No. 32.

CONCLUDING GAME

PROVES REGULAR GOAL FEAST FOR OTTERBEIN.

Varsity Throws 44 Baskets Against Wittenberg's Lone 2.

In a very slow and uninteresting game, the Otterbein Basketball team rounded up their season in a splendid manner, by defeating the Wittenberg team by the overwhelming score of 98 to 13.

The Lutherans at no time played ball, while on the other hand Otterbein played a magnificent game, working hard at all times for a big score and holding their opponents to two field goals. Wittenberg's nine other points were thrown from the foul line, right forward Haner throwing all of his chances but two.

Otterbein was so aggressive that their victims scarcely had hold of the ball and the game was more of a goal practice, than a regular contest. Captain Young secured ten field goals the first half, besides throwing six fouls out of as many chances. During the second half his forward was played by Dempsey who shot five from the field and four from the foul line. John was there also with the goals and scored twenty-four points with ease.

The center position and guards seemed to be in on the feast also. Crosby at center although shooting in hard luck made six baskets nevertheless. Cook at left guard registered up five baskets, while holding his man to no goals. Right guard also proved to be an easy place from which to cage the leather. Bailey shooting two during the first half and Hall dropped the ball in four times during the second period.

George Wrigley a former Columbus Senator and now manager of the Chillicothe Ohio State League team, will coach Otterbein team for the next two weeks. ## RARE TREAT

Is Coming of Mr. Cope Who Will Interest Entire Student Body

Mr. Cope, secretary of the National Religious Educational Association with headquarters at Chicago, will address the local R. E. A. March 20th, Monday, at 7 p. m. in the college chapel.

This will be a rare treat for our people to hear about the great movements going on in the country with reference to the place of religion in secular education and educational methods in the church.

TARIFF CLASH

WILL BE LIVELY EVENT IN COLLEGE CHAPEL, FRIDAY.

Aff. Debaters Will Meet Heidelberg on Local Rostrum—Neg. at Akron.

That the tariff is one of the meanest and most contemptible pieces of legislation ever enacted or that it is one of the grandest and most ennobling types of sagacity yet turned out by human ingenuity will be decided next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the college chapel when Heidelberg, negative, and Otterbein, affirmative will attempt to convince the judges that there is only one side to this question. "Resolved, that our legislation should be shaped toward the gradual ultimate abandonment of the Protective Tariff" has in it terms whose interpretations will be questioned, has in it problems for solution in which even the wisest of the wise are at variance and which solutions are now before the public with no certainty of their mastery for several years to come. However these debaters have after careful examination, some ideas on the matter which are invulnerable.

For several weeks past, day and night, the members of these local debating teams have been thrashing out this question in its every phase and are now ready to convince their anticipated audiences that they know something about it.

Mayor Fred Bale who was captain of the Ohio State team for two years while a law student there has recently been giving his efficient services to the local debaters. This coaching coupled with the untiring preparation of the debaters assures the Westerville audience of a lively clash of opinions.

The members of the affirmative team who debate in the College chapel Friday evening are Dick, Harkins and MacFarland with Shutz alternate.

The same evening the members of the negative team, Layton, Richer and Yates with Muskopf, alternate will debate in Akron with Buchtel on the same question.

Following the debate in Westerville a reception to the Heidelberg boys will be given.

The admission is 15 cents. Come one, Come all.

RARE TREAT

It should not be confined to the persons interested only in religious work.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion that the R. E. A. only deals with religious activities but this is not true. The work is broad in its scope, taking many fields of work under discussion. The work is of a two-fold nature, to supply the educational forces of our country with the religious ideal and to keep before the public mind the ideal of religious education and the sense of its need and importance.

Every student will miss a rare treat if he does not hear Mr. Cope explain the work of the R. E. A.

Mr. Cope will occupy the pulpit at the regular service Sunday morning. On Monday evening he will address the association while on Tuesday morning there will be a conference at chapel of all persons interested in religious education.

Motives for Pleasing.

Sir Richard Steel.

The desire of pleasing makes a man agreeable or unwelcome to those with whom he converses, according to the motive from which that inclination appears to flow. If your concern for pleasing others arises from an innate benevolence, it never fails of success; if from a vanity to excel, its disappointment is no less certain. What we call an agreeable man is he who is endowed with that natural bent to do acceptable things from a delight he takes in them merely as such; and the affectation of that character is what constitutes a fop.

Y. M. C. A. Nominations

Nominations for the Y. M. C. A. offices for the coming year were recommended last Thursday night by the nominating committee. These recommendations will be read again this coming Thursday at which time the association will take action in regard to their ratification. The following officers as nominated will be considered:

President, A. D. Cook; Vice-President, G. L. Hartman; Secretary, T. H. Nelson; Treasurer, C. R. Hall.

Open Session.

A special program will be given next Thursday evening by the Philaethean Literary society at their regular session. The following Thursday open session program will be given by the Cleiorhetean society.

A. E. Brooks is field agent for Redpath Lyceum Bureau in northeastern Ohio. He has turned his agency for the Orr-Kiefer Studio over to C. R. Layton and J. T. Hogg.

Prof. Gilbert was called home over Sunday because of a death of a near relative.

Leahy—"I was standing along the street the other day when a fellow tied his horse to me thinking me a post."

Miss Staiger to Brooks who is tying a knife and fork together in restaurant—"That's the way you will soon be tied up."

SENIORS PERPLEXED

Are Unable to Determine Who Got the Best of It.

Class spirit seems to be awakening as Spring approaches. This essential in university life seemed to be dead in Otterbein but Friday morning it came to life with a vengeance. That morning was the first that the honorable Seniors, the cream of the student body, the headiest class that ever graduated from Otterbein, were to appear in their dignified caps and gowns. They were ready to take that solemn march into chapel when lo and behold! came the Juniors with a brass band at their head marching into the Seniors' pews, clad in bath robes and house aprons.

Oh! What a horrid sight they made. Such a rabble in the pews which the patrician Seniors were accustomed to grace! But listen: Said a wise Senior, "We will retaliate. We will march in without our caps and gowns on. That will be punishment enough for them." So as a consequence the two classes were forced to sit in the same pews and not much attention was paid to the chapel exercises.

Now who was the joke on?

Y. W. C. A.

May Dick gave the president's annual report of the Y. W. C. A. Installation of officers was conducted by Pres. Clippinger. Special music, "I Cannot Drift," was given by Martha Cassler and Ethel Kephart. An inspiring address was given to the girls by Pres. Clippinger on the "Real Significance of the Christian Life to Us." The christian life has been evolutionary. In proportion as we have thought, our faith has grown. There was a time when men grew close to God. There followed the ritualistic form of religion when man was a slave to his religion, when it was burden-some. The prophets came and a clear hope was heard out of this turmoil when people were bowed down by the Jewish religion. This prepared the people for a more beautiful religion. Jesus laid down no rules but made a necessity of love, obedience and truth. A union of Christ with his followers, is that bond through which fruit-bearing is possible. You can't explain physical life nor why it grows.

The relation is what is called Christianity. It will grow in proportion as you serve Christ whom you love. In proportion as you can appropriate the life of Jesus Christ so you will grow. What is Christ? What would He have me do? If we seek Him then our souls will undergo that transformation. Others will know without our advertising it that we have been transformed. Our faces will shine. If we get a proper conception of God it will reveal itself. We talk about the grosser evils. Let us make an introspection of our heart life and make it pure.

Y. M. C. A.

A large and attentive audience was present Thursday evening to hear Dr. Jones who gave a very interesting and helpful talk on Missionary work. Dr. Jones used the greater part of the hour in a vivid account of the great religious convention held at Edinburgh last year, a convention celebrating the culmination of a hundred years of successful organized missionary activity.

All the way through the report of this great convention the speaker laid much emphasis upon the importance of being awake to the possibilities in missionary work. No matter what calling one expects to follow he can and ought to be alert to the missionary possibilities his vocation offers.

At the close of his talk Dr. Jones briefly outlined the work for this semester in Mission study. As the central idea in "The Decisive Hour," the study for the rest of the year, he gave this: "If Christianity is to mold the world this is the hour of supreme effort as the Moslems and Buddhists are already in the field. He urged in closing that we make a conscientious study of the missionary situation as revealed in "The Decisive Hour" since an adequate home base is absolutely necessary to success in the foreign field.

THEY'RE OFF

Baseball Boys Do Some Lively Tossing.

The Baseball squad had it first out door practice Saturday morning when most of the old men as well as quite a few new recruits spent an hour or two loosening up their joints.

Captain Wagner gave the boys a little batting practice and found that several of his men could still locate the ball with their old time swing. The infield was given a light workout and from all appearances the vacancies can be easily filled. The outfield men were kept busy chasing long flies while the pitchers slammed 'em over in good form. Captain Wagner believes he can pick a winning bunch out of his promising material. Out door practice will be held every day from now on, and if old Jupiter Pluvius is at all reasonable the boys ought to be in good shape for the first game to be held in three weeks.

Track Try Out.

Several try out events for the Ohio Wesleyan meet were held Saturday afternoon following the basketball game. Considering the condition of the track at present, some fast time was made, and the outlook is good for the indoor meet next Saturday evening.

Captain Gifford, Mattis and Wells ran the 40 yard dash, Mattis and Gifford tying for first place. In the 220 yard dash there were five entries Gifford and Mattis qualifying. Only two men ran in the 440 event, but both ran in splendid style. Sommer did exceptional work and looks good to smash a record in the near future.

There were but few men out for the distance runs but some good work was done by those out. Van Saun took first in the half mile with ease, while Lemon ran in second place. Bridenstine on the mile showed good form and will no doubt make good.

The Otterbein quartet gives a benefit for the Athletic Field fund on April 5, at the College chapel. Manager Williamson has a good string of dates arranged for concerts in the spring. The Quartet is composed of Hutton, first tenor; Spafford, second tenor; Coburn, baritone and Williamson bass.

For some time past the Y. M. C. A. has been addressed by speakers outside of the college. On Thursday evening there will be a return to student speakers. Rex K. John will address the association on "The Value of a Consistent Life." "King" John will be worth hearing.

Home runs are all right but it takes singles to win a game.

Not ability but determination is the watchword of success.

If you haven't hitched your wagon to a star at least keep your eye on the round above you.

It is no disgrace to be a bookworm if you can't be anything else, but first test your abilities along other lines.

Next year promises to be a banner year for Otterbein in all kinds of Athletics. It is the duty of every man in school to bring back an athlete with him next fall. Now is the time to get busy and get him in the notion.

One of the rare occupations that comes to the average student after a sojourn of three or four years at his particular institution is that of deftness and agility in getting around his room amidst overturned chairs, habiliments thrown promiscuously over the floor with a thousand and one wall fixtures and adornments scattered here and there.
He has enjoyed possibly an evening in social circles and on his return with light step opens his door. Darkness greets him but knowing well the supposed situation of his bachelor abode he goes boldly forward—into a pitcher of water. Being accustomed however to this life necessity he considers an experience of this kind a mere trifle. But "a kingdom for a match" causes him to advance cautiously only to bump his shin on an overturned rocker followed the next moment by a hopeless entanglement in dress suits, photographs of "home sweet home," Greek lexicons, dictionaries whose contents he would gladly supplement for those not found therein —and milk bottles which he had not yet returned. With his wing collar he attempts to soar out of this predicament only to meet a cuff from his room mate who happened to return at an earlier hour and has not yet emerged from this same castastrophe. Of course these gentlemen are the victims of a stacked room. But why this conglomeration of nonsense in an editorial column?

The last issue of the "Lantern" states that Harry Vaughn, Ohio State football coach for 1911, has sent word to Captain Markley track athletics. 'Probably no other kind of athletics is so con-

Seconds Find Mutes Easy, Winning by Score of 36 to 14.

The Ohio State school for Deaf Mutes did not have a chance against the fast O. U. seconds Friday evening when they were defeated 36 to 14.

The Mutes had a good bunch but they were slow in getting rid of the ball. Their passing was also considerably ragged. The seconds however put up their usual good passing game, and with fair luck in hitting the basket, found their opponents rather easy picking. Brown at left forward was high scorer for the Mutes, securing three baskets, while Dempsey and Stringer shared the honor as high men for the seconds, each forward caging five. Lambert at center played a good game and Wine-land and Bandeen at guard held their men down in good style. Converse and Sechrist who played the last part of the game did good work. Sechrist caged the ball from the center of the floor on one occasion.

The line up:

Dempsey, Sechrist r f Redman, and Crossen
Stringer l f Brown
Lambert c Burton
Bandeen, Converse r g Blum
Wineland l g Williams
Field Goals—Dempsey 5,

COLLEGE CHAPEL

Winelands Trained Troupe.

A fair sized audience witnessed a good program given by the Athletic Association Wednesday evening. Manager Wineland is to be congratulated for his ingenuity and capacities in directing such a perponderance of green material and producing to the lovers of vaudeville in Westerville a show which was nothing short of marvelous.

The performance was short on nothing, not even time. During that whole time, however, jokes, clever tricks, music and moving pictures kept the audience in an uproar.

Number A, given by Messers. Lambert and Glunt in the guise of Profs. Quixote and Zamore, presented some really new and original tricks in the line which has made Keller and Thurston famous. The famous ring mystery was worked to perfection and still mystifies those who were watching for a fake. Mr. Lambert revealed something new in rope manipulation.

The "Bein" Quartet in B moved the house first to tears, then to laughter. The Quartet was composed of Prof. Grabill dressed as a demure little lass in hobble skirt and summer headgear, Prof. Resler who impersonated a Spanish singer, Prof. Heltman who was an Italian organ grinder while Prof. Gilbert was dressed (?) as the monkey proving a fact, which we have long suspected, that the human race is descended from that noble brute. They gave the listeners a couple of catchy songs.

Mr. Reider as Dr. Eddy and Mr. Funk as his assistant held the house in rapt attention. Dr. Eddy first gave a lecture on his life work. After this he changed himself into a colored comedian. Then began a running fire of jokes and tricks, concluded by a tune played upon beer bottles in various stages of pollution.

In D the College Band gave two pleasing numbers disclosing the fact that we will have some excellent band music this summer. Weary William in person of Mr. Fouts gave a monologue on, "My Love Affairs." Mr. Fouts need never want for an occupation. The footlights yearn for just such stars.

Miss Goldie McFarland gave a reverie on Old Otterbein. She was accompanied by Miss Denny at the piano and Prof. Gilbert on the violin.

The moving pictures were a novelty. A little wagon pulled by an invisible string carried across the platform pictures which were lighted by a small bicycle lamp. The pictures were of the Janitors, Mr. Moon and Mr. Harris and Prof. Wing, Prof. Snavelly and President Clipping-er.

The performance was a huge success and we are sorry that the company has disbanded, never more to take the road. We would like to have the pleasure of seeing them again.

SCHROCKS CAMP.

Maple Sugar and Co. in "Just Opened."

The playhouse is drawing immense crowds these days. The manager is putting before them a show equaled at no place or time. The Bird chorus these days is exceedingly sweet. A practical demonstration of gathering sugar water is given daily. The customers are given maple sugar cakes as souvenirs.

Coming.

The College chapel will be the scene of a concert by the famous Otterbein Glee club which is under the direction of Director Frank Jordan Resler and Manager James Blaine Peck. This company has been giving universal satisfaction wherever they have appeared. They come here Wednesday, March 22.

Special numbers will be rendered by Percy Rogers, baritone, Glenn Spafford, banjo, Messers, Hatton and Williamson, duet, Lucelle Gilbert, violin, Frank J. Resler, tenor and Harry Heltman, reader.

The Pussy Cat's Soliliqny.

Time—Once upon a midnight dreary.

Ah me! ah me! how cold this door step is. But I'll be patient; perchance some passer-by will pay mine host a visit and I can slip through the open door and spend the night within. Ah how I would purr! Alas how the cold, keen wind whips around the college building and whistles up College avenue. My blood runs cold, my teeth chatter, the extremities farthest from my heart are well nigh frozen. It seems e'en now that all the sunshine of the tropics could not thaw my icy frame. Had I not nine lives, methinks I should have perished.

I should be nine times dead ere now. Still no one enters, lovers smuggling close pass unnoticed by. The lone struggler blows his nose and sees me not. Blow, blow thou winter wind. I am a dead cat. I go to the dogs unless that door swings on its hinges. my fur avails me not.

Hark! I hear mumblings within an whispers of good night as of lovers' tales half told. How the time drags! Methinks it were too late to say good night. Hist! Footsteps at the door—at last, at last a fumbling at the latch, a creak, an opening, I am in, nine lives are saved this night. Mr. Mattis, may Andrew Carnegie reward you with a gold medal as large as a buckwheat cake. Au revoir, Mattis. Au revoir.

BIG FEASTS

Given by Lower Classmen to Juniors and Seniors.

The touch of spring fever which has partially made itself known to the student body even at this early date has brought with it the accompanying reminder to the lower classmen of their unquestionable duty to their "superiors."

To live up to the customs and courtesies of former classes the Freshman will honor the Juniors and the Sophomores the Seniors with a gorgeous spread.

Committees already appointed are preparing for these events. The first one to occur is the Sophomore-Junior which will be held April 25 in the Dining room of Cochran Hall. The Freshmen-Junior will be held probably May 3.

Every day without a Bliss Business Education is so much of a loss to you. It's the education you will soon demand. You may get other education and do WELL, but you can get a Bliss Business Education and do BETTER. When, in less than six months, we can qualify a young man under twenty, and earning no salary, to fill a $75.00 per month position; a girl of nineteen, with us but eight months, now drawing $1200.00 per year; a school teacher, who took the combined course, for a secretaryship now paying him $5200.00 a year, don't you think it is time that you were letting us fit you for a good position—ALL BLISS GRADUATES ARE HOLDING GOOD POSITIONS.

We will teach you to overcome your inferiors, rise above your equals, and compete with your superiors. We will make you ten times more valuable to yourself and assist you to a position that will pay you 50, 100, 200 and perhaps even 300 per cent more than you can earn now.

Places obtained for students to earn board while in attendance; railroad fare to the city allowed; and to the first representative of any town a discount of five per cent deducted from regular rates.
