Message from the President

Dear Alumni and Friends,

Because you met the challenge, Otterbein continues to move ahead with optimism. You responded to the Trustee $100,000 Challenge by increasing giving to the Otterbein Fund by over $161,000. The College raised over $1.6 million in 1982, the highest amount ever. Congratulations!

Otterbein continues to demonstrate excellence. It meets the challenges. This fall an outstanding freshman class had ninety scholars (27% of the class) with high admissions test scores and graduates in the top seven percent of their class, the largest group in our history. The fall theatre production of Abelard and Heloise was selected for regional American College Theatre Festival competition. The football team had its fourth consecutive winning season and beat Capital. An outstanding cross country program produced its first cross country All-American. Enrollment held well with 1,678 students, down slightly from the previous year but within budget projections.

Many challenges lie ahead. The College continues its curriculum review. The Nursing and Computer Science programs grow. For 1982-83 our tuition will increase to $6009 and tuition, room and board to $8433. Yet over the past decade, home fuel oil has increased 397%, medical bills 161%, car payments and food both 128%, while Otterbein tuition increased 84%. Still below the cost of most comparable colleges, an Otterbein education remains the best investment a student and a family can make.

The need for increased funds to retain and renew our outstanding faculty and to meet ever growing needs for scholarship aid to highly qualified students who cannot afford the Otterbein experience without help dictates one great challenge for the eighties. We must triple or quadruple college endowment to provide that extra margin for salaries, scholarships and program. We will meet this challenge and many others. As we build, your commitment, the Otterbein heritage and hard work will assure success.

Come to the campus. See today's students in action. Meet tomorrow's leaders. Catch the excitement. You will find renewal and joy in Otterbein.

Enthusiastically,

Thomas J. Kerr, IV,
Otterbein College

Leadership Giving Recognized

In four years the number of persons who contributed $100 or more to Otterbein College grew from 678 to 1,107—a 63% increase. The largest part of that growth—22%—occurred during 1982 in response to the Trustee Challenge.

To recognize the importance of this generous support to the College, the Board of Trustees last November approved a revamped program to honor the donors who qualify for membership in the Otterbein Society, the organization comprised of all members of the annual leadership clubs. These clubs are the President's Club, Towers Club, Cardinal Club and Centurion Club.

Membership in the clubs is based on a donor's annual giving total. Matching gifts from corporations and foundations also are counted in determining membership status. Memberships are renewable each year.

Through the clubs, the College expresses its gratitude to leadership donors by offering to them privileges for their enjoyment. The privileges for the members of each club are listed below.

The President's Club ($1,000 or more)

- listing in the annual Honor Roll of Donors
- a personalized thank you from the President of the College
- Presidential invitation to special campus events
- admission to all campus events (reservations must be made with the development office in advance)
- parking privileges on campus
- privileges at the Rike Physical Education and Recreation Center and the Courtright Memorial Library
- an off-campus Presidential briefing
- a Presidential update
- a framed certificate attesting to membership
- an invitation to the President's Club dinner

The Towers Club ($500-$999)

- listing in the Honor Roll of Donors

- a personalized thank you from the President of the College
- privileges at the Rike Physical Education and Recreation Center and the Courtright Memorial Library
- a framed certificate attesting to membership
- an invitation to the Towers Club dinner

The Cardinal Club ($300-$499)

- listing in the Honor Roll of Donors
- a thank you letter from the President
- an invitation to the Cardinal Club reception
- a graphic representation of a campus scene, suitable for framing

The Centurion Club ($100-$299)

- listing in the Honor Roll of Donors
- a thank you from the President of the College
- a graphic representation of a campus scene, suitable for framing

Accept the Challenge! was the slogan before the Otterbein Family in 1982. And accept the Challenge they did.

The $100,000 Trustee Challenge met with overwhelming success as alumni, parents, friends and faculty gave to the Otterbein Fund as never before. A record $588,409 in gifts were made to the Otterbein Fund in 1982.

The Trustees designed the Challenge to stimulate growth in annual, unrestricted giving to Otterbein by matching new gifts and qualifying increases. An additional feature of the Challenge called for a bonus to be paid to the Otterbein Fund for movement into a higher level leadership club.

The Trustees gave more than $108,000 to the Challenge, and their vision and commitment proved to be an incentive to which the Otterbein family responded with enthusiasm. 558 new donors came forward to participate, earning $47,302.50 in Challenge dollars for the Otterbein Fund. 821 donors made qualifying increases of $67,574.89. Giving Club bonuses totalling $16,500 for the 326 new members brought the grand total to $131,377.39.

Challenge Accepted!

The College trustees and the rest of the Otterbein family can take pride in producing record totals in the Otterbein Fund in 1982. Future challenges facing the College also can be met with sustained enthusiasm and involvement.

Modern Day Ills

by Ruth Gerstner

When Bill Rea advises someone to trade his polyester doubleknits for cotton and silk clothes he speaks as a physician, not a fashion arbiter.

The reduction or elimination of synthetics in all aspects of life is a big part of the treatment in clinical ecology, a relatively new medical field in which William J. Rea is a leading authority. Practitioners of clinical ecology propose that chronic exposure to common foods, environmental chemicals and natural inhalants (such as pollen)—in addition to physical and psychosocial stress—can trigger a wide range of physical and psychological disorders in susceptible individuals. By isolating the offending materials and reducing the patient's exposure to them, the symptoms can be controlled. (See related story on next page.)

A 1958 graduate of Otterbein, Dr. Rea is a Dallas cardiovascular and thoracic surgeon whose own experiences led him into this relatively new medical field. Although he still maintains a surgical practice, these days most of his considerable energy is devoted to research, treatment and promotion in the field of environmental health.

Dr. Rea founded and directs the Environmental Health Center-Dallas, which consists of a large outpatient clinic/laboratory complex in a modern office park on the city's north side and the Environmental Control Unit at suburban Carrollton Community Hospital. Mildly to moderately affected patients are treated through the clinic and severely ill patients are admitted to the hospital unit.

The staff of more than 70 includes six physicians specializing in clinical ecology, a psychologist, nurses, laboratory technicians, two nutritionists and various support personnel. Additionally, there are about 40 consulting physicians affiliated with the center, and the environmental medicine departments of North Texas State University and the University of Texas at Dallas are involved in some joint studies with the center.

The environment of both the clinic and the unit are carefully controlled. The bare walls, floors and ceiling are constructed of non-toxic, inert materials such as aluminum, porcelain, steel and ceramic tile. The windows are sealed and the air is filtered several times to remove pollutants. No one is allowed to enter wearing cologne, aftershave or hairspray or with dry cleaning or smoke odors clinging to his clothes.

Patients suffering from a wide variety of symptoms, such as skin rashes, asthma, arthritis, migraine, chronic fatigue, heart irregularities and others, are given a battery of tests to determine if certain foods, additives, airborne pollutants or chemicals are causing the reactions.

Patients admitted to the hospital unit fast for the first five days, during which time they are given various brands of bottled water in an effort to see which one suits them best. From the sixth day on, they are given one new food at a time and all reactions are carefully noted. During their stays, which average three to five weeks, they are also tested for sensitivity to chemicals and inhalants. The environment in the unit is strictly controlled. Visitors must wear cotton gowns over their clothes and must pass through a double set of airlock doors to get into the unit.

After the specific incitants are isolated, patients are put on a program of immunotherapy (vaccine injections of the irritating substance which gradually decrease sensitivity). They are also taught how to reduce exposure to the incitants through special diets and changes in their home and work environments. Since nearly all of them show reactions to a number of different—often very common—substances, this can involve major changes in their lifestyles.

For instance, about 20 percent of the outpatients have severe reactions to the odor of colognes, aftershaves, air fresheners and the like. While it is fairly easy to stop using fragrances oneself, it is much more difficult to avoid all contact with others who do. In a similar way, a person who cannot tolerate formaldehyde will have to make a lot of adjustments in order to avoid contact with this ingredient of, among other things: antiperspirants, disinfectants, permanent press clothing, insecticides, nitrogen fertilizers, facial tissue, photographic developing solutions, wall-board and nail polish.

The ubiquitous presence of chemicals in modern life not only creates problems in the treatment of environmental sensitivities, but is also the primary cause of them, according to Dr. Rea, who said the use of chemical and petroleum products in the last 50 years has grown faster than the human body's ability to tolerate them. He likens the process to a rainbarrel: it can be filled by many small additions of water or by one or two large ones, but once it is full it only takes one more drop to make it overflow. In the same way, an individual's immune system can handle just so much exposure to irritants before it "overflows" and various symptoms manifest themselves.

Dr. Rea follows his own advice and eats a rotating diet of organically grown foods and wears clothing made of natural fibers.

Patients are taught ways to keep their "chemical rainbarrels" as low as possible so that occasional exposures to incitants won't cause them to "overflow" and react with symptoms. They are advised to remove as many synthetic and petrochemical products as they can from their homes. A "safe" sleeping room is considered especially important because eight hours rest in an unpolluted environment can do a lot to deplete the rainbarrel.

Two other factors the outpatient can control are food and clothing. In addition to avoiding foods to which they are allergic, the patients eat only organically grown foods and often follow a rotation diet in which no single food is repeated more often than every four days. Bottled water is strongly recommended since the water supplies of almost every city are chemically contaminated. Untreated cotton is the best fabric choice for clothing, bedding and decorating, with other natural fibers such as silk, linen and wool also usually acceptable.

Dr. Rea's family practices what he preaches. He and his wife, Vera Andreichuk Rea '59, built their home of non-toxic materials and have decorated it with non-synthetic furnishings. Mrs. Rea cooks entirely with organically grown foods and does a lot of freezing and canning. She often speaks to groups about the how-to's of running an environmentally safe household, from where to buy organically grown meat and produce to how to remove permanent press chemicals from fabrics. When her husband travels out of town to lecture, she packs meals for him to take along so that the trip does not interfere with his rotation diet. The whole family suffers from some degree of chemical sensitivity and feels much better when adhering to the natural foods regimen, Mrs. Rea said. She claims she can tell when one of their four children has been indulging in junk

Testing techniques include injections of small amounts of incitants under the first layer of skin to determine sensitivity of various foods and chemicals.

The enameled metal walls, tile floors and metal furniture of the clinic minimize the chance of patients encountering irritating substances. The objects hanging from the ceiling are negative ion generators, which help clean the air and resupply it with negative ions.

food outside the home just by his or her behavior. "They get crabby," she said.

Chemical sensitivity is a factor in behavioral traits as well as physical symptoms, the clinical ecologists have found. Mary Williams, assistant clinical director, said about 50 percent of the center's patients suffer from central nervous system problems. They often have difficulty in remembering and have little control over mood changes, she said. These have been successfully treated with the environmental therapy.

Emotional stress can be a factor in triggering chemical sensitivity, Dr. Rea said. He said he often can identify chemically sensitive persons by their behavior and predict the probability of environmentally caused illness by the patterns of responses on standardized personality tests.

Clinic patients are very involved and informed about their treatment. Physicians and other staff members spend much time in educating the patients. Here, Dr. Rea makes an examination.

The clinic contains a fully equipped and staffed laboratory to perform tests and to prepare immunization materials.

Perhaps nearly as important a part of the treatment as the immunotherapy and incitant-avoidance is the patient's involvement with his or her own treatment. "It's a different doctor-patient relationship. It's nonauthoritarian. I learned that at Otterbein, where a student could talk to any professor," he said.

A visitor to the Environmental Control Unit cannot fail to note the almost unheard of amount of time and attention the doctors devote to each patient during morning rounds. Each visit is a question and answer session, with patients as well as doctors referring to notes and charts and discussing the progress of various treatments.

Dr. Rea attributes most of his philosophy to his Otterbein education, which, he said, was "the best education anyone could get." A chemistry and biology major, he said the faculty "taught us to think for ourselves. They taught me to stand up for what I thought was right." He added, "Friendliness and concern for human beings are the key to that school."

Like most others involved in clinical ecology, Dr. Rea first became interested in the field through personal experience. After graduation from the College of Medicine at The Ohio State University in 1962, he moved to Dallas and began a series of surgical residencies. In 1963, he was a resident at Parkland Memorial Hospital and was a member of the surgical team which operated on Gov. John Connally after the Kennedy assassination.

By 1973, he was an established cardiovascular surgeon with a thriving practice and one big problem. The operating room anesthetics were making him ill. Worried about his ability to continue his work, he determined which substances bothered him and avoided them for several months. He then found he was better able to tolerate them. This experience, plus one in which his entire family became ill after their home was exterminated, was the catalyst for what seems on the surface to be a complete about-face in his career.

One of the most helpful sources of information in this field was Dr. Theron Randolph, a Chicago internist and pioneer in the theory. An August 23, 1982, Newsweek article about clinical ecology quoted Dr. Randolph and Dr. Rea as the leaders in the field. Ms. Williams characterized Dr. Randolph as the "grandfather" of the specialty and Dr. Rea as the greatest contributor to its advancement.

Dr. Rea's first research was on phlebitis, from which he moved on to other heart-related problems. It became apparent to him that there was a direct cause and effect relationship between pollution and disease. "It's a logical extension of germ theory," he said. "You have to believe chemicals can affect the body if you believe germs do." As he continued his research, raising about a million dollars—all of it in private funds, he found scientific validation for the theory that many diseases are related to chemical exposure.

"Sixty to 70 percent of the population are affected by environmental pollution to some extent and 20 percent is severely affected," he said, adding that clinical ecology is "not only the next field in medicine but the next field in living. These things have to be dealt with."

Dr. Rea has no patience with those who say it is impossible to feed the world, not to mention house and clothe it, without using synthetic fertilizers, insecticides, fuels and preservatives.

"Ninety percent of pollution could be eliminated," he stated emphatically. "Studies have shown that new, scientific bio-organic methods of farming produce better quality and quantity of food. It is possible to clean up the air and water, and it's a myth that it can't be done."

Dr. Rea and most other clinical ecologists believe that the relatively few people who today are severely affected by environmental illnesses are the harbingers of what the future will hold unless pollution is arrested. A member of the Environmental Protection Agency's Science Advisory Committee, he has found little interest in environmental clean-up in the last two administrations.

He has found the public to be very receptive to his ideas. While the medical establishment has been a little more resistant, there is increasing interest, he said. There are 400 physicians in the Society for Clinical Ecology of which he is a past president. Another several thousand doctors worldwide practice clinical ecology in some form, he said. Dr. Rea attributes the lack of enthusiasm for clinical ecology on the part of most physicians to a lack of awareness of the results being achieved.

A world conference on clinical ecology held in Dallas in February generated much enthusiasm.

Despite the controversy, Dr. Rea radiates optimism about the future of clinical ecology. "It's starting to take off, there's no question about it."

Defining Clinical Ecology

Clinical ecology began within the field of allergy, but since the 1930s there have been significant differences in the theories of the two disciplines. Clinical ecologists believe that environmental illnesses may be initiated by chronic exposure to low doses of multiple substances. Classical allergic mechanisms, such as the antibody IgE, are not necessarily involved, but other dysfunctions of the immune and enzyme detoxification systems have been implicated.

Dr. Iris Bell, a clinical ecologist, writes, "Clinical ecology bases its procedures on two main hypotheses: (1) that the total load of low-dose environmental stressors is important in the induction of illnesses; and (2) that changes in the frequency of and intervals between exposures to a specific substance can mask the clinical manifestations of or alter the degree of sensitivity to that substance."*

Generally, clinical ecologists emphasize the role of environmental chemicals and goods as much as that of natural inhalants such as dust, pollen, molds and animal dander in the origin of both psychiatric and physical disorders.

Dr. Bell continues, "The most frequently ingested or inhaled pollutants are considered by clinical ecologists to be the most common triggers of chronic ecological illnesses. Patients are frequently debilitated by their chronic symptoms and have frequently received other diagnoses, including 'psychosomatic,' by the time they come to treatment by a clinical ecologist."*

Draining the 'Rainbarrel'

To lessen your chances of overloading, Dr. Rea and his staff make these recommendations:

Water

Drink filtered, distilled or spring water.

Food

Eat as much fresh, raw food as possible—preferably, food grown in the relative absence of petrochemicals.

Wash produce thoroughly to remove chemical sprays. Peel waxed skins from cucumbers, etc.

Minimize your sugar intake.

Watch out for addictive patterns in your eating; often what you crave is what is bad for you.

Home

Don't heat with natural gas or oil

Locate the heating unit outside the house.

Use fewer synthetic materials in your home.

Don't spray pesticides.

Minimize use of toxic substances, such as oven cleaner, and ventilate well when painting or using other such materials.

Yourself

Wear clothes made of natural fibers.

Get plenty of exercise, especially aerobic exercise.

Balance the various aspects of your life—physical, emotional, spiritual—to avoid undue stress.

Chaplain Gives Heroic Service in W.W. II

by Glen C. Shaffer '32

After graduation from Otterbein College in 1934, Ed Nagel pursued higher education at Ohio State University, Bonebrake Theological Seminary, and Yale University. His objective was to prepare for a career as a missionary. With an M.A. from Ohio State, a theological degree from Bonebrake, and studies in psychology and religious education at Yale, Ed Nagel felt ready.

So did Leora Lautzenheiser, a member of the church Ed belonged to in Canton, Ohio. Leora was a graduate of Kent State University. They were married August 29, 1937, and prepared to serve as missionaries in the Philippines.

The couple arrived in the Philippines in 1939 and were assigned to Lubuagan, Kalinga, a mountain station. The Nagels soon became very popular in both the lowlands and the mountain missions.

When World War II broke out, Ed and Leora were teaching in the high school academy, as well as doing outreach missions. Since the area across the street from the academy was a staging area for the United States Army, Ed felt a responsibility for these men and consequently was invited by the commander to be a chaplain.

The ceremony was held in the Nagel home and he was erroneously commissioned a second lieutenant, although chaplains usually enter the service as first lieutenants or captains. His new commission gave Rev. Ed Nagel the unique status as the only chaplain in the history of the United States military to serve as a second lieutenant.

After the Japanese landed in the Philippines, there were many mountain campaigns before Ed was captured by the Japanese and sent to the infamous POW camp at Cabanatuan.

In the meantime, Leora was interned at Camp Holmes and eventually in the ancient Spanish prison at Billibid in Manila.

Leora met Natalie Crouter and talked to her many times about the numerous notes which were to be condensed into the book Forbidden Diary. Forbidden Diary was the second book in the famous "Women's Diaries" series.

While at Camp Holmes, Leora received a message through the mysterious underground from Ed to meet him in Manila after the war so that they could continue their work.

Ed had not lost his zeal, objectives, and motivation despite the beatings, starvation, deaths, and holocaust of Cabanatuan. On the contrary, in Cabanatuan Ed pursued his dynamic ministry to the many prisoners of war. He shared his minute food and water ration with those in need, some in fact in greater strength than Ed. He was always indefatigably helping, strengthening, praying with, comforting the men, constantly pouring out his strength to strengthen others.

In October, 1944, Ed was moved to Billibid Prison in Manila for shipment to Japan. Although he had been spared the "Death March," he was about to suffer a more horrible experience on the so-called "Hell Ships" or "Death Ships." On December 13, 1944, 1,619 prisoners were forced into the hold of the Oryoko Maru, a Japanese transport ship.

The Rev. Edward Nagel in his Army chaplain's uniform.

Within two days, 300 men died from heat, suffocation, lack of food and water. The ship was bombed and began to turn over, at which point the Americans broke out of the hold and started to swim for shore. The Japanese machine-gunned them from the deck of the sinking ship. Ed received a bullet in his right hip but kept on swimming.

The 1,320 men who made it to shore were transferred by land to Lingayen Gulf for shipment on Christmas Day to Japan.

Some prisoners were put in the hold of the Enoura Maru. Others, including Rev. Nagel, were put in the hold of the Brazil Maru. These ships arrived in Formosa on December 31, 1944, but the Enoura Maru was bombed and sunk. So many prisoners had died on both ships that there was space enough on the Brazil Maru for the remaining 975 prisoners on the final leg of their journey to Japan.

By the time the Brazil Maru docked in Moji, Japan, there were only about 400 men alive.

Ed Nagel was one of the living. But the harsh winter cold, the absence of clothing and the unheated hospital caused the pneumonia which claimed his life on February 2, 1945.

Of the 16 chaplains on the Oryoko Maru only four arrived in Japan where both Russ Brown and Ed Nagel died. Chaplain Robert Taylor and Father Duffy were to survive.

Chaplain Taylor told me he held Rev. Nagel's funeral service in the Moji hospital. The chaplain had also witnessed Ed's arrival in Cabanatuan wearing second lieutenant bars. He told me that Chaplain (Col.) Alfred Oliver, the senior chaplain in the Philippines, immediately removed Ed's gold bars and replaced them with the silver bars of a first lieutenant.

Miraculously, some of Rev. Nagel's effects, including his New Testament, survived. This was returned by the Japanese through American authorities to Leora. Very small hand-printed notes show in the Bible, such as "five teaspoons of rice per man; one teaspoon of fish; eight G.I. spoons of water." On some days, the note read, "No water, no food today." In one place he wrote "The Japanese tell us they don't know how to cook." I'm sure Ed agreed.

The story of Ed Nagel was first told to me by Chaplain Robert R. Taylor who replaced me at Training Command Headquarters in 1946. Chaplain Taylor's affection and respect for Rev. Nagel were expressed when he came to Otterbein College in 1959 as the baccalaureate speaker. At that time, Chaplain Taylor was the chief of Air Force chaplains with the rank of major general.

I met several survivors of the holocaust after the war who frankly told me if it hadn't been for Rev. Nagel they would not have made it. One of these was the commander of our air base in Prestwick, Scotland, who told me the story with tears streaming down his face.

Rev. Nagel's name appears in three memorials. Battelle Rotunda Memorial Chapel at Yale, the Chaplain's Chapel in Washington, D.C., and the Memorial Stadium, Otterbein College.

His picture appears in Of Rice and Men by Major C.E. Chunn, the first book after the war about the Philippine holocaust. In fact, Ed had been provided a smuggled camera to take the pictures of the chaplains in the Cabanatuan POW Camp. It was a risky business, but he took the pictures and they survived the trip to Japan.

A tribute to Rev. Nagel appears in the East Ohio Conference E.U.B. Church Journal of 1946: "As we look back over the period of the war we find that the heroes were not only those who manned the guns, or piloted the planes or drove the tanks. The missionary and his work stands out in bold contrast to the armies of destruction which have marched across the countries of the world. The name of Rev. Edward Nagel will be inscribed upon the tablet of time and eternity as a hero, as one who was true to his vow to God and the church. It can be said that he was 'faithful to the end,' and that he possessed the love which makes a man willing to 'give his life for his friend.' "

About the author

Upon his 1932 graduation from Otterbein College, Glen C. Shaffer enrolled at Princeton Theological Seminary where he received his divinity degree in 1935. He was ordained a United Brethren minister at Trafford, Pa., in September 1935, and shortly thereafter married Zelma Shauck '34.

In 1938, he was transferred from Altoona to Greensburg, Pa. When World War II broke out, Rev. Shaffer watched as the young men in his congregation went off to war and, in September 1942, Rev. Shaffer himself joined the armed forces as a chaplain. He remained in the chaplaincy until his 1965 retirement from Barksdale Air Force Base. His career in the military encompassed 23 moves in 23 years.

Unable to find work with the E.U.B. Church because of the proposed merger with the Methodist Church, Rev. Shaffer started a new ministry with the Presbyterian Church. After serving eight years with Brookwood Presbyterian Church in Columbus, Rev. Shaffer "retired" again but, as a teaching elder, he was invited to serve as interim minister at seven churches during the next seven years.

He now considers himself fully retired but continues to perform an occasional wedding and has spent considerable time researching Ed Nagel's story.

Rev. and Mrs. Shaffer have three sons, all of whom attended Otterbein: Lewis '59, head of the "Son Shine Ministries" in Azle, Texas; Glen, Jr. '70, a major in the Air Force, and Alan '73, a professor of chemistry at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

The Shaffers reside in Westerville where they settled after their lifetime of traveling because, as Rev. Shaffer said, "I guess we like Otterbein!"

Author's note:

Most of us think of our careers in terms of years—the 365-day variety: 20, 30, 40, maybe 50. With Rev. Nagel his service was short in terms of calendar years, but his intensive ministry amounted to light years of life-saving service, and soul-winning.

I would add one other note: Rev. Nagel was graduated from McKinley High School in Canton, Ohio. His grave is Plot B, Row 6, Grave 110, Ft. McKinley U.S. Military Cemetery, Manila, Philippine Islands.

I would like to thank Leora Nagel Howsare of Kent, Ohio; Ch. (Major General) Robert P. Taylor, Arlington, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eschbach of Dayton, Ohio; Robert Airhart of Otterbein Home and Wilbur Morrison of Columbus, Ohio, for helping me prepare this biography of Edward J. Nagel for the Class of 1934 on their 50th Reunion.

—Glen C. Shaffer, '32

Class of '34 to Honor Nagel

The Class of 1934 Fiftieth Reunion Committee has announced plans to establish a special campaign to generate a Class of '34 gift to the College to be announced on the day of their 50th reunion in 1984. All gifts from members of the Class of '34 made since July 1, 1982 no matter what nature or designation, will add to the Class of '34 total. This grand total will be announced in memory of Ed Nagel and a portion of the gift will be used to establish the Ed Nagel Memorial Scholarship.

Co-chairs of the Fiftieth Reunion Committee are Gladys Riegel Cheek and Wilbur Morrison. Other members include Frances Grove Fitez, Virgil Hinton, and Burdette and Martha Dipert Wood. Other classmates assisting the committee are Paul Maibach, Eleanor Heck Newman and Paul Schott.

Sports Report

Outstanding Individual Efforts Highlight Basketball Seasons

Although the 1982-83 Otterbein men's and women's basketball teams did not enjoy the greatest of regular season success, Cardinal cage followers were treated to several outstanding individual scoring performances from the sharp-shooting talents of senior Ron Stewart and junior Kathy Cole.

Stewart, the two time All-America guard from New Albany, rolled up an impressive 29.0 points per game scoring average by mid-season, while Cole paced Amy Riddle's club with a 24.7 average. For their efforts, both were listed among the nation's top NCAA III scorers.

The individual heroics of Stewart and Cole, however, represented the major highlights for both teams, as the men's and women's Cardinals fell short of previous years' success.

Dick Reynolds' inexperienced unit struggled to a slow 2-9 exhibition season, but stormed back to pull off one of the major upsets of the '83 campaign—a 63-62 thriller over the nation's top rated Wittenberg Tigers. At the halfway point of the Ohio Athletic Conference schedule, the Cards held a 2-2 record and still remained in the running for the OAC title.

Stewart's young supporting cast featured strong performances from Kirk McDonald (9.6 ppg., 5.5 rpg.), Joe Benson (11.8 ppg, 5.3 rpg.), Mike McKinney (8.6 ppg., 4.6 rpg.) and Ted Cedargren (4.5 ppg., 4.8 rpg.). And while only Stewart and Benson will be lost to graduation in the spring, Reynolds should have a strong nucleus returning for next year.

Coach Riddle's squad fell to a disappointing 0-7 mark in the season's early stages before rallying to a strong 74-70 victory over Wilmington. Senior Carolyn Barnhill was the Cardinal mainstay under the basket. Barnhill's 12.0 rebounds per game ranked her among the nation's elite in the individual rebounding department.

Hot-shooting guard Ron Stewart has ensured himself a place in the Otterbein record book.

Track and Field Team Expected to Excel

Shot-putter Jon Divine is considered among the best in the league.

With two conference champions returning and an abundance of overall team depth in the wings, veteran track and field coach Porter Miller is once again looking forward to another productive spring campaign for the 1983 Cardinals.

"I definitely feel we have the potential to be just as strong as last year's team," commented Miller, whose 1982 squad turned in a 13-2 record and a third place finish in the Ohio Athletic Conference championship meet.

Heading the list of top Cardinal returnees are 1982 conference champions Mark Burns and Jim Smith. Burns, who won the OAC 1500 meters event last spring, finished sixth in the NCAA Division III (1500 meters) en route to earning 1982 All-America honors.

As the conference's defending pole vault champion, Smith will lead a talented group of Otterbein field men. "We could be very strong in the field events," added Miller. "Scott Duncan is another strong pole vaulter (third in the OAC last year), and John Divine and Eric Anderson should be big producers in the weight events."

Divine, who finished fourth in the conference discus competition last year, is considered one of the top OAC performers in that event this year. Anderson placed second in the shot put last spring with a 49'6" toss which tied the Otterbein school record.

Speedster Sheldon Robinson will once again be a major sprinting force in the Ohio Conference this season. Robinson qualified for the 1982 national championship meet in the 200 meters.

Miller, who enters his seventh year as the Cardinals' head coach, owns a 77-11 career record.

Diamondmen Set to Challenge OAC

Although seven seniors are gone from a 29-21 Otterbein baseball team which reached the 1982 NCAA Tournament, head coach Dick Fishbaugh is confident the 1983 edition can make another serious run at the Ohio Conference championship.

"The pitching staff will be the key to our success this year," said Fishbaugh. "We'll send some younger people to the mound; and if they do the job, we'll be very competitive."

Kirk McDonald, Don Atwell, Doug Gates, Ob Hartman, and Ed Conard are the leading names on a long list of promising pitchers from which Fishbaugh will choose.

While under the sixteen-year guidance of Fishbaugh, Cardinal baseball teams have been traditionally one of the strongest hitting clubs in the nation. The '83 squad appears to be no exception.

Jim Hoyle—The Cards' leading batter in 1982 with a .405 average—will return to his left field post where he earned first team All-OAC honors last spring. Joining Hoyle in the potent Otterbein line-up are third baseman Mike Blythe (.400 avg.), second baseman Bret Brownfield (.310 avg.) and first baseman Dave Whitehead (.311 avg.).

Brownfield was a second team All-OAC selection last year, and Whitehead was named to the All-Conference honorable mention squad.

Once again the Cardinal schedule includes close to fifty games, and, as in previous years, Otterbein will make a two week trip to Florida in March.

Coach Fishbaugh will be relying on his pitching staff as the Cardinals seek the OAC championship. Here Kirk McDonald winds up.

Five Return to Tennis Team

Michelle Fox is the top veteran on the women's tennis team.

After falling to a rare losing season (3-4) last year, head women's tennis coach JoAnn Tyler is looking for the return of excellence to the Otterbein program this spring.

"We played with a lot of younger people last year and gained a great deal of confidence," said Tyler.

Michelle Fox led the way to Otterbein's second place finish in the Southeast Satellite Tournament last year. A senior this spring and the team's top returning player—Fox will be hoping to improve upon her semi-final finish in the 1982 state championship match.

With five of the six regular players returning for 1983, Tyler appears to have the proper depth and experience to turn things around.

Additional team strength will be provided from four new freshmen who "have the ability to really help our program," according to Tyler.

Outstanding Alumnus

Dr. George White: Geologist, Educator, Researcher, Historian

By Melinda Sadar

A half-century of work by an Otterbein alumnus has resulted in a greater understanding of the geological history of northeastern Ohio.

Dr. George Willard White '21 wrote his first paper on Ohio geology 56 years ago. That report on Ohio's limestone caves and caverns is still regarded as the most comprehensive work on the subject. During the ensuing years, Dr. White has produced more than 70 publications about Ohio geology on subjects ranging from mineral industries to glacial geology and is now acknowledged as the foremost expert on the early geological history of the state.

Born in North Lawrence, Ohio, in 1903, Dr. White graduated from Otterbein College in 1921. The 1921 Sybil had words of praise for the young scholar: "George is the baby of the Senior Class. However, that does not mean that he is not capable of taking care of himself. A lover of Science, he has majored in Chemistry and expects to follow up this line of work. He is a member of the Science Club and has taken part in many college activities. With so early a start, George certainly has an advantage over a good many of the 'Old Birds.'"

His "early start" at Otterbein took him on to a master's degree in 1925 and a doctorate in 1933 from The Ohio State University. Upon receiving his master's degree, he became an instructor in geology at the University of Tennessee for one year. He then joined the faculty of the University of New Hampshire where he stayed until 1941 moving through the ranks of instructor to full professor and department chairman and creating a flourishing academic department where none existed before.

In 1941, Dr. White moved back to Ohio where he became professor of geology at The Ohio State University, a post he held until 1947. During his last two years at Ohio State, he also served as state geologist for Ohio.

Dr. White

In 1947, Dr. White became head of the Department of Geology at the University of Illinois, retaining that position until 1965 when he was named research professor. In 1971, he became research professor emeritus.

Throughout his academic career, Dr. White continued his research into very early American geology with an emphasis on Ohio geology, returning to his native state each field season to do research. He pioneered the study of early geological history—an almost unknown field in the 1920's—and was instrumental in establishing an outstanding and internationally-known geology library at the University of Illinois, a library that now bears his name.

Dr. White's illustrious career as researcher, historian and bibliographer has been highlighted by extensive international travel. His destinations have included Yerevan, Armenia, in 1967 where he served as United States representative to the International Committee for the History of Geology. During that meeting, he was elected the committee's vice president for North America. Other trips have taken him to Lapland, Australia, South Africa, Germany and Great Britain.

Among the many awards received by this distinguished scholar are honorary degrees from Otterbein College in 1949, the University of New Hampshire in 1955, and Bowling Green State University in 1963. He has also received the Geological Society of American Award for distinguished contributions to the history of geology. He is an honorary life member of the British Society for the Bibliography of Natural History. The Ohio Department of Natural Resources awarded Dr. White the Conservation Achievement Award in 1981 in recognition of his many contributions to his native state.

The Fall 1982 Ohio Geology Newsletter published by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources states that "The contributions of Dr. White to his native state have been immense and reach far beyond those of interest only to geologists. His numerous reports and maps on the glacial deposits of northeastern Ohio have been invaluable to planners, engineers, and decision makers in that heavily populated portion of the state."

In addition to his many papers and bulletins, Dr. White edited the nine-volume Hafner series entitled Contributions to the History of Geology. He was also a member of the committee for editing the 37-volume series of reprints of classical works in geology published by the Arno Press.

Dr. White has been married to Mildred Kissner White, an alumna of Ohio Wesleyan, since 1928. The couple resides in Champaign, Illinois.

Otterbein College 1982 Honor Roll of Contributors

1982 Fundraising Report

Largest Total Ever!

1982 — The Year of the Trustee Challenge — was marked by significant growth in the development program of Otterbein College. Gifts of more than 1.6 million dollars were received by the College, making the total for 1982 the largest in the history of the College. Gifts were received from 4,414 donors, just 66 donors short of the record set in 1980.

Unrestricted gifts totaling $558,409 were made to the Otterbein Fund, an increase of more than a quarter of a million dollars in two years and by far the best year ever for the Otterbein Fund.

Gifts to the endowment totaled $665,132, payment on Decision for the Arts pledges reached nearly $136,000 with 95% of the pledges now completed, and restricted and unrestricted gifts to meet current operating expenses surpassed $800,000.

These gains were made possible primarily as a result of the Trustee Challenge. The vision and commitment of the members of the Board of Trustees and the overwhelming response and support of alumni, parents, friends and faculty combined to generate unprecedented growth.

The Trustees gave more than $108,000 to the Challenge, and the Otterbein family responded by giving $161,000 more to the Otterbein Fund than in 1981, a 58% increase. 558 new donors made gifts while 821 donors made qualifying increases in their giving. In addition, 326 donors moved into a higher level leadership club, earning bonus dollars from the Challenge.

Volunteers once again played a critical role in the success of the development program. Class agents wrote classmates encouraging support of the Challenge, callers in the spring and fall phonathons answered questions about the Challenge and secured pledges, and reunion committees met to discuss class projects and get-togethers.

Achievements during 1982 included:

- $1,602,500 in total giving represented a record for Otterbein — the most ever given in one year.
- 4,414 individuals made gifts to Otterbein College.
- The $100,000 Trustee Challenge met with overwhelming response, and the goal was surpassed.
- $588,409 was given in unrestricted cash and securities, setting a new record for the annual Otterbein Fund.
- The President's Club grew 32% to a record 144 members.
- The Towers Club grew 33% to a record 76 members.
- The Cardinal Club was established and 97 individuals became charter members.
- The Centurion Club grew to a record 790 members.
- Total club membership grew 22% to a record 1,107 members.

President's Letter

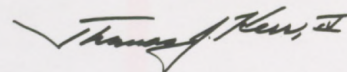

Dear Friends:

Thanks! You did it! You put us over the top. The $161,000 in new and increased gifts more than met the $100,000 Trustee Challenge. In 1982 you helped set a new record of $1,602,500 in gifts to Otterbein. The challenge drew 558 new donors and 821 who increased gifts by $25 or more. Gift club membership increased by 326. The 4,414 donors stands second only to the 4,480 of 1980. A record $588,409 in unrestricted gifts represents more than double unrestricted giving of four years ago.

Our plans for major endowment growth continue. Class reunion gifts by the fifty-year classes, including deferred gifts, are an important cornerstone. So is gift club expansion. We must look to the future, not the past. Alumni will lead the challenge for 1983. I know Otterbein can count on your support.

Let us continue to build. Tomorrow can be better and brighter. Otterbein is opportunity.

Gratefully and Optimistically,

Thomas J. Kerr, IV, President
Otterbein College

Endowed Scholarships

Otterbein College encourages the establishment and building of endowed scholarships. To be awarded by name and be included in the Otterbein College Scholarship Program, an endowed scholarship must have a principal sum of at least $10,000 or a commitment must be made to reach the principal figure in three to five years or by bequest.

Each year a special recognition luncheon is held for endowed scholarship donors, student recipients, and the recipients' parents.

The following scholarships were brought up to the $10,000 level or above during 1981.

The Bolin-Tryon Scholarship
The Howard R. Brentlinger Scholarship
The Ruth Cogan Scholarship
The Health Sciences Scholarship
The Intercollegiate Athletics Scholarship
The Charles R. and Ferne P. Layton Memorial Scholarship
The Department of Music Scholarship
The Otterbein College Memorial Scholarship
The Hugh M. Plants Scholarship
The Presidents Memorial Scholarship
The LaVelle Rosselot Scholarship
The United Methodist Church Christian Service Scholarship
The West Ohio Conference Scholarship
The Western Pennsylvania Conference Scholarship
The Francis and Louise Wolls Scholarship

Commitments were made during 1982 to fund each of the following scholarships at the $10,000 level or above.

The Ne Ne Beachler Scholarship
The Richard Bradfield Memorial Scholarship
The A. Charles Brooks Memorial Scholarship
The Dellinger-Carlson Memorial Scholarship
The Epsilon Kappa Tau Scholarship
The Rita Zimmerman Gorsuch Scholarship
The Glanna Imar Scholarship
The Donna L. Kerr Scholarship
The Reverend C. W. Kurtz '92 and Clarence L. Booth '17 Memorial Scholarship
The R. Franklin and Marjorie Ethel Lohr Scholarship
The Albert C. and Frances C. May Memorial Scholarship
The Dr. Verle Miller Scholarship
The M. R. and Dorothy J. McVay Scholarship
The Orndorff-Haines Memorial Scholarship
The Mom Priest Scholarship
The Janet Louise Roberts Memorial Scholarship
The Paul V. and Evelyn Judy Sprout Scholarship
The E. W. E. Schear Memorial Scholarship
The Fred N. and Emma B. Thomas Scholarship
The President Lynn W. Turner and Family Scholarship
The Westerville Otterbein Women's Club Scholarship
The Richard and Alice Winkler Scholarship

Persons wishing to receive more information on scholarship opportunities at Otterbein or desiring a comprehensive list of major endowed scholarships should contact the Office of Development.

More than 50 persons attended the Westerville Otterbein's Women's Club fall meeting and style show Oct. 18 in Battelle Fine Arts Center. Models wore outfits from the Thrift Shop operated by the club at 177 W. Park St. The shop is open 10-5 on Wednesdays and 10-1 on Saturdays. Models shown here are Tina Schumacher, Frances Wurm, Donna Kerr and Hannah Thomas. Anyone interested in membership in the club may contact Rita Bilikam at 6726 New Albany-Condit Road, New Albany, Ohio 43054.

Recent Grads Phone Prospective Otterbein Students

On January 26, the first alumni admissions phonathon was held in the Columbus area. Some recent graduates, including Judy Sebright Flippo '76, Susan Henthorn '78, Melissa Frazier Dover '78, William Conard '80 and Sue Shipe '82, called prospective students who have been accepted into the entering freshman class next fall. Phone facilities were donated by Toledo Scale Division of Reliance Electric in Westerville.

In the Dayton area, Jeanne Lytle Anslinger '70, admissions counselor for the southwest Ohio area, is working with local alumni in a similar effort. Included in this program are: William '72 and Gayle Myers Gabriele '71, Jonathan '79 and Gretchen Freeman Hargis '77, and Gregory Vawter '74.

Would you like to assist Otterbein College's admissions program? If so, please call or write Phil Bovenizer, Admissions Office, Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio 43081, (614) 890-0004. (Please call collect.)

Varsity Defeats Alumni in Baseball Game

The annual alumni-varsity baseball game on Oct. 22 attracted 16 former Cardinal greats, including a couple with professional experience. The varsity prevailed, 8-1.

The game included a stint on the mound by former Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Jim McKee '69. Andy Swope '82, currently playing in the New York Yankee system, also played for the alumni team. Other alumni participating were:

Jeff Brindley '81; Lee Cooperrider '82; Dan Dent '69; Don Dyson '79; Dave Elsea '83; Jon Grundtisch '81; Ed Harris '68; Bill Hillier '79; Larry Korn '80; Frank Mione '54; Randy Mobley '80; Ken Schultz '65; Greg Steger '79; and Mike Zigo '82.

The alumni-varsity baseball game is held each fall and former Cardinal baseball players are invited to attend. For information, contact head baseball coach Richard Fishbaugh at the Rike Center, 890-3000, extension 653.

Notes from Howard House

by Eileen Thome
Director of Alumni Relations

This school year it has been my pleasure to meet with many alumni from areas outside Westerville.

On November 3, alumni from the Cleveland area had the opportunity for a special tour of the Cleveland Art Museum. Our guide presented a chronological look at art, starting with the ancient Egyptian and Greek eras, continuing through the Renaissance to modern art of today. Following the tour, we had an elegant French dinner at "That Place on Bellflower". The food and the intimate atmosphere at "That Place" were conducive to a very pleasant social evening.

Attending were: Jack and Paulette Titus McGreevey '70, Howard Tallentire '59, and his wife Sylvia, Donna Stranscak Charney '72, Lisa Pettit '74, Ruth Harner Studer '56, Vera Evans '28, Gladys Swigart '19, Tom and Betty Woodworth Clark '42, Phyllis Koons '45, Emily Wilson '44, Ella Smith Toedtman '36, Peter '69 and Pamela Marquart Lubs '70, Clark '39 and Donna Love Lord '39, Earl '26 and Alice Propst Hoover '28, and Margaret Oldt '36. Attending with me from the College were: Chet Turner '43, director of church relations, and Bob Fogal, director of development. Plans are now being made for another get-together this summer.

On November 27, over 80 enthusiastic alumni and friends from the Dayton area gathered for a pep rally and buffet supper at the downtown Ramada Inn before the Dayton-Otterbein basketball game. Whenever Dayton alumni get together, its always an enthusiastic crowd and this time was no exception.

Barbara Jackson, director of public relations, and I were fortunate to be able to spend several days in Florida in early December at the Clearwater Central Best Western as guests of Gene and Donna Sniff Sitton '55, during the basketball team's Florida tour. Joining us in Florida were President Kerr and his wife, Donna.

Activities began Sunday, December 5, after we landed in Sarasota, with the "All-You-Can-Eat" brunch at Zinn's Restaurant near the airport. It is easy to see why the brunch attracts a larger number every year—the food is excellent and plentiful and the restaurant is attractive. Attending this year were:

Don '48 and Mary Ann Augspurger McCualsky '48, Paul Maibach '34, and his wife Blanche, Helen Dick Clymer '38, and her husband Robert, Wade H '55 and Helen Leichty Miller '33, Bob Agler '48, Chuck Perkins '50, Don '26 and Dorothea Bishop Phillips '29, Richard James '27, and his wife, Lucille, Marcus '27 and Ruth Rush Schear '27, Harold '43 and Grace Erickson Lindquist '44, L. Lee Shackson '55 and his wife Elizabeth. Helen Van Curen '27, Melvin '36 and Sarah Ellen Roby Moody '35, and Bud Yoest '53, athletic director.

On Tuesday, December 7, we again had a large group for a reception at Eckerd before the Otterbein-Eckerd game. Attending this year were: Don and Mary Ann McCualsky, Lee Roop Underwood '38 and her husband, Harold, Eugene and Donna Sniff Sitton '55, Wade and Helen Miller, Myrna Frank Claress '22, and her husband Russell, Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Henry, Merritt and Helen Clymer, Harold '43 and Grace Erickson Lindquist '44, Lloyd '31 and Helen Bradfield Chapman '32, Jan Rhodelhamel Phillips '76, and her husband Mickey, Marjorie Abbott Denham '52 and her husband, Robbins, Lloyd Abbott '22, and his wife, Alice, Jim '51 and Lois Abbott Yost '52, Les Warner, Jack Groseclose '49 and Bud Yoest. Joining us at the game to help cheer for the Cardinals were Gregory and Sarah Krick Andreichuk '54.

Dr. Kerr flew from Florida to Atlanta on December 12 to meet with over 25 Atlanta area alumni at the Terrace Garden Inn before the Otterbein-Oglethorpe basketball game. My thank you to Deborah Banwart James '77 and Richard Sanders '29 for all their assistance in making the reception such a success.

Charles Dodrill, director of Otterbein College Theatre, again had an excellent turn-out at a gathering of New York alumni on December 17 at Michael Hartman's apartment in Brooklyn. Attending with Chuck were his wife, Petie, daughter, Tracy, Steve Black '77, Kent Blocker '79, Tim Chandler '72, Pamela Erb '73, Michael Hartman '70, Jenny Herron '77, David Mack '72, Richard Miller, '74, Gian Morelli '76, David Robinson '78, Dennis Romer '71, Marcus Smythe '72, David Weller '78, Jim West '76, and Sue Wurster '73.

Jim Walter '29 Retires as President of Piedmont College

James E. Walter was named president emeritus of Piedmont College on October 28, 1982.

A 1929 Otterbein graduate, he earned bachelor of divinity and master of sacred theology degrees from Yale University. He holds two honorary degrees: doctor of divinity, awarded by Piedmont College in 1947, and doctor of letters and laws, awarded by Otterbein in 1969.

In 1949, Dr. Walter was elected president of Piedmont College, a small liberal arts institution located in Demorest, Georgia, and affiliated with the Christian Congregational Church.

At the time he assumed office, the college was encumbered with debts and had inadequate physical facilities. Dr. Walter immediately inaugurated a building plan, which was completed in 1977. During his 34-year incumbency, the college's debts were liquidated, an endowment was acquired and the college's academic program became accredited.

Benjamin Richer '11 Dies; Was Active in Ministry 60 Years

Rev. Richer

Rev. B.F. (Ben) Richer, 94, of 5508 Edgewater Dr., Toledo, Ohio, having spent 60 years in the active ministry, departed this life on November 6, 1982, at Villa North, Toledo.

Born at Peru, Indiana, in 1888, he did most of his work in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, after graduating from Otterbein College at Westerville, Ohio, in 1911. In the Toledo area, where he had lived the last 34 years, he had preached in Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist, Evangelical United Brethren, Universalist, Congregational, and United Methodist churches. He was licensed to preach by the United Brethren Church, near his home at Peru, Indiana, in 1910, and ordained three years later. He retired from his last pastorate, of the Central Park Congregational Church, in 1937. Other churches served since coming to Toledo in 1948 were in Bairdstown, Monclova, Tontogany, West Unity, Delta and Lyons, besides several in Toledo. Before coming to Toledo, he spent 15 years in union evangelistic work, in partnership with his brother, the late REV. HARRY E. RICHER '14 of Peru, Indiana. During this time he lived at Winona Lake, Indiana. Later he held pastorates at Tyner E.U.B. Church, LaGrange and Albion Presbyterian churches, Thorntown and Greensboro Quaker churches and Sunman and Chalmers community churches, all in Indiana. His ministerial relations, at the last, were with the West Ohio Conference of the United Methodist Church, where he was listed as evangelist-at-large.

He is survived by his wife, EDITH HAHN RICHER '19 son Ben Richer, Jr., of El Paso; daughter, Mrs. EVELYN RICHER PONTIUS '33 of Phoenix; stepdaughter, Mrs. Wilfred (Rose Ellen) Kimball of Wheeling; and stepson, Warren Mead of Toledo; besides ten grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

There was no funeral service. Years ago he bequeathed his body to the use of medical science for the service of mankind. It was his expressed desire that his body should go on serving after he no longer needed it. A memorial service was held at the Point Place United Methodist Church on November 21, 1982. This service featured some of his favorite poems, which he so often quoted in his sermons.

Editor's Note: This obituary was written by Rev. Richer himself before his death. The dates have been added, but all other details are as he wrote them.

The Richer Brothers Scholarship at Otterbein is named in honor of the Rev. Richer and his brother the Rev. Harry E. Richer '14 and is awarded to students planning careers in the ministry. The scholarship was endowed in 1980 with gifts of land by Benjamin and Edith Richer and the estate of Harry Richer.

James O. Cox '11, Oldest Alumnus, Passes Away at 101

James O. Cox, who at the age of 101 was Otterbein's oldest alumnus, died October 8, 1982, in Valparaiso, Indiana, where he had made his home since 1916.

Mr. Cox, a 1911 graduate, was the sponsor of the annual Cox Prize Debate Award and maintained an active interest in the College all his life. In 1981, he was grand marshal of the Homecoming parade.

When Mr. Cox arrived at Otterbein in the fall of 1905, he was 24 years old and had only $2.92 to his name. He worked his way through college as a janitor and desk salesman. He was a member of Philomatheia Literary Society, and as chief solicitor for the Class of 1911 raised the money to purchase 20 acres of land on which the athletic complex now stands.

After graduation he went to Pittsburgh to work for the YMCA, having become interested in youth work while at Otterbein where he taught a boys' Sunday School class at the local United Brethren Church for six years.

He was involved in Anti-Saloon League work in Ohio for three years, during which time he met Medillia Waldron, assistant pastor of Central Methodist Church in Springfield. They were married in 1913. On the occasion of his 99th birthday, Mr. Cox told the Valparaiso newspaper how he persuaded Miss Waldron to choose him over another suitor: "We were just rowing along casually (on Winona Lake in Indiana) and I just stood on my head in the rowboat. I showed her I was balanced."

The Coxes moved to Valparaiso when he accepted a position as district manager for the Chautauqua Desk Company, whose product he had begun selling while at Otterbein. In 1926 he resigned from the desk company and began publishing The Practical Agriculture Chart, which he continued to do until 1958. He was also involved in real estate and land development. He enjoyed gardening and developed a strain of gladiolus which he named in honor of his wife, who died in 1957.

Survivors include his daughter, Miriam Cox Carter, with whom he made his home for many years; two grandsons, and five great-grandchildren.

Noted Educator, Donald S. Howard '25, Dies

Dr. Howard

Donald S. Howard, an internationally known figure in the world of welfare and welfare education, died of cancer at the age of 79 on September 14, 1982, in Los Angeles.

After his graduation from Otterbein in 1925, he earned an M.A. in sociology from the University of Denver in 1931 and a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1936. Otterbein awarded him an honorary doctorate of humanities in 1947.

From 1936 to 1948, he was affiliated with the Russell Sage Foundation in New York and also taught part-time at several colleges. He took a three-year leave from the foundation to serve with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, first on the staff in England and France during the last year of World War II and then in China.

Dr. Howard was persuaded to move to California in 1948 to become chairman of the newly-formed Department of Social Welfare at UCLA, a position he held until 1960. Dr. Howard retired from UCLA in 1970 but continued to teach part-time until shortly before his death.

For 12 years he was chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth in California. He also served terms as national president of the State Committees on Children and Youth and the American Association of Social Workers. He was vice-chairman of the 1960 White House Conference on Youth. He served 20 years with the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health and was honored by the state, county and city for his work in training and administering various welfare and mental health programs.

Dr. Howard had many Otterbein connections. His parents, ALFRED T. and MAY STEVENSON HOWARD, both members of the Class of 1894, were serving as missionaries in Japan at the time of his birth. His brother, the late DR. J. GORDON HOWARD '22, was president of the College from 1945 to 1957.

Survivors include his wife, BERNICE NORRIS HOWARD '27; sons, John and Robert; daughter, Marjery; sister FLORENCE HOWARD NORRIS '26, and four grandchildren.

Mr. McMILLAN was named chairman of the Department of Education at Otterbein College in 1946 where he served 12 years until his retirement in 1958, when he was named Professor Emeritus. He is survived by his niece, MARY McMILLAN VAN SICKLE '44.

Message from Alumni Association President

Dear Alumni,

Thanks so much for your ongoing support to Otterbein. The income generated by your response to the "Trustee Challenge" calls for a victory celebration. The love and support that you have given Otterbein over the years shows that you still appreciate Otterbein's unique learning environment.

In 1983, let's strive to increase our total percentage of participation. If you gave in 1982, please give again. If you didn't, try to help this year so that Otterbein can continue this important job of educating people for jobs in the social, political and economic life of this country.

Sincerely,

Grace R. Aupperger

Dora Moyer Weaver '06, Holder of Otterbein Cane, Dies

Dora Weaver Moyer, holder of the Otterbein Honor Cane since September of 1980, passed away January 11 in St. Petersburg, Florida. Mrs. Moyer, a member of the Class of 1906, was 98 years old at the time of her death. The cane is awarded to the oldest living member of the earliest graduating class at Otterbein.

Mrs. Moyer's father, the Rev. David E. Weaver, a United Brethren minister moved his family to Westerville at the turn of the century in order that his children might attend Otterbein. In 1901 Dora entered the Otterbein preparatory school after two years of high school in Jackson, Ohio, where her father had been district superintendent of the church. In 1902, she entered Otterbein College where she majored in education and became a member of Cleiorhetea Literary Society. After graduation, she taught school in West Virginia for two years before marrying S. Glen Moyer, an insurance agent. For a number of years, Mrs. Moyer was a receptionist in her husband's Columbus insurance office.

Mrs. Moyer looked forward to the annual December visits of Otterbein staff to Florida and was particularly pleased by a visit from President and Mrs. Kerr last December, her daughter reported.

She is survived by her daughters, Virginia Jenkins and Margaret Isaacs.
