Atomic power in Caesar's day?

Certainly!

It was there, in the ground, in the air and water. It always had been. There are no more "raw materials" today than there were when Rome ruled the world.

The only thing new is knowledge . . . knowledge of how to get at and rearrange raw materials. Every invention of modern times was "available" to Rameses, Caesar, Charlemagne.

In this sense, then, we have available today in existing raw materials the inventions that can make our lives longer, happier, and inconceivably easier. We need only knowledge to bring them into reality.

Could there possibly be a better argument for the strengthening of our sources of knowledge—our colleges and universities? Can we possibly deny that the welfare, progress—indeed the very fate—of our nation depends on the quality of knowledge generated and transmitted by these institutions of higher learning?

It is almost unbelievable that a society such as ours, which has profited so vastly from an accelerated accumulation of knowledge, should allow anything to threaten the wellsprings of our learning.

Yet this is the case

The crisis that confronts our colleges today threatens to weaken seriously their ability to produce the kind of graduates who can assimilate and carry forward our rich heritage of learning.

The crisis is composed of several elements: a salary scale that is driving away from teaching the kind of mind most qualified to teach; overcrowded classrooms; and a mounting pressure for enrollment that will double by 1967.

In a very real sense our personal and national progress depends on our colleges. They must have our aid.

Help the colleges or universities of your choice. Help them plan for stronger faculties and expansion. The returns will be greater than you think.

If you want to know what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

the EDITOR'S corner

A distinguished Christian educator and an able administrator, Dr. J. Gordon Howard, '22, has served with distinction and honor as president of his alma mater for the past twelve years. His work as Otterbein's chief executive gained the respect of the academic world and inspired the affection and trust of those about him.

On August 1, the denomination which sponsors Otterbein elected our distinguished president to the bishopric. He is now active as a bishop, with headquarters and residence in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Alumni will remember Dr. Howard for his warm friendship and encouraging words. Always cooperative, he held the best interests of Otterbein uppermost in his mind and work. Our prayers and best wishes follow him in his important duties as a bishop of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Pictured in front of the president's residence is the Howard family the day before they moved to their new home in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The Howards, a close-knit family group, have been the sole occupants of the present president's home since it was purchased by the college in 1947.

In front is Gloria, '55, a graduate student at the University of Illinois, and next is Sarah, a senior at Otterbein.

Otterbein's First Lady for the past twelve years, friendly, hospitable, gracious Mrs. Rhea McConaughy Howard, '23, is pictured beside her husband, Dr. J. Gordon Howard, '22, now Bishop of the East Central area of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Otterbein's President Elected Bishop

Bishop J. Gordon Howard, '22

Dr. J. Gordon Howard, the president of Otterbein College since July 1, 1945, was elected a bishop of the Evangelical United Brethren Church on August 1, 1957. He is assigned to the East Central area of the denomination, with headquarters at 900 East End Avenue, Pittsburgh 21, Pennsylvania.

With profound regret and great reluctance the Executive Committee of the Otterbein College Board of Trustees accepted Dr. Howard's resignation on Saturday morning, August 17. He was an outstanding president, providing Otterbein with sound, progressive leadership during his twelve-year tenure.

Born in Japan

John Gordon Howard was born in Tokyo, Japan, the son of missionary parents. His father, Bishop Alfred Taylor Howard, and his mother, Mrs. May Stevenson Howard, were Otterbein classmates, graduating in 1894.

Following his graduation from Stivers High School, Dayton, Ohio, in 1918, Dr. Howard matriculated at Otterbein, where during his student days he was active in the Y.M.C.A. and the student council, became the editor of the TAN AND CARDINAL and the SIBYL, and was chosen in 1920 the all-state center for Ohio in football.

He graduated from Otterbein in 1922 and the United Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, in 1925. Two years later, he received a master's degree from New York University. Otterbein conferred an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree on him in 1936, and Albright College, Reading, Pennsylvania, an LL.D. degree in 1952.

Young People's Work

Dr. Howard was General Director of Young People's Work for the former United Brethren Church from 1927 until his election as Associate Editor of Sunday School Literature in 1939 and Editor in 1941. Prior to the merger of the Evangelical and United Brethren Churches, he served as Secretary of the Commission on Church Union, a very responsible position in negotiating the merger.

In collaboration with several other college presidents, Dr. Howard helped to initiate the Ohio Foundation for Independent Colleges and served as the first president in 1951-52. He gave leadership to the Ohio Council of Churches as president from 1951-54 and to the Ohio-West Virginia area of the Y.M.C.A. as president from 1953-56. Just this year he was elected a vice president of the National Council of the Y.M.C.A.

Prolific Writer

As a writer, Dr. Howard has published such books as Christian Beliefs for Christian Youth, When Youth Worship, Catechism for Youth, The Successful Sunday School, and many magazine articles.

In 1924, he married his college sweetheart, Rhea McConaughy, '23. They have two daughters, Gloria, a 1955 graduate from Otterbein, and Sarah, who will graduate from Otterbein next June.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees elected Bishop Howard as an advisory trustee following the acceptance of his resignation. Three of the annual conferences in his area, Erie, Western Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, are a part of the Otterbein territory.

Testimonial Dinner

A testimonial dinner was held in Barlow Hall for Dr. and Mrs. Howard and their daughters, Gloria and Sarah on Saturday, October 12. There was also a public reception on Sunday afternoon, October 13, in the First E.U.B. Church.

Acting President Selected

Mr. F. J. Vance, the registrar of Otterbein College, was elected Acting President of Otterbein by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees to serve until a successor to Bishop J. Gordon Howard is selected.

The new acting president is the senior administrative officer on the Otterbein staff. Following his graduation from Otterbein in 1916, he served as assistant cashier of the Reynoldsburg, Ohio, Bank. In 1921, he returned to Otterbein, teaching

French and serving as principal of the Martin Boehm Academy. In subsequent years he has served as acting dean, treasurer, and registrar of the college. He received his master's degree from Ohio State University in 1925.

Mr. Vance is a former president of the Ohio College Registrars' Association and in 1949-50 served as president of the Westerville Lions' Club. He is a member of the First E.U.B. Church of Westerville.

Nominating Committee Now At Work

The Executive Committee of the Otterbein College Board of Trustees met in Westerville on Saturday, August 17, to act on the resignation of President J. Gordon Howard, '22, in order that he might move to his newly elected position as a bishop of the E.U.B. Church. A five-man nominating committee was appointed to nominate candidates for the presidency of Otterbein.

Mr. Vance E. Cribbs, '20, Middletown, Ohio, Chairman of the Board of Trustees will serve as Chairman of the Nominating Committee. Other members are: Dr. Eldred B. Heisel, Columbus, Ohio, physician and trustee-at-large on the board; Dr. William K. Messmer, '36, Dayton, Ohio, Superintendent of the Ohio Miami Conference; Dr. Elmer A. Schultz, '24, Pastor of the First E.U.B. Church, Johnstown, Pennsylvania; and Mr. L. William Steck, '37, an alumni trustee and mayor of Westerville.

The nominating committee has outlined the necessary qualifications for a president and is now canvassing the field for available candidates.

Pictured below with the ex-president, Bishop J. Gordon Howard and Bishop Fred L. Dennis, is the nominating committee of the Board of Trustees following their appointment by the Executive Committee of the Board. Left to right: Dr. William K. Messmer, '36; L. William Steck, '37; Bishop Fred L. Dennis; Vance E. Cribbs, '20, chairman; Dr. Elmer A. Schultz, '24; Dr. Eldred B. Heisel; and Bishop J. Gordon Howard, '22.

Science Day

Otterbein College is inviting science teachers and outstanding science students to the campus on Saturday, November 23, for a Science Day.

The program will begin at 10:00 A.M. with an address by Dr. Charles F. Kettering, engineer and world renowned inventor. It will conclude at 3:45 P.M. with the closing address by Dr. Frederick D. Rossini, chairman of the department of chemistry at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

There will also be four informal discussion groups under the leadership of distinguished scientists and educational leaders. One discussion group will be for high school teachers of science; another for prospective science teachers; a third group for those interested in research and development in the biological sciences; and a fourth discussion group for those interested in research and development in the physical sciences.

Purpose of the science day program is to help stimulate better high school teaching of the sciences and to encourage good students to become interested in science careers.

Clements Hall Dedication

A feature of the science day will be the dedication of Clements Hall, Otterbein's newest dormitory for women. The service of dedication is scheduled for 2:15 P.M. with Dr. Charles F. Kettering, a personal friend and associate of Dr. Frank O. Clements, speaking. Clements Hall is named in appreciation of the generous contributions and loyal service of Dr. and Mrs. F. O. Clements to Otterbein College through the years.

Clements Hall is the residence dormitory for all junior and senior women on campus. It was constructed last year at a cost of $400,000. The ground floor houses the six local social sororities in their own club room.

Alumni and friends of Otterbein are cordially invited to attend the service of dedication on Saturday, November 23 at 2:15 P.M.

A Message From The Acting President

It is difficult for your Acting President to know what should best be said to the alumni and former students of Otterbein College who will be reading this page of the TOWERS.

By this time you all know that President Howard has changed his name to Bishop Howard. You know also how very much we will miss him here on the campus as well as many other places in the Otterbein territory. I am sure you, as alumni, will miss, among other things, the many fine articles he has been in the habit of writing for the TOWERS. We always looked forward with pleasure to reading them. We here on campus already feel a great loss in his leaving but we have been unanimous in our desire to wish him great success in his new and responsible position.

Excellent Cooperation

May I say personally that I was as surprised as you were when the announcement was made that I had been selected to carry on until a new President is elected. The responsibility is felt deeply, but the faculty and students have all been so fine in their expressions of willingness to cooperate in any way they can. They have already demonstrated that they mean what they say. Working together as a team, I am sure we can keep things moving along and we hope to have everything running smoothly and in good shape for the 17th President when he has been chosen and is ready to begin his duties.

Interest in Alumni

The alumni and former students of Otterbein College as a group, and as individuals, seem very close to me personally. I have known more or less intimately all of those who were in school since 1921 and many before that, while I was in school. It has been impossible, of course, to keep up with what is happening to each of you and I have been embarrassed many times in not being able to recall a name. Faces usually seem familiar, but there are just too many names. Do come back, however, and let's have a chat. If I hesitate on the name, give me a hint, and I'll do my best to dig it up. In recent years I have had some responsibility in assisting graduating seniors, as well as graduates, to locate satisfactory positions and I am always interested to keep up on what they are doing and on the successes they are having. Information on these matters is always welcome either by letter or by word of mouth.

Opening of School

May I mention just a few items regarding the new school year in which I think you would be interested. The first is another increase in enrollment—full time regular students 718 as compared to 695 last year. Including part time and evening students, the total is 770 this year and 709 last year on this date.

Adult Education

We are offering two evening classes this year for the benefit of adults, chiefly teachers in local and nearby schools. These courses are Social Science and Science Methods for elementary teachers, and Art Methods for the same teachers.

Last summer we offered a course in American History for a good group of students. A few summer courses may be offered next summer if there is sufficient demand.

Coming Events

The dedication of Clements Hall and the Science Conference, announcement of which you will see elsewhere in this issue, will be an outstanding event. We hope it will be a real benefit to the science students and teachers who will be our guests that day.

Other outstanding events will occur later in the year and it is our hope many of you may participate in some of them.

You Are Important

Your alma mater is interested in you, every one of you, in your activities, your successes, your everyday affairs, and even in your failures. We should like to keep posted on what is going on with you and it is hoped you will keep the college informed if there is anything we should know or if there is any way we may be of assistance to you. The college needs you too—financially, yes, by all means, but there are many other ways you can be of service. Why don't you sit down and figure out one way and let us hear from you.

With every good wish, I am
Most cordially,
F. J. Vance
Acting President

WHAT KIND OF ALUMNUS ARE YOU ANYWAY?

A Princeton Classification

In a recent bulletin published by Princeton University, we found alumni divided into five categories determined by their attitudes toward giving. Can all Otterbein alumni be thus classified? If any Otterbein alumnus finds himself in a different classification, let him speak up. Here are the Princeton grads:

1. There's the man who, out of sheer habit, makes it "the same as last year," regardless of circumstances.
2. There's the man who sends the same nominal amount to any appeal, regardless of his ability to give or the relative merits of the organizations.
3. There's the man who gives nothing at all because his "few dollars won't help."
4. There's the man who shows up missing because he "didn't get around to it."
5. AND THEN THERE IS THE MAN who estimates what his total giving should be this year and allots it in proportion to the importance of those seeking his help.

Otterbein would fare well if all her alumni followed that practice.

It should be pointed out here that 74% of Princeton graduates made contributions last year, whereas our percentage was 24.9%. The average gift of Princeton alumni was $46.50, as compared with our average of $34.52. We may never equal Princeton's average gift, but there is no good reason why we should not equal her percentage of participation.

HERE'S THE IDEAL METHOD

A loyal and devoted Otterbein grad had this to say in a recent letter in which she enclosed her September check.

"I write my check to Otterbein along with the others each month—to the milkman, the bank, the oil company, the church, etc., and, for me, this is the ideal way to contribute to my alma mater. It should have been part of my monthly budget years ago."

Why not make this your method? Or, if you do not wish to give monthly, perhaps you would consider giving quarterly. The Development Office will be glad to send you a notice each quarter, if you wish and if you select the dates on which you would like to be reminded.

ALUMNI GIFTS ARE "SEED MONEY"

Corporations and foundations give away thousands of dollars annually to colleges and universities. Before they give to an institution, they ask two questions:

1. What do your alumni think of their college?
2. What percentage of your graduates think well enough to give annually to it?

So, all alumni gifts are "seed money"—evidence of alumni loyalty and support which will bring additional gifts from other sources.

OUR GIVING RECORD IN 1957

Alumni paying on pledges	414
Other alumni gifts	648
<hr/>
Total alumni gifts	1,062
Percentage contributing	17.4%

On a corresponding date in 1956, the number contributing was 1,088 or 18.1%. The year ended with 1,518 contributions. We, therefore, must receive 456 gifts between now and December 31 to equal last year's record. Merely to do as well as last year is not a worthy goal. We must exceed by at least ten percent the number contributing in 1956. This means 607 more gifts before the end of the year. Help make possible this goal, not for the sake of breaking a record, but because the needs are greater.

A TRUE STORY —

There was a man (actual case in Brown records) who wanted to give his entire estate, which had a value of about $500,000, to Brown University. He discussed his intended bequest with friends. But, like many people, he hated to make a will. Perhaps he disliked to acknowledge that his life must some day end. Several years ago, death came unexpectedly and he died without a will.

His estate was distributed among numerous heirs throughout the country, many of them unknown to the deceased. The distribution was by statute and followed, in no way, his own known wishes. Reduced by taxes and broken up into small amounts, his estate was dissipated without the permanent effect he had intended.

—from the Brown Alumni Monthly

Your family, as well as your college, may suffer if you neglect to execute your will—a necessary legal document. Write for Otterbein's booklet on wills and bequests.

GRIDIRON VICTORY

Scoring twice in the final quarter, the Otterbein gridders pried open the 1957 football season by defeating Ohio Northern 19 to 6 in a Saturday night game, September 21, at Lima, Ohio.

Prospects are bright for a winning season, although over half of the squad is made up of first-year men. A strong defensive line and a speedy backfield seem to characterize the 1957 football team.

Alumni President's Message

Dear Fellow Alumni:

It is a privilege and honor to be chosen as president of the Alumni Association of Otterbein College for 1957, the year that the college has chosen to emphasize the contribution of women to higher education. Otterbein, in turn, has contributed mightily in helping women gain stature in education. One important contribution is that of being the first co-educational institution in America to name a woman to its faculty.

Loyalty and enthusiasm were two of my favorite words in college. Since then I've found reason to add judgment, awareness, and a few qualifying adjectives to my list, but I've never had any reason to drop the first two words.

The first two words are the ones that bring us back to the campus at important times to take a new look at a world that was once so completely ours. The second two words, judgment and awareness, make us realize how well those who run Otterbein have kept the feel of our private campus world while making remarkable physical improvements and additions to this world.

Under the presidency of Dr. J. Gordon Howard, Otterbein has developed and prospered, and it is with a sense of personal loss and concern for the college that we accept the election of Dr. Howard to the bishopric of our church. However, we take pride and pleasure in this appointment which reflects honor on both the Church and the College. We would wish for Bishop Howard continued and increased usefulness in this wider sphere of service.

Certainly both President and Mrs. Howard have given Otterbein a third dimension of fellowship by their warm human relations and their spiritual leadership. Every student and every graduate has felt welcome and wanted at any time at the President's Home on the sunny corner of the campus.

Dr. Verda B. Evans, '28

"Spirituality is personal," President Howard wrote in Otterbein Towers several years ago. "What inspires one man's nature, will give offense to another. To one man spirituality is an intellectual quest for the knowledge of God. Another interprets spirituality in terms of Christian action and service. Still others think of spirituality as an emotional experience. . . . Undoubtedly spirituality may include some measure of all these."

These reflections suggest the wise and understanding philosophy of the man who has directed Otterbein's progress these past twelve years.

However, we, too, have a part in this progress. That which keeps Otterbein alive and glowing for the Class of 1897 and the Class of 1957 is the feeling that the alumni have for her. Homecoming is the time to admit this feeling. This is an invitation to put "spring in your step" by coming back to Fall Homecoming on October 26.

If you see for yourself what has been done with the money that you and your friends have given to Otterbein, you'll suddenly discover that you're involved in one mutual fund development program that is paying dividends, showing capital gains, and promising great future growth.

DAYTON SOROSIS

The Dayton Otterbein College Sorosis is looking forward to another successful and enjoyable year with 120 members. This is an active organization with regular meetings on the third Thursday evening of each month.

Membership in the group is open to all alumnae of Otterbein in the Dayton and Miami Valley area, as well as wives and mothers of Otterbein students. Anyone in this area who is interested and would like more information should call the membership chairman, Thelma Zellner, '56, 115 East Norman Avenue, Dayton 5, Ohio.

The purpose of the Dayton Sorosis is to promote a continued interest in Otterbein College. This is best exemplified by one of their projects—a scholarship fund. This fund makes financial assistance available to Otterbein co-eds who make application for it.

Sorosis Officers for 1957-58 are: Margaret Moore Glover, '33, president; Grace Burdge Augspurger, '39, first vice president; Mildred Cox Schafer, '48, second vice president; Carolyn Boda Bridgman, '50, recording secretary; Betty Anglemeyer Curry, x'43, corresponding secretary; Barbara Schutz Barr, '51, treasurer; and Esther Harley Philippi, '21, historian.

1957 HOMECOMING

Several features highlight the 1957 Homecoming program. Two fraternities, Pi Beta Sigma and Pi Kappa Phi, will be celebrating their golden anniversary.

The coffee hour in the Clements Hall lounge from 9 to 11 Saturday morning affords an opportunity to greet old classmates, meet new friends, and fellowship with Alumni Association officers.

ANNEX AND COUNTRY CLUB FRATERNITY

History of Pi Beta Sigma

This year marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Pi Beta Sigma Fraternity on the Otterbein College campus. The active chapter and alumni will celebrate the occasion at a series of events planned during the fall homecoming weekend.

The fraternity was founded by a group of thirteen men in the spring of 1908. The first meeting was held in one of the member's rooms in a home located at 48 North Grove Street. The house was then known as the Cooper home. At first, meetings were held in secret on Friday nights following the Literary Society meetings.

ORIGIN OF NAME

The name Annex, by which the group is also known, developed when the members moved to a house at 81 West Main Street and operated their own boarding club. College authorities allowed them to do this because the house was owned by the father of Walter Bailey, '11, a member of the group, who also ran a rooming and boarding house next door, and they were under his supervision. Thus, it was known as the Bailey Annex and later just Annex.

In 1927 the fraternity purchased a house of its own at 188 West Main Street. Since then they have owned several houses until the present home at 72 West Plum Street was purchased.

To celebrate their golden anniversary, Pi Beta Sigma is planning a huge reunion over the Homecoming weekend, October 25-26, to be climaxed by a banquet on Saturday, October 26. Dr. Carl C. Byers, '32, will serve as toastmaster at the banquet, and Dr. Donald R. Clippinger, '25, will participate, according to John Vance, '30, chairman of the banquet committee. Dr. George Parkinson, '35, will conduct a memorial service for the deceased

The present home of Pi Beta Sigma Fraternity is located at 72 West Plum Street. Pictured in front of the house is the golden anniversary program chairman, Everett Whipkey, '32, and vice-chairman, Roger Moore, '31, with student chapter officers, Robert Studer, Anthony Chiamonte, and Neal Leighton.

PI KAPPA PHI OBSERVE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

History of Pi Kappa Phi

Fifty years ago, a group of young men—Lester J. Essig, William B. Grise, Harry D. Thompson, and Charles D. Yates—founded a new organization on the Otterbein campus—Pi Kappa Phi. At first, one of the requirements for membership was that all members must belong to Philomathean Literary Society. Because of the opposition of faculty and trustees to fraternities, it was a secret organization with passwords and a sub rosa membership. It was not until 1921 that the faculty adopted a resolution presented by Dr. A. P. Rosselot to approve the formation of "social groups" and prepared the way for open recognition of fraternities. Since the use of Greek letters was forbidden, Pi Kappa Phi petitioned the faculty for recognition under the name of Country Club, a nickname which had been acquired when the members for a few years had their headquarters at a house on Broadway "in the country." Dr. Rosselot was elected sponsor in 1921 and remained in the post for over thirty years.

PRESENT DAY

In spite of the shocks of wars, depressions, and adjustment to a flood of veterans after World War II, Pi Kappa Phi has remained a strong fraternity with the aid of alumni, student leadership, and the guidance of sponsors. Today Pi Kappa Phi has fifty-three actives, and its headquarters are a large house on South Grove Street, formerly owned by the Johnston estate. It performs an important campus function in providing housing for twenty-four men, board for forty members, and an athletic and social program for its members. It is proud of its almost six hundred alumni, many of whom are leaders in business or professional life.

INITIATED ACTIVITIES

Pi Kappa Phi lays claim to a number of "firsts" on the campus. Prior to World War I, it arranged Memorial Day picnics; in 1928 it acquired house parents and in 1936 it purchased a fraternity house. In 1943, it fathered the present-day elaborate serenades. In the past few years it has begun such innovations as the fall Mardi Gras or all-campus carnival bazaar, Parents' Day, and, after pledging, the custom of inviting faculty members to Friday night dinners. A Mothers' Club is actively interested in the welfare of the fraternity.

PROGRAM PLANNED

Under the chairmanship of Dr. J. R. Howe, '21, a committee of alumni and actives has laid plans for an elaborate celebration. Fraternity pictures and historical material will be displayed in the fraternity house. Festivities will include a session of reminiscences at the house on Friday night and a noon luncheon and business meeting. In a body, members will attend the football game and sit in a special section.

BANQUET AND PAGEANT

A banquet in Blendon Grange Hall will follow. Bob Corbin, '49, will be toastmaster; Lloyd Savage, '48, choral director; and Judge Horace W. Troop, '23, will address the members. A historical pageant based upon the history of the fraternity will be presented under the direction of Marion Chase, '47, with Al Kepke, '57, as narrator.

Later in the year an illustrated history of the fraternity will be published.
