No. 7.

STUDENTS OBSERVE HALLOWEEN

Best Social Occasion of the Year Assured.

The entire student body will meet in the gymnasium Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock, for a Halloween masquerade. The social committees of the various classes are working together, and planning for the biggest treat of the year. Lunch will be served and a good time is anticipated by all. Everybody should come masked. In the event that any student appears with other than a foolish costume, he may not gain admittance.

Deaths.

Mr. D. E. Berrenger, father of Kaye Berrenger, a member of the sophomore class, and right tackle of the varsity football squad, died of paralysis at 4:30 p. m. Saturday, at his home, Fostoria, Ohio. The faculty, students, and classmates, extend their sincerest sympathy to those bereft. The death of Mr. Berrenger is a loss to the institution, for he has always proved a loyal friend of her interests.

Miss Madge Carman, of Washington, C. H., died last Tuesday at Asheville, N. C. Miss Carman, had she been able to return to school this year, would have graduated from the Art department. She was very popular with the students, especially of the Art department.

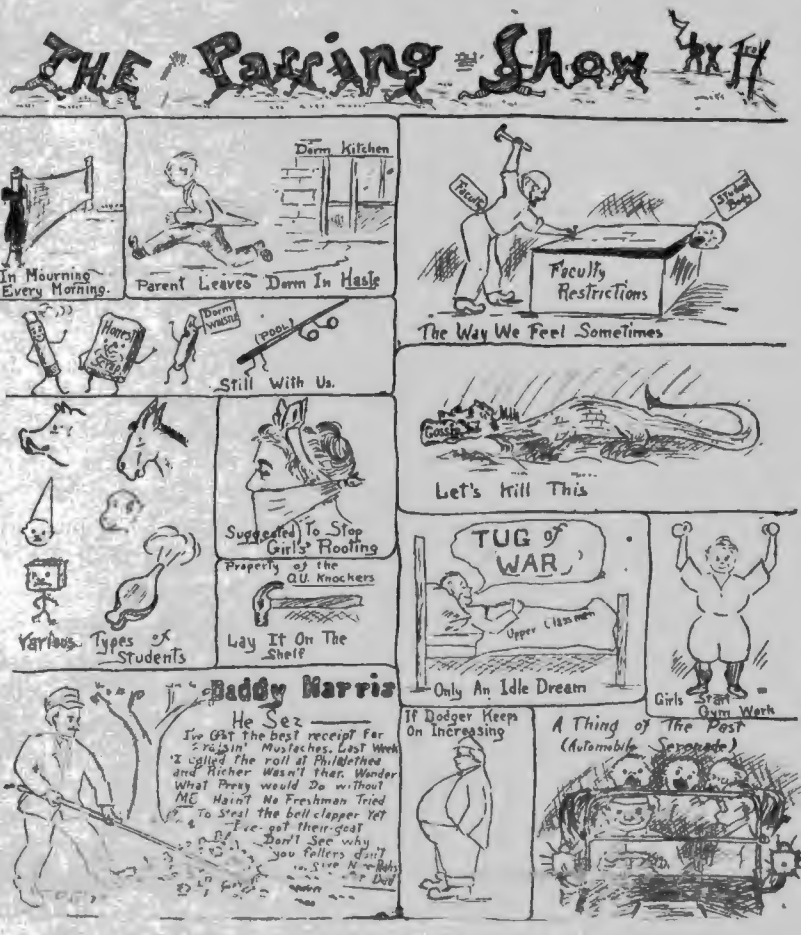

Woman's Day

Mrs. Frank Oldt was the speaker at the annual observance of Woman's Day, at the college chapel Sunday evening.

A large and interesting audience listened to her as she recounted her six years' experience as a Chinese missionary at Canton.

Russell Contest.

The declamation contest, arranged by Dr. Howard H. Russell, will be held Friday, November 8, instead of Saturday, November 23, as announced in last week's issue of the Review. Only sophomores and freshmen are eligible for the contest.

Chafin at Westerville.

Hon. Eugene W. Chafin, candidate for President of the United States on the Prohibition ticket, was in town last Tuesday afternoon, and addressed a crowd from his automobile in front of the First National Bank Building.

In spite of the rain, and the fact that he had spoken six times before arriving in Westerville, Mr. Chafin interested his auditors in his presentation of the Prohibition platform.

The students who were fortunate enough to hear him, were pleased with the address. Mr. Chafin is a jovial, plain citizen, and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Bale is Candidate.

Fred G. Bale, debate coach of Otterbein for the past two years, is a candidate on the Progressive ticket for representative in the State Legislature from Franklin county.

He challenged his opponents to meet him in debate to discuss the issues of the campaign.

Mr. Bale will be one of the speakers at the Progressive meeting, at the town hall, Oct. 28.

Senior Socials.

Thirty-five members of the senior class strolled out to the country home of Mr. F. A. Hanawalt, one-half mile east of town, last Monday night, for another class "push." The night was beautiful, the air exhilarating, and the walk delightful. The social committee served oyster soup, sandwiches, apples and fudge, which were enjoyed around the table, spread out in the open Jack-o-lanterns aided the full moon in furnishing light for the happy group.

The class has been invited to the home of another of its members, Mr. C. E. Hetzler, for a social evening, October 28, where another happy time is anticipated.

Second's Next Game

The Second team will experience some hard scrimmages this week. Their next game is with Mt. Vernon. There is a spirit of revenge against this bunch and an interesting game is expected at the latter's field.

Of course poor boys succeed. They have to.

CONSERVATORY OPENS SEASON

Usual Good Program Delights Music Lovers.

The musical season of the Otterbein conservatory opened Wednesday night with an excellent introduction. Each number showed the usual earnest effort that our music faculty emphasizes.

The opening number, an eight-hand selection from Schubert, was no trifle—delicacy, taste and tone featured strongly. The new names appearing in piano and voice were backed up with most hopeful possibility.

The music lovers and critics have an enjoyable outlook for this year.

L. C. Hensel, '09, Honored.

The scholarship of Mr. L. C. Hensel, '09, has been recognized and rewarded. After acting as traveling salesman for the World Events Company of Chicago, Ill., Mr. Hensel entered Western Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh, Pa.

A friend and former student of Otterbein writes of his excellent work in these words.

"L. C. Hensel of the class of 1909, as one of two men in his class in Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, Pa., to receive highest honors in 1911-1912, was awarded a merit scholarship. If Mr. Hensel holds up this high standing during the two remaining years of his course, he will be eligible for the seminary fellowship, which will grant him a year's study in Europe."

To Schrock's Ford.

Saturday evening, with its glorious moonlight was used to very good advantage by about fourteen couples of young people, mostly Dayton students or visitors from Dayton, when they journeyed to Schrock's ford and held a "push."

The merry-makers built a bonfire, drank cider, ate wieners and delighted themselves with some of the invigorating games of childhood. Professor and Mrs. L. E. Weinland excellently served as chaperons.

CRIPPLES LOSE TO DENISON 60-3

Rupp Makes Six Successive Touchdowns for Visitors.

With three regulars out, the varsity lost the second game of the local season to Denison. In the first three periods, the latter scored almost at will on forward passes and line plunges of Rupp. These were without effect, however in the last quarter. Their first touchdown was made in the first two minutes play and then Otterbein came back, Plott making a place kick from the 21 yard line

Rupp Stars.

Left halfback Rupp was the shining light for the visitors, making a record of six successive touchdowns on steady head work in plunges and passes. His run of seventy three yards for touchdown from the kickoff, was the feature of the game. Captain Deeter also showed good judgment at the helm, tearing off a barrel of assorted plays, yet never once was he forced to unload his repertoire of tricks. Roudebush shot numerous passes for ten to forty yard gains, which proved to be troublesome to the locals.

Plott Plays Usual Game.

Harold Plott, the star halfback of Gardner's squad, played his usual steady game, which has been significant of each game this year. His gains as well as defensive work on breaking up forward passes won a place in the hearts of the local fans. In the fourth period, time after time Plott killed chances for possible scores. Learish at fullback displayed the nerve and spirit of the old time Otterbein squads. Several times the crowd waited in silence for his tired body to rise from the earth, and each time he was lifted to his feet only to hop about and cheer his team mates on to battle. Sommers, on account of old injuries, was forced early in the game to break up the fast backfield. The husky lad made good when called on to carry the pig-skin. Bronson was sent in at quarter, Captain Snively filling the vacancy for Sommers. Snively worked with Plott on place kicks, and made several good gains around end. Bronson negotiated with Hayes in the last quarter for a pass netting fifteen yards, which was the only successful one for O. U. Stitt, the husky guard, tore off a record chase for Deeter with an open field before him, which looked good for a touchdown. He downed the captain with a clean tackle on the twenty yard line. Very few plays were sent through his position. Russell Weimer, who played his first varsity game, made good at center. His passes were true, and his defensive work was faultless and with more experience, he will prove a valuable man. Roth Weimer also played his first college football game and likewise was a prominent figure in offense and defense. Several times the small guard broke through Briggs, and tore up the opponents' interference.

The team as a whole, notwithstanding their crippled condition, put up a good showing against the fast Granville boys. Livingstone's men were strong and time after time shook off the tacklers for continuous gains.

First Quarter.—Deeter won the toss and Snively kicked to Ashley, who returned five yards. Rupp and Dunlap carried for first down, and Deeter skirted the end for 30 yards. Rupp made 5 yds. Deeter lost 1. O. U. was penalized for off side and Rupp plowed through on delayed pass for a touchdown. Black failed to kick goal. O. U. received, Plott returning 20 yards. Plott, Sommers and Snively worked ball down the field, but the latter was forced to punt; Hayes recovering the ball. Reese broke through for Otterbein's loss. Plott backed up for place kick and the oval sailed over for the locals only score.

Otterbein kicked to Rupp, who made feature run of 73 yards for touchdown in 29 seconds. Black failed at goal. Black kicked off for Denison and sent the pigskin 50 yards for kick-over. Plott returned 10 yards. Snively went around end for 9, Sommers 2 and 1, and Plott lost 15. Denison suffered 15 for tripping. Snively punted 35. Rupp received a forward pass and ran 45 yds. for third score. Black kicked goal. O. U. received. Quarter over. Score, 19-3.

Second Quarter.—Otterbein worked ball well down the field, but Snively was forced to kick. Rupp again received pass for 50 yard run and touchdown. Black kicked goal. Snively kicked to Rupp who returned 30 yards on pass. He made 5 on buck and 10 by air route. Black made 10 and Rupp again crossed line.

Black kicked goal. Rupp again scored after a little difficulty, when Stitt put the brakes on by sensational tackle. Black kicked goal. Roth Weimer was sent in for LaRue. Learish and Plott broke up forward passes till half ended. Score, 40-3.

Third Quarter.—Denison kicked, but O. U. was forced to punt and after some new plays were put into use, Roudebush crossed goal line and Black kicked goal. Otterbein became stronger and made two first downs on line plays, but were forced to punt to Roudebush, who returned 10 yards. Farver broke in and stopped his dodging. Mitchell on fake punt went 20 yards for touchdown. Black failed to kick goal.

The final score came when Reese intercepted pass for touchdown. Black kicked goal. Plott and Learish began good when quarter ended. Score, 60-3.

Fourth Quarter.—Otterbein made first down through line. Bronson pulled off pass to Hayes for 15 yards. Plott tried for place kick but failed. Rupp kicked. Denison penalized 15 yards for tripping. Place kick again failed. Plott made 5. O. U. penalized for offside. Daub, sent in for Garver, punted. Denison lost ball and game ended with ball in O. U.'s possession on 35 yard line.

Final score, 60-3.

Adjournment.

*Orator.

*Essayist.

The meeting was held in the Presbyterian church in order to accommodate the large audience. Invitations were issued by D. L. Flickinger, secretary of the society, who graduated from the institution with the B. S. degree in 1874. Mr. Flickinger held the position of Ohio State statistician for United States Agricultural Department for many years, and is since deceased.

Mr. C. H. Kiracofe, A. B., '71, the president of the society, has served as professor of languages in Westfield College, Westfield, Ill., president Hartsville College, Indiana; editor Christian Conservator; president Central College, Indiana; teacher in Winona Summer School; and is now preaching at Logansport, Indiana.

Mr. S. J. Flickinger, A. B., '72, took graduate work at Cornell University, 1875-76. He was on the staff of the Dayton Journal from 1876-78; on Ohio State Journal and Cincinnati papers from 1878-1893; Manager Associated Press, Cincinnati, O., 1893-1904; managing editor, Dayton Journal 1904-1906; secretary to Governor Harris, Columbus, Ohio, 1906-1909; and is now managing editor of the Dayton Herald, Dayton, O.

G. S. J. Browne, A. B., '69, D. D., '10, graduated from the Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, O., in 1872. He has served efficiently as pastor of several churches of the Presbyterian church, and is at the present time Secretary Central Agency, American Bible Society, with offices at Cincinnati, O.

Dr. J. P. Landis, A. B., '69, D. D., '72, Ph. D. (Wooster) '89, student at Western Theological Seminary and Lane Seminary, 1869-1871, has filled many of the prominent pulpits of the United Brethren church, Miami conference, and since 1880 has been connected with Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, O., of which institution he is now president.

H. Garst, A. B., '61, D. D. (Lebanon Valley College), '77, LL. D., '08, served as professor, secretary, treasurer, and president of Otterbein University, 1886-1905, and pastor Westerville United Brethren church 1905-1906. Dr. Garst died February 27, 1911.

Yale's Football Record.

Since the beginning of modern football, in 1883, Yale University has played 220 games, not including this season. Of this number, Old Eli has been defeated but 15 times—seven by Princeton, four by Harvard, three by West Point, and one by Columbia.

Yale's total score for the games is 9214, to her opponents' 479. Of the 26 teams that have played Yale three times or more, 11 have been unable to score. Amherst, in the eighteen games played with Yale, has never scored a point.

Her highest score was made against Wesleyan, when 136 points were made against Wesleyan's 0. This is the third highest score ever made by a football team.

The New Glengarry --- A Utility Coat At Its Best

The charming Wooltex fall model has good style and smooth, graceful lines—but its great merit is its utility.

For school, travel or motoring—for stormy days or cool evenings—for practically all uses for which a coat can be used, this garment "fits in" perfectly.

Warm enough for the cold days, yet light enough for warmer ones.

Made of fabrics that are little affected by wet and wear.

Low-priced and good-looking. What more could be asked for.

The Glenroy Collar is an original Wooltex idea which lends attractiveness and style, while at the same time it adds greatly to the utility of the garment.

The "New Glengarry" is made in one of the double-faced, pure wool fabrics that will be seen only in the highest-priced garments this season.

Like all the garments bearing the Wooltex label, it is guaranteed for two full seasons' satisfactory wear.

"New Glengarry" Coats, $25.

Other Wooltex Coats, $15 to $50.

Wooltex Tailored Suits, $22.50, $30 and $35.

Wooltex Separate Skirts, $6 to $10.

Entered as second-class matter Oct. 18, 1909, at the postoffice at Westerville, O., under Act of March 3, 1879.

No man's abilities are so remarkably shining as not to stand in need of a proper opportunity, a patron, and even the praises of a friend to recommend them to the notice of the world.—Pliny.

The winds and waves are always on the side of the ablest navigators.—Gibbon.

A Word to the Wise.

Fifteen minutes are given each day for chapel exercises. This has been the custom since the birth of the college. Some students flinch under it. At any rate, this custom will continue to be in vogue till the college is no more.

During this short period, some read letters, others try to cram just before the nine o'clock class. Older students know that this is a breach of rules. Often, in times past, reminders have been dropped by the president, that this habit is not allowed. A word from the platform means embarrassment.

This article on the subject is given to save some from the embarrassment that will surely follow unless the habit is given up.

Voting.

This is a new day in politics. If we can place any confidence in rumors, more people will change parties this year than in any year of the nation's history. More scratch tickets will be voted. Why? Men are being tested as to character, ability, and integrity. Party politics are being swept aside. Citizens are voting for men. In every public office, men of positive, definite, and courageous character are being chosen. The ballot is the greatest privilege of American citizenship. The exercising of this privilege is not only a right, but a duty.

Every man at Otterbein who is permitted to vote, should go to the polls on November 5 and cast a ballot.

The intelligent voter will disregard the rooster, or the eagle and seek out the man, on whatever ticket, who will best represent his interests.

On Knocking.

Much has been said in this paper as well in private conversation, about "knocking," and still it goes on, even in the "Club Talk" columns.

These columns are very popular among the students and articles are printed exactly as written, but of late, they have been misused. They should be used for open discussion, which is good for all parties concerned, but some have used them to make attacks on the faculty and others. This should not be done, as it only causes hard feeling. Everyone should be encouraged to write articles for the "Club Talk" column, but at the same time, the privilege must not be misused.

Editor's Song. (Revised.)

How dear to my heart
Is the steady subscriber,
Who pays in advance
At the birth of each year;
Who lays down his money
And offers it gladly,
And casts 'round the office
A halo of cheer.

Who never says, "Stop it:
I can not afford it,"
Or, "I'm getting more papers
Than I can read,"
But always says, "send it;
The students all like it
In fact, we think it
A college need."

How welcome he is
When he steps in the sanctum,
How he makes our hearts throb
How he makes our eyes dance.
We outwardly thank him—
We inwardly bless him—
The steady subscriber
Who pays in advance.

To Observe Ohio State Day.

The annual Ohio State day has been set for November 29. Notices will shortly be sent to the 15,000 former students and alumni announcing the date. Banquets will be held in nearly every county seat in the state of Ohio, and in the principal cities of the nation. Thirty men, graduates of the institution will meet at Manila, Philippines, and the graduates now in Canada will meet at Calgary. The meetings in the United States will keep in touch with each other on that night by telegraph. The university song, "Carmen Ohio," will be sung at all the gatherings.

Hazer Expelled.

Secretary Meyer of the Navy Department, has dismissed Walter J. Tigan from the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Mr. Tigan is a third-year man from Illinois, and was court-martialed for having hazed a plebe by standing him on his head.

Among well-bred people, a mutual of deference is affected; contempt of others disguised; authority concealed; attention given to each in his turn; and an easy stream of conversation is maintained, without vehemence, without interruption, without eagerness for victory, and without any air of superiority.—Hume.

A writer in the Oberlin Review says that over-confidence is the traditional disease of a strong team.

Opportunities of Medical Missionary in China Unlimited.

A fair crowd came out Thursday evening to hear Dr. Frank Oldt, '01, the returned missionary, who gave a talk on "Medical Missions in China."

Dr. Oldt stated that his purpose in giving the talk was to show those who had not decided what their life work would be, how they could find a very large field open, which had great possibilities.

In the past the surgeon has had better success than the medicine doctor, because the native doctor might give some medicine and the patient get well, but the native doctor cannot perform an operation, and so the people have faith in the surgeon.

Not only can the doctor be of great good to the people, but also to the medical world, as in China and India there are many diseases which the medical world does not know how to treat or prevent, and the man who discovers how to treat one of these is doing a great good for humanity.

In describing the conditions, he said that one fourth of all the people examined in the first six months that he was there, were tubercular, and that every year they have a plague. In the town of 400,000 in which he lived, several thousand died each year from the plague. As the Chinese are superstitious, they have not done much in the past to stop this, but now they are trying to educate young men to be doctors, and hence there are great opportunities for men who have the proper training.

Temptation and Self-Examination
Reveal Truth to Us.

Y. W. C. A. was led by Miss Ferné Parsons on the subject "The Hidden God." The leader first discussed what an idol is. Francis Bacon says it is a prejudice. It is an image or something upon which our minds and affections are strongly set. We do not know oftentimes that we have an idol. It is necessary for our friends to disclose the fact to us. A self-examination is necessary. We should "knock at our heart and see what it doth know." If we have an idol, then we are idolaters, and all idolaters are forbidden the kingdom of heaven. Pretense, self-esteem, luxury and a desire for popularity may be some of our idols. "Where our treasure is, there will our heart be also." Temptation helps us to tell where our idols are, for where we are the least fortified against sin, our idol is standing, the sentinel of the adversary.

The association was favored with a vocal solo by Ruth Ingle, and also with a quartet number.

"Dragging the Net."

Miss Myrtle Harris will lead the meeting next Tuesday evening, taking the above subject as a theme.

R. E. A.

Policy of the Organization Reviewed.

The first regular meeting of the Religious Education Association was held Wednesday evening, with the college president as speaker of the hour.

President Clippinger spoke of the field of the association, of its possibilities, and whom it ought to include in its membership. Preachers, those contemplating the study of the ministry as a life work, missionaries, association and social settlement workers, and school teachers were included in the list of those who should comprise its membership.

The purpose of the association seems to be misunderstood by the majority of the students at Otterbein, the speaker asserted, as the common impression is that only preachers are members. The policy of the National Religious Education may be expressed in a few words, viz, the marrying of education to religion.

A denominational college like Otterbein has a message and a mission to the world. A moral and religious mark should be upon everything we do. If that is not the mission of a denominational school, and if its mission is the same as the non-sectarian institutions, we had better turn over our school work to the state school, which is more richly endowed, and can thus do the secular work better than we can.

The association should inspire pulpit and lay members for church leadership."

The next meeting of the association will be held Wednesday, November 6. All those contemplating the above professions as a life work, are urged to be present.

CLUB TALK

Smoking.

Editor of Otterbein Review:

Otterbein has a rule against smoking which is persistently being violated. Smoking is on the increase. There is more smoking this year than last, and there was more last year than the year before. Some students are even bold enough to smoke on the campus in daytime, and seem to pride themselves in defying the authorities. When we see some of the rules which older students had to live up to, as noticed in the publication of the "Rules of Otterbein University-1866," in last week's Review, it makes one think that students ought to give cognizance to the simple rules of the college of today, and if they refuse to do so, they should be dealt with accordingly.—Student, '15.

Cheer Leaders' "O".

Editor of Otterbein Review:

I am heartily in sympathy with the remarks of Mr. Mattis in the October 14th issue about granting varsity "O's" to cheer leaders.

If this practice were started it would not be long until they would be granted for class room ability as we notice the debaters are wearing pins very similar to varsity "O" pins.

Any man that has not enough college spirit about him to lead a rooting squad without getting paid for his services should not be elected to that position. He should be proud of the fact that his school mates had enough confidence in him to elect him to such a position and be willing to do his part in the winning of games.

The varsity "O" means too much to the man who is wearing one and who has possibly had to work most of his college days for it, to have it awarded to some one who never donned an athletic uniform either from lack of inclination or nerve.

If any sound young man is afraid or too lazy to meet such competition as exists in athletics, what hopes are there for him after his college days are past?

The varsity "O" association is perfectly willing to award "O's" to men who work for them and make good, but it would hardly be right to lower the dignity of this association by letting men wear them that have not made good at some form of athletics.

Girls' Basket Ball.

Dear Mr. Editor:

The young women of Otterbein have no legitimate interest which is not new interest, and I have followed with not a little pleasure their growing interest in basket ball. It is a glorious game and I heartily approve of it. In most things I believe I may say that I agree with my little sophomore friend who has expressed herself so unequivocally in your columns.

The game is without doubt beneficial to those who play, but we must not forget that the number of girls in any institution, who are physically able to play is limited, and further, all that are able do not have the opportunity. It has long been a question in my mind whether a physician as physical director ought not to be a necessary part of the equipment in the college where the women play ball.

I confess myself rather puzzled over the want of exercise concerning which the young ladies complain and especially over their anxiety for the future. Is it possible that during this beautiful weather, and in the midst of all the beauties of nature by which we are surrounded, that our girls never walk farther than the post office, and that only once a day? Try a brisk walk of several miles in the country and take your friends with you. It will put you all in good trim for the basketball season. Then there is the gymnasium, in which you may begin work at any time, under the physical director. No wonder I have been connected with her faculty has Otterbein been without equipment for the proper physical development of her young women.

I have no doubt that the strenuous exercise is conducive to eating and sleeping, but is it conducive to study? You may think more clearly after you have had time to rest, but is it not necessary in most cases for you to go directly from practice to your study? And is the mind active when the body is tired?

But notwithstanding these disadvantages I believe in the game as a college sport. The good natured rivalry created between classes is undoubtedly wholesome, as is also the tendency which it has to break up cliques within the classes.

But now I want to say a few words concerning the intercollegiate game. We are told that the girls of the college stand as a unit in favor of it. I question the statement, but even if it be true I still have the courage to raise my voice against it. Perhaps I belong to the conservatives. Certainly I do not believe that basket ball lowers woman's dignity nor do I fear for the bonds of propriety. I feel certain that a group of representative Otterbein girls may be trusted to give a proper account of themselves any where. I base my objection purely on the physical unfitness of women for such contests.

First, she is not strong enough for the repeated violent exercise which is necessary to keep her in fitness to meet a schedule. And we know that violent exercise is not necessary to keep her in good physical condition.

Second, she cannot stand the excitement and nervous strain of such a contest. Her nervous system is finer than man's. Excitement will carry her farther and reaction is bound to follow.

Third, there is the danger from accidents. A woman's organization unfits her for physical violence and therefore she is more likely to be injured. A football hero may be more interesting for a broken nose or a scarred cheek, but not so a woman, even though she be athletic. Accidents may be minimized on our own floor but serious ones are bound to happen occasionally in the intercollegiate game.

Fourth, the travel necessary to meet dates is objectionable. The time element must always be considered. There is the exciting rush to make trains, night trips in uncomfortable cars, and irregularities in a dozen ways. All things not to be avoided if necessary in the course of life, but certainly not to be sought.

If we had twice as many women as we have, and were able to employ a bona fide physician for physical director, I am not prepared to say what the attitude of our faculty might be on the question, but in the presence of existing conditions, I believe most of them will agree with me that it seems wise that the status quo should be sustained.

COCHRAN HALL ITEMS.

The chief item of interest this week has been the numerous visitors at the Hall. Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Shupe and son, were visitors from Friday to Sunday. Nelle Shupe entertained a cousin, Miss Lleyellen. Blanche Fleck is entertaining her sister and a friend, Miss Gass. Mrs. Hudson with a little niece, Anna English, is visiting Hester. Helen Dittmar spent the week-end with Zella Groff. Miss Sanders of Dayton, was a guest of Norma McCally and Miss Stacey also of Dayton, visited Marie Hendrick.

There were numerous little parties and spreads the last of the week for the different guests. Shortly before ten, a large crowd of Cochran Hall-ites and other satellites arrived, evidently from some "rusti-cation." A Sunday-morning breakfast was held on the third floor.

Ruth Weimer was busy entertaining a visitor from Dayton who came down ostensibly to see the Denison game.
