EMINENT ORATOR THRILLS PEOPLE

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Popular
Brooklyn Pastor, Addresses Thous-
sand Westerville Listeners.

WANTS LEAGUE OF NATIONS

League Should Prevent Wars and Adjust Differences—Germany
Should Not Join Yet.

High tribute was paid the denominational college by Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Brooklyn church Tuesday evening in the citizens' lecture course.
ing in the citizen's lecture course.

"Secular education has failed," he said. "I do not believe in it. Real education must have in it the spiritual element."

Dr. Cadman declared that protestantism combined in a great united church, without denominationalism, is a possibility to be fostered and realized in the near future.

Support of President Wilson in his program for a league of nations was urged by Dr. Cadman. Such a league,
he said, would prevent wars hereafter,
by adjudicating differences among nations just as the United States supreme court sits as final arbiter in disputed matters between citizens or states.

The league would be of the same high character and integrity as the federal supreme court, said Dr. Cad-man.

At its outset, the league should be composed of those nations only which are like-minded. Allies of the United States and nations not identified with the enemies of the allies should first become members,
he insisted.

Dr. Cadman would admit to membership in the league no nation that is not contrite and repentant for wrong. Germany has not yet reach-

Prof. Fritz Announces

Preliminary Contest Feb. 20.

This year's Declamation Contest
promises to be a very interesting one.
The contestants are all looking forward to the preliminary contest, which will be held February 20, in Professor Fritz's room. At this time, six persons will be chosen for the final contest, February 27, which will take place in the Chapel. The public is invited to this final contest.
The prizes are well worth working for and those who may not be fortunate enough to win one, will have obtained experience that will benefit them for their work.

PLAYS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Public Speaking Council Provides Annual Fund to Supplement Reference Library with Modern Plays.

At the last regular meeting of the Public Speaking Council, a new movement was instituted. During the past few years, the number of amateur plays given, has increased.
Always, the problem of choosing a play for presentation has been a puzzling one. So in order to avoid unnecessary work, the Council has set aside a sum of money to purchase a certain number of plays per year suitable for reproduction. The amount designated was $10. Plays will be purchased by a committee and kept as a reference library. When a play is needed, these will be on hand and if a suitable one is found, it can be given. Not only will this be a benefit for amateur productions,
but it will also have a literary value.
The library contains very few modern plays and these new ones can be used for class references. The Council has heartily endorsed this new plan. It is hoped that the student body as a whole will profit by and appreciate their efforts to promote a greater and keener interest in dramatic art.

Former Otterbein Professor

Resides in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Heltman have just moved from their home in New York to Washington, D. C., where Mr. Heltman has a position as private secretary for Congressman Marvin Jones of Texas. Mr. Heltman will be remembered as former professor of public speaking in Otterbein. He and Mrs. Heltman have many friends among college and Westerville people.

President Clippinger to Go to Convention in Toronto.

President W. G. Clippinger, President of the Ohio Sunday School Association and also a member of the Executive Committee of the International S. S. Association, leaves Tuesday for Toronto, Canada for a three days' joint session of the officials of both International and World S. S. organizations.

Two problems confront this conference for discussion. One is the need of a closer federation and fellowship between denominational organizations which may result in their correlations, and the other is the launching of a great campaign for twenty million dollars to promote the Sunday School work of the world.

Public Speaking Council

Elects Officers for Season.

Owing to the S. A. T. C. and its schedule, the Public Speaking Council was late in organizing this year.
As it was impossible for the men to attend the regular meetings, it was decided that the girls should continue the work. Four girls were elected from each society and officers were elected as follows: President, Virginia Burtner; vice president, Edith Bingham; secretary Mary Tinstman;
treasurer, Mary Ballenger with Prof.
Fritz as faculty treasurer. Dr. Sherrick and Prof. Weinland were chosen as faculty members of the council.
Since the disbanding of the S. A. T.
C., two men from each of the men's societies were elected which increases
the number of members on the Council.

Rev. Mr. Courtenay Speaks

in Chapel Monday Morning.

Rev. Mr. Courtenay, the pastor of the Methodist Church of Westerville, made his first appearance in the college chapel Monday morning. Instead of the customary scripture reading and prayer, Rev. Courtenay delighted the students with a number of original poems, showing that he is a poet as well as a preacher. It is to be hoped that he will be in the chapel services again in the near future.

OTTERBEIN WINS IN FAST GAME

Team Work and Endurance Give Otterbein the Victory Over Cedarville Friday Night.

FOX HIGH SCORER

The Old Time Pass Work and Short Shots Featured in the Game.

In the fastest and most hotly contested game staged here for years Otterbein defeated Cedarville Friday night by a score of 54 to 23. The contest was waged before a large crowd of loyal basket ball enthusiasts which completely filled the gym. Both teams set up a terrific pace and were going at top speed when the final whistle blew. Endurance counted
most and in this Otterbein excelled, completely outclassing Cedarville in the last minutes of play.

From the start of the game until the finish both teams fought like mad.
Interest grew with the score which was tied at 2 to 2 and 5 to 5 by the Cedarvillians who were able to surpass the local five in the first half by one point. Short passing and brilliant team work netted the home play-

We Wonder Why!

When "Bill" Evans fired those seven pistol shots after the Cedarville game Friday, was he feeling happy, did he think it was the lonesome chance of the season, was he in some imaginary trench firing post humous shots at the kaiser or was he trying to petrify the atmosphere? He made a gang way for his "habeas corpus" anyway.

Prof. Grabill Addresses

Guild of Organists Monday.

Professor G. G. Grabill addressed the Central Ohio Chapter of the American Guild of Organists at the regular monthly meeting of the Chapter, held in Columbus on Monday evening, February 3. Professor Grabill spoke on two subjects—"The Advantages to an Organist of the Study of Counter-point and Harmony", and "Should Organists Study Orchestration?" The speeches were followed by an informal discussion by the members of the Guild.

ers most of the their points and Otterbein worked this throughout the game.

During the first period, the scoring was nearly even. Freeman started things for Otterbein with a pretty counter but the Cedarville players came back with courage and tied the score again and again. This continued for a few minutes until the visitors took the lead by one point, the half ending with the score of 17 to 16 in their favor.

With the old time team work in evidence the Tan and Cardinal team tied the score 23 to 23. Then it was that Otterbein developed a sudden burst of speed and from then on the home team had easy sailing, completely bewildering the visitors with their lightning passing. In the final minutes of the game, Cedarville scarcely touched the ball and Otterbein won a hard fought game by a score of 54 to 23.

Captain Fox's playing was the feature of the struggle for Otterbein. Besides making good for 15 baskets he played a fine floor game. Albright put up a whirlwind fight as forward and played one of the best games of his career. Hollinger's defensive work was remarkable, as usual.

Line-up:

Otterbein		Cedarville
Albright	R. F.	Creswell
Freeman	L. F.	Collins
Fox	C.	Chestnut
Meyers	R. G.	Huey
Hollinger	L. G.	Wright

Summary: Field goals—Fox 15, Albright 7, Freeman 2, Richmond 2. Foul goals—Fox 4. Substitutions—Otterbein, Richmond for Freeman, Cornet for Meyers.

Referee—Mr. Dunlap.

ed a satisfactory stage of contrition, he declared.

The league should not be overloaded with responsibilities at first, he said. Neither did he expect it to start out perfect and without room for improvement. Dr. Cadman said he had a horror of perfect people.

Dr. Cadman came to give the fifth number in the citizens' lecture course. Due to efforts by the brotherhoods of the Westerville churches the doors were thrown open to all comers, free of charge, and all the church was filled. It was Dr. Cadman's second appearance on a Westerville platform.

The lecture course will close in April, with the appearance of Miss Gay Zenola MacLaren, entertainer.

BANS ON UNIFORM*War Department Issues Order Regarding Wearing of Khaki by Discharged Soldiers.

Lieut. Farrar, former commandant of the Otterbein Student Army Training Corps, has received the following copy of War Department Order No. 43, issued January 25, governing the wearing of the uniform by discharged officers and enlisted men:

Present law authorizes a discharged officer or soldier to wear his uniform from the place of discharge to his home, within three months of the date of his discharge from the service. Thereafter the officer may wear his uniform only upon occasions of ceremony.

The enlisted man must return his uniform within four months of date of discharge; but can wear it only as stated above.

An act is now before Congress, which if passed, will authorize enlisted men to keep the uniform which they are permitted to wear home, and to wear that particular uniform, only, provided some distinctive mark or insignia, to be issued by the War Department, shall be worn.

It will thus be clearly seen that neither under existing or proposed law will a discharged soldier be permitted to wear uniforms made by civilian or other tailors. They may legally wear only the particular uniform which they have been permitted to retain.

BARNES STORY CONTEST ON*To Close April 15—Stories Must Have Historical Basis—Upper-Classmen Urged to Compete.

April fifteenth is the date set for the closing of the Barnes Short Story contest. This contest, which is open only to Seniors and Juniors, was founded several years ago by Mr. Walter Barnes, as a memorial to his father.

There are three prizes given—first, forty dollars; second, twenty dollars; third, ten dollars. If there are no contestants, or if the productions do not measure up to the standard, the money is turned over to the college library.

The stories submitted must consist of not less than four thousand words; the theme must be patriotic, and teach good citizenship; the setting must be historic; the entire composition must follow the recognized rules for good short story writing.

The heads of the English department are very anxious that the Senior and Juniors classes be well represented in the contest this year. There is enough talent for creative writing in the two classes to make an interesting competition, as well as to promise varied types of stories. The time spent on work of this kind would not be lost, even though the Siu Lam, the lecture was of personal money reward were not won, for the slightest effort in story writing would develop a certain amount of style, ease and accuracy of expression.

Seniors and Juniors of literary taste and ability, think about this contest and decide to enter. Don't be afraid of losing; the profit will be all yours in either case.

U. B. Pastor Gives Interesting*Illustrated Lecture on China.

In place of the regular Sunday night service, Rev. Burtner gave an illustrated lecture on China.

The lecture dwelt chiefly on the work of the United Brethren Church in Canton and Siu Lam. As the Westerville U. B. Church is financing the Christian work in a section of interest to all church members. The service was well attended and Rev. Burtner announced that lectures on other foreign fields will be forthcoming in the near future.

We Announce the Results.

The editorial entitled, "Dancing", published in a recent issue of the Tan and Cardinal, has been, to use a slang phrase, "cussed and discussed" freely. Student sentiment regarding the dance has been frankly expressed in "Club Talks". All parties interested, both pro and con, have had an equal opportunity to take part in the discussion. Others have been frank, so now we too wish to explain candidly a few things. We copied the original editorial from the Oberlin Review for two reasons. First the argument seemed to us to be about the best we had ever seen in favor of dancing. Second, we had an idea that such an editorial in the Tan and Cardinal would create some excitement, and furnish people with a subject of conversation besides current gossip. The idea has proved well founded. Comment has run high; we ourselves have even been referred to as "those who fostered such diabolic principles", etc., besides being told personally by some that our nerve was admired, and by others that we were extremely foolish and harbored low ideals. Otterbein is aroused.

But to consider the question seriously. It may be that the majority of the students now in school are not opposed to dancing. But these students do not make up the entire constituency of Otterbein College. And while it has always been, and should continue to be the policy of the Tan and Cardinal to reflect the sentiments of students, it is also the function of a denominational college paper to stand by the traditions and support the policies of the church which it represents. Due to the prevailing sentiment of our church people, who are opposed to dancing as a recognized form of entertainment, we realize, when we consider the question seriously, that it is useless to advocate dancing for Otterbein now. Until the persons in control of our college social life are converted to dancing here in Otterbein, it must necessarily be kept out of the social program. This condition can be met, at best, in a spirit of reluctant acceptance by those who favor a change, but it certainly should not become a serious "bone of contention."

After all, the social life of Otterbein is what the students themselves make it. There is no ban on pushes and parties and banquets. It would be foolish for us to sit back, as some of us seem to be doing, and wait for the faculty to plan parties for us, and to invite us to come and enjoy them when everything is prepared. Let's drop the discussion of dancing now, and turn our attention toward brightening up Otterbein social life by more practical means. The borrowed editorial has accomplished its two fold purpose—let's talk about something else!—Editor.

The Sacredness of the Promised Word

Perhaps no one more than an editor has the opportunity of discovering how sacred some of the said editor's acquaintances consider their promises. By which vague statement we mean that in the usual course of the week's events, we ask certain people to write for the Tan and Cardinal. And we usually request that the fruits of their labors be handed to us at Chapel on Friday morning. Almost invariably the reply comes, "All right." But although some "copy" does arrive on schedule time, most of it comes in on Saturday or Sunday or Monday. Now the paper is usually finished by Monday noon, in spite of these delays, and it is not of the inconvenience to the staff that we wish to speak.

But it is a fact that some of us consider our promises too lightly. Thoughtlessly we say, "all right, I'll do it," and then straightway forget about it. Or if we do remember, we think that there is plenty of time, and that if we don't get it done on time we won't be scolded very hard. This attitude is wrong. If we were as conscientious as we should be, we would consider well before making a promise, no matter how trivial, and then live up to the letter of that promise, regardless of the cost.

We all know some men and women whose "word is as good as the bank," and we know, too, that it is a pleasure to do business with them. The unfortunate thing is that such people are in the minority. The condition is easily remedied, however, for anyone may join this group if only he includes in his ideals the sacredness of the promised word.

CLUB TALK

Dear Editor:

To those of Otterbein who are "well informed" and to the rest of us who are "misinformed, prevaricators, and abnormal physically," as Mr. Johnson classifies us, I wish to say that by some mistake my name was not published under the article advocating social activities, but I wrote it, and I have always understood that it is better to cling to one's convictions than to be a hypocrite when it comes to the principles for which one stands.

Although we realize that at present dancing is out of the question at a school that is supported by a church whose creed forbids it, we who do believe in dancing and social education refuse to be called "sinners", "vice advocates" and to be accused of having an "inflamed, abnormal appetite for amusements too highly seasoned."

We who approve of dancing and social activities as moral issues are still moral, and good enough to be loyal supporters of this Christian college, and those who disapprove—probably because they are uncomfortable or awkward at a social function—would have a hard time supporting it alone.

It has been said that there is harm and danger in dancing with one of the opposite sex. Those who are well informed, in my opinion, are those who believe the statement made in Chapel Thursday morning, that "Temptation is the strong man's opportunity to do right, and the weak man's opportunity to do wrong."

Florence E. Loar.

To the Editor:

Dancing is a natural tendency; it is one of the normal modes of expression. Forget the word "dance" which seems to have acquired a bad connotation. Is it wrong to keep time to music? If so, many good people had better tie a stone to their feet while the organist plays the prelude to the church service, and children must no longer march out of the school-room and down the steps in time to some lively air. Dancing is no more than this in a more developed form. Anyone likes to see a "gym" class go through a series of exercises in perfect count or in time to music. That is dancing also, in different form. Everyone has, to some extent, a desire to respond to the stimulus of music.

Then why suppress it? Simply because dancing has been controlled largely by a low class of people and they have degraded it. Many folks do not discriminate between the indecent kind and the wholesome, expressive kind of dancing which is gaining ground. However, the same kind of people who have degraded the dance have also produced and revelled in a lot of rotten literature, but that did not prevent our great

Y. M. C. A.

Those attending Y. M. C. A. meeting last Thursday night, were favored with a quiet, heart-to-heart talk by Dr. Snively.

As the Bible Study groups were to be organized at this meeting, Dr. Snively's remarks were all relative to the advantages derived from a close study of the Bible, and the pleasure and gain received by associations and fellowships formed among the members of a Bible Study group.

Dr. Snively remarked that 75 per cent of college alumni valued the friendships and associations formed in college above any other benefit derived during their college course. And where can one find friends of truer purpose and of loftier ideals than those found in a Bible Study group such as the Otterbein Y. M. C. A. is instituting?

Vital problems of every day life will also be discussed in the Bible Study groups. Surely this will be an untold benefit, for if we cannot solve the trivial problems now certainly the mammoth world problems of future years will not be solved.

After the conclusion of Dr. Snively's remarks, the following Bible study groups were formed:

Sunday, 8 A. M.—Mr. Vernon.

Sunday, 8 A. M.—Mr. Wells.

Tuesday, 6 P. M.—Mr. H. E. Michael.

It is ardently hoped that every man in Otterbein, not already enrolled in one of the above groups, will do so immediately.

Y. W. C. A.

"The Source" was the interesting subject of the meeting led by Harriet Raymond. She chose for the basis of her talk "The Source" by Henry Van Dyke. There was a small city situated in an arid valley. At times the water would spring forth and the valley would become fertile. At other times the valley would be dry and parched and no living things could grow. This mysterious phenomenon was explained when someone discovered that the source lay far back in an old cave, and that when the people of the city visited the source often, the water would bubble forth and make the dry valley fertile.

Addresses Ladies' Literary Club in Michigan City.

One of the most famous women's clubs in the United States is the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Ladies' Literary Club. It has a membership of 700 ladies and has 400 on the waiting list. They have a magnificent club house and auditorium.

This club was addressed by Fred G. Bale, Westerville lecturer, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Bale's subject was "The Fourth Line of Defense."

He addressed the Southwestern State Normal college at California, Pa., Monday night.

Tennis Captain Chosen.

The Fates decided who is to be Tennis Captain and Manager for Otterbein this year. T. V. Bancroft and F. D. Gray have each played Varsity tennis equal time and made their letters last season. Since the captain and manager was not chosen last year Professor Rosselot flipped a coin—Gray chose heads and the Fates decided in his favor.

poets and essayists from expressing themselves through the same medium; and from the latter our standards of literature have been formed, not from the low type. The same way with art and any other mode of self-expression; among degraded people it is degraded, among the educated and high-minded it is elevated to a fine art.

What better place than Otterbein, where we find the best of everything, to prove that dancing can be clean and wholesome. The girls of Cochran Hall prove it twice and three times a day when they skip around over the library floor. It must be proved to the world some time because people will always dance, just as they always have from the time of David when they gave praises with music and dancing. What better time than now when all standards, especially educational, are changing? It may be called something else but sometime we shall keep time to music at Otterbein.

Helen Bovee.

EXCHANGES

Almost immediately upon the disbanding of the S. A. T. C. at Ohio Wesleyan, an R. O. T. C. unit was organized. Major H. P. Ward has charge, and over one hundred men are enrolled.

Oberlin College is justly proud of the record made by the Oberlin Ambulance Unit on the Italian front. The entire unit is recommended for the Italian War Cross; and is spoken of as showing "an uncommon spirit of sacrifice under fire."

President Ellis of Ohio University says he considers final examinations a mere waste of time; and for this term, at least, they are to be dispensed with, according to a recent ruling of the faculty. The students all agree heartily with Dr. Ellis' view of the matter.

Of the three hundred and ninety-two men who were enrolled in the S. A. T. C. unit, eighty-eight have signified their intention of discontinuing their college course. This is below the average percentage of men that most Ohio colleges have lost, and the majority of the eighty-eight are Freshmen who would not have taken University work had it not been for the advantages offered by the Student Army Training Corps.—Ohio Wesleyan Transcript.

A negro boy was run over by a train and a neighbor was telling about it. "It were a sad case: one ob de saddes' I ever heard. De boy was jus' runnin' cross de railroad track bringing home a big watamilon. He sot down on de rail to plug dat milon to see if id wus ripe and de train came 'long an' killed him."

"Dat am certainly terrible," said a negro standing by, and then, "Yo' didn't hear, I suppose, whether de milon was ripe?"

who have made the supreme sacrifice for the cause they thought right, the students of Ohio Wesleyan have passed a resolution to erect a monument on the campus on which will be inscribed the names of these men, in order that students of the future may see how Wesleyan men sprang to their country's service in the great war and gave their lives for the cause of democracy.—The Transcript.

Thoughtful William

"William," snapt the dear lady, viciously, "didn't I hear the clock strike two as you came in?"

"You did, my dear. It started to strike ten, but I stopped it to keep it from waking you up."—Tit-Bits.

Soph: "What goes round a buttin?"
Co-Ed: "A buttonhole."

Soph: "You lose."

Co-Ed: "What?"

Soph: "A goat."

"Are they seasoned troops?"

"They ought to be. They were first mustered in by their officers and then peppered by the enemy"

—Baltimore American.

Our boys in France are no longer called "Doughboys." They have earned the name "Dutch Cleansers."

Kernel—Did you bury all the dead as I ordered this morning?

Privit—Yes, sir, but we had a little trouble with one of them.

Kernel—What?

Privit—Why, one of them raised up on his elbow and said he wasn't dead. But then he was one of them d—d Germans, and you never can believe anything they say, so we buried him anyway.

The college observed Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's death through a memorial address at chapel by Doctor Van der Pyl, and by flying the college flag at half-mast. Doctor Van der Pyl spoke of Colonel Roosevelt as a typical American whom all must honor irrespective of party.

If We Only Understood.

If we knew the cares and trials,
Knew the efforts all in vain,
And the bitter disappointment,
Understood the loss and pain—
Would the grim eternal roughness
Seem—I wonder—just the same?
Should we help where now we hinder?
Should we pity where we blame?

Ah! we judge each other harshly,
Knowing not life's hidden force—
Knowing not the fount of action
Is less turbid at its source;
Seeing not amid the evil
All then golden grains of good,
And we'd love each other better
If we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds by motives
That surround each other's lives,
See the naked heart and spirit,
Know what spur the action gives,
Often we would find it better,
Purer than we judge we should—
We should love each other better
If we only understood.

—Rudyard Kipling.

We were almost overwhelmed to find a couple of waltz records at the "Y". Horrors!

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ream now occupy the property where Mrs. Eliza Sheller formerly lived.

Do we spend a pleasant evening in the Y. M. C. A. rooms or do we continue to walk the streets of Westerville for want of something better to do?

Will some one please tell us who won the Freshman-Sophomore scrap?

COCHRAN HALL NOTES

Ruth Hooper, Gladys Swigart, Florence Loar and Helen Ensor attended the Vocational Conference at Oberlin Friday and Saturday.

Virginia (showing little Mary Louise Altman a picture of Mr. Macdonald)—"Who is this, Mary Louise?"

Mary Louise (ecstatically)—"Daddy!"

Sergeant Warstler of Columbus Barracks spent Monday evening with his cousin Vida Wilhelm.

Rose Goodman spent the week-end at her home in Akron.

Miss Frieda Klank spent a few hours at Cochran Hall and talked with the Y. W. C. A. cabinet girls.

Monday night occurred several slumber parties when it was rumored that mischief was afoot.

First basket ball casualty! Mildred Shull sprained her ankle.

At ten o'clock Thursday night the Dorm girls crept stealthily down stairs and surprised Mr. Rilea with a serenade in honor of his birthday.

Prof. and Mrs. C. O. Altman and daughter Mary Louise, Dr. and Mrs. Snaveley, Misses Alta and Audrey Nelson, Mabel Eubanks of Jackson, O., Mary Nichols, Ethel Hill and Nettie Lee Roth were guests at Cochran Hall for dinner Sunday.

This week-end Beatrice Fisher and Alice Hunter went home.

Mr. Vernon Phillips of New York City visited his sister-in-law Marjorie Miller one day this week.

LONG SHOTS

"Pep" was sadly lacking in the rooting last Friday night. In the second half when the team was in the lead the audience wakened up a trifle but a winning team is impossible without enthusiastic support from the side lines.

Captain Fox not only scores but leads in the applause frequently.

Absence of attempts at long and sensational shots contributed to the victory Friday night.

Snappy passing and short shots make a fast and interesting game. O. C. men were especially proficient in this kind of playing in the game with Cedarville.

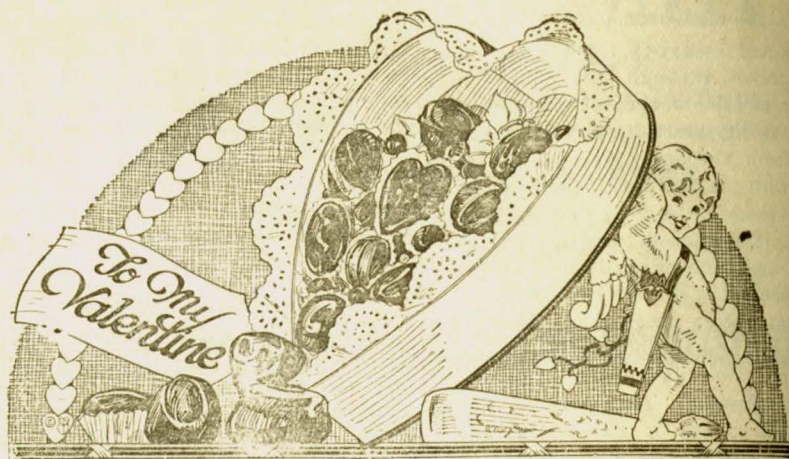

As a floor manager and in speed and fairness few referees excel Mr. Dunlap of Denison.

Students were reminded of old times, (when victory was more common than this year) by the way Otterbein men worked their signals through for goals.

Albright deserves commendation for sticking in the game after someone kicked the wind out of him. His second wind proved to be better than the first.

And when you get your label pasted on some June day you will be a product the world can make use of.—Indian Leader, of Haskell Institute.

Salutes.

The most distinguishing mark of a soldier is his salute. A soldier never tips his hat to a lady, he salutes instead. It is his way of greeting a comrade, of showing deference to a friend or respect to his flag. But it is essentially an army custom and jealousy guarded as such. When a civilian attempts to salute it becomes simply a noncommittal wave of the hand. So when we lay aside the uniform of Uncle Sam and don our civilian clothes we also give up our right to salute. The point is this, let's tip our civilian hats when we greet our lady friends instead of waving our hands in an imitation salute.—The Denisonian.
