IN-DOOR MEET

GIVES BRIGHT PROSPECTS OF A COMING TRACK TEAM.

Defeat at Ohio State by Large Margin Is Not Indication of Poor Material.

Otterbein met O. S. U. Saturday night, Jan. 21 in a dual in-door track meet. The home team was defeated by a score of $80\frac{1}{2}$ to $12\frac{1}{2}$. This score however does not indicate the splendid work done by our boys.

Although it was a handicap meet and Otterbein received a liberal consideration in this, the unfamiliarity of our men with the indoor track there more than lost the advantage of the handicap.

Another thing that increased the State score was the fact of the few entries of Otterbein. With no men entered in the pole vault, only one in the two mile and one in the mile we were obliged to give away the points in the former event, and State had the advantage of the team work, which means so much in the latter events.

Rogers and Wineland ran a great race in the 220 yard dash, in spite of the strange track, and Rogers won an easy point.

Van Saun on a 45 yard handicap won second place in the mile. He was unable to use his head much from the fact that he did not count the number of laps to the mile, and having no one to count for him. He also ran a strong half mile, but failed to get a place.

RICH QUALITY

CHARACTERIZES VOICE OF MRS. MACDONALD.

Musical Event of Feb. 1 Promises to be Especially Entertaining Event.

"A soprano of the lyric order bordering on the dramatic, of great range and value, whose voice is of the silvery and penetrating sort," are a few of the many press comments which come to Mrs. Edith Sage MacDonald who sings here at the Choral concert, Feb. 1.

Mrs. MacDonald who is known state wide as the leading lady soloist of Ohio has pleased large and critical audiences, with her rich quality of voice. Of her the Portsmouth Blade says: "Mrs. MacDonald has a beautiful soprano voice and sang her selections with ease and grace showing the cultivation and clearness of her well trained voice."

From the Columbus Journal—"Mrs. MacDonald's soprano rang and soared and vibrated in every phase of the beautiful music written for Eve in a way to make us as proud as Highlanders of the clan MacDonald."

Dayton Journal—"Mrs. Edith MacDonald possessed a lyric quality of voice that is especially adopted to brilliant colorature work."

Canton Repository—"Her voice is one of volume and quality and fine interpretation".

Toledo Blade—"In Mrs. Edith Sage MacDonald the management was fortunate to secure a soloist well suited to the occasion."

The foregoing comments are sufficient to assure this part of the evening's program to be of the highest class.

The support of Neddermeyer's String quartet in the rendition of the choral number will be another pleasing feature of the program. The name of Neddermeyer at the mast of this organization is guarantee of the efficiency of the instrumental assistance. This quartet was one of the attractive numbers in the concert last commencement. There is a program arrangement of two parts. In the first part Mrs. MacDonald sings two groups of songs and the quartet will play a group of numbers.

In the second part the rendition of "The Death of Minnehaha" by the Chorus will be given, assisted in the solo work by J. Frank Resler, director and Mrs. MacDonald.

The concert promises to be fully as good as the one of last June which was one of the most pleasing features of commencement week.

All seats will be reserved at both prices, twenty-five and thirty-five cents. A provisory division of the chapel will be made for the purpose of a disposition of the tickets. An imaginary line will be drawn through the middle row seats and the tickets to the north division will be sold at the Bank of Westerville and those to the south at the National bank. This arrangement is made in order that there be no crowding for tickets.

Both banks will place these tickets on sale Saturday morning, January 28, and none will be set aside before this date by the letter system which is used for the lecture course numbers.

ABLE LECTURERS

To Appear in College Chapel in Near Future.

In addition to the excellent lectures scheduled on this year's lecture course Otterbein will be indeed privileged to listen to the popular lectures of two distinguished men who will appear Jan. 27 and Feb. 17.

The January lecture will be given by Hamilton Holt, managing editor of the New York Independent. Mr. Holt who has done much toward promoting international peace will lecture on, "The Federation of the World." There will be no admission charged at this time but tickets which can be had at the college office must be presented at the door.

The second lecture will be delivered by Mr. Riley R. Ross, manager of the subscription department of the Dodd Mead Co. Publication. His theme will be, "A Business Man's Estimate of a Great Man." Abraham Lincoln will be the central character of this lecture.

Mr. Ross has made an extensive study of the character of Mr. Lincoln and is in deep sympathy with his subject.

BIG GAIN

Made by Westerville in Ten Years.

The census bureau has just announced the population of the towns of the state. Westerville made a big gain from 1462 in 1900, to 1903 in 1910. It has also made a big gain in valuation of property and its postoffice receipts are now sufficient to warrant free delivery when other conditions such as numbering the houses have been met.

January Recital.

Otterbein music lovers were delighted by an excellent recital last Wednesday evening given by the School of Music in the Lambert Conservatory. Each number was well rendered and enthusiastically received. Miss Hoffman beautifully sang "A Mountain Vigil" composed by Charles Ferry, a former pupil of Prof. Grabill. The delightful breezy music of these monthly concerts is becoming more appreciated by the students and general public as was attested by the large number present the other evening.

JUVENILE COURT

Discussed by Mayor Fred Bale in Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association was favored last Thursday evening with a strong address by Fred G. Bale, Mayor of Westerville. Mr. Bale is also prosecutor of the Franklin County Juvenile court, and thus was very able to handle his subject, "The Juvenile Court."

The speaker first called attention to the history of the movement which resulted in the establishment of the court. Judge Lindsay of Denver and Judge Black of Columbus were noted as strong exponents of the cause. Through the efforts of these men and others, today no state and scarcely a city of any importance in the Union is without its Juvenile Court.

The gospel on which this movement is based is contained in the verse, "Suffer little children to come unto me." It is said that love without justice is weak doctrine. But justice without love is weaker. Love is the medium through which the child is reached. So love and charity are essential in the work of a court which deals with children. Many of the best homes turn out children who go astray. The cause is the lack of love, sympathy and chuminess which should be ever present in the family circle. It has been truly said that there is no boy problem. It is a home problem.

The Juvenile court deals with the orphan and those children who are neglected in the home. Some parents seem to think that their responsibility to their children ceases when food and a place to sleep has been provided for them. We must have restricted marriage laws. Out of sixteen hundred cases that came up before the Franklin County Court in the last year at least three-fourths of the parents did not have the right ideals. In many cases the father or mother lived a flagrantly immoral life.

Other cases were due to cruelty of parents and more, to the use of intoxicating liquors. Some very alarming statistics of Franklin County were presented which showed the revolting conditions that many a child is compelled to endure. Immorality, cruelty, neglect and premature labor were found to be predominant in the cases that come into the children's court room.

These conditions ought to impel all thinking and Christian people to action. The Juvenile Court can do very little without the help of such organizations as the church, the Christian Endeavor society, the Epworth League and the Y. M. C. A. College men above all ought to act. The opportunity is inspiring and boundless.

The "big brother" plan is capable of great good. Let each Christian man take under his wing, as it were, a boy. Let him instruct him in the ways of right and place high ideals before him. Every man has a responsibility in some boy's trouble. Such work will widen our sympathies, and enrich our lives.

Y. W. C. A.

"The Roominess of the Narrow Way," was the topic of Y. W. C. A. Tuesday evening, Jan. 17. Myrtle Saul favored the association with a vocal solo.

Some thoughts brought out by the leader, Mary Bolenbaugh were: Through Christ, the Way, we may enter into eternal life. Christ has given the invitation and there is plenty of room for all. Thus the question remains with us whether we will or will not live in the narrow way.

Some people object to living in the narrow way saying that its limits are too restrictive, but God did not intend for His children to be unhappy because He says Himself, "I am come that ye might have life and that more abundantly." This does not sound as if the Christian life were the more restrictive life. Rather let us think of what our lives might have been if Christ had never come to earth to show us the way to live for time and eternity.

The limits of the narrow way only seem confining when the tempter tries to induce us to leave the narrow way and enter some side path only there to meet temptation and sin. How much room there is in the narrow way to work for others! Do those that have been called to active Christian services find their fields of work limited? Christ says, "The harvest truly is great but the laborers are few."

In choosing our life's vocation are we going to seek a worldly

Tuesday, Wednesday—? ? ?

The approaching examinations find many students hard at work in preparation for these hours of extreme "pleasure." Cramming is the paramount thought, and worry the natural accompaniment, both of which should be unnecessary. If there has been hard, consistent work during the past school months, there need be no cramming. If this faithful study has not been in evidence, cramming will be of little import in the end, for this kind of study is but a temporary attainment. And why worry? If all possible has been done, there will be no need of worry. If this satisfied disposition however is not felt, worrying cannot help matters. This philosophy however, if such it may be called, is safe only by adopting a resolution to profit by mistakes and to do more faithful work during the coming months of the year.

We are led to wonder if the street car company is under the impression that Otterbein students and Westervillites accompanied Perry on his expedition to the frozen regions. How we anticipated the coming of the new cars! But alas! far from our stored up expectations did we dream of the utilization of refrigerators for transportation purposes. Cold as a barn is mild when expressing the temperature of these cold storage "agonizers" for the passenger cannot operate the muscles of the face sufficiently to grin and bear it. But why permit this expenditure of futile energy in denouncing this cruelty for June is only four months distance and then—the windows will be nailed down.

It is an easy task to encourage and support a winning athletic team but it takes the real, genuine college spirit to stand by a losing team. To Otterbein now comes the supreme test of the loyalty of her students. Four defeats in this early season are chalked up against the local five, defeats of course which are not mentioned with any particular delight. But what shall be done? The little student will say "knock," but the man who has the interest of his school at heart, and who is a real sport, if this term may be used, will multiply his enthusiasm for the welfare of the team by the number of defeats credited to the locals. Otterbein's men are working hard and are losing honorably. What more can be asked of them? And because we have lost the past games is no indication of losing the others on the schedule. If we do, one half of the credit must be chargeable to the student body, for no organization can flourish without support. Suppose we brace up to the situation.

School Inspection.

Medical inspection of pupils has just begun in the public schools of Pittsburg, and the sentiment there is one of reproach that it was not sooner introduced. In Chicago, where there has been such inspection for some time fifty per cent of the pupils were found suffering from defects interfering with their progress in school—Dispatch.

Base-Ball Dope.

The baseball management is working on a Baseball Dope book which will contain names of managers, captains and records of teams for the past twenty years. It will also contain the schedule of all Ohio teams for 1911. This book will appear about the 1st of March.

VARSITY LOSES

OTTERBEIN DEFEATED IN TWO CONSECUTIVE GAMES.

Muskingum and Denison Victors in Hard Contests by Safe Margins.

Otterbein 43, Muskingum 63.

Muskingum's splendid basket throwing lost O. U. the first game of the trip last Friday evening. Long shots were caged from the center of the floor time after time.

Otterbein was placed at a great disadvantage however, the game being played on a very small floor which prevented the O. U. boys from doing much pass work. Young of Otterbein played a great game procuring twelve field goals.

The line up.

John, Stringer	r f	Michels
Young	l f	McConnal
Crosby, John	c	Montgomery
Hall	r g	Stump
Cook	l g	Campbell

Goals from field—John 4, Young 12, Crosby 3, Hall, Cook, Michels 8, McConnal 7, Montgomery 7, Stump 6, Campbell. Goals from fouls—Young 1 out of 5; Michels 5 out of 11. Referee, Brinaley, Newark. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Denison 45, Otterbein 8

The second game, on Saturday evening, was won quite easily by Denison, Black and Rupp being the whole show. For the first ten minutes of play O. U. held the Baptists in great style, until Black who is without doubt the best forward in the state started the scoring by some exceedingly clever work.

The game was fast and clean and had Otterbein been able to break up Denison's pass work the score would have been quite different. Young scored Otterbein's 8 points on throws from the foul line, procuring 8 out of 14 chances.

Both games were lost on the trip, but Otterbein was up against a hard proposition at each school. Denison plays here at Westerville on Feb. 18.

The line up.

Seconds Win.

In a fast and exciting game the second team of Otterbein showed its superiority over the Westerville High lads, on last Thursday evening by handing them a 55 to 39 defeat.

The seconds had some great team work and found the basket with ease, Dempsey obtaining 9 field goals, while Stringer shot six.

The line up.

Kahler tied for second place in the high jump. He cleared the bar with the winner but having only a one inch handicap as against the State man's two inches, he was forced to a second and a tie with another State man.

Bungard is to be commended on the way he ran the two mile. Lapped twice by the State man, he kept up his pace and made a great sprint for the last two laps of his distance, finishing under eleven minutes in the event in which the State man broke their indoor record in 10 minutes and 10 seconds.

The new men are showing up well. With twenty more men who would stick to the job, there is no reason why Otterbein cannot have a track team this spring that will back up the record of last fall's football team.

The men will continue to practice three times a week for about

Wise or Unwise.

Now in those days a course was given and all the people came to take the course because it was a snap. Some of them were wise and some were foolish. The foolish took the course but took no notes of it and while the semester tarried they all whispered and slept. But the wise took notes and harkened unto the Professor. But at last there arose a great cry, "Behold the exams cometh." Then all the people arose and began to exam their notes. But the foolish said unto the wise, "Lend us your notes for ours are lost." But the wise said, "We know it is not so."

Then great fear took hold of the foolish and they got themselves together with a great cry saying, "Woe, Woe, to us lest we flunk and be the sport of the campus!" But there arose one among them who was foxier than all the rest who said, "O ye fearful! I, even I, will save you and we will still be the people. Lo, when meeting the professors in the highways and hedges, we will salute them with deep profundity, we will in the class room laugh at their jokes and call them funny, and they shall be known to us as wonderful and mighty, and when the day of exams cometh their hearts will be full of love toward us and none shall flunk."

Selah.

But it was not so even as it was said.

DEBATERS CHOSEN

Try-out Held Saturday Morning in Lambert Conservatory.

Judging from the ability shown in the debate trials which were held Saturday morning in the auditorium of the Conservatory, Otterbein will have strong teams this year. Of the fourteen men who competed, the following were chosen Dick, Harkins, Layton, McFarland, Richer and Yates, with Muskopf and Schutz as alternates.

Each contestant presented some phase of the question which will be debated in the triangular meet. They were judged not on the strength of argument, but rather on the ability shown to develop the point in hand, as well as on ability displayed in rebuttal and delivery. The judges were—Dr. Snively, Dr. Jones, Dr. Russell, Prof. Moore and Attorney Fred G. Bale.

Otterbein's forensic contest for this year consists of a Triangular Debate with Heidelberg and Buchtel. We will have both an affirmative and a negative team, one of which will debate Heidelberg at Westerville, while the other will meet Buchtel at Akron. The question to be debated is "Resolved that our Legislation should be shaped toward the gradual, ultimate abandonment of the Protective Tariff."

FORMER GOVERNORS

Lecture in College Chapel on Instructive Subjects.

Otterbein students and people of Westerville were fortunate last week in hearing two renowned ex-governors of our sister states, Indiana and Missouri. On Monday evening Hon. J. Frank Hanly formerly the chief executive of Indiana presented a strong thought-compelling lecture on, "The Personality of Christ." The lecture was given for the benefit of the Hanby Memorial Association. The receipts were about $85.

Ex-Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri spoke on the Citizen's Lecture Course Friday night. His subject was, "The Soldiers of Peace." He told of his experience in prosecuting graft in his native state and appealed to American citizenship to fight as true soldiers, for high standard of patriotism.
