Otterbein College has always been proud of the fact that it has been a co-educational college from the beginning. It was, in fact, the second institution of higher learning in the world to open its doors on equal terms to women, Oberlin having been the first.

This year, 1957, Otterbein will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the first graduating class. The first graduation class in 1857 consisted of two women—Sara June Miller and Mary Kate Winter.

This issue and the next two issues of TOWERS will feature both the present and the past education of women at Otterbein. In the fourth issue this year, it is our desire to present an article on the future education of women at Otterbein.

Otterbein is proud of her alumnae, who are successful in many fields of endeavor.

FROM THE ALUMNI PRESIDENT

Dr. Carl C. Byers, '32

Dear Fellow
Alumni-members:

Letters are used to form words. Words put together give us phrases, sentences, and slogans. Fine words, noble phrases, and good intentions may be wonderful, but not enough.

Slogans are an important part of the American way of life, but slogans are mere words. It takes people to breathe life and meaning into slogans. That's where you and I fit into this word picture.

Take the word A L U M N I. Unless U and I are in Alumni, there would be no Alumni. Being in it makes it merely a word. Whether it takes on life and meaning for Otterbein depends upon what YOU and I and approximately 6000 other Alumni friends do about it.

What is the Otterbein College Alumni Association? People, to be sure, but it's more than that. It is a spirit. It's the spirit of past and present generations who have been privileged to sit at the feet of Otterbein, a Liberal Arts Christian College,—there to be inspired not only mentally, but also spiritually.

This spirit of Alma Mater, united, (U and I) can do great things. You can't legislate it. It's a voluntary quality that has to be caught by you, and you, and me. It incites a warm, wonderful feeling, of comradery and belongingness that inspires us to say, "I'm proud to belong to Otterbein."

Don't just belong. Be an attender and a participator. The joy of being alive comes from immersion in something that we know to be bigger, better, and more enduring than we are.

Otterbein's new goal of $170,300 to match the Ford grant and to be used for faculty salaries gives us a challenge as well as an opportunity to be a part of our Alma Mater. We all owe so much to others. Maybe we should ask ourselves—what will others owe to us?

We've heard from many of you, but not nearly enough. Take time to drop us a line. Don't just sit on the bank and wiggle your toes in the water. Immerse yourself. Jump in—get wet all over. C'mon in. The water's fine at Otterbein.

OTTERBEIN WOMEN'S CLUB OF COLUMBUS

The Otterbein Women's Club of Columbus was organized in the spring of 1953 to create a feeling of friendship among its members and to advance the spirit of Otterbein in the Columbus area; to recruit prospective students for the College, to support Otterbein-sponsored functions, and to concentrate the club's resources in support of any special campaign. The membership consists of alumnae and wives of alumni residing in Franklin County. The club meets the third Wednesday of each month in the various members' homes.

The club has purchased for their presidents a gavel which is passed along each year and is engraved with the name of each president and her years of service.

Fund-raising projects in past years have included a rummage sale, bake sales, the selling of greeting cards, plastic products, and the pennants at homecoming games. The fund-raising project for this year has included a toy party and the sale of Christmas candy. A rummage sale is planned for the future. The group has contributed to the college Development Program over the past three years.

A variety of interesting programs in the past has included presentations from the Otterbein Departments of Speech and Music, as well as talent from within the group and from outside sources. This year the club listened to a talk on self-improvement from a representative of a modeling school, heard a speaker from the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, and had a demonstration of Christmas decorations.

Each year a Christmas party is held, at which some form of charity work is carried on. Future programs will include a book review by Norman Dohn, '43, Sunday editor of the Columbus Dispatch; a visit to the local gas company; a discussion of cancer; and a meeting to be held at the Columbus Garden Center and Nursery.

The Otterbein Women's Club of Columbus is always looking for new members. If you would like to attend, the group will be glad to hear from you.

PITTSBURGH

The annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Alumni was held Saturday evening, October 6, at the downtown Y.M.C.A. Dr. A. P. Rosselot, '05, represented Otterbein at the meeting. Stanton W. B. Wood, '17, has served as president of the group during the past year. New officers elected for next year are Arthur B. Fulton, '51, president, and Mrs. Mary Jo Wood Brown, '48, secretary-treasurer.

AKRON

The Akron Club enjoyed a dinner meeting on October 6 prior to the Otterbein-Akron football game at the Rubber Bowl in Akron. Dr. Harold B. Hancock and Mr. Arthur L. Schultz were present from the campus. George Simmons, '47, is president of the group.

WESTERVILLE

The Westerville Otterbein Women's Club held a tea for new members on Sunday afternoon, October 7, in the Association Building. Guests included the new women faculty members and wives of new faculty members at Otterbein.

Mrs. Donald Hanawalt (Rita Kohlepp, '41), president of the club, announces that the annual banquet honoring the Otterbein Woman of the Year will be held on Saturday, March 2, in Barlow Hall.

WOOSTER-ASHLAND-MANSFIELD

Alumni in the Wooster-Ashland-Mansfield area met on Saturday evening, October 13, in the beautiful social rooms of the West Main Street E.U.B. Church, Mansfield. The meeting was in the form of an open house with prospective students for Otterbein as special guests. Mr. Arthur L. Schultz, represented Otterbein and showed colored slides of the campus and campus activities.

Mrs. Karl J. Garling (Mildred Forward, '32) is president of the group and Mrs. Virgil T. Raver (Lucy Hanna, '30) is program chairman.

DAYTON

Over 110 Dayton area alumni met on Wednesday evening, October 24, at the Wishing Well in Centerville for dinner. Professor Wayne E. Barr, '43, served as toastmaster for the evening program arranged by a committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. Wendell A. Hohn, '36 (Kathryn Winifred Moore, '36). Featured speaker was Dr. Harvey C. Hahn, an honorary alumnus of Otterbein. Dick Bridgeman, '49, is the president of this largest Otterbein alumni club.

BOSTON

Twenty Otterbein alumni in Massachusetts attended an informal Sunday afternoon meeting and buffet supper at the Concord home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer N. Funkhouser, Jr., '37, (Gladys McFeeley, '38). The executive secretary of the Alumni Association, Mr. Arthur L. Schultz, was present. The time was profitably spent in renewing old acquaintances and hearing something about the current activities on the campus.

NEW YORK

A small but enthusiastic group of alumni living in the New York

City area met on October 31 in the lounge of New York Biblical Seminary on 49th Street.

Mr. Arthur L. Schultz represented the college. Frank L. Durr, '25, the club president, arranged all the details of the meeting. Refreshments in harmony with the Halloween season were served. Plans were discussed for a future dinner meeting of the group.

PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia alumni met for dinner at the Robert Morris Hotel on Saturday evening, November 3. Elvin H. Cavanagh, '26, president of the group, and Mrs. William A. Stauffer (Pauline Stubbs, '22), club secretary, planned the delightful affair. Mr. Arthur L. Schultz reported from the campus.

WASHINGTON

Robert E. Kline, '18, arranged for a meeting of the Washington, D. C., area alumni for Sunday afternoon, November 4, in the spacious parlors of the Arlington, Virginia, E.U.B. Church. Mr. Arthur L. Schultz brought a "State of the College" report and all alumni present introduced themselves and spoke of their experiences at Otterbein. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting. Guests of the group were Rev. George E. Schnabel, pastor of the host church, and Mrs. Schnabel.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Dr. O. W. Albert, '09, president of the Southern California club, reports that 39 attended their November 30 dinner meeting held at the Holiday House Restaurant in San Marino, California. Dr. Alfred H. Weitkamp, '04, was the featured speaker and showed colored slides of the campus. Singing of favorite Otterbein songs was a feature of the meeting.

DETROIT

The January meeting of the Detroit club was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Eschbach, '24, (Marguerite Weatherill, '24). Dr. A. P. Rosselot and Dr. Lavelle Rosselot were present from the campus and spoke about the project of the foreign language department in producing the first complete sound-film textbook in the history of education.

Several features of the 1956 fall homecoming program attracted one of the largest crowds in recent years. The coffee hour in the new Clements Hall lounge was the principal morning activity. The Westerville Otterbein Women's Club was in charge, with Alumni president Dr. Carl C. Byers extending greetings to the many in attendance.

Arbutus Sorority had over 150 in attendance at their fortieth anniversary luncheon. Other sorority and fraternity luncheons were well attended.

Afternoon activities were centered at the Otterbein Memorial Stadium. Prior to the gridiron contest between Otterbein and Hiram, the homecoming parade was held, featuring floats built around the theme of "The Highland Fling." Members of the 1946 Ohio Conference championship football team at Otterbein were presented by Athletic Director Harry W. Ewing prior to the crowning of the Homecoming Queen at halftime.

Following the football game, many alumni inspected the new sorority rooms on the ground floor of Clements Hall. The day was brought to a successful conclusion with an excellent presentation of the musical play "Brigadoon" in Cowan Hall and a dance at Barlow Hall. Sunday morning saw a capacity attendance at morning worship services in the First E.U.B. Church.

The homecoming program for alumni was arranged by Mrs. Sara Kelser Steck, '37, Mrs. Jean Unger Chase, '43, Robert W. Hohn, '38, and Edwin "Dubs" Roush, '47.

The Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges is in its sixth year.

Gifts to the Foundation are sought from industrial and business corporations, and educational and charitable foundations operating in Ohio. The presidents of the member colleges are expected to give at least ten days a year to this work of the Foundation. They call on corporation heads to tell the story of the Foundation and to emphasize the current financial needs of Ohio's independent (non-tax supported) colleges and universities. Trustees and alumni in certain cities render valuable service in making contacts with corporations along with school presidents. Mr. Vance E. Cribbs, Chairman of the Otterbein Board of Trustees, is an influential OFIC leader in the Middletown-Hamilton area.

Member colleges in the Ohio Foundation since 1952 have increased from 18 to 27, and donations have risen from $170,000 in 1952 to $643,000 in 1956. Otterbein's share has grown from $9,500 to $26,300 in the same period. In 1952 there were 85 donors and in 1956 there were 640.

CORPORATION SUPPORT

Six years ago when the Foundation was new, corporation responsibility for the current needs of higher education was not widely accepted. It was hard to convince many corporation heads. A few executives such as A. A. Stambaugh, then president of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio (Sohio), were pioneers in acknowledging the importance of corporation support for Ohio's independent colleges. But pioneers are always few and many corporation presidents and board members were slow to commit corporation funds for the current operating budgets of institutions of higher learning. However, the tide has turned. Today the needs of the independent colleges are well known, and a great number of corporations have assumed their responsibility to render annual assistance.

Otterbein's President Says

When the president of Otterbein today meets the president of an Ohio corporation face to face, there is very little argument about the needs of the colleges or about the desire of the corporation to be helpful. Usually the main topic of conversation is the "product" of the colleges and universities, namely, the new graduates. How well prepared are graduates to meet the heavy demands which modern business and industry place upon them? Where much is invested, much is expected. Corporations are willing to give dollars to colleges, provided colleges in turn will give to industry the men and women who are desperately needed.

LEADERS WANTED

Corporation heads will say, one after the other: Please give us college graduates who have the potentialities for leadership. We need more young people who can carry responsibility and learn to make decisions. We have plenty of people for routine jobs. In fact automation is rapidly displacing the routine worker. In industry and business the need for the future is leadership—men and women of integrity and intelligence who understand human nature, who can build an organization, develop team spirit, analyze problems, find answers, sell ideas to others, and who are self-starters with the built-in motivation to stay with a job until it is done and done well.

Furthermore, corporation heads repeatedly say: We will give college graduates the special training required for our type of business. We have an extensive educational program for that purpose. We need from the colleges young people who are educated broadly with depth at certain points, who have a knowledge of history and past experience, an understanding of the contemporary world and its problems, and some ability to foresee the trends of the future.

TRAINING LEADERS

Special training is still important to industry, but today the role of the specialist comes second. First, industry desires young men and women who are well informed, yet teachable, cooperative in dealing with people at all levels, capable of making right decisions and dependable in carrying responsibility.

This call of industry places the liberal arts college high in the American educational pattern. It has been the historical purpose of the liberal arts college to train young people not for a special job, but for the assumption of leadership with many relationships and activities.

The term "leadership" of course is used in a broad sense. It may mean the leadership which asserts itself publicly in organizational life and with large groups of people. Or it may refer to the leadership that functions quietly in the creation of new ideas and new goals, which in turn produce new products, new projects and new behavior on the part of human beings.

Otterbein College for 110 years has been helping young people prepare themselves for leadership. Today Otterbein College continues to fulfill its mission as a school where young people are prepared to lead in industry and business as well as in church and state.

THANKS TO BILL DRENTON

Bill Drenton, '51, recently chosen to head the news film department of WBNS-TV, Columbus, was technical advisor for the French film produced by Otterbein College. He trained Dr. Lavelle Rosselot in the use of camera equipment and techniques prior to the filming of the movie last summer in France. His technical assistance, offered without charge, is deeply appreciated.

MOTHER'S WEEKEND

The YWCA sponsored a Mother's Weekend on the campus. A welcoming tea with a short program was held for the mothers on Saturday afternoon, January 12. A dinner followed at Barlow Hall, after which a Harmony Night program was held in the Cowan Hall auditorium. The show featured quartets in competition from the sororities and fraternities. Winners were the Owls Sorority and Zeta Phi Fraternity.

The weekend concluded with mothers and daughters attending various local churches.

Dr. Robert Price, chairman of the English department, continues to be honored for his recent book. Recently the American Association for State and Local History in its annual meeting at Sturbridge, Massachusetts, gave Dr. Price a special award for his book "Johnny Appleseed: Man and Myth." The nominating citation read: "The romantic story of John Chapman, which attracted numerous fictions and fictional biographies, has finally found its right recorder."

Campus News

WHO'S WHO

Twelve seniors have been named for the 1956-57 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Seniors honored are: Marilla Clark, Betty Gibson, and Astrida Salnais, Dayton, O.; William Freeman and Alan Norris, Westerville, O.; Janice Gunn, Attleboro, Mass.; Robert Henn, Brookville, O.; Allen Kepke, Fairview Park, O.; Eileen Fagan, Blairsville, Pa.; John Howe, Ashland, O.; Sally Gordon, Springfield, O.; and Elaine Ellis, Baltimore, Md.

ORCHESTRA CONCERT

Ralph Marterie and his famous orchestra will present a concert of popular music in Cowan Hall, Monday evening, February 11.

HEATING PLANT

The Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of Otterbein recently authorized the building of a new heating plant and service building to cost approximately $300,000. The present facilities, rebuilt in 1939, are inadequate to meet the needs of an expanded campus which has added five major buildings in the past ten years.

Business Manager Sanders A. Frye says that the heating plant and service building together, with necessary distribution tunnels, will be erected on college-owned property off the main campus, south of West Park Street near Alum Creek. The old heating plant and smoke stack will then be torn down in order to make a more beautiful main campus for the college.

DELTA TAU CHI

The Life Work Recruits at Otterbein have changed their name to the Greek letters Delta Tau Chi, which means "Servants of Christ."

Delta Tau Chi is a campus organization for students who are preparing for church vocations such as the Christian ministry, missionary services, and Christian education. During the year this organization provides scores of deputations which assist the ministers and churches of the cooperating territory.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ON CAMPUS

Seven international students enrolled at Otterbein this year are making a valuable contribution to campus life. Through their attendance in classes, participation in extra-curricular activities, and associations with fellow students, they are a constant reminder that all men are brothers, living in one world with common aspirations and ideals.

Two of these students, Victor Sumner and Lloyd Bailor, represent Sierra Leone, Africa. Both graduated from Albert Academy and attended Fourah Bay College in Sierra Leone. Majoring in sociology, they both plan vocations in teaching upon returning to their native land.

A sophomore transfer student from Ohio State University is Elizabeth Arismendi, whose home is in Venezuela. Her father is employed by the Creole Petroleum Corporation in Caracas, Venezuela. She is majoring in French.

For the second year, Greece is represented in the student body by Peter Loleas, a sophomore. "Pete" is majoring in chemistry and plans to enter the field of chemical engineering following graduation in two years.

Calistro M. Izuka is a second year student at Otterbein and hails from Sinajura, Guam. He plans to enter the field of mechanical engineering. "Cal" first heard about Otterbein at his job in the Coca Cola bottling company on his island in the Pacific. Charles Hoover, '48, "the brother-in-law of my boss is a graduate of Otterbein and told me about it," he said.

Lily Keohokapu is from Honolulu, Hawaii. Very popular with her classmates, Lily was elected vice-president of the freshman class and serves as president of King Hall. She is majoring in medical technology.

Yong Min Kim, whose address is Seoul, Korea, previously attended National College in Seoul, and last year was enrolled at Ohio State University. A junior this year at Otterbein, Kim is majoring in economics and is happy to be a member of the Otterbein family.

Its purpose is to acquaint more student athletes with Otterbein; to assist worthy student athletes in obtaining grants and employment; to establish additional financial aid for student athletics; to assist the athletic department whenever possible; and to promote the well-being of Otterbein and its athletic program in every manner consistent with the desires of the college administration.

BISHOP AND WIFE KILLED

Bishop and Mrs. David T. Gregory, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, were killed on December 27 in an automobile accident near Cambridge, Ohio. As resident bishop of the East Central area of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Bishop Gregory was the episcopal leader of the Erie, Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Florida Conferences, all a part of the cooperating territory of Otterbein College. The bishop was an advisory member of Otterbein's Board of Trustees. Their only daughter, Thelma, is a 1930 graduate of Otterbein.

Services of memory for Bishop and Mrs. Gregory were held on December 31 in the Euclid Avenue E. U. B. Church, Dayton. Otterbein's President, Dr. J. Gordon Howard, served as an honorary pallbearer. On January 2, a service of memory and burial was held in Martinsburg, West Virginia.

Bishop and Mrs. Gregory were loyal supporters of Otterbein College, and their sudden passing is a distinct loss not only to Otterbein but also to the general church in which they served so faithfully.
