JUNIOR ACTORS STAR

"The Young Mrs. Winthrop" Pleases Large Audience.

The large and enthusiastic crowd which heard "The Young Mrs. Winthrop" given by the Junior class Wednesday night was very much pleased with the delightful little drama and the extraordinary work of the well selected caste. The drama itself was somewhat different from anything heretofore presented at Otterbein. The comedy was sparkling but entirely incidental to the heart stirring pathos of the truly dramatic plot. Many commented on the beneficial moral of the play which was practical to conditions of the day.

Caste Is Strong.

Those who participated in the production are to be particularly congratulated upon the careful and pleasing rendition of the various parts. Miss Lydia Nelson as Mrs. Winthrop carried the star role in a manner which demonstrated splendid ability and power of interpretation. She executed the difficult part magnificently. Mr. Roscoe Brane as Mr. Winthrop supported Miss Nelson by highly satisfactory acting which displayed native ability and earnest effort. Miss Brown played the part of the mother of the unhappy couple with a quiet dignity which added much to the enjoyment of the production. Miss Bertha Richards employed her delightfully natural vivacity and versatility in portraying the character of the Mrs. "Bob"—"Dick" Chetwyn. Mr. Camp Foltz and Miss Wilda Dick very quaintly and amusingly demonstrated an earnest lover declaring a blind love to a blind girl in somewhat of a blind fashion. Buxton Scott, the shrewd old lawyer, as ably impersonated by Mr. Elmer Funkhouser, led one to believe that there is some good in a lawyer after all. Mr. Hawley Nelson and Mr. Ray Druhol were very appropriate in their respective parts, the doctor and the footman.

The play as a whole, and the Library Receives New Books.

Some of the new books recently placed on the library display shelves which are of interest may be mentioned as follows:—"Five Great Philosophies of Life" by Hyde, "History of Ethics" by Rogers, "World Literature" by Moulton, "History of Classical Philology" by Peck, "Common Sense in Politics" by Hedges, "India Awakening" by Eddy, "Principles and Methods of Geometrical Optics" by Southall, "Origin of Tragedy" by Ridgeway, "Critical Philosophy of Kant" by Caird, "Natural Drills in Expression" by Phillips, "Essential Steps in Reading and Speaking" by Fox, and "Effective Speaking" by Phillips.

Besides this valuable addition of books, students in French will be especially interested in the Paris Daily, "Le Matin" which now appears on the college reading table. This paper has been secured through the efforts of Prof. Rosselot and will be used by him in his French classes.

work of each individual performer clearly showed very efficient coaching. Mr. Robbins, who acted in the capacity of coach for the Juniors, has again demonstrated to Otterbein people his unquestioned ability in dramatics.

The College Orchestra under the direction of Prof. Gilbert rendered very delightful music both in accompaniment and between acts.

Play is Financial Success.

Mr. C. V. Roop, business manager, and Mr. H. M. Croghan, stage director, put forth every effort to perfect each detail of their work. Mr. Roop is to be congratulated upon the financial success of the proposition. The efforts of Mr. Croghan are particularly commendable on account of the magnificent stage setting and scenery which were important factors in the success of the play.

Show at Dayton.

It is reported that the Juniors will present the drama at Dayton in the near future.

Mrs. Morrison Offers Prize.

Mrs. S. F. Morrison of Chicago, Ill., has offered a prize of five dollars for the best piece of naturalistic china produced in the Art department.

Mrs. Morrison, who is the mother of Miss Lucile Morrison, '10, has been a frequent visitor in Westerville and Otterbein and has a host of friends here. Her gift is indeed much appreciated by the friends of the Art department in particular.

This splendid branch of Otterbein's work is to be commended for the excellent character of its results, which is clearly demonstrated by the numerous prizes, similar to this one, which it receives from time to time.

Chapel Talks.

During the past week two splendid chapel talks were enjoyed by Otterbein students. On Wednesday morning Dr. Russell was present and made an earnest appeal in behalf of the Lincoln Legion Patriots, and on Friday morning Mr. H. W. Worley delivered an enthusiastic missionary talk.

REVIVAL COMING SOON

Students Planning to Aid Rev. S. F. Daugherty in Services.

The coming evangelistic services are assured of at least a degree of success on account of the splendid preparations which are being made for them. These services will be opened next Sunday. Rev. S. F. Daugherty will conduct the meetings with the help of the religious organizations of Otterbein.

The committees which have been appointed by the Young Men's Christian Association for the organization of personal work campaign have met several times to outline the plan of work. A splendid spirit and much enthusiasm characterized these meetings. As a result, each class in the college will organize for definite work. The work is already begun.

The committees which have this matter in charge are as follows:

Y. M. C. A.

M. L. Hartman, Chairman.
J. H. Flora, Senior.
E. N. Funkhouser, Junior.
F. E. Williams, Sophomore.
M. A. Muskopf, Freshman.
E. B. Learish, Preparatory.

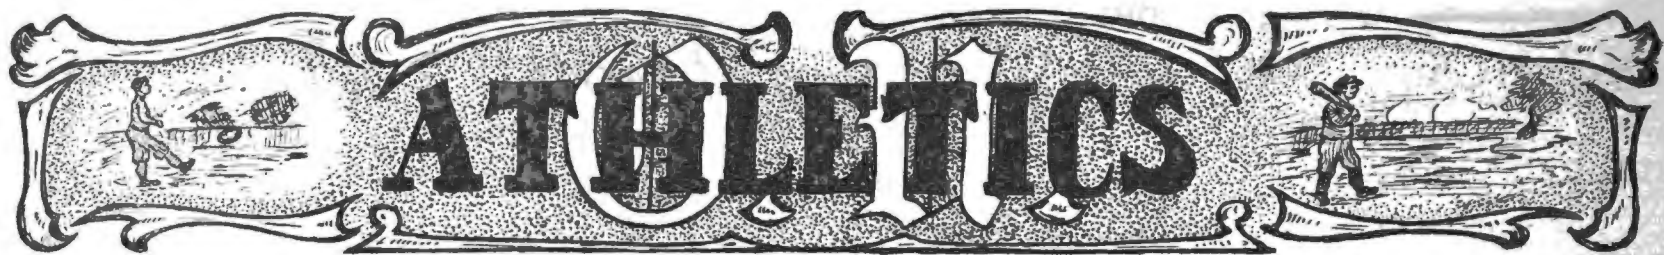

R. E. A.

C. V. Roop, Chairman.
Wm. Huber, Senior.
T. H. Nelson, Junior.
G. H. Hartman, Sophomore.
F. Overholt, Freshman.
J. Brenneman, Preparatory.

Travels of the President.

President Clippinger was at Cedarville college Friday night where he acted as one of the judges of a debate which was held there. From Cedarville he went to Kokomo, Indiana, where he addressed the Men and Religion Forward Movement organization of that city. He is spending today in Indianapolis relative to business interests.

C. V. Roop was called away this morning to the bedside of his sister who was operated upon at 11 a. m. in the Mt. Carmel hospital.

The Otterbein basketball team lost a very close game to Ohio University Thursday night at Athens by a score of 21-24. The game was hotly contested throughout and did not lack in interest in any part. The feature of the game was the unique manner in which Varsity handled the ball, showing no little class in dribbling and passing.

Ohio University fought in the face of defeat from the onset, as Otterbein started out in the lead and maintained the lead up until the last two minutes of play. Varsity hustled the Athens' boys throughout the game and the first half ended by a score of 12 to 9 in favor of Otterbein. During the last half Varsity continued in pressing hard their opponents. The Ohio five, however, kept caging enough to keep the score about even and in the last two minutes of play the fates seemed to favor the opposition. Gibson and Miller caged a couple which gave the game to Ohio.

Although Ohio played a scrappy game, Otterbein was her equal in every department. The team work of Captain Cook's men was among the best that had been seen on the Ohio floor this year.

SCHEDULE IS STIFF

Manager Druhot Gives Out Baseball Menu—Good Home Games.

Apr. 12—Reserve at Westerville.
Apr. 27—Denison at Granville.
May 4—Wooster at Wooster
May 10—W. & J. at Westerville.
May 18—Marietta at Westerville.
May 25—Ohio at Athens.
May 31—Wooster at Westerville.
June 1—O. W. U. at Delaware.
June 8—Wittenberg at Springfield.
June 8—Open.
June 11—Muskingum at New Concord.

The baseball team this spring will have the hardest schedule to play ever handed out to an Otterbein aggregation. Manager Ray Druhot has worked hard all winter to line up a list of teams that will compare favorably with Otterbein. There is not a second-rate school in the list and Otterbein will have to strive hard to defeat all of them.

Several schools are still bidding for positions on the schedule. Although the main dates are filled, more can be taken on, some of them star attractions. The 1912 manager is to be congratulated upon his securing such a satisfactory schedule.

Faculty Vetoes Turkey Game.

The football game that was scheduled with Wittenberg next Thanksgiving day was not ratified by the Faculty, and the action undoubtedly means no game on next "Turkey Day."

CAPITAL DOES IT

Otterbein Seconds Defeated by Columbus Squad, 17-19.

The Otterbein Seconds played their second game of the season with Capital Seconds last Friday night and were beaten by two points, 17 to 19. It was another case of being nosed out in the last few seconds of play, as the O. U. five were ahead until the last moment before the final whistle.

The Seconds had the edge of the contest all the way as they were playing a better guarding game and doing better passing than their opponents. Capital won the game, however, on the excess number of fouls which the referee insisted on calling on O. U. As far as field goals are concerned the O. U. five had the better of the contest as they caged seven baskets to their opponent's five.

The first half ended seven to nine in favor of O. U. and the Seconds also maintained the lead all through the final period up until Reuter tied the score by his foul throwing and then just before the final whistle caged a long one from mid floor.

The guards, Converse and Hartman, played especially strong for O. U., while Lambert worked his center position in good style. Reuter and Buss played the best game for Capital.

Line-Up.

Western Reserve Faces Hard Game Here Friday Night.

It was a spirit broken quintet of bruised basketball players that entered the Ohio bathing room last Thursday and divested themselves of their cardinal armors. Yet came to these subdued players thoughts that they had played a good game against their opponents, one which was deserving of much credit.

Defeat Reserve.

Also came to the boys, the thoughts of Reserve and they resolved to buckle down and get ready for Reserve next Friday night, here on the local floor. They realize what a victory means over Reserve and Coach Sanders with his basketball followers is going to bend every effort to the winning of the Reserve game. The Reserve team comes as strongly tooted as any team in the state and Manager Flora is indeed fortunate in getting the starring aggregation to appear on the local floor.

We Can Beat Reserve.

"We are going to win next Friday, and leave it to me we are going to win by playing the best basketball that O. U. has played this year." R. F. Gammill

"The Varsity will be in shape to play the best game of the season, when they meet Reserve next Friday. All we need is loyal support from the O. U. students, and victory will be assured." C. Campbell.

We Will Beat Reserve.

"Varsity will be in the finest condition attained this season Friday evening, and by fighting every inch, O. U. will send Reserve back to Cleveland defeated."

Otterbein also dribbled all around Ohio.

Campbell and Gammill were the biggest point gainers for Otterbein and played hard. Campbell especially baffled his opponents by his ability in dribbling. Fouts at forward played a hard game and was all over the floor and in the team work all the time. Cook and Hall, at guard, played their usual fine game, besides being factors in Varsity's team work.

Captain Miller and Bethel of the Ohio five played well for the Green and White and were the best point makers. Gibson at guard also played a hard scrappy game.

Some little opposition on the part of football players and parents very likely brought about this action. However, it is a huge blow to the football management as it means an enormous loss financially. Heretofore the management has depended on the Wittenberg game to straighten up the season financially. One hundred and fifteen students were dismissed absolutely from the Ohio State university last week at the close of the first semester because they failed to pass the required amount of work in the recent mid-year examinations. Seventy of these were from the college of engineering where particularly heavy work is given. Three hundred others are on probation until the middle of April.

In a hard-fought game, Ohio Wesleyan defeated Denison at Granville Saturday night, the score being 36 to 28. The foul shots of Severance won the game for the visitors.

Oberlin vs. Rochester.

Rochester lost to Oberlin in a very close game Saturday night, the score being 28 to 25. The Oberlin five showed especially strong team work.

It may be possible that there are those who, busily engaged in student activities, have not realized that today is Abraham Lincoln's birthday anniversary. A renewed appreciation of Lincoln's greatness will be received by reading or re-reading "The Perfect Tribute" by Mary Shipman Andrews.

Visit the Con-Con.

One of the peculiar advantages of Otterbein is in its location near the state capital. Columbus is one of the centers of the state in education of all kinds. There, may be heard great speakers, noted musicians and famed dramatic artists. Our nearby metropolis is just now offering an opportunity of great importance to those interested in matters of state. Ohio is building a new constitution. The constitutional convention into whose hands the task of revision has been placed is now in session in the chamber of House of Representatives at the State House. The great questions of state-wide interest and significance are being considered by the delegated representatives of the people of Ohio. The machinery of constitution making is also of interest. When in Columbus a visit to the Con-Con will be of far more benefit than an hour at the picture show.

Criticising the Critic.

When criticising a person it is well to ask the question, "Of what specific misdemeanor is he guilty?" Just what did he do that was wrong? If nothing can be found the criticism is not well founded. Then would you and I self-appointed critics, do any better under the same circumstances? If not the criticism is not consistent. Suspended judgment in the absence of full data is a good safe guard for criticism.

Culture vs. Practice.

As has been stated frequently in this column we are living in a practical age. Everything which cannot be converted into actual use or "cold cash" is considered of little value by a great number of people, possibly by a majority of people today. Incidentally colleges and institutions of higher learning are coming in for their share of the criticism because they emphasize cultural training.

Thus is it not natural to ask the question, "Does the college stand for the cultural alone or is it practical as well?" It is possible that the practical is not receiving enough of attention, even in Otterbein. Part of the fault may be with the instructors but most of it is with the student. As a rule Otterbein's professors offer opportunity for the development of the practical side of every subject. The student, however, does not make the best of these opportunities and is often content to receive a vague, "general," "cultural" knowledge of the subject at hand. But, as a matter of fact, it is impossible to actually separate the cultural from the practical, or the practical from the cultural, if one would get the best out of either. It is almost unquestionably true that the student would make more out of his college course if when entering upon the study of any subject he would first analyze the subject to determine what he ought to get out of it and then immediately proceed to get it. The result would be a training which is both cultural and practical.

CLUB TALK.

Phi Beta Kappa, Why Not?

Most colleges in the state, and in the country, for that matter, have Phi Beta Kappa organizations, or at least some way by which those who graduate with evidences of high standards of scholarship may be rewarded. Why would not such an organization be an excellent thing for Otterbein? It is the opinion of the writer that it would. Of course it is a well known fact that Greek letter fraternities are in general opposed by the faculty and probably the larger part of the students. But the Phi Beta Kappa organization is of an entirely different character than other fraternities. No one but graduates are members, men and women both being eligible, providing they have reached a certain required standard of scholarship.

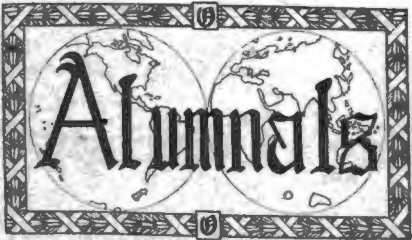

Surely there ought to be some reward for this class of students. Those who distinguish themselves in any branch of athletics as well as those who participate in oratory and debate are admitted into organizations of honor. Not only is this true, but it should also be noted that many of those thus honored are poor students when judged from the standpoint of the class-room. Should not the man who is a high class student, but probably poor in athletics, receive some mark of distinction as well? What is the matter with a Phi Beta Kappa chapter at Otterbein? If under present conditions she is not eligible to the establishment of this organization let the necessary requirements be met as soon as possible. The man with brains ought surely to be recognized after leaving college as well as the man with athletic ability, and it seems that it is no more than right that some steps ought to be taken at once towards some such organization.—An Alumnus.

Choice of Wife.

The following item about a '94, man is taken from the Cincinnati Post: Dr. S. C. Swartsel, whose brown eyes and romantic, wavy locks have caused young women to send requests to The Post that his reasons for bachelorhood be divulged, is a member of the Post's Leap Year club.

He confesses to having decided ideas about a possible future wife. "She must be a quiet girl, who is fond of home life, but, of course, interested in questions of the day, and thoroughly intelligent," he says, and adds, "She distinctly must not be a suffragist."

A Surface Joke.

The following poem was written presumably by Daniel Surface, '62. It was found by a young lady student in her glove when she returned to her seat after working at the black-board. Mr. Surface was her neighbor and evidences point to his being guilty.

Is the seat of rosy love
But remember, lady sweet,
When the finger-ends you eat,
Cupid will without a doubt
Find the holes and scamper out.

KEISTER MAY RUN

Friends Urge Alumnus to Accept Support for Nomination.

Abram L. Keister, '74, of Scottsdale, Pa., is being strongly urged by his friends to run for the Republican nomination for congressman from the 22nd district, Westmoreland and Butler counties. Mr. Keister is a banker and a manufacturer of Scottsdale.

The campaign has only just begun but Mr. Keister's supporters are anxious to come out with his candidacy early in the race. They say, "Mr. Keister is exactly the sort of man needed to conscientiously and ably represent all the people of the district." Mr. Keister is not a politician and therefore has no political debts to embarrass him. He has not yet made a decision in the matter but if the appeal of his friends will be taken into consideration he must surely announce his consent very soon.

WHAT IS GOD'S PLAN?

Interesting Talk Given by Mr. H. W. Worley of New York.

Mr. Harry W. Worley of New York City, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan in the class of '08, and at present traveling secretary of the student volunteer movement delivered a most helpful message before the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening. Mr. Worley is also a graduate of the Theological Institute of Boston and, being born in China as the son of a missionary, is especially well fitted for the work in which he is engaged.

Mr. Worley took for the theme of his address on this occasion, the plans of man as related to God's will. He argued that just as all forms of plant and lower animal life grow and develop in regular order which is in harmony with the Divine will, so too do men's plans materialize according to God's will. Some people do not know God's plan for them because sin conceals it from their vision, and in order to know it, they must rid themselves of the sin which obscures. Some think that their own plans are better than those which God has for them, but the speaker emphatically stated that God's plan is much bigger and better than man can work out for himself, especially if it be contrary to His will.

The question was then suggested as to how one may find out God's will. The answer was given in four statements. First, one should choose a work which is in harmony with his own gifts and talents; second, he should practice and see if he can do certain things which he had not thought of doing; third, everyone should consult his friends for they can often help one interpret himself; fourth, and most important of all, he should take God into consideration. It is necessary for all to think in terms of God and Christ's principles. One never ought to think merely of a country, state, or even a nation, but in terms of the whole world, for God thinks in these terms. Christ's kingdom is co-extensive with the entire world. Another striking statement which the speaker made was that men are many times afraid that God wants them to do something which would not be pleasing to them and for this reason they do not try to discover what plans God may have in store for them. God wants each one to do the most good possible, considering all the qualifications which he may possess.

Mr. Worley then mentioned some of what he considered good opportunities in the missionary field. He made some very interesting and instructive statements concerning the South American nations and their need of training and instruction. The conditions which prevail at present in Japan, Korea, and China also received much emphasis.

The whole address was an earnest appeal for the men, not so much to become missionaries, but to treat the question of missionary work fairly, and then if the call to this work is felt, it ought to be accepted. The talk was filled with interest and power and was greatly enjoyed by everyone present.

SAVE CITY GIRLS

Mrs. Wiltzee Tells Y. W. C. A. of Women Who Work.

The Young Women's Christian association enjoyed a splendid address by Mrs. Wiltzee, Y. W. C. A. secretary of Columbus. The meeting having been opened by the leader, Miss Luciana Snyder, Mrs. Wiltzee spoke of the problem of helping the working girls of the city. She told of the Boarding Home which provides for girls who are at work in the city and are without homes and friends. She spoke of the way in which they are reaching the girls in the factories who are not in the Boarding Home or are not connected with the work. There are many girls who have been aided but it is only a small number when compared with the many wage earning girls and women in Columbus.

EXCHANGES.

Miami—Owing to a shortening of Ohio State's schedule, Miami will not meet O. S. U.'s team on the gridiron this fall.

The last issue of the Miami Student was called "The Exam Limited."

Miami—Dr. W. O. Thompson, President of O. S. U., preached at the first University service of the new year.

Oberlin—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the new republic of China, was a pupil of Mr. Wm. A. Bowden, an Oberlin graduate. The latter was a teacher in Hawaii, where Dr. Sun Yat Sen was born.

The next edition of the Monthly Oberlin Review will be published by the Junior class.

The faculty is thinking of placing a limit on the number of students enrolled. The enrollment suffered a natural decrease this year.

Denison—The literary societies are up in arms, claiming there are too many attractions on Friday nights which interfere with their programs. We at Otterbein know how to sympathize with the Baptists.

Denison—Captain Richmond P. Hobson recently lectured here on the subject, "Our Country's Destiny." He discussed the two evils—war from without, and the liquor traffic from within.

Hiram—As a result of attempting to haze a freshman, a sophomore is suffering from a deep gash under his heart, and a fellow classman is badly bruised about the head and shoulders from being struck down with a chair.

Ohio Wesleyan—The official college button has been selected. It is made of sterling silver in the shape of the letter "O", and has the letter "W" inscribed.

Professor R. I. Fulton was elected first president of the Public Speaking Conference of Ohio Colleges at the initial meeting of this organization. Prof. Fulton was the originator of this conference.

Case—In an article published in the Case Tech, headed "Anonymous Criticisms" the critic is arraigned who finds fault, but isn't courageous enough to back up his complaint by his signature. We need more such articles.

ary debating contest was recently held, and orators chosen who will argue the Initiative and Referendum with Otterbein and Wittenberg.

"Who is the most popular girl?" is the question before the boys at Athens.

Purdue—Gold medals will be given to the men upon graduation, who represent Purdue in athletics for two years.

University of Chicago—At the eighty-first convocation, 119 degrees and titles were conferred. The students were from 22 states, Canada, Ireland and Turkey.

Lebanon Valley College—Dean Peters proposes introducing a summer term, equal to a term at other periods of the year.

Leander Clark College—The students, by classes, turned down the Student Council proposition, claiming they were given no voice in the framing of the constitution.

LOCALS

Grace Strahl was visited by a friend Sunday.

Paul Fouts journeyed to Midletown Friday.

Mr. Dwight Tallman visited Miss Lucy Huntwork Sunday.

Prof. Snively and Prof. Kiehl have been on the sick list several days.

Homer Lambert visited at his home in Anderson, Ind., this week.

Miss Esther Van Buskirk entertained a few Cochran Hall friends at Sunday dinner.

Ivan Sechrist is recovering rapidly from his sprained ankle received in the Capital game, Friday night.

C. V. Roop has made a reputation as a Chapel announcer. His announcement of the Junior play was superb.

Ralph Parent spent a few days with folks at home this week.

R. B. Sando was a Columbus visitor Saturday.

Miss Esta Moser, Miss Ethel Kephart, Mr. Ralph Moses and Mr. Lloyd Curtis were Centerburg visitors Sunday.

Perce Rogers after being stalled with his automobile at Clyde on account of the snow has returned, and is again in school.

Skippy Zuerner, Jr. met with two accidents Friday. He lost his equilibrium on the ice but luckily he received no hurt in either fall.

COCHRAN HALL ITEMS.

Esta Moser and Ethel Kephart visited Maude Owings over Sunday.

Hazel Bauman has been visiting old friends in the Hall. She is quite as entertaining as ever, and everyone was most happy to have her back.

Hazel Codner has been trying her hand (and head) at teaching again. The latter part of this week she taught at New Albany.

Alice Miller entertained some of her friends Sunday evening by reviewing interesting novels such as "Katrine," "The Spinner in the Sun," and Old Rose and Silver."

The girls who went home the past week were: Evarena Harmon, Beryl Campbell, Ruth Cogan, Mary Bolenbaugh, Lucile Welch, Mabel Willis, and Margaret Gaver.

Lucy Huntwork, Wilda Dick, Grace Straw and Helen Ditmer entertained Dwight Tallman of Canal Winchester, Dean Cook, Mr. Dietz of Ohio State and John Snively, Sunday afternoon.

Saturday evening a number of girls entertained in the Reception room. Those enjoying the festivities were: The Misses Dick, Huntwork, Straw, Ditmer, and Groff; Messrs. Maskopf, Cook, Berrenger, Snively and Penick.

OTTERBEINESQUES.

"Sir," said the college graduate, "Your daughter accepted me last night. I've called to see if there is any insanity in your family."

"There must be" said the Dad, looking over his guest carefully.

On the recent trips of the Western governors the question of religion came up for argument.

"Bet you $10.00 you can't repeat the Lord's prayer," said one governor.

"Take you," said the other, "Here goes. 'Now I lay me down to sleep.' 'Here's your ten,' replied the first 'Didn't think you knew it'."

Smith—"Why don't you move your trunk to the 'dorm,' Moses?"

Moses—"I would if I could but they won't let me."

In the recent examinations Dr. Jones asked his Sophomore Bible class to discuss "Marriage." Immediately following this question was this: Discuss "Man's sin and its consequences."

Prof.—"Do you like 'The May Queen,' Mr. Bailey?"

Bailey—"Yes, but May King suits me better."
