ABOUT OUR NEW PRESIDENT

From the 1922 SIBYL:

"Journalistically inclined, this young man is the editor of the Tan and Cardinal. He participates in athletics, especially football. Has some firm friends and no enemies. Besides his work he has a girl."

From the 1921 TAN AND CARDINAL:

"'Gord' has an enviable record in that he has played in every game that has been staged since he came to Otterbein in 1918. Only on two occasions was he unable to finish. As a guard and center he was hard to beat."

A REPRESENTATIVE STUDENT

Our president was a very representative student. He was president of Quiz and Quill, captain of the Debating Team, member of the Men's Glee Club, the Y.M.C.A. cabinet, the Student Council, the Athletic Board, and the Varsity "O". He was affiliated with the Philopronian Literary Society and the Country Club Fraternity.—And this is not all, according to the Sibyl, which said of him

"And when a lady's in the case
You know all other things give place."

Homecoming 1945

Homecoming!

It is a word with a variety of romantic and sentimental associations these days as men and women in uniform return from places near and far. There is much rejoicing on all sides and much to be thankful for when veterans come home from the wars to take up again the skein of life and begin anew to weave their civilian careers.

The thrills of homecoming are not foreign to a college campus. Many a man in the armed forces thinks of his college as his second home, thoughts often turn to college teachers, fellow students and collegiate experiences that can never be duplicated elsewhere, and plans are made to get back to the campus as soon as possible after demobilization.

Certain war veterans have already come home to Otterbein. A number are in the upper classes and there are more among the freshmen. Others are joining them from time to time. By the second semester it is expected that an appreciable group of ex-service men and women will be in evidence.

How do the veterans fit into college life?

Fine!

If they are having troubles of readjustment they are keeping them to themselves. If all students could take college in stride as well as the veterans are doing, there would be few campus problems. Otterbein is glad to help each veteran find those courses most helpful to him and credit is given for numerous courses and studies taken under military auspices.

On Homecoming Day, November 3, we welcome home, cordially and heartily, every alumnus and ex-student, and a host of other Otterbein friends. But particularly will we welcome the men and women in khaki, or blue or olive drab.

To those who can not be here because of being detained by a certain Uncle Sam, there can still be Homecoming in spirit, for thoughts and emotions can transcend space and leap all barriers. You will recall the words of the familiar hymn which begins with the phrase, "Blest be the tie that binds," and ends with this significant suggestion:

"When we asunder part,
It gives us inward pain;
But we shall still be joined in heart
And hope to meet again."

So here are homecoming greetings to all sons and daughters of Otterbein, old and young, wherever they are.

Very cordially,
J. GORDON HOWARD,
President

THE PRESIDENT COMMITS HIMSELF

The First United Brethren Church, Dayton, gave a farewell reception to Dr. J. Gordon Howard and family at which time Dr. A. T. Howard, '94, father of the new Otterbein president, gave an address on "Here, Lord, Is My Son." The president responded by "I Dedicate Myself."

"I DEDICATE MYSELF"

To God, the Creator and Sustainer of the Universe, and Father of the human heart—

To Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior, Friend and Guide—

To the Holy Spirit, the Comforter—

I dedicate myself.

To the ideals of the Church: truth, honor, purity, courage, industry, thrift, generosity, love and mercy—

To the values found in the Church: worship, evangelism, missions, education, service and fellowship—

To a constant striving to be worthy of the confidence of the people of the Church—

To all for which this Church, First Church, stands, and to all which First Church has done to impart and stir and edify—

I dedicate myself.

To the high purposes and expectations of a Christian home—

To the home of my parents which has been a school for living, a temple for worship, a shelter from storm, a laboratory for social experience, a meeting place for friends and the abiding place of loved ones—

To the best as it has been revealed to me by father and mother through the years, through inspiration, guidance, discipline and sacrifice—

To be true to the love and faith of Rhea, my wife, and to the sincere trust of Gloria and Sarah,
my daughters, in our home today—

To the blessings represented in Christian comradeship of good friends, the fraternal fellowship of true brothers—

I dedicate myself.

To the ennobling qualities represented in the benefits received from the community, state and nation—

To the quest for truth fostered by good schools and wise teachers—

To the three-fold standard of: physical fitness, mental alertness and spiritual vitality upheld by agencies for character building in this community—

To the spirit of service and sacrifice manifest by noble men and women who give unstintingly of time, talent and treasure that Dayton may be a better city, Ohio a better state, and the United States a better nation—

I dedicate myself.

To the doing of useful work, the assuming of responsibilities without arrogance, the doing of tasks without worry, the striving for promptness without hurry, the arranging for detail without pettiness, the broadening of views without vagueness, the doing of each day's quota for the glory of God and the service of fellowmen—

I dedicate myself.

To a further pursuit within due bounds of an enriching and inspiring acquaintanceship with good books, music, pictures, and other instances of the best in the spirit and expression of mankind—

I dedicate myself.

To the spirit of youth at its best, exemplified in the student life of a college campus—

To the day by day cooperation with faculty, students, alumni, townspeople, churchmen and other persons and groups that Otterbein College may be at its best, to fulfill its God-given mission—

I dedicate myself.

"ALL THIS AND HEAVEN TOO"

Homecoming 1945! What rich memories cluster around the "homecomings" of other years! The crowning of the queen, the football game, the reunions of frats and sororities, the play.

But this year it promises to be "bigger and better" than ever. In the title of a once best seller,—“All This and Heaven Too.” Think of the added attractions that combine to make this the greatest “Homecoming,”—the inauguration of Otterbein’s new president, Dr. J. Gordon Howard, the campus filled with “heavy weights” from other colleges, and then the climax of the day—the recorded panel discussion which will be broadcast on Sunday afternoon at 1:00 over WBNS, Columbus.

Do you realize how fortunate Otterbein is to be selected by the A. A. U. W. as the college from whose campus will originate the Columbus Town Meeting of the Air in its panel discussion of the liberal arts college in the post-war world?

How many of you alumni and ex-students are planning to be here? It will be well for you to notify Mr. Morris Allton, Director of Public Relations, to reserve a place for you at the Homecoming Dinner which precedes the broadcast.

ACTIONS OF THE COUNCIL

A NEW REGISTER

The Alumni Council in session on August 29 approved the recommendation of President McFadden that a new alumni register be prepared and ready for distribution during the Centennial year. It was noted that the last register was published in 1928 and is out of print as well as out of date. The plan of financing such a publication has not been determined. Any suggestions, alumni? Do you want a register?

ALUMNI DUES

Action was taken by the council to make special effort to increase the number of persons paying alumni dues. Last year less than one-third of the alumni paid dues. It was the feeling of the council that most people fail to pay dues because they neglect to do it when the statement arrives and then they forget it. If you are in this class, get out your check book now—immediately—before you read further and fill it out for $2.00 if your wife or husband did not go to Otterbein and $3.00 if both of you studied here. Our goal is 100% of alumni paying dues by 1947.

THE TOWERS

Four issues will be coming this year. You have noted there are now twenty pages instead of sixteen. They go to every graduate and ex-student whose correct address we can secure. Every issue has gone to our service men and women. Their expressions of appreciation are worth all they cost and worth all the effort in preparation. The TOWERS is financed by alumni dues.

CLASS REUNIONS

The following classes will have reunions on Alumni Day next June eighth: '86, '96, '06, '16, '21, '26, '36. The classes of '96, '21, and '36 should make special effort this year since it will be their fiftieth, twenty-fifth and tenth anniversaries respectively. Presidents of classes should begin at once to contact members. The class roll will be supplied by the alumni office if desired.

DANIEL HARRIS, '23

Music lovers will have a rare treat on Friday evening, November 2, when Dr. Daniel Harris, '23, will give a voice recital in the college chapel. Doctor Harris, after graduating from Otterbein, studied under some of the best teachers in Europe and America. He is a former member of the Metropolitan Opera Company and has been soloist with many of America's leading symphonies. He is now a member of the faculty at Oberlin college.

MAKE RESERVATIONS

Due to limited facilities only the official delegates and honored guests can be accommodated at the Inaugural Luncheon at the Masonic Temple. Lunch will be served at the United Brethren Church, and alumni are earnestly requested to make reservations in advance. Use the form below to make reservations for the lunch and the Homecoming dinner.

ADDITIONAL LIBRARY GIFTS

Above and below are the pictures of ten more men and women who belong to the Century Club—the group of one hundred men and women who will have made possible the new Centennial Library. The club now has forty-one members. Let us have ten more pictures, ten more members, to present in the December issue of the TOWERS. What better way can you invest $1,000? What glorious returns you will receive on your investment! Your gift will go on serving youth for generations to come. Two hundred fifty dollars for four years is one way to make payment, if you begin this year.

GENEROUS CHURCH SUPPORT

The churches are setting the pace in the Centennial campaign. They have underwritten their whole goal of $330,000 and have paid in cash $165,296.78, or 50.08% of their goal. This is a marvelous record and indicates that the church believes in the college and willingly gives its support. One superintendent wrote that his conference raised more money last year for Otterbein by $5,000 than the conference ever raised in a single year for any cause.

WITHOUT A DOLLAR OF DEBT

To owe no man is a glorious feeling! For an institution to owe no one and to have assets of over two millions of dollars is a sign of stability and strength, and—that is the exact position of Otterbein College.

For a number of years Otterbein has had an "inside debt," that is, part of her own endowment funds were invested in King Hall, in the Alumni Gymnasium, and to pay the accumulated deficits of the depression years. These amounts totaled $136,000, and for many years the college has been paying interest on this amount to the endowment fund. Today these debts have been paid as well as the debt of $10,000 on athletic field improvements. In addition, the heating plant has been renovated at a cost of $30,000 and has been paid for.

All of these items were included in the Centennial goal of $625,000 and it is gratifying that enough cash has been received to date to liquidate the indebtedness.

Any and all unpaid pledges to the gymnasium may, therefore, be considered paid and no further due notices will be sent.

A VICTORY BOND

A great Victory Bond campaign is scheduled to begin this month. All of us will feel the urge to buy one or more of these bonds.

Celebrate Victory by buying a bond for Otterbein and help her achieve a Centennial Victory.

If you would like to give one of the bonds you now have, you can cash it and buy the proper series (F or G) in the name of the college. Bonds are accepted at purchase price.

ALUMNI GIVING

Alumni giving, especially in Ohio, is lagging. Except for a few centers, alumni have been given an opportunity to contribute, but up to this time less than one third of the alumni contacted have made a contribution, and the goal is only 41 percent subscribed. This will no doubt be corrected, for every alumnus will want to share in Otterbein's Centennial program. Statistics show that students in all types of institutions pay only about one half the cost of their education, and that the balance must come from other sources. One of these sources is alumni support, and students should not feel that when they leave a college they no longer have an obligation to their Alma Mater. Otterbein alumni will not fail to be helpful.

THAT INCOME TAX AGAIN!

Let "Uncle Sam" help you to help Otterbein! Your government makes it possible for you to give up to 15% of your income to institutions like Otterbein and claim it as an income tax exemption.

Before the close of this calendar year make a contribution to Otterbein. Give a library gift and divide payments over three or four years.

Anyone with an income of $3,000 can give $100 to Otterbein at an actual cost to the giver of only $81.60.

It is not unpatriotic to give to Otterbein to lower income tax payments. The government recognizes the necessity of strengthening those institutions which contribute to the welfare of society on the Home Front. Send your gift before December 31.

WE SHALL NOT SURRENDER IT!

A GOOD TEAM

You can't afford to miss it! We mean that Cap-Otterbein football game. You must be here, for much is at stake and we need your support. We must retain that football trophy. It has spent too much time in Columbus. Last year we earned a double right to its possession by soundly trouncing Capital twice by scores of 28-0 and 32-0 and we are determined that here it shall stay.

As this is written two games have been played. In the first game with West Virginia University—that's right, the University—our boys gave the "mountaineers" a tough battle during the first half. Score at the end of the first quarter, 0-0; at the end of the half 14-7, West Virginia; but during the last half the heat and the reserve strength of West Virginia were too much.

In the second game, with Muskingum as the opponent, the teams battled on fairly even terms with neither team advancing within the ten-yard line. Several of our boys were still nursing bruises from the West Virginia game and several were out altogether. The team should be at full strength by next Saturday and we will hope to win our remaining games.

We are all looking forward to next year, our Centennial year, when we should have back some of our stars of previous years now in service. What a team we should have!

Homecoming Queen

LOVELY LADIES

Chosen by her fellow students from seventy-five sophomore girls, Juanita Gardis of Akron will reign over the Homecoming activities on November 3. A member of Talisman sorority, Queen Juanita is a voice major with minors in dramatics and piano. She had one of the important roles in the May Day play last spring, is a member of the band, a drum majorette, secretary-treasurer of Cap and Dagger, and a member of the Y.W.C.A. publicity committee.

Maid of honor to the Queen will be Martha Jane Stevenson of Lagrange, Illinois. "Janie" is also interested in music, her major being piano. She is a member of the Greenwich sorority, the Y.W.C.A. and Women's Recreation Association.

Alice May Guest of Canton and Cuba Doll of Kenton will be the other members of the Queen's court. Alice Mae is majoring in sociology and is a member of the Arbutus sorority. Talented in dramatics and public speaking, she was a winner in the Russell Declamation Contest last year. She is a Y.W.C.A. cabinet member.

Owl sorority claims Miss Doll as a member. She is interested in sports, being a member of last year's winning hockey team and the freshman basketball team. Her major is business administration.

Marilyn Shuck of Findlay, last year's Homecoming Queen, will present the symbolic football to the new Queen in the traditional ceremony.

JANE STEVENSON

Yans, Yoder, Inks, Bowman, Wells.
Pliott, Chadwell, Pally, Woods, Ewing (Coach).
K, Detamore, Bridgeman, Geehring.

FROM THE QUEEN

Greetings to all Alumni and Homecomers: I wish to welcome you to Otterbein's day of festivities and fellowship which the annual Homecoming brings. The Otterbein to which you will be returning this year is one which is slowly returning to normal peace-time activities. Homecoming should and will be bigger and better than ever before because of your presence and because of a larger student body than has been here in recent years. The team will do its best to make the day a success and, speaking for the team and entire student body, I welcome you.

—Juanita Gardis

SEVEN PER CENT — PLUS ! !

HOMER B. KLINE, Chairman, Board of Trustees

The fifty men and women comprising the Board of Trustees and the Executive Committee have committed themselves to the support of the various campaigns making up the Centennial Financial Program for a total of $45,795.00. This is seven percent plus of the Centennial goal of $625,000! Thus these worthy servants of Otterbein College, who are charged with the responsibility of her administration, have responded to the opportunity of the Centennial and have pointed the way to financial victory for her entire constituency in a challenging and constructive manner.

During the year which ended with the board meeting in May, the members were quietly contacted and asked to indicate their proposed contributions to the various Centennial campaigns. Each person was asked to analyze his own potential ability as a contributor and all were urged to seek a mutually high plane of genuine sacrifice in determining their contributions. Individual gifts have not been made public. Only the total was announced to the board itself, which authorized its publication in the hope that it might stimulate the giving of others.

IN THEIR PARENTS' FOOTSTEPS

The freshmen pictured above are second generation students except Lucille Gault, whose great grandmother came to Otterbein. In the write-up the student's name appears first, followed by the parent or parents' names.

The interest of the trustees in the opportunity and the challenge of the Centennial was manifested as early as 1941. Many of them worked hard in the development of the entire Centennial Program which was formally adopted and inaugurated in January, 1943. Even at that early date a number had made substantial contributions for objectives which at that time had not been fully determined. The total of all trustee giving will reach the college through the regular Centennial financial channels—through the Centennial Certificate campaign in their local churches, the Centennial Library campaign, or either of the alumni campaigns, depending upon their geographic location.

Otterbein College is now in the midst of the most significant era in her history for our generation. Those who went before us in the life and work of our Alma Mater now call upon us to hold fast the standards for which they strove against such odds. They are calling upon us to do for our day what they did for theirs. As trustees we are confident that we shall not fail them nor the generations yet to come. In grateful appreciation for all who have thus far participated in the creation and execution of the Centennial Program and its financial objective and in expectant anticipation of the self-sacrificing response to the effort yet needed to carry the program to complete success, the trustees gladly present their gifts for a greater Otterbein in her second century of service.

STANLEY JONES COMING

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, author, traveler, lecturer, and missionary, will spend November 8 and 9 on the campus speaking in chapel and holding personal interviews with students. Doctor Jones comes to Otterbein through the courtesy of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America as a part of the Council's Christian Mission to schools and colleges. The coming of Doctor Jones is eagerly anticipated at this time, for he is a "world citizen" and can speak from observation and with authority on the problems of the world.

E. STANLEY JONES

A NEW COLLEGE PASTOR

MILLARD J. MILLER

Rev. Millard J. Miller is the new college pastor, succeeding the Rev. J. Neely Boyer, now professor of sociology at Otterbein. Mr. Miller is a graduate of Lebanon Valley College and of Bonebrake Theological Seminary. He was formerly a teacher and college pastor at Shenandoah College, Dayton, Virginia, Superintendent of the Virginia Conference, and Youth Director of the United Brethren denomination for the past five years. (Much more might be said, but since he is a brother of the editor of the TOWERS, all else must be cut.)

INTERNMENT CAMP MANAGER

Otterbein people do strange things and do them well. Carl Eshbaugh, for example, was the manager of Camp Holmes, an internment camp near Baguio, in the Philippines. The camp had the reputation of being one of the best operated camps in the islands. Carl became a missionary to the Philippines in 1929. When the islands fell he was taken prisoner and remained in camp for about three years. He has been back in the states since last spring.

CARL ESHBAUGH, '26

NEW MISSIONARY SECRETARY

JANET GILBERT, '18

Miss Janet Gilbert, '18, was honored recently by her election to the office of General Secretary of the Women's Missionary Association, the highest general church office held by the women of the church. For twenty years she was the general secretary of the Otterbein Guild, and for the last two years she was editor of "The Evangel," the official publication of the Missionary Association. The organization which she heads has a membership of nearly 50,000 women and has an annual budget of over $200,000.

REPRESENTATIVE ALUMNI

This issue of TOWERS salutes business executives and women in service. Our next issue will salute members of the legal profession and service men.

We would like for you, alumni, to make nominations. Tell us of the alumni whose achievements are outstanding. A brief sketch of the nominee is all that is necessary. Send all nominations by December first of lawyers and service men.

IN OTHER POSITIONS

Members of last year's teaching staff who resigned are holding new positions as follows:

Francis Babione—Teaching at Toledo University.

Mary Lou Lashbrook—Teaching in high school at Wrangell, Alaska.

Esther Forrestall—Teaching in a private school in Washington, D. C.

Gladys Ricketts—Teaching at Grandview High School.

HARRY M. WILLIAMS, '05

HARRY M. WILLIAMS

Harry M. Williams is one of America's leading scientists—a Registered Professional Chemical, Metallurgical and Refrigeration Engineer. Since 1908, when he earned an M.S. degree from Otterbein and a B.S. degree in Chemical Engineering at Ohio State University, he has devoted his life to research and engineering with the Remington Arms Company, the General Motors Corporation and the National Cash Register Company, with which he is now affiliated as Vice President in charge of Engineering and Research.

For eighteen years he was employed by the General Motors Corporation, a part of which time he was head of the Chemical and Metallurgical Research Section and was in close contact with Mr. C. F. Kettering. He is a man of great creative ability, holding thirty-six patents in the chemical, metallurgical and refrigeration fields. In 1944 he received the Lamme Medal awarded annually by Ohio State University to one of its alumni for outstanding engineering achievement. He has held offices in many scientific societies, is a past president of the Engineers Club (Dayton) and past president of the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers. His many articles have been printed in the leading scientific journals.

Business Executives

OTTERBEIN

ELMER N. FUNKHOUSER

Dr. E. N. Funkhouser is president of the Funkhouser Company of Hagerstown, Maryland, which is engaged in mining, quarrying and processing raw materials for industry. The plants are located in Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Georgia. Mica is produced at the North Carolina plant, while the other mills produce largely stone and slate of various colors which are used for surfacing composition roofing. The company produces many products for use in the asphalt and paint industry and supplies materials for modern tennis courts and playgrounds. The company also has 17,000 acres of timber in Mississippi, from which is obtained gum veneer.

Doctor Funkhouser is a member of the Board of Trustees of Otterbein College; President of the Boards of Trustees of Shenandoah and Lebanon Valley Colleges; President of the Hagerstown Building and Loan Association; Vice President, the Y.M.C.A., Chairman, the Community Chest Board, and a leader in many other organizations.

JACOB S. GRUVER

Jacob S. Gruver, member of a distinguished southern family, appears in the Men of Mark in Virginia. He is best known as an educator and business executive. He was educated in Shenandoah, Lebanon Valley and Otterbein Colleges, earning the A.B. and A.M. degrees. He was the founder and president of Eastern College. After a successful career in education he moved to Washington, where he became equally successful in business, developing subdivisions and investing in improved property and stocks and bonds. He is numbered among the leading business and professional men in Washington where he is a member of the Washington Board of Trade; Director, District Title Insurance Company; Director, National Mortgage and Investment Corporation; one of the founders and directors of the Mortgage Bond and Guarantee Corporation; and President, the Thrift Building Company. He is a trustee of Otterbein College and of the American University.

VANCE E. CRIBBS

Mr. Vance E. Cribbs, Vice President of the Board of Trustees of Otterbein College, is Supervisor of Personal Relations and Assistant to the Manager of the Middletown Division of the American Rolling Mills Company. He was first employed by the company as a chemist. Wanting to learn the production angles, he started as a laborer, worked up to the Training Department, where he was made Instructor of Training. Later he was transferred to the Personnel Department, first as Assistant to the Supervisor of Personal Relations and now to his present position. He is active in the civic and religious organizations of his city.

A NEW BOOK BY BURKHART

Dr. Roy A. Burkhardt, '27, pastor of the First Community Church, Columbus, has written a new book entitled "The Church and the Returning Soldier." Henry P. Van Dusen says in reviewing it "Dr. Burkhardt has written the book for which the Church has been waiting. He deals with great wisdom with the whole range of problems involved in the Church's ministry to men in the armed services. The book is replete with intelligent and practical suggestions." It is published by Harper and Brothers.

ALUMNI WORK ON ATOMIC BOMB

We know of several Otterbein people who have worked on the production of the Atomic Bomb. There are probably many more.

Since May, 1943, Gilmore Crosby, '43, has worked for the Eastman Kodak Company, first at Rochester, New York, and later at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, where he was a supervisor in the plant.

Dr. John Flanagan, '38, spent two years at the University of Chicago in research work and is continuing in Dayton at Monsanto Chemical Company.

Allen Bartlett, ex-'44, has for fifteen months been employed as a physicist at the New Mexico experimental base.

We can all hope that the results of their labors may be for the benefit of humanity.

NEWS OF SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN

1928—Lt. (jg) Donald J. Borrer, '28, is malaria and epidemic officer, stationed in the Marianas Islands. His laboratory is a tent set up in a coconut grove.

1930—Lt. Kenneth Bunce, '30, has arrived in Japan to begin his duties with General MacArthur's Planning Board of Occupation. His work on the staff will be in education.

1933—Major John Shiveley, '33, took part in the invasion of Okinawa, going in with the Tenth Army.

1934—Cpl. Merlin Smelker, '34, is stationed at Asch, Czechoslovakia, in the Adjutant General's headquarters office. He has been teaching part time in Czechoslovakia.

1937—T/5 Paul Jones, '37, who was one of the winners of Otterbein's music scholarships, has done it again. This time he won scholarships in both piano and organ at the University in Florence, Italy, where he is stationed with the 313th ASF Band.

1938—Lt. Leonard R. Griffith, '38, is safe and sound in the United States again after having spent 12 months at Stalag Luft I as a prisoner of the Germans. He was overseas twenty months and was shot down on his twenty-third mission.

1939—Another one of Otterbein's many chaplains is Stanley H. Forkner, '39, who is at the Fifth Replacement Depot on Luzon, near Manila.

1941—Ens. Richard Wagner, '41, is one of the Ohio men assigned to the new cruiser, the USS Columbus. He is a tactical radar officer.

1942—S/Sgt. Eugene Wilkin, ex-'42, has the honor of being in the Eleventh Airborne,—the first troops to enter Japan, landing at Asuki Airbase. His division was chosen as the Honor Division of the Southwest Pacific by General MacArthur.

1945—William F. Lewis, Pho.M. 3/c, ex-'45, was aboard the carrier, Bunker Hill, when it was hit by two Jap suicide planes. He played an important part in the rescue of many of the men on board.

1946—In Italy, as in Otterbein, Cpl. James Gordon Conklin, ex-'46, competed in singles and doubles in the Mediterranean Theater Tennis Championships held in Rome.

NINETEEN GI'S IN THE FRESHMAN CLASS

There are twenty-nine G. I.'s in school with many more to enter on February 4, the beginning of the second semester. Efforts are being made to provide accommodation for all veterans, married or single. Sixteen of the nineteen freshmen are pictured below as follows:

Third row: Paul Rice, Charles Ranck, Russell Allen, James Yoder, N. B. Wills.

EDWARD NAGEL, '34

Have you noticed that in each of the last five issues of the TOWERS we have carried the pictures of two new persons who paid the supreme sacrifice in the war? We pray that there may be no more. May the Eternal God comfort the loved ones of these brave sons and daughter of Otterbein who will not come back.

SGT. DONALD R. JOHNSON

Sgt. Johnson was killed in Hawaii on May 25. He had been overseas more than two years as a weather observer. Stationed at an army rest camp in Hawaii he was killed when a tandem bicycle he and a friend were riding collided with a car. A military funeral was held for him June 1 at the army cemetery, Hilo, Hawaii.

LT. EDWARD NAGEL

Lt. Nagel, a missionary in the Philippines at the outbreak of the war, enlisted with the American forces as a chaplain. He was taken prisoner and held in an internment camp until last December when he was moved to the Asiatic mainland. He was one of the survivors on the prison ship which was torpedoed last December. On September 13 the War Department announced that he had died in a Japanese hospital in Mukden.

Flash! As the TOWERS goes to press word is received that Lt. Kenneth E. Shoemaker, ex-'46, is missing in action. He had completed 43 missions during fourteen months overseas as a bomber pilot. On August 6th he took off from Cambria, France, on a mission to Wales but his A-26 Invader Bomber was never heard from. Lt. Shoemaker was at Otterbein when he enlisted in the AAF in February, 1942.

Wanted! An appropriate memorial for the twelve men and one woman from Otterbein who gave their lives in war for the ideals for which Otterbein stands. The college offers to provide a beautiful window alcove in the new Centennial Library as a memorial if the necessary funds can be provided. A gift of $5,000 will make possible this appropriate memorial. Is there some alumnus who would like to provide this memorial?

Welcome Homecomers! Boost Our President!
