PUPILS SING

Excellent Concert Rendered by Voice Pupils of the Conservatory.

Music lovers of Otterbein and Westerville were treated with one of the best musicales ever given in Lambert Hall, when the voice pupils of Professor Resler rendered a strong program Wednesday evening. The audience was not as large as that usually present at the combined piano and vocal recitals, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in appreciation. The inclement weather was responsible for the decreased attendance.

Eighteen numbers, including two by the Otterbein Glee Club, duets and trios, as well as solos, comprised the program.

Possibly the greatest appreciation shown was that displayed for Miss Drury's excellent soprano work. Miss Drury appeared in a duet "Carmena," by Wilson, with Miss Olive McFarland; in the trio, "The Mariners," by Randegger, with Professors Resler and Gilbert; and as soloist in the beautiful "Spanish Romance," by Sawyer. Her work was worthy of the highest commendation.

The work of Mr. Lawrence Mathers, as baritone soloist, is worthy of high praise likewise; the duet, "Noontide Heat is Long Past Over," by Thomas, sung by Mr. Mathers and Miss Edith Rasey, was one of the numbers most pleasing.

The beautiful solo rendered in

Y. W. C. A. Alumna Meeting.

Plans are being made for an Alumna meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association on Sunday, June 8th, preceding the association anniversary. It is the wish of the committee that this meeting be a representative service of the association girls of other years. All visiting and resident alumnae are cordially invited to attend. The alumnae who can not be present are invited to send a note of greeting, to be read at the meeting, to Miss Margaret Gaver, Westerville, O.

It is the Law.

PENICK WINS

Seniors are Victorious in Contest with Juniors

The Annual Russell Oratorical Contest was held last Tuesday evening and was very closely contested. A very small audience however came out to hear the good orations.

The subjects and contestants were:

The Love of Money, Mary Grise.

A Demand for Patriots, J. D. Good.

Modern Slavery's Challenge, R. E. Penick.

The Upward Path, Ila Grindell.

Chivalry Now, C. W. Foltz.

Dr. E. A. Jones presided, and the judges on thought and composition were E. L. Weinland, Mrs. Mary E. Lee and W. C. Johnson. The judges on delivery were Rev. Shaibley, T. M. Hare and Judge C. M. Rogers.

R. E. Penick was awarded first prize, Ila Grindell, second prize, and J. D. Good, third prize.

Contract Is Let.

The senior class is to erect a gateway at the Northeast entrance to the campus. The contract has been given to H. Karg, to be completed by June 10. The gateway will be of brick capped with stone.

PRESS MEN MEET

Hold Annual Business Meeting at Ohio State.

The editors, managers and first assistants in both departments, of the leading college papers of Ohio met in their annual conference at the Ohio Union, Ohio State University, last Friday and Saturday.

On Friday afternoon a short business session was held, and on Friday evening occurred the banquet, the big event of the conference. The Honorable James Boyle acted as toastmaster and in his speeches gave some very valuable advice to managers and editors alike. George F. Burba, secretary to the governor, spoke on "The Editorial." He gave us his theory of how an edi-

Delivers Address.

President Clippinger delivered the commencement address at the High School at Justus, Ohio, last Thursday evening. He preached the baccalaureate sermon at the Shenandoah Collegiate Institute, Dayton, Virginia, Sunday and also preached at the same place in the evening. On Wednesday evening the 28th, he will deliver the commencement address for the high school at Thornville, Ohio, and on Friday evening, the 30th, at Croton, Ohio.

CONFERENCE ENDS

Church Union Measure Passed. Bishops Are Appointed to Places.

The General Conference has closed its session which was held at Decatur, Illinois. It was in all ways a wonderful session and many important measures were voted on.

The measure in favor of church union was adopted. For a time there was a spirit of opposition against this movement, but this finally gave way to the majority. The question will now be submitted to the individual church members. The vote necessary for its final adoption was changed from three-fourths of the church membership to two thirds. This will certainly insure its adoption.

After some discussion six bishops were elected, and given the following districts: East district, Bishop W. M. Weekly; Central district, Bishop G. M. Matthews; Northwest district, Bishop H. H. Fout; Southwest district, Bishop C. J. Kephart; Pacific district, Bishop W. M. Bell; Foreign district, Bishop A. T. Howard.

The conference was very progressive and two new boards of control were elected, one for Sunday School and Brotherhood work, and the other for the young people's work. These two boards are expected to do a great deal of good in advancing their respective work. W. R. Funk was again elected Publishing Agent, but said it would be his last term as he is anxious to return to the ministry. Dr. W. O. Fries was elected to succeed Bishop H. H. Fout as Editor of the Sunday School literature. The purchase of the Shaker farm was ratified without opposition.

Quartet Sings.

The faculty quartet gave a concert on Thursday evening, the 22nd, at Gahanna, Ohio and one Friday evening, the 23rd, at Hilliards, O. They have two dates for next week, at West Jefferson, Ohio, on the 27th, and at Deshler, Ohio, on the 29th.

ATHLETICS

LOSE AGAIN

Miller Pitches Strong Game and Only Allows Varsity Three Hits.

Wittenberg, with Miller in the box, was too much for Otterbein last Saturday and they were forced to take the little end of a 5 to 3 score. Snively pitched a good game but was unable to keep the visitors from bunching their hits in the second, fourth and eighth innings. Captain "Len" as usual made a fancy catch back of second in the seventh off of Waltz's bat that cut off a run. Daub was the only one who could do anything with the bat, getting two of the three hits and by some clever base running scored two of the three runs.

Varsity started off with a rush. Daub singled, Calihan sacrificed, and Garver singled scoring Daub. Kohr was safe on a roller to short, both were left on bases when Hott struck out and "Chuck" raised a fly to center. For the next seven innings but three men faced Miller each inning. Daub started again in the ninth with another single, advanced to third when Waltz dropped Calihan's fly and scored on a wild pitch. Garver raised a high one to Ruhl, Kohr took first when Swayer let the third strike slip by, which allowed Calihan to score. Schnake struck out and Campbell hit to C. Miller which ended the game.

Wittenberg started their fireworks in the second when a single and a double netted a run, two hits gave them another run in the fourth, two hits, two bases on balls and an error gave them two runs in the eighth and in the ninth they scored their last run without a hit. Scores:

TENNIS TEAM WINS

Wittenberg Loses Second Tournament to Our Speedy Racquetters.

Our boys had little trouble in taking their second tournament from Wittenberg Friday afternoon on the local courts. Barker-meyer and Bandeen played the doubles against Kauffman and Sorn and won 6-1, 6-4. Sando took the two sets of singles from Sorn 6-3, 6-4, and Nelson finished the tournament by winning from Kauffman 6-2, 6-2.

The management is making a strong effort to have Captain Sando and Nelson entered in the All State tournament at Kenyon this next week. Nothing definite has been heard yet however. Negotiations are under way with Ohio State, and it is thought that a tournament will be scheduled for the near future to take the place of Denison who have failed to live up to their agreement.

Local Tournament.

Wednesday afternoon the local tournament will begin and continue until the championship is determined. Ribbons will be awarded the winners. The management desires that every body enter and have a large tournament.

There will be singles for ladies and men, as well as the mixed doubles. This tournament serves a double purpose, first to interest every body in tennis, second, to get a line on coming Varsity material. This year we will lose Sando and Nelson by graduation, and the only other players who have been doing consistent work are Bandeen and Barker-meyer both Juniors. This will be a splendid chance to get started for next year. Hand your entries to L. E. Smith, or Captain Sando before Tuesday evening, if you wish to enter.

Win and Lose.

The Second team went to Grove City Friday and won their first victory by defeating Duck-wall's High School lads, 7 to 5. The game was evenly played, although both teams made a number of errors. Weber and Weimer did the best batting for the Seconds and Devault for Grove City, he also made a pretty catch of a line drive.

Saturday morning the Seconds played Aquinas High School at Columbus and were defeated 14 to 2. They played a ragged game in the field, and made many costly blunders on the paths.

During the next week or so "Dad" Harris expects to have some gray squirrels running around the campus. He has had several marksmen out during the past week bringing the little red squirrels down to Mother Earth. Dr. S. W. Keister promised to get the gray squirrels when the red ones were killed and suitable houses put up for them. These requirements will soon be fulfilled for the houses are built and will be put up in a day or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Beinz of Van Wert, Ohio surprised Mr. and Mrs. Harris Saturday afternoon by suddenly coming to visit them. Mrs. Beinz is the mother of Mr. Harris.

"The Pick and Shovel Club" have decided to publish a quarterly, known as the "Case Mining Quarterly." The men interested in mining or metallurgical work will be greatly interested in the subjects treated. It is hoped that the first issue will appear during commencement week.

Columbia—The honor system will probably be installed here. With only 65 against it, and 266 for it with four not voting, its installation seems almost secure.

EDITORIALS

The pleasures of the senses pass quickly; those of the heart become sorrows, but those of the mind are ever with us, even to the end of our journey.

Give Something.

The senior class of this year is starting a new precedent, which is a very good thing. They have already let the contract for their gateway. This gateway will not only beautify the campus, but will always convince one of the fact that the class of nineteen hundred and thirteen had the right spirit towards Otterbein.

Classes do not always need to erect gateways, but there are many things of like character, which would beautify the campus, or do some good about the college buildings. It is to be hoped that their action will inspire other classes to leave something by which we may remember their class.

Good Work.

The General Conference of the United Brethren in Christ, which has just closed its session, has done more for education than any other conference had ever dreamed of doing. There are several causes, one of the main reasons is that the church is slowly recognizing that she must require a higher standard of education for her ministers. Another that there are now enough college men, and men who recognize the value of education, to out-vote the others.

The Church in this one act, as well as in others, showed that she surely has a progressive spirit. In what field could she lend a more helpful influence than in the field of Christian education? Surely the United Brethren in Christ have awakened to the fact, that we need Christian education, and better days are in sight for old Otterbein.

Get to Work.

When are we going to use our new athletic field? Never, unless it is put into shape. Now is the time to lay it out, a fair sod is started and if it is kept mowed, it will be in fine shape for football next fall. But the track has not been laid out, and no one seems to want the job. The coach won't take it, nor the athletic board, and if the faculty has to do it, we never will get it arranged.

The field should be laid out and the cinder track put on, and rolled, as you can not get a cinder track level in one season, it takes time, and now is the time to commence.

Is it Hard Luck?

Otterbein has been very unfortunate in all her athletics this year with the exception of the tennis team. Sando and Nelson have worked hard and have won all the tournaments scheduled by their hardworking manager.

True other forms of athletics have had hard luck at times, but so has tennis, and we still have a team which can uphold the honor of Otterbein.

Do You Know Why?

We have often wondered why a debate or an oratorical contest never draws a crowd at Otterbein, when a lecture will draw a full house. What is more interesting than a debate or an oratorical contest? It is true there are not a great many jokes, but there is enthusiasm to burn in most of the speeches. Otterbein has supported poor athletics this year, but has failed to support good debate and oratory. This is not a very good sign.

The baseball team ought to win with the new training rules.

LOVE'S TRIBUTE.

(J. L. Morrison.)

Why decorate the soldiers' graves
With beauty and with floral bloom,
While o'er each grave old glory waves
To mark each soldier's silent tomb?

Beneath these flowers sleep today
The sacred ashes of the brave,
Who did their country's call obey,
Went forth their country's life to save.

O'er all the land the thousands went
From peace and joy and happiness,
To toil and danger to be sent,
To save our land from her distress.

Some went from grand old Otterbein,
Life's cherished hopes were put aside,
And felt the calling was divine
To check the raging rebel tide.

On many a hard fought battle field
They gave their lives as free as rain,
That the wrong to the right might yield,
And our brothers come back again.

The war was hard, and fierce, and long,
With many a burden hard to bear,
Before our brothers saw their wrong,
And hauled their flag down in despair.

And so our land is one again.
The best beneath the shining sun,
Bought by the lives of those brave men,
Whose work and trials now are done.

And now to you who live this day,
Enjoy these blessings dearly bought,
You owe a debt that you can pay
Only by love to those who wrought.

So spread these flowers upon each grave
Of those brave souls who slumber here,
And think for you their lives they gave,
And shed for each a silent tear.

CLUB TALK

Don't Unite Them.

Editor of Otterbein Review:

Much has been said at different times during the year about joining the debating teams with the athletic teams in the Varsity "O" association. If this were to be done it would destroy entirely the main purpose of the Varsity "O". The letter stands at present as a symbol of high athletic attainment and the association, as the highest honorary association of the school and also as a body for the advancement of all athletic interests.

Men gaining distinction in debating and oratorical contests are truly worthy of more honor than they gain at the present time, but as debating and oratory develop (continued on page five.)

IT STRIKES US.

That the recital Wednesday evening scored a big success.

That the pool room is losing trade.

That someone ought to steal the chapel hymn books for good.

That the glee club will miss "Daddy."

That we don't appreciate Doctor Russell as we should.

That the first shall be last and the last shall be first.

That the "preps" still think they can catch "Dad" asleep.

That we don't agree with them.

That we have some tennis team.

That a person or two around here ought to earn an "O" before they wear one.

CLUB TALK

the literary talent of a student, and athletics the physical, they are entirely separate and distinct organizations, and should be treated as such.

As there are during the year over twenty men and a few women who take part in the public speaking contests why could not an association similar to that of the Varsity "O" be organized for the raising of the literary standard in the school and including as members those, who have won distinction on the forensic platform. Some emblem, seal, or pin could be adopted which would give those interested some reward to strive for, besides the money considerations offered at the present time. If some one deeply interested in this work would take hold of it and boost it, it could only be successful for it has been tried with good results in others schools. Why would it not work, then, in Otterbein and give the partakers something worth striving for?

The writer of the above article evidently does not know that Otterbein has an Oratory "O" association.

It is High Enough?

Editor Otterbein Review:

In a recent issue you ask if the coming catalogue will have the same expense items, intimating that these are not kept revised up to date. By referring to the catalogue published in 1887 you will find this statement: "Doubtless some students find it quite easy to spend annually a larger sum than $240, and do not regard themselves as extravagant; but it is equally certain that a year in college costs even less than $100 cash to some who are not aware that they deprive themselves of any necessities or practice self-denial." This you will see that as much change has been made in the catalogue during the last twenty-six years as is consistent with the conservative tendencies of this institution. Old Timer.

W. Va. Wesleyan—West Virginia Wesleyan now have a baseball record equal to that of Yale. Each school has won thirteen consecutive victories without a single defeat this season.

Amusements are Discussed by Dean Hughes.

The Young Women's Christian Association girls are always gratified when they are able to have an outside speaker come to impress upon them thoughts from other schools. We were very fortunate in securing Miss Winona Hughes, Dean of Women at Wooster, to speak on Tuesday evening.

The topic which she discussed was that of amusements. She brought out facts which we would not ordinarily think of, concerning this subject. One thought from the twenty-first chapter of John was referred to, when the disciples were fishing all night long without success, Christ appeared to them at early morn and told them where fish were abundant. This shows that Christ is with all of us in everything we do, whether we are working or otherwise.

We should not study or dissipate too much, as we will grow fatigued and will not be able to accomplish anything. Regular hours for sleep and a sufficient amount of exercise should always be taken into consideration.

She emphasized outdoor exercises, especially long vigorous walks in both summer and winter, tennis playing and more strenuous exercises also.

There are many brilliant people who never take time for anything but their studies, but after a while they will suddenly break down and have to abandon everything.

We, as Christian students can enjoy ourselves thoroughly by having organized and systematic work out of doors along with our studying.

Card playing in college is not a question of right and wrong but it is a question of whether we can afford to do it. Card playing demands keen intellectual work, the same as we have in the class room. Can we afford to do this kind of thing for recreation?

If we can not follow this regularly, we can carry it out in spirit by being of good cheer. Joy, richness, and beauty of the out door life gives to the world richness beyond anything we know, and we must remember that Christ is back of it all.

Y. M. C. A.

Senior Farewell Meeting led by F. A. Hanawalt on Snapshots.

The primary thought of the senior farewell meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was the life of service or the dedication of our lives to the needs of our fellow men. When a life of service is mentioned, most of us are prone to think of that of a preacher or missionary. The leader brought out the idea, by means of word pictures or snapshots of various characters, that we could all live a life of service.

Hiram Golph was the subject of the first snapshot. He was a plain, simple shoe maker who lived in a small village. Here he worked day after day, but as he worked he put his heart into his work, and soon the man's kindly heart shone out through the shoes which he made. The people trusted him and confided in him and thus he was able to direct many lives in the right path.

The second character taken was that of a young doctor. This doctor came to a small village where there were several other doctors, all of whom did low and mean things, which were out of place in their profession. The new doctor refused to do these things even at the risk of his daily bread. Soon, however, a chance came to him to go to a better community. He refused to go, preferring to stay there and raise the standard of the village. Certainly he could be called a man of God.

The great German singer, Schumann Heink, was the third character. There is something behind this woman that makes her songs impressive. It is that she has love in her heart. She lives a beautiful home life, and always enjoys to return to her babies. She is living a great life of service, ennobling her own kind of singing and uplifting all those who hear her.

The last character discussed was that of an old German lecturer. He went around lecturing to teachers at various places, even at the risk of his life, for he was subject to heart failure. Yet he thought it was his duty to lecture, and point out some of the errors the people had in regard to nature. He lived a true life of service and as for us, this ideal torial should be written and what it should contain. Professor Harrington of Ohio State talked on the subject "What a College Newspaper Should Be." Almon Payne spoke on "Credit" and the subject "Pay Out" was given to Roy Magill.

On Saturday morning another session was called and a round table discussion was held, which was followed by the election of officers. The result was as follows: president, Almon Payne (Oberlin Review); vice president, Ford Owens (Ohio State Lantern); secretary and treasurer, F. S. Radebaugh (Oberlin Review). It was also decided to hold the next meeting at Oberlin.

In the evening the men heard Dr. Talcott Williams speak on "The Newspaper and the Reporter."

Pupils Sing.

Miss Ruth Brundage's excellent soprano voice met with much favorable comment.

The recital was convincing beyond a doubt as to the ability of Professor Resler in developing the vocal talent of his pupils.

Flowers for the Dead.

(S. F. Wenger, '11.)

Bursting open the locked doors of their green-walled prison cells, myriads of buds in regular succession burst forth into sunlight and freedom and all nature welcomes the advent of the flowers. How lovely they are! Poet can not describe, nor artist paint their beauty.

With rosettes clasping the rich mold, watered with draughts of rain and dew they nod toward the sun, their source of life. Break their stem and that same sun which gave them life will hasten their death and the loveliest bouquet will soon be a colorless, odorless, shapeless mass. 'Twas ever thus, vast wealth soon spent, much beauty soon gone and within a few days nature's fairest will meet their fate. And why?

The answer, Memorial Day is at hand when we observe the custom of decorating the graves of friends and loved ones with flowers, the choicest and loveliest. Gentle hands will gather and bear them, with bleeding stems to God's Acre. The soldier, his last battle fought, will again be honored by his loyal comrades. Others will bear the love-tokens to mounds where two are again side by side, both separated and united by death—father, mother! Would that for them we had fadeless roses without thorns! Yet for others it is sister, brother, life companion, son or daughter, maybe of one which had read its dual authorship without knowing that one is father, the other mother. Ask not yonder mourner, bearing her gift, of the relationship between visited and visitor. Theirs should have been bridal wreath but now 'tis bleeding hearts. He who loved is dead, but love is not. They are lovers still.

Roses, flowers, wreaths for all, known and unknown. Beautiful and full of life like those who give them, soon to turn to dust, to die as those who receive them is their fate. "To what purpose is this waste?"

They believe not in spiritualism yet they seem to hold converse with something from the tombs which mellows the hard heart, re-enthrones love and inspires not only to die but to live, and live nobly. The respect is for the dead, the reward for the living.

Ohio State—The longest and most evenly contested tug-of-war in the history of the college took place last Thursday on the college campus, between thirty stalwart freshmen and as many powerful sophomores on the opposite sides of Mirror Lake. After eighteen minutes of pulling, a halt was called as the men were showing signs of exhaustion.

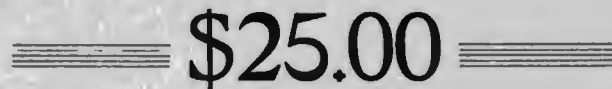

Idleness is the mother of gossip.
