Message from the President

Dear Alumni and Friends,

Otterbein moves forward. In a time of challenge, the College responds true to its mission of liberal arts education in the Christian tradition.

Academic 1981-1982 has many bright spots. We are grateful for a fall enrollment of 1692 students, largest in College history. While upper class enrollment fell slightly below projections, we had five more new students (freshman and transfers) than 1980 and 506 Adult Degree students, an increase of 107. This increase produced record enrollment.

We are on schedule with our effort to review curriculum and programs to focus teaching and resources for maximum educational effectiveness. The ever present excitement of the teaching-learning process continues with new dimensions added by our nursing, journalism and computer science programs. We appear headed for a great sports year with excellent football (7-2) and cross country (11-0) seasons completed and the exciting Cardinal basketball team winning in a manner reminiscent of last year when it reached the final four in the NCAA Division III tournament. The magnificent marching band played for a Cincinnati Bengals game, and theatre students received recognition at the American College Theatre Festival.

In 1981 the College had its fourth consecutive million dollar gift year, exceeded only by 1978. More than 4,300 alumni and friends contributed more than $1.4 million. Everywhere we see the difference such support makes. Endowed scholarships grew. We met increased student aid needs. The Decision for the Arts campaign made possible additional improvements in Towers Hall and the scene shop on Cowan Hall.

Challenges continue. Extra utility increases, overestimated regular student enrollment and additional expenditures on financial aid to meet growing student need dictated fall budget cuts. Despite a 1982 prospect pool one-third larger and current applications nearly double last year, projected drastic cuts in federal financial aid for students makes this a critical time for Otterbein. To generate a significant increase in Otterbein financial aid dollars and respond to continuing inflation, we have had to increase tuition 10 percent for 1982-1983. Also the Otterbein trustees have responded with a $100,000 challenge grant for 1982 to match gifts of new donors or increases of 1981 donors. You can help. Join us if you did not give in 1981! Increase if you did! Looking ahead, we prepare for a major effort to increase endowment during the 1980's.

Involvement with Otterbein is an expansive experience. Otterbein offers students opportunity for personal growth. You can participate. Join us on or off campus. We welcome and need you.

Sincerely,

Thomas J. Kerr, IV

College News

President Emeritus Lynn W. Turner Dies

Dr. Lynn W. Turner, president emeritus and honorary trustee of Otterbein College, died Monday, January 4, at Middletown Hospital in Middletown, Ohio, after suffering a heart attack at the Otterbein Home in Lebanon, Ohio.

Dr. Turner, 75, was the seventeenth president of Otterbein College, serving from 1958 to 1971. A native of Terre Haute, Indiana, Dr. Turner earned degrees from Indiana Central College and Indiana University before receiving his Ph.D. at Harvard University. He was named an honorary alumnus of Otterbein College in 1958. At the time of his election to the Otterbein presidency, he was a professor of history at Indiana University.

The years of Dr. Turner's presidency were years of unprecedented growth in enrollment and expansion for Otterbein College. A Ten-Year Plan for the college was formulated in 1960, marking Otterbein's first effort to set long-range goals for enrollment, expansion, endowment, salaries and other college-related issues.

An impressive building program during Dr. Turner's tenure included new residence halls for men and women, the Campus Center, the Grant-Otterbein Urgent Care Center, the modernization of McFadden Science Center and the construction of the Science Center addition and the Maintenance Building addition. Construction was begun on the Court-right Memorial Library.

Dr. Turner's administrative planning also resulted in the incorporation of administrators, faculty members and students into a more effective governance of the College as well as the reorganization of the College's Board of Trustees. According to Otterbein historian Dr. Harold Hancock, these two moves were the most important internal changes in structure since Otterbein's founding.

A writer and historian as well as administrator, Dr. Turner edited and co-authored several volumes in the series Indiana in World War II and frequently contributed to historical journals. He was a past editor of The Historian, a quarterly magazine published by Phi Alpha Theta, a national honorary historical fraternity, and past president of the organization.

Dr. Turner is survived by his wife, the former Vera K. Arbogast, whom he married in 1929; daughter Veralyn (Mrs. Richard Martin), and son Ian Bruce, a 1967 Otterbein graduate. He was preceded in death by a daughter Sylvia.

Memorial services were held January 9 at the Otterbein Home and January 30 at the College. The family has suggested that gifts in Dr. Turner's name be made to the Otterbein Scholarship Fund at the College's Office of Development.

Fall Phonathon Most Successful in Otterbein History

"Person to Person," the card read. It explained that within the next few days someone from the Otterbein family would be calling to make a personal appeal on behalf of the Otterbein Fund.

So began the most successful Otterbein phonathon ever. More than 4,500 alumni, parents and friends of the College received the cards in late October, and then, during the first two weeks of November, volunteer callers completed 3,079 station to station calls. A record $67,296 was pledged toward the Otterbein Fund from 1,473 people. Another 446 made pledges of unspecified amounts.

The volunteers were alumni, friends, faculty and staff who were recruited by team captains Fred Ashbaugh '53; Mike Bridgman '73; Barbara Chapman, chairperson of the Department of Nursing; Ron Jones '61; Brett Moorehead '74; Mike Wasyluk '74; Jane Yantis, president of the Otterbein Women's Club; Elmer "Bud" Yoest '53, athletic director; Jeff Yoest '77; Kyle Yoest '80; and Edna Zech '33. The six varsity cheerleaders also served as callers on two of the six nights of telephoning.

The site of the 1981 fall phonathon was Battelle Memorial Institute on King Avenue in Columbus. Duane Yothers '55 and George McClure of the Battelle staff made arrangements for the College to use the phones in Battelle's public relations offices. Dinner for the volunteers was served in a private dining room at Battelle and preceded the phoning each night.

The Otterbein Fund is made up of unrestricted gifts from alumni, parents and friends. This annual campaign is used to offset operating expenses of the College, providing the difference between the amount a student pays and the real cost of an Otterbein education.

The College usually holds two phonathons each year. During the spring phonathon, student callers contact parents, friends and members of classes holding reunions that June. Alumni and faculty volunteers serve as callers in the fall to contact primarily alumni and friends to remind them that their support is important to Otterbein.

Edna Zech was one of many alumni, students and friends of the College who volunteered their help to the Fall Phonathon. A complete list of volunteers is given in the Honor Roll section.

Nine Faculty Members Invited to NEH Seminars

Since 1978, nine Otterbein College faculty members have been selected to participate in the Summer Seminars for College Teachers offered by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH).

The program was established by NEH to provide teachers in two-year, four-year and five-year colleges with opportunities for advanced study for research in their own fields or in related fields. Participants receive a $2500 stipend to cover expenses for the two-month period of the seminars.

"The seminars give faculty members from smaller schools a chance to study with distinguished scholars in their fields and to have access to the resources of major libraries," says Donald C. Bulthaupt, Otterbein's vice president for academic affairs.

"We are especially proud that a college the size of Otterbein has had nine participants in the program. This is certainly an indication of the College's academic excellence," says Dr. Bulthaupt.

William T. Hamilton, Otterbein's dean of faculty, was one of the first participants in the program. In 1978, he attended a seminar at Michigan State University entitled "The Functions of Discourse in Science and Literature" under the direction of E. Fred Carlisle, chairman of Michigan State's English department.

"It was a marvelous experience," says Dr. Hamilton. "To be able to interact with one's peers from colleges around the country was very stimulating and I've seen great results in terms of my teaching and research."

Other faculty members have also found their NEH courses beneficial to their teaching.

Morton Achter, chairperson of Otterbein's music department participated last summer in a seminar on "Principles of Shenkerian Analysis" directed by Charles Burkhart at the City University of New York. "I am planning a workshop for Otterbein faculty and upper-level music students on the advanced music theory dealt with in the seminar," says Dr. Achter.

Two other music faculty members have participated in the NEH summer seminars. Michael Haberkorn, assistant professor of music, studied "Non Tonal Music of the Early 20th Century" under the direction of Allen Forte, a noted theorist on 20th century music at Yale University.

Lyle Barkhymer, associate professor of music, attended a seminar on "Music in Non-Western Cultures" at the University of Michigan, directed by William P. Malm, an authority on the music of Japan. As a result of his NEH experience, Dr. Barkhymer is teaching an honors division course at Otterbein in non-Western music.

Allison Prindle of the English faculty found that an NEH seminar provided her with contacts in her field throughout the United States. She attended a seminar on "Renaissance Self-Fashioning," directed by Stephen J. Greenblatt at the University of California at Berkeley. "The intellectual excitement of the course has paid off in terms of my classroom teaching," says Dr. Prindle.

Norman Chaney, also of the English department, studied "The Sonnets of Shakespeare in Relation to Modern Poetry" at Rice University under the direction of Monroe K. Spears. As a result of the seminar, Dr. Chaney published a paper through Indiana University in Pennsylvania.

Paul L. Redditt, associate professor of religion and philosophy, went to Yale University for a seminar on "A Sociology of Ancient Israel" directed by Robert Wilson. After participating in the seminar, Dr. Redditt incorporated recent research on the Bible into his Otterbein courses on the Old Testament.

Two former faculty members in the Department of Religion and Philosophy also participated in the NEH seminars while at Otterbein. Margaret Hartman studied "Greek Values, Greek Society and the Interpretation of Greek Texts" at the University of Chicago. Her husband Thomas Hartman participated in a seminar on the influential 20th century philosopher Wittgenstein at Cornell University conducted by Norman Malcolm, a student of Wittgenstein.

Also participating in the Wittgenstein seminar was Marc Lowestein, who joined the Otterbein faculty this academic year as an assistant professor of religion and philosophy.

Alumni Band Marks 10th Year

1982 marks the 10th anniversary year for the Otterbein Alumni Band. Along with annual Homecoming and Commencement performances, the band added an Alumni Pep Band to play for the "O" Club's Holiday Basketball Classic, held December 28 and 29.

Over the past few years, the group has been very pleased to welcome back a number of band members who graduated prior to 1972. They heartily encourage band members from those years previous to the Alumni Band's formation to return and perform with them. If you are not on their mailing list and wish to receive the bi-annual newsletter, please contact Margaret Fagerberg Montgomery '73, Alumni Band President, 798 S. Roosevelt Avenue, Columbus, Ohio 43209, (614) 235-0737.

Otterbein Prank Retold

Memories of life at Otterbein more than 75 years ago were relived in an article entitled the "Apple Pie Caper", featured in the Columbus Dispatch Magazine on Sunday, November 8, 1981. The article, written by Millard J. Miller H'59, former pastor of the Church of the Master in Westerville, told of the closely knit fellowship among the professors who taught here at that time. It related specifically to a trick played on Dr. Thomas Jefferson Sanders '78, H'12, College president (1891-1901) and professor of philosophy from 1891 to 1931, by Dr. George Scott, College president from 1901-1904 and professor of Latin and literature from 1887 to 1931.

Bell Repaired

Visitors at Homecoming may have noticed that the College bell is ringing again.

The Class of '29, spearheaded by Dick Sanders, raised the funds to make the necessary repairs just in time for Homecoming. It is wonderful to have the clock striking again, as it adds so much to the atmosphere of the campus.

WKRP Episode Features Otterbein

Otterbein College was featured as the location for Arthur Carlson's 25th class reunion on the January 6th episode of the CBS television show "WKRP in Cincinnati."

The reunion show, entitled "You Can't Go Out of Town Again," revolved around the return of station manager Carlson and his wife to Otterbein where they reminisced about the early days of their courtship.

Gordon Jump '55, who plays Mr. Carlson, is an Otterbein alumnus and a native of Dayton. Since the show is set in Cincinnati, the producers felt that Otterbein's Westerville location would be logical for the reunion.

Otterbein's public relations department received a call from the show's producers in October asking for yearbooks from 25 years ago. Jump's picture appears three times in the 1952 Sybil, the College's yearbook — as a member of the Country Club fraternity, the Men's Glee Club and the Student Council.

In addition to the yearbooks, the College sent some T-shirts, an Otterbein mug and an Otterbein pennant, which is now displayed in Mr. Carlson's office.

The program's wardrobe department then requested some varsity sweaters with the College's name or initial highly visible. Since none were available in the College bookstore, Roush Sporting Goods in Westerville produced four cardinal red sweaters with tan "O"s within 24 hours.

Calls were also made to the Otterbein alumni office to make sure that there were never any actual students enrolled at Otterbein with the names of the show's characters.

The show was filmed in Studio City, California, in November.

Defining Death

by Paul L. Redditt

This is the first in a series of articles written by Otterbein faculty members. We hope you will find them informative and thought-provoking.

Artwork by Michael J. Blankenship '84.

When is a person dead? What criterion should physicians use to determine whether a person is dead? Should society change its customary definition of death as the stoppage of circulation and respiration? In recent years, legislatures, courts of law, medical forums, philosophers and theologians have debated the definition of death. Improvements in medical technology, such as the development of mechanical respirators, have made the issue all the more urgent. I intend, therefore, to review and criticize the history of the debate over the definition of death and to derive from that debate an acceptable definition and a series of ethically justifiable propositions about terminating treatment and removing organs for transplants. In tracing the history of the debate, I will group definitions into three categories: traditional, neurological, and maximal. Specifically, I will defend the view that a person is dead when the interrelated neurological, respiratory and circulatory functions irreversibly cease.

Traditional Definitions

Traditional definitions are largely outdated. Nevertheless, I wish to mention them because new definitions of death build on one or the other of these views: (1) death as the departure of the soul, and (2) death as the loss of vital signs.

Death as the departure of the soul. Christianity, influenced by Greek philosophy, adopted the notion of an immortal soul dwelling in a physical body. Consequently, Christians typically conceive of death as the irreversible departure of the soul from the body. The Protestant reformer John Calvin, in his Institutes (Book I, Chapter IV), writes: "man consists of a body and a soul; . . . and at death we remove from a tabernacle of flesh; . . . we put off that which is corruptible, in order that, at the last day, we may finally receive according to the deeds done in the body."

Precisely because such a definition is not clinical, and thus cannot be measured by scientific instruments, it is not useful in a hospital. Nevertheless, it still retains some force; namely, that death is not merely a clinical matter or a biological failure, but has profound human dimensions. Indeed, the neo-cortical definition (to be discussed shortly) turns upon the issue of what is human, as opposed to biological, about death and thus continues the primary emphasis (though not the details) of the theological definition.

Death as the loss of vital signs. A second traditional understanding defines death as the loss of vital signs, i.e. cessation of breath and heartbeat. In most states even today, this traditional definition remains also the legal definition of death. In the past if a person quit breathing (tested by placing a mirror just below one's nose) and one's heart quit beating (tested by feeling one's chest, taking the pulse, or more recently by listening with a stethoscope), one was declared dead. While the definition appears simple and uncomplicated, the truth is that it was not dependable in practice. During the nineteenth century, for example, persons in the United States and Germany came to fear premature burial. Court records tell of doctors being tried for involuntary manslaughter for writing the death certificates of persons exhumed and found to have struggled inside the coffin. To prevent premature burial, Germans established waiting mortuaries, in which corpses were kept a few days after the funeral until decomposition began.

In evaluating this definition, one should note that the absence of the so-called vital signs does not adequately indicate death. The brain stem, or lower brain, controls the involuntary action of breathing. Respiration supplies the heart and the brain with oxygen, and the brain in turn regulates the rate of heartbeat. If the brain stem is damaged, respiration will be interrupted, the heart will stop beating, and the circulation of oxygen to the rest of the body will cease. However, if respiration is maintained artificially, the heart will continue to beat at its own rhythm for an indefinite period, depending upon its own health and the continued supply of oxygen. Thus, the loss of vital signs is really just a poor test of the vitality of the brain in its linkage with the heart and lungs. I turn then to the next category of definitions: those based on neurological indicators.

Neurological Definitions

Typically, death occurs in three phases, during which different parts of the body die. The first is clinical death, during which the heart ceases to beat and respiration stops. The second phase is brain death, resulting from insufficient oxygen to the brain. Finally, cellular death occurs; during this phase the different cells of the body die at different rates. Unfortunately for purposes of definition, the order of the first two phases may be reversed by brain disease or accident and modern technology can intervene with respirators. The second set of definitions, then, focuses on brain functions as the proper indicators of life and death. Specifically, the definitions speak of brain stem and cerebral or neo-cortical death. I shall consider each separately.

Brain stem death. The starting point for brain stem death is the definition of irreversible coma by the Ad Hoc Committee of Harvard Medical school. The criteria which the Committee proposed may be summarized as follows: (1) unreceptivity and unresponsivity to external stimuli; (2) no movements or breathing, tested by removing the patient momentarily from a respirator; (3) absence of elicitable reflexes; and (4) a flat electroencephalogram. These criteria presuppose competent testing and must be repeated with the same results twenty-four hours after the initial test. The Committee further notes that the test is not valid in cases of hypothermia (low body temperature) or excessive nervous system depressants. Given those conditions, no one tested and found to be in irreversible coma has ever regained consciousness, and all have lost vital signs within a few days to two weeks, despite so-called "heroic" efforts to maintain them. Other less rigorous tests may turn out to be equally safe indicators of irreversible coma and impending death.

While the Harvard Committee attempted only to define irreversible coma, many ethicists contend that persons in an irreversible coma with no brain activity are in fact already dead. To keep such persons on a respirator is merely to ventilate a corpse, according to this view. Unconscious persons with some limited brain activity present a different case. Such unconscious persons are, by the brain stem definition, clearly alive; but their prognosis for recovery is extremely bleak. Whether medical teams should continue to treat them is a separate question. While most authors would not go so far as to condone removing intravenous feeding, almost all would approve discontinuing "extraordinary" measures.

The distinction between ordinary and extraordinary measures is problematic, however, because for patients who appear to have a chance to recover, no means is considered "extraordinary." Apparently the real, operative criterion for continuing to support life is not the type of technology necessary, but its likelihood of success. No one has a moral obligation to do anything that is useless. Thus, argue writers like Robert Schwager and Paul Ramsay, a medical team may discontinue all efforts at life support ("heroic" or not) and provide only humane care until the patient dies.

Neo-cortical death. Not all ethicists are satisfied with brain stem death as the best definition of human death. They point out that breathing and excreting, while necessary to biological life, are not definitive of what we value when we speak of human life. These ethicists hold that genuinely human life includes consciousness and/or some capacity for social interaction, and these functions are located in the neo-cortex. Consequently, to speak of human death is to speak of the death of the neo-cortex, even if the body still breathes without a respirator.

The neo-cortical definition requires careful evaluation. On the positive side, it reminds us of what is very important and valuable to human life. However, while many people would agree that human life without consciousness is not worth preserving, far fewer people would agree that the unconscious person is already dead, has lost all legal rights to protection, and may be treated in any way that does not offend our sensibilities. One prediction of the future conceives of colonies where legally dead bodies are kept operative on ventilators for use by medical students, transplant teams, sperm banks, and a host of other individuals or institutions. The basic problem with this definition, therefore, is that it confuses the question of whether a person is already dead with the question of whether a person's life is worth preserving.

Maximal Definitions

The movement to redefine death in terms of neurological indicators has not met with universal acceptance. To some scholars, efforts to redefine death seem to be prompted exclusively by the desires of transplant teams to get donor organs that are as "fresh" as possible. To protect helpless patients from violation, if not genocide, some ethicists propose a maximal definition of death. They argue that we do not know the precise moment of death and so must protect patients by holding to the most stringent definition we can; cessation of vital signs, plus cessation of brain waves, plus any other significant indicators.

Two problems accompany a maximal definition. The first is that the operation of a respirator can mask for days the occurrence of death under such a definition. That is, a maximal definition overlooks the fact that mechanical respiration of a comatose patient may well begin before all brain activity ceases and continue for weeks after the brain stem dies but before the heart stops beating. The second problem is that such a definition seriously threatens successful organ transplant by making transplant teams wait until the donor has passed through the final trauma of clinical/neurological death.

Death, Terminating Treatments and Transplants

This review of the debate over the definition of death has uncovered no universally accepted definition. What are the causes for this lack of consensus? One reason is that people often fail to distinguish the questions "when is a person dead?" and "when is life no longer worth living?" Closely related is the failure to agree on criteria: ought the definition of human death center on human capacities or on minimal biological functions? In addition, a few scholars suggest that death is a process of some duration, so the attempt to mark a universally appropriate point during the process is arbitrary and doomed to failure. This view is unnecessarily pessimistic and merely camouflages the lack of an accepted criterion.

I agree with those who pinpoint the time of death as the moment of irreversible disintegration of the interdependent processes that assimilate oxygen, metabolize food, eliminate wastes, and keep the body in relative homeostasis. In simpler terms, the failure of one organ, including the brain, is not determinative of death; one is dead only when the integration of the body as a whole is irretrievably broken. This view amounts to a maximal definition, in that it includes not only brain stem death but the bodily functions linked to the brain. The definition also insists on biological death, and not merely the cessation of conscious, social (i.e. "human") behaviors upon which the neo-cortical definition rests. A maximal definition is preferred to prevent abuse to dying patients.

In view of a maximal definition of death, a series of ethically justified proposals about terminating treatment and allowing organ transplants is in order. These proposals will be limited to the irreversibly comatose person. The reason for this limitation is that when a patient passes into an irreversible coma, he or she can no longer learn, survival is limited, and life is no longer worth living. The proposals carry the safeguard that irreversible coma can be detected with 100 percent accuracy by the Harvard criteria and others.

Proposal: Since the Harvard and future criteria will probably be improved upon, any new legislation need only specify that the criteria for determining irreversible coma meet the approval of the AMA.

Proposal: Authorization to discontinue to irreversibly comatose patients any and all support systems, including, but not limited to IV's, antibiotics, and respirators, may be granted with impunity by the family, guardian, physician or by a hospital acting through its designated spokesperson(s). Such action should be allowed at any time after determination of irreversible coma has been made by the patients' physician or other competent persons, provided that if there is more than one examining party all parties agree that the patient meets approved criteria for irreversible coma. (Allowing the hospital to make the decision protects the hospital's control of its limited number of life support systems to care for those most likely to recover.)

Dr. Paul Redditt is an associate professor in the Department of Religion and Philosophy. He received a Ph.D. from Vanderbilt, with a major in Bible studies, concentrating on the Old Testament, and a minor in comparative religions. At Otterbein, he is conducting a freshman seminar on death and dying as part of the Integrative Studies Program and has conducted a bio-ethics seminar on the definition of death. During the month of January, he conducted a series of four Sunday classes at the Church of the Master in Westerville on the subject of "Death and Dying."

Proposal: To prevent any real or apparent conflict of interest, a patient's own physician may not in any way take part in any organ transplant.

Proposal: In the case of irreversibly comatose patients, organs may be taken with legal impunity by medically certified personnel before life support systems are withdrawn. Such action should be permitted only if, in the opinion of the transplanting team, delaying removal will significantly hinder chances of a successful transplant, and if the patient has agreed beforehand (or if his family thinks he/she would have approved). The right to donate organs under such circumstances allows terminally ill patients to make a humane gift of vital organs to someone with a better chance to survive. Finally, since the body of the patient remains in the care of the family, the family retains the right to reverse the decision to remove organs of the patient himself.

Conclusion

I have argued that a person dies at the time the linkage between brain stem activity, heartbeat, and breathing is irreversibly broken. Admittedly, this definition is maximal, and its acceptance would perhaps sometimes limit organ transplant. More importantly, however, the definition respects the integrity of the patient, his/her right to legal protection and to medical care without fear of conflict of interest. I have also argued for the integrity of the patient in connection with terminating treatment. Ethically, we have no obligation to administer medical treatment that is useless; indeed, a sense of humaneness dictates that patients whose condition is genuinely hopeless should simply have their pain relieved and bodily, psychological, and spiritual needs met, and be allowed to die quickly and naturally with as much dignity as possible. Given a maximal definition of death and tender humane treatment, dying patients could face their death without fear that they will be violated before death or needlessly delayed in the process of dying.

Dollar For Dollar Match

College Trustees Issue $100,000 Challenge for Otterbein Fund

A new gift of $50 to Otterbein College is really worth $100! An increase of $25 over last year's gift is really worth $50.

No, this isn't an exercise in "new math," nor does the College expect "inflation-in-reverse" to take hold in 1982.

But it is the effect of the $100,000 Trustee Challenge issued to alumni, parents and friends for support of the 1982 Otterbein Fund!

In an unprecedented move at their October 1981 meeting, the Board of Trustees committed themselves to a $100,000 challenge, then set about making their personal pledges to the challenge. The full $100,000 has been pledged with 100 percent participation both by active members of the Board of Trustees and the eight honorary trustees.

Citing a firm belief in the future of Otterbein College, Chairman of the Board Dr. Elmer N. Funkhouser, Jr. '38 stated the Trustee Challenge should be interpreted as both a commitment to the College and a summons to alumni, parents and friends to demonstrate their commitment.

"Those of us on the Board of Trustees are in positions to see clearly the direction the College is taking, and we strongly affirm that direction," Funkhouser stated. "We also have seen the tremendous growth in support of Otterbein by alumni, parents and friends in the past few years. Now is the ideal time for the trustees to lead all of the College's supporters toward reaching the splendid potential which is Otterbein's."

Funkhouser also indicated that by directing the Challenge toward the Otterbein Fund, trustees recognize the need for growth in annual unrestricted giving.

"Otterbein supporters have responded outstandingly to the needs for buildings through capital campaigns. Now we need to support general operating needs of the College. Supporting the Trustee Challenge will help the Otterbein Fund do just that!" he said.

President Thomas J. Kerr, IV sees the Trustee Challenge as a great opportunity for new gifts and increased gifts by alumni, parents and friends.

"The Board of Trustees has provided a great incentive to all of Otterbein's constituents to increase their level of support in 1982," he said. "It is seldom that the opportunity is provided for gifts to do double the good they are intended to do. All trustees are to be commended for issuing the Trustee Challenge!"

The terms of the challenge call for one dollar of the trustees' pledge of $100,000 to be paid to the Otterbein Fund for every one dollar of qualifying gifts from alumni, parents and friends.

For a gift to qualify, it must meet one of two conditions:

1. The gift is for $25 or more from a donor who did not make a gift in 1981;
2. The gift is an increase of $25 or more above the donor's total giving for 1981.

An additional feature of the challenge provides that a bonus be paid for moving ahead into a new giving club above a donor's 1981 club membership. The following scale applies for new membership in each club:

Centurion ($100-$299 total giving) collects $25 of Trustee Challenge

Cardinal ($300-$499 total giving) collects $75 of Trustee Challenge

Towers ($500-$999 total giving) collects $125 of Trustee Challenge

President's ($1,000 and more total giving) collects $250 of Trustee Challenge

To illustrate how the Trustee Challenge will operate, consider the three cases discussed below.

Case 1: Mr. A makes a gift of $40 to the Otterbein Fund. He did not make a gift to Otterbein in 1981.

The Trustee Challenge pays $40 to the Otterbein Fund as a dollar-for-dollar match of Mr. A's new gift. Mr. A has enabled the Otterbein Fund to gain $80!

Case 2: Mr. and Mrs. B make a gift of $150 to the Otterbein Fund. They gave $100 to Otterbein in 1981.

The Trustee Challenge pays $50 to the Otterbein Fund as a dollar-for-dollar match for Mr. and Mrs. B's increased giving above 1981 totals. Mr. and Mrs. B have enabled the Otterbein Fund to gain $200!

Case 3: Miss C makes a gift of $1,000 to the Otterbein Fund. She gave $650 to Otterbein in 1981. Her gift also makes her a new member of the President's Club.

The Trustee Challenge pays $600 to the Otterbein Fund, $350 as a dollar-for-dollar match for her increased gift and $250 as a bonus for her new membership in the President's Club. Miss C has enabled the Otterbein Fund to gain $1,600!

The Trustee Challenge will apply to gifts made to the Otterbein Fund throughout 1982. Therefore, if a donor makes more than one gift during the year, the challenge will keep tracking all gifts so that each can draw further Trustee Challenge dollars into the Otterbein Fund after the initial level has been met.

With the record of 1981 to build upon — a year where alumni giving reached a new high and total giving from all sources reached more than $1.46 million — the Trustee Challenge promises to make 1982 a banner year in Otterbein College support.

Alumni Finding Great Success in Broadcasting Professions

by Don E. Hines

As a group they are young, highly talented, and successful in their chosen profession. They are graduates of Otterbein College employed in some phase of broadcasting.

Radio and television have emerged as hot career fields, and the competition has become heated for entry into the fields. Technology continues to revolutionize the whole electronic communication area, and the demand for greater professionalism and more highly trained persons in the industry grows annually.

So how do graduates of a small liberal arts college like Otterbein compete so well and move so rapidly into top positions? To hear them tell it, it is because they are alumni of Otterbein and products of a liberal arts education.

They cite broad experiences from a variety of classes and the wide range of co-curricular activities. They praise the hands-on experience afforded by WOBN-FM, the College's 10-watt radio station, fully staffed and operated by students. They point with enthusiasm to Otterbein's premier internship program, one that Dr. James A. Gris-singer H '75, chairman of the Department of Speech and Theatre, indicates is among a very few that provide a full-time, full-term professional experience.

From New York to California, Otterbein-trained broadcasters are working on the air and behind the scenes in radio and television, selling and managing for broadcasting operations, and having success in closely related fields.

Terre Blair '77 has been with New York City's version of "PM Magazine" since early 1981. She co-hosts the program on WNEW-TV weeknights and also reports special features, which are sent out on the national "PM Magazine" network.

Terre moved to New York after a stint as the co-host of "PM Magazine" on WCMH-TV in Columbus. Her television career began when she was hired to report the weekend weather on WTVN-TV in Columbus while she was still an Otterbein student.

She cites the "broad base of a liberal arts education" and the positive reinforcement received in small classes at Otterbein as significant in her career development.

"The confidence I gained from a strong liberal arts background has helped a great deal," Terre states. "I think back to Dr. (John) Coulter's English class, for instance. I realize now that it was very important to me."

She also cites the experience of working with Professor Gary Tirey and the Cardinal Marching Band as feature twirler for four years.

"Twirling on national television and in front of 90,000 people was a great experience," she says.

Terre is one of several who mentioned competition in forensics as beneficial, especially in developing confidence and competitiveness needed to survive in the profession.

Chris Kapostasy '78 moved to television news in June 1981 after working in radio news. She is a special features reporter and weekend news anchor on WNYT-TV in Albany, New York.

"When I first came to Channel 13, several colleagues and competitors alike commented that I looked at ease in front of the camera," Chris says. "I know that is due in large part to my internship."

During her senior year Chris spent a term with Warner Communications' QUBE Cable TV system in Columbus. While not actively involved in front of the camera, she says the general understanding she gained of television and what must take place has served her well.

"Otterbein gave me the opportunity for so many great experiences both inside and outside of broadcasting," she added. "In news particularly, you have to know so much about so many different things. I had such varied writing experiences at Otterbein. I had the chance to participate in the College government, to learn so much about the arts . . . and it has all paid off! I strongly encourage students seeking a broadcasting career to go to a college like Otterbein and get a broad educational background."

Terre Blair '77

John Lane '76

Dominic Tiberi '81

Chris began her broadcasting career as news director of WIPS Radio in Ticonderoga, New York. She later moved to Albany where she served as an anchor person and reporter for WOKO-Radio and WTRY-Radio. Her reporting assignments included the 1980 Winter Olympics at Lake Placid and the 1980 Democratic National Convention in New York City.

One other major factor she cites in her development at Otterbein is that "people tell you that you can do it — they believe in you!"

Dominic Tiberi '81 is one of the most recent Otterbein graduates making his mark in television. He is a sports reporter at WBNS-TV in Columbus. He believes the opportunities he had for "hands-on" experience at Otterbein were key to landing this job. Among his WOBN experiences was serving as sports director and covering the Cardinal basketball team in their record-setting 1980-81 season.

"The internship program is one of the best things Otterbein has going, and I'm living proof!" Dom declares.

He began full-time employment with WBNS-TV in June 1981, immediately after completing a full-time internship with the sports department there.

Dom also stresses the importance of writing as part of total communication training, and he, too, believes Otterbein served him well in that regard.

"You've got to know how to write!" he states. "A key for me was Dr. (William) Hamilton's advanced composition class. He probably can't believe it because of the way I struggled, but now I have more confidence in my abilities to do the job here."

Two other Otterbein graduates now in television news are Mark Savage '71, who works at WZZM-TV in Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Randall Carlisle '71, a reporter for KUTV in Salt Lake City.

Otterbein graduates also work behind the scenes and in technical capacities for television stations. Included among these are Janet Willeke '80, who has done promotion and public relations work for WTVN-TV in Columbus, and Eric Hartzell '81, who is a technician doing floor and camera work for WBNS-TV in Columbus.

Otterbein College provides good preparation for a radio career as well as television, according to John Lane '76, known as "John L." to mid-day listeners of WNCI-FM, a Top 40 format station in Columbus.

"In radio you have to be able to relate to a large variety of people, especially on the air," he says. "Otterbein's liberal arts emphasis gave me the background and experience to make that much easier."

John originally came to Otterbein intending to major in speech and hearing therapy, but he gradually moved toward broadcasting.

"I can't fully recall the reasons for my switch," John says. "It may have been related to an earlier interest I had in being a music major. Radio kept me close to music. I knew that as soon as I became involved with WOBN, I was hooked. And next to the liberal arts education, the first-hand experience WOBN provided me was most important in my education."

John has been the mid-day personality on WNCI for a year. Prior to that he worked the all-night shift for WNCI. Earlier he had held air shifts part-time at WNCI and at WWWJ-FM in Johnstown, Ohio.

Beth Kepple '77, evening disc jockey on album rock station WLVQ-FM in Columbus began with Q-FM (or rather its predecessor WTVN-FM) part-time even before graduation, but didn't get on the air full-time until she had been with the station nearly one and a half years. She is a classic example of working hard at any job available at the station in order to reach a career goal.

"I don't believe I would ever have gotten a job with Q-FM if it hadn't been for my internship," Beth declares. She interned at WTVN-FM during winter term of her senior year. She was doing various types of market research so well that WTVN, Taft Broadcasting Company's AM side, hired her part-time after that to continue research. From there the job evolved to full-time research for both AM and FM, filling in as a secretary and doing a variety of odd jobs — even appearing in costume as the new Q-FM's "Kangaroo" at promotional events.

Finally, Beth's opportunity arrived in September 1978 when she took over the all-night air shift at Q-FM. She held that until September 1980 when she moved to the evening shift (originally 8 p.m. - 1 a.m., but now 6-10 p.m.).

"The experience at WOBN also helped give me confidence that I really could do on-air work in radio," Beth says.

Brett Moorehead '74 has been an account executive for Q-FM since September 1980. Prior to that he worked for two years each at WOOS-FM in Canton, WTON in Staunton, Virginia, and at WFRO in Fremont, Ohio. He began in Fremont doing sports play-by-play and news, then became an account executive in advertising sales. In Staunton he tripled as sports director, an announcer and account executive, then became an account executive in Canton.

He explains the switch to sales as "an interest in going out person-to-person rather than perceiving people anonymously on the air."

"I had and still have a great interest in community affairs, and I believe this side of radio allows me to do more," Brett explains. "I'm also very interested in broadcasting management, and more growth potential into management exists in sales."

A fully-equipped television studio in the Learning Resources Center provides excellent laboratory facilities for Otterbein broadcasting students.

Brett, like many others, cites the numerous jobs performed and positions held at WOBN as very beneficial to his career.

Also part of the Central Ohio radio scene are Otterbein graduates Dave Wagner '81, news director of WRFD and Linda Yohn '73, public service director and former air personality of WBBY-FM. Both Joe Corbett '79 and Pete Tierney '80 are account executives with sister stations WCOL-AM and WXGT-FM. And, on the technical side, Joe Subich is a transmitter engineer with a first class license at WOSU radio.

There are broadcasting graduates having success in radio outside the Columbus market, too.

Becky Grimes '75 is a news reporter for WHIO radio in Dayton and also does some reporting for WHIO-TV. Becky handles police reporting, courts, and various news conferences for WHIO radio, as well as anchoring Sunday newscasts. She is also one of five reporters who do "By-Line," a feature/profile on the 7 p.m. WHIO-TV news.

She has been with WHIO for six years, having begun with them as her first job out of Otterbein.

"My most valuable Otterbein experience was my internship at WRFD radio," Becky says. "You really have to experience much of broadcasting to learn. That's why WOBN and the experience it gives students is very important too."

Dr. James Grissinger checks in at the studios of WOBN-FM, the College's student-run radio station.

This story attempts to feature a representative cross section of Otterbein broadcasting graduates, but does not include all alumni in broadcasting.

Becky also cites her education in general speech communication and forensics as very important in helping her develop confidence for the broadcasting profession.

Brad Haynes '79 is music director, salesman and mid-day air personality for WTNS radio in Coschocton, Ohio. He is also a newly-elected Coschocton city councilman and has been elected president pro tem of the council for 1982.

He says his broadcasting career definitely helped in his election bid. Being on the air live teaches quick thinking, he indicates.

Brad terms his broadcasting preparation at Otterbein excellent.

"You must stay on the air to really improve. WOBN is very helpful in that respect," he says.

He said his exposure to the sales side of broadcasting while on his internship at WMNI was important. He also believes general speech communication courses offered at Otterbein as part of a student's preparation are helpful.

Other Otterbein alumni in radio positions around Ohio include M. Gregg Campbell '68, staff announcer for WVNO in Mansfield, and Robert Derringer '59, an announcer for WEEC radio in Springfield. Campbell's career has also included news positions with WIMA in Lima and WRFD and WNCI in Columbus.

Otterbein alumni also work in positions closely associated with broadcasting, even if not directly employed by radio and television stations. Among this group are William Drenten '51, director of broadcast journalism education at Ohio State University, and Mark Snider '77, who recently became studio manager for The Media Group, an advertising production house in Columbus. Mark is responsible for all audio recording work at the agency. He began his sound recording career with Musicol Recording Studios in Columbus.

Deedra Bebout '66 edits and publishes a small newsletter called The Underground Broadcaster, which depends on its readers for contributions to the content. Deedra, who lives in Burbank, California, also does free-lance writing.

Her career since Otterbein has included serving as a radio disc jockey, doing sound effects and audio for the CBS Network in Los Angeles, and serving as assistant film editor for the feature film, Head Over Heels.

Outstanding Alumni

"Outstanding Alumni" is a new series of articles profiling Otterbein graduates who have achieved prominence and success in their fields of endeavor. Through these articles, alumni and friends of the College will become better acquainted with the diverse accomplishments of Otterbein alumni.

Perry F. Wysong, Business Analyst

He's been called the "dean of insider analysts."

For 20 years, Perry F. Wysong '39 has been researching and reporting on the buying and selling activities of company insiders — the officers, directors and major stockholders of companies. Today Mr. Wysong's organization, Consensus of Insiders, Inc., publishes his findings in a weekly market advisory letter to more than 1,000 subscribers around the world.

Born and raised on a farm near Brookville, Ohio, in Montgomery County, Mr. Wysong was graduated from Brookville High School. During his years at Otterbein, he was an active member of Zeta Phi fraternity, Varsity "O" Club, Student Council, International Relations Club, the baseball team, and on the staff of the Tan and Cardinal. He was also editor of the 1938 Sibyl and a football team manager.

Mr. Wysong majored in economics and was graduated cum laude with an A.B. degree in 1939. He then went on to graduate studies in statistics and economics at The Ohio State University.

Following World War II service in the U.S. Navy, Mr. Wysong moved to Fort Lauderdale and began working as the secretary-treasurer of a small life insurance company. It was during his years with this company that Mr. Wysong noted its record of poor investments and undertook an in-depth study of insider trading in order to strengthen the company's stock portfolio.

After leaving the company to pursue a full-time study of the stock market, he founded Consensus of Insiders, a research and investment advisory service, in 1962.

Relying on a highly specific approach for the service, Mr. Wysong uses a federal report, called Official Securities Transactions, to track the buying and selling activities of company insiders. His theory is based on counting the buyers and sellers rather than the number of shares traded. In his newsletter, begun in 1964, Mr. Wysong lists the insider moves of 20 companies and recommends the buying and selling of stock based on these moves.

Through the years, Mr. Wysong's insider theory has shown a sound track record and has been found to be a relatively reliable predictor of market trends. Fortune magazine studied Mr. Wysong's approach and results and reported favorably on them in the December 1967 issue. Since that time, other national publications, including Newsweek, Medical Economics, Money, Savvy, The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, and The Christian Science Monitor, have continued to write about Mr. Wysong's work.

Mr. Wysong's techniques have also been studied at major universities, such as the University of Chicago, Portland State College and The Ohio State University. He has also assisted these institutions in developing computerized research on the stock market. In 1971, Mr. Wysong published a book entitled, How You Can Use the Wall Street Insiders. The book explained his investment theory and detailed some stock market history. In three printings, 25,000 copies of the book were distributed.

Mr. Wysong expanded the services of Consensus of Insiders to include pension funds management in 1974. At that time, Larry Unterbrink joined the organization to direct this new program. Wysong and Unterbrink utilize insider information in the management of the fund program.

In 1978, Mr. Wysong received the Special Achievement Award from Otterbein College. He was honored for his accomplishments in research and financial advising and for his efforts in recruiting students and raising funds in the college's financial campaigns.

Mr. Wysong is listed in Who's Who in the South and Southwest. He has been an active member of the Lions Club for 34 years.

Recently, the 63-year-old Wysong has started a new monthly newsletter dealing with stocks in the medical technology field entitled The Insider's Guide to Medical Technology Stocks. He is concentrating particularly on those stocks related to genetics.

Mr. Wysong's many accomplishments attest to the success that comes from following his company's slogan, "You can't know what they know; but you can do what they do!!!"

Otterbein College 1981 Honor Roll of Contributors

Fund Raising Report 1981

1981 proved to be a year in which Otterbein alumni, parents, and friends responded enthusiastically and generously to the needs of the College. The response resulted in outstanding giving totals, second only to 1978 when the Decision for the Arts Campaign was kicked off.

Gifts to the endowment totaled more than $450,000, payment on D.F.A. pledges exceeded $300,000 with more than 90 percent of the pledges now completed, and restricted and unrestricted gifts to meet current operating expenses surpassed one-half million dollars.

The Otterbein Fund, the annual campaign that is the foundation of the development program, realized unprecedented growth and support. This fund, which makes up the critical difference between tuition and the real cost of an Otterbein education, helps to provide scholarships, library books and materials, laboratory and classroom supplies and equipment, continued faculty development and other vital needs for the basic operation of the College.

The Otterbein Fund experienced tremendous growth primarily through the efforts of many volunteers. Class agents generated large numbers of gifts to the Otterbein Fund through their appeals to classmates. Callers in the spring and fall phonathons reached a record number of alumni, parents and friends. The fall phonathon broke all previous records as 1,473 individuals pledged $67,296.

Achievements during 1981 include:

- 4,355 individuals made gifts to Otterbein.
- The President's Club grew 11 percent to a record 109 members.
- The Towers Club grew 27 percent to 57 members.
- The Centurion Club grew 9 percent to a record 740 members.
- $419,851 was given in unrestricted cash and securities, setting a new record for the annual Otterbein Fund.
- Total giving exceeded $1.46 million, making 1981 the second best year in Otterbein's fund raising history and the best year outside of a capital campaign.

Dear Donor,

I report to you with pride and excitement. Giving in November and December broke all previous records and 1981 became the best non-campaign development year in Otterbein history. The College received $1,461,428, exceeded only by the $1,586,994 raised in 1978 during the Decision for the Arts campaign. Alumni support, at a new high, accounted for nearly half. Significantly, we sustained the doubling of donors to over 4,000 that occurred in 1980. During 1981, 687 parents and friends, 161 businesses, foundations and organizations and the United Methodist Church joined 3,506 alumni to produce the banner year.

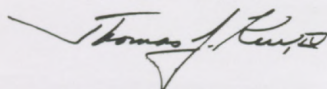

Thank you for making it happen. We have had superb leadership from Vice President Frank Fite and the entire development staff and important help from trustees, alumni and other volunteers. I know you have responded with a gift not only to our requests, but also to the high quality of the Otterbein educational experience and the meaning it has to students. Support of the development program keeps us responsive to educational change and student needs.

These are trying times with inflation, recession and reduction in federal financial assistance to students. Yet I know we can meet those and other challenges. I base my confidence on your proven commitment. It is inspirational.

Looking to 1982, Otterbein trustees have already come forward with a $100,000 challenge gift to the Otterbein Fund. Every trustee has agreed to contribute. The trustees will match each new gift to the fund and each increase from a 1981 donor up to the $100,000 total. I salute their leadership response. I ask you to increase your support in 1982.

Otterbein has a glorious giving tradition. Thanks for making it a growing one.

Appreciatively,

Thomas J. Kerr, IV
President

Endowed Scholarships

Otterbein College encourages the establishment and building of endowed scholarships. To be awarded by name and be included in the Otterbein College Scholarship Program, an endowed scholarship must have a principal sum of $10,000 or a commitment must be made to reach the $10,000 principal figure in three to five years or by bequest.

Each year a special recognition luncheon is held for endowed scholarship donors, student recipients, and the recipients' parents.

The following scholarships have reached the $10,000 level of principal during 1981.

Bolin-Tryon Scholarship
Howard R. Brentlinger Scholarship
Richer Brothers Scholarship

The following scholarships have had commitments made to achieve the $10,000 principal sum.

Walter G. Clippinger Scholarship by the Class of 1931
Margaret B. Gill Scholarship
Ressler Family Scholarship
Steck Family Scholarship
C. R. Turner Family Scholarship
Sylvia Warren Turner Scholarship
Yantis Scholarship

Persons wishing to receive more information on scholarship opportunities at Otterbein or desiring a comprehensive list of major endowed scholarships should contact the Office of Development.

Pre-Conference Success Brightens Basketball Outlook

If the Ohio Conference portion of Otterbein's basketball schedule follows the trend of the December pre-conference competition, the Cardinals are in for a very successful season.

Although basketball in the Ohio Athletic Conference can be unpredictable, Otterbein was declared a pre-season favorite to battle for top honors. That confident feeling was reinforced during Otterbein's southern trip when it bumped off NCAA Division II defending champion Florida Southern in two overtimes, won the Berea (Kentucky) Tournament and beat Eckerd in St. Petersburg, Florida.

The Cards' three losses came at the hands of Division II Rollins 95-86, Division I Ball State (Mid-American Conference winners in 1981) 90-80, and a heart-stopper at Division II power Wright State 86-83.

Going into the OAC schedule, Otterbein claimed a No. 4 national ranking in the NCAA polls, averaging 89 points (second in NCAA). Junior guard Ron Stewart was leading Division III scorers with 28 points per game. Given that pace, Stewart should be a repeat for All-America honors and the OAC individual scoring title.

There's enough firepower on Otterbein's offense to make double-teaming Stewart impractical. Senior guard Dino Guanciale is second in scoring with a 17.5 average and has hit several games in the 20s this season. Guanciale poured in 43 points in the two-game Berea tourney to win selection to the All-Tournament team.

At 6'3", senior John Denen has to be one of the smallest centers at any school in any league. Hustle and aggressiveness have made up for missing inches as Denen has averaged 14.3 points and 7.7 rebounds per game, always against taller opponents. Denen was named Most Valuable Player at Berea, where he scored 41 points and had 22 rebounds in two games.

Otterbein claimed its first "O" Club Classic basketball title in the second annual event as the Cardinals downed Ohio Dominican and Depauw. Celebrating after the trophy presentation are John Denen (left) and Brad Keiser and their Card teammates. (Photo by Harold D. Paddock III)

Forward Steve Johnston and guard Jeff Kessler should not be overlooked. Johnston contributes over 11 points per game and scored 17 both nights of the "O" Club Classic to make the All-Tourney team. Kessler has done a superb job of running the offense from point guard, unselfishly passing the ball and pushing his assist average to almost seven per game.

Tenth year coach Dick Reynolds '65 is confident that his players are among the best and most coachable in Division III. If all goes well Otterbein may again be on the NCAA tournament trail in March.

Miller Sees Strengths In Veteran Trackmen

What could be better than a second-place finish in the powerful Ohio Athletic Conference? The obvious answer, of course, is to win the OAC outdoor track championship — a feat never accomplished by an Otterbein squad. In fact, last season's runner-up finish was the highest ever by an Otterbein team in the OAC track championships.

But winning is only a part of the philosophy of sixth-year coach Porter Miller '65, who has compiled an impressive 64-9 outdoor dual meet record. "Our program is geared toward togetherness and fun," Miller says. "We've been fortunate that not only have we had fun at what we're doing but we have been very successful in the conference.

"Our goal," says the 1965 Otterbein graduate, "is to see that each individual reaches his full potential as an athlete and as a team member, and if we can win along the way, that's fine." Miller has coached 13 All Americas and numerous conference champions. He feels the excellent indoor and outdoor facilities (the all-weather 400 meter outdoor track is among the finest in the state) and the trip to Florida over spring break are added incentives for the athletes.

The outlook for the 1982 season is promising. The Cards return two conference champions — senior Hal Hopkins (Cincinnati Colerain) in the steeplechase and junior Mark Burns (Youngsville, Pa.), the 1500 meter champ. Miller looks for those two to have excellent chances for repeating. Hopkins, the conference record-holder in the steeplechase, finished ninth in the nation last year in that event. Burns took 29th at the Division III International cross country championships in the fall of 1981.

The Cards will need help from other athletes as well if they are to make a run at perennial conference champ Baldwin-Wallace. Senior Jeff Baugh (Gahanna Lincoln) fourth in the conference in the discus a year ago, will be vying for the top spot. Baugh missed qualifying for the nationals by a few inches last season. Senior shot put specialist Jim Puckett (Westerville) is hoping to regain the form which made him the 1979 indoor champion.

Another conference contender is senior hurdler and co-captain Steve Farkas (Uniontown). Farkas is the top returnee in the high hurdles and is coming off a second-place finish in 1981. The other co-captain is senior Jeff Kneice (Columbus Northland). Kneice is no stranger to conference titles. As a junior the school record-holder in the 5000 meter run led Otterbein to its first OAC cross country title with his first-place finish.

The Cards should show strength in the distance events this season. Four varsity members of the championship cross country team — Kneice, Hopkins, Burns and senior Rob Rose (Youngsville, Pa.) — are running track. Rose was second in the 5000 as a sophomore, but missed all of last track season with a knee injury. His 10th place in the 1981 OAC cross country championships indicates he is ready for a successful senior season.

In addition to Puckett and Baugh, the weight events look strong. Sophomore Jon Divine (Columbus Northland) and Steve Conley (Richwood) have scored in the conference. Miller also looks for improved performances in the 400 meter relay, pole vault, long jump and 800 meter run, to name a few events.

"We've probably a better team overall than last season," Miller says. "However, we are lacking in some events where we have been the strongest in the past — the sprints." All 13 Otterbein All-Americans have been in events from 400 meters down. Miller is not about to dwell on that, though. With an upbeat attitude which he hopes to transmit to his team, he looks for the 1982 as being another successful — and fun — season.

Men's Tennis Team Rebuilding; Freshmen, Transfers Add Talent

A mix of young and experienced players will combine to rebuild Otterbein's men's tennis program after a disappointing year in 1981.

Although last year's team finished last in the Ohio Conference standings, the 1982 version of coach Phil Mauro's Cardinals has been working hard since January to prepare for the season.

"One of the biggest things that's going to help us is our winter training program. I don't know if the team ever had a winter program here before," said Mauro, who is heading into his second year at the helm of the Cardinals.

Several new faces will be on the courts this year for Otterbein, including Dondi Pangalangan, a freshman from Columbus DeSales High School. Pangalangan and his brother advanced to the state semi-finals in the A-AA category last year.

Other top freshmen include Scott Cavanagh from Ashtabula and John Tomoski out of Springfield Central Catholic.

Transfers Tim Baldwin from Ohio University and Bob Phillips from Bowling Green will provide good strength in doubles, according to Mauro.

"Although we do have a lot of freshmen, I see the returning players doing the bulk of the play. They will also provide the leadership," Mauro said.

Returning from last year's team will be junior Greg Ocke, who is the top returner in Mauro's eyes, and junior Mark Holm. Both worked hard in off-season to build up strength, he added.

Other returning lettermen are seniors Dave Fox and Jeff Jones and junior Joe Shoopman.

Women's Tennis Team on Upswing

Women's tennis has been on the upswing the past few years at Otterbein and the 1981 team should continue the tradition. Coach JoAnn Tyler has several veterans back from the 6-2 1981 team, which had the best dual-meet finish in the school's history and placed third in the state meet. Junior Michelle Fox is the probable starter at No. 1 singles after a 7-5 record last year. Senior Lynn Ballinger finished at 8-4 in the second singles slot, while third singles Lori O'Brien, also a senior, was 9-4 in the season and 3-1 in the state tournament. Fox and Ballinger (10-2 in 1981) should again be leading Otterbein's doubles teams from the first slot. All three players made the All-State college team. Others returning include juniors Mary Kindinger and Kellie Thacker.

Baseball Team Expected Conference Contender

Despite losing four starting players, baseball coach Dick Fishbaugh feels his Cardinal diamondmen will make a serious run at the OAC title if Otterbein can show a solid defense.

"Pitching has improved over the last few years, but we lost a number of players. We lack depth," the 15-year coach said.

The bulk of pitching responsibility will be placed on veterans Don Atwell and Jeff Harper, a junior and senior who won seven games apiece on the 1981 (27-22) squad which went to the NCAA west regional. Fishbaugh may rely on junior Jeff Henderson and converted infielder Dave Nespeca, a senior, for the remaining rotation while he tests some young freshman arms.

Offensively, the Cardinals will miss team MVP Jon Grundtisch, who hit a team high of .352 last year, but Co-captain Don Good, a center fielder, and All-OAC shortstop Lee Cooperrider, who both batted .320 or more most of the season, along with .301 hitting left fielder Jim Hoyle and .304 hitter Dave Nespeca should again show their offensive strengths.

Track Women Face Hurdles

First year women's track and field coach Linda Murff fielded a "young and inexperienced team" during the winter indoor season, but she hopes to improve the team's stature and numbers for the coming spring outdoor season.

Two veterans return to the Otterbein squad in addition to four freshman who ran indoor track. Sophomore Karen Kirsop was a Cardinal mainstay in distance events in 1981 and should again be the nucleus for the longer events this year. The Bay Village athlete also contributes in discus and shot put events.

Junior Laurie Griley is a key person for sprints, hurdles and the long jump. The Coschocton native took top spot several times last year in those events and ran a leg on a few relays.

An avid runner and softball player, Coach Murff earned a B.S. in physical education from West Virginia University and is completing graduate studies through WVU. While at WVU Linda was an assistant women's track coach and worked with the WVU scholarship fund. At Otterbein she is working in the College development office.

Fishbaugh can also count on offensive punch from several players hitting over .250, including second baseman Bret Brownfield, third baseman Mike Blyth, and infielder Steve Mazer.

With three-fourths of the infield returning, Fishbaugh foresees very little tampering with that unit. "Nespeca, Cooperrider and Brownfield should play very well since all have experience playing as a unit," he says. Candidates to replace graduated first baseman Doug Barr include sophomores Jeff Fruhwirth and Dave Whitehead.

Softball Team Has Experience

Lack of experience doesn't seem to be a worry to Coach Amy Riddle when she looks down the roster of her 1982 Otterbein softball team.

Twelve of 14 players from last year's team, which finished 13-9 in Riddle's rookie year at the helm, return to form a solid nucleus.

Lost to the team through graduation was Barb Connelly, a starting center fielder for the Cardinals. In addition, Bea Hutson, who started as a freshman last season in left center field, may not return to school until this spring.

"Our goal this year will probably be to improve on last year's record as much as we can. I was very happy with that record; we turned it around last year," Riddle noted.

Senior Mindy Gossett will return to the mound this spring as Otterbein's starting pitcher. Gossett pitched every inning in every game last season and boasts a .400 plus batting average.

Added offensive punch will be provided by junior right center fielder Carolyn Barnhill, the team's leading RBI producer and also a .400 hitter.

Areas needing improvement, according to Riddle, are left field and left center where replacements have not yet been found for Connelly and Hutson.

The Cardinals open the season in Springfield with a double-header against Wittenberg on April 1.

Dolder Is All-America

Offensive guard Tom Dolder was named second team All-America by the Associated Press for college division football players. The senior co-captain was earlier named All-Ohio Conference and received the Gregory Award as the league's most outstanding lineman.

In final NCAA Division III statistics, Otterbein was eighth in rushing with 258.2 yards per game. Senior safety Joe Krumpak (All-OAC) was third nationally in interceptions with 10 in nine games.

Senior Mindy Gossett has shown her athletic talents in many forms at Otterbein by playing volleyball, basketball and softball. The physical education major pitched every inning of the 1981 season and should be the starting pitcher this spring.

Notes from Howard House

by Eileen Thome
Director of Alumni Relations

December was a very active month for members of the Howard House staff.

Choir Concert at Otterbein Home

On December 4, Betty Recob, Fran Schreiber, Carol Define and I drove to the Otterbein Home in Lebanon for a concert given by the Otterbein College Concert Choir. After lunch with Virginia Phillippi Longmire '55, admissions director of the home and national president of the Otterbein College Alumni Association, a short meeting was held for over 40 Otterbein alumni and their spouses in the Phillippi Meeting Room. The highlight of the meeting was the first showing of the College's new slide show, in which some of the scenes of athletic teams from past years were particularly well received. Present were three former faculty members: Keith Crane H'71 and his wife Mildred H'71, Dr. Gilbert Mills '20, and Dr. Robert Price H'60. After the meeting, I was able to speak briefly with Mary Brewbaker Howe '24, widow of John Ruskin Howe, president of Otterbein College from 1939 to 1945.

The concert was extremely timely as it coincided with the annual "hanging of the greens" at Otterbein Home. Not only was there a full house in the chapel but also many of the health center residents were able to see and hear it on closed circuit TV. The tears in the eyes of some of the alumni during the singing of the "Otterbein Love Song" deeply moved the students who performed and it was quite an emotional moment for all. Following the concert, I spoke briefly with Alice Davison Troop '23 and discussed the new trees planted on campus in memory of her husband, Judge Horace Troop '23. It was also a pleasure to meet Dr. Louis Norris '28, former president of Albion College, and his wife Florence. I enjoyed reminiscing with Lucille DeBolt Crabbs '31, a former secretary in the alumni office.

Before starting for home, we had the pleasure of visiting with Wade H'55 and Helen Leichty Miller '33 in their new home on Wren Court. Wade, former vice president of development and public relations at Otterbein College, was instrumental in organizing the alumni meeting before the concert. I am grateful to him for all his help.

Many Alumni Visited in Florida

Vice President Frank Fite and Director of Development Don Hines spent eight days in sunny (but unusually cool) Florida December 3-11. They managed to host three receptions and a luncheon, help the Cardinal basketball team win two of three games against strong Florida competitors, and visit with many, many more alumni and friends.

The formal activities of the trip were kicked off Sunday, December 6, with an "All-You-Can-Eat" brunch at Zinn's Restaurant in Sarasota. Don and Frank were joined by John Cavendish '79, Carlton Gee '29 and his wife Mary Alice, John Lehman '27 and his wife Amelia, Harold '43 and Grace Erickson Lindquist '44, Charles Mumma '29 and his wife Sue, Don '26 and Dortha Bishop Phillips '29, and Woodrow Purdy '35 and his wife Dorothy.

It was the second annual get-together at Zinn's, an event everyone present agreed should be repeated again with ever greater attendance! Plan on it for December 1982!

On Monday, December 7, a luncheon with six Leesburg and Eustis area folks proved most enjoyable. Frank and Don were joined this time by Frances Kennedy Davidson '26, W. Dean '34 and Helen Ludwick Lawther '36, Lois Bickel Roberts '25 and her friend Lola McIntosh (a 1929 graduate of Oberlin), and Faith Baker Stoughton '29.

The Langford Resort Hotel in Winter Park was the site of a pre-game reception and dinner the same evening. Twenty-two joined Frank and Don to enjoy a chicken Kiev dinner and to be brought up to date on what's happening at Otterbein. Attending were College Trustee Robert (Moe) Agler '48, College friends Karl and Marilyn Green, Keith '73 and Ruth Ruggles Malick '75, Gerould Maurer '54, Dorothy McLeod Novotny '60, College Trustee Edwin (Dubbs) '47 and Mary Harold Roush '45, Oren McClain '47, Richard '64 and Cheryl Brooks Russo '67, Steve '65 and Susan Gereson Stiles '67, and Cardinal Athletic Director E. W. (Bud) Yost '53.

The six Otterbein cheerleaders — Michelle Burns '83, Cammie Compton '82, Valerie DeVore '84, Stephanie Jeffries '83, Denise Musselman '84, Sonya Spangler '84 — also were present for the reception and dinner festivities. Basketball coach Dick Reynolds '65 and athletic trainer Paul Miller joined the group for the reception.

The group later saw the Cardinals absorb their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Rollins Tars (an NCAA Division II team), but delighted in the scoring exhibition of Cardinal All-America guard Ron Stewart '83, who led all scorers with 41 points.

On the following evening Otterbein basketball fortunes changed, however, as the Cardinals dumped NCAA Division II defending national champion Florida Southern 97-96 in double overtime. Coach Reynolds termed the win "one of the greatest in Otterbein basketball history" especially the way the Cardinals kept coming back against the much taller Moccasins despite four players having fouled out by game's end.

A good contingent of Otterbein fans was on hand to cheer the Cardinals, including Florida alumni Charles Coffman '60, Lt. Col. Duane Hopkins '56 and C. Wayne Wallace '51.

Thirty-eight gathered for a reception and light supper before the basketball game with the strong Eckerd College Tritons in St. Petersburg on Thursday, December 10. The group included Lloyd Abbott '22 and his wife Aline, Margie Abbott Denham '52 and her husband Robbins, Dan and Patti Guanciale and daughter Tina (parents and sister of Cardinal basketball player Dino Guanciale '82), Dr. Granville S. '40 and Jean Cook Hammond '40, Beverly Thompson Kelly '52, Harold and Grace Lindquist (with us a second time, having joined us in Sarasota on Sunday), Ed Newton '40 and his wife Dorothy, Marcus M. '27 and Ruth Hursh Schear '27, Donna Sniff Sitton '55 and her husband Gene, Alice Schear Spohr '32 and her husband Charles, Lottie Faye Mendenhall Starr '24, Mr. & Mrs. Keith Weaver (parents of Cardinal basketball player Carl Weaver '82), Otterbein math professor Dick Yantis and his wife Jane (president of the Westerville Otterbein Women's Club), along with former Westerville City Manager Ross Windom, and Jim '51 and Lois Abbott Yost '52.

This group and more Otterbein supporters saw the Cardinals cap their Florida trip with a 69-66 victory over Eckerd.

In addition to the many people visited in the receptions and dinners, Frank and Don had delightful visits with several other alumni in their homes. Included in this group were Dora Love Weaver Moyer '06 and her daughter Virginia Jenkins. Mrs. Moyer is the holder of the Alumni Association's Otterbein Cane. They also had the opportunity to visit with Mrs. LaVaughn Leatherman Johnson '22 in Orlando and Helen Gibson Van Curen '27 in Holmes Beach. They spoke with many more alumni and friends by phone while in Florida.

Both agreed the trip was a great one, not so much because the basketball Cardinals did so well, but because of the tremendously warm greeting received from loyal members of the Otterbein family who call Florida home.

Warmth and cordiality were demonstrated in so many ways, but especially through the generosity of Gene and Donna Sitton. Again this year, they provided housing accommodations for the team, staff, cheerleaders and development officials.

We sincerely thank both of them.

Band Entertains at Bengals Game

On Sunday, December 6, over 60 alumni and parents enjoyed the food and the view from the Cuvier Press Club in Cincinnati before walking to Riverfront Stadium to see the Otterbein

Cardinal Marching Band entertain at the Bengals-'49ers game.

Many areas of the state were represented — Columbus and Dayton as well as Cincinnati. Among the alumni traveling from Dayton were Bob Barr '50 and Ray Bell '51, Harold '41 and Grace Burdge Augspurger '39, who met their daughter Jayne '74 and her husband John McKewen of Columbus. Attending from the host city were alumni Al and Bobbie Armstrong Wrasman '48, and Michael Leadbetter '69 and his wife Debbie. Otterbein College was represented by President Thomas J. Kerr, IV H'71 and his wife Donna H'71, as well as members of the Howard House staff, Jim Scarfpin, associate director of development, and Mike Belek, assistant director of public relations for sports information.

I shared brunch with Tim and Sharon Croxton whose daughter Elizabeth is the Otterbein mascot. They brought along guests, Reggie and Janet Hall, from the Columbus area. Seated immediately next to me during the game were Ralph '56 and Ann Brentlinger Bragg '56 and their son John who drove from Toledo. Their other son Jim, who marched with the band, joined us late in the game.

Over 225 band supporters (not to mention 50,000 Bengals fans) saw the Cardinal Marching Band give an outstanding performance. All in all, it was a great day for Otterbein.

Christmas Concert

The Christmas decorations at Nationwide Plaza provided an appropriate setting for the music as the Otterbein College Concert Choir, directed by Lynn Hurstad, and Opus Zero, directed by Craig Johnson, concluded their winter tour with a concert at Dean Jeffers Auditorium on December 8.

A large number of the 300 guests remained after the concert for a reception hosted by President and Mrs. Kerr.

Memories of alumni day were discussed with Betty White Oyler '27. I promised her we would try to come up with some "creative" entertainment again this year. I also enjoyed sharing memories of Toledo, my home for many years, with Bob Knight '28 and his wife Gertrude.

Muncie Gathering

A small gathering before the Otterbein vs. Ball State basketball game on Wednesday, December 16, in Muncie, Indiana, was greeted by Don Hines, and Mike Belek. Randall '40 and Kay Ward Campbell '40; Dr. Carl E. Warnes '70 and his wife Sarah; and Otterbein junior Mark Holm along with his sister Kristen and a friend Dean Hvidston were on hand to enjoy a baked lasagna dinner, see the new slide show and have a time of fellowship.

Even though Otterbein's Cardinals lost to the Ball State Cardinals, defending Mid-American Conference champions, it was an enjoyable evening. Don and Mike found that both of the Campbells are teaching — Kay in Muncie and Randall in nearby Parker — and that Carl is a biology professor at Ball State.

Theatre Alumni in Big Apple

On December 19, Dr. Charles Dodrill H'79, director of Otterbein College Theatre, met with theatre alumni in New York City at the apartment of Marcus Smythe '72. Eighteen New York alumni were in attendance as well as his wife Petie and their daughter Tracy. Keith Malick '73, designer at Rollins College in Florida, was also in New York and was delighted to be able to visit with his old classmates.

Chuck is pleased to report on the activities of some of the theatre alumni. Michael Hartman '70 has had another good year, including several national commercials. Dee Hoty '74 is currently playing Mrs. Barnum, the female lead in the national touring company of "Barnum." Marcus Smythe, currently appearing as a principal in "Search for Tomorrow" and "Summer Solstice" on TV, is doing extremely well. Richard Miller '74 has just completed two guest shots on "The Tony Randall Show" on TV. David Robinson '78 continues to do enormously well as a free-lance professional costume designer with several major productions in the works. He is also considering going to Yale for graduate study. Gian Morelli '76 is working on a master's degree in theatre management at Brooklyn College and doing a two-year internship with the Foundation for the Extension and Development of the American Professional Theatre.

I find the progress of these graduates very exciting. We wish them every success and happiness.

Large Group Enjoys Dinner and Game

On the same evening, December 19, more than 70 people attended a buffet dinner in the Faculty Dining Room at Wright State before the Wright State-Otterbein basketball game.

Coach Dick Reynolds stopped by before the game and brought us up to date on the team's progress. He emphasized the academic achievements of the team as well as their obvious athletic ability.

We were honored to have both institutions represented by their presidents — Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kegerreis from Wright State and Dr. and Mrs. Kerr. Dr. Kegerreis is an Otterbein College trustee. Other members of the development staff attending from Otterbein were Frank Fite, Don Hines, and Jim Scarfpin.

I finally met Dick '49 and Carolyn Boda Bridgman '50 and John '49 and Joan Hopkins Albrecht '50. I am glad to see they managed to get together with Bert Horn '49 treasurer of Otterbein College and his wife, the former Jane Morrison '50. I am still wondering what became of the Schaefer's.

I am glad to see that Karl '48 and Ann Hovernale Farnlacher '45 were able to join us after missing out on the brunch in Cincinnati. Also attending that evening were the current president of the alumni association, Virginia Longmire and her husband Howard '55 and the president-elect, Grace Augspurger and her husband Harold. I met Robert Corbin '49, who was attending with his wife Ede Peters Corbin '49, briefly before dinner. Bob is now state representative for the 38th District.

During dinner Mike '68 and Penny Smyth Comer '68 told me of their efforts to help recruit talented student-athletes for Otterbein.

After a warm-up by the cheerleaders, all in attendance went to the game where Otterbein had a very vocal and supportive cheering section. Although Wright State is a strong Division II team with a definite height advantage, Otterbein was never out of the game, even though they lost 89-86.

After the game Bob '50 and Barbara Schutz Barr '51, Ken '50 and Marie Shively, and my husband Dick and I attended a party given by the Wright State Alumni Association. I'm sorry more of you were not able to attend — they were very hospitable.

A special thank you to Bob Barr who helped to organize and plan the evening and who served as master of ceremonies. It was a most enjoyable evening.

While at Otterbein, Deedra worked mostly in theatre, but did a bit of radio work in the classroom and with WOBN.

Dr. Grissinger says he receives almost daily confirmation of what Otterbein's alumni are saying about the College's broadcasting training.

"Professional broadcasters tell us they want bright, creative, highly motivated, and widely educated young people," Dr. Grissinger says. "The number of technical courses offered is not an advantage or disadvantage. Much technical training occurs on the job anyway. They say the key is our liberal arts structure."

Dr. Grissinger points to two other major advantages at Otterbein: the often cited internship program which frequently leads to the first job and the College's lab facilities in WOBN and Cable Channel 6, the Westerville cable system's local access channel, which is located in Otterbein's Learning Resources Center.

"We are marvelous steps ahead of many large university programs which can't give all of their students hands-on experience," Dr. Grissinger declares. "We find more and more students attracted to Otterbein because of this advantage."

Dr. Grissinger has seen several major changes in the broadcasting program during his 32 years with the College, including growth in numbers of broadcasting majors (there are 70 this year), the switch of WOBN from carrier current through the dorms to a full-fledged FM status (in 1958), the use of adjunct faculty (part-time instructors who are full-time broadcast professionals), and the growth of cable television as a career opportunity.

Broadcasting students now have the opportunity to produce and present, via cable, programming to the Westerville community. So far they have produced such programs as Otterbein commencement, tape delayed coverage of Otterbein athletic events, Westerville parades, and meet-the-candidate programs during local elections.

As for the future, Dr. Grissinger sees television on the whole, and cable television in particular, as drawing more and more Otterbein students into careers.

And he sees the Otterbein educational experience continuing to produce top professionals to step into broadcasting careers!

David Rike, College Benefactor, Dies

David L. Rike, a long-time benefactor of Otterbein College, died January 16 in Dayton at the age of 77.

A Dayton civic leader and the former president of Rike's Department Stores, he was the son of Frederick H. Rike, an 1888 Otterbein graduate and trustee of the college for forty years. Frederick Rike served as chairman of the Otterbein Board of Trustees from 1904-1911.

Mr. Rike's grandfather, David L. Rike, was also a college trustee and served as chairman of the Board of Trustees from 1893 to 1896. His aunt, Susanne Rike MacDonald, an 1890 Otterbein graduate, served on the college's faculty in 1894.

A graduate of Princeton University and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, Mr. Rike received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Otterbein in 1965. He was a member of Otterbein's Lifetime President's Club.

With the dedication in 1975 of the new Rike Physical Education Center on the Otterbein campus, the Rike family's name became permanently associated with the college in recognition of the family's generous support over the years.

After his retirement in 1979, Mr. Rike devoted himself to directing the Rike Family Foundation and to numerous community and educational activities, including the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, the Dayton Art Institute, the Dayton Museum of Natural History and the Dayton Council on World Affairs.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret; two daughters, Helen Noble of New Haven, Conn., and Suzanne Bowers of Houston, Texas, and five grandchildren.

Ruth Trevorow Shafer passed away October 1, 1981. Mrs. Shafer was the first woman elected as a church-related Otterbein College trustee from the West Virginia Conference. She served on the Board of Trustees from 1959 to 1965.

A 1928 graduate of Otterbein College, Mrs. Shafer was a former junior high school teacher of home economics. She was a member of the American Association of University Women, the Home Economics Association and the Retired Teachers Association. She taught Sunday School at St. Luke's United Methodist Church in St. Albans, West Virginia.

Survivors include her husband Bane, daughter CAROLYN SHAFER '57, son Philip, three grandsons, and two sisters, MARION HOUSTON '37 and Dorothy Littlewood.

Letter From Alumni Association President

Dear Alumni:

The New Year is well underway and as we "ring in the new," I fondly recall the Tower bell and what it typified for me as a student . . . the hour to meet a special person for breakfast, time to change classes, repeated tolling for victorious sports events!

The reverberations of the Tower bell traveled far . . . a unique sound striking a different response for each one who heard it. So it is with us alumni. We can echo the significance of Otterbein through many, many years with our continued support through gifts, volunteer service, and student recruitment.

How pleased we are to see the fine list of contributors in this issue, and we especially want to recognize the volunteers who assisted this past year with the phonathons, resulting in a very successful campaign. Thanks also to each of you responded to the phonathon!

The Tower bell still rings today and we continue to have opportunities to resound the praises of our alma mater. The Trustee Challenge Gift provides each of us with a meaningful goal in 1982. Our response to this challenge will help Otterbein's program resound through the years, touching the lives of those who mold the future.

I encourage each of you to be supportive of Otterbein in 1982 . . . Then we can "ring out the old" with victorious sounds!

Virginia Longmire

Cardinal Club Formed

The College announces the formation of the Cardinal Club, a new giving club for donors who annually give in the $300 to $499 range. The Cardinal Club is designed to give recognition to those donors who give beyond the Centurion level ($100-299) but are not yet members of the Towers Club.
