Glee Club Pleases.

The excellent program rendered by the Glee Club Wednesday evening is sufficient proof that "Daddy's" reputation as a director has been upheld. The solo work of Messrs. Rogers, Spafford, and Resler was unusually good, while the work of Prof. Gilbert as violinist cannot be too highly commended. The Glee Club is to be congratulated upon this, their initial appearance.

O. U. Will Play Tennis.

R. B. Sando manager of the tennis associations has instilled new vigor in local tennis enthusiasts by securing an excellent schedule of the six tournaments as follows:

- April 20—Capital at Westerville.
April 27—O. W. U. at Delaware.
May 4—O. W. U. at Westerville.
May 11—Denison at Westerville.
May 18—Denison at Granville.
May 25—Capital at Columbus.

Books Added to Library.

Miss Barnes reports that the Report of the World Missionary conference of 1910 in nine volumes has been added to the Carnegie Library.

The titles of the volumes are as follows:

- "Carrying the Gospel."
"The Church and the Missionary Field."
"Christian Education."
"The Missionary Message."

RALLY DAY PLANNED

All Day Meetings for Members and Friends of U. B. Church.

Letters are being sent to all members of the U. B. church, urging their attendance to an all-day rally. At this service Dr. J. M. Phillippi, editor of the Religious Telescope, will be the principal speaker. Efforts will be made to pay off the remaining indebtedness on the new parsonage and church site, also to provide a neat sum for the building fund.

Rev. Daugherty reports splendid growth during the present conference year, stating that 91 members have been received and $3813 contributed to benevolence alone. Plan to attend the rally.

- "Preparation of Missionaries."
"The Home Base."
"Missions and Government."
"Co-operation and Unity."
"History Records and Addresses."

WHAT THE CAPTAIN SAYS.

Only ten (10) more practice days before the game with Reserve, April 12.

There is an excellent wire-batting-cage in center field. (It was put there to be used.)

The wire back-stop surely catches the foul tips.

Saturday afternoon, it looked like old times as a good old game of "rounders" was played.

Several of our new players can surely hit the ball nicely.

Left-handed batters are numerous. (That looks good).

Chan Wagner, (Ex-Captain) will be with us for a few days during vacation and will wear his old suit once more, to show us how we used to do it. Chan—welcome to our village.

All baseball men are requested to make their Easter vacation short as possible, if they desire to play first team ball, especially in the Reserve game.

During Easter vacation two practices will be held daily—(Mornings for batting. Afternoons for infield and outfield work and games).

From the present outlook, Otterbein is going to have a team of real natural-born baseball men, this year.

Last year, every time "Len" wore his little blue cap instead of a regular team cap, O. U. won. He has it this year, and says he intends to wear it continually. (Good Luck, Len). Everything is now in readiness now for baseball men to show class. We must pick a winning team and do it quickly, right from the beginning.

Spectators are quite an inspiration to baseball players. If you can't play baseball, come and watch the other fellows work for their jobs.

If you like the way a player handles himself, tell him; if not tell the coach.—Res.

AGED ALUMNUS SPEAKS

Graduate of Half Century Ago Addresses Students.

Rev. John A. Kumler, '62, President of Walden University, Nashville, Tenn., was a chapel speaker Friday morning. Walden University is one of the many schools conducted by the Methodist Episcopal church for the colored people of the South. For the past eight years Rev. Kumler has held the presidency, and to emphasize the prejudice of the white man toward the negro, he stated that because of his labors among this class of people, he had been entertained only once in a white man's home during his incumbency as president.

The 800 students in the school are assembled from all the states of United States and Canada. The total expense per student averages $100 per year. Mr. Kumler is one of the two living graduates of the class of '62.

$5 for Artistic Man.

A modest gentleman friend of the Studio has offered a prize of five dollars for the greatest improvement by any young man in any department of the School of Art. The peculiar feature of this prize is the fact that it is limited to young men. This ought to stimulate interest in the Studio on the part of the stronger sex.

The donor of this gift offered a prize last year for wood-carving, and being pleased with the result, volunteered with another this year. The gentleman is a graduate of Otterbein and has made his mark in the world. The director of the Art department says, "He is a dandy fellow."

Going to Europe.

Mr. Horace Mayne of the Junior class will set sail for Europe, June 15, on the new steamer, Kaiser Franz Josef. He will travel through Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland, France, England and Scotland. Mr. Mayne will return in time to enter college next year.

BIG DEBATES COMING

Otterbein Will Meet Ashland, Ohio and Muskingum at Home.

For the first time in her history Otterbein is looking forward to the intercollegiate debates with real earnestness and enthusiasm. To begin with there was more and better material this year than ever before. In the next place Otterbein has one of the best and most experienced debate coaches in the state of Ohio. Mr. Fred G. Bale, or Coach Bale as he is commonly known, has given the teams the best training and preparation ever received by O. U. teams.

Under Mr. Bale's direction five debates have been arranged. The first contest comes April 10 with Ashland college at Westerville on the question, "Resolved, that the Initiative and Referendum Should Be Made a Part of the Governmental System of Ohio." Otterbein's negative, composed of R. L. Harkins, G. E.

McFarland, J. O. Emrick, and E. F. Canfield as alternate, will meet the Ashland lads.

The second home debate is scheduled two nights later, April 12, when Otterbein's affirmative, —D. A. Bandeem, C. R. Layton, H. E. Richer, and R. E. Penick as alternate, will contest with the Ohio University aggregation on the I. & R. question. On the same evening the Negative, who will debate Ashland, April 10, will fight against Direct Legislation on the Wittenberg platform.

The girls' debates on "Woman Suffrage" with Ohio and Muskingum will close the season, April 26.

For the convenience of the students and townspeople a season ticket will be sold for the three home debates. The price is fifty cents for all of the debates of the season. Reserve seats will be on sale at McFarland's very soon for the Ashland debate at ten cents. Circulars will be issued explaining the intercollegiate (continued on page seven)

O. U. Boys Will Blow.

Almost every town has its "kid" band. Westerville is no exception, as a goodly number of lads are now assiduously practicing in order that they may relieve the monotony of life in Westerville during the vacation by giving occasional "blow outs."

Several Otterbein buddies are members of the organization. Frankie Shepherd has learned to finger the cornet admirably. Bennie Bungard can make awful noises on the trombone. Master Bronson Alcott Durrant makes a splendid appearance behind a big brass tuba. Wink Horn and Poppy Beal will be drummer boys. It beats all how some of our little boys try to distinguish themselves.

Palm Sunday Observed.

The announcement that Prof. Resler would have special musical numbers for the morning service drew the townspeople out in large numbers. The numbers were beautifully adapted to Rev. Daugherty's sermon, "The Triumphal Entry."

Wittenberg Kicking.

The O. U. Track team will not meet Wittenberg this spring as the Lutherans backed down on the schedule date, June 1. Manager Schutz is trying to secure Heidelberg to fill the date and in all probability O. U. will meet the Tiffin boys on June 1st.

Advice to "Knockers."

Did you ever say anything about someone to his back that you would not care to say to his face? While everyone condemns this practice, everybody does it now and then. Does it ever do a person any good? Surely the one talked about is not helped and it has never yet been shown where the talker, the knocker, receives any benefit. One should never tear down anything unless he is able to suggest a practical remedy.

All fault finding should be directed toward a correction of the difficulty. If you don't like your room, do not continually complain to your friends; but tell the one of whom you rent the room. Maybe that person can eliminate the trouble. If you are not satisfied with your board, report your objection to the club steward, the restaurant or hotel keeper, because they very likely will bring about an improvement of conditions. Don't cry and wail around about it to the other boarders as they can not help you. If you are much disturbed over some quality or characteristic of a person and must say something about it, tell the person himself. Don't get him and yourself enemies by making sneaking remarks about him to someone else. If you don't like the school you attend and are positively unable to gain redress for your "pet" wrongs, please go home and get to work, if that is the only way by which you can abstain from knocking. Possibly next year you can find an institution which will bow to your sovereign and infallible will.

What Debaters Like.

Athletes are cheered by many rooters. Members of the Glee Club and the Choral society are pleased with big audiences. The professors are gratified by large and punctual classes. Likewise debaters enjoy strong support. Remember the dates—April 10, 12, and 26.

THIS AND THAT

Spring is Here.

On Sunday the snow came down
Covering and concealing the ground.
It was wonderful and fine
But chilling to almost every mind.
Some said, "February is here,"
While others spoke of January drear;
But one and all would agree
That joyful spring they could not see.
Soon the sun came out to cheer,
And sent the melted snow running clear
In brooklets along the street,
Or in the country where people meet,
Till now we can gladly say,
"Spring has finally come to stay."

Girls' Basketball, Yea!

Dear Editor:

In this, the age of progression, we wonder if the fair sex are to be put in the back ground by taking a backward step on account of the harrowed opinion of reactionaries. Why are not the girls given freedom in exhibition of their skill and presence of mind, by playing girl's basketball, even though the spectators are cheering and urging them to victory. We undoubtedly have witnessed open games, that have showed they do not lose their femininity and are as able to play as scientifically according to ladies' rules, as any of the opposite sex can by their rules. In the recent basketball games no girl was unable to finish her game on account of an opponent's roughness. The girls that participated did not lose their femininity. They were not boisterous. Their victories were not decided by any maddened rooters. Furthermore, we failed to notice a frenzied crowd.

Why then should any one wish to deny the girls of this valued training?

GREEK AND LATIN IN AMERICAN EDUCATION.

Prof. Cornet Cites Valuable Excerpts of the Opinions of Men of Affairs Concerning the Ancient Languages.

The following excerpts are taken from a new book published by the Macmillan Company. This book is edited by Professor Kelsey of Michigan University.

"The indebtedness of our current idiom to Latin and of our technical vocabularies to Greek and Latin, is a matter of common knowledge. It is among the incidental advantages of the study of Latin and Greek that these contribute more richly than the modern languages to a sympathetic understanding of our literary masterpieces. European literature began beside the Aegean and Tiber. Strive as we may to free ourselves from the spell of Homer, Sophocles, and Plato, of Horace, Cicero, and Virgil, we must hark back to them, for their thought and imagery are in the warp and woof of our national expression"—Kelsey.

Doctor Victor Vaughn of Michigan University writing for the profession of medicine says: "Carelessness and superficiality are incompatible with any thorough study of Greek and Latin. These cultivate close attention and observation. This habit of observation and attention, of looking for fine distinctions, will be of inestimable service to him who chooses the medical profession. The careless or superficial man is not suited either to the practice of medicine or to the conduct of experiments in the elucidation of medical problems. I can easily distinguish the students who have a fundamental knowledge of Greek from those to whom this language is indeed dead."

Civil Engineer, Gardner Williams, University of Michigan, urges this kind of preparation for engineering courses. "There is nothing in which engineers today are so lacking as in the ability to express their thoughts; and there is nothing that will so surely give one such an ability as the translation of a foreign tongue; and the more delicate the distinction of meaning in the different foreign constructions, the better it is for the student."

Honorable Hinton Spaulding of the Detroit Bar, writes for the profession in law: "Fundamental in the work of the lawyer is the investigation of the truth. This demands clear perception. A prime characteristic, particularly of Greek, is an ever present sense of measure and proportion, clear perception of the idea in mind and adequate expression of it. In this connection it has been suggested that Latin is more important than Greek. With that point I cannot agree. For the purposes I have mentioned, Greek seems to me to be more valuable than Latin."

Professor Douglas Mackenzie, of Hartford Seminary says for Theology: "The thorough investigation of the New Testament in its history and meaning must forever rest on a knowledge of the Greek language. He who knows it not is shut off from a personal consideration of the deepest problems concerning the origins of the faith which he professes."

Honorable James Bryce, of Great Britain writes for men in practical affairs: "Many people seem to think a language no longer used in daily speech is dead. The truth is no language which enshrines a great literature and through which the thought of the past speaks to the thinkers of the present can ever die. Such a language is far more alive than those spoken languages which contain little worth reading. It is a mistake to live so entirely in the present, for the power of broad thinking suffers."

"The humanities clarify the ethical judgment through the analysis of concepts, characters, and situations, and in inspiration to right conduct through contact with the highest ideals."

E. L. Shuey spoke on "Advertising Dayton Products," urging a systematic campaign of advertising for Dayton to promote its advantages commercially, industrially and morally.

A man in Denver had both ears cut off and now he has no place to carry his penell.

Annual Report of Y. M. C. A. President.

Otterbein holds a warm place in the hearts of all who have learned of the excellent standard she endeavors to place before her students. Perhaps no organization in college aids more in the building of character than does the Y. M. C. A. Especially do we feel this as we meet in our weekly meetings to discuss the great problems of life that confront each one of us.

May we ever keep the life of Jesus Christ before us as our ideal, that we may shape our lives to be of most service to humanity and in this way become like Him.

We are just completing the Association year of 1911 and '12 but we do not feel that this work, which we have attempted is complete. Many of the things that we had planned were not accomplished, yet it is surely a credit due every man in the Association whether on the cabinet, serving on a committee, or helping to carry the work forward as an active member, to say that every one has done his best, and God alone can judge results.

Through the efforts of the Devotional Committee the Association has been permitted to enjoy interesting meetings every Thursday evening. Excellent speakers were secured and all phases of life, and life callings were discussed. The largest meeting of the year was addressed by President Clippinger, there being 117 present. Prof. Funk, Prof. Weinland, Prof. Rosselot, Dr. Miller, Dr. Jones, from the faculty, also addressed the men. We had the pleasure of hearing several prominent out of town men with messages on timely subjects. The meetings led by students were of great value and I think this particular kind of meeting should be encouraged.

The average attendance for the year was 73.

The Membership Committee is to be congratulated for the excellent work done. Every man in school is now either an active or an associate member of the Y. M. C. A. making a total membership of 137 men.

A new plan was adopted by the State committee this year by which the colleges from all parts of the state may meet and talk over Bible and mission study problems.

The Missionary Committee secured Prof. Soper of Ohio Wesleyan University who presented "Negro Life in the South" enrolling 61 in mission study. Medical missions are before the men now for consideration. Seven men of the Association belong to the Volunteer Band. We gave $100 this year to foreign missions. The Convention at Wittenberg University was attended by several men from the Missionary Committee.

The Bible Study Convention was held at Wilmington College and was well attended by Otterbein men. The Bible Study Committee was very fortunate in securing Mr. Lichty as speaker for their rally. Five courses were offered

"The Life and Works of Jesus According to Mark" for the Freshmen.

"The Life of St. Paul" for the Sophomores.

"Leaders of Israel" for the Juniors.

"Will of God" for the Seniors.

COLLEGE MEN LEAD

Pres. Clippinger Speaks Before Y. M. C. A. on Leadership.

The subject chosen by Pres. Clippinger for the Young Men's Christian Association meeting last Thursday was "Leadership." He spoke of the preparation needed by men of today who expect to become the leaders of tomorrow, advising all to get the most thorough preparation possible. The great progress made in the industrial, scientific, religious and social world during the last ten years, is but an indication of what we may expect during the next ten years. The opportunities in the economic and social world are thrilling and inspiring. The churches are calling for strong preachers, the Y. M. C. A.s for able secretaries, the cities for men to head the charitable institutions, everywhere there is a cry for men who are well prepared for the work.

The college is the place from which to select the men for such positions. There one will find the man who thinks, who has an individuality, a personality, who possesses self-determination. The college men come from the choicest homes of the land. They have independence of thought, are aggressive, are able to say the words, think the thoughts and can get others to follow.

To be a leader one should get the best possible preparation, he must have a willingness to abstain from known sins, to remove questionable things, to have self-initiative. He must have determination, a love for service and a sympathetic attitude toward his fellowman.

After the address President Clippinger installed the newly elected officers for the coming year.

Dr. Sanders Tells Y. W. C. A. of "The More Abundant Life."

Dr. Sanders spoke before the Young Women's Christian association, Tuesday night, using for his subject "The More Abundant Life." As God's great universe is given to us He has given us a chance to make our lives pure, noble, and strong. We are much concerned about making a living, but we do not care so much about making a life. A well formed life will make a living.

cause if possible.

The Seniors of the Seminary presented a bronze tablet to the memory of the late Professor S.
A. Ort, as a class gift to the institution.

Denison—Dr. Hunt announced Tuesday morning in chapel that eight Seniors and three Juniors had been elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Following in the foot steps of eastern schools, the Ohio Wesleyan and Denison Glee Clubs gave a dual concert.

BIG DEBATES COMING

debate course. Buy you season ticket before you go home as the first debate comes on the Wednesday following the opening of school.

When Mr. Bale was in Athens
several days ago he met the Ohio debaters and their coach. He reports that Ohio has been preparing for the Otterbein struggle since the first of last December and thus is in good trim to meet our men. This indicates a hard fight on the 12th. Everybody help.

GIRLS LIVE WELL

God's universe is in harmony.
God has given us a chance and wants us to make our lives in harmony with His. Only God has a perfect life. Let us all aim to be like Him.

LOCALS

The Bonner House is much deserted now—Peck, Druhot and Muskopf having gone home.

"Cupe" Lambert went home for his vacation Sunday.

A sure sign of spring was seen Sunday evening. White frocks, white hats, etc., were much in evidence.

COCHRAN HALL ITEMS.

It would not be a great surprise to any of us if Hortense Potts should suddenly be found missing from her old haunts. In view of her recent fame as a cellist, she may be tempted to go on the stage.

The girls were very glad to welcome back an old friend in the person of Lucile Coppeck. She is the guest of Bonita Jamison.

Miss Verda Miles has been visiting her sister Carrie for the last week.

Miss Marie Summers is the guest of Ruth Cogan.

Saturday evening was a busy one for the receiving hostess and although none of the Seniors girls are wearing slings, it is safe to assume that their under-class companions will have the annual house-cleaning to do.

Miss Marie Summers has been the honor guest of two delightful parties. Friday evening a spread was given in Ruth and Bob's room. Saturday afternoon a number of Cochran Hall girls were present at an enjoyable sewing party given by Mary Williamson.

Saturday evening—well rather Saturday night, a few of the second floor girls tried to out-do the reception. They served grape sherbet and light cakes. And this was served in South Sea fashion.

As the whistles cease next week, perhaps the birds will have a good chance to be heard.

An old saying is now applicable to these girl friends of the Seniors. "By their macaroons and carnations ye shall know them."

Easter vacation has already begun for Ruth Detwiler, Helen Dittmer, Nell Homrighouse and Madge Carmen.
