SOPHOMORES WIN SECOND VICTORY

Preparatory Team Is Handicapped by Loss of Cutler and Sophs Win

FRESHMEN BEAT JUNIORS

Yearlings Substitute Scrub Team and Win From Juniors—Championship Game Next Wednesday Night.

On Saturday night, by defeating the Preps, the Sophomores gained another lap in the race for the class basketball championship. The Preps played hard but were unable to break through the defense of the second year men.

Cutler was hurt in the first few minutes of play and this spoiled the Academy students' chances for putting up a stiffer opposition to the fast traveling Sophs.

The race leaders had a hard time getting started but Wagoner finally opened up the scoring by caging one from the center of the floor. He (Wagoner) then to prove he did not carry horseshoes proceeded to throw them from any position on the floor. His work in the last two games has been remarkable as he has thrown nineteen field goals. Albright added six points in the first half and Martin and Peden each contributed a goal.

Both Peden and Troop put up a good defensive game allowing few close shots and breaking up any attempt to score by close passing.

The second half was marked by more fouling and poorer passing and shooting. The Sophs added sixteen points but the best the Preps could do was to double their score making a total of ten points. The game ended with the score standing 43 to 10.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

Four Seniors and Three Juniors Will Compete for Prizes in Oratory
Tuesday Night.

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 16, the Annual Russell Oratorical Contest will be held in the College chapel at 7:30. This contest, which is made possible by Doctor Russell, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, promises to be more interesting this year than ever before.

Only upper classmen are eligible for entrance. This year there are seven contestants:—four seniors and three juniors as follows: J. L. Oppelt, Ramey Huber, Mary Ballinger, C. M. Sweezy, O. A. Jaynes, Dale Phillippi and J. R. Howe.

The public is cordially invited to attend the contest. The orations are well prepared, and orchestra numbers will be interspersed throughout the program. Three competent judges have been selected for the occasion, and prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be awarded.

In addition to this, the winner of first prize will represent Otterbein at the Annual State Oratorical Contest to be held at Hiram College sometime in February.

ENDEAVORERS HOLD PARTY

Large Gathering Enjoy Novel Entertainment—Harley and Howe Conduct Evening's Program.

Section A of the Christian Endeavor of the United Brethren church enjoyed a unique social on Friday night, in the form of a Christmas excursion on the B. & O. Railroad.

After fishing for partners, each gentleman and the lady of his choice received tickets which entitled them to a free ride on the only train of its kind in existence. An unusually buoyant conductor tramped up and down the aisles shouting out the stations, while the merry excursionists conversed on literary, religious, nonsensical and visionary subjects with their partners.

After a general transfer to another division of the B. & O. refreshments were served by the social committee and at a late hour the unrivalled excursion came to an end.

Christmas Open Sessions.

Both Philalethea and Cleiorhetea will hold their annual Christmas Open Sessions in the Philomathean and Philophronean halls on next Thursday night, December 18. Visitors are welcome to attend either session. Delightful programs will be offered.

LETTER MEN ARE INITIATED

Baseball Men of Last Year and Past Season's Football Men Appear In Strange Costumes.

The Varsity "O" Association was again in evidence Monday when seven of this year's football men, two baseball men who failed to take the initiation last year, and R. W. Schear this year's football manager took the initiation for Otterbein's honorary athletic organization.

The football men being initiated were Troop, Van Mason, Hert, Cavanaugh, Tracht and Huber. The baseball men were Wells and Mignery.

To see these men around the campus Monday one would hardly have recognized them. Troop appeared as a ballet dancer; VanMason, a paper boy; Hert impersonated Bud Fisher's well known character, Mutt, while Mignery acted as Jeff. Cavanaugh as a traffic cop efficiently cared for the heavy traffic in front of the campus. Tracht as a "vamp" oggled the males of the college in a scandalous fashion. Huber, a small boy, escorted the ladies to and from the Dorm beating his drum and blowing his whistle.

Wells disguised as a woman was the watchful mother of Schear who appeared as a small child, munching graham wafers contentedly.

CLEIORHETEA GIVES PLAYLET

Girls Society Varies Monotony of Regular Programs by Presenting Playlet "The Arrival of Billy."

Cleiorhetea presented a clever little playlet Thursday night—"The Arrival of Billy," instead of the regular literary program.

Marvel Sebert took the part of John Sherwood and Edna Dellinger that of Mrs. Sherwood. These two worthies received word that "Billy" was being sent by a distant relative to stay for some time with them.

Naturally, they made extensive preparation for their little four-year-old guest in the matter of toys and playthings, and were ably assisted by mother-in-law Noyes (Mildred Deitsch), Miss Flint (May Sellman), a noisy old maid. Miss Wright, the nurse (Violet Patterson) and Mrs. Nelson, (Violet Hovermale).

After all was made ready for dear little Billy's arrival, John Sherwood hastened to the train and brought home to the waiting guests,—dear little Billy—a maltese cat.

LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS CANTATA

T. Flexington Harker's "The Star of Bethlehem" Is Well Renedered
By Church Choir.

CHORUS IS WELL BALANCED

Soloists Present Splendid Numbers—Professor Spessard Directs With Professor Grabill Playing.

Christmas-tide was heralded this year by a splendid cantata given Sunday evening by the United Brethren church choir.

"The Star of Bethlehem" by T. Flexington Harker was presented to a large audience of music-lovers. Professor Spessard directed and Professor Grabill acted as accompanist in the giving of this Christmas cantata.

Every soloist sang well and thus added to the beauty of the work as a whole. Mrs. Martin and Miss Fontanelle were the soprano soloists, Miss Eubanks and Miss Clow the alto, Mr. Oppelt and Mr. Harris the tenor, and Mr. Hollinger the bass.

"The March of the Magi" as an organ solo by Professor Grabill pleased the hearers especially. Much credit is due, both to the director and his faithful choir for the rendition of this Christmas music.

Music Pupils Give Entertaining Recital in Lambert Hall

Pupils of the Conservatory of Music presented their second recital of the year at Lambert Hall on last Wednesday evening. Piano, vocal and violin numbers composed the well balanced and varied program. A number of the selections were rendered by the younger pupils of the conservatory, and their work shows much promise. The vocal solos by Miss Fontanelle and Miss Shafer with cello obligato by Professor Spessard were unusually fine, and deserve special mention; as does also the violin solo by Floyd Elliot. However, all the numbers were excellent, and the program was both interesting and entertaining.

Christmas Vacation.

The Christmas vacation will begin at 12 noon on Friday, December 19 and will end on Tuesday, January 6 at chapel hour. Otterbein has a comparatively long recess this year. The Tan and Cardinal wishes all her readers a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

men played well, "Little" White leading in the scoring. The score at the end of this half was 16 to 5.

The freshmen substituted the regular lineup in the second half but failed to score as many points as their predecessors, the scrubs.

The last ten minutes was rather farcical. Neither side could come any place near the iron cage so the crowd joined in the fun by shouting for more shots. They were obeyed, to a great extent for as soon as a man received the ball he proceeded to try for a goal. The result was a wild scramble from which the yearlings finally emerged on top to the score of 30 to 6.

Substitutions—Leichleiter for Pace, Barthlow for Cook, Stearns for Leichleiter, Warrick for Phillippi, Collier for Shutz, Priest for White, Tracht for Franklin, White for Shy, Schreck for Crabbs.

Next Wednesday night the championship game will be played when the Seniors meet the Sophomores. Reserved seats will be on sale Wednesday noon at Cochran Hall and at the gym.

Freshmen Give "Rube" Party In Association Building.

As the bell in the old tower rang the hour of seven-thirty, the "rubes" and "rube-ettes" of the Freshman class congregated in the Association building. The costumes were rare. The men wore overalls and flannel shirts, with bandana handkerchiefs and gum boots; the girls appeared very young and shy in gingham aprons and big hair ribbons. After all the country folk had arrived the fun began.

"Farmer-in-the-dell" and "How-do-you-do, my pardner" were played after which came the spelling match. Professor West, arrayed in all the finery and dignity of a country school teacher, pronounced the words. The new spelling introduced in this match was quite astonishing. Following the spelling match several interesting contests were participated in.

One of the principle features of the evening was the Grand March led by Miss Whistler and Mr. Lea, chairman of the Freshman class social committee. The march terminated at the refreshment table where the gallant swains received generous helpings of ice cream and animal crackers for themselves and their ladies.

The party was voted a great success and enjoyed by all the participants.

Well! What y' think o' that? Who could have had the nerve? It must have been a Freshman! To think of Prexy's favorite arm chair being surreptitiously withdrawn from the Chapel platform in the wee sma' hours of the day, before the janitor arose. Yes, undoubtedly a Freshman must have done the deed. A thorough search has failed to locate it in any room of Cochran Hall. The logical thing to be done next is to institute a systematic canvass of every Freshman room in town. We hope the Sophomores will see to this immediately, as it is a heart rending picture, to see, in your imagination, a mere Freshman luxuriating in the cushioned depths of such a chair while he cons his French lesson or peruses the latest letter from his girl back home.

Doctor Sanders attended the inauguration ceremonies of Dr. Charles Wishart as president of Wooster College, Wooster. Dr. Sanders acted in the capacity of Otterbein's official representative in the service.

Takes Part in Comedy.

At the annual fall ceremonial of Aladdin Temple Friday at Masonic Temple Prof. G. G. Grabill took part in the musical comedy entertainment. Initiation will be held Jan. 9 owing to the large number of candidates. Among the honor guests was W. Freeland Kendrick of Philadelphia, imperial potentate of Shriners. Over 4000 central Ohio Shriners attended the ceremonial.

Hert Elected To Staff.

Lyman S. Hert was elected local editor of the Tan and Cardinal by the Publication Board last Tuesday. The office was made vacant by Hazel Payne's resignation.

Notice To Subscribers.

Complaints have come to the editor to the effect that the Tan and Cardinal has not been received until several days after the usual time. This is not the fault of the staff because the paper has been published on Monday throughout the school year.

The trouble is with the mail delivery. Post offices are swamped with Christmas mail and a second class matter is delayed.

The next issue of the Tan and Cardinal will be published on January 12.

CHRISTMAS DELIGHT

We have the first shipment of baskets to come into this section of the state. There are shoppers and market baskets, fancy for the table, waste baskets, souvenir baskets, in short a large assortment that have just come from the port of New York.

You know the lovely china both plain and decorated. You should see the exquisite copper wheel etched glass from Libbey, the star bottom patterns from Dorflinger, the beautiful straight lines from Heisey. They are gems every one, and tell their story of refinement and taste in whatever room or home they are found. Then there are cards and mottoes, booklets and odd things in printing that makes the heart cry with joy at their beauty.

The Japanese department is receiving new goods all the time. Ivories and incense burners, chains and figures, rare embroideries, costly cloisonne, kimono, exquisite lacquer work, preserved ginger, chinese tea.

There is Sheffield silver and Community in pretty designs.

Shortage of Teachers.

Recently a questionnaire was sent out by the Field Secretary of the National Education Association to every county and district superintendent of schools in the United States.

The information sought included the actual shortage of teachers at the opening of school in September, the number of teachers below standard who had been accepted in order to fill vacancies, the relation of salary increases to the increased cost of living, whether or not the number of teachers under 21 years of age has increased, and whether or not promising young men and women are being attracted to teaching as in the past.

The total number of inquiries sent out was 3,465. At the time this article was prepared, September 22, replies had been received from 1,512 superintendents. These replies are signed by the respective superintendents making the reports and are from every state in the Union. Coming from such reliable sources, and from every part of the country, they undoubtedly represent conditions as they actually exist. It is impossible at this time to furnish a complete tabulation of the reports received, but the following important facts are of interest.

The 1,512 superintendents reporting represent 221,296 teaching positions, but none of the large cities are included. They report a total shortage of 12,934 teachers, and a total of 22,138 teachers below standard who have been accepted in order to fill vacancies.

These figures show the shortage of teachers to be 5.84 per cent of the teaching positions represented, and that the number of teachers below standard who have been admitted is almost exactly 10 per cent of the teaching positions. The Bureau of Education estimates that there are 650,000 teaching positions in the public schools of the United States. If these per cents hold good for the entire country, the total shortage of teachers in the United States must be about 38,000, and the number of teachers below standard approximately 65,000. In other words, more than 100,000 teaching positions in the United States are either without teachers, or else supplied with teachers who are admittedly unqualified to teach, measured by the standards of the respective localities in which the schools are situated.

1,430 superintendents report that teacher's salaries have not been increased in proportion to the increased cost of living, and 1,267 report that they have found it necessary to lower the standard of qualifications in an effort to supply teachers.

1,052 superintendents say the number of teachers below 21 years of age is increasing. Many report that their rural schools are being taught largely by young girls without professional training. 1,395 declare that promising young men and women are not being attracted to teaching as in the past.

The reports show that conditions are most serious where salaries are lowest. In some states the shortage of teachers is more than 20 per cent.
In those states where salaries have been increased most conditions are much more encouraging, the shortage in some cases being as low as 2 per cent.

Please Co-operate.

The Sibyl staff is working out a schedule for individuals and organizations to have their pictures taken at Baker's Art Gallery for the purpose of having cuts made for the new annual.
It will be necessary for everyone to be prompt and on the job when they are told to report for a picture. It will also be necessary for classes and organizations to help bear the expense of pictures and cuts. This has been the custom in past years and must be followed if we wish to have the Sibyl this year.

POLITICAL COMMENT

French officials, though unofficially, have indicated that the proposed treaty reservations discussed in the Senate, would not be unacceptable to their government. Other European powers would also likely accept the reservations but the trouble is we ourselves cannot agree concerning them. The Democrats offered reservations which were not so essentially different from those of the Republicans that some compromise could not be made, or at least attempted. But no; each side wants all or nothing.

We quote from a letter by Theodore Roosevelt to his son Kermit, written on the eve of his possible re-nomination to the Presidency in 1904:
"It is a wonderful privilege to have been here (the White House), and to have been given the chance to do this work, and I should regard myself as having a small and mean mind if in the event of defeat I felt soured at not having had more instead of being thankful for having had so much."

Though this is only a personal observation of the great man, it brings a message as important as any of his public addresses. We have forgotten our blessings and remembered our petty inconveniences. We have forgotten others and remembered ourselves. All of us, from politicians to coal miners, should be "thankful for having had so much," and all our differences shall speedily dissolve.

Ex '57. General Morris Schaff of Boston, Massachusetts, who has served for many years as a member of the board of electric light and gas commissioners of the state of Massachusetts, has just retired from that work. Governor Coolidge has extended to him the thanks of the commonwealth for the efficient service he has rendered the state. In his letter to General Schaff Governor Coolidge says in part:

"For a generation you have been in the service of Massachusetts. You have seen the establishment and development of the present facilities for lighting by public service corporations. You have had a great deal to do with that development and have been a contributor to its success. In all this you have rendered a pre-eminent public service. To you is due the thanks of the commonwealth.

"I trust that in your retirement the contemplation of your services will bring you an increasing satisfaction."

'91. Edgar L. Weinland, a prominent lawyer and member of the city council of Columbus, O., was the speaker at the forum luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Deshler Hotel last Friday. "Municipal Government" was Mr. Weinland's theme and he told the advantages of the present home rule charter under which the municipal government of Columbus is operated. He also discussed the commission and city manager form of government. Mr. Weinland was one of the fifteen members of the charter commission that drafted the present charter which has been in operation in Columbus since 1916.

She is employed there as laboratory assistant in the textile section of the Bureau of Standards, and is making her home with her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Horace B. Drury (Ruth Williamson), '10, '10, at 5025 Wisconsin Avenue.

'06. Dr. E. E. Burtner of Westerville, Ohio, spent most of last week in the East in the interest of the Inter-Church World Movement. He is a member of a team holding meetings in several of the larger eastern cities including Trenton, New Jersey, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

'12. Miss Helen Converse, who has been doing reconstruction work in France for the last year, is expected to arrive in New York City early this week. Miss Converse sailed from Marseilles, where she was delayed for some time on account of the shortage of coal.

'14. Mrs. Howard W. Elliott (Mil-

Pace from the Moody Bible Institute. Accompanied by her brother a vocal duet was rendered at the morning service at the First United Brethren church.

Hindu Addresses Men at

Y. M. C. A. Thursday Night

The Y. M. C. A. was very fortunate Thursday evening in having the pleasure of listening to Mr. Duhl-wani, a native of India. Mr. Duhl-wani has been in the United States about five years educating himself. He goes about giving lectures one year in order to get enough money to attend school the next. He expects to attend the University of Cincinnati next year. He speaks English very well. His subject was "The Social and Educational Life of the People of India." He explained the caste system and told of its history. He also discussed the customs of the people, their marriage ceremonies and their religion.

The singing of several songs in two of the different languages of India especially delighted his audience. A free will offering was taken for him at the close of the meeting.

Ladies Discuss Best

Ways of Using Time.

Mary Tinstman led the discussion in Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday evening upon the subject "Our Days." It is well for college girls to take a mental review of the manner in which they spend their time. In the rush of things, they are all apt to drift into unbalanced habits of life. Time in college, as well as anywhere else, is a valuable thing, and should be carefully divided so as to provide for things social and religious, as well as for study and recitation.

This week a Christmas meeting will be held, and the Y. M. C. A. is cordially invited to meet with us promptly at 6:30 on Tuesday evening.

Class Organizes Club.

Following the suggestion of Dr. A. C. Flick, '94, who was here recently in the interests of an organization of Polity Clubs, Doctor Snively has organized his class in Political Science into a study club. One period each month will be given over to a study of current political problems. At a meeting of the class last week Virgil Willet was elected president, Floyd Roberts, secretary of the club.

ATHLETIC DIRECTORS MEET

Arrange Schedules and Discuss Rules

—Jab is Made at Professionalism

—Martin Completes Schedule.

Athletic Director R. F. Martin and Coach Ray Watts met in Columbus at the Chittenden Hotel last Saturday with the athletic directors and officials of the colleges of the Ohio conference. Coach Martin completed the 1920 football schedule at this time and it follows below.

The purpose of this meeting was to arrange schedules and discuss and come to an agreement on rules which often become matters of dispute. Positive action was also taken against professional football activities of men associated with Ohio Conference College athletics. As a result of a vote it will no longer be permissible for men working in the Ohio Conference to officiate in professional contests. This will mean the cutting off of the revenue of many officials, who perhaps will heed the call of finances rather than the uplifting of the sport. The stand was taken at the meeting that officials as well as players, in appearing in professional games are capitalizing on their frame won at college and that colleges should have some means of retaliating for the abuse of its name. However it was agreed by those at the meeting that the maximum fee for officials in the conference football games should be $25 or, an advance of $5.00.

And another jab at professionalism was made which carries with it a distinct sting, providing it is adopted by faculty representatives of Ohio Conference colleges. It is to the effect that no man connected with the physical educational departments or schools be allowed to figure in professional football games and in case of violation of this rule his name be taken from the roster of the schools' employees. This however will have to be passed upon by the faculties and until that time it will be inoperative.

On October 30 Ohio University probably will appear in Columbus with Otterbein. Tentative arrangements were made for a contest in Columbus, provided suitable arrangements can be made with officials of the Columbus baseball club. It is believed by officials of the two schools that this game will draw well from the central part of Ohio and that such a departure in the schedule building of Ohio and Otterbein will be well worth trying.

Football schedule follows:

September 25—Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware.

Advice.

Young man, if you fail in a subject or two,

Don't give up all hope, but with courage anew

Work a little bit harder; your not beaten yet

And it may help you some, if you'll

please not forget

There are others.

Young man, if you're honestly trying to lead

A clean, manly life, and you don't quite succeed,

In becoming a saint, never mind, try again;

You will win out at last, tho' you fail now, and then—

There are others.

Young man, if you want some girl you have met

And she frowns on your hopes,—do not slay yourself yet

She is fair as the morning and virtuous too,

But perhaps a still fairer is destined for you—

There are others.

—The "Mirror".

Occupational Oddities.

The coal-man is a sly old fox;

In fact, he's quite a paradox—

For coal he always makes us pay,

And yet he gives his coal a weigh.

—Philadelphia Record.

The house-contractor is a man

Who works on a peculiar plan—

Suppose a building he would raze,

He pulls it down, so odd his ways.

—Seattle Record

The baker's an unselfish guy—

Such altruism dims our eye—

His bread he lets us have when he Quite clearly kneads it more than we.

—Houston Chronicle.

The water's name don't seem to fit;

We fail to see the sense of it;

He hurries to and fro with plates—

The diner 'tis who really waits.

A PRAYER FOR SCHOOLS

By Dr. Frank Crane

O God, Thou hast put into our hands the future of the race. We are made co-workers with Thy spirit in creating the world that is to be.

Thou hast put every new generation in the lap of the old, that there may be continuity of growth.

Awaken us to our responsibility. Stir us up to our incomparable privilege. Make keen within us the conviction that we have no work more vital to do than to teach.

Reveal to us the school as the heart of the world's work.

Vast problems press upon us. The world is upturned. The masses seethe in the ferment of untried theories. Yet the way is so simple! It lies thru the child.

The road to the Golden Age runs thru the schoolhouse.

There is no reform, however far-reaching, no establishment of justice, however revolutionary, that might not better be accomplished by patience thru the instruction of the children, than thru the schemes of politics or the violence of war.

Arms and disorder, destruction and overturning, are man's way. The school is Thy way.

Lay upon the conscience of every teacher the divinity of his employ. Give him the enthusiasm of his opportunity. Show him the beauty, the majesty, of his calling, the marvel of his art, the proper pride of his craftsmanship!

Make every parent realize that the best gift in his power for the child is the school!

Lay deep in every child's heart an unshakeable ambition to learn, to know, to come to mastery.

And unfold to us increasingly what education means! Shake from us the ghost grip of the past, the narrowing hold of tradition, while we still preserve what is good.

Deepen, broaden, enlarge our conception of the school. Make us glad to spend more for it, as the best of all investments for the security of the world.

And show us that there can be no salvation for the race that does not first mean salvation for the child, by striking from his brain the chain of ignorance, from his heart the iron rim of superstition, and from his hand the curse of the unskilled.
