OHIO STATE 45, OTTERBEIN 16

FIRST GAME OF SEASON AT COLUMBUS RESULTS DISASTROUSLY FOR O. U.

Big Score, However, Does Not Show the Real Worth of the Otterbein Boys Who Played Fine Ball.

With Captain Sanders sending the ball into the basket from an overhead shot from the middle of the floor, the basketball season of 1910 for Otterbein was started off in a fine fashion against their old rival, O. S. U., at Columbus Saturday night.

When the whistle for the last half blew, the score stood 45 to 16 in favor of State. The score might indicate that State had an easy time of it, but it was far from it. For it was by the hardest kind of work that State was able to get this score.

For fully five minutes Otterbein maintained the lead from Sanders' pretty goal. Then Rigby was able to tie the score by a one-handed shot near the basket after he had managed to elude his guard. Spangler and Postle then caged the ball for a basket apiece after which "Tink" boosted Otterbein's score one point on a free throw. Spangler added two more points to State's little lead which brought their score to 10. "Tink" was required to jump for the ball with his guard and by his work managed to cage the ball for another basket. Shortly after he made good on a free throw. Captain Rigby, by dribbling, was able to land another basket and was followed soon afterward by a pretty field goal by Young. This was all the scoring Otterbein was able to do in this half. After Spangler had secured two more baskets, Cook was substituted for Bailey and held this agile forward to no scoring the remainder of the half. The score stood 27 to 8 at the end of the half.

At the beginning of the second half, Otterbein again began to play their usual hard game and it was not long until Young had dropped the ball in the basket for the first scoring after receiving a long pass from Sanders. Rigby soon followed with a goal from foul. Postle added two more points in quick succession. At this time Fritz took Beaver's place and by quick work, he and Ehrman managed to secure a basket apiece. Tink then sent the ball rolling into the basket after a beautiful piece of team work in which all the members of the team participated.

Young secured his third basket of the game. Spangler followed with the only basket he was able to get this half. Fritz annexed two more points followed closely by Young with his fourth and last basket of the game. In the meantime Rigby had secured three goals from fouls.

The two particular stars of the game were undoubtedly Young and Captain Sanders as far as the offensive side of the playing is concerned. Young by his splendid work was able to secure

Bible Teacher.

Owing to the increased duties of President Clippinger and in as much as he will be out the city this term a considerable portion of the time, it was deemed fitting the two classes in Bible Senior and Sophomore be turned over to Dr. George Scott.

Dr. Scott has been teaching the Bible classes for years and it will be like getting into old harness for him.

WINTER TERM

OPENS JANUARY 11 AFTER A LONG
VACATION OF 20 DAYS

Work Resumes With Marked Enthusiasm. New Students in Evidence
President Clippinger Honored

Back to classes and profs.

After a long vacation of twenty days, Otterbein resumed operations again Tuesday morning.

The students tell startling tales of all night sleigh rides and coasting parties and wonder is they received their much needed rest.

The President has not been idle. Since the last issue of the Review he has been highly honored by two associations.

At a meeting of the college association of Ohio consisting of twenty leading colleges of the State, President Clippinger was elected member of the Rhodes Scholarship commission composed of five Ohio college men.

The other members are: President, W. O. Thompson, of Ohio State; Prof. Elias Compton, of Wooster; Dean Raymond M. Hugh, of Miami and Prof. W. F. Pierce, of Kenyon.

President Clippinger's term expires in 1914.

He was also elected a member of the Perry's Victory Centennial commission which has in charge the centennial to be held at Put-in-Bay in 1913.

President Clippinger addressed the Newark Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon on the subject "A Man's Religion What It Is?"

About thirty new students have been added to the enrollment this term. Their names appear in another column.

Dr. J. P. Landis gave a short talk in chapel Friday morning giving emphasis to the ministry as a profession.

BIG CONVENTION

AT ROCHESTER, N. Y., MARKED BY PROFUNDITY OF THOUGHT.

Otterbein Represented by Three Delegates Who Are Inspired at Magnificent Assembly.

In endeavoring to give a brief review, such as the following, of the great Student Volunteer convention, held at Rochester, N. Y., one scarce knows what to tell.

THE AUDITORIUM.

The first thing that impressed me upon arrival at Convention Hall was the way in which delegates registered and secured the provision for their entertainment. The registration room was the basement of the building. It was so arranged that delegates holding credential numbers ranging between certain figures could approach the tables one at a time, at which place two envelopes were handed you, the one containing the handbook and the convention hymnal, the other a card of introduction to your host and admission tickets for sessions of the convention.

THE SESSIONS.

The attendance fell slightly below that of the Nashville convention four years ago, being three thousand six hundred and twenty-four. Represented by this vast throng were seven hundred and twenty-two colleges, forty-nine states and twenty-nine countries. Great crowds thronged the entrances before the doors were opened, especially for the evening meetings.

THE SPEAKERS.

I need but mention some of the speakers to demonstrate that messages were brought by the very best men of America. John R. Mott, Robert E. Speer, Bishop Hartzell, Bishop McDowell, Sherwood Eddy, Dr. Zuermer, and many others that could be mentioned if space would permit.

While it is hard to decide I will mention briefly what impressed me as the chief addresses.

The opening address of the convention was by Sherwood Eddy on the subject, "Is Our Christianity Worth Publishing?" and was particularly impressive. He said we should ask ourselves these five questions, "What am I before God?" "Am I a constructive Bible student?" "Am I a man of prayer?" "Am I a winner of men?" "Have I victory over sin?" "The Need" presented by Robert Speer was of great import. He said "Jesus Christ is able to meet the need and He is able now." He is able to do it because of His universality. He wants but surrendered lives. On Thursday Bishop Hartzell spoke on Africa. He said that the church must plan for larger things, it is only trifling with Africa. She must give men. "The evangelization of the world in this generation," by John R. Mott. He said that the Student Volunteer movement watchword should be made a personal watchword and that a small man could be made great by a noble purpose. Dr. Zuermer's address on the "Western Lands" was highly instructive and inspiring. He pointed out the issues and the certainty of the coming victory if we but put our shoulder to the wheel.

On Sunday morning I listened to the most powerful address that I had ever heard. It was fraught with an impressiveness unspeakable. Bishop McDowell was its deliverer. I did not write down his subject, I cannot now recall it, but I shall never forget the solemn stillness that pervaded Convention Hall and the mighty uplifting power that emanated from God through him.

It is my conviction that no one could attend that convention or a similar one without being profoundly impressed with foreign missions and at least be a better and more useful person.

W. L. MATTIS.

Fries—"Why does the verb 'malo' have the irregular form in infinitive."

Dr. Scott—"Oh, I guess it was born that way."

Initial Meeting Opens With Large Attendance—Dr. Landis Leader.

Dr. J. P. Landis, of the Bone-
brake Theological Seminary, Dayton, was speaker at the first meeting of this new term. It was the occasion of the winter term mission study rally and a goodly number enrolled in classes which shall use as a text book
"The Frontier." Dr. Landis
had led a class in it in Dayton and was otherwise well informed as to conditions in the west, and so it was that well for him to open this term's missionary campaign with a rousing address.
We were not disappointed. He spoke of the vast resources of the great west, said that the population of the east was going over to the west and that it needs must be captured for Christ.
"We must not give it over to the evil one," he said. He gave just enough of the facts contained in the book to make one hungry to read it.

COCHRAN HALL

Miss Mabel Gardner was visiting in the hall the first few days of school.

Bessie Wagner spent Sunday
at her home in Columbus.

There have been several changes made among roommates this term, and also a number of new girls are in to take the places of the girls who did not return.

Florence Sheller and Ethel Bowers are rooming on State street.

The new girls are: Dorcie
Lenz, Wilmot, O.; Ruby Gar-
linger, New Lexington, O.; Ada
Brown, Tropic, O.; Bonna Pence,
South Whitley, Ind.; Cleo Leach,
Northfield, O.; Laura Richey,
Northfield, O.; Cretora Enslen,
Elida, O.; Leyla Counseller,
Elida, O.; Mildred Grant, Wilmot, O.

Quite a number of spreads
have been enjoyed by the newcomers.

Personals.

Arthur F. Weber, who was in Otterbein several years and who would have graduated in 1909
was married January 4 to Miss

Lucy Grace Reeve, of Dayton.
Mr. Weber is secretary and treasurer of the Glenn Plumbing company in Dayton.

C. D. Yates spent several days
in New York over vacation.

C. R. Knauss who was taken ill last term finds it impossible to return to Otterbein this year.
He would have graduated in June and the Senior class misses a valuable member.

Locals.

Dr. Sherrick—"Mr. Essig, if you don't stop talking to Miss Dean, I will have to scold her;
and I know you would feel awfully bad about it if I did."

Dr. Sanders—"Miss Bowman,
how would you prove that you had the toothache?"

Miss Bowman—"Why, I suppose my cheek would be swollen."

Fries—"There might be other causes for that."

Muskopf—"Can a cowhide in a boot shop?"

Thompson—"No, but a calfskin."

Wenger—"I hear they are getting mighty particular over at the Dormitory.

"Dick—"How's that?"

Wenger—"Why, they won't even let the gas go out without a chaperon."

SANDY'S CHICKENS

Prize Farmyard Fowls From Potsdam Have Winning Ways.

R. B. Sando, Otterbein's famous chicken crank, made good use of the holiday vacation days
by showing a big string of his pets at Dayton and winning everything in sight—ten ribbons and four silver cups, including the championship Buff Rock cup, and an incubator for largest and best display in the whole show room. These winnings are all the more sensational when we consider the fact that Dayton
had the biggest and best Buff Rock show held in Ohio this year.

Last week Sandy showed a pair of young birds at the big Columbus show, winning first pullet and fourth cockerel. The best pair he had entered to show here were sold for $50 and shipped to the big Minneapolis, Minn., show where they also were strong winners.

Have you resolved to study
hard this term?

Speaking of the track, it is still running.

We wonder how the preps feel toward the seven o'clock curfew ordinance?

The senior boys of Missouri University are martyrs. They are allowing their faces to remain unshaved to prevent the senior girls falling in love with them (the boys not the faces).

Mrs Cochran's Gift.

Like sunshine from a cloudy sky came the news two days before Christmas that Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran, of Dawson, Pa., had given $50,000 to Otterbein University to be added to the endowment fund. Call it a Christmas gift if you wish; at any rate
it gladdened the hearts of all Otterbein enthusiasts.

To be sure there were some conditions—$500,000 additional must be raised to entitle the use of the $50,000, but already $75,000 of the amount has been gathered and more is to follow.

We like Mrs. Cochran though we have never seen her. In all she has given nearly $100,000
to old O. U. The name of Cochran will go down into United Brethren history as one of the best and most loyal friends Otterbein has ever had.

We like her too—because she hasn't dropped the $\frac{1}{2}$ of her given name.

One of Washington's maxims was: "Be courteous to all, but intimate with few, and let them be well tried before you give them your confidence." Well might college students who are surrounded on all sides by persons with whom they have the privilege and opportunity to associate take this little maxim
into their lives as did our noble Washington. True friendship ship is one of the few assets which is universally coveted and admired. And probably there is no other place on earth so well adapted for the making of this true lasting friendship as in college.

four baskets. He played a very hard game, noticeably more so in the last than in the first half. This player is fast and has a good eye for the basket, and for his first collegiate game showed that he is to be reckoned as a worthy member of this year's team.

Probably to no one else than to Captain Sanders should be given the greater success of the game. This player figured in most of the team work that Otterbein used. His passing was a good mark of his playing and his three baskets were all of the sensational order. His first basket is claimed to be the best of its kind ever made on the State floor.

Cornet at center played a good game considering this as his first on the Varsity. His man secured five baskets but two of these were made after Otterbein's men had accidentally passed the ball to him. Cornet had hard luck in locating the basket.

Bailey let his man get away a little too far and he was able to secure four baskets. The captain thought it advisable to place in a substitute as he was not playing in his regular form.

Cook taking the place of Bailey did creditable work. His man was only able to secure one basket off of him and this noteworthy as the man that he played was very good.

This gentleman is a hard player and possibly works a little harder than any member of the team and of course good results are sure to be accomplished by him.

Hix Warner for his first game on the Varsity put up a fine article of ball. He held his man to no no scoring in the last half. Ohio State's captain is a fast man and a fine dribbler, and hence needs to be watched closely and Hix certainly did this in a good enough manner.

Lineup is as follows;

Ohio State (45) Otterbein (16)
Rigby, (C) L. F. Young
Spangler, Lang R. F. Sanders, (C)
Postle, Spangler C. Cornet
Beaver, Fritz

Purinton L. G. Bailey, Cook
Ehrman R. G. Warner

Summary: Field goals—Spangler 5 Postle 5, Rigby 4, Ehrman 3, Fritz 2 Beaver 1, Young 4, Sanders 3. Fouls—Rigby 5, Sanders 2. Fouls missed—Rigby 5, Sanders 5. Referee—Page, O. W. U. Timers—Bauer, O. S. U. and Locke, Otterbein. Scorers—McDougal, O. S. U. and Welbaum, Otterbein. Time of halves—20 minutes.

College Basketball Events of Importance.

Otterbein was well represented at the O. S. U. gym Saturday night. About thirty loyal rooters were there to see the game.

BLISS COLLEGE NEXT.

O. U. Boys Need Support of Student Body Saturday Night.

The basketball season has started. We all know the showing the team made at Ohio State. It has been practicing constantly the past two months for these games. It has even shot it best to their credit to play several games during the holidays. Such teams as Kenton, New Lexington and Newark were played and in each one of these games the team showed their fine ability in this fast sport.

Otterbein has always possessed a good basketball team. This is all the more noteworthy when we take into consideration that Otterbein never secures any stars from high schools. All her material is compelled to be developed. The person who has made the second team one or two years will naturally be on the Varsity in coming years, as is the case with three of this year's team.

Next Saturday night the team appears on the home floor for the first time with Bliss College, of Columbus. Otterbein holds a record against this business college in the games that they have played against them. In 1904 O. U. were victors 35 to 28; 1905 38 to 35; 1906, 38 to 22, 1907, 48 to 23 and 1909 62 to 22. Otterbein aims to keep up this good record, so it is necessary for each one of us to be there to cheer old Otterbein in this victory.

THE CLASS GAMES.

The class games come the last week in this month. The teams will be out for practice in a short time and a good, interesting series of games will be played for the class championship.
