CLASS CONTESTS ARE FAST GAMES

Interclass Basketball Series Starts
With Tie Fresh-Soph Game—
Sophs Win in Extra Time.

CROWD IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Seniors Take Easy Victory from Juniors—Fox Scores 31 Points—Second Games Next Saturday Night.

Otterbein's basket ball season was ushered in Saturday night by one of the closest and most exciting games that has been seen on the gym floor for several years.

As per the custom the underclassmen staged the better combat and both played a hair raising game. Both had strong support from the galleries the class of '23 leading in noise and numbers.

The sophs appeared in new purple jerseys with the figures '22 in white on the front. On account of the failure of the freshmen's jerseys to arrive they were forced to appear in white.

Peden played a strong game at guard and toward the finish of the game Wagoner brought the house to their feet with several perfect shots from the center of the floor. Collier, Ranck and Priest played a fine game for the freshmen; Ranck being everywhere on the floor. Toward the close of the game he had the misfortune to severely injure his ankle.

The sophs led off the first half with two field goals but the freshmen came back with three. Wagoner who had been out of the game the past two weeks on account of injury could not locate the basket during this half. The yearling's led in the scoring the remainder of the half and the half ended 24 to 16 with the freshmen on top.

Tracht was substituted for Collier in the second half. With eight points to tie the sophs started in with real determination to win, but the freshmen by hard playing kept ahead by a small margin. With the score 35 to 33 in favor of the class of '23, Wagoner caged the tying goal in the last minute of play.

Second Recital.

A number of music pupils of Otterbein college will be presented in the second recital of the season Wednesday evening, December 10, at the Otterbein Conservatory. There will be a varied program consisting of violin numbers, vocal and instrumental selections. The program will begin at 8 o'clock and friends are invited.

GRADUATE OF '94 SPEAKS

Dr. A. C. Flick Head of Department at Syracuse University Addresses Students on World Problems.

An unusual privilege was enjoyed by a good-sized audience of students and others in the college chapel, on Monday evening, Nov. 24 when they listened to an informal address on "The Present World Situation" by Dr. A. C. Flick, of the class of '94.

Doctor Flick declared that two of the greatest forces at work in the world today are nationalism and internationalism. He went on to explain how the national state, the world's greatest blessing, may by an overdrawn conviction of its own importance, become a most devilish curse. Germany is the paramount example of an overstressed nationalism and resultant ruin. He showed the force of the new idea of internationalism, making it plain that the period of state isolation is forever past and that in the future we are to think and live in terms of all nations. Our duty today is to preserve our nationalism but to temper it right and then to promote the growth of internationalism on a high unselfish standard to the end that law and order, to acquire which we have lately paid so high, may be guaranteed to all the world.

Doctor Flick has earned for himself high distinction in the field of History and Political Science. After his graduation from Otterbein, he spent several years in graduate work at Columbia University being awarded a fellowship there at the end of his first year. He is now head of the Department of History and Political Science of the University of Syracuse. Doctor Flick has traveled extensively in most countries of Europe and the Orient, having spent a year in resident study in Germany. His intimate acquaintance with world problems and his inexhaustible fund of first hand experience gives his remarks a charm that serves to intensify the effect of his skillful interpretation of the problems of the hour.

Henry Clay Frick.

Henry Clay Frick, Pittsburg and New York, millionaire, who died Tuesday, once attended Otterbein College. For a portion of 1867 he was in school here and was a member of the Philophronean Literary society. A number of older persons in Westerville and in college circles remember him.

It is recorded that he gave $1,000 to his society and later made a small gift to the same organization through Ed D. Ressler.

READER PLEASES AUDIENCE

Edwin M. Whitney, America's Greatest Reader of Plays, Delights Lecture Course Patrons.

Last Friday night in the college chapel, Edwin Whitney, reader and impersonator, gave the third number of the Citizen's Lecture Course.

The play read by Mr. Whitney was "The Fortune Hunter," a four act comedy, by Wendell Smith.

Considering all the talent that has appeared during the last few years on the lecture course, it is safe to say that, from the standpoint of entertainment at least, not one was so thoroughly and universally enjoyed as was the number given last Friday night. Everyone agreed that in hearing Mr. Whitney they had enjoyed a rare treat.

This is Mr. Whitney's fourth appearance upon the platform in Westerville. Twice he has appeared as a member of the Whitney Brothers' Quartet and once before he performed alone as a reader.

The committee in charge will certainly meet with hearty approval in securing Mr. Whitney, if possible, for a performance next year.

"LEFT-OVERS" ENTERTAINED

Co-eds of Cochran Hall Who Remain Here Over Thanksgiving Share Festivities with Men.

Ain't it fierce to be so lonesome, lonesome,
So rarin', tearin' lonesome, lonesome.
Never have no peace of mind,
We're the ones that are left behind.
All the others went away,
And poor us,—we had to stay.
Why, every couple years,
We shed a lot o' tears!
Ain't it fierce to be so lonesome?

Merrily the Cochran Hall "left-overs" sang this mournful ballad, as they assembled, some forty, strong, around the festal board on Thanksgiving day, to enjoy a "regular" four course dinner, that could hardly be outclassed even by one of mother's own.

This was only the beginning of the day's festivities, however, for hardly was the dinner completed until the guests of the day,—all other College "left-overs"—began to arrive. They found the parlors tastefully decorated with potted plants, yellow chrysanthemums and candles, and yellow shaded lights. A jolly afternoon was spent in old fashioned games and contests. The following short program was given:

OTTERBEIN WILL SEND ITS QUOTA

Students Elect Representation to World Convention to be Held at Des Moines Dec. 31 to Jan. 4.

PROFESSOR SCHEAR WILL GO

Otterbein Is Allowed Four Delegates—Foor, Hancock, Howe and Nichols Are Chosen by Students.

Six thousand students from practically every college and university of the United States and Canada will meet in Des Moines for five days this coming New Year's. Seven conventions similar to this one have been held in the past at four year intervals, but on account of the war, this is the first to be held in six years.

This is the first large student assembly since the war. It purposes to bring together representative delegations of students and professors from all the important institutions of higher learning of Canada and United States, and leaders of the Christian enterprise throughout the world. The serious situations prevailing in all countries today will be considered as well as the problem of evangelizing non-Christian people. It is to be hoped and expected that great inspiration and vision will be gained for the world-wide missionary program of the church.

An unexcelled opportunity is before those students who are so fortunate as to be chosen delegates. Opportunities to sit under such leaders as John R. Mott, Robert E. Speer, or Bertha Conde, do not come very often in the experience of the average student.

It is significant that practically every college is snatching up its full quota of registrations immediately, and many are clamoring for a chance to enlarge their representations.

Otterbein people who will be there are Professor Schear, Josephine Foor, Bertha Hancock, J. R. Howe and Manson Nichols. These delegates were chosen as the result of a very interesting popular election last week, in which the balloting was quite close.

College Officials Away

President W. G. Clippinger and Prof. J. P. West went to Harrisburg, Pa., Saturday to attend a meeting of the board of education of the United Brethren church. They spoke on Sunday in churches near Harrisburg. President Clippinger will go to New York from Harrisburg for a few days.

CLASS CONTESTS

ARE FAST GAMES

An extra period of five minutes was played and the soph's showed they still possessed the necessary punch by immediately dropping one through the basket. Ranck was hurt and Crabbs was substituted. Another field goal and two more fouls netted four more points for the sophs. The freshmen had no chance to score during the extra period and the game ended with the purple and pink ahead by six points.

The Score.

Freshmen (35)	Sophomores (41)
Priest R. F.	Martin
Collier, Tracht L. F.	Wagoner
Schreck C.	Albright
White R. G.	Peden
Ranck, Crabbs L. G.	Funk

Score at end of first half—24 to 16 (Freshmen). Score at end of second half—35 to 35. Field goals—Martin 4, Wagoner 8, Albright 6, Priest 5, Collier 4, Schreck 4, Tracht 3. Foul Goals—Albright 5 out of 16, Priest 3 out of 4. Referee—"Chuck" Campbell. Scorer—Cutler. Timekeeper—Bancroft.

Senior-Junior

The game between the upper classmen was won by the Seniors by a large margin. Fox veteran of three years was the bright light of the contest scoring 31 of the 43 points. Huber also played well adding six points to the already sufficient score. Meyers played well at guard giving the Juniors few opportunities to score. The less experienced Juniors could not locate the basket when chance offered and had to be content with but nine points, Cook making seven of these.

Fox had considerable difficulty getting near the ball on the toss up on account of Stearns' chest. Both Stearns and Barthlow were quite determined to hold Fox from scoring but "Lamont" was dropping them in from all angles.

Barthlow forgot himself in the first half and picking up the ball started to run for a touch down when "Chuck" called him back to try it over.

The next contest promises to be just as exciting as these initial ones. Every student should be out. A big basketball season is in sight with proper support.

The Score.

Seniors (43)	Juniors (9)
Oppelt R. F.	Cook
Huber L. F.	Pace
Fox C. Barthlow, Stearns
Schear R. G.	Philippi
Meyers, H. L. G.	Leichliter

Score at end of first half—16 to 3. Field goals—Fox 12, Oppelt 1, Huber 3, Meyers 1, Schear 1, Cook 3, Sterns 1. Foul Goals—Fox 7 out of 8—Cook 1 out 4, Pace 0 out 1.

Miss Hancock Presents Need for Consecrated Missionaries.

Bertha Hancock led one of the most vitally interesting meetings of the year, on the subject, "Over the Sea" last Tuesday evening at Y. W. C. A.

"The need is great for consecrated persons who will give their lives for the spread of the gospel. The task for us, who cannot go, is to enter into earnest, intercessory prayer with God, for those who have given their lives to this service. Doubtless Christ is often disappointed when we pray for our own selfish selves and neglect the heathen who need help so much.

"Our Days" will be the topic of the next meeting, led by Faye Byers.

Solo—Ethel Eubanks.
Song—Inverted Quartette.
Solo—Mae Sellman.
Medley—Virginia Wolfe and Virginia Taylor.
Apples and home-made candy were served.

After a short intermission, the same party re-assembled to spend the evening. The same spirit of merriment pervaded all, as in the afternoon. The evening program follows:

Violin Solo—Virginia Snavely.
Reading—Paul Harris.
Song—J. L. Oppelt.
Reading—Hazel Payne.
Illustrated Song—Alice Abbott and Edna Dellinger.
Piano Solo—F. L. Roberts.
Movie—"Wild Nell, the Pet of the Plains."

The formal program ended in a whirl of laughter provoked by the realistic movie, and the rest of the evening was spent in a hilarious and informal manner, terminating in a grand march leading from attic to cellar and ending in the dining room where doughnuts and hot chocolate were served.

The hour was nearing midnight when the guests departed, all realizing that they had been too busy having a good time to be the least bit homesick.

Professor Schear Speaks to Men Assembled at Y. M. C. A.

"Doubt" was the subject of a very excellent address given by Professor Schear at Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. Some of the outstanding features of his talk are given below:

"To live rationally is the greatest problem of life. We cannot trifle with great problems and still keep our sympathies awakened. Our whole life may be divided into a sort of triangle, what we are, what we have, and what we do. The mind may also be looked upon as having three sides, the intellectual, the emotional, the volitional. Growth never stops in a character or in a life. In our life building we are either helped or hindered by the habits we form. The reason why so many people doubt is because they do not think through a proposition. A doubting mind is an uncertain mind. We should look upon doubt only as a temporary state. Belief engenders powers and kindles action. We should not dwell too long upon doubt but should consider those things that we believe. Doubting and wrestling with unbelief have hindered the progress of the world."

EDITORIAL

"Life is a sequence and the man who does great work has long been in training for it."—The Philistine."

Juniors Are Busy.

The Junior class is to be commended
on having the initiative and industry essential for issuing a Sibyl this year.
Formerly the Sibyl was a biennial publication but the class of '21, has taken the forward step in making it an annual. The faculty has granted permission to make this change and each and everyone should be interested in making this initial attempt successful so as to establish this new precedent.

Staff members were chosen several weeks ago and they are spending much time and effort to put out an elaborate book. The price will be made as low as possible but their chief concern is to produce a Sibyl containing many photographs, pages representing all the various phases of student life and all departmental activities, richly decorated and well bound.

After graduation a set of the four annuals depicting college days will constantly grow in value. Surely no student will pass up the opportunity of securing these publications. We predict that success will crown the efforts of the Juniors this year and we take pride in their enterprise.

Bolshevism at Home.

It may not seem appropriate for college students to exercise opinions on such vitally inherent national questions as the following. But the college students are training for leaders and their present vision will be reality in the future.

There is apparent unrest throughout the country. The true keynote or basic principle on which it moves is undetermined. What men ask for, that is within the pale of reason, is justifiable. However, the present demand by some organizations is sanity run aground. It is not the natural demand for rationalism, it is not the necessity of money for a livelihood; it is some potent force gradually transforming into a dynamic wave that is moving toward—! Who can name it?

It is not an out and out anything definite. We cannot call it revolution, nor yet anarchy. But it has the ear-marks and points in the same direction as Bolshevism.

You men who think and have dreams of economic utopias, national unity and a christianized nation, hold fast to your ideals. Your very souls are going to be tried and men with the strongest ideals will win. Grip
the situation and prove yourselves so as to be fit.

POLITICAL COMMENT

Congressman Gardner once remarked, "President Wilson would send the Kaiser to Sunday School. I would send him to St. Helena."

The same thing may be said concerning certain unruly Mexicans.

Old King Coal is the ruler of the country nowadays, and we must be careful how we treat him, or he will give us the cold shoulder.

The American consular agent who was held by the Mexicans, Mr. Jenkins, has been released, and the relation between the two countries is a little more satisfactory to those who have at heart the peace of the nation.
But the incident has brought up the old question of intervention. Is this peace the most honorable solution,
even though it be the most advantageous to ourselves? There are two sides to the question. One Senator says that intervention is the only method of putting Mexico on its feet, while another maintains that such a course would cause Carranza to assume a dictatorship and control the coming elections, and bring about all kinds of trouble. It is to be admitted that something must be done, but intervention of any sort means armed intervention, and one of the healthiest wars that the United States will have ever fought.

CLUB TALK

Squareness.

Sometimes a student is compelled to ask or wonder just why or how a certain election or affair was conducted.
Sometimes in our relations with each other as students a certain function is somewhat hazy. Sometimes our elections are "railroaded" through on acclamation basis which seems to be self-evidence of crookedness.
Sometimes a presiding officer recognizes certain ones and seems fearful of giving others a chance to express their opinions upon the subject under discussion. The writer wonders, if we have asked ourselves frankly and honestly, "Have we, performed to the best of our belief?" "Have we actually elected one worthy of this position?" "Have we acted without prejudice or self-interest?" "Have we allowed politics or under-handed dealing to take possession of the business in hand?" Or on the other hand can we say we have acted in good faith.
Have we performed in such a way that even if we do not all agree on one subject or perhaps become strong opponents yet each will vouch that the other is square. Will the one esteem the other as a friend, who is opposing because of sincere and honest motives or must we think of each other as being "crooked" and worse than all carry in our own realization the fact that we actually were "crooked" and surrendered "principle" in order to secure a selfish end.

Aged Minister Dies.

Funeral services were held last Thursday afternoon and the body of Rev. H. H. Bovey of Clayton, a minister nearly 90 years old, was laid to rest in Otterbein cemetery. The Bovey family is one of the few in which there are as many as six Otterbein graduates.

In the pioneer days, a minister in the position of Reverend Mr. Bovey had to make supreme sacrifice in order to give his children the benefits of higher education but he managed to do it. It is also a tribute to him that all of his sons, three in number, are ministers. There are three daughters, all Otterbein graduates and two have double diplomas, having graduated in the college of liberal arts and music and art.

Reverend Mr. Bovey was widely known and beloved in the United Brethren church.

Funeral services were held in the United Brethren church Sunday afternoon. Rev. E. E. Burtner was in charge of the services and interment was made at the Otterbein cemetery, Westerville.
