement exercise. At the noon ceremony held at the Rike Center, more than 280 students received degrees, and Dr. Sweet was conferred with an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree.

As he spoke to the graduating seniors on "What is 'Higher' in Higher Education?" Dr. Sweet encouraged them to experience human existence fully as he imparted his four indispensable, philosophical tenets to making a life—"you can't steer a parked car; you can't drive forward without a rear view mirror; you can't pass in the slow lane; and you can't run on empty." He told the graduates that, "My remarks are based on the premise that the highest 'higher' education teaches to form simple sentences in the language of life."

February Was Career Discovery Month at Otterbein

Career Discovery activities were expanded from a week to a month at Otterbein in 1988, allowing for an increase and diversification of events aimed at helping students discover career goals. Titled "1988: The Olympic Year for Your Career—Dream . . . Plan . . . Triumph," February was filled with opportunities for students to explore careers by attending workshops and special lectures, meeting with members of the business community and participating in mock interview sessions.

I.S. Festival Focuses on the Media

Special speakers and events were plentiful on campus during the week of April 17 to focus on "The Mass Media," the topic of this year's Integrative Studies Festival. The annual festival, many events of which are open to the public, seeks to increase the interconnections of the college's core liberal arts program while providing informative perspectives. Keynote speaker was Visiting Woodrow Wilson Fellow Robert F. Levey, columnist with The Washington Post. Levey, who visited classes and met informally with students all during festival week, began the week of activities with his address on "The Media in the Year 2000." This year's I.S. Festival was conducted with the generous support of State Savings Bank.

Famous Accompanist/Coach is OC Guest Artist and Teaches Master Class

In addition to serving as guest artist for the College's 1988 Opera Theatre production, "A Gala Evening of Opera" on Feb. 25 and 27, well-known accompanist/coach John Wustman taught a master class at Otterbein. Mr. Wustman, who is opera great Luciano Pavarotti's regular accompanist, worked with selected singers and accompanists from central Ohio collegiate music programs and with representatives of the Opera Columbus Associate Artist program.

International Week Increases Awareness

During February, a week of entertaining activities helped Otterbein students become more aware of the International Studies program and international issues. In addition to hearing authorities speak on international concerns throughout the week, events included a mini Japanese lesson and tea ceremony, a selection of foreign films and a food sampling party of international taste treats.

The art of piñata-making was one of the many cultural activities planned during February's International Week.

Writers Series Brings Noted Poets to Campus

Otterbein's 1987 Writers Series, coordinated by the English department, brought three noted, award-winning poets to campus last year for student enrichment. Giving readings in the historic Philomathean Room in Towers Hall were poets Amy Clampitt, Jim Wayne Miller and James Perkins.

Science 2000 Explores the Ultimate Frontier

The College's Science 2000 event this year revolved around one of the most fascinating, relevant and mysterious topics in the world of science today—the human mind. "The 3-Pound Universe," open to members of the public, provided the campus community with an intensive look at one of science's most interesting subjects. An impressive group of seminar leaders—Richard Teresi of OMNI science magazine; psychiatrist and neurologist Dr. Richard Restak whose best seller The Brain was the basis for the recent PBS TV series; Dr. Jerre Levy, an authority on field brain studies involving hemispheric interplay; and noted Stanford sleep researcher Stephen LaBerge—led the March 29-30 event along with a host of other respected presenters. This second in the series of Science 2000 events presented by Otterbein was funded by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation and St. Ann's Hospital in Westerville.

College Observes Bicentennial

The campus community shared in an informative, patriotic and moving convocation on Sept. 17 as it celebrated the 200th anniversary of the signing of the U.S. Constitution. The event highlighted keynote speaker, noted historian Dr. John R. Howe Jr. '57 of the University of Minnesota. Dr. Howe, son of former Otterbein president the late Dr. John R. Howe Sr., offered insightful historical perspectives during his talk on "The Constitution, the Founders and the Doctrine of Original Intent."

Campus Observes Martin Luther King Week

The College observance of Martin Luther King Week Jan. 15-21 provided opportunity to learn of and reflect on the memory and achievements of the late civil rights activist. "Where Do We Go From Here" focused toward the future by offering a week of special lectures, chapel services, film presentations and broadcasting King's speeches on WOBN. A convocation featuring the Rev. Dr. Charles Booth of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church in Columbus was held on Jan. 18 in Cowan Hall.

Celebrity Vocalist Visits Campus

Marnie Nixon, who sang the female lead in some of America's most famous musicals, spoke to Otterbein music students at a vocal seminar on Nov. 3. Ms. Nixon, who was in central Ohio to star in "Taking My Turn" at a Columbus theatre, answered questions concerning her career and played some of her more famous dubbing ventures—such as her assignments singing for Deborah Kerr in "The King and I," Natalie Wood in "West Side Story" and Audrey Hepburn in "My Fair Lady."

Chilean Novelist Speaks in Cowan

Exiled Chilean novelist Ariel Dorfman brought an enriching international perspective when he lectured on "Finding a Way Home: Exile Seen from a Latin-American Perspective" to members of the campus community and general public Feb. 18 in Cowan Hall. Currently affiliated with Duke University as a visiting professor, Mr. Dorfman is the author of the critically acclaimed "Widows." His appearance at Otterbein was the focal point of a campuswide emphasis on Latin American literature and culture during the 1987-88 academic year.

Novelist/poet Ariel Dorfman challenged Otterbein audiences with his politically motivated literature.

QUALITY SERVICE AND COMMITMENT

Campus Hosts College Fair

Nearly 5,000 students and their parents attended the Columbus Suburban College Fair held Oct. 20 on the Otterbein Campus. 1988 marked the third consecutive year OC hosted the successful event sponsored by nine area high schools. Represented at the fair were 190 institutions of higher learning.

DeVore Paving the Way

As president of the Ohio College Association, President DeVore last fall introduced to the Ohio Board of Regents a collaborative program of Ohio's public and private two-year and four-year institutions of higher education called "Paving the Way in Ohio." The program will provide to junior high and middle school parents information about the kinds of college opportunities available in Ohio, the academic preparation recommended, financial assistance available and the need to begin planning for college early. The program's intent is to reach out to families who do not perceive a college education to be a viable option for their children, providing the information and encouragement to assure access to and success in college level work.

27th Annual Fair Encourages Budding Scientists

Otterbein hosted nearly 90 high school students from the central Ohio area for the 27th Annual Otterbein-Battelle Science Fair on April 14 and 15. The two-day event, coordinated by Otterbein professor of life science Dr. George Phinney, was held at the Rike Center. The first and second place prize winners went on to compete in the 39th International Science Engineering Fair in Knoxville, Tennessee, in May.

English Festival Draws 450 High School Students

Otterbein extended a welcome to 450 students and their teachers from more than 30 Ohio high schools when they came to campus April 27 to participate in the Otterbein College English Festival. The annual event, which supports and rewards the reading and writing efforts of the students, is designed to encourage wider reading experience and strengthen ability to write coherently and creatively. The day's various workshops and activities concluded with an awards ceremony during which students are recognized for their achievements. Dr. James Bailey, chairman of the English department, is the event's coordinator.

Visitation Days Bring 1,200 to Campus

Last year the College hosted approximately 1,200 prospective student and parent visitors on four separate Admission-sponsored campus visitation days during the school year. These special days were: 1) High School Day on Oct. 3, a general open house for high school seniors and their parents; 2) Minority Student Visit Day on Nov. 18 for local minority high school students recommended by their guidance counselors; 3) Academic Interest Day on March 12 geared toward accepted students and their parents to work more intensely with the academic departments; and 4) High School Day for Juniors on May 14 for high school juniors and their parents beginning the college selection process. Some students and their parents took advantage of more than one of the successful programs which helped enroll the record-breaking 1988-89 freshman class.

Campus Hosts OCC Conference

The Ohio Capital Conference (OCC) Academic League held a high school leadership conference in October at Otterbein. Approximately 350 high school students and advisers from 16 high schools in the Columbus area attended and 20 College leaders assisted as facilitators and guides during the event.

Honda President Speaks on Campus

Neighboring communities were invited to Otterbein's Battelle Fine Arts Center March 2 to learn more about "Honda and Ohio" from Mr. Schoichiro Irimajiri, president of Honda of America Manufacturing Inc. Mr. Irimajiri's lecture was attended by members of the Otterbein community and members of the Westerville, Worthington and Dublin Chambers of Commerce. The event, sponsored by OC and the chamber offices, was coordinated by director of continuing education John Kengla.

Riding Program Aids Handicapped

Otterbein's department of equine science hosted a unique program this past summer for developmentally delayed and multihandicapped children. "Hippotherapy" (hippo being Latin for horse) is a process designed, through horseback riding, to stimulate normal postural control and increase and improve strength balance and reflexes. Two Franklin County therapists and equine science department chairperson Dr. Maria Calderone guided the pilot program.

Participants in the hippotherapy program included Andrew Hinton, son of Otterbein assistant professor of math Dr. John Hinton.

Parents Return to Classroom

Otterbein parents had an opportunity to become more familiar with campus life and get acquainted with faculty members during the annual Parents Day program on Feb. 27. Highlighting the day's activities was a return to the classroom for a discussion on topics of current interest. Following the class sessions, a luncheon was held in the Campus Center with entertainment provided by the Jazz-Lab Band and parents were welcomed to attend an evening performance of the Otterbein Dance Company or a dinner theatre including a production of Opera Theatre.

Students, Alumni Connect at Network Luncheon

The Otterbein connection continues to flourish and grow. Sixty Otterbein juniors and 35 alumni members of the business community met for the fourth annual Cardinal Network Luncheon May 20 in the Campus Center. At the annual event, co-sponsored by the Career Development Center and the Office of Alumni Relations, the professionals informally shared business savvy and strategies for success with the students.

Area High School Students Compete in Journalism Festival at OC

Students from more than 20 central Ohio high schools converged on the campus April 16 for the 34th annual High School Press Club (HSPC) Workshop. The competitive event, which aims to foster creativity and quality in student writing, is sponsored by the College through a grant from the Edgar W. Ingram Foundation. The HSPC, run by a board of high school teacher advisers, is a 30-year tradition in central Ohio. Dr. James Gorman, assistant professor of English at Otterbein, is executive director of the HSPC and serves as coordinator of the journalism festival.

Rike Hosts Field Trip for Youngsters

Two of Columbus' alternative elementary schools that emphasize physical education were invited to the College's Rike Center sports and recreation facility for a half-day field trip. Dr. Joanne Tyler coordinated a host of activities for the children who concluded their visit with a sack lunch.

An elegant silver bronze and crystal chandelier calls attention to hand-painted ceiling details in the restored Philomathean Room.

Dr. Jeanne Willis, chairman of the life science department, and the late professor emeritus of history Dr. Harold Hancock, were selected as recipients of an Ohio Historic Preservation Merit Award for organizing the restoration of the Philomathean Room (once the meeting room of the campus literary society) in Towers Hall. Drs. Willis and Hancock headed the restoration committee which began its work in 1982. The awards were presented during the Ohio Historical Society's Members' Day program held Sept. 26 at the Ohio Historical Center.

R E C O G N I T I O N

Graduate Wins Regents Fellowship

1988 graduating senior Carol Svensson of Upper Arlington was named recipient of the Regents Graduate/Professional Fellowship by the Ohio Board of Regents. The two-year award, based on academic achievement, will contribute $3,500 each year toward her graduate studies. Ms. Svensson, past president of the senior honor society Teleiotes, is enrolled as a medical student at The Ohio State University.

1987-88 Speech & Debate Team Takes Many Honors

The Otterbein Speech and Debate Team brought the College a great deal of recognition during the last academic year. The squad won a total of 92 awards and was ranked 13th in the nation for colleges with enrollments under 5,000. Freshman Diane Schleppi was Ohio state champion at both the Ohio Forensics Association State Novice and State Varsity Tournaments in Communication Analysis—and placed seventh nationally in her speech event of Communication Analysis at the American Forensics Association National Individual Events Tournament in April. Senior Steve Zornow and sophomore Scott Carter placed second in the state at the State Debate Tournament in February, and the team netted many other honors at collegiate competitions throughout the year.

Professor Writes Best Seller

J. Patrick Lewis, professor in the department of business and economics at Otterbein, recently published a children's book that earned rave reviews from the New York Times. The Tsar & the Amazing Cow, a fairy tale, "deserves to become a classic," the review reported.

Professor Honored by Alums, Friends

The longtime teaching career of Dr. Albert E. Lovejoy was honored by alumni and friends in the spring with the establishment of the Albert E. Lovejoy Endowed Prize in Sociology. The award is to be given to a sociology major of at least sophomore status who demonstrates a high level of commitment to public and community leadership, a strong global perspective and solid academic standing. Just prior to his recent retirement from Otterbein, Dr. Lovejoy, as chairman of the department of sociology and psychology, handed out the very first award in his name to student Mary Beth Snapp at the Academic Honors Convocation on campus.

The Award of Excellence was presented at the Regional Festival at Indiana University at South Bend on Jan. 8.

PROGRESS AND ACHIEVEMENT

Equine Science
Department
Spearheads Parade

Otterbein's equine science department personnel—Dr. Maria S. Calderone, A.J. Coyle, Molly Trittipio and Nancy Rhynard—organized the "Parade of Breeds" for "A Celebration of the Horse," the 1988 fundraising extravaganza for the Central Ohio Lung Association on June 11 at Beulah Park in Grove City. Otter Trotters, Otterbein's Intercollegiate Equestrian Team, also have been in the spotlight this year as second place Hunt Seat Team in region VIII. Two team members, junior Carol Johnson and senior Julie Nally, were able to compete in the national competition held in Laurenburg, N.C.

Women's soccer was added as a varsity sport in 1987.

Five-time all-America long distance runner Tom Schnurr took three all-America titles at national meets in 1987-88, finishing fourth in the outdoor 10,000, fifth in the indoor 5,000 and tenth in cross country.

OC on
"Heart of Ohio"

In the fall, Otterbein was in the limelight during a half-hour segment on Channel 10's "Heart of Ohio." The program taped a variety of campus activities—peeking into classrooms, visiting a theatre rehearsal, dropping in at the library, campus TV studio and radio stations and talking with various out-and-about students. Campus flavor also was accented live from the Campus Center dining hall when students were interviewed for commentary on Otterbein's national ranking in the U.S. News & World Report survey of the best colleges in America.

Otterbein Ranked Among Top 10
in Nation

A special October education issue of U.S. News & World Report ranked Otterbein eighth in the nation among the best smaller comprehensive colleges in America according to a survey of college presidents. Presidents were asked to take into consideration cohesiveness of curriculum, quality of teaching, relationship between faculty and students and the atmosphere of learning fostered by the campus. Otterbein was cited for its "emphasis on critical analysis as an integral part of its four-year integrated study of human nature."

OC President Rates
Cover of Business First
Magazine

President C. Brent DeVore appeared on the cover of Business First Magazine's Feb. 8 issue. The cover story was entitled "Can Small Independent Colleges Survive?" The article, which explored the plans and safeguards small colleges have taken to maintain stability as the number of high school students decrease, cited Otterbein as having an advantageous location, successful continuing education program, valuable church support and a healthy financial status.

Nursing Department Gets International Charter

The Otterbein College department of nursing received its charter as the Kappa Lambda Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International Nursing Honor Society in an April 28 ceremony on campus. Dr. Doris Edwards, dean of Capital University's School of Nursing, presented the charter to Dr. Judy Strayer, chairperson of Otterbein's department of nursing, and Otterbein president C. Brent DeVore. The mentor chapter is the Epsilon Chapter of The Ohio State University College of Nursing.

Right hander Kyle Ramey led the Ohio Athletic Conference with a perfect 7-0 record and a 2.09 earned run average. His 2.09 ERA placed him 12th, nationally, among all pitchers in NCAA Division III.

Mortar Board Chapter Started on Campus

Teleiotes, the senior men's and women's honor society, became affiliated with Mortar Board in a May 8 installation ceremony on campus. Mortar Board is a national network of honor societies committed to scholarship, leadership and service. Founded in 1918, Mortar Board includes approximately 200 chapters in colleges across the nation, each with the autonomy to determine its own implementation of goals and resolutions set forth by delegates to the national conference.

The Otterbein Center for the Arts offers outstanding cultural opportunities for students, faculty and the community year 'round. Through a continuum of theatre productions, musical events Artist Series offerings and visual arts exhibitions, a variety of stimulating activities permeates the Otterbein campus.

Last year the theatre continued to receive critical acclaim (for such productions as "A Chorus Line" above, co-produced by the department of music), broke attendance records and increased subscription sales by 12 percent. The music department's extensive contribution to arts at Otterbein included more than 30 events such as band and choir concerts, faculty and ensemble recitals and performances by Opus Zero (show choir) and the Jazz-Lab band. In its diverse line-up of offerings, the Artist Series brought seven evenings of professional entertainment to campus last year and also achieved record subscription sales. Art exhibits were planned throughout the academic year at Battelle Fine Arts Center featuring the works of professionals, students and alumni along with an exhibit of the College's African art collection and a display of vintage clothing from the Otterbein costume collection.

ALUMNI

The figure before each name indicates the total number of years of giving to Otterbein.

Each class's gifts are totaled by the amounts contributed to the Otterbein Fund (O.F.) and to Other Giving (O.G.) Gifts to the Otterbein Fund support the general educational budget of the College. Other Giving includes contributions for all other purposes.

The Abbreviation % Part shows the percentage of living class members who contributed gifts to Otterbein during the fiscal year 1987-1988. A class member who died after making a gift to the College has a cross (+) by his or her name.
