Debate Question Chosen.

At a recent meeting held in Columbus the question for debate next year was chosen. It reads as follows, Resolved that the same immigration privileges should be granted the Asiatic people as is given to the European people.

The schedules have not yet been arranged but it is assured that whatever may be that Otterbein will have a good list of schools to argue with.
The announcement of the question this early will give debaters a chance to study the question during the summer months and be better prepared when the time for real work begins.
In the past Otterbein has been proud of her debaters and no exception is expected for the coming season.

CARL L. SMITH

By reason of the fact that in these war times the student body is constantly changing. For this reason it was found necessary to select a new business manager to complete the year for the Tan and Cardinal. This was done a short time ago and Carl L. Smith was chosen.

Mr. Smith has for some time been a most faithful assistant in this capacity and for that reason is entirely deserving of this position. Carl is a sophomore and a prominent member of that class. Besides being manager of the College paper and assistant business manager of the biennial publication he is an athlete as well, having won his "O" for his services of this year's football team.

SPECIAL SERVICE PROMISED

Service Flag to be Given Gold Star in Patriotic Chapel Service.

Next Monday morning a Patriotic Service is to be observed at the regular chapel hour. At that time a solid gold star is to be placed on Otter-bein's Service Flag, honoring the first Otterbein man who has "paid the last full measure of devotion" to his school and his country. The report came a few weeks ago of Harold Rowland's death somewhere in France, but some little time elapsed before the report was verified. Since the fact has been established, the Service Flag committee has ordered a solid gold star for the Service Flag, and is now planning a special patriotic service to do honor to the memory of Mr. Rowland.

This service, to be held next Monday morning, is to be entirely in the hands of the students. Prof. Rosse-lot, at the head of the committee is working with a student committee, to arrange a patriotic program.

This service will no doubt be very impressive in its nature and also bring grave thoughts to the mind, but it should not be considered as the last of its kind for e'er this great fight is ended there may be several such stars. It is planned by those in charge that these stars be preserved for a standing memorial to the brave boys of Otterbein.

Additions to the Honor Roll.

Otterbein again gives her contribution to the war in persons of, Norris Grabill, Chalmer Potts, C. A.
Hahn, Gilbert Mills and Edson Doty.

TENNIS TEAM SUFFER DEFEAT

Kenyon Inflicts First Wound, While the Capital Team Succeeded in Rendering the Second Defeat.

KENYON MATCH CLOSE

Many Things Have Happened Which Have Hindered the Boys from Doing Their Best.

Otterbein's tennis team was booked for two tournaments the past week, both of which they lost.

The first engagement was with the Kenyon lads, and this proved to be a very close event. In the first sets of singles Sidnel succeeded in downing Ressler of Otterbein in two straight sets, 6-4, 6-4. In the second match of singles Bancroft of Otterbein did better and reaped victories in two successive sets, 6-2, 6-4. It took the doubles to decide the tournament and this proved to be the closest of all matches. Otterbein took the first set of doubles by a score of 6-4, the next two being won by Kenyon 7-5, 7-5.

Friday of this week the Tan and Cardinal team journeyed to Columbus to meet the Capitol University racketers of that city. This likewise was another defeat for Otterbein.

Next Saturday these two teams will meet on the local courts and fight out their second engagement.

The racket yielders of this year's squad have not had sufficient opportunity to fit themselves for all that they are capable of doing. At the very first of the season they were handicapped on account of the lack of a place to play. For some reason or other every available tennis court at Otterbein was so delapidated so as to make playing upon them an impossibility. But finally the new ones were ready and some good hard work was started to round the men into shape for the initial games, but another misfortune presented itself.

Through enlistment the army took away one of the regulars, thus breaking up a good double combination.
However the fellows are fast adjusting themselves to the situation, and they will not doubt change the results of the remaining games.

Otterbein Remembered In Will.

According to the terms of the will of C. A. Thomas, of Columbus, Otterbein College is given one-twelfth of the estate, valued at $52,000. Mr.
Thomas was always much interested in the college. Gifts to the $400,000 campaign are steadily coming in, and President Clippinger is satisfied that June 10 will see the campaign go over the top.

THURSDAY'S CHAPEL SER VICE DISTURBED BY APPEARANCE OF ABSENT-MINDED SENIOR

It was Thursday morning. Deep and sonorous rolled forth the tones of the chapel organ as Professor Cornetet and Dr. Sanders majestically walked to the platform and solemnly took their seats behind the pulpit.
The usual awe-inspiring hush fell over the students as they came in from the invigorating atmosphere of a perfect May morning and reverently filed into their accustomed pews. Not a smile; not a stir; not a sound save the dying cadences of the organ.

Suddenly a change came over the assembly. Hundreds of faces were turned towards the rear of the room as a strong phenomenon appeared.
A tall, stately, imposing figure, completely robed in garments of flowing black, made its way with colossal strides down the aisle to a seat not far from the front. Unconscious of the ripples and waves of giggles and laughter around, this singular being raised a four-cornered hat, placed it upon its massive head, and with features as if carved from purest marble, sat staring fixedly into space. Gradually but surely, however like the gathering rays of sunlight at the dawn, a beam of intelligence seemed to penetrate the colossal cerebrum that something was wrong. Inquiringly the giant head was turned from side to side, and large, innocent searching eyes were fixed upon those around. A felling of compassion crept into the heart of one sitting near. He leaned forward, tapped the figure on the shoulder and said: "Hig, this is Thursday. Wear your cap and gown tomorrow."

The blossom cannot tell what be-mission.—H. W. Beecher.

A NEW ERA

Within the last year our school has undergone a great change. So sudden has been this change that scarcely any of us have realized the fact but nevertheless it is so. We are the same students as we were last year, we act different, think different, and talk different. In short we are living in a new era.

A little over a year ago our conversations were vastly changed from what they are today. It was not an uncommon thing to hear one who was in sympathy with the German cause and he did not hesitate to make it known. Today it is all changed we never hear this person talk anymore.
If he still holds his sympathies with this monster of civilization he does not let other people know about it.

And in reference to our thoughts they are also much different than they were a year ago. We were accustomed to think that this war would be all over before very long and we permitted ourselves to be consoled with such thoughts. We did not take our education in the same light as we do now. Among the students it is a common thing to hear one who wants to finish his school before taking up a gun for he has come to realize that he is to have an important part to play when this great fight is over. We are thinking of greater and higher things that never were in our minds before.

Likewise our actions are different.
We are manifesting a more democratic spirit than ever before. Everywhere it has been seen that all are willing and are trying to place the man at the head who is best fitted for the place and not trying to force a friend into the limelight of prominence.

KEEP IT UP

What is the matter? Have you lost all you pep? These are appropriate questions to ask the students concerning the endowment campaign. It has been officially announced that the closing time has been extended and that we are still at work. If we are to win it is necessary that we keep up the interest and not let it drag for one instant. It appears that the students have lost all hope of victory and that they have put the drive down as a failure but such is not the case.
True it was a dark cloud that went over us on May ninth but always remember every dark cloud has a silver lining if we will only turn it inside out, and that is what we must do.

There is a long line of Otterbein supporters who are doing all that they can to help us win and we must not stand in their way. We must win, we dare not lose since we have gone this far. We will win if it takes several more months. So students don't lose hope, don't let the old ship sink, keep right at work and bring her safely to shore. Write that letter to a friend urging him to help and create in him a new fountain of enthusiasm then if we do this we will be able to turn defeat into victory.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement this year above all others is going to be vastly different than heretofore. Many of those who are regularly seen upon the campus at that time will not be here on account of being in the service of the country. This will no doubt make the usual crowd much smaller.

It is a sort of a relief and a pride of the seniors to see a big crowd here on commencement week and they will in all probabilities be somewhat disappointed when they come to the last week at Otterbein.

It is up to us to see that the visitors are as many as possible. We can right away send a letter to that friend or relatives and urge them to come to this one occasion at any cost. Urge upon those alumni that can to come and keep up the long standing custom. We must have a big week and we will have it if only you will help.
At any rate let all the students remain for that week and show the people that you at least are interested and want to see the old place lively for at least one week. Get ready now and boost the last week.

KENNETH L. ARNOLD

Sad to relate but the business manager of the Tan and Cardinal has resigned and will not be in school next year. Mr. Arnold was a valuable man to this paper and it was the desire of all that he might put it upon a stronger foundation. So far he has done well and everyone congratulates him upon his excellent work.

To succeed Mr. Arnold, Carl Smith has been chosen. The two men have worked together and the future of the paper looks very bright for that reason.

All wish Mr. Arnold the best of success in whatever work he takes up after the end of this school year.

TRACK TEAM DEFEATED

Tan and Cardinal Men Win Several Firsts But Fail to Get Their Share of Seconds.

Saturday, the Varsity track team lost the last meet of the season to St. Marys of Dayton. The final score was Otterbein 47, St. Marys 65. The Varsity was not up to form as the results will show. St. Marys made half in points in four events the 100, 220 yard dashes, broad jump and javelin throw. For instance 105 feet won second in the javelin and Otterbein ought to have beaten it.

At the start of the meet St. Marys immediately took the lead and for a time it looked like a run away. Our men finally woke up however and were soon close to the front but St. Marys could not be beaten. Nine points or three second places was all that separated the two at the finish of the meet.

Otterbein carried off seven firsts and for three of them Captain Barnhart is responsible. Barney won the low hurdles, high jump and pole vault. Barney has made a good captain and although hindered by many things he was the high scorer for the year.

Higlemire is given credit for two first places. He won the shot put and discus throw. Miller, who last week in the Heidelberg meet sprung a surprise by winning the mile and half mile, won the mile in easy fashion.

Perry has at last found his race. He is a good 100 and 220 yard man but the way he ran the quarter Saturday convinced all who saw him,

This musical occasion will be conducted by Professor Hopkins and the entire program will be given by his pupils, with the exception of a few vocal selections which will be furnished by Professor Spessard's students.

Professor Hopkins is recognized to be a fine teacher and a good evening's entertainment is looked for. Since it is something new the auditorium of Lambert hall should be well filled for this occasion. Remember the time 8:00 o'clock and the place Lambert Hall.
