GOVERNOR HARMON

FLUNG HIS ARMS OPEN WIDE TO DR JONES THURSDAY.

Political Science Students Visit State
Capital and See the Sights Under Leadership of Dr. Jones.

It was a learned political science class indeed that called on His Worship, the Governor of Ohio, Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Jones was an able guide as he had been in and around the capitol as State School Commissioner from 1904 to 1909 and knew every nook and cranny.

Quite a number of distinguished men were met and the following impressions made:

The Governor.

Governor Harmon is a nice, pleasant man, with a glad-to-see-you-smile, and he takes your hand with a "My-son, I'm-proud-of-ye" grip. He is rather bald, with a sprinkling of gray on the windward side.

His "come again" rang true and he meant it.

Secretary of State.

The Honorable Carmi Thompson, secretary of state, is a dapper man with shiny slick hair on the haw side. His eyes had a merry twinkle that seemed to say, "I'm awfully glad to meet such fine men, but you see, I am so busy tending to business that I can't give you as much time as I like."

He has a "welcome-to-our-office-smile" and invited us to come again.

Supreme Judge

Dear old Judge Shauck, who said his little piece at Otterbein way back in '66, was the same jolly soul. He took us in his parlors (otherwise Supreme

DR. GEO. SCOTT

Who will possibly go to Europe this spring.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

GRANTED DR. SCOTT FOR THE SPRING TERM.

He Will Probably Go to Rome to Study and Await the Scott
Party in July.

In the meeting of the Board of Trustees last Wednesday, Dr. Scott was granted a leave of absence for the Spring term on full pay.

He is contemplating leaving America some time in April, study in Rome for three months and meet the Scott party headed by Mrs. Scott who will reach Rome about July 1.

He will return about September 1 and resume his chair of Latin again in the fall.

The basketball team composed of James Cox's Sunday School lads defeated Albert Keister's ditto Saturday 20 to 3.

DR. MacARTHUR

GIVES MASTERFUL ADDRESS ON LECTURE COURSE TUESDAY.

America's Great Place Among the Nations, the Subject of a Lecture
That Pleased a Packed House.

The fifth number of the Citizens' Lecture course was given in the college chapel Tuesday evening. Dr. Robert Stuart MacArthur lectured on the subject, "America's Great Place Among the Nations."

The present is the grandest epoch in American history but we are too prone to depreciate it since the glories of the past loom up before us and the future seems to hold so much in store. A traveler starting at the foot of Mt. Blanc cannot fully appreciate the grandeur of the mountain because of its nearness. We have the same difficulty in estimating men of our own age. Lincoln, McKinley and Roosevelt, for example, will be judged differently a hundred years from now.

The speaker gave a very comprehensive review of America's early history showing how our country gradually developed from a few small colonies to our present vast area. His method of treatment gave one a broader outlook on historical events since they are so closely interwoven with the events of other countries. Aside from territorial growth we have grown in various other respects and our country is held in the highest respect and esteem by foreign powers.

One phase of our national greatness is the high place which woman holds in comparison with those of other countries. In In-Court room) and made us feel real "comfy" like. He remarked he'd have a job a year and a half anyhow as that much work was ahead.

The Judge fairly beams when he talks and the little wrinkles play hide and seek in his cheery countenance. From what he said you would imply we made a hit with him.

School Commissioner.

John W. Zeller, of Findlay, is a mighty big man and his hospitality co responds to his bigness. He almost said, "Bless your hearts, boys. I like all of ye"—but he didn't.

He was in Dr. Jones' old home and right on the wall alongside Hon. L. D. Bonebrake, '82, was his picture, in with the other school commissioners from 1840 to the present.

P. S. (We met a young lady stenographer here.)

Senate and House

The spellbinders binded more (to our notion) in the House than in the Senate. The Senators are kind of a lazy lot who stick their feet higher than their heads, a la college fashion and assume an easy "I-know-how-I-am-going-to-vote-look no matter how much some Senator spouts forth.

The Representatives know better, sit up straighter, and look real downright serious.

Well, it was a fine, profitable visit and we can recommend Dr. Jones as one of the best, jovial, kind-hearted, experienced all-around companions one would want to accompany not only to the State Capitol but anywhere.

dia for instance, labor is low, man is lower, but woman is lowest.

Sometimes we Americans born allow our patriotism to get the better of our judgment but since Dr. Mac Arthur is an American by adoption his eloquent tribute to our nation's greatness is certainly not due to prejudice.

Wednesday morning in chapel, Dr. MacArthur gave four requisites for success, namely—good health, high ideals, hard work and character.

OTTERBEIN DEFEATED

The Delaware Basketball Team Winners in a Decisive Victory.

By the largest score that Otterbein has been defeated this year, the Ohio Wesleyan team were victors Saturday night at Delaware by the score of 52 to 16.

The team work of the Wesleyan squad is the best that Otterbein has had to contend with this year.

For Otterbein, Sanders was the leading point getter. He caged the ball 4 times, 3 of the shots coming in the first half and all being of the long order. He put up a very clever game for the team. Young started the Otterbein scoring with a pretty field goal after dribbling the ball at a very fast gait. Cornetel made the other basket by a shot near the goal.

The officiating was about the best that could be expected. The gentleman followed the ball in a very able manner and his decisions were always true and right to the dot.

The Wesleyan rooters treated Otterbein in a very cordial manner. The glad hand was given every time Otterbein chanced to score. It might be well for Otterbein rooters to treat a visiting team in such a manner.

Prof. Kiehl Leads Interesting Meeting on Subject of "Faith."

Prof. S. J. Kiehl of the Academy addressed the men of Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening on the subject of "Faith." His address was fraught with logic. It was convincing and his illustrations were easily comprehended. He pointed out the difference between knowledge and faith, saying that knowledge was well grounded belief while faith is a belief that something will come to pass yet it cannot definitely be proven. However it is just as much a reality as knowledge. He said it was the hand that binds men to men and men to God.

He illustrated faith by pointing out the confidence that one has in the engineer of a locomotive, or the belief that the sun will rise or that a comet will appear. He said that when we see a piece of machinery, we believe that there was a plan back of it and that back of the plan there was a personality. If we believe this why not believe the same thing about the universe. And then believing thus why not serve and follow Him who is the Author and Maker of all.

Y. W. C. A.

"The Gift of a Day" Subject of Meeting—Election of Officers.

After two weeks without meeting on account of the evangelistic services of the church, Y. W. C. A. met again Tuesday evening with Miss Ethel Kephart as leader and "The Gift of a Day," as the subject. Scripture lesson was read from I James 5:27, after which Miss May Powell sang a solo, "My One Last Hope in Thee."

The leader interpreted the gift of a day to be our opportunities. They are more than gifts, they are privileges, they are duties. They are the best things that come to us in life. We should make the best of them. We are willing to ask our friends to be with us in worldly things, but we are reluctant to invite them to join our Christian band. We grumble at our troubles, but they are usually small.

Then God has bestowed good gifts on his people by giving them great men, as models, as examples. Such as Washington and Lincoln and our great poets and preachers.

It is a gift we have to put ourselves in His hands and let Him lead.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, May Dick; vice president, Ethel Kephart; corresponding secretary, Ruth Detwiler; recording secretary Maude Owings; treasurer, Hortense Potts.

The Association Resumes Its Meetings—Mr. Pilkington Speaks.

The Religious Educational Association met in regular session on last Wednesday evening, February 23, with E. C. Weaver presiding. After songs and prayer Mr. Brooks introduced the speaker of the evening, C. S. Pilkington, who on the subject "Finances in Religious Work." Mr. Pilkington is state financial secretary of the Y. M. C. A. with headquarters at Columbus. His address was exceedingly practical and it was given with much earnestness. The Association was fortunate in having such a good speaker.

THE FORUM

Editorials by Otterbein Review Readers.

Social Life in Otterbein.

Could the average student of Otterbein hold himself as a social equal with the students of most of the colleges of the land? Review the social functions of the past winter and ask yourself this question. In the first place how many such social gatherings have been held? Very few! One could count them on his ten fingers and still have enough left to number those of the remainder of the season.

But this is not the most serious lack. This should have received the attention of the faculty long ago, it is true, but the students have neglected the main thing. That is the ease in bearing and talk which should characterize a well-bred man or woman. Very few of us can approach a coming social event with perfect equanimity. Our manners should be only natural but they, to all appearances, are so superficial as to be actually painful.

Wall Flowers?

On one side of the room, probably at the reading table, sit the boys. "We have had a good bit of snow this winter." "Did you get all the problems today?" "That's a pretty girl over there. Who is she?" Near the piano sit the girls slyly casting glances toward the reading table. "How does my hair look tonight?" "What's Miss Zeller doing?" "I do wish they would come over here." And over on the window seats and behind the palms sit the points—silent. But all good, solid, witty conversation is lacking. In most places there need be no "games" to pass away the time. The boys and girls group together and converse upon topics which are at once witty and instructive. They even hate to see the refreshments being brought in for they mean the beginning of the end.

Is the social side of our college life properly cultivated? Can we with ease go to any banquet or reception and contribute our share of the conversation instead of sitting around like wall-flowers?" Conversation is an art but it is one of the arts which is not taught at Otterbein.

Let us do our share and become cultured along this line and the chance to use these qualities will come as a matter of course.
S. W. R.

Fan's Philosophy.

A Freshman and his egotism are soon parted.

Ethics is the science that teaches you to always pay the conductor your fare whether you get a seat or not, and not grumble if he steps on your toes.

Economics to the uneducated sounds like a plan to live on $6 a week, married and happy, but to the elect, it is the science of the Golden Rule and "how to be happy though living" rolled into one.

Public speaking is that branch of college sought mostly to derive credits, when in reality it

OUR PRESIDENT

Very Much in Demand. Akron, Columbus and Raymond Call Him.

President Clippinger was a member of the Westerville party who went in a body Thursday to Akron to see about better accommodations on the C. A. & C.

The Laymen's Missionary movement was discussed by the President at a meeting at the Methodist church last evening.

"The Power of Personal Character in the Teacher," is the subject of an address to be given tonight at the annual banquet at Beggs of the Columbus and Franklin County Sunday School Teachers' association. The other speakers are Dr. Washington Gladden and President Dr. Herbert Welch, of Ohio Wesleyan.

President Clippinger goes to Raymond, Ohio, Friday evening to deliver a lecture on the Citizens' course.

DINNER PARTY.

President and Mrs. Clippinger Entertain Friday Evening.

It was indeed a happy dinner party that surrounded the beautifully decorated dinner table at the President's home Friday evening.

President and Mrs. Clippinger are ideal host and hostess and truly "make you feel at home."

Those who enjoyed the evening were Dr. Sherrick, Miss Zeller, Miss Guitner, Miss Barnes, Miss LaFevre, Miss Hanawalt, Miss Clifton, Miss Baker, Miss Moore, Professor Weinland, Professor Grabill.

Kiyoshi Yabe officiated as Butler.

NEW FOOTBALL

Chicago to Try Out New Rules in Gym.

The new football rules will be given a tryout by Coach A. A. Stagg, of the University of Chicago soon. Quite a number of changes have been made. Other schools will watch this experiment with great interest.

Redpath Quartet.

The Coit Lyceum bureau having failed to furnish the Vassar Girls as they had agreed, the committee has secured the Redpath Grand quartet from another company. They will appear on Wednesday evening, March 2. The company consists of Dr. Carl Duft, Dr. Ion Jackson, and Messrs. Martin and Carr, all of New York. They have sung together in New York and have been singing on lecture courses since last October. They have appeared twice at Findlay this year. They sing at Oberlin on March 1 and at Detroit March 3. This quartet is conceded the best on the Lyceum platform today.

Alumnals.

Judge John A. Shauck, '65, was one of the speakers at a smoker at the Southern hotel Thursday evening given by the O. S. U. law school.

Miss Leach—"No, you are mistaken. My name isn't Leach any more since I came here."

Bridenstein—"Who is the fortunate one?"

Durant—"Locke, what did Dr. MacArthur say was genius?"

Locke—"10 per cent. intuition and 90 per cent. expiration."

Thompson—"I was sore in the Laboratory this morning. Some one took my heating apparatus and I couldn't heat anything."

Maeder—"Why didn't you heat your experiment on your head?"

JUST LIKE GIRLS.

Miss Bauman—"What was the outcome of that love story?"

Ila Bale—"I couldn't wait till I came to it, so I glanced through the pages and found them married on page 167."

Fouts—"What is contained in sea water?"

Reider—"Chloride of sodium, and—er—and—"

Fouts—"Well what else?"

Reider—"Fish."

Drury at Dorm Saturday evening—"Here comes Bennett; I wonder if he means to join us."

Miss Niswonger—"Hadn't you better propose first?"

Did you notice Bilsing's mustache?"

Pretty young lady, to Becky Welbaum who had directed her to the depot—"Thank you very much for your kindness."

Becky, embarrassed—"Oh-Oh-you're alright."

THE BIBLE'S PLACE

Subject of Dr. E. A. Jones' Sunday Morning Talk in Ass'n Hall

Dr. E. A. Jones gave an address before the Y. M. C. A. Bible study classes on Sunday morning. He spoke of the Bible as a book, the purpose for which it was written and its comparison with other books. He said that no other book could take its place. He also said that the adaptation of the Bible to the needs of man under all conditions and circumstances of life was a proof of its divine origin.

Knowledge of the scriptures he said was essential to an understanding of much of our literature. The value of the Bible study is illustrated from the scripture itself and by the testimony of eminent men.

The speaker then gave some suggestions as to methods of Bible study saying that it was important to memorize certain chapters and selections that was especially adopted to this purpose. He concluded by emphasizing the fact that the Bible is a safe guide through the journey of life.
