WESLEYAN WINS SEASON'S OPENER

First Game of Season Ends in Defeat
for Otterbein—Game Loosely Played—Score 7 to 1.

BOTH TEAMS LACK PRACTICE

Without a Single Letter Man Otterbein is Handicapped But Better
Results are Expected Later.

In the game staged at Delaware Saturday, Otterbein showed promises of a good team for the future. Although beaten by a score of 7 to 1, she placed her opponents in several tight pockets. Hitting was poor on both sides, each team having only four men to touch first by that method. Dano, pitching for Otterbein in the first five innings, proved to be a hard man to hit. Martin was substituted for Dano in the sixth and pitched almost airtight ball, Wesleyan getting only one hit and one run in the last three innings.

In the first of the ninth, Mignery made first on a hot grounder. In sliding to second he sprained his ankle and Albright took his place. Fox at the bat sent a high one over first base, allowing Albright to score from second. Fox died on third. Freeman and Miller did good work with the bat.

Philaethean Seniors Perform in Unique and Varied Program—
Japanese Romance is Played.

A most unique and pleasing open session occurred last Thursday evening when the seniors of Philaethea rendered their final program, as active members of the society. The unusually large crowd attested to the merit of the entire performance. The literary number, the president's valedictory as given by Gladys Swigart, as well as the musical number, was exceptionally good and the Japanese Romance gave a pleasing finish to the evening's entertainment. The program was as follows:

Service Is Largely Attended

in Memory of Curtis K. Young.

Sunday afternoon a beautiful service was held in the United Brethren Church in memory of Curtis K. Young who died in France on February 13. Chaplain S. L. Martin of the 37th Division, who buried Mr. Young was present and spoke at the service. Several close associates of Mr. Young in France attended also. Mr. R. W. Smith represented the Masonic orders and Dr. F. M. Van Buskirk spoke for the Knights of Pythias. A. W. Neally made appropriate remarks and Dr. E. A. Jones and President Clippinger took part. Mrs. Verda Miles Dailey sang a solo.

The church was filled to capacity with friends and relatives who wished to pay their last respect to Mr. Young who was so well known and loved here in Westerville.

BREAK GROUND FOR BUILDING

College President Turns First Dirt in Erection of Science Building.

President W. G. Clippinger turned the first spade of dirt at the ground breaking of the new science hall Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, with a shovel presented him by George Ohmart, manager of the Concrete Steel Construction company, who has the contract for the erection of the building. The shovel was trimmed in tan and cardinal colors. President Clippinger spoke on "The Place of Science in Christian Education."

Prof. L. A. Weinland, senior professor of science, presided. Miss Gladys Howard spoke in behalf of the students, while Prof. E. W. E. Schear expressed the sentiments of the science faculty. Dr. E. A. Jones led in prayer.

It was attended principally by college students, professors and those interested in the college.

The building has been located, after much debate on the part of the college executive committee. It will face West Main street and stand about fifty feet from the street.

The historic old walnut at the north end of the old football gridiron will have to come down, for the building covers this spot.

Students and Local Residents Are Thanked for Hospitality

H. H. Meyers, President of the Y. M. C. A. has expressed his appreciation of the way the students, faculty and Westerville friends co-operated during the recent Y. M. C. A. Officers' Conference. Townspeople were exceptionally hospitable in giving lodging and, in most cases, breakfast to their guests. There were approximately one hundred delegates and R. J. Harmelink found it comparatively easy to locate the men. The responsiveness of students and townspeople was exceedingly gratifying to all concerned.

Choir Renders Easter Cantata Before Appreciative Audience

The annual Easter Cantata was sung by the Chorus Choir of the United Brethren church last Sunday night, before a large and appreciative audience. "Eastertide," by Daniel Protheroe was used this year; and was especially pleasing—the dramatic passages being unusually well rendered.

Soprano solo parts were taken by Miss Nelson and Miss Fisher, alto by Miss Eubanks, tenor by Mr. Wright, baritone by Mr. Hollinger.

"Y" CONFERENCE IS BIG SUCCESS

Many Representatives from Ohio
Colleges Attend—Speakers Make
Addresses to Large Audiences.

ALL ENJOY FELLOWSHIP

Otterbein Enjoys Rare Treat—Hearty Co-operation of Students and Friends Aids Convention.

Eighty-two delegates were entertained by the local "Y" during the Student Y. M. C. A. Conference in session, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of last week. The conference was given a good send-off Friday evening by H. S. Elliott, with a rousing speech upon the "Hindrances to Leadership in College". "Dad" Elliott, as he is commonly known, wasted no words and his points always had the sting in them. This meeting was greatly enjoyed by those present. A feed and a general good time followed the service.

Capt. McKendrick brought before the students and friends of Otterbein some phases of the "Y" work from his own observation, in a chapel speech Saturday morning. The conference then moved to the Association Building where he gave a brief, but interesting discussion of "Y" work as directly concerns the college man.

Another bright light in the conference was the Lake Geneva Banquet held at the church Saturday evening. Services were continued until Sunday afternoon when the conference was brought to a close.

It was a rare treat that Otterbein enjoyed. The conference was a complete success and the meeting of men from all over Ohio afforded an opportunity not often enjoyed during college years.

Otterbein Reunion To Be Held at Dayton April 21

Whoop, Hip, Whoop, Whoop!
O. U., O. U.

Hi-o-mine, Ot-ter-bein.
Whoop, Hip, Whoop!

This call comes from Dayton to friends of Otterbein at Westerville and to the students who live in Miami Valley. The Otterbein Association will hold its annual reunion and dinner at the First U. B. church, Monday evening, April 21.

Come and bring your happiest smiles and your perfectly good 75 cents. No personal invitations will be sent out this year, so this announcement is for you, says Mrs. F. O. Clements, a member of the committee.

JUNIORS TO PRESENT PLAY

"Husbands on Approval"—Thrilling Title of Play to be Given in the Chapel Tuesday Night.

"Oh, 'twas on a summer mo-o-rning, all in the month of June." Do you enjoy a good rousing, whole hearted Irish come-all-ye? Then don't miss hearing "Herb" Myers as Dick Fitzgerald in "Husbands on Approval." He sings "scores of them every morning." And you'll miss a chance in a life time if you fail to hear Colonel Rowe, otherwise Carl Smith, attempt to make his very best proposal with the deafening racket of the steam fitter's pounding, ringing in his ears.

And girls, wouldn't you love to have a dress so very becoming that four men would propose to you the very first night you wore it? Come and see how Helen Keller as Nancy Glover effects the process of elimination. Then, there's Rita, her sister, whose one disappointment in life is her red, shiny nose. However, Hamilton Seaver doesn't seem to mind a little thing like that. By the way, in private life, Rita is known as Mary Tinstman; and around here, Hamilton Seaver passes as Ramey Huber.

Gladys Howard, as Mrs. Glover, although a widow of thirty-nine, is still sensible to the fires of romance, especially when she meets a man "who confesses to exactly the same number of years as herself." The part of her son, Sam Glover or "Blinky," is played by Edith Bingham; and Catherine, the Irish maid, straight from Belfast, by Mary Ballinger.

Then last, but not least, there's Bob Devon (C. L. Fox),—"a decent, steady chap he always was," according to Mrs. Glover. And although poor Bob is a living example of the old adage that the course of true love never did run smooth, at least he can say "all's well that ends well."

Remember! College chapel, Tuesday night, April 15. See "Dad" Hoffman for your seats.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. topic last Tuesday night treated of a subject much discussed—"The Popular Girl." In the talk by the leader, Helen Keller, and in the remarks of the other girls, it was discovered that she could even do without beauty or cleverness, if she were always on the lookout for the happy side of life and for a chance to brighten things for others. She is unselfish and pure-minded too, for permanent popularity depends wholly on the inner life.

Ida Marie Snelling gave a piano solo, and committees for the May morning breakfast were appointed.

The Easter lesson this week will be in charge of May Sellman.

A few noisy birds distracted much attention from Dr. Jones' prayer dur-

Easter.

Easter— Christ— Resurrection. Do we unconsciously connect these three words in our minds, or has Easter come to have a more material, a more sordid meaning? This season is not merely a gay vacation, a release from study, a break in the monotony, but a time when we should try to realize the keen sufferings of Christ.

On Easter Sunday we should put ourselves in a holy, reverent mood,
so that when we are sitting in church
our minds will not creep away to the new Easter bonnets. For Easter to us should be even more wonderful than Christmas; for at this time
Christ gave up his very life—for us.
Should we not at least think of His suffering—for Him? Let us make our Easter thoughts as pure and stainless as the lily—the symbol of Easter.

Improve Chapel Singing.

Attention has been called to the evident lack of interest and participance in the singing of the chapel exercises. This is partly due to the fact that some students persist in using the chapel period to cram a lesson into their heads. The chapel period is not for study. It is a brief part of the day set aside primarily for worship. The singing is as much a part of this worship as the reading of scripture or the offering of prayer.

Otterbein has an exceptionally fine
chapel hymnal. "Hymns of Worship and Service" contains a choice collection of hymns and songs and it is apparent that the students do not appreciate this fact. The majority of the one hundred most celebrated hymns are included in this book.
These hymns are of superior merit because of their beauty of music and their excellence in literary value.
They are not unduly stately or dignified but they certainly deserve close attention and proper respect. If some inferior book was in use there might be an excuse for indifference shown by some, but with such inspiring hymns the chapel singing
should be improved.

What Are You Preparing For?

What are you working for? Is your preparation actuated with thought of self primarily and others incidentally or for others primarily and yourself incidentally. The worth of the former should not be discounted too much for it is good in itself, but such a person is of no usefulness to society. He may be a pleasure to a certain restricted few.
His family may be benefited through his own selfish tastes and ambitions but his influence will be extremely limited. Let it be kept in mind that a man who is engaged in any useful occupation, although not distinctly philanthropic in its character, is nevertheless rendering service to society.

Fault of Colleges Discussed.

Denominational colleges are frequently charged that students are not so active in church work after entering college as they were formerly in their home communities.
This accusation is just to some degree although there is some explanation for the condition.

Perhaps nine out of every ten college men were leaders in the churches from which they came. It is evident that it is not possible for all these students to become leaders in college religious affairs. The pity is that the majority hand these religious activities over to a few and say, "Let the preacher crowd do it."
Thus it develops that there are two groups commonly known as the religious and non-religious crowds although the so-called non-religious are not fairly spoken of as such.

Another explanation may be in the fact that a false ideal has crept into the Christian college. The notion is possessing a lot of young men that in order to be a "good sport" and a typical college man one must be reserved and not have, or at least not show, too much religion. That in order to make a mark and be popular it is not essential to make good grades or be active in religious affairs. Why does this notion obtain?

Religion is not separate and apart
from other phases of college life.
College sports, good times, friendships, associations and all other attachments are surely in harmony with religion. A closer union of secular with religious interests
should be sought and all tendencies
to discourage religious activity should be tabooed. An atmosphere of enthusiasm and interest in religious work needs to be created.

Faculty and Students Plan War Savings Stamp Campaign

Weinland, rah! Weinland, rah! He has started the Faculty "Bring 'Em Back Club" off with a swing by his subscription of $150. Looks like the Faculty Committee is in for a soft snap. N'est-ce pas? Get busy, students, and let's see what you can do, now. Don't wait for the committee to see you,—see the committee.

As outlined in Chapel last week, the plan is as follows. Five hundred dollars' worth of War Savings Stamps subscribed to now, and bought at any time during the year, constitutes a "Bring 'Em Back Club." Otterbein plans to support three clubs,—one among the Faculty members, one among the girls, and the other among the men.

The committees handling the work are as follows:

For faculty subscriptions—Josephine Foor and Ramey H. Huber.

For student subscriptions—Women, Vida Wilhelm, Helen Keller and Marvel Sebert.

For student subscriptions—Men, C. L. Fox, K. J. Scott and H. F. Moore.

For publicity—Edna Dellinger and Harold Davison.

Professor Rosselot Pays Tribute to W. G. Snavely, '07, Deceased

Among the recent graduates of Otterbein, few if any played a more important role in their four years in college than did Wm. G. Snavely who died Saturday, April fifth.

Affectionately called "Bill" by all the students, his pleasant, sympathetic, unselfish disposition was a cheer and a tonic to the whole college life. A cripple, he could not take part in Athletics but never was there a more ardent booster or a more faithful manager. The Philomathean literary society never had a more faithful member, more consistent worker, or more enthusiastic booster. He was the captain of the first intercollegiate debating team put out by the college and was a tower of strength.

His intellectual ability and his capacity for work made him become the master of any subject he undertook. When he left college his place was hard to fill. To me, who knew him personally, his loss is a great one indeed. Three years a room-mate of mine, I feel that somebody who was very near, is gone. And as a tribute to one, who was always a loyal, sympathetic friend, may I say that those three years in the closest possible association were three years exceedingly well spent. May Otterbein produce more men of this kind.

A. P. Rosselot.

Y. M. C. A.

Secretary Orville W. Briner led the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Thursday night. The purpose of his remarks was to help correct the spirit of restlessness and criticism that prevails in Otterbein this year.

Here in Otterbein the different groups are apt to criticise each other. The athletes criticise those only studiously inclined, those studying for the ministry find fault with the religious zeal of other students, the students criticise the faculty and so on.

We must remember that it takes all kinds of men to make the world go and every useful occupation has its place whether we are personally interested in it or not.

A spirit of unrest prevails at all colleges and so Otterbein is no exception. Let us get in the game for we never find things ideal and must learn to make the best of conditions.
