We feature on the cover Master James Coppock Brown, Jr., surrounded by loving parents and two sets of doting grandparents—all graduates of Otterbein. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, '48 (Mary Jo Wood, '48); grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Brown, '18 (Cleo Coppock, '19) and Mr. and Mrs. Stanton W. B. Wood, '17 (Genevieve Mullin, '23). Seated, left to right: Mrs. Wood, James Brown, Jr., Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Thomas Brown; standing, Mr. Wood, Mr. James Brown, Mr. Thomas Brown.

So far as is known, there is only one other person whose parents and both sets of grandparents are Otterbein graduates. We featured this baby in the commencement issue of TOWERS, 1946—Gretchen Van Sickle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Sickle, '41 (Mary Jane Kline, '42). The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Van Sickle, '06 (Elsie S. Smith, '03), and Dr. and Mrs. Homer B. Kline, '15 (Norma McCally, '16). May their tribe increase!

The Association Building will be alumni headquarters on Homecoming. Register and meet your friends there. There may be some surprises!!!

Dear Wade:

Your giving me the "Man of the Month" spot in the current TOWERS was more than generous. Thank you for the honor which I do not deserve—one correction—Dr. Howard is really our "most voluminous" writer. The bibliography proves it! You have set up an ideal for me that I won't be able to live up to, but thank you!

My husband and I have a hobby of collecting, cutting, and polishing semi-precious stones. Wonder if any one among the alumni has the same hobby?

Dear Otterbein:

Just received the TOWERS and it's so very impressive and attractive. Really quite thrilling—makes me proud of Otterbein—and surely I shall be pleased to show it to my students and friends here in California.

How To Grow Old Gracefully

A. D. Cook, '12

The following are excerpts from an address delivered by Dr. A. D. Cook, '12, at the opening program of the first Miami Valley Health Forum in Dayton, Ohio. The complete text and picture below appeared in the Dayton DAILY NEWS and they are reprinted here with the permission of the paper. Dr. Cook summarized his remarks at the close of his address as follows:

"If you want to be useful after 65:

1. "Keep your mind always in training, active and open to new ideas. Some men are mentally young, adaptable, and therefore valuable at 70; others are old and ready for retirement by 55 or 60.
2. "Have a specialty, stay with it, and always keep learning more about it. An older man with 20 years or more of experience in one field is far easier to place than one who has shifted around.
3. "Build a wide range of personal contacts in a professional club, in your trade union, in some hobby club and in your church. These contacts may help you to relocate a new job if your company should decide to retire you at 65.
4. "Probably your best chance of continued employment is self-employment. In one survey of the over 65's it was found that almost half of those working were self-employed. If you hope to set up a business, select one similar to your own line of work. Avoid locating where there are a lot of old people.
5. "If you propose to stay on your present job be prepared for different work. Prepare yourself for the change-over by taking night-school or correspondence courses.
6. "Watch your personality by trying to avoid prejudices, jealousies, sensitiveness to criticism, which lead to irritating situations.
7. "Watch your health habits during youth and middle age, that you may still be healthy at 60 or 70. Have a thorough physical check-up every year.
8. "Watch your personal appearance. Aging men and women may have a tendency to be careless about the selection and care of their clothing, as well as their grooming. This marks such people as on the down grade and ready for early retirement. It makes it more difficult to obtain a new job.
9. "Supplement your retirement income by the best savings program that you can devise in life insurance, government bonds, and other savings plans. We must recognize that the cost of living level will always be so high that subsistence in any social security plan may scarcely be accomplished.
10. "Finally, if the ancients found religion to be a physical and spiritual necessity in their lives, we, too, must learn from them the rules that will help us to grow old gracefully."

To Our Visitors From The High Schools

It is a real pleasure to welcome you as a high school senior to the Otterbein campus today.

We hope you will make the very best of your opportunity to get acquainted with our campus, to meet students and faculty, to see the classrooms, laboratories and other facilities of the college, and to learn all you can about the opportunities which are open to you here at Otterbein.

You no doubt already know that Otterbein is a fully accredited college and that many types of courses are offered. We think you may be interested in one or more of them. Be sure to inquire about the type of work you feel you may want to enter so that you will know what is available here.

Otterbein graduates are scattered all over the world in a variety of occupations and professions and are making good in many ways. If you were to read several copies of the TOWERS, you would begin to see who they are and how many have succeeded in making prominent places for themselves in many important positions. We should certainly like to have you join the ranks of Otterbein students and ultimately become an alumnus who will fill an important place in our complicated society.

We hope you will enjoy your day here and we cordially invite you to consider seriously coming to Otterbein as a student. Write for any information you do not succeed in getting today.

Director of Admissions

The Editor's Corner

Hello Folks!

With the beginning of another college session, we begin our twelfth year as editor of TOWERS. That means 44 issues and some 800 pages of copy. At the end of each five year period, we have twenty issues bound and we now have two handsome volumes with five issues toward the third volume.

We hope we have made progress and that TOWERS today are better than they were twelve years ago. It is our desire that they reflect credit on a great alumni body.

You will not notice many changes in the format this year. We gave the magazine a face-lifting last year and added several features which have proved popular.

We are still open for suggestions. How can your alumni office be of more assistance to you? Alumni of Otterbein are demonstrating over and over their loyalty to their Alma Mater. In appreciation of such interest, the alumni office is desirous of rendering whatever service is possible to grads and ex-students.

Dear Friends,

The new school year was introduced by a two-day faculty conference, September 11 and 12. New teachers became acquainted with an unfamiliar environment. Attention was given to preparing faculty counselors of Freshmen. Last minute touches were given to Freshmen Orientation. Details were studied pertaining to class schedules, enrollments and the registration of students.

On September 13 the Freshmen hit the campus, many of them with parents, all of them with luggage, and some with additional equipment and furnishings. Everyone thought the Freshmen a fine looking group, and their parents seemed much interested and very cooperative. There are 233 freshmen, a 22% gain over last year.

Members of the Student Council returned early to assist with Freshmen Orientation. By September 16 all upperclassmen were on hand in full force. There are 387 upperclassmen making a total enrollment of 620, a gain of 5% over a year ago.

It was good to see the Otterbein community once again assembled in Cowan Hall on the morning of September 17 for the first chapel service of the new year. Since then events have been moving — the Freshman bonfire; the first football game with our Ohio Wesleyan neighbors; the "Y" Mixer; the first church services on Sunday with full choirs and good sermons; the tennis courts nearly always occupied; girls playing hockey; scores of boys engaging in intra-mural sports; the Varsity squad practicing football; the Student Union full of conversation over cokes and coffee and sandwiches; old friends greeting each other after the summer's separation; new friendships being formed; rules made for annual Scrap Day; plans laid for the Big and Little Sister and the Big and Little Brother dinners; a Freshman serenade at the President's home; classes getting started; library assignments being worked out, laboratories busy; the college band practicing tunefully; Lambert Hall soloists in full voice; rehearsals for the Homecoming play; the first issue of the T & C; the all-school picture by the ageless Mr. Murphy; Sibyl photos started; midnight oil burning; dates strolling; the Dean of Women calmly checking Freshman girls for homesick possibilities; and the Vice-President seeing that student leaders understand responsibilities and assignments. All this and more, crowded into the short time since school opened.

To enable the college to begin successfully this fall, much work was necessary all summer long. Four admissions counselors traveled widely visiting late applicants for admission, expediting delays by earlier applicants, and doing what is necessary to enroll a top grade Freshmen class out of the thousands of contacts made during the year. The field representatives were backed up by a hard working office staff. The Admissions Committee met frequently during the summer to screen all applicants, admitting some without question, admitting others under certain conditions, raising interrogations in some cases where ability to do college work is not clearly indicated, and reluctantly turning down some who evidently are unsuited for college level work.

The College Treasurer was busy closing the fiscal year June 30, getting his books ready for the auditor's annual inspection, checking delinquent accounts and laying track for payment of bills in the fall.

The dining hall and kitchen staffs and janitors were occupied most of the summer entertaining a succession of conferences and other groups. The maintenance men had problems trying to repaint living quarters, make repairs, clean up buildings, and at the same time not disturb conference delegates who were using the same buildings and equipment. The construction of the new library progressed steadily with the usual din and dust of a construction job, and a new wing was added to Lambert Hall to accommodate a larger pipe organ and extend the auditorium platform.

From the Public Relations Office came leaflets and brochures and a stream of letters; and in reply, funds from alumni and other friends continued to come in encouragingly. The spontaneous response of Westerville citizens and alumni to the Boyer Memorial Scholarship Fund was a most heartening experience.

During the summer basic planning has advanced on the proposed financial campaign. A general campaign chairman began his duties, organization was outlined, policies determined and committee assignments studied. More concerning this campaign will be announced later.

The writing of this article was interrupted by the startling information that only a ten-day water supply remains in Westerville's reservoir with no rain in sight. Local industries and homes, and of course the college, must curtail drastically the use of water if disaster is to be averted.

So, after a quiet and peaceful summer, a new college year has begun and for this we can be devoutly thankful to God, and to many people in many places.

J. Gordon Howard
President

The Association

Greetings, Alumni!!

Well, here it is Homecoming Season once again, and I want to take this, my first opportunity since my election, to greet you, and to urge you to return to Westerville, if at all possible, to take part in the Homecoming festivities on Saturday, October 24. Otterbein's arch rival, Marietta College, is the gridiron foe for the game that day.

There's something nostalgic about returning to the campus where you spent some of the happiest and most interesting days of your life, something wonderful about meeting classmates and old friends again, for some only yesterday, for others many years.

The committee in charge of Homecoming activities has an especially good program planned for the day. One interesting departure for the alumni themselves will be a headquarters (Association Building) where they can register by classes, leave notes for friends, and visit with those whom they encounter at registration time. The plan is new at Otterbein this year, and the Alumni Council, whose members originated the idea, hope the suggestion will be carried forward each year at Homecoming, and perhaps also at Spring Commencement.

But before I leave you, let me remind you to be sure to contribute to the Boyer Memorial Scholarship Fund, which is now within sight of its goal. And if you haven't already made your contribution or pledge to the Development Fund, look into that situation, too, for you couldn't give to a worthier cause than to your alma mater in the name of American youth and the furtherance of education.

Goodbye, good luck, and I hope to see you at Homecoming!

Alumni Club Meetings

Southern California

Southern California alumni assembled on May 9 in San Marino for their annual dinner meeting. President Jo Henry, '26, was in charge; Stanley Kurtz, x'29, led the singing of college songs and sang several solos; Don Howard, '25, told of his impressions and experiences when he conducted a group of internationally known social workers on a tour to study conditions in India. The following officers were elected: president, Stanley Kurtz, x'29; vice-president, Mrs. Robert Staley (Hazel Judy, A'08); secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ilo Dellinger (Alice Abbot, '21).

Detroit, Michigan

The Detroit club opened its winter season on Saturday, September 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Griffiths (Mary Meyers, '23) in Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swartz (Ruth Shatzer, '36) and Mr. and Mrs. George Bechtolt, '25, assisted. Mrs. Fred Cheek (Mary Sue Weekley, x'36) is president and Mrs. Mark Himmelberger (Jeanette Moore, x'48) is secretary-treasurer. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Clymer in Dearborn.

In order to have your meetings publicized in TOWERS, all clubs are urged to elect a reporter to keep the editor informed.

Election Returns

Otterbein alumni have chosen as their officers for 1953-54 the following persons:

President Wayne Harsha, '27

Vice Presidents . . . Monroe Courtright, '40
Mrs. Harold Augspurger
(Grace Burdge, '39)

Secretary Mrs. Ray Gifford
(Marie Wagoner, '18)

Member-at-Large . . . Maurice Gribler, '45

Alumni will be represented on the college Board of Trustees by:

Homer B. Cassel, '17

Harold Boda, '25

The retiring president, Carroll Widdoes, remains a member of the council. Members-at-large are elected for a three-year term. Robert Snively's term expires in 1955.

Boyer Vacancy Filled

Article VIII of the constitution of the Alumni Association states: "Vacancies occurring by resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the council, said incumbent to serve until the next annual election, at which time the position shall be filled in the regular manner of election."

At the regular fall meeting of the council, Helen Boyer Jennings, '43, was elected to fill the unexpired term of her father.

Laura Smith Davis, Ezra Lollar, Maude Bradrick Pilkington.

Recognize These People?

We present on this and the two pages following the pictures of the persons who attended their class reunions last June.

One hundred thirty-two people from seven classes will testify that they had a wonderful time. There is nothing quite like meeting old friends after a lapse of years, particularly if they are college friends. It is a known fact that the friendships made in college are the most enduring of all throughout life.

Why not plan now to attend your reunion next June 5? Begin now to write to your special friends and urge them to meet you here. Perhaps some of your best friends were in other classes and they might come back if they knew you expect to be here. If you need addresses, write to your alumni office. We welcome the opportunity to serve you.

1954 Class Reunions

In keeping with the practice of other years, the following classes will hold reunions next June 5: '94, '04, '14, '24, '29, '34, and '44. There is nothing to prevent members of other classes from having reunions if they so desire. Your alumni office will be glad to help promote any kind of reunion wanted.

CRAIG GIFFORD

The 1953 Otterbein football squad is one of the largest in recent years. Over 50 men were on hand when Coach Harry Ewing opened practice on Labor Day. Since that time talent has come and gone but the team is still balancing on the fifty mark.

The freshman rule has been a big help to Coaches Ewing and Agler as eleven frosh saw action in the season opener, Saturday, September 26, with Ohio Wesleyan.

The starting backfield consists of three-fourths freshman with veteran Pete Fields, fullback, the only returnee. Ron Smith, quarterback, Dave Wade and Larry Lintner, halfbacks, make up the starting backfield.

The season opener with Ohio Wesleyan was not too impressive as the Cards dropped a 50-7 decision to the Bishops. "Otterbein shows the benefits of good coaching and I think it'll be much, much better toward the middle of the season," said Glenn Fraser, Wesleyan coach.

Now that the Cards have stepped back into their class they will be a hard team to beat. Their spirit, speed and determination should ring the victory bells several times this season.

New Coaches

Marilyn Day, '53—Marilyn, a 1953 graduate of Otterbein, returns as an instructor in physical education for women. She majored in that subject at Otterbein and is well remembered for her ability in all sports.

Robert Agler, '48—Robert (Moe) Agler is assisting Coach Harry Ewing in football. Agler will be remembered as the hard-plunging fullback on the great 1946 and 1947 Otterbein teams. Following graduation from Otterbein, he joined the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League. After two seasons with the Rams he joined the Canadian Football League but was forced to retire because of a serious injury.

their game with Oberlin by a score of 12-6.

SPORTS FOR WOMEN

Jean Geis

The fall sports program will get underway on Saturday, September 26, with a tennis match at Capital. The following week the tennis players will go to Ohio State for a four-way meet among Denison, Capital, Otterbein, and Ohio State.

The hockey season will start October 10, with a home game against Ohio Wesleyan. On October 17, Otterbein journeys to Capital and on October 30, to Denison for a play day with Muskingum, Capital, and Denison. The season closes with the Buckeye Field Hockey Tournament on November 7, at Ohio University.

Along with the intercollegiate schedule, the intramural program will include hockey tournaments of class teams and a singles and mixed doubles tennis tournament.

On October 24, we are planning to have another alumnae-student hockey game. We had a good turnout last year and are hoping for a better one this year. Cards will be sent out to all players. If you fail to receive one, please write to us at the Women's Physical Education Department and let us know that you can play. The more, the merrier; so let's have lots of fun.

Hockey has become a popular sport for women at Otterbein. The picture below was snapped during an early practice session. Miss Jean Geis is the coach. A good year is anticipated.

Two Former Alumni Presidents Die During Summer

J. Neely and Estella Boyer

A Tribute By President J. Gordon Howard

J. Neely and Estella Boyer lost their lives in an airplane disaster over the Pacific east of Wake Island on Sunday, July 12.

We know little concerning the tragedy, either the cause or the events which followed. But of one thing we can be certain. As Neely and Estella stepped over the mysterious line which divides this world from the next, they did so with staunch courage.

This was not the first time they had looked death in the face. Both of them in the recent past had gone into grim hospital experiences knowing they might slip beyond the point of no return, but in each instance they accepted the possibility without flinching.

That they should face death together was logical, and each would have wanted to help sustain the other in the moment of crisis. They had worked and played, sacrificed and served cooperatively and unitedly every day since their marriage. They would have wished their last moments here to be together, and that is the way it was.

Neely and Estella were brave. They were also industrious. When Neely decided to enter the ministry he gave up his work in a Pennsylvania steel mill and with Estella and two little daughters moved to Westerville to go to college. A good though humble home was established and another baby girl arrived making a family of five. College work was completed on schedule while Neely earned a livelihood after school hours. Then came three years more at a theological seminary, and this was followed by busy pastorates in influential churches while at the same time pursuing graduate study leading to the winning of a doctorate.

But they were never too busy to be friendly. Neely and Estella had

The Boyer Memorial Scholarship Fund

Immediately after the untimely death of the Boyers, a Citizens Committee organized to plan a suitable memorial. It was decided to raise a fund of $10,000 which will pay each year the tuition of a needy and deserving student at Otterbein.

To date alumni and friends have contributed $9,137.85 leaving $862.15 yet to be raised. If you have not sent your gift, do so now or before December 31 when a Book of Remembrance will be prepared, listing all contributors.

Boyer and McFadden Served Alumni

During the summer the Alumni Association lost two former presidents—Dr. J. Neely Boyer and Dr. T. Gilbert McFadden.

Dr. Boyer was president from June, 1943, to June 1945, and was succeeded by Dr. McFadden, who served for one year. Both rendered distinguished service.

Dr. McFadden Dies

Dr. McFadden belonged to the famous McFadden family, for whom the science building was named. From 1898 to 1900, he was assistant professor of chemistry at Otterbein. Then followed a term of service at Lebanon Valley College as professor of chemistry. For twenty years Dr. McFadden was a teacher in Dickinson High School in Jersey City, and from 1926 to his retirement in 1941, he served as principal of the adult evening school — or "School of the Second Chance" — in Jersey City. In adult education he was a pioneer; for Otterbein he was a loyal booster.

T. Gilbert McFadden, '94

Gilbert's father was Thomas McFadden who was a science teacher at Otterbein from 1858 to 1883 except for three years during the Civil War when he was an army surgeon.

Gilbert's brother Louis succeeded

Faculty Doings

What do faculty people do during their summer vacations? The following information indicates that they study, travel, attend conferences, do manual labor, and a variety of other things. In almost every case what they do is designed to contribute to their usefulness as college teachers.

Conferences, Workshops

Dr. Lyle Michael and Professor Keith Crane attended a ten-day workshop early in June at Penn State College. The workshops were sponsored by the Division of Chemical Education and Analytical Education of the American Chemical Society for the purpose of gaining an insight into the problems involved in teaching chemistry.

Dean Joanne VanSant, representing the Otterbein College faculty, spent a month at the University of Minnesota attending a conference on the improvement of teaching in liberal arts colleges.

President Howard, Vice President Martin, Business Manager Frye, and Treasurer Horn attended a two-day conference at Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, for representatives of E. U. B. colleges. The purpose was to discuss problems of mutual concern.

Dr. Ralston Scott was granted one of four fellowships offered by the Peoples' Gas, Light and Coke Company in Chicago. For six weeks he participated in a management-training program designed to show how the organization operated. There were lectures and plant tours. Other college representatives studying with Dr. Scott were from the University of Missouri, the University of Illinois and Cotter College in Missouri.

Research

Dr. David Burks spent part of his vacation in the Congressional Library, Washington, D. C., doing research in Latin-American affairs.

Professor Harold Hancock spent the summer in Delaware, his home state, working on his doctor's thesis, which covers a portion of Delaware history.

Study

Captain Samuel Urton studied in the Air Force R. O. T. C. training program at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama, and at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

Professor Robert Hohn spent the summer at Indiana University working toward his doctor's degree in music.

Professor Lawrence Frank studied pipe organ in New York under a distinguished teacher.

Travel

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Price toured the West and Southwest.

Dr. Frederic Bamforth also toured the West and stopped off at Banff, Canada's famous scenic spot, to take a course in photography.

Professor and Mrs. McCloy spent the summer in Colorado Springs with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Shumaker, '37 (Alice McCloy, '38).

Professor and Mrs. Charles Botts traveled westward and visited Dr. and Mrs. E. W. E. Schear in Geneva, Wisconsin.

Dr. and Mrs. Lyle Michael journeyed to southern Kentucky to visit the Red Bird Mission, which is an important home mission station of the E. U. B. denomination.

Miss Lena May Wilson enjoyed a trip through Alaska with a traveling seminar.

Miscellaneous

Dr. J. S. Engle spent part of his summer in Doctors' Hospital, Columbus, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Professor and Mrs. Crane spent the summer in a YMCA boys' camp, where Mrs. Crane was camp nurse.

Professors James Ray and John Wells assisted in the Admissions Office as field representatives interviewing prospective students.

Professor James Grissinger assisted in the business office and served as official host and greeter for the six summer conferences held on the campus.

Dr. and Mrs. Wade Miller and family were busy building a new ranch type house, doing most of the work themselves and getting a nice publicity story in the Columbus DISPATCH because of their unique endeavor.

The Martins, the Esselstyns, and the Ewings enjoyed a two-weeks' fishing trip at Honor, Michigan.

Lee Shackson worked again with the Farm Bureau Insurance Company, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Chase worked at an amusement park near Middletown, Ohio.

Faculty Leaves of Absence

Mrs. Lillian Frank, Associate Professor of Fine Arts, has been granted a sabbatical leave the second semester of 1953-54 to pursue further studies and to travel abroad.

Professor James Grissinger, Assistant Professor of Speech, has been granted a year's leave of absence (1953-1954) to take further post-graduate work at The Ohio State University.

Only two and a half months remain in the 1953 Development Fund year. Up to September first 851 alumni and ex-students had made contributions. Alumni have never failed yet to exceed the record of the previous year; however, there is cause for concern this year. In 1952 we had 1342 contributors. To equal that record, we must have 491 additional gifts. Actually we set as our goal a ten percent increase over last year and to attain that goal we must have 625 gifts between now and December 31. Let every alumnus send a gift, not for the sake of reaching a goal, but because Otterbein needs our help.

As in previous years, the names of all contributors will be published in the January issue of TOWERS. This we have called our Honor Roll. The record will be published by classes. Join other classmates in giving so that your class may have a good record.

Much Appreciated Gifts

Good friends of Otterbein remember the college in many ways. Some give money and others, equipment — all of which is greatly appreciated.

Ceramics Equipment

Friends of the late Sina Sidwell Rogers, an art teacher for many years, have made available a fund to purchase ceramic equipment for the use of college students and residents of the Westerville community. The fund, to which contributions were made by persons from all parts of the country, was presented by a committee of which Mrs. E. J. Reed of Cleveland was chairman.

Mrs. Rogers was a graduate of Ohio University and earned her Master's Degree in Fine Arts at Columbia University.

The gift is being administered by the Division of Fine Arts under the supervision of Professors Lillian Frank and Lee Shackson.

A Tribute

the capacity for making friends and maintaining friendships. They liked people and people responded. On the college campus Neely was a favorite counselor. Students sought him out. He was not easy. Sometimes he spoke sternly and frankly, but always kindly.

Out of friendship grows the spirit of service to humanity on a broad scale. Neely was a trained sociologist and he and Estella looked at human ills to diagnose them. But more, they sought to act constructively and to enlist others to do so in order that this might be a better world. They lived to serve

Piano Music

Mrs. H. D. Everett (Alice Miller, '13) presented to the music department a quantity of piano music.

These gifts are valuable contributions for which the college will always be grateful.

Visual Aids - Campus

Beautification - New Library

Otterbein continues to be the beneficiary of Mrs. Frank O. Clements (Vida Shauck, '00). In addition to the $2,500 announced earlier in the year for campus beautification, an additional gift of $2,000 has been received for the same purpose. A gift of $1,500 has been designated for the new library, and a gift of $5,500 will provide visual aids. The new library will be well equipped to make use of these aids.

A Piano

Mrs. Irene Knight, one of our Westerville neighbors, gave the music department an upright piano which is constantly in use for practice purposes.

Two Violins

William Bailey, caretaker of Lambert Hall, made a present of two violins to the music department. They had been the property of his wife, now deceased; and since he made no use of them, he gave them to the college, which greatly appreciates his generosity.

their fellowmen not sentimentally or superficially, but wisely and according to principle.

They dedicated their lives to high purpose. Without prattling pious words they exemplified sincere Christian faith and active Christian living. Like the Master in ancient Palestine, they went about doing good in whatever way they could. As they served their fellowmen they worshiped and honored their God.

The absence of these two wonderful friends has left a gap in our ranks. We can best honor them by following their superb example. There is a big niche in our hearts permanently reserved to enshrine their memory.

Sina Sidwell Rogers

A'72—Mrs. Allen Crouse (Inez Alexander, A'72) celebrated her 101st birthday on September 28. Chosen as the oldest native-born woman in Franklin County, Mrs. Crouse was honored this summer during the county's celebration of the Sesquicentennial. She is the oldest living former student of Otterbein.

A'07—After more than 40 years as an instructor and supervisor of music in Ohio public schools, Professor I. M. Snyder, A'07, has retired and plans now to take life easier. Dr. Snyder, who holds bachelor of music and doctor of music degrees from the University of Chicago and Northwestern University, respectively, is a recognized authority on child voice and has written several articles on the subject.

1892—Dr. Francis Pottenger, '92, received the highest honor awarded by the American College of Physicians when he was elevated from Fellow to Master. On September 27, Dr. Pottenger celebrated simultaneously his 84th birthday and the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of his famous sanatorium. On the hospital grounds he had an open house for friends and former patients.

1899—Now that she has retired from teaching in Chicago's Crane Technical High School, Miss Mary K. Brant, x'99, devotes her time to leading a Sunday school class of 66 ladies.

1907—The many friends of Mrs. E. M. Hursh (Mary Lambert, '07) will be interested to learn that she is the new accountant for York College in Nebraska.

1909—Sincere congratulations to Dr. Orrin Albert, '09, professor of mathematics, who has completed thirty years on the faculty of the University of Redlands.

1912—Mrs. Edmund Kern (Edith Gilbert, '12) has been named Church Woman chairman for the United Church Women of Ohio.

1917—Selected as one of fourteen pastors named Rural Minister of the Year was Charles Fryman, '17. Other Otterbein grads so honored were Joseph Hendrix, '17, in 1951, and Charles Messmer, '40, in 1952.

1921—Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harmon, '21, have accepted a call to the pastorate of the Florissant Presbyterian Church in St. Louis County, Missouri. Prior to his new position, Dr. Harmon taught religion and philosophy at Otterbein and served as interim pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Westerville.

—Dr. J. R. Howe, '21, former Otterbein president, is the new pastor of the Emmanuel EUB Church in Ashland.

1923—Horace W. Troop, '23, was honored by the Ohio Legislative Correspondents Association who named him as one of the Ohio Legislature's outstanding members. Horace is chairman of the important House Industry-Labor Committee.

1925—Dr. Donald Clippinger, '25, has been named dean of the graduate college at Ohio University.

—Joseph Mayne, '25, pastor of the East Congregational Church, Grand Rapids, Michigan, was honored with the Doctor of Divinity degree bestowed upon him in June by Olivet College. An important phase of the European trip which Dr. and Mrs. Mayne took this summer was a round of speaking engagements, among which was an invitation to preach at the American Cathedral in Paris.

1926—George R. Gohn, '26, was re-elected to the Port Washington, New York, school board without formal opposition. His past record shows a sound building and modernization program, centralized maintenance of schools, and elevated standards and salary increases for teachers, plus a number of other improvements.

1928—Allen Bauer, '28, has rounded out twenty years of service in Agriculture Extension at Penn State as a plant disease specialist.

—Karl Kumler, '28, resigned as Columbus district director for the Federal Housing Authority after fourteen years of service. In September he became housing manager of the People's Development Company, a subsidiary of the Farm Bureau Insurance Companies. This firm is building west of Columbus Lincoln City, an entire community complete with shopping center and industrial zoning. As FHA director of a 42-county area, Mr. Kumler approved millions of dollars worth of insured housing loans in Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton, and the Pike County atomic region.

—William Catalona, '28, of Muscatine, Iowa, journeyed to Akron this summer to win medal honors at the golf tournament held during the Red Peppers' annual reunion at Firestone Country Club. The Red Peppers were an early bantam-weight football team composed of pre-high school age boys. Today there are similar teams in organized leagues throughout the country. Runner-up in the golf tournament with a 74 was Bill Anderson, '37, now manager of Akron's Rubber Bowl. Mr. Anderson also served as an official for the All-American Soap Box Derby finals.

—From Illinois to Miami, Florida—that is the move made by Byron Jacoby, x'28, his wife (the former Isabel Jones, x'27), and his son, for Mr. Jacoby was named Vice President of the American Bankers Life Assurance Company. He will have charge of Credit Life and Disability Production in the 19 states in which the company operates.

1929—Dr. Theodore Day, x'29, has been appointed medical officer in charge of the Pennsylvania Railroad medical program on the Lake Division, with supervision over Toledo and Sandusky. In his new assignment, he will administer the road's reorganized "maintenance-of-health" service for area employees. Dr. Day has served with the railroad's medical department since 1946.

1930—John Baker, '30, Columbus attorney, collects jazz records. Recently Gene Fullen, WBNS disc jockey on "Club 33", featured the Louis Armstrong classics from Mr. Baker's collection of 6,000 records.

—Dr. Kenneth Bunce, '30, is Chief Planning Officer, Public Affairs Division, of the American Embassy in Japan. He and his associates are now engaged in setting up information centers which are directly under the various U. S. consulates, a job that the United States has already completed in some 88 other countries.

1931—Dr. Ralph L. Pounds, '31, associate professor in the University of Cincinnati Teachers College, has been named a fellow in the select Philosophy of Education Society. The Society is a national honorary group of approximately 125 scholars in the field of education.

1933—Arthur Brubaker, '33, resigned his position as general secretary of the Alton, Illinois, YMCA to accept a position as general secretary of a YMCA branch in Cleveland. He is married to the former Ruth Rhodes, '33.

—Rev. and Mrs. Paul R. Temple (Marianne Norris, '33) have returned to the states from Sierra Leone, British West Africa, to accept a pastorate at Lima, Ohio. While in Africa, Mrs. Temple taught Home Economics at the Harford School for Girls.

1934—W. Dean Lawther, '34, is the new assistant to the works manager, —Herb Adams, '51, is office manager of the Cleveland District Appliance Division at the Perfection Stove Company. Mrs. Adams, the former Klara Krech, x'54, received her teaching degree in June from Western Reserve University.

Want to Study Abroad?

American graduate students wishing to study at a British University will be interested to hear of the Marshall Scholarships, a series of awards available for the first time in the academic year of 1954-55.

The series is being established by the British government as a gesture of thanks for Marshall Aid, in gratitude for America's generous and far-sighted program for European recovery.

Twelve scholarships will be granted annually, each for a two-year period which may be extended to three. Eligible for competition are U. S. citizens, men or women under the age of 28, graduates of accredited U. S. colleges or universities. Scholarships may be held in any British university.

The value of each award will be 550 pounds a year, with an extra 200 pounds for married men. Transportation will be provided from home to the university and back.

Applications for 1954-55 scholarships must be made by November 1, 1953. Further information may be obtained from the British Information Services (Education), 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, New York.

—John Burke, '51, has been newly appointed to the field sales promotion staff of the S. and W. Moulding Company in Columbus.

1953—1/c Midshipman Richard Yantis, x'53, of Annapolis, visited Brazil this summer while on practice maneuvers with the U. S. Navy.

—Charles Ferguson, '53, is the second student in the history of Otterbein to win both of the college's major athletic trophies, the Norris-Elliott Athletic Scholarship Cup and the Augspurger-Ballenger Trophy. Dick Rich, '47, was the only other student so honored.

"Come On Down To Otterbein"

BULLETIN BOARD

Study Abroad

Please note that applications for the 1954-55 Marshall Scholarships for study abroad must be made by November 1, 1953. See article on page 18, and hurry.

Trays, Wastepaper Baskets

If you want a really nice Christmas gift for that special person, order an Otterbein picture tray or wastepaper basket. Price is $4.50 each or $8.50 for the pair.

Development Fund

Be sure to send your development fund gift before December 31. The college needs your support. Remember—a little from many means a large total.

Winter Homecoming

Put February 6 on your calendar. It is the date for Winter Homecoming. The basketball opponent will be Hiram College.

Accommodations

Do you need a room over the homecoming week-end? Your alumni office will be glad to make reservations for you if you make your needs known in advance.

1954 Class Reunions

Attend your class reunion next June. See page 7 for the list of classes holding reunions.
